

Meeting The One For Me

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 231-“So, are you here to plead mercy for Amelia’s manager or to threaten me?” Audrey couldn’t help but smile at the memory of Nathan threatening her with the Yeomans family’s power for Amelia’s cousin, Charles.

“Audrey, I used to be quite a jerk to you, and I apologize for that. I won’t use the Yeomans family to threaten you anymore. You can rest assured!

“I’m only here today to see what kind of compensation you need to give Yolanda a chance to start over. She’s merely afraid that you’ll find Mr. Russo and tell him about what happened in the past. She’s doing everything to protect Amelia,” Nathan with a gentle tone with a hint of plea.

Audrey’s smile slowly faded. “Mr. Franklin, you’re quite amusing. It’s not Amelia who’s going to jail, so why the hurry? The Franklin Group is in chaos, yet you still have time to waste on someone irrelevant!

“Do you think having the Gough family’s backing will solve everything?

Shouldn’t you be more concerned about buying the formula from Evergreen Biotech?” Nathan’s expression darkened. “Did Taylor tell you all this? What’s your relationship with Taylor? Was the reason Taylor sent Charles to jail because of you?” “Is that any of your business?” Nathan stepped closer to Audrey. “Neither Mr. Russo nor Taylor will marry a divorced woman with a child! They’re just being nice to you to get you into bed.

You...” Audrey slapped Nathan across the face. Then she grabbed his tie and pulled him closer. Her eyes were icy and nothing like Nathan remembered.

Audrey spoke slowly and deliberately, “Not everyone thinks about romance all the time like you do! Just focus on Amelia.

“You should put your efforts into managing the Franklin Group and dealing with Evergreen Biotech. Otherwise, the Franklin Group will go bankrupt under your leadership.” Following that, Audrey released Nathan’s tie and even tidied his suit for him.

She seemed to be in a good mood.

Nathan’s breath was heavy. “Audrey...” Audrey smiled and leaned closer to Nathan. She whispered, “Are you trying to threaten me with the Yeomans family again? Do you want me to persuade Taylor to let Charles go and also let Amelia’s manager and the Gough family go?”

“I’ve said it before, a leverage can only be used to threaten me once. You used it to save Charles before, but that’s not enough to continue threatening me.” Just as Audrey turned to leave, Nathan grabbed her wrist. His voice was tinged with frustration as he said, “I’m not trying to threaten you, Audrey. Can’t we just talk? Do we have to be at odds with each other?” She turned to look at Nathan, who was holding her wrist. “Wasn’t it you who drew the sword against me first?” As Nathan recalled what he had done to Audrey after his memory loss, his heart felt like it was being squeezed by a giant hand. He let go of Audrey’s wrist as if it had been burned.

“Audrey, I...” “Nathan, don’t appear in front of me again unless you’ve decided to declare war on me for the sake of Amelia’s manager.” T After giving Nathan a final glance, Audrey turned and walked toward Night Palace.

Under the streetlights, Nathan stood for a moment before pushing open the back door of Night Palace and walking inside.

Looking up from downstairs, one could see the man’s rugged facial features and casual yet elegant posture illuminated by the dim light.

Behind Ryan, the screams were masked by the ear-splitting music from downstairs.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 232-“Mr. Ramirez! Mr. Ramirez! I’m sorry, Mr. Ramirez! I’ll make sure to discipline my subordinates from now on! Please forgive me!” Daniel panted heavily from hitting the man with a golf club.

He dropped the blood-stained club from his hand and kicked the man lying motionless in a pool of blood beside him. Then, he gestured for his subordinates to drag the person out and rolled down his sleeves before walking over to Ryan—only to find all the glasses on the long table empty.

Daniel opened a bottle of wine, poured himself a drink, gulped it down, and then refilled both Ryan's and his own glasses.

Leaning against the long table, he asked, "I heard you transferred Peter to protect that woman, right? Is she the one those incompetent underlings went to trouble for? I'm curious as to what kind of woman is so important to you that you'd go to such lengths?" Ryan put down his glass and poured himself another drink. After that, he set the glass aside and buttoned his suit jacket before heading out. "Don't ask what you shouldn't. Make sure the arrangements for the car accident are in place. Keep it clean and don't involve the Lambert family!" "I understood! After all, the Lambert family has been kind to you! I've found the driver who drove for your father back then. We'll be able to bring him back from Meplaria without anyone noticing in a few days. Do you want to interrogate him yourself?" Daniel still maintained his carefree demeanor. He propped himself up against the long table with one hand, smirked, and raised his glass to Ryan's back.

Audrey had just come up from the first floor when she saw Joseph fighting with someone at the door of a private room. Daphne and Azure were screaming as they were dragged into the private room next door.

Her pupils shrank. As she watched Joseph being dragged into the neighboring room, stopped a nearby waiter and said, "There's trouble in room 8923!" she The waiter immediately pressed the earpiece on his chest. "Trouble in room 8923. Security team! Security team, please respond quickly!" Audrey hurried toward that room.

The fat-headed man in the adjacent room had already set his sights on Daphne, who had 2/2 been taking photos by the armrest all along. Those who could enter here were either rich or powerful. Ordinary people wouldn't easily cause trouble at Night Palace.

However, Daphne's excitement clearly revealed that it was her first time here.

Observing her attire, it was obvious she was a student even more so from a well-off family. Hence, she became a target.

After Audrey and Nathan left, the man came over with a glass of wine to offer Daphne a drink. Despite Daphne's repeated refusals, he persisted. When Azure intervened and accidentally spilled the wine on the man, his bodyguards intervened.

Both Daphne and Azure were women. Thus, how could they match professional bodyguards? Joseph, who spent most of his time in the lab and lacked exercise, was no match for them either.

Audrey pushed open the door to room 8923 and saw Joseph being forced to kneel on the ground, while Daphne and Azure were held on the sofa.

"Hey, another beauty has arrived!" The fat-headed man held Daphne, who was struggling in his arms and gazed lustfully at Audrey.

"Audrey, run! Call the police!" Azure shouted to Audrey.

"Drag her in!" The fat-headed middle-aged man instructed his bodyguards.

"Nathan!"

Seeing the situation, Daphne fiercely bit the man's arm and took the opportunity to break free and run outside.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 233-Before they reached the door, the middle-aged man who had been bitten by Daphne picked up the ashtray and swung it toward Audrey's head.

"Audrey!" Nathan kicked away the security guard blocking his path and then shielded Audrey in his arms.

The ashtray smashed hard on Nathan's head. His brain buzzed as if someone had forcefully pressed the shutdown button. His vision darkened, and blood flowed down his forehead.

Audrey turned back and saw Nathan, who had covered her, suddenly collapse weakly from behind. Instinctively, she reached out to grab him. The middle-aged man who had wielded the ashtray viciously raised it again and swung it toward Audrey.

“Audrey! Watch out!” Daphne, who had already fled to the door, was dragged away just as she screamed.

Audrey heard Daphne’s scream and looked up. The bloodied ashtray was only twenty centimeters away from her. She was suddenly pulled backward and slammed into a warm arms.

A familiar scent enveloped Audrey. Before she could react, she saw a large hand wearing a steel chain watch grab the hand of the middle-aged man holding the ashtray.

Ryan.

Audrey’s pupils trembled as she looked up at Ryan’s cold and stern face. He was really here.

“Audrey!” Azure hurriedly pulled Audrey to the door.

In the dim and noisy environment, the middle-aged man looked at the unexpected newcomer with a surprised expression. “You... you are... Before the middle-aged man could finish his sentence, Ryan’s expression remained indifferent as he grabbed the man’s head and slammed it toward the glass coffee table. The table shattered, and Ryan grabbed the man’s collar and lifted him up.

Ryan, nearly two meters tall, exuded an overwhelming sense of pressure just by standing there. The middle-aged man couldn’t even stand on tiptoe.

“Mr... Mr. Lambert... I was wrong...” The middle-aged man’s consciousness blurred, and he could barely speak.

Ryan’s eyes were cold and indifferent, as if he were looking at a dead man.

He delivered two punches to the middle-aged man’s face without holding back.

The man lost consciousness without even struggling, and his body went limp as if he were trash, tossed aside by Ryan.

The Night Palace staff, accompanied by security personnel, rushed in and controlled the situation.

Ryan glanced at his injured, bloodied hand. He seemed unconcerned about it, and shook off the glass shards.

“Who dares to cause trouble at the Night Palace?” the head of security shouted.
