

Meeting The One For Me

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 281-Just as Audrey was lost In Infatuation, Ryan suddenly released her lips.

He then lifted her onto the tea table, removed his glasses, and kissed her even more forcefully.

His fingers tangled in Audrey's long hair. His palm firmly held the back of her head, and he deepened their kiss.

The kiss became increasingly Intense and increasingly dangerous as if he wanted to devour Audrey alive. His movements gradually lost control and became rough.

Audrey pressed against Ryan's chest. She desperately turned her head aside, her chest heaving heavily. "Today is Grandpa's banquet, we can't have people catch us!" It would be a huge scandal If anyone found out the two were together, and they would undoubtedly face criticism.

The fear made Audrey's heart beat anxiously. She was feeling extremely uneasy.

Ryan also breathed heavily, using his fingers to wipe away the lipstick smudge from the corner of Audrey's lips.

He whispered, "Edward said Mr. Lambert Senior has prepared a gift for you. Let me take you to see it tonight." "Okay," Audrey replied, reaching out to straighten Ryan's crumpled suit. "You go back to the hall first, I'll come later." Ryan planted a kiss on Audrey's forehead before leaving.

Ryan couldn't help but want to kiss Audrey when he saw her standing on stage, radiant as she spoke confidently into the microphone.

Or perhaps, it was after confirming his relationship with Audrey that Ryan wanted to kiss. her every moment.

He longed to hold her slender and soft body, to taste her tender lips and tongue—never wanting to part.

“Remember to fix your lipstick.” Ryan tucked her messy hair behind her ear, wiped his mouth with a tissue, and reluctantly left the tea room.

Audrey blushed deeply on the tea table. Her lips were swollen and vivid red—even without the use of lipstick.

After struggling to calm herself, she finally got off the tea table.

She fixed her makeup, tidied herself, and returned to the banquet hall.

Noah, the son of Chester Langley who had followed Audrey out, took a photo of her exiting the room.

Later, he looked through the photos he had taken, including those of Cecilia and Ryan leaving the tea room one after the other.

“Look at her, she’s not simple at all! She’s already connected with Ms. Cecilia before even entering the Lambert Corporation. And what about Ryan?” Noah stroked his chin, pondering. “Are Ryan and Audrey in a competitive relationship or a cooperative one? Could they perhaps be working together to control the Lambert family?” With this in mind, Noah sent these three photos to a few friends, including Lyra, George’s niece, whom he had sent abroad and prohibited from returning.

As he walked, Noah sent a voice message to Lyra. “Now, besides Ryan, you have another competitor. This Audrey has become your uncle’s granddaughter!

She’s Wanda’s adopted daughter, so she’s entitled to at least half of the Lambert family fortune.” After sending the message, Noah pocketed his phone and strode toward the banquet hall.

Back in the banquet hall, Noah’s gaze followed Audrey, who was happily chatting with Ryan and George.

Chester noticed his gaze and nudged him with his elbow. “Don’t even think about going after Audrey. You aren’t worthy of her!” Noah immediately felt displeased. “What’s unworthy about me? She’s from Sayeno Town!”

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 282-Chester hadn't yet revealed to Noah that Audrey was the founder of Evergreen Biotech.

Seeing his son's arrogant demeanor, Chester sighed.

"Son, I don't have much expectations of you. Just live well. As long as you can hold onto our family's shares in the Lambert Corporation, you'll never have to worry about food or drink for the rest of your life.

"Don't cause trouble when there's none, you hear me? You're my only son.

Would I say this if it wasn't beneficial for you?" Chester had a very clear understanding of his family's position.

Chester knew his limitations and had always listened to George over the years.

Now that he was old and suffering from infertility, he finally had a son in his old age. With Noah as his only child, he doted on him but also knew his son's capabilities.

Chester didn't harbor grand ambitions for him, feeling that a simple and ordinary life was also a blessing.

Noah picked up his glass of wine and took a sip, silently criticizing his old man for being too loyal to George.

Nevertheless, whether it was Ryan or Audrey, neither was related to George by blood.

Noah still felt that Lyra, who was far away in a foreign country, had a greater chance of success.

That was why he chose to collaborate with Lyra.

Noah's phone chimed with a message notification. He glanced down and opened the message.

It was from Lyra. "Just landed with my dad." Seeing Lyra's reply, a smirk formed on his lips as he glanced in Audrey and Ryan's direction.

George started to show signs of exhaustion after introducing Audrey as the granddaughter of the Lambert family to influential figures in the Mythravia circle.

He appeared weary after seeing off several important people.

After helping George into the car, Audrey and Ryan heard him say to Audrey, "Today marks your official return to the Lambert family. I have a gift for you; I'll have Ryan take you to see it later." Audrey nodded. "Okay. Thank you, Grandpa!" Then, Audrey turned to Edward and said, "Edward, thank you for escorting Grandpa back. Make sure he takes his medicine and gets some rest." "Ms. Audrey, rest assured." Edward nodded with a smile.

Watching George depart, Audrey felt a warmth on her shoulder and then saw Ryan draping his suit jacket over her.

"I'm not cold," Audrey said.

"Yeah, I know." Ryan opened the car door for her, shielding Audrey's head as she entered the car. "You're too beautiful; I don't want anyone else to see you like this." Audrey blushed and pulled Ryan's suit closer around her as she got into the car.

Nathan stood behind a nearby pillar, his eyes fixed on Audrey as if she would disappear he looked away.

if His eyes were red, and tears streamed down uncontrollably.

Only when the car carrying Audrey vanished from his blurry vision did Nathan finally feel limp. Leaning against the pillar, his heart twisted with pain.

Standing beside Nathan, Hugo watched him for a while before saying, "Let's go." "I didn't see a boyfriend with Audrey." Nathan's throat tightened, looking at Hugo with hopeful eyes.

"The person she was having dinner with that day was her bodyguard. Do you think Audrey was lying to me? Maybe she doesn't have a boyfriend at all, and that child-

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 283-Thinking about the child and remembering Audrey's playful gaze, Nathan trusted that she wouldn't lie to him about the child.

"Let's go." Hugo patted Nathan's arm, turning to leave first.

Ryan brought Audrey to the top floor of Autumnvale.

The top floor was over 4000 square feet, not including the outdoor rooftop pool.

The furniture and decor had been rearranged according to Audrey's original home style, showing that Edward had put in much effort.

"After George visited the apartment you were living in before, he thought it was too small. He said this place is barely spacious enough.

"Originally, it was under your mother's name, but now it's been transferred to yours. It's closer to the Lambert Corporation building, which will be convenient for you in the future." Ryan led Audrey to the windows, pointing to the towering Lambert Corporation building across the street.

Audrey's eyes welled up, not because she particularly liked this apartment.

She simply felt moved, knowing that George had arranged this for her.

"Edward has already arranged for a housekeeper to come. At 6:00 am, imported groceries will be delivered to your doorstep. The housekeeper will prepare breakfast, lunch, and dinner for you.

"After each meal is prepared, the housekeeper will leave and not disturb you.

The cleaning lady will come at 2:00 pm." Ryan pushed open the door to another room as he continued speaking. It was a boy's room prepared for Dallas.

"This "This way, you can ensure that you'll have three meals a day on time. Oh, if you have to work overtime in the evening, the housekeeper will also deliver your to the meals company." Wanda's stomach condition was caused by the overwhelming hunger she often experienced in Sayeno Town, so George always paid extra attention to the meal arrangements for Ryan and Audrey.

“Seasonal clothes will be brought to the house by the mall manager downstairs along with various brands for you to choose from, saving you the time to go to the mall,” Ryan continued his explanation.

“The new seasonal clothes have already been put into your wardrobe. You can change into a new outfit later.” Audrey felt that her life had become quite incredible since George arranged for Stephen to take care of her and the child’s daily life.

Little did she know, even more amazing things were waiting for her ahead.

Perhaps poverty had limited Audrey’s imagination.

After touring the four rooms, Ryan removed the suit jacket and hugged Audrey from behind.

Before he could speak, Audrey’s phone rang.

Audrey quickly pulled away from Ryan’s embrace. She smiled apologetically and picked up her phone to answer it. “Hello, Edward.” Just as her call connected, Ryan’s phone also rang. Glancing at Audrey, he answered, Hello, Paige.” Edward’s voice carried a hint of urgency. “Audrey, could you please return to Lambert Residence? Mr. Lambert’s brother, whom he had expelled overseas, has returned and is causing a scene. I’m worried about Mr. Lambert’s health.” Audrey was already aware of Wilfred, George’s young brother.

Wilfred was an illegitimate child and bad for public appearances, so George disliked him.

Later, Wilfred got involved in drug abuse and embezzlement.

Although George didn’t pursue legal actions out of respect for his deceased father, he broke Wilfred’s legs and sent him abroad—forbidding him from returning to the country.

Perhaps with George getting older, Wilfred believed he could provoke George and thus returned.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 284-On the other end, Paige also told Ryan, "That illegitimate child, Wilfred, has come back with his daughter. I'm afraid Mr. Lambert will be infuriated and endanger his health. Why don't you come back and take a look?" "I understand. I'm with Audrey right now, I'll return immediately." Ryan hung up the phone and met Audrey's gaze.

He put on his suit jacket. "You go change your clothes. We'll go back to Lambert Residence together. This is a good opportunity to get rid of Wilfred." L George had publicly announced Audrey as his granddaughter, and Ryan would soon leave the family. But he would be sure to remove all obstacles for Audrey before leaving.

On the way, Audrey heard from Ryan that Wilfred had caused trouble with his daughter, Lyra, once before Ryan was adopted. George then blocked him by cutting off his living expenses.

This time, Wilfred must have learned about George adopting Audrey and wanted to fight for his inheritance rights by bringing his daughter back to cause trouble.

Inside Lambert Residence, Wilfred's hands trembled as he pointed at George sitting silently on the couch.

"George! I know you look down on me, but Lyra is still part of our family bloodline. She can take care of Wanda just as well!

"If you're worried, Wanda can adopt Lyra after she gets married and has children of her own. Just look at that Audrey's background—she's 16 years younger than Wanda! Them masquerading as mother and daughter is a joke!" George clenched his cane tightly, his eyes dark and somber as he stared at the illegitimate brother before him.

Dallas and Lily crouched at the top of the stairs, both holding onto the railing and looking down.

Lily looked at the woman in the navy blue suit sitting on the couch, then shifted her gaze to Wilfred, who was limping on one leg.

She whispered to her brother, "Dallas, I don't like those two people. Who are they?" Dallas replied coldly, "That man is Mr. Lambert Senior's illegitimate brother, who is 22 years younger than him and is now 50 years old. The woman in the blue suit is his daughter, who is 31 years old." "Oh!" Lily nodded. “Wow, that illegitimate son got his wife pregnant when he was only 18!” Dallas nodded in agreement.

“George, Ryan and Audrey are relatives themselves. Haven’t you ever considered that Ryan might have deliberately persuaded you to adopt Audrey as your granddaughter to take control of the Lambert family?”

“Look, Ryan is your adopted son, and you will definitely leave half of your fortune to Wanda. If Audrey becomes Wanda’s adopted daughter, then won’t the Lambert family be controlled by Ryan alone?” Wilfred and Lyra were unaware that Audrey was Wanda’s biological daughter.

They wanted to discredit Ryan in any way they could. But the more they spoke, the colder George felt toward them.

Before George could speak, Paige hurriedly entered, announcing, “Ryan and Audrey are back.” Wilfred immediately became excited. “You see! George, we’ve only been together briefly, but those two have already returned.

“They’re afraid that I, who share blood ties with you, as well as Lyra, will expose something to you. Not only have they already gained control of the Lambert family, but now they even want to control you!” Lyra took out her phone and showed George the photo Noah had sent her today, She handed the phone to George.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 285-“Uncle George, look at these three photos!” Lyra flipped through the three pictures and showed them to George. “These were taken at your birthday banquet. Ryan and his fiancée, Ms. Cecilia, secretly met with Audrey. “Who knows what they were plotting! Uncle George, they have no blood ties with you, so you have to be cautious!” “That’s an interesting thing to say,” Ryan said sarcastically as he and Audrey entered.

George’s frowning brows relaxed when he saw Ryan and Audrey. He then glanced at Edward.

Edward smiled and handed George a cup of hot tea, whispering, “It’s time to let the younger generation fend for you.” George smiled without saying a word as if agreeing with Edward’s words.

Wilfred froze when he saw Audrey enter. Although he had seen pictures of Audrey during his investigation, he never expected Audrey to look so much like Wanda.

At first, George adopted Ryan because he couldn't find his daughter. He decided to adopt Ryan when he noticed that Ryan's eyes were exactly like his daughter's.

Wilfred never expected that a relative from Ryan's family could resemble Wanda to such an extent. No wonder George allowed Audrey to become Wanda's adopted daughter.

Lyra also glanced at Audrey with narrowed eyes.

She had seen Wanda before, and Audrey was indeed remarkably similar to her so that Lyra couldn't help but wonder if Audrey had undergone plastic surgery.

There was no discernible difference between Audrey and the photos of her.

– so much Yet for some reason, Audrey, who stood before her, bore a striking resemblance to Wanda—both in temperament and demeanor.

“Grandpa,” Audrey greeted George.

“Have a seat.” Audrey nodded and took her seat, looking up to see the two children upstairs waving at her.

Chapter 785 She smiled and accepted the tea offered by Paige, thanking her thereafter.

Ryan stood by the coffee table and handed a document folder to Edward. “Who should we be cautious of in this family? I believe everyone will know the answer to that once you've seen this,” Ryan spoke up.

Edward opened the document folder and handed the contents to George.

Taking advantage of George's momentary distraction as he looked through the documents, Wilfred stood up excitedly.

He pointed his finger at Ryan and shouted, “Who should we be cautious of? It's you! Not only did you get George to adopt you as a foster son, but you also brought in your relatives! Ryan, don't think I don't know. This Audrey is a relative of your original family.

"You've been using our Lambert Corporation's projects to support the Franklin family, all because they've been helping you take care of this relative! Did you think I wouldn't know?" Wilfred became increasingly agitated as he spoke, hobbling on his cane toward Ryan.

However, when he looked up at the towering Ryan, his confidence seemed to diminish.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 286-Wilfred distanced himself from Ryan by a few steps, shouting, "You brought this relative of yours into our family, and now she has become Wanda's daughter.

What are you up to? Are you eyeing all of the Lambert family's assets? You're getting half and still not satisfied?" "Mr. Wilfred, please refrain from repeatedly mentioning 'our family'. You and Grandpa cut ties 20 years ago. The Lambert family has no connection to you anymore," Audrey said, setting down her teacup.

"You have no right to speak here!" Wilfred raised his cane as if to strike Audrey, but Edward intercepted him.

"Edward, are you also turning against us? George has been fooled by outsiders.

You're going to fall for it too?" Before Wilfred could finish his outburst, George threw the documents in his face.

"George?" Wilfred was stunned.

George rose with the support of his cane. His face was as dark as a demon's, his pupils trembling incessantly.

Even when Wilfred's leg was broken years ago, George remained calm. He sat on the couch and watched the bodyguards act on his behalf.

Wilfred had never seen George like this.

“It’s you! You’re the one who took Wanda away and lost her!” George gritted his teeth.

Who would have thought that Wanda, George’s only daughter, would be abducted back.

then?

After all, Wanda always had a driver to accompany her wherever she went. Her school was a top-tier private school in Mythracia, filled with children from wealthy families.

The school required parents to sign security agreements before enrollment to ensure the students’ safety.

People carried her bags wherever she went, and she always used VIP routes whenever she went to the mall.

Whether dining or having a midday snack, she would do so in the VIP room.

17acter 256 It was nearly impossible for strangers to get within 15 feet of Wanda, so how could she have been abducted to that godforsaken place, Sayeno Town?

George had been puzzled by Wanda’s disappearance for years.

Now seeing the information Ryan had obtained, he finally understood that it was all done. by Wilfred.

Ryan had intended to show these documents to George before leaving the Lambert family.

But since Wilfred had returned, Ryan didn’t mind dealing with him immediately.

Upon hearing this, Wilfred’s expression changed drastically. The hand gripping his cane trembled. “George, what are you saying?” Lyra hurriedly picked up the documents from the ground. When she saw the contents, her eyes widened in disbelief.

“Impossible! Uncle George, my father is Wanda’s uncle. We’re family by blood.

How could my father harm Wanda?" "The reason is simple," Ryan spoke calmly. "Wilfred saw the strong bond between Mr. and Mrs. Lambert. He also knew Mrs. Lambert couldn't have more children after Ms. Wanda due to health issues.

"He thought if Ms. Wanda died, the Lambert family fortune would be yours. Even if you couldn't inherit it directly, your father could get Mr. Lambert to adopt you, ensuring you'd inherit the Lambert family assets

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 287-At that time, George and his wife, Edith, insisted on adopting Ryan. Thus, Wilfred had no choice but to give in.

He thought that Ryan was just an adopted son, and there would be plenty of ways to drive him out of the Lambert Corporation in the future.

After all, Wilfred was blood-related to the Lambert family.

At the very least, he could have his child adopted by George, ensuring that he would inherit half of the Lambert family's fortune.

George was eager to marry Ryan and Cecilia to keep Wilfred out.

He wanted to find a powerful family for Ryan, ensuring Ryan could maintain control of the Lambert Corporation after his passing.

A few days ago, Wilfred heard that George intended to adopt a foster daughter for Wanda, and that girl happened to be Ryan's relative.

Wilfred couldn't sit still.

"You're spouting nonsense! These documents must have been forged!" Lyra held the documents and looked at George. "Uncle George, do you trust an outsider more than your own blood relative?" Wilfred suddenly spoke up, "Yes! George! You can't trust this outsider, Ryan!

He's only after our family's fortune!" "You guys are beating a dead horse." Ryan glanced at his watch. "In another ten minutes, the hired killer you paid to kill Ms. Wanda all those years ago will be brought here in custody." Wilfred widened his eyes and instinctively glanced at George. He almost lost his footing after seeing George's dark and stern face.

“Bullshit!” Wilfred raised his voice.

Audrey helped George sit down.

“Grandpa, if the evidence is clear, although the statute of limitations has passed, the judicial authorities can seek approval from the district attorney’s office to initiate prosecution if they deem it necessary.

“For suspects evading investigation or trial, there is no time limit for prosecution, “Furthermore, 13 years ago, when the prosecution period was still valid, Wilfred bribed the household staff to drug you, intending to commit both theft and murder for the Lambert family’s assets.

“Although Paige discovered you in time, your health has never been the same since. We can send Mr. Wilfred to prison for all of this.” Ryan unbuttoned his suit jacket and sat down on the couch. “Once we’ve straightened things out, we’ll call the police. They will decide if I’m speaking the truth.” Wilfred had approached Wanda as her uncle, and he had taken her away when she was least on guard.

At that time, when he handed her over to the killer, the intention was indeed for them to end Wanda’s life.

However, what Wilfred didn’t expect was that despite paying the killer, Wanda was not killed. In fact, he had no idea where she had been taken.

Even more surprising was the discovery of Wanda over a decade later. Although Wanda survived, Wilfred was relieved that she became mentally unstable.

When she was first found, Wilfred had tried every means to contact the killer but couldn’t reach him, and the matter was left unresolved.

Unexpectedly, Ryan claimed to have found the killer from back then.

Lyra grasped her father’s hand firmly, her expression resolute. “My father never did what you’re accusing him of. Are you trying to frame him by just bringing anyone over?” Lyra turned to George, who had remained silent. “Uncle George, say something!

Ryan and Audrey are trying to eliminate all your loved ones!” George almost blurted out Audrey’s true identity. No one was closer to him than Audrey when it came to blood relations.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 288-However, once people learned that Audrey was Wanda’s biological daughter, it would reveal to everyone that Wanda was imprisoned by the Yeomans family.

Worst yet, she was kept in their underground dungeon as a breeding machine, George had refrained from killing the people of Sayeno Town and the entire Yeomans family just to watch them suffer for the rest of their lives, enduring their agony for generations.

It wasn’t to allow that family to come back and continue tormenting him and his daughter.

“Who’s trying to exterminate their loved ones?” George laughed. “No, you’re not considered my loved ones. As Audrey said, we cut ties 20 years ago.

“The current Lambert family has no relation to you anymore. No one knows about our relationship, and I won’t acknowledge a disgusting illegitimate child as my brother.” George!” Wilfred’s eyes widened. “Are you really going to treat your only family like this?” “My only family is Wanda! It’s Audrey and Ryan!” George banged his cane forcefully, his voice hoarse.

“You, a bastard, dare to call yourself my family? Just knowing that you bear the Lambert name makes me sick.” George refrained from saying more out loud—considering Audrey’s presence—but he thought the bastard child of a woman from the lower class was downright despicable.

Initially, George’s reluctance to accept Audrey—even after she helped Wanda escape from Sayeno Town—was also related to Wilfred.

Although they shared a father, George was repulsed by Wilfred’s actions. He believed some traits brought about by genetics couldn’t be erased.

At the time, George preferred to entrust the Lambert Corporation and Wanda’s well-being to Ryan, rather than acknowledge Audrey.

“Uncle George...” Lyra’s tears welled up instantly. “No matter what, my father is still Grandpa’s child! He only cares about you as his brother. How could you say such things?” Chapter 26 Just then, Julian entered the room. He announced, “Mr. Lambert, Mr. Ryan, Ms.

Audrey, the person has been brought in,” Wilfred’s pupils trembled as he tightly gripped Lyra’s hand. If the person Ryan brought in was indeed the killer from years ago, then his attempt to kill Wanda would be expont.

Lyra was unaware of the events from years ago. She held Wilfred’s hand, her heartbeat racing.

Based on her understanding of her father, there was a possibility that Wilfred had truly ordered Wanda’s murder.

“You can’t just bring anyone in and frame my father!” Lyra pretended to be calm, squeezing Wilfred’s hand. “Dad, don’t worry. You haven’t done anything wrong, and Uncle George won’t falsely accuse you.” Wilfred gained confidence, raising his voice. “Exactly! I won’t admit to something I didn’t do!” Surveillance was scarce at that time, and there was no evidence proving that he had taken Wanda away or that he had paid the killer.

As long as he didn’t confess, who could do anything to him?

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 289-To everyone’s surprise, Julian brought in a few other people besides the aged killer..

There was also a store manager who used to serve VIP clients at the mall, the driver who used to chauffeur Wanda, and a young man whom Wilfred had never seen before.

Wilfred felt like he was about to collapse. He gaped at Ryan, shocked to see that even the former store manager had been brought in.

Wilfred indeed paid both the driver and the manager. The only person he didn’t recognize was the young man.

The young man glimpsed at Ryan before looking nervously at George.

He approached hesitantly and placed an old diary on the coffee table.

“My mother was a maid who served Ms. Wanda back then. This is her diary. At the time, I was diagnosed with leukemia and urgently needed money. So my mother, ignoring her conscience, accepted the bribe and allowed someone to take Ms. Wanda away.” The young man pressed his lips into a thin line.

“My mother has lived with guilt all her life. Before she passed away, she asked me to find a way to give her diary to Mr. Lambert Senior. However, I’m a nobody—just a screw in the lower echelons of society. I never had the chance to meet Mr. Lambert Senior, but I’ve kept the diary all this time.” Edward picked the notebook up and handed it to George.

George was visibly trembling; he opened the diary and flipped to the day when Wanda went missing. He learned how the store manager who served Wanda had interacted with Wilfred.

“It’s fake! It must be fake!” Wilfred shouted.

“The household staff Wilfred bribed to poison you back then has also been brought here. If you want to see her, we can arrange it for tomorrow morning,” Edward added.

George closed the diary and handed it back to Edward.

“There’s no need to bring the household staff here. Take her and the diary to the police. Contact the district attorney’s office. I want to get to the bottom of this!” Before Lyra could say anything, Wilfred knelt down, overwhelmed with fear.

NETGUPAN CH “Georgel Please spare me this time for the sake of our family! I’ll leave the country Immediately and never come backd” “Get out!” George suddenly lost control of his emotions. “Keep all the evidence and witness testimonies. If you dare come back to this country, I’ll make sure you rot in prison! Get out!” Wilfred quickly helped himself up, grabbed his daughter, and hurried out.

Lyra took a few steps outside and saw two children squatting by the railing upstairs, peering down.

She frowned, then followed Wilfred to the door. “Dad! You go ahead, I have to stay. I can’t let Ryan and Audrey take over what rightfully belongs to us!” “What can you do by staying alone?” Wilfred tightly gripped his daughter’s hand, refusing to let go.

“What your uncle remembers what happened when Wanda was abducted? What if he does something to you? Forget it. Let’s go! We’ll come back after your uncle dies!” “What’s the use of coming back then? By that time, Ryan will still have the diary and those witnesses in his hands!” Lyra looked at Wilfred with disdain. “We can’t let outsiders take our assets. Just because you can’t do it doesn’t mean I can’t!” With that, Lyra pushed her father into the car and slammed the door shut.

Having gotten rid of him, she then looked at the household staff beside her.

She took out her wallet, withdrew all the cash, and handed them over. “Who are those two children inside?” The household staff quickly pocketed the money and replied, “They are Ms.

Audrey’s two children. Mr. Lambert Senior and Ms. Audrey are very fond of them. They spend all day playing with them.”

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 290-Lyra clenched her teeth, realizing that Audrey was using her children to appease George and Wanda.

Returning to the residence, she saw George leaning on a cane, standing with Audrey’s.

support.

Lyra immediately knelt as soon as she entered.

“Uncle George! I didn’t know that my father had hurt Wanda so badly. Although you spared my father due to family ties, I can’t reconcile with my conscience.

“I beg you to let me stay in the country to make amends. I’m a somewhat renowned psychologist abroad, and I want to take care of Wanda!” Lyra spoke earnestly, her eyes brimming with tears.

Audrey looked at Lyra kneeling in front of the coffee table, her gaze icy.

“Because of your father’s greed, my mother has been adrift for years, left in a fragile mental state. What do you think you can do to make up for it? You just want an excuse to stay in the Lambert family.” Audrey despised Wilfred, the one who locked Wanda in the Yeomans' basement, subjecting her to a neverending hell. Even if George spared Wilfred, Audrey wouldn't.

"Uncle George, don't listen to this outsider's nonsense! She and Ryan are eyeing the Lambert family's fortune! Even if you don't believe your own niece, you should think about Wanda.

"Let me stay to restrain her and Ryan! If one day you pass away and leave the family to outsiders, aren't you afraid they'll mistreat Wanda and send her to a mental, asylum?" "Get her out of here!" George angrily ordered Paige.

Paige stood by Lyra with a cold expression. "Miss, please leave." Lyra was seething inside but still pretended to look pitiful. "Uncle George, no matter what you think, I truly feel guilty toward you and Wanda.

"I understand if you want me to leave, but I'll stay in the country. Whether you like it or not, I'll stay and keep an eye on Ryan and Audrey. You can call me anytime if you need me.

With that, Lyra finally stood up and left under Paige's close watch.

As soon as Lyra left, the two little ones who had been silently watching called for their mother and rushed downstairs.

The anger on George's face dissipated when seeing the children.

He patted Audrey's hand and sighed. "Rest assured, I will ensure these two troublemakers are dealt with before I pass away." George's eyes indicated a strong protective stance toward Audrey.

"Grandpa, you should rest. Let me handle this," Audrey said.

"No, you can't intervene. To the outside world, you are just like Ryan—an adopted daughter of the Lambert family. Although Wilfred and his daughter were never publicly acknowledged, many of the company's veteran employees know they are part of the Lambert family.

"If you take action, everyone will think you're doing it for the family's wealth. I'll be the one to handle them." George then glanced at Edward.

Edward understood George's intentions and nodded. He turned to walk out of the residence.

George smiled, patting Lily and Dallas' heads. Only then did his gaze soften, overflowing with love and tenderness.

“Great Grandpa will arrange a carefree future for both of you, Dallas and Lily!” George looked at his two little great–grandchildren. “So you both can grow up happily.”