

Meeting The One For Me

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 61-Audrey wrapped her scarf around her and walked down the steps. As soon as she passed the black SUV, she heard Nathan calling her.

“Audrey!” She paused, took a breath, and turned around. He was leaning against the SUV, holding a cigarette.

Seeing her turn around, he put out his cigarette and walked to her.

“I didn’t know Joseph was your cousin. Before I came to the lab, I didn’t know he would also come.” She had done something similar before.

She woke up after lying in bed for two years and wanted to jolt his memory. So, she had found ways to get close to him, but not this time.

“I know.” He stood only one step away from her. “I’m sorry about Aunt Anne.” Her hands tightened. It was the first time he had apologized to her since he lost his memory.

Under the dim street light, he frowned while looking at her calm and indifferent eyes. He suddenly recalled her bright eyes when he secretly kissed her that summer. And he became irritated.

He explained stiffly, “I didn’t mean to push her from the sidewalk. I didn’t expect it would be dangerous. I shouldn’t have said those words that day. It was my fault.” “Are you finished speaking?” she asked. He didn’t understand what she meant.

“Nathan, I have nothing to do with you anymore. We should treat each other as strangers,” she said calmly and turned to leave.

But he grabbed her arm. “I have something to ask you!” She pulled out her arm. “Go ahead.” “We didn’t do anything that night, right?” He had been thinking about this issue. Since the drug Charles gave wasn’t a truth-telling drug, he couldn’t confirm whether she told the truth.

Especially when he asked, her initial response was if he wished they had actually slept together.

“What should I say to make you believe me? Do I have to sleep with someone else to make you rest assured?” Her tone was unkind, and she heaved violently with anger.

His mouth parted slightly..

He looked at her back when she turned away firmly. He wanted to say something else to stop her but failed.

Holding back his anger, he turned around, got in the car, and slammed the door hard.

He knew she was here. But he still came when his mother asked him to send Joseph to Cloudmill University.

He hated her the most and didn't want to see her. He always felt annoyed about her pestering him.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 62-But Nathan couldn't ask his friends. If he did so, they would know he had recovered some of his memories.

Amelia was already insecure because of his past relationship with Audrey. He couldn't add to her uneasiness.

Audrey came out of Cloudmill University, calmed her emotions, and went to pick up Harper. She smiled and asked Harper, “How was school today?” Harper answered with sign language, “Very good. I like my classmates v care of me! I feel a little shy.” “That's good!” She rubbed Harper's head.

s very much! They take good Harper nodded, looked at her seriously, and told her, “Audrey, I'm happy to transfer to the new school! Our life will be good.” She smiled and held Harper's hand. “Yes, our life will be better in the future!” After sending Harper back to school, she returned to her dormitory. Before entering her room, Azure, who lived beside her, opened the door and stuck out her head full of foam.

“Audrey! Can I use your bathroom? The water heater in my room broke. I don't have hot water! I'm freezing to death!” “Yes, go ahead!” She opened the door to let Azure in. Instantly, Azure, wrapped in a bathrobe, rushed into the bathroom.

When she took off her jacket, she suddenly remembered the pregnancy test kits in the trash can. She walked to the bathroom nervously and knocked on the door. "Azure, can I come in to get something?" As soon as the sound of water stopped, Azure asked, "Are you in a hurry? I'll be done soon!" She pursed her lips. The trash can was under the sink, so Azure might not see it.

"It's okay. I'm not in a hurry."

Azure quickly washed the foam off her head, came out, and put on her bathrobe again. While wiping her face, she saw the pregnancy test kits and their packaging boxes in the trash can. She was startled.

She glanced toward the door and squatted to take a closer look. Sure enough, they were pregnancy test kits and packaging boxes. And they had parallel bars!

She was dumbfounded for a moment and stood up abruptly. She thought, "Oh my God! How does Audrey get pregnant when she doesn't even have a boyfriend? Or does she have a boyfriend but didn't tell us?" No wonder Audrey wanted to come in to get something just now, probably because she was afraid that Azure would see the pregnancy test kits!

With gossip in mind, she quickly left the bathroom and thanked Audrey, "Thank you very much! It's too cold. I'll go back first!" Audrey pretended to be calm and nodded with a smile. "Okay!" She thought Azure hadn't noticed the pregnancy test kits.

When Azure returned to her room, she didn't even have time to dry her hair. She immediately created a new group chat and added Daphne and Justin, whom she was close to. But she accidentally added Joseph too.

AzureSky asked, "Do you two know who Audrey's boyfriend is?" CutieDaphne replied, "When did Audrey have a boyfriend?" AzureSky sent, "Believe me! She has a boyfriend!"

AzureSky wrote again, "Hmm... Could it be that bastard?" CutieDaphne asked, "What did "What did you mean?"

HandsomeJustin responded, "Azure, don't talk nonsense!"

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 63-AzureSky replied, "I'm not talking nonsense! I'm worried about Audrey! Her elder just passed away, and something like this happened to her. She also has to take care of Harper... Oh my God! If it were me, I would go crazy! Think of a solution quickly!" Cutie Daphine sent, "If her kid is that bastard's, she shouldn't keep it." HandsomeJustin responded, "It's up to her! We just need to take more care of her and don't let her get tired." AzureSky responded, "If she wants to take leave, she might be going to abort the child! If she's unwilling to tell us, we must find a way to let her rest." Joseph was having a late night snack in Nathan's hotel room. When he clicked on WhatsApp, he found the messages kept refreshing. He flipped through the chat contents, and his eyes widened. He bit the fork and quickly responded to the messages.

NoisyJoseph sent, "That's impossible! Azure, you might have seen wrongly. Or maybe someone borrowed Audrey's bathroom. Those pregnancy test kits were someone else's!" Azure's eyes widened when she saw his message. Then, she checked to confirm she hadn't messaged the wrong group chat.

AzureSky asked, "Joseph! Why are you in our group?" NoisyJoseph answered, "You added me in."

AzureSky replied, "... Don't spread rumors." NoisyJoseph responded, "I'm not a rumor-monger. But who's Audrey's scumbag ex-boyfriend? What photos are you talking about?" When Nathan left the bathroom, he saw Joseph biting a fork and texting on the sofa. The room was full of the smell of food, and he felt so annoyed.

"What are you doing? Get out of here after eating!" Joseph answered while messaging, "My classmate in the lab is pregnant. It seems to be the child of her scumbag ex-boyfriend, but she hasn't told everyone yet. My seniors are afraid that she'll end up aborting the child alone." Nathan's hand wiping his hair paused. "Pregnant?" Joseph said absentmindedly, "Yes! My seniors said that her ex-boyfriend was a scumbag. He lost his memory and posted her photos, which almost made her unable to transfer to Cloudmill University." Nathan was stunned upon hearing that.

Didn't Audrey say they didn't sleep together? How could she be pregnant?

He took Joseph's phone and looked through the messages.

HandsomeJustin wrote, "Let's pretend we don't know anything and take care of her."

HandsomeJustin answered, "I got it."

He clutched the phone tightly.

"Nathan, why did you snatch my phone?" Joseph looked at him suspiciously.

He immediately returned the phone, changed his clothes, and went out.

"Hey! Where are you going?"

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 64-Joseph's mother had lost contact with Cascadia's relatives for decades after marrying his father.

So, he didn't know anything about Nathan's memory loss from the car accident.

He just thought Nathan was a bit strange.

Nathan left the hotel and saw a doorman opening the taxi door for a guest.

He pushed that guest away and squeezed into the taxi. Amid the guest's curses, he threw all his cash at the driver. "To Cloudmill University! Hurry up!" When the driver saw his injured arm, gloomy face, and so much cash, he stepped on the accelerator and rushed out.

Audrey lay on the bed tossing and turning after a shower. She didn't know what to do with the baby in her belly.

Thinking of her previous meeting with George in the car, she decided not to let Ryan know about the baby.

She also blamed herself for forgetting to take contraceptive pills.

Suddenly, her phone vibrated on the bedside table. She reached out from the quilt, took the phone, and looked at it. It was an unknown number.

She was worried that something had happened to Harper at school. So, she sat up and picked up the call.

"Hello?" "Audrey, I'm downstairs! Come down!" When Nathan's commanding voice sounded, she thought she heard it wrong.

Unable to get her response, he looked at the phone and saw the call was continuing. He became irritable. "Audrey, can you hear me?" "You have no right to order me!" she answered, annoyed.

If she had received his call before she decided to give up on him, she would have rushed downstairs. She would seize any opportunity to get along with him to help him recall their past relationship.

But she didn't want him anymore.

She couldn't hold back her anger. "We're divorced. I left you and came to Cloudmill. You shouldn't come to me again for any reason! You used to avoid me and even drugged me. Aren't you trying to stop me from pestering you? But what are you doing now? Are you eager to make me hate you even more?" It might be the effect of her pregnancy. His commanding tone stimulated her, and her emotions fluctuated strongly.

He clutched the phone tightly and almost said some harsh words but suppressed them.

Thinking of her pregnancy, he softened his tone. "I'm calling you with your schoolmate's phone. I'm downstairs. Come down. I have something to say."

"If you don't want everyone to know about your pregnancy, come down now!" When she saw the message, her heart skipped a beat. But soon, she realized the truth.

Azure must have seen the pregnancy test kits in her trash can.

There were many experiments in the laboratory that pregnant women weren't suitable to participate in.

Since the people in the laboratory knew it, his cousin Joseph would also know it.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 65-Audrey stood up to open the curtains and looked down. Nathan was standing under the streetlight dressed in all black.

Under his leather jacket, he wore a cashmere sweater, black pants, and black boots. He was tall and slender, which was attractive enough when he stood under a streetlight.

She wore a long jacket over her pajamas, changed her shoes, and went downstairs.

Seeing her coming out, he walked toward her and pulled her into a remote corner.

“Are you pregnant?” he asked anxiously.

“Did Joseph tell you that?” she asked instead.

He didn't answer but asked gloomily, “Why didn't you tell me?” She looked at him with doubts. “Why should I tell you?” “You can't keep this child! You have to abort him!” Hearing his al commanding tone, she stared at him like looking at an idiot. “What does it have to do with you? Are you crazy? I've already left Sheysea City. Why do you come looking for me repeatedly? Are you hitting on me? Or do you think that even if we're divorced, I'll still stick to you as soon as you show up?” “Audrey!” “Are you in need of someone to please you? Do you want me to follow you?” “Audrey!” He grabbed her arm and pulled her forward. Looking at her angry expression, he paused. Then, he gritted his teeth and said, “I've successfully proposed to Amelia. I can't let this child be born! She has a strong sense of morality and has been anxious to leave me since you woke up! If she knows we have a child, she won't marry me even if we're divorced!” It turned out that he was so anxious because he thought the child was his.

She broke free from him. “Who told you that the child is yours?” He pursed his lips, and his eyes turned cold. “Do you want to give birth to the child?” “The child isn't yours,” she answered firmly.

He didn't believe it. “Then whose child is that?” She couldn't tell him whose child it was. So, she pursed her lips and remained silent. There was way for her to find a random man as her child's father!

The cold breeze blew past them, and the withered yellow leaves rustled to the ground.

The chill creeping up from her soles made her sober. She closed her eyes and gradually calmed down.

“You were with me that night...” He gulped and couldn’t continue.

“That’s impossible!” He sneered. “Since Ryan went there that day, nothing would have happened to you! Unless the child is his!” She didn’t say anything, just looked at him quietly.

“Firstly, the child isn’t yours. Secondly, I won’t keep this child because I want to continue my research.” She was calm and clear. “Please don’t appear in front of me again.”
