

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 97

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 97-Nathan would use these things as a weapon to threaten Audrey.

Nathan pushed his tongue against his hot and swollen cheek and turned his gaze towards Audrey. She had a cold expression but couldn't hold back her tears.

“Do you know how the Yeomans family found you and how they ended up on the ‘Looking For Family ‘ program?” Nathan’s voice was low, cold, and cutting like ice.

Audrey stared at Nathan with wide eyes.

So, it was Nathan... He was the one who led the Yeomans family to find her, and he was the one who made the Yeomans family appear on the program!

If it weren't for the Yeomans family being on the show, how could Aunt Anne have had a car accident in Sheysea!

It was all him!

“So, Audrey,” he spoke slowly, “if you insist on making things difficult for Charles, then let's see how it goes!

“Even if Ryan is powerful, you know the Yeomans family. They won't hesitate to take action! As long as I provide the money, they could cause a scene in front of the Lambert Corporation's building, or even at the old residence of the Lambert family in Mythravia! With the media being so developed now, if the Yeomans family goes live again, it will be quite a spectacle.” Audrey felt like she was falling into an icy abyss.

If the Yeomans family appeared at the old residence of the Lambert family, her biological mother....

She clenched her fists tightly. Her tears streamed down.

“Nathan, you're really despicable! You're a monster!” Audrey's voice choked with sobs. Her eyes were full of hatred as she said, “One day, you will get what you deserve!” “What I deserve? Before I get what I deserve, I will make sure to destroy everything you care about! So, think carefully about what you should do!" Nathan said.

He took out a bank card from his pocket and handed it to Audrey, "I'll make sure Charles deletes the video of Harper. As compensation for our past relationship, there's three million dollars in there." Audrey lowered her eyes to look at the card, gritted her teeth, and forcefully threw the card at Nathan's face.

A cut appeared at the corner of Nathan's eye as the card scratched him. He raised his hand and wiped the blood with his thumb. "This is the last time. If there's a next time... Audrey, be prepared. Your relationship between Ryan, your grandfather's address, and the photo of your birth mother will be made public." After saying this, Nathan sneered and pushed Audrey aside as he walked out.

The bodyguards followed Nathan out.

Descending from the restaurant to the car, Nathan got into the car and kicked the driver's seat, startling the driver.

"What are you looking at! Drive!" Nathan snapped impatiently.

He turned to look out the window, his breath unable to calm down for a long time.

He knew that at this moment, Audrey must hate him to the core.

But, no matter how much they once loved each other, he had chosen Amelia now. As a man, he had to protect his woman.

As for others, he didn't want to care about them.

He scolded the driver angrily, "Drive faster! Didn't you refuel the car?"

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 98-All the bodyguards stationed at the restaurant left with Nathan. Lonnie, who had been standing at the door of the private room, quickly entered to check on Audrey's condition.

Audrey stood there stiffly, fists clenched at her side, eyes closed, tears streaming down her face, “Ms. Yeomans! Are you alright?” Lonnie took tissues from his own pocket and handed them to Audrey.

“I’m fine.” Audrey kept her eyes closed without opening them. “Lonnie, I think I need some time alone. You can go back first.” It was ridiculous, truly ridiculous.

Audrey had actually thought that once Nathan recovered his memories, he would return to her side.

Audrey had believed that in Nathan’s world before amnesia, she was the person he loved the most. After all, he was willing to sacrifice everything, not allowing her to suffer even a bit.

Her once cherished love, it turned out... in Nathan’s world, It could barely compare with Amelia!

Before deciding to give up on Nathan, Audrey had considered him more important than her own life. However, the Nathan who regained his memories had now destroyed her life and deprived her of her loved ones!

Ridiculous, too ridiculous... Audrey tightly gripped the back of the chair, her knuckles turning white.

She lowered her head and laughed softly. The laughter caused her shoulders to tremble.

Her eyes reddened, and her gaze turned fierce, looking almost insane.

Outside the room, Lonnie heard a “thud” sound from inside. He quickly pushed the door open and saw Audrey had fainted and was lying on the floor. He hurriedly helped her up and called 911.

It was only at the hospital that he discovered that Audrey was pregnant.

Lonnie didn’t know whom to contact for a while. He couldn’t unlock Audrey’s phone because he didn’t know the password.

Just as Lonnie was preparing to contact Cloudmill University to get Professor Douglas’s contact information, Audrey’s phone rang.

The caller ID displayed “Mr. Lambert”.

"I've heard the housekeeper say that you didn't go back for lunch at noon?" A sincere and steady voice came from the other end of the phone. Although the tone was mild, Lonnie could still sense the authority of someone in a superior position.

While on the phone, Lonnie looked at Audrey lying on the hospital bed. "Mr. Lambert, hello, I'm Ms. Yeomans's lawyer..." Upon hearing the words "Mr. Lambert", Audrey who was lying on the bed with a pale face, blinked her eyelashes slightly. She seemingly recognized the voice.

"Ms. Yeomans, you're awake!" Lonnie exclaimed in surprise.

Audrey looked at the phone held in Lonnie's hand. Struggling to sit up against the bedhead, she requested, "Please give me the phone." Lonnie handed her the phone.

Holding the phone to her ear, Audrey spoke in a calm tone, "Hello." "Where are you?" Ryan's tone was serious.

"Are you in the hospital now?"

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 99-As Nathan had said, Audrey knew too well the resilience of the Yeomans family.

If they caused a commotion at the Lambert Corporation's headquarters or even at Audrey's family home, the entire Lambert family would be implicated if her biological mother's photo was made public.

Her biological mother had just escaped that hell. She would once again be dragged into despair and her newfound life would be ruined.

"What trouble has your sister's case encountered? What can I do?" Ryan asked.

Audrey's return to Eastville was undoubtedly related to Harper's case, and Ryan was well aware of that.

"It's all been handled," Audrey replied, pretending to be nonchalant. "I've told the parents of those kids that I won't write any forgiveness letters." "What time is your flight? I'll send someone to pick you up." Ryan's tone was not open for negotiation.

"Mr. Lambert, Mr. Lambert Senior called..." Julian's voice came from the phone.

Audrey didn't refuse Ryan's kind offer and said, "The flight is around 11:30 pm.

Thank you." "Send me a message when you arrive," Ryan instructed.

"Okay." After returning from Eastville, Audrey didn't sleep all night. Early the next morning, without saying anything, she locked herself in her dormitory, buried in documents.

It wasn't until a week before Audrey and Professor Douglas departed for Slovomia that the case finally reached a verdict.

Due to the severity of the situation, the main culprit, Max Fraley, was sentenced to ten years, while the others, except for the one under fourteen exempt from criminal responsibility and undergoing lawful correctional education, were sentenced to three years.

The mastermind, Charles, escaped legal consequences.

After the verdict, Audrey chose to handle things alone and placed Harper's ashes next to her aunt.

Her phone vibrated.

It was a message from Charles, who had just gone abroad the day before. He was using an unfamiliar foreign number.

"How's that, Audrey? I told you, with my brother-in-law protecting me, you can't do anything to me! You, a lowly nobody from a small mountain village, may be called a genius, but without my brother-in-law's protection, you're just dirt to be trampled on! Someday... you'll be like Harper in the video, kneeling in front of me and begging mol" The text read.

The phone vibrated again.

He texted, "By the way, during these years I'll be abroad, you better stay away from my brother-in-law. If I find out you've upset my brother-in-law and my sister, I guarantee I'll spread the video of Harper being taken advantage of by a man without blurring any parts! In a foreign country, the Cascadian police won't be able to catch me!" Audrey looked at the two messages on her phone. Contrary to Charles' expectations, she didn't react explosively like he imagined.

She silently locked the phone screen and squatted down in front of Harper's tombstone.

The tombstone photo used was the picture from Harper's student ID. The young girl was dressed in a school uniform, with a high ponytail and delicate and obedient features under her neat bangs.

She held onto the tombstone. Despite her falling tears, her voice remained calm as she said, "Harper, those who hurt you will surely pay the price. No one will be exempted. Trust me." On March 13th, Professor Douglas, along with Audrey and Joseph, departed from Cloudmill Airport for Slovomia.

She would accompany Audrey throughout the entire journey until Audrey settled down at Saint Paula University.

Julian didn't tell Audrey that Ryan had only slept for three to four hours each night for the past week.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 100-A week ago, another subsidiary of the Lambert Corporation, received fines of two hundred million dollars from Meplaria and one hundred million dollars from Crendale. As a decision maker in the Lambert Corporation, Ryan decided to withdraw from the markets of Meplaria and Crendale.

Ryan not only had to explain to the board of directors but also had to issue various decisive orders to the entire Lambert Corporation. The Lambert Corporation, from top to bottom, was extremely busy. This time, when Audrey left, Ryan didn't use a private jet, fearing that Audrey might also become a target.

Watching Audrey pass through the security checkpoint, Julian also left the airport to go to the Cloudmill branch.

In the waiting room, Yvonne saw Audrey engrossed in reading materials and hesitated to disturb her. She took out her phone and checked the trending topics online.

The top trending topic was an interview with the CEO of the EF Group.

When the host asked the CEO of the EF Group, “We’ve heard that many female celebrities extended an olive branch to the EF Group, including domestic award-winning actresses and top-tier stars. Why did EF ultimately choose Amelia Doyle? It’s said to be related to Mr. Russo of the EF Group, is that true?” The CEO of EF Corporation adjusted his posture and smiled before answering, “It does have to do with Mr. Russo, but more importantly, we feel that Ms.

Doyle’s style aligns well with EF’s brand. Those who know about the founding process of our brand should be aware that our founder, Ms. Erma, was once saved by a gentleman when she fell into the water. However, Ms. Erma didn’t know any information about that gentleman and spent her entire life searching for him.” “Ms. Erma’s initial impression of that gentleman was elegance. She always wanted to find that elegant gentleman. Later, this extended to the hope that everyone could find their own elegant lady or gentleman. That’s why the first letter of our brand is E, the second letter is F, signifying ‘find.’” “As for Ms Doyle, just like that elegant gentleman, she quietly left after saving Mr. Russo from drowning in Italy seven years ago without leaving her name.

Mr. Russo, who woke up in the hospital, has been searching for his savior ever since. Finally, last month, he found Ms. Doyle! We believe that there is no one more suitable than Ms. Doyle to be the spokesperson for EF.” As this story unfolded, people left numerous comments below that Amelia deserves the good things happening to her.

Some even stated that Amelia is the chosen spokesperson for EF.

Hearing the boarding announcement, Joseph closed the materials in his hands, stood up, and took Audrey’s luggage. “Let’s go!” Audrey stood up and followed Professor Douglas towards the plane. She gently rested her hand on her abdomen.

The next time she came back, she would have a little one with her.

Amelia was stunned when she saw the interview with the CEO of EF Group.

She discussed with Yolanda, “We can’t let people continue misunderstanding like this! I have to clarify immediately that I’m not the one who saved hit Having been in the entertainment industry for many years, Amelia knew that fame gained through deception would lead to severe repercussions when the truth was revealed.
