

Only Fuel 171

Chapter 171

Nikki Stringendo.

A 7'2 woman with dark brown hair, brown eyes, and light-brown skin. She had some scars around her body, making her mature and experienced. She has firm muscles and great packs of abs. As if she entered dozens of battles and came back alive. Despite that, she looked quite a beauty. An innocent woman who weakly speaks, a Dandere.

Despite being a tall woman, Nikki is a shy type and she is always looking down, because of her massive size too. Her voice is so weak that people had to get closer to hear her. Yet Nikki becomes shyer if people tried to approach her.

She is the newest member of the special unit.

Nikki is strong even if she's not a Term Attribute User. She passed the Vindicator exam even without a TA. She is known for being the gentle gorilla of the fifth battalion. She is gentle but when she's on the battlefield, she becomes a living killing machine. She could kill an Aberrant with her bare hands despite being a normal person.

Well, she's not that normal if she could kill an Aberrant. Anyway, Nikki's ancestors are Ogres. Yes, just like Calix, Nikki had the blood of the Ogres in her veins. This explains why she's tall and has firm muscles like a bodybuilder.

What a great combination.

A tall yet shy woman who had abs and big booba. Yup, Nikki has large mommy milkers. Her melons are bigger than Kimberly's. She is a J-cup!! Oh, God!! Imagine how good it will be if she does some paizuri!!

.....

...

Calix and the others were fighting some monsters in the shallow part of the Port of Aoneon where the coast was infested by some Aberrants. The Port of Aoneon is a manmade island that is built to protect the country.

Because of the stuff that happened, they were forced to work under the military.

To be fair, Marianne and Scarlett were already part of the military so this was not a problem for them.

As for Yuna, as long as she was with Calix, she didn't care if she worked as a soldier.

Overall, the only reason why they were working under the military was for Calix. Because Calix was there.

'I don't have any plan right now. I'm not sure if I'm going to take college or work under my dad. But I love fighting more than studying. So I guess this is better.'

Calix didn't know what path should he take, so he decided to work for his father, at least. Once, he found his career, he would retire from the military.

'But the girls... I'm just worried that they will follow me if I quit being a soldier.'

He knew that the special unit was nothing but a cover so that Yuna and Calix's identities would be protected. Calix planned to work for the military for at least two to three years. Once everything subsided, he would find his own path. Particularly regarding his Term Attribute. Lately, Calix felt that his cultivation stagnated. He didn't know how to decipher his power, his Luck.

'Anyway, it's Luck so maybe I'll meet some fortuitous encounter or something. Maybe an old man will ask for some food and I will give him a piece of bread and then he will teach me the secret of dao.'

He mumbled the whole plot of some cultivation novels while aiming his uzi at the monsters. Because of his power, Calix had this unique skill called aim-bot. Just like in fps games, his bullets would automatically hit the monsters even if he fucked up his aim.

In fact, Calix was aiming his gun at the sky yet the bullets rained down and majestically shot the Aberrants. They screamed in pain and their dirty blood mixed with the saltwater.

The monsters that they were fighting right now were called Shokoys. They were a water-type Aberrant, the strongest Class that these monsters could reach is 3rd-Class. So far they just spot some normal and 2nd-Class Shokoys so it was not difficult. Even Calix could singlehandedly kill them. Heck, he was doing it right now.

He yawned while pulling the trigger and the monsters would die. What a fucking skill, aim-bot should definitely be banned.

"Hehe, I feel like all of the stuff I learned about gun firing are not significant anymore."

His posture was wrong, the way he was holding the uzi was also wrong. Yet he just killed almost a hundred monsters!!

"Yare yare daze."

As for the others, they easily killed their enemies too. Particularly Marianne and Scarlett. Because of their experience, fighting normal and 2nd-Class Shokoys was not a problem. They were only using their first Term Attributes casually.

Scarlett boiled the sea while casting her fireballs around, cooking monsters on the way.

Marianne kept shooting water bullets, piercing through their bodies like gelatins.

Because both of them had an easy Fuel, casting their powers in a long run didn't make them tired.

Marianne and Scarlett glared at each other.

"That's my 86 kill."

Marianne said.

"That's 89."

Scarlett replied.

They were having a competition, the one who killed most of the monsters would win. The prize was Calix of course.

These girls gambled Calix without him knowing.

"If I win this, I can have sex-- I mean, I can have some pillow talk with Calix."

Marianne changed her words when she realized that her true intention was showing. She started slaughtering Shokoys again.

"Geez! I hate this! It's not fair that both of you have strong powers."

Yuna raised her voice while using an (IBG) energy gun to fight the monsters. She was part of the competition but her kill count was around 30. She couldn't compete with the two women. She grumbled and teleported to another location. Because of her inexperience, she couldn't use her second Term Attribute as a weapon.

"Calix~~ They are cheating~~"

She grumbled at Calix. She was pouting and acting like a child, she is cute.

Calix shrugged and ruffled her hair.

"I'm sorry Yuna. You know that I can't stop those two whenever they are like that."

"But if I lose, I can't have sex with you!!"

She kicked the sand.

"What? Why you can't? What are you even saying?"

Calix was confused.

"If I win, I can have sex with you! We made a game and you are the prize."

"What!!?"

Calix was surprised and almost jumped. He didn't know that he was being used as an item.

He looked at the two powerful girls.

"Hey, I didn't agree to this--"

""Shut up!!""

Marianne and Scarlett screamed at the same time, glaring at each other. They did not care if Calix would agree or not. After all, Calix likes sex.

"Just wait and I will have you for the whole night."

Marianne said while aiming her bullets at the poor monsters.

"Stay still, I'm gonna win this. You just have to sharpen your wiener and wait for me."

Scarlett glanced at him.

"..."

Calix didn't know what to say.

Chapter 172

"Phew, I guess it's over."

Yuna took a deep breath as her butt landed on the sand. She was fighting for four hours straight and it was tiring. She looked at the three people, Calix, Marianne, and Scarlett were looking relaxed even though they killed most of the monsters.

' I'm a 2nd Advanced too but I can't stand equal to their stamina. Even Calix defeated me in that area.'

Because Calix and the others had military experience, they could minimize the usage of their energy. They only move fluidly and no excess movements were shown, unlike Yuna who kept teleporting around and quickly draining her power. That was the reason why Calix and the two girls could last long without getting tired. They knew what to do in these four hours of straight battle.

In a way, they were talented.

Even Calix who is just an ordinary TA User could last long. It was already obvious that Calix had strong stamina, he could have sex all night without getting exhausted, so fighting monsters was not much of a hassle. Furthermore, Calix is an Ogre descent so he inherited some of their characteristics, for example, a huge cock.

"I guess I have to train more."

Yuna bit her lip bitterly. She passed the Vindicator exam but she understood how much she fucked up that examination. If not for her Term Attribute, perhaps she didn't have a chance to pass the exam.

"Strange, I thought at least one or two 3rd-Class Aberrant will show up."

Marianne raised her brow. She had better knowledge of the Port of Aoneon. Usually, few 3rd-Class Shokoys would show up whenever there was a long-time battle like this.

"Is that how it works here?"

Scarlett asked. She was always assigned to the border so she didn't have much information in the Port. The border was the thing that protected their country from the Forest of Death.

"Un..."

Marianne nodded and narrowed her eyes, looking at the endless blue sea. It looked tranquil and peaceful but she understood the horror that lies beneath it.

"It's probably because of me."

Calix raised his hand.

"Hm? Well, if we see it in that aspect. Maybe your Luck keeps the 3rd-Class away."

Marianne nodded. It was explainable if they see it in that aspect.

"That explains a lot. So? Let's leave now. I want to take a shower!!"

Yuna grumbly said and kicked a dead body of a Shokoy. The human-like monster had gills and fins and its skin was dark green. Although the blood that crept out of its wounds was blood just like a human.

' But no matter what they say, I can never see this thing as a human. It's a disgusting monster!'

Yuna had an expression of disgust. She looked at the three, urging them to leave this place.

The Port of Aoneon had a management that regulates the unit of soldiers to send them to some parts of the island where Aberrants usually appear and stop them from building a colony on the island.

Their team had to fight monsters for four hours, that was their usual job here. Then, after four hours, another group of soldiers would come and take their shift fighting the monsters.

"Give me a second and I will take the other team here!"

Yuna said and created a portal. Then, dozens of soldiers showed up and greeted them. Now, another team would protect this spot and they could freely return to their home and rest. She didn't bother hiding her appearance because almost all of the soldiers knew about her, she was famous as the beautiful teleporter.

Because of Yuna's incredible power, they could travel the island without a problem. Heck, they could even go to the Capitolium in just a span of seconds. Calix and the others greatly appreciate Yuna's effort.

They entered their private home and sighed, relaxed.

"Thanks, Yuna."

Calix kissed her forehead and Yuna blushed like a sweet girl.

"Just for you Calix!"

" I want a kiss too."

Scarlett stated, pouting and looking at Calix with a slightly fierce gaze.

"Of course."

He kissed her forehead too and Scarlett happily giggled.

As for Marianne.

" I- It's not that I'm asking for a kiss... but if you want to kiss me, go ahead. I know that I'm beautiful and that you can't help but kiss me."

She said a lot of excuses but her eyes kept glancing at him, asking for a kiss too.

Calix chuckled and kissed her too.

He felt like he had three children to pacify, perhaps this, itself, is a Luck too.

The three girls received a kiss and they were all satisfied. Although that harmony immediately cracked.

"By the way, I won the game so Calix will stay in my room tonight."

Scarlett smirked, mocking her two rivals.

"Grrr..."

Yuna gritted her teeth and glared at Scarlett, cursing her deep inside. As always, Scarlett would prevail. Yuna promised to train so that she could win next time. She couldn't accept this defeat.

"Not that care."

As for Marianne, she was acting like she didn't care. However, the fact that she was biting her lip and clenching her fists was obvious to see. Marianne started walking away, the floor turned to ice as she walked, and her emotions were visible.

"Oh, so you guys are here."

Kimberly found that they came back. She walked faster and approached Calix, asking for a reward. She was working on the petition of the soldiers who applied to their unit. In a way, Kimberly helped them a lot too.

Calix shrugged and understood her intention, so he greeted her by kissing her forehead too. Seriously, this scenario was quite fascinating. Calix is definitely a chad.

Kimberly fixed her glasses and smiled at them.

"Since you guys are here, I guess it's time to introduce our new recruit."

"Oh, so we have another member?"

Scarlett was intrigued.

"Just like what we talked about last time, I excluded all of the male participants because they are a hassle."

Kimberly nodded. She knew what would happen if a guy entered their unit, that guy would definitely die, one way or another. Either being burned, frozen, or sent to the other side of the world.

So Kimberly settled with a woman, but with some issues so that she won't become a rival, or so she thought.

Chapter 173

"Let's go, she's already here. She's in the office. "

Kimberly said and started walking away. The two girls, Scarlett and Yuna, nodded at each other and looked at Calix.

"Hm? Why are you looking at me like that?"

Calix asked, confused and scared. Whenever they were like this, every strand in his skin would stand. Because these girls would do some stuff that he couldn't fathom, perhaps he was at the bottom of this relationship. Well, whenever they were in bed, Calix is always the king so he didn't have a problem. Perfectly balanced, as all things should be.

"Calix, I think it's good if I'm going to meet her first. Yuna, take Calix away."

Scarlett glanced at Yuna, giving signals. She wanted to check if this new recruit won't disturb her love nest. She already had three girls to look at and she didn't want another one.

"Yeah, Calix. You need to rest, how about I take you to the kitchen and cook you some food."

Yuna added. In just a span of a second, the two girls immediately created a plan to distract Calix.

"Okay, I'm good with that."

Calix sighed, agreeing with them. He was relieved to know that they didn't have a bad plan. Last time, when these girls made an alliance, Calix was jailed in a room for three days straight, fucking and procreating. He had sex with the four girls, it was great, but it was quite a nightmare too. Because Calix felt that his violent side would show up again, he was a monster at that time. It sent shivers down his spine, the image of ravaging four women lingered in his mind. The worst part was that they all loved it. Sometimes, sex could be traumatic.

Since then, Calix would be afraid whenever these girls had an alliance, he knew that he would be on the receiving end.

"Let's go!"

Yuna coiled her arms around his and they started walking away, Yuna was rubbing her breasts against his shoulder.

"By the way, before I leave. Yuna, don't ever try something funny, I won the game, you should remember that."

Scarlett narrowed her eyes and Yuna clicked her tongue. It seemed that Scarlett realized her motives.

"Okay, okay, I will not do it. Just make sure that everything will be okay."

Yuna pulled Calix away. She thought she could spend some 'time' with Calix in the kitchen but it seemed like her plan failed.

'Anyway, as long as I can have my time with Calix, I'm good.'

To be fair, Yuna is a great cook. She knew how to cook delicacy so she became the cook of this unit. Furthermore, because of her Term Attribute, she could freely look for ingredients without a problem. Of course, Yuna did it all for Calix. One time she tried adding some poisons to the girls' food but Calix stopped her...

"Yuna, don't. "

Calix seriously said, his instinct was frightening.

"Geez, of course I won't do it. I love you."

But deep inside she was disappointed. As always, Calix is her kryptonite.

.....

.....

...

"What's your opinion about her, the new recruit?"

Scarlett asked Kimberly while they were walking.

Kimberly pulled small pieces of paper and they expanded, as expected, the Runes that Kimberly created were one of a kind. Kimberly threw the documents at her and Scarlett easily caught them.

She read the contents, and she nodded. She was quite impressed that there was a girl who didn't have Term Attribute but could perform well in the Fifth Battalion.

"Nikki Stringendo. She's called Gentle Gorilla? Not bad, she has physical strength, I guess she inherited it from her ancestors."

She added.

"Yeah, she's indeed a great catch, but here's the deal. She has a small voice. Almost like she's whispering."

If not for lip-reading, perhaps Kimberly would have a hard time talking to her.

"Interesting."

Scarlett was intrigued. There were few people who had distinct abilities despite having no Term Attribute. She knew some people who had characteristics of Elves and Beastkin even though they didn't manifest a Term Attribute, perhaps this Nikki Stringendo was in that category.

"... Ogre, huh. And she's a 7-footer?"

Scarlett imagined a giant woman who had a ferocious appearance, like a beast.

"We're here."

Kimberly said and stood at the door. She casually opened the door and someone fidgeted inside.

When they opened the door, they found Nikki standing straight and saluting. Her posture was right and her firm muscles could be seen.

"Nikki Stringedo, from Fifth Battalion. Sir yes, sir."

She said but the two women only heard nothing but hush-hush. Nikki did her best to show a good impression. She realized that the youngest woman who ever achieved 2nd Advanced would be in this unit, Scarlett Robinson. Scarlett was famous and even Nikki admired her.

Scarlett was surprised, she is quite a tall woman too. Spanning 5'6 feet, but this was the first time she ever lift her head like this, almost 45 degrees.

'Calix is tall but I never see something tall like this, particularly a woman.'

She was shocked, she gulped at her size alone. This woman was indeed a giant, now she understood why she was called the gentle gorilla, no, she understood why she was called gorilla. Scarlett swallowed her disturbance and nodded.

"You are Nikki Stringendo?"

"Yes."

"... I can't hear you, raise your voice a little bit."

"Y- yes!!"

She raised her voice but all they could hear was nothing but a buzz of a mosquito.

Scarlett turned to Kimberly, asking if this woman was serious. Kimberly just shrugged and confirmed that that's the best that Nikki could say. She had a weak voice.

"She is the best, right? "

Kimberly was talking about the fact that Nikki won't be a rival, because she had a lot of issues.

"Indeed."

Scarlett agreed. She realized that Kimberly was the best person in this job-hunting. She easily found this gem(defect girl). Too bad because Kimberly had to leave and return to the Cudgel Tech. She had to work under the asshole CEO Mark.

Scarlett studied Nikki.

'She has a rough but good-looking face, but because of her height and weak voice, it will be hard for her to seduce Calix. Okay, I made a decision.'

"You passed. I want you to be ready tomorrow."

"Sir yes sir."

Nikki saluted, she was nervous when Scarlett looked at her from up to down.

Chapter 174

"Phew, that's a good one."

Calix burped as he walked into the hallway. Yuna was indeed a great cook, Calix easily devoured most of the food, and Yuna was smiling foolishly while watching Calix eating.

Calix found that whenever he used Mento, his hunger was often strong that he could eat dozens of food without getting satisfied. As if his energy was consumed whenever he used Mento.

'Perhaps it's related to my lineage, Ogres have a big appetite that they can eat a whole cow without a problem.'

"Hm?"

On the way, Calix found a person who was standing in front of Scarlett's room. His feet stopped because he knew this person.

"Athena? What are you doing here?"

He was confused, Calix and Athena knew each other since childhood because Scarlett and Calix were friends. However, Athena would mostly watch on the sidelines while Calix and Scarlett would play around, she never stepped out of boundaries.

Despite knowing each other, Calix didn't know much about Athena. All he knew was that Athena would show up whenever Scarlett needed her, just like now.

'I guess Scarlett called her.'

Athena turned to him and bowed her head.

"Good day, Calix."

"You too."

"I was called here because Master Bronal has something to deliver to Scarlett."

"I see."

That's the only thing she said. She just stared at him as if nothing else. Calix felt awkward and greeted her back.

"Oh, Scarlett is in the office right now."

"Thank you, I will wait for her."

In the end, Calix started walking away. He glanced at her feet before he lost his interest and left. He didn't want to disturb her. Athena was mostly quiet but Calix knew that they were dangerous.

.....

.....

...

[He's dangerous.]

"I know."

The Shadow said and Athena agreed. Both of them were shocked when Calix glanced at the 'Shadow' that was hiding in Athena's shadow. Furthermore, while walking, Calix intentionally avoided Athena's shadow.

The Shadow was good at hiding and he was confident that he could hide his presence without a problem, no one even knew his true appearance or identity. Yet Calix easily discerned him, as if nothing could hide from his discerning eyes.

"Do you want to inspect him? After all, Master Bronal instructed us to check Calix too. "

Athena coldly said.

General Bronal knew about Calix and Scarlett's relationship, but he didn't know the exact story. On top of that, General Bronal heard some bullish news that Calix was the real person who ended the terrorist act. That's why he became curious.

Athena and the Shadow had two missions, the first was to keep an eye on Calix and the second was to convince Scarlett to join Bronal's unit. The General intended to make her a captain of her own team, not this new crap unit that didn't have any experience.

[Me? Did you just see what happened? He easily recognized that I'm hiding in your shadow. That man can quickly guess our intention if I go.]

"Hm, you got a point. Then I guess I have to do this."

Athena nodded, not caring about Calix. She was confident that she could find information about him, without getting harmed. After all, Calix is just a simple guy, right?

[Nice, I'll leave it to you. I have to return, okay.]

The Shadow disappeared and returned to the Clan. The Shadow could teleport back to the clan using coordinates. Although he was forbidden to choose the places near Scarlett and Bronal because of privacy, of course. As for Athena, she is just a maid so why not. Besides, Athena didn't mind it. She prepared a room for the Shadow to use.

"Calix, huh..."

Athena looked in the direction where Calix went. She had a good impression of the kid, she was three years older but she could see that Calix was much more mature than her. No, since young, Athena knew that Calix was above his peers.

Now she was wondering how a guy like him became a pathetic man while he was in high school.

"What is his Term Attribute again? I think it's Luck, what a unique Term attribute. I wonder how it works?"

Oh boy, if you want to know, you have to taste it first.

...

The evening arrived and the team was called into the office. Calix just woke up from an afternoon rest and came out of his room. He yawned and found Marianne on the way.

"Hello, Marianne."

"... Hi."

Marianne pouted and greeted him.

"Come on, you don't have to be sad. You will have your chance next time. You are stronger now, you are a 2nd Advanced. You will win next time, okay."

Calix comforted her. After having some nighttime with Marianne, Calix started knowing how her brain works. Calix could see that Marianne was mad that she didn't win.

"Who's mad? I'm not mad. "

Marianne denied it but she couldn't fool anyone. Calix shrugged and rubbed her head, Marianne grumbled but her expression was much better.

"Let's go, we don't want to be late."

"Okay."

Marianne nodded. With just a simple pat, she became docile. Perhaps Calix was indeed the master in this relationship. He is the focal point.

When they reached the office, they found that all of the members were already there. Yuna greeted Calix with a smile while Kimberly and Scarlett just nodded.

However, one thing caught Calix the most.

He gulped hard and raised his head, this was the first time that he raised his head when looking at a person. He is a tall guy but this, this is new to him.

"Hello, I am Nikki Stringedo."

Nikki was tensed and shy and her voice came out like a squeal. She did her best to raise her voice but in the end, she failed. Both Scarlett and Kimberly were happy with this reaction, this was their plan all along.

However, contrary to their expectations.

"Ungga Bugga... Booba Wuuga Buuga..."

Calix returned to monke.

When his eyes set on those huge melons, his instinct as a primate returned. He couldn't believe that there were large melons like these.

"... Mommy milkers."

"Booba..."

Calix muttered while looking at those gigantic tiddies. For a second, his mind urged him to grab and suck on those massive tits.

"Calix?"

"Ah, yeah Mommy? I mean. Hello, I'm Calix Romoel."

Because of Kimberly's voice, Calix regained his focus and greeted Nikki with his usual smile. However, no matter how much he control his eyes, they were still glued to those mountains. He wanted to squeeze them, suck them, as if he returned to being an infant who was asking for his mother's milk.

Nikki awakened his baby- instinct, returning to being a child, he gulped hard and shook his head.

"... Good, now that you are all here. I want to announce that Nikki Stringendo will be our newest member. Tomorrow we will have our usual task, please be kind to Nikki."

Kimberly said. She already prepared everything for this team before she leave. To be honest, she wanted to stay here longer but the company was calling her. She was greatly needed, if not because of the contract that she signed with CEO Mark, perhaps Kimberly won't have free time to visit Calix. She may become a slave instead. The scientists would always beg her but Mark's contract saved her. In a way, her father helped her a lot.

...

After the meeting, Kimberly stopped Calix from leaving.

"Hm? Is there a problem, Kimberly?"

"No, I just want to be with you before I leave. If you're worried about Scarlett. Don't worry, we talked earlier, it seemed like your rendezvous with her will be postponed. She had to talk to her maid, so I decided to use this chance to have some time with you."

Kimberly said. Calix nodded and realized what she was talking about, it seemed that Scarlett and Athena would have something to talk to.

"Okay. W- wait a minute, why are you taking your glasses? I thought we were going to talk?"

Calix knew about Kimberly's Term Attribute. He felt the impending doom, looked like he had to be ready for some action.

"Why not? We can talk while naked."

She giggled and started kissing his neck.

"I knew it. Okay, let's do it. But before that, I just want to say I'm sorry for what I said last time. I know that you are offended, I feel like you've done a lot to me but I can't help you at all. So I decided to give you money, I know, I'm sorry."

He scratched his head. He knew how to apologize, he didn't want to hurt Kimberly.

Kimberly was surprised and her lips curled up. Just the fact that Calix apologized was enough to make her happy. She hugged him, coiling her arms around his neck.

"It's okay, I forgive you."

"Really?"

"But you have to satisfy me first."

"Oh, that's easy."

Calix started devouring her lip till Kimberly was panting. Calix grabbed her tits and pinched her nipples.

"Oh Calix, you dirty. Perhaps you didn't know, but it's obvious that you're looking at Nikki's breasts the whole time. Are you that hungry for some breasts, hm?"

Kimberly made fun of him. However, she was actually shaken when she confirmed that Calix was interested in Nikki's J-cup melons. But because she already introduced Nikki, it would be hard to take her out. The only hope was to find fault to kick out Nikki, Kimberly would ask Scarlett for that.

' But if Calix started liking her, then it will be hard to fire her. Let's hope that there is another way... Ahn!!'

She thought while being licked down there. Calix was fingering her so much that her vision would turn black and white.

Just like the usual, Calix wanted to fuck Kimberly in the Jack-O position. He loved it whenever Kimberly did her best to maintain the position while getting pounded from behind. That night, Kimberly stuffed a lot of semen in her womb. She even has a souvenir, a good fucking in the ass.

"I love you."

"I love you too."

That simple reply made everything worth it. She smiled. Indeed, Kimberly loved him so much. She closed her eyes and fell asleep in the office while her pussy and Calix's dick were still connected. Their naked bodies rubbed against each other, cuddling while the wind breeze in the night.

.....

...

The next day came and they bid Kimberly farewell. No tears were shed because Kimberly could return at any time. Why? Because they have convenient transportation named Yuna Garcia. As long as Yuna saw the image of the place, she could create a portal in that exact location. Even Kimberly thanked her so much because of that. One time, Kimberly used her free time to have some intimate bonding with Calix. She created a battle suit for Yuna because of her gratitude.

Anyway, now that the day arrived.

Calix and his team went to their usual spot and prepared for the upcoming monsters. Their spot was always on the shore, the northern part of the island where shokoys mostly spawned.

But there was a change this time. They have a new member, Nikki Stringedo was carrying this large golden hammer as if it was paper.

Scarlet and the others couldn't help but glance at Nikki sometimes. This situation was awkward and no one could flirt with Calix because of Nikki.

Nikki felt the sensation and she was fidgeting. She just looked at her weapon while waiting for the monsters to come. Despite having experience in the army, she was still not used to people's gaze.

As for Calix, of course he was looking at Nikki too. However his purpose was different from the girls, he was staring at Nikki's jiggling tits. Because of the height differences, Calix's height of vision aimed well at Nikki's breasts. Yes, instead of looking at her face, Calix was staring at her big milkers.

He was wondering how great it would be if he fondled them once. His inner monk was showing up.

Calix already had his fill with Kimberly's breasts, yet he needed more. So far Kimberly had the biggest chest but it seemed like that title would be changed for a couple of next chapters.

Furthermore.

Athena, who was watching from afar, was staring intently at Calix. She wanted to know his secret, she wanted to confirm if he was dangerous to Scarlett.

Their job started and hordes of Shokoys came out of the vast sea. They raised their arms and fought them.

Just like always, Calix used his unique power called aim-bot. As long as he could use his Luck, his precision to shoot the monsters won't falter.

In fact, he was just standing and pulling the trigger of his gun. One way or another, the Aberrants would die. Nothing but a great overpowered spell. Might as well join a competition of FPS(First Person Shooting) games such as PUBG, Overwatch, Apex, and CoD. Calix has a strong chance of winning those games without a hassle.

Anyway, just like Calix, the other girls were casually fighting the Shokoys without a problem. Marianne and Scarlett were just shooting their spells all around, destroying the monsters one by one.

As for Yuna, she started getting used to this. Although her movements were still sloppy and tense. With her teleportation, she could jump around and escape anything.

"I'm thinking that this team is indeed special... We have three 2nd Advanced, a teleporter, a living gatling gun, and a fire burst mage... We can defeat the Demon King now."

Calix mumbled. He realized that despite being a new team, this unit already had the foundation to become one of the greatest.

"Woah, is she serious?"

Calix glanced and found Nikki flattening the monsters using her heavy hammer. The jet-black with golden lining hammer was covered in blood, almost changing its overall color. Calix gulped as he looked at Nikki who had spots of blood on her face. She didn't bother wiping the blood. Instead, she raised her hammer and advanced toward the monsters.

She stepped into the shallow water and confronted them.

"Now that explains why she's called the gentle or quiet gorilla."

Nikki didn't open her mouth nor speak, she just attacked the monsters using her hammer. Her movement was smooth yet wild, every time she swung the heavy-looking hammer, one or two Shokoys would fly.

"I guess she has the qualifications to join this team. She didn't have a Term Attribute but her pure strength is frightening. How bad will it be if I was hit by that hammer?"

Oh boi, Calix don't create any flag.

Just as his gaze was staring at Nikki, he felt a strong disturbance and immediately called Mento.

"Mento, activate the shotgun mode."

He commanded and his uzi quickly transformed into a double-barrel shotgun. He aimed the shotgun at the water and pulled the trigger.

Then, a howling cry echoed and three 3rd-class Shokoys appeared. Unlike the other Shokoys, these three were bigger and their hands had sharp claws that could shred a person into pieces.

Because of Calix's shotgun, the beads successfully hit the three Shokoys. The three monsters wanted to attack them quietly while lurking in the water.

"So that explains why I'm feeling tense."

Marianne said and Scarlett nodded agreeing to what she said. As these two women were experienced in battle, their instincts were telling them that something was odd. But it seemed that Calix's senses were much better than theirs despite Calix being a normal TA User.

"But now that they appear, heh, they will die."

Scarlett smirked. She became famous because of killing a 3rd-class, so these monsters were nothing to her.

Furthermore, their team had three 2nd Advanced, enough to fight three 3rd-class Shokoys. Just Scarlett and Marianne were enough to end these monsters.

Serpent-like flames rushed to the monsters and roasted them, but their suffering didn't end from that. Before they even realized it, their charred bodies slowly turned into ice until they became ice sculptures.

Nikki and Calix stared at the two with shock. In just a few seconds, they killed three 3rd-Class Shokoys. Usually, a team of seven soldiers was needed to kill one 3rd-class aberrant yet Marianne and Scarlett broke that rule.

Nikki gasped as she glanced at Marianne. She didn't know this, she didn't know that Marianne was a 2nd Advanced too.

Nikki knew that Scarlett was a 2nd Advanced because it was shown in the news. She comprehended that Yuna was a 2nd Advanced too, in the first place Yuna was the reason why this unit was created. However, Nikki didn't have information that Marianne was a 2nd Advanced.

"Hmph! Bunch of weaklings!"

Marianne scoffed. Nothing could beat her, she was confident that even Scarlett won't win against her, an actual High-Elf.

.....

.....

...

"These monsters, something is strange about them."

Scarlett narrowed her eyes. She felt that these monsters were not the usual type that attack rabidly.

"Yeah, I feel like they are smarter."

Marianne was the most experienced when fighting water-type aberrants. She knew that Shokoys were known to hide in the shallow water and attacked people. However,

"They are looking at us, since yesterday. No, to be exact, they are studying our movements and waiting for the right time to attack."

Marianne said, making her more confused and astonished. She felt like something was coming, something big.

"What do you mean?"

Yuna asked, she was the most clueless here.

"..."

No one said a thing. Even Calix felt the seriousness of this moment. Why? Because he knew this kind of thing. This type of situation happened in the past, this stuff happened before the tragedy that killed millions all around the world emerged. The Blood Moon.

.....

.....

...

In a room where politicians from high positions gathered.

No one could change their expression better, when they heard about the news, all of them turned grim. Remembering what happened a decade ago. The time when Obice was destroyed and monsters freely entered their country, was the most devastating moment for their country, no, it was the most devastating time in history. Once the moon turned red, the Aberrants would become stronger and frenzy. Their thirst for flesh turned them crazy. Yet, the craziness gave most of the Aberrants the ability to think, especially the 2nd-class and 3rd-class, making them more difficult to fight.

Chapter 177

A decade ago.

It was the time when Calix was still young, hugging his mother because he was afraid of the tremor that kept happening around them.

Clara was hugging her son tightly, she was anxious as she heard the roaring of monsters and the desperate shivering of the people. They were in the evacuation area, and just like them, people were gathering around, holding their breath, praying that they would survive this tragedy.

The Obice was destroyed and it needed time to fix. That's why the Aberrants from the sky could freely land in their country. The government issued a state of emergency and everyone was notified to go to the nearest evacuation area so that they could be protected.

Thousands of Vindicators were fighting outside, protecting innocent people.

Clara bit her lip, looking at her son who was pale and close to crying out loud.

"Mama."

"Sshh, shh. Everything will be all right."

She did her best to smile, to assure young Calix that everything was fine. Young Calix nodded and zippered his mouth, his dad taught him to be a great boy, Andreas said that crying showed weakness.

'I hope he's fine.'

Clara prayed that Andreas would be all right. Andreas was at the border when the Blood Moon happened. Since then, they lost communication and didn't know what happened.

Clara further hugged her son.

"Mama, after this I want to see Scarlett. We promised that we will play, I have some toys for her."

"Un, you will meet her after this. Sarah said that she will bake cookies for you too."

Sarah was Scarlett's mother.

"Really?"

Young Calix became excited.

"Yes, I'm not joking."

Young Calix said and Clara nodded, holding her tears.

However, after that, they found that Sarah Robinson lost her life. The Blood Moon took her life.

.....

...

"Is this confirmed?"

One of the senators asked while massaging his forehead. This news made him dizzy, he recalled how the Blood Moon killed his friends. He was a soldier at that time.

"Yes, I'm not joking. I meet the Oracle in my dream, he said that we have to prepare. I already contacted the other countries about this. So far they are getting ready too."

General Bronal answered seriously. The Blood Moon was the enemy of all of the country, no, the whole world.

Since a long time ago, the Moon would turn into the color of blood and the Aberrants would become ferocious and attack recklessly. However, aside from that situation, most of the higher class aberrant would break through and become stronger and smarter. Some of the monsters even gained the ability to speak, which only Dragon-Class and DemonGod could do.

It was the moment when monsters become stronger and smarter that not even the Obice nor the Port of Aoneon could stop them.

"... We have to create a plan. No, we have to raise our defense!"

The senator roared. He was agitated because he witnessed how horrible the Blood Moon was.

They were quiet and the atmosphere became darker. Their expression was grim.

As for General Romoel who was listening in the background. He understood that he had to train his soldiers because they would be the main factor in this upcoming battle.

He sighed.

He hated to say this but Yuna, the teleporter, would become a great weapon. He didn't want to but it seemed like he had to visit this special unit that was made of talented people(?)

'They are good, but most of the time, they are just horny.'

He felt like he wanted to teach his son another lesson: To not become horny and tight the leash of his girls so that they won't fuck around, literally.

Andreas understood that the special unit was nothing but a sandcastle right now.

.....

...

As for Calix, they returned to their residence after they finished their job. Aside from the three 3rd-Class Shokoys who tried to surprise attack them, their job was smooth and easy.

Calix tried to visit Scarlett because he was worried but he realized that Scarlett was talking to Athena. They were talking in the room and Calix understood that he must not disturb them. Scarlett and Athena are like sisters.

So Calix turned around and started walking away. However, on his way back, he found Nikki pulling weights in the gym. It was a private gym that was created for them to train.

Calix narrowed his eyes and looked at Nikki, now that he thought about it, he felt strange that Nikki was the only one who passed the assessment. Furthermore, Calix was curious how a normal person like her had the strength to carry a heavy hammer.

"Should I talk to her? I heard that she is pretty shy. She speaks weakly, more like whispers."

He nodded. He decided to enter the gym and talk to her. He experienced being left behind, he was living alone for three years. He didn't want to see anyone live like that.

Calix could see that the girls didn't talk to Nikki at all. As a man, it is Calix's job to make a girl happy. Besides, it was definitely not because of her large boobs, he didn't want to fondle them, not at all. He didn't want to suck them like a baby, definitely not because of that.

"Hello."

"!!!"

Nikki was surprised and turned around, she found Calix staring at her. She dropped the barbell and saluted. She was anxious that she didn't greet him right so she started speaking but Calix heard nothing but buzzing.

"S- sir, yes sir."

"You don't have to salute, we're both private ranks."

He said and smiled, trying to hide the fact that he was ogling at the tits in front of him.

Chapter 178

Calix couldn't help it, because his line of sight was directly pointed at her breasts. Nikki was too tall, yup, Calix hated to admit it but Nikki's breasts were at the level of Calix's head. So whenever Calix looked at her, the first thing that his eyes notice were those bountiful breasts.

So Calix was innocent. Of course, he didn't have any lewd reason why he was looking at them, it was a coincidence, nothing else.

'Besides, I'm looking respectfully...'

Calix shook his head, erasing the lewd demon in his head. He lifted up his head and looked at Nikki who appeared to be nervous.

"H- hello."

She muttered, that was the best that she could do. In her opinion, that was already a scream. Her face was blushing but it appeared natural because she was sweating. She was lifting four plates barbell earlier.

"Hm?"

Calix tilted his head. He didn't hear what she said, he saw her mouth moving but he didn't hear any sound. Thankfully, Calix knew lip reading.

"Ah, yeah, nice to meet you too. We didn't have a proper introduction earlier because we were busy. I'm Calix Romoel, I'm still young so you don't have to treat me like I'm older."

He smiled and extended his hand. Nikki flinched but she gently shook it. She didn't want to appear to be bad.

When their hands touched, they both realized that they have calluses. Calix grinned.

"So you're into lifting. I know that you're still new in this unit but you don't have to push yourself and tire your body. Maybe you can look around and relax."

He suggested. He felt that Nikki was exhausting herself, they had a schedule tomorrow and it would be bad if Nikki was tired. Furthermore, Nikki is an ordinary woman, so her strength and stamina surely had limitations.

"I- it's okay... I want to do this, it's my relaxation.

She replied.

"Is that so, well, just don't push yourself that much."

Calix didn't understand what she said, but he could guess it. Maybe it was related to his Luck.

"Thanks."

Nikki mumbled and averted her gaze, she was not accustomed to Calix's gaze. She felt strange and hot. Most of the time, men would avoid her because of her height and monstrous strength, she was not treated as a woman. They were scared of her.

Furthermore, sometimes, when a guy looked at her, she felt uncomfortable because of their dangerous gaze. But Calix was different, Nikki didn't feel any aversion, only embarrassment. Calix was looking at her with no hidden intention, or perhaps he was just that good at hiding his emotions.

"Hehe, good. I guess I'll join you too. "

Usually, Nikki won't agree because she felt uncomfortable when a male was close to her. She experienced horrible stuff back in the past, so she was afraid of men. Especially men who wanted to take advantage of her. That's why she was thankful when she found that this unit mostly had females, Calix was the only guy.

Calix started with some pull-ups, then, he started bench pressing without a spotter.

Nikki glanced at him but whenever Calix looked at her, she would act like she was training.

'What am I doing... Nikki, remember what happened, remember your purpose. You are here to work.'

She talked to herself.

Nikki bit her lip and started working out again. She did her best not to lose focus. She didn't want to make another mistake, once is enough.

She didn't realize that she was tiring herself and that she lost track of time.

...

After a few hours, Nikki realized that she exhausted herself. She dropped the barbell and took some rest. She was panting and sweat covered her body. She knew that she smells right now. She wiped the sweat on her face using her t-shirt.

"Eh?"

She looked around and realized that Calix was still bench pressing. However when she looked seriously, she found that Calix was lifting 405 lbs and it seemed that he was not tired at all.

Nikki was lifting the same weights but she knew that she couldn't last long like him. Furthermore, it looked like Calix didn't have any idea that what he was doing was amazing. He didn't have someone to compare to.

Andreas could lift 500 lbs without a problem so Calix thought he should carry at least 405 lbs. So yeah, the person he compared to was a monster so Calix unknowingly became a monster too.

He didn't look tired at all.

Nikki gulped. She was amazed. She unconsciously smiled, she didn't know why but she was elated. As if she realized that she and Calix had similarities and they could be friends. Because of her height and appearance, Nikki didn't have any friends. Guys were afraid of her while girls couldn't see her as a girl, more like a giant.

She grimaced recalling those moments.

"Oh, so you're finished?"

Calix looked around and found that Nikki was finished training. He set the barbell and approached her while wiping his face.

"Phew."

He exhaled, this kind of training was nothing to him. Calix didn't know that he was already a superhuman.

"You're amazing."

Nikki muttered. Her brown eyes glowed in awe. Yet Calix just shrugged.

"No, please don't joke. It's nothing, my father can do better than that."

He said, he was serious. His father could carry a house without a hassle.

"Perhaps you can give me some tips- hey! Nikki! Are you okay?"

Nikki started wobbling until she lost consciousness. Fortunately, Calix was there and caught her before she fell.

"Oi? Are you okay?"

Calix became anxious. He didn't know what happened.

He inspected her and realized that Nikki was hot, freaking hot. She was burning, Calix touched her forehead and confirmed that Nikki was sick.

Chapter 179

Nikki was gasping, her breathing was quite hot and her face was red. Her chest was quite heaving and she felt cold, her body was trembling.

Calix was anxious and started looking around. At this time, the best thing he could do was to bring Nikki to the nearest hospital or call an ambulance. Calix had an option, because of Yuna, Calix realized the concept of fast travel. Heck, last time, Yuna fetched him from the top of the mountain because he was training. With one image, as long as Yuna memorized the scenery, she could create a portal.

Calix opened his phone and contacted her.

"Yuna, I need your help."

.....

...

They took Nikki to a clinic, apparently, she was just exhausted and she needed a proper rest. Calix realized that they were actually lifting weights for five hours straight. Even a strong bodybuilder would have a hard time after that. So even Nikki, a healthy soldier, would faint after that. She was not a Term Attribute User, she is just an ordinary woman who has slightly greater strength than a normal person.

Calix sighed, he didn't expect this. He thought that a five hours gym was the norm because that's how he grew up. Witnessing his father lifting 200 pounds barbells without a problem.

His common sense was already broken ever since childhood.

He massaged his forehead and glanced at the three girls.

"Hah, I can't believe that she is this pathetic."

Marianne scoffed. She crossed her arms, looking at the sleeping Nikki. They brought her back to her room so that she could take a rest peacefully.

Marianne hated weak people, so seeing a person like Nikki made her frown. Furthermore, Nikki was officially a member of their unit. This meant that her well-being was their responsibility, in a way. Right now, they were fighting monsters almost every day, yet one of them was sick.

"Tch, I know that Kimberly woman is not good. I shouldn't trust her--"

"Marianne, shut your mouth."

Scarlett said, she didn't want any unnecessary noise.

As expected, Marianne still had her awful behavior, she still treated people weaker than her as nothing but bugs. Marianne is Marianne, just because she fell in love didn't mean that she would change. She is still a sadistic woman who likes making fun and ridiculing weak people.

"Huh, what are you going to do?"

Marianne said, looking at Scarlett without any fear. In fact, she was ready to slap Scarlett at any moment, they didn't have chemistry in the first place.

"This woman..."

The atmosphere gradually turned hot but it quickly became cold too, two elements were fighting and ready to bite each other. Because both of them were 2nd Advanced, gained their second ability, and had strong pride, Marianne and Scarlett understood that once they fight, one of them would be greatly injured or die.

Scarlett still couldn't forgive Marianne for what she did to Calix.

Marianne wanted to have Calix all for herself, and Scarlett is the greatest problem.

If one of them died, then the fishbones in their throats would be lessened. As for Yuna, she was watching on the sideline, hoping that one of them would die. Girls, they are frightening creatures.

However, just before the two cast their spells and turned this place into a punk hazard, Calix stopped them just with one word.

"Stop."

That's it, but the heaviness when he said it was powerful. They almost kneeled, the pressure behind that word made them weak.

Calix didn't want any problem right now. He massaged his forehead, these girls were indeed hard to control. He was wondering what would happen if he disappeared, these girls would definitely go crazy and be devastated. He became like this because he had affection for them.

"Hmmp!"

Marianne harrumphed and turned around, she came out of the room. She looked once at Calix, she wanted to apologize but her pride as a noble High-Elf won't let her do it. It would be better if Calix was the one to apologize first, but Marianne was not stupid. She knew that she was the bad one here.

'Who cares, I'm always the bad one. And I'll never change, I'm just working on this team to slowly snatch Calix. That's my plan and it didn't change at all. His power is enough to make someone a God... I'm not doing this because I love him, definitely not.'

She thought of an excuse while walking away. The sounds of her steps resonated in the hallway.

Love, sometimes it brings pain and sorrow. But people couldn't help but fall in love, because living is love.

Scarlett, Yuna, and Calix were left behind.

Scarlett wanted to say something but she knew that this was not the right time. Particularly when Athena was lingering around, Scarlett had an inkling that Athena knew about her relationship with Calix, but she didn't want to act lovey-dovey in front of Athena. So she gritted her teeth and left.

"Hey! What are you doing!?"

But before she left, she took Yuna with her. Scarlett understood that this sly pink-haired woman would attack once the obstacle disappeared.

"Calix, are you going to stay?"

Scarlett asked.

"Yeah, I'm the reason why she fainted so I have to take care of her. I'm sorry, I'll treat you to dinner next time."

Calix said, slightly smiling.

"No, I'm fine with your cooking. I want a homemade Hawaiian Pizza."

Scarlett said and gave him a peck on his lip.

"Got it, I'll make one tomorrow."

"Bye-bye."

Scarlett and Yuna came out of the room and walked away.

"Hey, are you serious? You want to poison Calix?"

Yuna raised her brow. She couldn't believe that Scarlett asked for an abomination of food.

Scarlett stopped walking and glared at her.

"Hawaiian pizza is lit!"

She said but Yuna shook her head instead.

"Fine, fine. I guess I'll prepare some laxatives."

Yuna replied and teleported. Since the time she deciphered her Term Attribute, Yuna found walking tiring.

Chapter 180

Calix glanced at Nikki who was breathing hard. Her face was red, it definitely looked like she was in pain. Calix touched her forehead and confirmed that she was hot.

"We just finished changing her clothes and wiping her skin..."

He mumbled. Of course his three girls won't let Calix do those stuff alone. How could they let Calix see another woman's naked body? Even if his intention was pure, Calix is still a guy. They couldn't trust him regarding the job.

So the three girls tended Nikki despite being dissatisfied. Right now, Calix's job was to care of Nikki and watch her. If something happened, Yuna is one call away and a portal will definitely materialize in the room.

So yeah, Calix didn't plan to take her clothes off.

First, he put a wet towel on her forehead to lower her temperature. Then, when he confirmed that Nikki's breathing became calm, he decided to scroll down the internet.

He saw a doujin about a giant girl with big mommy milkers and her average-height boyfriend. It was wholesome, it almost gave him diabetes.

Instead of being horny, Calix felt happy and smiled.

"I swear, vanilla and hand-holding are the lewdest but wholesome of all. Fuck those NTR-tards."

He cursed the fanboys of the disgusting tag that made most of the people's stomachs turn.

"Pweh!! Fucking disgustang!"

Like a British.

"Ugh..."

When he slightly raised his voice, Nikki grumbled and turned around. It seemed that Calix disturbed her.

He flinched and shut his mouth. He decided to read some manga instead. His fingers brought him to a certain manga where the protagonist was actually the antagonist.

"Good, looks like Eren completely finished the manga."

He was slightly disappointed but he respected the Mangaka's decision, Eren Yeager.

"Yeah, it's confirmed. Eren Yeager whispered the story to Isayama, that's how Shingeki No Kyojin was created. Fucking lit."

He followed the manga for years, Calix was happy that the manga was finished, unlike a certain shounen manga that would never be finished.

"R.I.P. Hunter X Hunter."

He shook his head. Sometimes, all it takes is one moment. Calix stood up to get some food in the kitchen. It was already 11 pm and the moon was nowhere to be found outside.

"Perhaps it will rain tomorrow."

Calix came out of the room and reached the kitchen. However, when he entered the place, he found Yuna doing something stupid.

"Haaah... Aaahhhh.... Calix, Mmmmm."

Yup, she was masturbating on top of the table. She was hugging this human-sized body pillow called dakimakura while fingering herself. The worst was that...

"Wait, is that me? Is that my picture?"

Yup, again.

Yuna ordered a custom-made dakimakura of Calix. She sent Calix's topless picture to the producer. She even visited the printing shop herself just to get it, because she put great importance on the item.

'I know that her room is full of my pictures but I can't believe that she literally created a body pillow of me. And she's using it to get off while thinking of me. Wow, just wow.'

Calix started thinking if the girls he fell in love with were normal people. Because he felt that some, or perhaps most, or maybe all of them were crazy, one way or another.

"Nngghh!!! Calix, more. Fuck me more!! Aahh!!!"

She was begging the pillow!!! Humping her crotch against it. What the fuck!!

"... Maybe I should leave."

Calix decided to turn back. But he recalled something. He was not a coward.

"I'm the reason why she's like that... that's why I have to fix this problem! That's right, I'm the man in this relationship. Yuna needs me."

He began walking towards Yuna who was on the table, where juices of her pussy spread around.

"C- Calix, what are you doing here?"

Yuna was startled when she found Calix approaching her.

"Um, this is the kitchen and I want to eat something. I'm the one who should ask you that, why are you masturbating here in the kitchen?"

Calix was definitely the right one here.

"Because it's fun."

Yuna said as she took off her slick fingers out of her wet pussy, licking them all over.

"Yeah, I shouldn't have asked."

He shrugged, as expected, Yuna is built differently.

"S- so... Calix, now that you are here, can you please help me? If you're looking for a snack, here I am."

She said seductively, wagging her ass in the air, slapping her left ass cheek.

"Yeah, that's the reason why I approached you in the first place."

He nodded and took off his pants.

.....

.....

...

[This novel has 50 advanced chapters in Pa-treo-n]

Calix left Yuna breathless and convulsing on the table. She had a satisfied smile.

When Calix walked into the hallway, he was already naked because Yuna stole his clothes. Although he was cool because he was holding a bucket of chicken wings.

He savored the sweet and sour flavor of the chicken wings while walking toward Nikki's room.

However, before he reached Nikki's room. A red-haired woman showed up, glaring at Calix, pouting so cutely.

Calix paused and shook his head.

"First of all, I know where this is going. Second of all, I'm sorry?"

"Good, now kiss me."

Scarlett commanded highly, like an Empress. However in the middle and end part of the sex, it was obvious that Calix was in control. These days, his stamina was getting out of control that even the four girls couldn't satisfy his lust.

Scarlett recalled that moment while cumming, the moment where Calix ravaged their bodies like nothing but fucktoys. She confirmed that Calix is a monster.

"Oh God, fuck me!!!"

"How do you like that bitch!?"

"Ghhnggh, so goood!!!"

.....

.....

...

Just like what happened to Yuna, Scarlett was left behind leaning on the wall, and her legs were wet and rosy. Love juice was oozing out of her pussy as she heaved her chest. Calix maltreated her so bad that she screamed loudly.

Calix started walking again. He was not holding anything this time because he left half of the bucket of chicken wings to Scarlett. Because he loved her.

However just as Calix touched the doorknob of Nikki's door, someone grabbed him from behind.

Calix turned around and found Marianne grinding her legs. Her face was blushing and she was begging Calix to give her love too. It was not fair that the others had some fun with him.

"H- hey, want to have some coffee in my room?"

But because Marianne was not honest with herself, she used another tactic to seduce him.

"Coffee, or you just want me to fuck you?"

"O- of course not! I'm not like that!!!"

But of course, Calix already knew the endgame. That's why he pushed Marianne against the wall and fucked her from behind, she squealed like a pig getting slew, but the wide smile on her face was clearly written.
