

Only Fuel 241

Chapter 241

{Hraagg!!!}

The Bakunawa screamed in pain as it gradually descended into the half-island that was sinking into the ocean.

The monster lost its ability to heal. For a Demon-God like the Bakunawa, it should have a frightening healing power.

But when Calix destroyed its heart, all of its advantages disappeared.

Furthermore, this was the Blood Moon. This was the right time to become stronger but the monster failed. He could not absorb the power that the Blood Moon was pouring down on the monsters.

The Bakunawa lost its right to become stronger.

{Impossible!! I have a tough scale, I'm confident that my armor can withstand any attack!!}

The Demon-God growled as it crashed into the island. Houses and buildings were destroyed as the monster collided.

Calix used a powerful rifle to penetrate its skin. The monster may have tough skin as its armor but Calix's gun was stronger. On top of that, the bullet that Calix used was imbued with an azure aura that reversed the fate of the creature.

Using his bullet, the destiny that was set for the Bakunawa was turned around. Now, it lost its chance to become stronger because it lost its heart.

{No, I still have a chance!! I can't die here!!}

The creature said anxiously. The monster's heart was destroyed but it could heal, although it would take a hundred years at least.

That was not the problem right now, the Bakunawa understood that if it stayed in this place, the chance of surviving would become slim.

Especially when there was a DemiGod woman.

.....

.....

...

"I see..."

Esmeralda was shocked as she looked at the formidable creature that was currently groveling.

She could not believe that a creature as powerful as the Bakunawa would turn into this.

She glanced at the person who shot the creature. With her strong sight, she found three people. There were two women who were hugging an unconscious man. They were easy to identify because of their appearance.

'One is red hair, and the other is a blonde elfling. Scarlett Robinson and Marianne Francine, I assume one of them is the culprit.'

However, something was telling her that the person who shot the Bakunawa was the man.

After all...

'A person who can kill a God... Interesting. Looks like I found something, huh.'

She grinned, as she understood that it was going to be fun, almost being saved.

"Now, I'll let the three have their time, I'm going to finish this creature before it escaped."

She looked down and confirmed that the Bakunawa was squirming as it tried its best to flee. The monster looked desperate. Well, knowing that its heart was damaged and it could not fight with its full power, the Bakunawa was indeed afraid.

Nonetheless, Esmeralda was not foolish to let the monster escape.

"This monster destroyed the island in half, if I let it escape, it will return later for revenge. That's going to be a hassle."

She glanced and clicked her tongue.

It was still afternoon and it would take a few hours before the sun set down... Ah, there was still Blood Moon so it was not confirmed if the sky would turn black.

"I still can't use my full power, however!!"

{Aarrgghhh---!! You foolish woman!!}

"Hah!!"

Esmeralda stabbed the creature using a spear made of darkness.

She successfully penetrate the monster's skin using her concentrated spear, but it was not enough to kill the monster.

"It's not deep. I have to reach its organ to kill it! The brain is my target!"

The monster lost its ability to heal and its blood was oozing out of its wound. The Bakunawa began rolling around like a worm. Because of this, the structures around the monster further crumble. It probably killed hundreds or perhaps thousands of people.

Well, the half portion of the island was already sinking at 2/5, so the structures were not going to be that important. But human life is a different story, no one could take it easily.

Esmeralda frowned as she looked at the disgusting giant worm. She just stabbed it once and it was already acting like a bitch.

Still, she raised her hand and flicked her fingers and another giant spear was created from the darkness. The spear pointed to the Bakunawa, it was big and sharp enough.

"Now, I have to find where the brain is to kill this monster immediately."

She could see that the monster only lost its heart but its brain was still intact, because it could still think... duh.

The monster started crawling just to reach the ocean. Its ability to fly had been lost because of its heart too. It seemed that its heart was greatly important because its unique abilities were connected to its heart. In fact, the Bakunawa could not shoot a fire breath too.

Like a snake on the ground, its body slithered. Then, a sharp spear stabbed its tail.

{Aacckk--!! Curse you woman!! I swear I will kill you!}

"Oh yeah? Why don't you do it now?"

Esmeralda had a wide grin as she created another spear. Her face was covered in sweat, and creating a black spear in this current environment took a huge toll on her body.

But she still continued, she dropped the spear and it successfully stabbed the monster. Sadly, it looked like she didn't hit the brain.

The monster changed the location of its brain and it was Esmeralda's job to locate it.

"Hm, I thought it was in your belly, I guess I have to start from the top!!"

{Arrrggghh--!!}

The painful screams of the monster reverberated so that every people on the island could hear the pitiful sounds.

This scene created the myth, that the Vice President of Dellia could torture a Demon-God despite being at disadvantage.

Esmeralda became the monster in their eyes.

Chapter 242

A woman who was punishing a giant serpent looked like a monster in the eyes of the people. But she is a monster that they are blessed to have. After all, only Esmeralda could protect them right now.

Their opinion of the Vice-President was positive, a person who would sacrifice her life just to protect the citizens. She is heroic.

Her position in their hearts was elevated. In the middle of the ocean, the painful cry of the Bakunawa echoed, but no one feel pity. This creature killed dozens of thousands.

{I will never forgive you! Arrrgghhh--! Curse you and your broken species!}

"Shut your fucking mouth!!"

The woman raised her voice as she created another spear. She was gasping for air, her face was soaking wet. Her sweat was running down her face. She looked tired.

"When are you going to die you piece of shit!"

Esmeralda already stabbed half of the monster's body. Still, she was not confident that she could kill the monster before she lose her strength.

'This is bad, my brain is in my lower abdomen!'

The monster was desperate to move, but just like Esmeralda, the Bakunawa was already exhausted too. The blood that escaped its body was vast.

The one who had a strong determination would win.

Or so they thought.

"Huh? Hey, look at that! Everyone! We are saved, thank god!"

They did not know who spoke first but they could hear it clearly.

They looked at the sky, and one by one, the people started celebrating. Some people even cried with joy.

At last, the reinforcement arrived. A 5-meter wide portal was hovering over the sky. This portal represents all of their hope.

"You guys are late!"

Esmeralda cursed but her grin was obvious to see. She felt relieved. After all, Esmeralda understood that it would be hard to kill the Bakunawa because of her current situation.

"I don't think you will choose this decision, but I will support you."

Suddenly, a huge phoenix came out of the portal. The phoenix roared and rushed toward the Leviathan.

The phoenix directly crashed into the monster and the Bakunawa started screaming as the fire coated it.

{aaahhhhhhh--!!}

The monster's arrogance disappeared as the flame devoured its body.

But it did not simply end like that. Another phoenix came out of the Portal and drifted to the monster.

{Nooooooooo---!!! Stoopppp--!!!}

The monster begged but no one listen. The monster deserves to die. The Bakunawa began struggling like a worm covered in salt. Its whole body was burning. It could smell its own flesh being cooked. The crisp fire ate its vision, it failed to realize its dream to become stronger.

'Why?'

The monster asked itself. Where did it go wrong?

As an Aberrant, the Bakunawa waited for the Blood Moon. The monster was already a Demon- God but it understood that there were stronger creatures than it. So the Bakunawa was hungry for power.

Knowing that the weaker Aberrants had the intention of overtaking the island, the Bakunawa decided to show its power and spread fear.

Everything was good at the beginning. In fact, the monster was winning. The island was split in half and the citizens were panicking.

The monster overpowered the DemiGod woman too. So what happened?

'It's because of that bullet! I swear, if I find the guy who shot my heart, I will destroy his whole life!! Graahhh---!!'

Everything became dark after that moment. It lost its cards and was heavily injured, all because of the guy who shot its back.

{No, I can't accept this! I will not gonna die here! I have to move forward! Shinso Sasageyo!!!}

Slowly, the monster tried to reach the ocean.

But in the end, it failed.

The monster stopped moving as the flame consumed its body. Its carcasses gradually turned to ashes.

The mighty Demon-God, a creature that everyone feared, lost its life in this battle.

.....

.....

...

[The Phoenix Term Attribute]

This was Bronal Robinson's Term Attribute when he became a DemiGod. His Term Attributes became one and it was the Phoenix.

His ability was to summon endless numbers of Phoenix, and these Phoenix could create endless flames. The flame could burn a creature with tremendous speed and turn the creature into ashes.

Bronal glanced at the Bakunawa. Nothing was left to the monster except the crystal, even its bones disintegrated into ashes.

This was the power of the DemiGod Vindicators, they have frightening abilities that could rival Gods.

In this world, this was the strongest level that was currently known. There were rumors that Gods were still alive but no one could prove it.

So in this era, the DemiGods are feared and respected by the people.

"Everyone, prepare to land!!"

He commanded.

"Sir, yes sir!!"

The soldiers behind him began jumping down to the island. Their mission was to eliminate the remaining Aberrants that were terrorizing the citizens.

As for Bronal, he turned around at the two people behind him.

Athena and Shadow were waiting for his command.

"Find Scarlett..."

He said but his hands were trembling. No matter how much he tried to remain calm, he could not stop his actions. He was deeply anxious. He felt that his heart was going to break.

If a bad thing happened to Scarlett, Bronal did not know what would happen to him.

"As you wish, Patriarch!!"

The two bowed their heads. Just like Bronal, the two were anxious too. Especially Athena, she was worried as fuck.

Her job was to protect her lady, but when the Blood Moon arise, she was on the mainland to inform the Patriarch, General Bronal, about something.

Chapter 243

The citizens started cheering as they witnessed the soldiers landing on the ground. Despite being injured, where monsters continue opposing, the citizens felt that they were already saved. As if they forget the problem they were facing. The smile on their faces was obvious to see as they watched the soldiers retaliate against the enemies.

Bronal's eyes swept across the island. He determined that half of the island was already beyond saving. It was sinking and the only thing they could do was evacuate the citizens.

He jumped out of the portal, then, a screech of a phoenix echoed and materialized. Bronal used the phoenix as transportation. He landed on the ground and looked at the surrounding.

Everything was broken, from the buildings to the people. He could see dead bodies all around, but he didn't flinch. Witnessing this kind of scene was not new to him. In fact he witnessed more terrifying stuff than this.

He actually sighed with ease. He confirmed something. He sacrificed his position just to confirm something.

"... I can't find a blood tree."

He gently muttered. His tense body relaxed and he took a step toward the dead Bakunawa.

The Demon-God monster was already dead, only ashes remain from its body...

"Except for the Crystal Heart."

Bronal reached the place and found a woman standing in front of a two meters wide black crystal.

"So you're here. I thought you are at the Capitolium?"

"..."

Esmeralda asked him but Bronal didn't answer. Instead, he looked at the black crystal before him.

The crystal had a huge crack in the middle and it seemed that it was damaged.

Esmeralda's dark Hands inspected the crystal and found something interesting.

"Hm, looks like a bullet of some sort of heavy rifle. It's quite intriguing that a bullet like this can penetrate a tough scale of a Bakunawa..."

Her eyes were quite glowing as if she found something interesting. She turned to Bronal who was looking from afar.

"If you are looking for your daughter, she is safe. Looks like she overcame the trial."

He gave her a fierce glare but the woman just shrugged. In terms of seniority, she was above the others.

"Just be thankful. Your teaching is not wrong."

"I don't want to hear that from you."

"Is that so?"

Confirming that the Bakunawa's crystal heart was still usable despite having a crack, he decided to leave the Vice President.

"Hey, is that how you should act in front of me?"

Esmeralda glanced at him, the way she said it was quite cold.

"... I will leave, Master."

"Good."

She smiled and let him leave.

"The curse of the Vampires. To be exact, it's the Blessing of the Vampires. The Blood Moon is the moment where Vampires received power from the Moon. It is a ritual where they get stronger. However, Vampires are already wiped off from history. Only their impure descendants are alive. Sadly, these few descendants have to suffer because of their impure blood. Whenever the Blood Moon arises, the descendant's blood will become a plant and eat the body until it becomes a full pledge tree. Only strong people could survive it. Thankfully, the children are not affected by the Blood Moon.'

Esmeralda didn't know that Scarlett's mother was a descendant of the Vampires. It was already too late when they found it, the woman had already become a Blood Tree.

"The only way to overcome this trial is by having a great amount of concentration, sheer will, and a tough physique. But it's not easy, and no one can assure that they can overcome the trial. Most of them died."

Bronal promised that he would teach Scarlett to become strong, to overcome the Blood Moon, and survive. He didn't want to repeat what happened to his wife. Losing her was enough.

"He taught her how to control her Term Attribute. He taught her how to become stronger. He taught her everything so that her chances of surviving will be higher."

Bronal's actions were not justified. Perhaps his way of doing things was wrong. But he didn't have a choice.

"The chances of surviving are slim."

Bronal could not say to Scarlett that she would die because of a curse. It would affect her growth as a human being and a Vindicator. He understood that Scarlett would be devastated if she found that her life had an end.

"Bronal may be wrong, but he indeed loves her."

Esmeralda sighed. Having a stupid student like Bronal was disappointing.

"If he's a little bit honest, perhaps their relationship will become better. Is that what you call a Tsundere?"

She didn't know. She just understands that Bronal is the type of person who takes the blame whenever one of his loved ones died.

"He is still guilty that he failed to protect his wife that's why he can't look into Scarlett's eyes. He is afraid, a coward."

Anyway, she didn't have the intention of getting into his life. Her job was already finished.

So, Esmeralda's darkness began devouring the crystal heart.

This crystal heart was an important ingredient to create a Battlesuit.

"Sadly, only the Cudgel Tech has the technology to process it."

She clicked her tongue in annoyance.

"Perhaps I can sell it at a high price, let's see what expression will Mark Cudgel show."

She giggled and the crystal completely disappeared.

"I will take care of that guy later. Let's give him rest first."

The darkness covered her and she jumped into the portal. Her visit to the Port Of Aoneon was worth it. She had already forgotten it but this event rekindled her memory.

.....

.....

...

"Lady Scarlett!!"

Athena showed up and ran toward her mistress. Scarlett was holding Calix, she appeared to be in distress.

"Athena! Help me, Calix needs help."

Perhaps because of pushing his body to the limit, Calix's begun bleeding again. He needed a healer to steady his situation.

Athena had an indescribable expression as she looked at the sleeping guy. She wanted to raise her bat and smash the guy's head but she held her anger.

'This bastard tortured me countless times.'

Indeed, after that fateful day, Athena and Calix had a mutual agreement... Where they would have sex when Scarlett was not around.

Chapter 244

Scarlett and Marianne felt saved when they were found by Athena.

"Please save Calix."

"..."

Athena's face was twitching. She was glancing at Calix who was currently sleeping. She controlled her emotion so that she won't bash his face at the same time, she felt pity for the guy.

They urged the maid to find the nearest hospital to heal Calix.

"Lady Scarlett, the island is sliced in half, and based on what I know, the hospital is sinking together with the island. I recommend taking Calix to the mainland."

"Okay! We can use the portal to do that."

Scarlett was trying to maintain her rationality. Her head was aching since earlier, she pushed herself to fight because she didn't have a choice. Just like Calix, Scarlett needed rest too.

She almost died earlier, but she did not want to rest before Calix was healed.

Athena decided to carry Calix. She did not understand her feelings right now. She should be angry at this guy, but deep inside her heart, she was relieved to find that Calix was alive. However, these feelings were pushing her to betray her Lady. In fact, she could not remember how many times she had sex with Calix these past few weeks.

Her job was to protect Scarlett, but she had sex with her boyfriend. In other words, she's a backstabbing bitch.

Just as they began moving, they found a big woman approaching them. Just like Scarlett and Marianne, it appeared that Nikki was distressed too.

Despite having no wounds, her appearance was in tatters.

She was breathing heavily as they caught up with them.

"What happened?"

She asked, gasping for air.

"Calix is in danger, we have to take him to a healer."

"Okay. Where are the others--"

"Mommy!!"

Just as she was about to ask, a hoarse voice resounded. Nikki turned around and saw her daughter.

Patricia was crying and tears were all over her face. She was running recklessly, she could see that her mother suffered.

"Patricia!!"

"Waaahhh--!! Mommy!!"

The little girl was afraid. She witnessed so many things that she was almost traumatized. Her innocent mind could not understand what happened, but she knew that her mother was suffering.

She was trying her best to act mature, she did her best not to cry while monsters attacked their house. She held her breath as she witnessed Kimberly killing monsters.

However, when she witnessed a gigantic serpent coming out of the ground, she could not contain her emotions. She started crying like a child. She was scared, especially when she knew that her mother was out there fighting monsters.

"Patricia --!!"

Nikki could not hold her tears either. It broke her heart to see her daughter like this. She hugged her tightly, never wanting to let go. Her arms were trembling, both relieved and happy.

The mother and daughter cried like children but no one dared to stop them. Everyone could relate, especially Yuna who just appeared.

"Calix!! what happened to my Calix!?"

Yuna Garcia, who was already a 20-year-old woman, yet was crying like a child. She approached Calix and wanted to grab him. But she held herself as she knew that it might threaten his life.

So she sobbed instead.

"What's going on?"

Kimberly, on the other hand, the only one who could retain her rationality, looked at Scarlett and Marianne.

The two women did not know where to start. A lot of things happened, causing the situation to be like this.

Kimberly sighed and fixed her glasses, she found that her hand was trembling, probably because of fear. But fear won't help her right now.

"I assume Calix needs a healer?"

"That's right."

The two women nodded.

"We don't have time to waste. Yuna, make a portal and take us to the best hospital that you know."

"Yesh!!"

Yuna spoke gibberishly because she was crying too much. Still, she created a portal that connects to the Capitolium Hospital, the best hospital in the capital of Dellia.

"Let's go, we have to leave this place. Everyone needs treatment."

Using Yuna's teleportation to leave the island and transport them to the capital to receive treatment, that was the best option right now.

Kimberly studied every one of them as they entered the portal.

She narrowed her eyes and she discerned that something was odd about Scarlett's maid. The maid was fidgeting while carrying Calix.

'Why is she even wearing fishnet leggings?'

... Because fishnet leggings are great eye candy. I tell you.

Then, her vision traveled to the mother and daughter pair. Both Nikki and Patricia were crying so much. It was heartbreaking watching them but Kimberly had enough mentality to control her emotions. She just felt bad.

'Hm, Nikki's complexion looked healthy. It's a mystery why she didn't have any injuries, especially when her clothes were obliterated... Perhaps I have to ask her later.'

Indeed, Kimberly is the sharpest of all.

After that, she looked at Yuna... Who was still crying loudly. Well, no one could blame her.

As for Scarlett and Marianne, they were holding their tears but it seemed like they were slowly getting affected by the atmosphere.

'Look's like they are going to cry.'

On top of that, she looked at Marianne's missing leg. The ice was melting and blood was dripping down.

She frowned as she saw it.

'Her leg appeared to be burned by some flame...'

She glanced at Scarlett.

'I don't have enough information.'

She sighed.

"Let's think about this later."

She talked to herself. She was tired too.

As for the flying car that Kimberly and the others used, she just parked it around the corner, she did not care that much. She had enough money to buy ten flying cars.

'Well, I'm the inventor of the flying car so I can create as many as I can.'

Her gaze went in the direction where the Leviathan died.

'I'm tired. I'll just contact Mark about the Demon-God's crystal heart.'

She thought and followed the others and entered the portal.

A few seconds later, a miracle happened and the crimson sky slowly returned to normal. The Blood Moon that tortured the whole world suddenly vanished.

Chapter 245

General Bronal looked up at the sky and confirmed that the sky returned to normal. The red sky could not be seen and the Blood Moon completely vanished.

The heaviness in his heart disappeared together with the Blood Moon. It might sound obvious but the Blood Moon was something that he was afraid of. Perhaps everyone living on the planet was afraid of the Blood Moon.

'Our country is protected by the Obice so we are safe. But for the other countries, I'm sure they are suffering right now.'

Especially the poor countries that didn't have the financial ability to protect their citizens.

That's why a lot of people were hungry to acquire the Obice, to be precise, they were hungry to steal the Fragment of Excalibur which has infinite energy.

In a way, Bronal was satisfied with how Dellia handled this situation. He was convinced that their country was better compared to the others right now.

"The most affected are the Border that blocked the monsters from the forest of Death and the Port of Aoneon..."

He mumbled. He was not sure about the Border because the line of communication was destroyed, and he was currently stationed in the Capitolium.

As for the Port of Aoneon that Bronal was standing on right now, half of the island was impossible to salvage. Still, it was better than nothing.

After all, building the island cost a lot. Especially the tower that attracts the water-type Aberrants.

He glanced and found that the tower was standing from afar. It was a good thing that the tower was still intact because that was the most important thing on this island.

The tower attracts the Aberrants so that the other places would not be affected.

"In a way, the tower is the reason why half of the island was destroyed. Because it attracts too many monsters."

Well, at least the outcome was not disappointing.

They save most of the citizens and killed a Demon-God, so it was not that bad.

Even right now, Bronal could see the soldiers helping the citizens to leave the island.

Bronal took a step and reached the place where Athena found Scarlett, however...

"Eh?"

He was confused as he found no one. There was no one in the surrounding.

Except for the melting ice and scorched road, there was nothing to see at all.

"I thought they are here..."

He was disappointed as he sighed. His worries alleviate but he still had to see his daughter after all.

In the end, they left him on the island.

"Master!"

Suddenly, a Shadow crawled on the ground and approached Bronal.

"Where are they?"

"Yuna Garcia took them to the Capitolium, they are going to the hospital."

"Athena is with them?"

"Yes sir!"

"Good."

He nodded. He was satisfied that Athena was there to protect Scarlett. Right now, the Capitolium was far better than the other cities. Only a few monsters attacked the capital and the soldiers could easily subdue them.

"Shadow, follow them. Make sure that Scarlett is fine."

"As you wish Patriarch."

The Shadow had a coordinate in the capital so he could teleport to the place. The Shadow began vanishing and jumped into another place.

A few seconds later, Bronal was left behind. A lot of things happened and he had to patch things up.

He turned around to leave the place, however, he found someone running.

The guy was breathing hard as he reached the place.

"You..."

Bronal muttered as he looked at the scar-faced guy.

"Strange, I thought they were here?"

Devon was confused while looking around. He decided to return when the Bakunawa showed up, he was worried that the others might be attacked by the monster.

Devon is a true homie. My boy returned just to help Calix.

"Huh? G- General!"

Devon was shocked as he saw General Bronal standing not too far from him. He immediately raised his right arm and presented a salute.

"Sergeant Devon Artson, reporting for duty!!"

He was already retired but he still stated his position in front of him. He was nervous.

"At ease."

"Sir yes sir!!"

"You..."

Bronal narrowed his eyes.

"Who are you?"

"Eh? Sir, I was under your platoon 18 years ago."

"Is that so?"

Bronal averted his gaze. He didn't remember the guy. Anyway, he changed the topic.

"Sergeant Devon Artson, right?"

"Sir yes sir!!"

"Tell me what happened here."

.....

.....

...

On the other part of the planet, people start cheering as they looked at the sky. Their hearts feel reassurance as they confirmed that the Blood Moon was no more. They began celebrating.

Their surroundings were covered in blood and the debris of destruction could be seen. Yet, their smiles were much wider. Despite knowing that millions of people died, the living ones feel blessed as they know that they were going to see the sunset.

"Ah, what a waste. I was hoping that it will be a little longer. I want to see more bloodshed."

A woman clicked her tongue when she confirmed that the Blood Moon ended.

"It was not even half a day and it's already gone."

The woman was disappointed, hundreds of Aberrants were all around her but she didn't appear to be afraid. After all, the monsters were all statues.

The woman covered her eyes using a scarf and began walking away. In her boring life, the Blood Moon was the only time when she could release all her frustration.

Since the Blood Moon vanished, the monsters started losing the battle. The source of their strength was no more and one by one, they fall to their death. Nonetheless, those that successfully breakthrough and advanced to a higher rank initiated retreating to control their newly acquired strength.

Chapter 246

At the exact moment when the Blood Moon disappeared, almost all the people around the world celebrate. As if the whole world was coated by their screams.

Yet on the other side, people were miserable too. The countries that had strong military power fended over the monsters well but it was the opposite for the weaker countries.

Just like a decade ago, they were attacked again by the Aberrants and their growing economy stagnate or perhaps declined.

Everyone understands that the Blood Moon brought misfortune upon all of them.

.....

.....

...

In the Capitolium, inside the wide hall of a private hospital, two groups of military personnel were facing each other. The war just ended but the other side wanted to take this opportunity to increase their appearance to the citizens.

General Bronal was facing the eighth representative from the Senate. They looked old and grumpy, but their eyes were shining dangerously.

In this country of Dellia, the Senate was one of the groups that truly holds most of the power. Dellia might look democratic in the minds of its citizens but the higher-ups understand the real facade of government.

These people wanted to take advantage of the situation to weaken the other side and provide justice. In a way, they were doing it for themselves and for the country.

Currently, there were three powerful groups in the government.

The first was led by Esmeralda, her group mostly consist of military personnel. Making their country strong against the Aberrants and the neighboring countries.

The second was being led by the current President, it pushed the platform of having equal rights and strengthen the communication and relationship between countries.

The third was the neutral party, the Patriarch of the Francine clan was part of this group.

However, each of these parties had its motives and agenda. They always have something to say and retort the other parties.

Right now, the president's faction was trying to reprehend the military faction.

'These people. They are the culprit for why the Vice-president was late to help the terrorist attack seven months ago. If not for them, maybe the Vice-president already salvage the situation and only a few people would die.'

Indeed, the president's faction was the one responsible for why Esmeralda arrived late at the hijacking.

"General Bronal, do you know your mistake?"

The oldest Senator, Tito Sotsot, was glaring at Bronal, despite knowing that they were in a public place where the doctors and nurses were glancing at them.

"I know my mistake."

Bronal didn't even lie. He understood the consequences, he ran away from his duty and robbed a portal to go to the Port of Aoneon.

"You are supposed to keep the capital safe, to keep the city at peace!! Yet you ran away from your position!!"

One of the senators raised his voice, showing that he was the right one.

Bronal didn't flinch. He didn't regret it. His family was more important than his duty. Instead, he was looking straight at the Senators.

The Senators fidgeted, and could not look into his eyes and averted their gaze, however, they were adamant to show their strength.

Bronal was the one on whom they want to set an example.

"YOU DARED TO ACT LIKE YOU ARE RIGHT!! BECAUSE OF YOU--"

The oldest Senator could not finish the sentence. They were in the public and the current situation related to the Obice was confidential. He was mad, and it seemed that he had a reason to be mad.

"You have to understand, I'm not doing this because of any grudge..."

The old Senator shook his head. It was actually complicated.

'In the middle of the crisis, someone infiltrated the Obice and stole the Fragment of Excalibur, the endless energy that keeps the Obice from working.'

The Fragment of Excalibur was a national treasure. The fact that it was stolen was a serious matter.

'It was fortunate that we found a new Fragment... I have to thank Mark's daughter for that.'

Two years ago, Kimberly and a group of scientists found a Fragment. The Fragment was used for experimental purposes but now it seemed that its purpose was to power up the Obice.

'The Fragment is a priceless treasure, every country is going crazy just to get one, and yet--!!'

Perhaps this decision was justified.

The eighth Senators were mad that the DemiGod who should be protecting the capital ran away.

"If you were there, perhaps this will never happen!!"

The Senator's expression was awful.

"I understand that your intention is good. The act of saving the Port of Aoneon is heroic but we lost a more important card!"

The citizens over the Fragment of Excalibur. No one could speak about what was important.

"Senator, I will face any repercussion."

"Very well."

The old man nodded and sighed. This is politics, and they were politicians. But before being a politician, they were citizens of the Dellia. Of course, they prioritize their country first.

"I'll give you one hour to talk to your daughter."

"Thank you."

The soldiers on both sides didn't change their expressions.

As for Devon, who was caught in the turmoil even though he was just a mercenary, he was standing stiffly next to the group of soldiers.

'I don't know what is happening here.'

He escaped the military because of too much bloodshed, added the fact that he witness the horror of Blood Moon a decade ago, Devon was tired of this job.

However, he didn't expect that he would stand next to the General and even meet the eighth most important people in their country. He took a deep breath, he didn't know if he was fortunate or not.

Bronal walked to the aisle and reached his daughter's room, he raised his hand and realized that it was shaking. He was afraid to meet her, knowing that he had kept a big secret and important information regarding her lineage.

Still, he clutched the doorknob, only to find that his daughter was not inside.

"... You guys, what are you doing?"

Instead, he stared at Calix and Athena, the two were fidgeting, as if they were hiding a secret.

Chapter 247

"So... Why are you here?"

Calix woke up and the first one he found was a woman who was staring at him with unknown intentions.

"Ugh!! My head..."

Calix's head was having a pulsing pain and he weakly grunted. His power consumed a great amount of concentration, his body might heal but his mind had to take at least a week to recover. Right now, his mind was a bit cloudy, together with a pulsing pain. It was awful.

"..."

The woman didn't react and she just looked at him. She was left alone to watch Calix.

Kimberly and Yuna were called by the military. Kimberly was contacted, and it was related to the Obice. As for Yuna, her teleportation ability was greatly needed.

Marianne returned to her clan to talk to her Uncle. And Nikki took Patricia to a hotel to calm the child.

As for Scarlett, she went outside to find her father. She found that her father might be imprisoned.

Everyone was busy.

So Athena was left alone in the room, together with Calix.

"Hello, Athena."

He greeted her, trying his best to act calm, and disregarding his aching head. He smiled and waved his hand, but the woman didn't react. She just stared at him.

"So you still didn't talk to her?"

"..."

Calix asked and the woman kept her mouth shut.

At first, Calix's intention was to break Athena. Scarlett and Athena's relationship was gradually falling apart. Calix wanted to help her fix their relationship but Athena didn't know how to start.

'I did it to destroy her heart. It's obvious that Athena has feelings for Scarlett, and it's not the platonic one... So I decided I fuck her.'

It was a great jump of a conclusion.

He thought that by doing it, Athena's pride would shatter.

Calix said that he would tell everything that happened between them to Scarlett. He promised Scarlett that he would never keep secrets from her and he was eager to explain why he had sex with Athena. However, Athena begged her not to.

Athena pledged that she would be the one to tell Lady Scarlett. She was afraid that Scarlett would feel betrayed if she found that her boyfriend and her trusted maid had sex.

So she kneeled in front of him and begged... Of course, Calix did not easily agree, so he fucked her face a lot after that. Maybe Calix was a jerk, but who cares?

If a woman makes your pipi stand, then her three holes you shall expand-- Master Oogway.

"Ehem, so are you..."

At the present, Athena still did not say it to Scarlett. She was waiting for the right time to say it. After all, she was afraid that Scarlett would hate her.

"Athena, I heard from Scarlett that you betrayed her one time when she was fighting the mercenaries. She said that you didn't help her, you were just watching."

"..."

The woman did not speak but she nodded. It was all for Scarlett, they want Scarlett to become stronger to withstand the curse of Blood Moon. No one could save her from the Blood Moon except herself.

"I don't know why you did that... But that shows that you already betrayed her."

Athena bit her lip in frustration. Listening to Calix was making her furious.

She glared at him and clenched her cold metal bat.

"Woah, woah. Don't forget that you called me daddy last time."

"You!!"

She raised her metal bat but Calix did not flinch. He was staring straight into her eyes. He was not afraid.

He smirked and the woman was quivering.

"Suck my dick."

He said with conviction.

Yet, Athena, who heard his command, trembled.

Her body recalled everything that they did. Suddenly, she realized that her breasts and crotch were getting wet.

Calix smirked.

"How are my milkers?"

"!!!"

Her expression was ugly. She felt humiliated. But beneath that humiliation, she could feel that her face was burning. She felt hot, she knew that her face was blushing right now.

She crumpled her fist. But in the end, she obeyed him. Calix may look like a gentleman but she remembered how she suffered from him.

'I did my best to fight him, but I always lose. It is really strange, I always lose my composure and make a mistake whenever I fight him.'

Probably because of his powerful plot armor called Luck. This guy, Calix Romoel, just killed a Demon-God earlier. What a braggart.

Athena leaned over. She dropped her weapon on her own accord, not afraid of the Backlash. She unknowingly licked her lips, she was thrilled.

Grabbing his pants, the woman looked like a hungry cat.

Calix grinned and rest his head on the pillow, looking at Athena.

She pulled the pants down and Calix's mighty cock sprang up, already prepared for the battle.

Athena did not need any order and started stroking his cock. She gathered her saliva and dropped it on the tip of his cock.

"Get your ass here."

She listened and moved her body close to Calix. The man extended his hand and grabbed her ass. He chuckled when he realized that Athena was wearing fishnet leggings.

"Nice, so you did wear it."

Calix told Athena that she would look nice in fishnet leggings.

His fingers run over her ass and grip her flesh. He inserted his fingers inside her T-back and the woman weakly moaned. He found his labia and rubbed them.

"You're wet."

"Mmm..."

She didn't know why his fingers make her shudder. She came simply by that. She agreed that Calix was a talented motherfucker, this guy knew how to please a woman.

Her pouty lips swallowed his shaft and began secreting drool all over his cock. Her head began moving up and down, sucking his cock thoroughly. She forgot that she should be angry at this guy.

But for now, all she wanted was to have his cock inside her and feel his warmth.

Calix glanced at her uniform, he laughed when he found that her chest was wet. It seemed that her milk came out again.

"You're always like this when you're horny."

He squeezed her ass and the woman moaned and climaxed.

[Ahem... Maids]

Chapter 248

While Athena was sucking him, Calix was kneading her soft ass.

"You are wearing a T-back panty! You are acting like you are not in heat, but woman, you are wearing fishnet leggings and a black T-back! So much for a woman who hates sex."

He grinned and slapped her ass.

Pah!!

Athena wanted to retort him but she could not stop her head from bobbing. She felt that she was under a spell.

- Glug glug glug glug.

Her drool was building on his shaft making it shiny.

"Ugh, I'm going to cum, I want to cum inside you."

Calix could see that Athena was seriously giving her a blowjob, and her suction was tremendous that even a man like him would easily cum.

The cock escaped her drooling mouth, and she licked her pouty lips. Her eyes were cloudy.

"I'm tired so you have to ride me."

Calix was just laying there.

"..."

"What? You don't want to?"

Athena should be mad right now, but she could not deny the burning sensation in her belly. She wanted that cock stuffed inside her!!

Her wet pussy was itchy for some action. Even a cold woman like her could not prevent it.

The front of her uniform was already soaking because her breasts were lactating.

'Sadly, we don't have the leverage to go full naked right now. We are in a hospital. I want to suck those milkers.'

Well, as long as they could satisfy their lust, they were cool at everything.

Athena fixed her silver hair and squat over him. Her shame was nonexistent, all she wanted was sex. Perhaps she was brainwashed by Calix.

She did not even think twice as she ripped her nice-looking leggings. She set aside her underwear and placed Calix's rod under her. She gently rubbed the tip of cock on her labia before finding the best spot to insert it.

Both of them groaned as they experienced the warmth of each other.

Especially Athena, her knees weakened, and her ass rested on his legs.

She bit her lip and instinctively closed her eyes, feeling the sensation.

'What kind of sorcery is this?'

She asked herself. This was not the first time, yet she felt that every time was her first time. Her silver hair covered her face as she began moving her hips.

It hurts her to admit it, but Calix already subdued her. Her milking nipples proved it, she was horny.

"Oohhh... Hhhaaa."

She sweetly moaned.

Calix did not help her. He was just resting his head on the pillow, with his hands under. He was looking at the woman who was trying her best to attain pleasure. Athena looked desperate right now as she began moving her rear greedily. Their flesh clapping and making noises.

"Nnn."

Athena bit her lip so that she could keep her voice.

Calix wanted to suck on her nipples but sadly, there was a dress covering them. Anyway, not moving and letting Athena do her job was fun too.

He chuckled.

"Make sure that you will speak to Scarlett after this. I'm tired of hiding our relationship."

"Y- yes... Ngggnnhh!!"

"Answer me!!"

"Y- yes!! Ahhh!!"

"I said answer me!!"

"Yes, daddy!!"

She squealed and squirted.

"Good."

He nodded in satisfaction.

"Thank... You... Mmmm, daddy."

Their grinding lasted for around ten minutes before Athena and Calix climaxed. Athena curled down and her body trembled. Her expression looked in bliss.

Suddenly, both of them sense that people were coming. Athena immediately pushed up her twitching ass and move away from Calix.

She fixed her dress and acted like everything was fine. She calmed her breathing. Sadly, she could not hide her dress which was soaked in milk.

As for Calix, he used the quilt to cover his lower body.

Then, the door opened and Bronal entered the room. He was expecting to see Scarlett but he found Calix and Athena instead.

"You guys..."

He looked at them, especially at Athena. The woman was covered in sweat(?) that her dress looked wet.

"Athena."

"Y- yes!!"

Athena appeared to be distressed that her normal expression could not be found.

"Take your time and relax, I can see that you are tired."

"Yes, Master!"

Both Athena and Calix exhaled when they found that Bronal did not find anything strange. If General Bronal found out that they had sex, probably Calix would be burned alive.

'After all, it's obvious that General Bronal doesn't like me.'

A father always wants the best for his child, and in Bronal's eyes, Calix was not the best guy for Scarlett.

Calix does not have an attack-type Term Attribute and his power was quite vague.

"Calix Romoel."

"Sir yes sir!!"

Calix replied, trying to show his discipline.

"... You did a good job protecting my daughter."

"Huh? I mean, thank you, sir!"

Hearing Bronal like this made Calix confused. The always strict General said his gratitude.

Bronal was ready to lower his pride just for his daughter.

"Athena, where is Scarlett?"

Knowing that he did not have much time, Bronal wanted to see Scarlett. He had to talk to her before he go to prison.

Leaving his duty and going to the Port of Aoneon endangered his country. On top of that, the Fragment of Excalibur was stolen.

Because of that, he didn't have impeachment and he was immediately deemed to be sent to prison. Let's add the fact that the other party, the President's side, wanted him to be implicated.

"Master, Scarlett was looking for you."

Athena was anxious when she realized that the father and daughter were still not reconciled.

"I see... I guess I have to leave now--"

He was sad. He turned around and walked away. Athena tried to talk to him but she shut her mouth when she saw someone.

"Dad!!"

"Scarlett?"

Thankfully, Scarlett arrived before Bronal left.

Scarlett was anxious and her face was pale. Her eyes were glowing with tears. She just realized that her father might be imprisoned because of saving her.

"Dad, why did you do that?"

She recalled how Bronal summoned his Phoenix and eradicate that Demon-God Bakunawa. She was proud to be his daughter. She actually cried when she found that Bronal went to save her.

She approached him and she was sobbing.

Scarlett sniffed her snot and looked at her father. Right now, Bronal did not have that cold and strict expression. He was looking at her with love and affection.

She cried and hugged her father.

"Waaahhh-- Dad!!"

Bronal was surprised but he smiled in the end. He patted her back, trying to calm her down. But Scarlett did not stop crying. She loves her father very much.

Chapter 249

Her father might be not the best dad in the eyes of others but it was different for her. Despite being strict and tough, she deemed her father the best father in the world. Just because of the simple fact that Bronal is her father.

Scarlett was crying that the nurses that were walking in the aisle looked at her with curiosity.

'Did someone die? Why is she crying like that?'

They thought.

Yet, Scarlett did not care about their opinion. She tightly hugged Bronal and cried in his chest.

Bronal smiled and pacify her. He recalled the time when Scarlett was still young. Whenever she cried, she would always look for him. At that time, their family was complete and happy.

He missed that time.

Nobody knows that his wife was actually a descendant of the Vampires.

Then, the Blood Moon which people believe was nothing but a myth showed its true power. No one thought that an event like that could kill millions of people all around the world.

"I love you, dad!!"

"Me too, father loves you."

Her father disobeyed the government and opened a portal to the Port Of Aoneon, Scarlett knew that it was all for her. Bronal was ready to make a crime just for her.

A father is ready to die for his son. But a father is ready to kill for his daughter.

He did not regret it. Fuck the Obice, and fuck the Fragment of Excalibur. Killing the Demon-God Bakunawa was the best decision that he made.

He closed his eyes, knowing that he did the right thing.

Their relationship was strained these past few years, but both of them understood that they love each other. Scarlett threw her elegance, she was crying like a baby girl in front of her father.

"Dad, don't go! I don't want you to leave!!"

"Baby, I'm sorry. I'm not a good father to you. I hide a secret from you. I pushed you to the limit to become stronger because I was afraid that I will lose you too."

He muttered and his voice was cracking. A tear rolled down his face.

It was over. At last.

Scarlett survived the Blood Moon. There was no lying and keeping a secret, not anymore.

It looked like General Bronal was caught by the emotions and he started sobbing too. The parent and child were heartbreaking to watch.

Even the nurses and doctors who did not know the situation began sniffing and holding their tears.

.....

.....

...

In the end, General Bronal convinced Scarlett to accept the situation.

Not even his position as a General could protect Bronal from what he did. The police approached Bronal and handcuffed him. Scarlett was crying the whole time, but she did not stop them.

She believed in her father. She believed that everything would be alright. She promised that once everything was alright, she would be honest to him.

Thankfully, Athena was there for her. Athena gave her chest to lean on and Scarlett has begun sobbing and released her frustration.

Calix was watching the whole thing, he wanted to lessen her sadness but Calix understood that only Athena knows Scarlett's disposition.

'In terms of understanding Scarlett, Athena is much better than me.'

The maid was looking for and taking care of Scarlett her whole life. Athena knew everything about her.

Athena glanced at Calix and he nodded.

Athena took Scarlett and rest in the closest hotel. Right now, Scarlett needed to calm her emotions.

"So I'm alone again..."

Calix was left alone in the room. He sighed and lay down.

"So much happened in just one day."

Indeed, from the Blood Moon to the General's imprisonment. He closed his eyes and his mind recalled most of them.

He did not know where to start.

"But it's a good thing that the Blood Moon was announced before it actually happened, at least we have the time to prepare. Unlike 14 years ago..."

The scene where Calix and his mother were staying inside the evacuation area was stuck in his mind. It was one of the memories that he could not erase in his mind.

"And it's one of the times where I still remember my mother's warmth."

Clara, Calix's mother, died in an accident.

It was said that it was a robbery and his mother was caught in the incident. She died of a gunshot.

"... This sucks."

He was mad. He did not know why.

Perhaps, being alone in the room was making him melancholic.

.....

.....

...

December 2, 3728

It was the day after the Blood Moon. Their lives began to move again.

Soldiers started helping the citizens by eliminating the remaining monsters. So far, the damage that Dellia received was not that big. It was better compared to the last Blood Moon.

Half of the Port of Aoneon was destroyed, but at least the tower was still standing and it was working well.

The Border was attacked by millions of monsters but thanks to the prepared soldiers, the retaliation was easier.

As for the Capitolium, it appeared to be calm, like nothing happened. However, the higher-ups were actually going crazy because of the missing Fragment of Excalibur. It was a treasure that could not be bought.

The Senate decided to keep the situation secret so that the citizens would be at ease. Everybody knows that it might cause panic if they found that Obice stopped working.

In the hospital, where Calix was resting alone, two people decided to enter the room.

They were General Romoel, and his benefactor, the President of Dellia.

President Donald Biden... He is a fat man who has Alzheimer's. Ehem. He is a DemiGod, a support-type DemiGod.

"Calix, we like to talk to you about something."

Andreas stared at his son who looked haggard and tired. He was guilty that he greeted him for work instead of being concerned.

Chapter 250

Calix was surprised, he looked at his father.

'Dad, you are not joking right?'

He asked through gaze and Andreas nodded.

"Calix, you are not hallucinating. In front of you is the current President of Dellia. President Donald Biden."

Hearing his father's confirmation, Calix pushed himself and raised his hand. He saluted in front of the President.

"Mister President!!"

He said. He did not expect that he would meet the President. He was just a simple soldier. He was excited and shocked at the same time.

President Donald Biden laughed. He liked Calix's enthusiasm.

"You don't have to push yourself, you can lie down."

"No, sir."

His hand was still on his forehead, doing a salutation.

"At ease."

"Sir yes sir!!"

He dropped his hand and Donald chuckled. He looked at Andreas.

"It seems that you have a great son. He looks disciplined."

Andreas just nodded. He could not say that Calix was an asshole sometimes.

'He gives me headaches a lot. He didn't even contact me for three years when he was in high school.'

Calix was timid in front of them. It was different this time unlike earlier. This was the first time that he met the President.

'I'm already used to General Bronal's piercing gaze...'

Unlike General Bronal, President Donald Biden looked carefree and he was smiling. Although sometimes he would forget what to say.

'It says that President Donald Biden was struck by a curse that turned him into a Dementia patient. Oh, and he likes McDonaldo's and Coke.'

Of course it was hearsay and it was not confirmed. The president's information was a top secret as it might endanger the state.

"Anyway, what am I saying again?"

"Mister President, you're going to ask Calix about the situation in the Port of Aoneon."

"Oh, that's right."

Andreas reminded him and the President began speaking. It was good that there was someone to remind him.

He turned to Calix who was currently confused about why the President visited him.

"Calix, we received information that someone killed the Bakunawa."

"..."

Calix immediately realized what was happening, but he decided to keep quiet.

"At first we thought that General Bronal and Vice-president Esmeralda are the ones who killed the Demon-God. However, while we were asking the people who survived, they said that they witnessed the monster being bit by something..."

Calix glanced at Andreas. His father looked serious and unmoving. He was doing his job right now as the protector of their country.

Just like Calix, Andreas fought the Aberrants, and even now, he was still working. He did not take any rest.

"Sir..."

"Calix you don't have to say something. I'm not here to endanger your position. Only a few people know about this and I command them to keep quiet."

President's smiled and lowered his head.

"I just want to say thank you. If not for you, perhaps more people will die."

"S- sir--!!!"

Calix tried to stop him but his body was aching and moving was torturous for him. Then, he found that his father did not move.

Andreas did not stop the President. Perhaps he knew that President Donald Biden would not be stopped.

"Thank you."

"O- okay!! Mister President, you can stop bowing your head now!!"

Calix was not used to this. His identity was not that special to be thanked by the leader of this country.

"Haha, you should be proud of your son, Andreas!!"

Donald laughed and slapped Andreas back.

"I am proud of him, Mister President."

"Huh? What are you talking about?"

President Donald Biden tilted his head, he forgot what happened again.

"Nothing sir. Your schedule stated that you have to meet the Senators."

"Oh, that's right. I completely forgot, haha!! Then, I guess I have to leave. Let's meet again..."

"Calix Romoel, my name is Calix Romoel sir."

He reminded him.

"Calix, okay. Bye!! Phew, I don't know why I'm here, haha."

He said his farewell and began walking out of the room.

"How's your body?"

Andreas asked him.

"I'm okay, dad. You should take a rest too."

"I will talk to you later."

Andreas nodded and left him. He still had some things to do. He did not have time for rest.

"Wow..."

Again, Calix was left alone.

"I witnessed a lot of things in just one day."

This whole day could be described as tiring.

Fighting the Aberrants from watching Bronal's arrest and meeting the President.

"Not only that, the President even thank me."

He pinched his cheek just to be sure. He confirmed that everything was real.

"Hehe."

He grinned. At least he found that everything was worth it. His body might be broken but he saved Scarlett and millions of people.

"Oh, that's right. I actually stopped the island from sinking."

It was a good thing that his identity was kept hidden as he did not like standing out. It would be a disaster if he became famous.

"I mean, a lot of people already hate me because I'm Scarlett's boyfriend so..."

He chuckled.

Calix closed his eyes and fell asleep. Indeed, this day was tiring.

.....

.....

...

March 6, 3729

Three months passed and things gradually turned normal again.

A lot of stuff happened within that time, such as General Bronal Robinson's secret impeachment. Only the higher-ups knew about it and they were keeping it a secret from the public because the topic was sensitive.

On top of that, Cudgel Tech acquired the Demon-God's crystal heart and their stocks rise up just because of this news. Mark Cudgel was probably smiling from ear to ear right now.

As for Calix and his harem, they were taking their time to relax and calm the situation. Especially now that Scarlett was facing trouble.

The Elders and her Uncle were vying for the position of Patriarch, and Scarlett was fighting them. She wanted to use the First Order to control the Clan from falling.

"I guess I have to take my time too."

Calix came out of the hospital. His body was fine now.

"But first... Let's play some games."

#Arc 4#

#Boneless Chicken Wings are Chicken Nuggets Arc#

[You guessed it right, I combined their name. Biden being you know, being Dementors(Dementia), and Donald's affection towards McDonald's. Anyway, their names just popped into my head when I was writing this character. So forgive me guys if it sounds offensive.]

[The next Arc is already finished actually, but I will not spoil it.]