Chapter 251

"Yeah!! Another one!!"

Calix smiled happily as he won another round. Some people next to him were happy too.

Right now, Calix Romoel was playing roulette inside a Casino. He got tired of playing in the arcade so he decided to visit a Casino instead.

This was not the first time that he entered a Casino. In fact, he was actually banned from three different Casinos after winning tremendous amount of money.

Now, he found a new place to play at. However, it seemed that he might get banned too because the security were looking at him seriously.

'I think it's time to stop. Winning 350, 000 dollars is already good in my opinion.'

He grinned. Happy of his achievement.

"Thank you so much, my friend!!"

"Wahaha!! I won again!!"

Just like Calix, the people next to him were celebrating too. They followed Calix's bet and they won too. So a lot of people joined their table to get some slice of the cake.

"Ahaha, guys I have to bid my farewell. It's time for me to leave!!"

"Thank you so much!!"

"Yeah!! My decision of gambling using my children's college tuition is worth it!! Haha."

'... Did he really use his children's education fund?'

Calix was dumbfounded as he looked at them. He realized that these people were crazy, perhaps they were gambling addicts.

Anyway, it was not his problem. He was not the type who easily get affected by his surrounding. Calix could cope against the situation.

He stood up and left the table. Some tried to talk to him but he did not entertain them.

The people were excited to talk to him because they witnessed how he won every round.

"Are you Jesus of the Roulette?"

Some fanatics even kneeled in front of him just to receive his blessings so that they could win too.

Calix felt strange looking at the people. He felt that he was like an extinct animal in the zoo where people looked at him with interest.

'Okay, I will never visit this place again. These people are crazy.'

He should have bet on horse racing instead, it might attract less attention.

He sighed and approached the counter. The securities and the woman in front of him had stiff faces but they decided to give him his winning.

They sent the money into his bank account.

"Thank you guys."

Calix confirmed the transaction and left the Casino. It was already night and the street was replenished with neon lights. Cars were running on the road and the atmosphere was quite good. The tragedy of Blood Moon was slowly disappearing in their hearts.

"Hey, you--!! You're Calix right?"

As he walked down the road, someone stopped him. Calix turned around, and he found a woman approaching him with a sweet smile.

"I'm sorry, but do I know you?"

Calix asked because he didn't remember the woman.

The woman smiled and giggled. The woman had black hair with golden hair extensions. Her face was mediocre but she was wearing makeup.

Her body was quite sexy. Especially because she was wearing a red backless short dress, with her legs highly exposed. With her thick makeup, it was hard to discern her age.

'It's obvious that she is a Beastkin because she has bunny ears, their age and appearance are deceiving sometimes...'

In this cold weather, she was wearing so thin dress that she might get sick.

"You don't know me? I'm Digger Gold. We are classmates, remember, History subject?"

The woman, Digger Gold, said.

"You mean high school History subject? Then, I can only say sorry because I only attended that class thrice."

Calix answered honestly. He never knew this woman.

"Oh come on, don't be like that. We are friends right?"

She took a step closer to him. Calix frowned when he smelled her cheap perfume.

"Look, woman, I don't know who are you. So leave me alone."

His voice was a bit cold. He never entertain a person whom he did not know.

"Don't be like that. How about this, you can take me to dinner so we can get to know each other, hm?"

She still did not stop. Digger Gold was actually watching Calix grabbing tons of chips win after win. She just remembered Calix because he was a hunk in their campus but nobody wanted to talk to him because of unknown reasons.

Her motives were quite obvious. Her name alone was enough to explain it.

"Digger Gold, right? I'm sorry but I have to disagree. I'm going to leave now--"

"W- wait. You can have me for 10,000 dollars."

She went straight to the point. There was no shame and the words just came out of her mouth.

She began getting flirty as she get closer to him.

"What did you say?"

Calix frowned. This was not the first time that someone got flirtatious with him, he usually disregard them.

However, he was shocked when the woman asked for money.

"Ten thousand dollars? Damn woman, I can buy 16 PlayStation 6 with that amount of money. And this woman is asking me that much just to tap her basic cheap ass? Oh hell no!!"

"What do you think? I'll give you a good time."

She rubbed her body against his but Calix's hair stood in disgust.

"Don't talk to me."

He immediately pushed the woman and walked away. He lost the intention of talking to her.

His reason was quite simple, spending that money for a stranger was stupidity. He would rather send this money to Lou who was seriously studying at Horvart University.

Besides, Calix could have sex whenever he wanted. He could contact his harem and his problem would be solved. He did not have to go far to spend money, his women would approach him on their own accord.

'Furthermore, if this woman had sex with me, she will probably get Lucky.'

Calix wanted to keep his power a secret so he would never agree to Digger Gold's offer even if she asked for ten dollars.

He began walking away, leaving the woman in the middle of the street, being swept by the cold breeze.

He did not know the woman's story so he could not judge her, but either way, he would never agree to spend 10 thousand dollars in just one night. Might as well use his other girlfriend called Right Hand to beat his meat.

Chapter 252

Calix heard his stomach grumbling. Luckily, he was in front of a Six-Eleven store when his stomach grumbled.

He chuckled and entered the store. He already forgot about the woman who asked for ten thousand dollars, that woman was not worthy of his attention.

He looked around, Calix could choose between chips or heavy meals.

"Let's go with cup noodles this time."

He was craving some hot noodles. He grabbed one and added hot water. On top of that, he decided to buy two sparkling water.

Calix found a vacant seat. There was a man across the table who was wearing a hoodie.

The man had long hair, and Calix could not see his face.

However, one thing caught his attention.

"... Is that Chainsaw Man?"

The hoodie guy was reading a manga, it was Chainsaw Man. The most hype anime right now.

Calix was curious and decided to ask the guy.

"Hey."

"Hm?"

The hoodie guy looked around and found that someone was staring at him.

"Are you talking to me?"

The hoodie guy asked.

"Yeah, I just want to ask what chapter are you at right now?"

"Oh, are you talking about the manga I'm reading? I'm at chapter 81 right now."

"I see..."

Calix closed his eyes. He felt sad for this man. He was going to see something horrible.

'Should I stop him? No, as a manga reader, he has to face it.'

Calix braced himself as he slurp his first noodles. It was so good even though it had tons of preservatives. The umami was packing.

Suddenly, the hoodie guy screamed in sadness.

"Noooooooo!!! Power--!!!!!!"

The scream was so loud that the cashier was startled.

'Ah, yes, I can relate to your suffering.'

The hoodie guy was crying as his tears landed on the page where Power's death picture was clear to be seen.

Just like the hoodie guy, Calix was slightly teary too. He gobbled the food while tears were flowing down.

"God damn it Makima! I'm ready to bark for you but you don't have to kill Power like that! You already killed Reze! Why do you have to kill Power!? Waaahhh--!!"

'So he's an average Makima's dog. Naruhodo.'

He nodded and finished his food. That was his exact reaction when he saw that page.

"Hey, man. Are you okay!!?"

Calix asked because he knew how hard it was.

"Y- yeah... Sniff... I'm okay..."

The hoodie guy was holding his sobbing, he sniffed his snot because it was awkward to cry in public.

"Don't worry man, Kobeni is still there."

Calix comforted the hoodie guy.

"T- that's right!! Kobeni is still alive!! But I'm sad that her car was not."

"Yeah, Kobeni's car is definitely the best girl of the series."

Both of them agreed with the opinion. Well, Beam might become one but Kobeni's car was definitely the best.

Calix approached the hoodie guy who was wiping his tears.

"Here, I have extra sparkling water."

"T- thank you."

Calix gave him a bottle and the hoodie guy opened the cap.

It looked peaceful inside the store.

However, just as he opened the bottle, the hoodie guy tried to grab Calix's neck to burst his head!!

"I know who you are."

But Calix was faster, his expression was calm as he pulled his weapon.

[Transforming to Mossberg 590A]

Mento's robotic voice echoed and Calix pumped his shotgun and shot the hoodie guy.

Bam--!!

It was loud and blood splattered all around.

"Kyaahhh--!"

The cashier was dumbfounded when she witnessed the scene, she began screaming hysterically as she pushed the emergency button.

Someone pulled a shotgun and shot a customer!!!

"Ugh..."

The hoodie guy groaned. He lost a lot of blood.

Still, the hoodie guy slowly stood up and his wounds began healing. He was looking murderously at Calix.

"How did you know?"

"From the moment I heard your voice, I know you are Sergio. And I think you guessed my identity too because of my voice."

Both of them immediately realized the identity of each other just by hearing their voices.

"You bastard!"

"Just as I expected, you are Sergio Osmeña."

The hoodie guy was actually Sergio, the man who killed Leon, and he was also Leon's boyfriend.

That's right, he is the gay half-vampire.

"But something is strange. I thought you are pretty... but you look ugly right now."

"Shut up!"

Sergio was mad. His face was deformed, there were roots running across his face.

"You look like a living tree..."

Calix muttered.

He recalled Scarlett's appearance when the Blood Moon was ongoing. Sergio looked the same.

It seemed that Sergio Osmeña was affected by the Blood Moon and a Blood Tree stemmed from his body. Sergio overcame the process but his face was deformed in exchange.

Now, he did not look like a handsome man. He was ugly as fuck.

Sergio Osmeña was breathing rapidly. As a vampire, losing a great amount of blood was detrimental. He could heal but he needed blood.

'Damn it! I almost touched him!!'

Sergio's ability was to change the flow of blood in opposite direction to cause massive damage. His touch could kill a person.

"... You look interested in touching me. I assume your power is connected to that."

Calix took a step back. He easily caught his ability.

"H- how!!?"

Sergio was shocked that Calix easily found his ability. They just met for the first time.

"Instinct I guess."

He shrugged.

"Curse you Chad Ligma!!!"

"Oh, I remember, that was actually my name, huh."

He forgot that part.

"Yeah, I am Chad Ligma! Die your motherfucker!"

"Aarrgghhh---!"

Calix started shooting him to bits. His shotgun had unlimited ammunition so he did not have to reload.

Sergio tried to heal his wounded body but Calix's bullets were much faster.

In the end, he slumped onto the corner of the store. He had ragged breathing as he glared at Calix.

"I will never forgive you. You take everything from me!"

"... I want to repeat Thanos' line but I think it's not appropriate."

It was the wrong reference so he did not have a choice.

"Hehe, I guess your leader is mad at you right now! Bwahaha!"

Sergio was mad because Calix said it right. The higher-ups were angry that they lost the Clockwork and all of the doll soldiers.

[Forgive me if you cannot understand the reference. You see, I'm a Chainsaw Man fan, and I'm hyped for the upcoming anime. Especially when there's no censorship, that Anime will definitely be gruesome! Haha!]

[To be honest, I cried at Aki's death more than Power's. However, I was thoroughly shocked when I reached that panel. I never expected that Makima will kill Power like that.]

Chapter 253

Calix did not stop shooting. Sergio's blood was splattering and the walls were painted with his blood.

The cashier was panicking because the gunshots did not stop. She kept pressing the button, she was calling for help. But because of the too-gruesome scene, the cashier could not endure it and fainted because of shock.

"Hm, looks like you have strong regeneration."

"Guh--! I will kill you!"

Calix confirmed that Sergio had strong regeneration because he shot him many times but the man was still alive. His wounds kept healing, it was disturbing watching how his mutilated body began healing over and over.

"Bleh-! Wat da fak dude!! Your blood almost got into my mouth. I want to puke!! Fuckin disgustang!!"

Calix frowned. He began shooting again, hoping that Sergio would stop breathing.

"Aaahhhhh--!!"

Sergio Osmeña tried to stand up but he was weak. He healed his body countless times and his energy was depleted. He wanted to touch Calix to kill him but he could not even lift a finger.

'Damn it!!'

He was desperate. He did not know that this would happen.

Sergio was just doing his job.

Then the Blood Moon happened and Sergio was struck by the curse of the Vampires, yet he had to complete the mission.

So despite overcoming the curse, his face turned awful. He looked like a living monster.

'My beautiful face is gone!! How can I woo men from now on!!?'

That was the important question.

The blasting did not stop for three minutes straight.

"Why are you still alive?"

Calix was stunned as he looked at Sergio who was twitching. Sergio looked anemic right now because he lost a great amount of blood. Yet his wounds were still closing on their own.

It was amazing and frightening at the same time.

"... Blood. I need blood."

He weakly muttered. He groaned and raised his hand but he failed. Every part of his body was so heavy.

He lost.

'I just want to read Manga peacefully, why do I have to meet this ugly Chad Ligma!'

He was angry. His death was unexpected.

He survived the Blood Moon but he was still going to die here. Chad Ligma, the one who blocked his path, was going to kill him.

"I will never accept that!"

He did not survive the most deadly period of Blood Moon just to be killed by someone who eats instant noodles!

"Die, Chad Ligma!!"

"That's right, Ligma Balls!"

Sergio used his remaining strength to grab Calix, but he still failed.

Calix shot him again and Sergio flew into the wall and began coughing blood.

"Hayst... You are hard to kill, I give you that."

Calix was amazed at his survivability. Calix was not even sure if he could withstand all of that gunshots, but Sergio did it.

"So I don't have no choice but to do this."

His shotgun transformed.

"W- what is that!? W- what are you doing!!?"

Sergio was afraid as he witnessed how the shotgun altered its form.

"I have to use the strongest object to kill you."

He was holding a certain object, it looked menacing.

Even Sergio was utterly shocked.

"Wait, is that a phone?"

"That's right, this is Nokia 3310!"

Calix grinned and did the most horrible crime that could ever be made.

He threw the Nokia 3310 right into Sergio's head!

BAM!!

A loud crack could be heard.

"Aauugghh --!!!"

Sergio's skull was bust open and his brain cells poured out. His head cracked in half and his consciousness was slowly drifting.

"Arg-- guweernbgg."

Sergio tried to speak but his brain was damaged so badly. The Nokia 3310 smashed his skull and destroyed his brain.

This time, no more healing happened. Perhaps his regeneration could not defeat the power of the strongest object, the Nokia 3310.

"Phew... Thank God it ended. I thought I had to use my secret technique."

Calix sighed in relief when he confirmed that Sergio died. He could not feel his pulse and he was not moving anymore. Furthermore, his brain matter was slowly dripping out of his head. It looked horrendous to look at.

"Hm? What is this?"

Calix saw that something fell from Sergio's pocket. It was a rock.

It looked like a simple rock but Calix's intuition was telling him that the rock was important.

He grabbed the rock and inserted it inside his spatial ring.

The silence lingered but he understood that it would not end like that. Calix fixed his appearance. Mento returned to being a small keychain on his necklace. He looked normal.

"Now, I have to face another problem... Despite being a Vindicator, using a Term Attribute is illegal."

It is the law.

"Freeze!! Don't move!!"

The cops appeared and they were pointing their guns at Calix. They heard that Calix was a dangerous person, and he started blasting a person and causing a ruckus.

"Raise your hand and get on your knees!"

The cops appeared to be distressed as they witnessed how gruesome the place was. Everything was covered in blood and even the cops wanted to vomit.

Calix did not have a choice but to kneel and raise his hands.

The cops subdued him and handcuffed his arms. They were actually afraid because they thought that Calix would shoot them.

Thankfully, Calix did not fight and the cops successfully arrested him.

"Sir, you are under arrest for killing an innocent civilian. You have the right to remain silent, and you can call a lawyer."

Calix did not speak as the cops took him to the car. Few people were there and they witnessed the whole scene.

As Calix was looking out the window, he saw someone staring at him. It was a woman who had bunny ears, and she was wearing a short thin dress.

Digger Gold had a satisfied smirk as she looked at Calix. She felt that her grievance was answered after watching Calix being taken by the cops. She even took out her phone and record the whole arrest. She would definitely upload it to social media and add a caption.

'Karma strikes, Murderer received his punishment.'

Calix did not care and he just shrugged.

"I knew that bitch is not good."

Well, a woman who would ask for ten thousand dollars for a quicky was a lunatic or a pornstar.

'Respectfully though, I will tap Mia Malkova's ass if she asked me for ten thousand dollars... Ehem, don't judge me. I feel like I'm a double-standard guy... Anyway, who gives a fuck.'

Sasuga Calix, he knew his priorities. Sadly, his wish would never happen.

The car slowly left the crime scene.

Calix was taken to the police. His hands were handcuffed and his belongings were taken, but just like the last time, his necklace and spatial ring were still with him.

Maybe they deemed that his necklace and ring were not dangerous.

He was put in an interrogation room.

Except for the dim light from the bulb, everything was dark. Calix was sitting and in front of him was a cold steel table, his arms were tied to the chair.

'I don't remember how many times I'm being tied these days, but this is definitely not the last time.'

He sighed. Life was fucking with him.

Calix did not have a choice but to commit a murder in the public.

'When I entered the convenience store, I was just thinking of eating. I cannot believe that I will meet Sergio Osmeña there.'

At first, Calix was curious about the manga that Sergio was reading. Calix likes Chainsaw Man.

'But it was different when I heard his voice. I thought I was wrong, but as our conversation went on, I confirmed that the hoodie guy is Sergio Osmeña. And I guess he learned my identity too.'

Calix verified that it was Sergio just by listening to his voice. His sense of hearing was strong that he could identify a person just by his voice even though he did not hear it for half a year.

'So when I realized that he is an enemy, I don't have a choice but to pull the trigger, or else I'm going to die.'

It was a 'kill or to be killed' situation.

If he did not shoot him first, then Sergio would have killed him. Calix disregarded the fact that they were in public and decided to start blasting Sergio, which led to this situation.

He sighed again.

'At least I erased a threat. Leon is surely happy in hell right now because he can take his revenge.'

Leon Abhorwell was killed by Sergio. Their relationship was quite toxic.

Suddenly, the door opened and a person showed up. Calix raised his head, hoping that he would meet someone he knew.

Sadly, the first person who showed up was a detective.

"Calix Romoel. It says here that you are a soldier."

The detective read his information.

"..."

The detective started talking but Calix did not open his mouth.

'The best way is to keep my mouth shut and wait for my lawyer.'

Calix was just looking down.

"Are you thirsty? We can ask for cold water if you want."

The detective tried to act friendly but Calix did not budge.

'Damn, this man is tough to crack. Do we have to do plan B?'

The detective wanted to know Calix's motives but in this situation, it would be hard to get that information.

'Perhaps 'Good Cop and Bad Cop' can work.'

Actually, the police gained enough information regarding the crime but they still did not know the motives.

'Calix Romoel and Sergio Osmeña did not have any connections, they are strangers... So why did Calix kill him?'

They saw in the CCTV footage that Osmeña struggle to touch Calix for some unknown reasons.

'It was a gruesome scene because Calix shot him countless times.'

The detective was confused by a lot of things.

'Sergio Osmeña, he is not a citizen of Dellia. He is just a foreigner who visited the country. He is not even a Vindicator... But he can withstand multiple gunshots, he has regeneration ability.'

Furthermore, this case was quite tricky because Calix was related to a higher rank in the military.

"Calix, we just want to help. But if you don't start talking, we cannot help you."

He looked sincere.

However, Calix did not listen and kept his mouth shut.

"Well..." The detective sighed. " If that's what you want, all I can do is pass it to my friend."

The detective looked at him for a second, waiting to see if Calix would react. In the end, he did not have a choice but to leave.

The detective closed the door and Calix was left alone.

.....

.....

...

"What do you think?"

The detective asked the others who were watching the interrogation.

"We can't find anything that can show his motives."

One of them said.

"He didn't have any major criminal record. All we have here is his record of jaywalking."

"Indeed."

They shut their mouth. They did not know how to proceed because Calix was related to the military. If they make a mistake, chances are they going to be fired.

"Looks like we don't have a choice, we have to do it--"

"Wait a minute."

The sound of a phone ringing could be heard. The police chief stopped everything from talking as he grabbed the phone.

"Hello? T- this is Chief of Police McClanahan AwtsGege... Y- yes ma'am!! I- will do so!!"

The chief was surprised and began talking submissively. It seemed that the police chief was talking to someone who had a high position in the government, hence explaining his reaction.

The chief was sweating and wiping his forehead as he listened to the call.

"Y- yes ma'am..."

After a few minutes, he dropped the phone. He looked tired.

"Sir, who is it? Is it General Andreas Romoel?"

They thought that General Andreas talked to him because of his reaction.

"No, it's not him."

The chief shook his head.

"It's not the General, but someone higher than him."

He was actually scared as he listened to the voice.

'Someone higher than him... Perhaps the Senators, or the President.'

General Andreas was under the President's side.

However, their assumption was wrong after a few minutes.

Someone entered the police station, she is a woman who had elegant beauty and a calm temperament. She had black hair and dark skin.

The Vice-president, Esmeralda Margaret.

Chapter 255

Calix was waiting in the dark. He guessed that an hour already passed.

'So where's the bad cop? I thought they are going to interrogate me and ask me why I killed Sergio?'

He asked himself.

Calix didn't answer their questions because he could not trust them. Besides, it would be best that Calix shut his mouth against the police.

'Police do not care about the truth, they just want to find the fastest way out. Even if I'm guilty or not, they will send me to prison nonetheless.'

Of course, Calix understood that not all of the cops were like that, some were honest and kind.

'But it's better to be safe than sorry.'

Anyway, Calix would ask for a phone call once the detective returned. He would contact his father and his girls so that they will not worry.

The door suddenly opened and Calix sighed.

"Thank God someone showed up. Can I ask for a phone? I have to talk to my lawyer."

As he spoke every word, Calix realized that the person in front of him was not a male. With her curvaceous waist and thick hips, it was obvious that the person in front of him was a woman.

Calix's brows furrowed and stared at the woman. Despite being in the dark, Calix could discern the woman's identity.

The woman was tall. She had dark skin and her hair was black. She had this dignified aura around her as if she was better and stronger than anyone.

"Um, are you Vice-president Esmeralda Margaret?"

He was not sure, perhaps his eyes were deceiving him.

Esmeralda was impressed and sat in the chair.

"So you know me?"

Her smile was seductive, she was quite flirty as her finger curled her hair.

"Well, I see your face in the news. You are famous ma'am, you're my idol since childhood."

Calix did his best to act calm. He could see that something was not right.

'This is bad, I don't know what's happening, but the fact that I'm here inside a dark room is dangerous.'

Esmeralda was known for being the terror of the night. Which meant that Calix was inside her domain.

"That's great. This conversation will be easier."

Esmeralda nodded. She leaned closer to Calix, her voice was sweet and whispered over his ear.

Calix felt ticklish as she spoke.

"You see, Calix Romoel, I'm interested in you."

Her finger lay on his chest.

"Ma'am, I don't know what's happening but I'm sure that people are watching in the next room."

"Don't worry, no one's watching. I will kill them if they try to."

She giggled. She could sense if someone was eavesdropping.

"I see..."

Calix instinctively looked at the door, the only exit.

"If you think that someone will save you, you will be disappointed."

Suddenly, Calix felt like something was crawling from his knees. The sensation was cold as if the darkness touched him.

"The Vice-president can control the darkness. So she's probably groping me using her power."

Calix did not flinch.

"Fufu. I heard that Andreas has a son, but I did not know that he is a hunk just like his father."

Calix felt the dark tendrils stroking his abs.

"Hey, don't you know that I had sex with your father?"

She whispered next to his ear.

"..."

"You don't look like you are surprised."

"Because I know that my father will never do that."

For a second, his gaze was quite cold.

"Pft-haha, I see. I see. Indeed, I'm just joking. I tried seducing your father years ago but he is always strict and serious. He is one of the men that never react to my advances. He is a great husband, I admire him."

Calix knew his father more than her, he knew that Andreas would rather kill himself than cheat.

'If my father really did that, then he should already have a new wife. But the fact that he is single shows his loyalty to my mother.'

"Ma'am, may I know the reason why you're here?"

He decided to probe. Calix had an inkling about the woman's motives.

'The question is: Should I stop her or not?'

"Come on don't be such a killjoy, we can take our time~~"

She stroked his hair, looking at him with hidden intention.

Calix immediately understood what would happen.

'Damn it!! So we are going to have sex!!'

There is only one reason why I woman wants to talk to him-- she wants sex.

Calix swallowed hard as he glanced at her body. Esmeralda is definitely hot as fuck!!

'I heard that her age is three digits, but who cares...'

Calix already knew Esmeralda when he was young. He always saw her in the news.

'20 years already passed since I first saw her on television, yet she still looks young. From the looks of it, she's a descendant of DemiHumans. Perhaps the Elves or the Beastkin.'

Leaving him with no choice, Calix nodded his head and agreed.

"Okay, I will agree."

Calix decided to have sex with her. After all, he didn't have a choice... and he wanted to tap her ass too.

Unfortunately, Esmeralda had a different purpose.

"Eh? So you want me to take you to the Dungeon and torture you? That's fine because I'm tired of fooling you. Phew, I thought you are going to say no."

It seemed that Calix was wrong this time. Esmeralda did not want sex.

"Wait, what? I thought you wanted to have sex--"

"Well, if you want to see the Dungeon, I'm fine with that. Come on, let's go. You don't have to say anything."

The woman did not listen and immediately wrapped him in darkness.

"Shit!"

That was the last thing he muttered before his vision turned dark.

Well, shit went from zero to 100 real quick.

Chapter 256

At around 3:21 am, a flying car descended in front of the police station. The car landed swiftly and the wind gust around.

The car looked simple, it was painted white with black linings. There was only one person who came out of the car. She immediately went back to the Capitolium because she learned that Calix was being interrogated.

Kimberly used a certain remote and the big car shrunk into a small piece. She put the tiny car into her spatial ring.

Kimberly looked around, the night was so quiet seeing that it was already late. Except for the lights that shine around, the place was desolated.

She took a step towards the police station but she suddenly stopped. She looked up and realized that another flying car was descending. The car did not show anything that could identify the owner.

"... Nikki is too poor to buy a car and Yuna will use her power instead. So I'm guessing this is Scarlett or Marianne."

She watched the car land on the road. Just as she expected, she recognized the person who came out of the car. Unlike Kimberly who looked geeky with her eyeglasses and long sleeve shirt, the woman was wearing an elegant white dress decorated with jewels, backless.

"What a show-off."

She scoffed and fixed her glasses.

"I heard what you said."

Marianne glared at her.

"So what happened? I thought you are going to meet Calix. I just heard that Calix is being held by the police."

Kimberly asked and raised her brow.

Apparently, it was Marianne's schedule to meet Calix today. The women made a schedule so they won't have to fight, Calix was the one who suggested it because the girls always doing catfights. It was interesting at first but as time went on, Calix was getting tired of their shit.

So he suggested the plan.

"Don't talk to me, I'm mad right now."

Marianne clicked her tongue in annoyance. She wanted to meet Calix today but her Clan was being an ass.

'My Uncle wants to teach me how the Clan works. I should be happy and excited, but he just said it today and I don't have the time to prepare. I didn't even have a chance to disagree. I can't even use my phone! Damn those Elders!!'

Something important happened and she failed to accommodate Calix. She felt guilty, and that's why she wanted to make him happy by wearing something beautiful (while having sex).

After the meeting ended, Marianne quickly used her flying car to meet Calix. However, while on the way, she found that Calix murdered someone. She was actually worried when she heard it.

'I can't believe that I will change like this. I hate Calix back then, but now I don't know how to live without him. Perhaps that certain dream affected me.'

Marianne used that excuse whenever she fell in love deeper with Calix. But in all honesty, Marianne just found her love and she was afraid to lose it. Calix was the only one who had a strong connection to her heart.

'That guy is an asshole, but he is an asshole that I will never hate.'

Perhaps our Tsundere is slowly being true to herself.

"Oh, so you're mad? Then what about me? Don't you think I'm not mad? Marianne, you fight for this schedule, so that you can have Calix for yourself. We let you have it. Yuna is busy working in the military while Scarlett is fighting for the position of Temporary Matriarch. Nikki and I let you have this day. But what did you do? You left Calix alone and you didn't even say it to us? Now, what happened?"

Kimberly did not back down. She looked straight into Marianne's eyes.

"..."

The Elven woman did not speak, because she knew that she made a mistake.

"This will not happen if you talked to us, but you did not even inform us that you will be late. Marianne, you just hated the fact that someone will take your schedule that's why you did not talk to us."

Marianne was offended by that truth.

"That's right, I admit that. This is my schedule, and no one can take it away from me, even if I'm busy."

The temperature gradually turned down, and the mist gathered around them.

"What are you going to do?"

Kimberly raised her chin. She was not afraid.

"... I hate you."

Marianne walked passed her. She did not have a choice but to lower her head.

Kimberly smirked.

'Of course you can't hurt me. My family is stronger than you, in terms of everything. In fact, Francine Clan is trying to buy tons of Battlesuits at a lower price, and I can stop that transaction. I can even raise the price.'

The Cudgel was one of the pillars of the country and their importance to Dellia and the whole world was greater than the Francine Clan.

'The weapons and armor we make are enough for people to bow their heads.'

This was the best representation of that.

Marianne understood it very well, especially when her Uncle announced that she would take the position of Matriarch.

They almost fought in the middle of the night, this was the exact reason why Calix wanted to make a schedule.

.....

.....

...

Both Kimberly and Marianne entered the police station.

The cops were just eating donuts and watching TV dramas, they were lazily sitting around.

The two women did not send any notification so the cops were not prepared.

When the two women saw their actions, they frowned. They were wondering what these cops did to Calix.

"Hello, how can we help you?"

One of the cops asked while licking his fingers. His eyes were darting at the two, especially at their breasts department. Kimberly and Marianne were blessed in that department.

The two women were disgusted.

"I want you to free Calix Romoel."

Marianne said it straight.

"Who?"

The cop was confused at first but his expression slowly changed. He recalled what happened earlier.

"U- um, ma'am I think you made a mistake. We don't know who you're talking about."

Even the other cops became quiet when they heard Marianne.

The two women looked at each other and immediately realized that something odd was going on.

"We are not here to joke around, we want you to free Calix Romoel."

Marianne's voice was heavier. The floor that she was standing on turned into ice.

"Ma'am you know it's illegal to use your power in the public. Even if you are a Vindicator, you should follow the law."

The Chief of the Police Station showed up. He was mad.

Chapter 257

The Chief of Police just witnessed something tiring earlier and he did not want any of that shit again.

'The Vice-president just abducted a guy.'

They were all dumbfounded when they found that Calix and Esmeralda were gone.

They did not know what happened.

In the end, they decided to keep quiet. Every one of them understood that Calix Romoel was connected to the military, and they might get fired.

"I want to see Calix Romoel."

"Sorry, but there's no person like that here."

The chief was standing still on his opinion of keeping quiet.

"You..."

Marianne was mad that she wanted to transform this place into a frozen house.

"Marianne, you have to stop. You will only cause trouble."

"... Humph!!"

She scoffed but she did not do anything.

The cops were relieved. Most of them were TA Users but they could sense that Marianne had a powerful Term Attribute. If a battle indeed happened in the station, it would be a big problem.

"Your name is Chief McClanahan AwtsGege, right?"

This time, Kimberly did the talking. She looked amiable and the cops thought that she would be gentle with them.

But the next thing the woman said was much scary.

"I can fire you. No, I can fire everyone here and they will never have a job again."

She smiled, she looked like an angel. Yet her tongue was sharp.

"A- are threatening us!?"

"Yes. Isn't it obvious?"

She crossed her arms.

"Who are you?"

One of the cops asked.

"I'm Kimberly Cudgel, I'm Mark Cudgel's daughter and the COO of Cudgel Tech. I remember that this station asked for a batch of weapons, maybe I can do something."

She grinned.

"Y- you're lying."

The chief stuttered when he realized that the woman in front of him was related to the Cudgel.

She is the daughter of Mark Cudgel and her position in the company is high!? What the heck!?

The cops swallowed their saliva. This was getting dangerous.

"I can inquire about everyone's info and fire them. And if you think you will have a decent job after that is nothing but a fantasy. My family has a strong connection in every industry in this country. The only place for you guys is to leave this country."

"L- leave this country?"

"We will not!!"

Dellia was one of the safest countries against the Aberrants. It was one of the most peaceful and prosperous countries. Leaving this paradise would be a stupid idea.

"I can do that. I can push you to that decision-- that leaving this country is better than facing me."

The cops were sweating.

If this woman was indeed the daughter of Mark Cudgel, then their lives were basically over.

"M- maybe we can talk about this!"

"T- that's right!"

Some of the cops kneeled and kowtowed. They knew the danger of leaving Dellia.

Marianne, who witnessed the whole scene, was looking weirdly at Kimberly.

'And they say that I'm the bad woman.'

She shook her head. She had a bad attitude but Kimberly was more dangerous.

'Her tongue is enough to kill someone. They say that Mark Cudgel has the sharpest mouth of all, but I guess they are wrong. Someone inherited his ability and she's stronger.'

Marianne was impressed. At least Kimberly couple subdued the cops using her tongue.

The cops were frightened and talked to her, but Kimberly was just staring at them like they were dirty insects.

'I witnessed a lot of things after I worked at the company. You must never show your weakness or else the Directors will eat you alive.'

She looked at the Chief and the old cop flinched. He wiped his sweat, he did not know who to side with.

Should he side with the Vice president and keep quiet or should he side with Kimberly Cudgel?

He gritted his teeth and his lips quivered.

"Proof, I want to know if you are really Mark Cudgel's daughter."

Nobody knows about the Cudgel's current heir. All they know was that Chen Cudgel was gone and another person took his place as the new heir.

"Hoh, so you're saying I'm fake?"

She raised her brow.

"N- no, I just want to know if you can really help us."

Kimberly used her spatial ring and tons of stuff came out of her ring.

Everyone was shocked.

"Is this enough?"

"Y- yes, absolutely."

They were surprised. They heard that Cudgel Tech created a set of spatial rings and they were not for sale. So the fact that Kimberly had a spatial ring showed her status.

"Now, tell me where Calix Romoel is?"

"H- how did you know?"

"It's obvious. You guys are acting strange and I guessed that Calix is not here."

Marianne was confused.

"What do you mean Calix is not here?"

She asked Kimberly.

"He was here, but I assume someone took him. Am I right?"

Kimberly glanced at the Chief and the old cop was guilty. The Vice president did not even talk to him, the woman just abducted a murderer!

'I don't know what is happening anymore. I hope I can still have my job after this.'

He sighed. The only choice was to speak the truth. Even the cops decided to speak, at least they could ask Kimberly to spare them.

Kimberly and Marianne listened to them, but their expressions turned ugly as time passed.

They realized that Vice President Esmeralda Margaret abducted Calix, and even the cops could not react because the woman escaped so fast. She used her darkness and left the place.

"... This is going to be tough."

Kimberly touched her eyeglasses.

Even Marianne was frowning.

Everyone understood that Esmeralda is a monster. Not a simple monster, she is a woman who lived for at least a hundred years.

Kimberly did not have enough information but she heard that Esmeralda was one of the founding people who built the country.

The declaration of the country of Dellia was announced almost 130 years ago.

'Esmeralda has a secret Dungeon. It's a place where she put criminals and tortures them to get the information... Shit!!'

Kimberly immediately realized the situation.

"There's only one reason why a woman is interested in Calix."

"You mean..."

Listening to Kimberly, Marianne easily got the situation.

"Ah, Calix, why does this scenario always happen to you?"

Kimberly sighed. This was the second time that this happened. As if Calix is a kidnapers' magnet.

"Marianne, do you know someone who knows Esmeralda's lifestyle?"

"Me? ... Now that I think of it, I think I know someone. She's a female Beastkin."

"Then, we have to talk to her."

"Are we just going to leave Calix like that? Should we search for him first?"

"Don't worry, Calix will be fine."

Kimberly turned around and left the station. Of course, she did not forget to contact her father. She was decisive in expelling every one of the people who worked in this police station.

Chapter 258

"... So here I am again. Inside a room and I don't even know how I get here."

Calix sighed. He knew that the Vice-president was keeping a Dungeon, this was a place where death-row criminals were staying before they died.

'This is the place where criminals are tortured too. They say that this place is a myth, but I confirmed that this place is true when they took Leon.'

Using Mento, he found the location of the Dungeon. It was under the Vice-president mansion's.

"That's right. The woman built a fucking Dungeon under her house and she used it to punish criminals."

Esmeralda is unhinged, and she did not give a fuck.

Calix recalled how Leon suffered through torture. Using his tracking device, he found how horrible this place was. Leon wanted to die instead of being tortured, this showed how terrifying this place was.

"I have to calm down, panicking will not help me. Perhaps it is a good thing that this is not my first time being kidnapped."

He looked composed. Facing the Blood Moon and killing the Leviathan showed him that there were more frightening things in the world.

"And being abducted is not that scary... Especially if you have a plot armor that will protect you but fuck you up sometimes."

He trusted his ability, but sometimes his power was putting him in deep shit.

"I swear, maybe meeting Sergio Osmeña and killing him is Lucky, but being abducted by a powerful DemiGod is not a fortuitous situation."

In a way, Calix did not trust his power. All he could do was believe in himself.

His arms were being tied by rusty metallic cuffs across the wall. Furthermore, his feet were locked too.

"Damn, I can't even sit. The chains are too short."

His shoulders were actually aching from being held up for too long.

The scene was too fast. Calix remembered that Esmeralda enveloped him with darkness and then he just realized that he was here and his limbs were all tied.

He took a deep breath. He discerned that there were guards five meters away from his cell, he could hear their subtle conversation. He looked around and learned that the walls were tough and thick, it was hard to break them, and breaking the walls may cause disaster.

They were underground and they might get buried alive if the walls fall down.

"I know that I can breathe under the water but I'm not sure if I can do that under the ground."

So it was better to be safe.

Calix glanced around, and he decided to start his plan. He had to finish it before the guards could hear his movement.

'Esmeralda will definitely return. She said that she wants to talk to me, she is probably curious how I injured a Demon-God.'

Esmeralda was there when Calix shot the Bakunawa, she witnessed what he did. She was curious and she wanted to know if Calix could be useful.

'She will not kill me, but she will do something. I have to escape before that happened.'

Calix was the only son of General Andreas Romoel, so his position was sensitive, Esmeralda could not do anything extreme that might endanger his life.

Using the momentum, Calix bounced his necklace and caught Mento(the keychain gun) using his mouth.

"Mento, activate grinder."

Using a hacksaw was time-consuming so he decided to go with loud but fast cutting. His grinder was sharp that it would only take a few seconds to cut metals.

The grinder materialized and Calix easily cut the rusty chains. One by one, he cut the metals and freed himself.

Then, Calix used a destructive shotgun to destroy the prison door. It only took three shots to bust open the door.

But this caused the people in the surroundings to hear his escape.

"Someone is escaping!!!"

The guards were alert. A few months ago, this Dungeon was raided and all of the guards and criminals died. It was known that the Council of Torment attacked this Dungeon.

Therefore, the new guards were alert and they did not want that tragedy to happen again. The guards were professional Vindicators and they experienced near-death situations.

When they found that a young man came out of his cell, the guards did not hesitate and cast their spells.

Thankfully, Calix was prepared because he was wearing a C- Series Battlesuit.

He charged at the guards and used a desert eagle to shoot them. He used tranquilizers so he was not afraid to hurt them.

His bullets and the guards' spells were firing toward each other. Calix hit every one of them and the guards started losing their strength and fell to the ground.

"I- Impossible!! How can you dodge all of our Spells?"

One of them asked. They witnessed something incredible, Calix ran towards them and he successfully dodged their attacks. Even for experienced fighters like them, that would be impossible.

"Oh, that? I actually don't know. I just walked straight."

Calix shrugged.

"You..."

The guards started falling asleep. The bullets that hit them were potent and the effect was fast.

"Phew. Now, I have to--"

Calix immediately sensed that something was wrong, he quickly turned around and pulled the trigger.

"Woah, I can't believe that you defeat seventeen guards. That's impressive."

Esmeralda grinned. The bullet was caught by her darkness. She appeared because she realized that Calix escaped. When she emerged, she found that Calix defeated the guards that she personally picked.

'Shit!'

Calix cursed inwardly. This woman was so fast. He did not even feel her presence. It was already too late when she got close. Perhaps this was the ability of the woman who could control the darkness, she could erase her presence.

"... So I can't escape?"

He asked.

"Yes. We are not on the same level, I can cut your legs if I want to."

She was not lying, Calix could see it. However, it didn't mean that he was afraid.

"No, I still have a chance."

He did not waver. Even if the woman was known as the strongest warrior in their country, Calix would not back down.

Chapter 259

Using his Battlesuit, Calix sprinted at tremendous speed, his Battlesuit increased his physical capacities.

However, Calix did not run away. Instead, he ran into Esmeralda.

He was shooting the woman, not afraid that he might kill her.

Just as Calix expected, Esmeralda used the darkness around the place and the bullets were devoured by the darkness.

Suddenly, Esmeralda disappeared and showed up in front of him. Hundreds of black arms subdued Calix, almost wrapping his body.

"It's over, these arms are tougher than any metal and you can never cut or escape from them."

"Heh, I want to know if that is true."

A chainsaw escaped the arms and it was glowing blue, Calix directly swung the chainsaw to the woman but she did not flinch.

"As time pass by, you are really making me impress. Tell me, what else can you do?"

Esmeralda was surprised that Calix cut her dark arms using a chainsaw.

'That chainsaw is not ordinary, there's a unique aura around it.'

She deduced.

"Take this!!"

Calix roared and successfully scratched the woman.

"Nice!!"

Calix grinned when he grazed the woman's shoulder.

"Is that it? Why are you acting that you already won?"

Esmeralda shrugged and activates her power, but she realized that the darkness around did not listen to her. Her eyes trembled and she realized something dangerous.

'He has the ability to stop my power!'

Calix's Fate Reversal works on anything as long the object/person's state was obvious.

Esmeralda's situation was simple, she had the upper hand in this battle and Calix just reversed that situation. Now, she could not use her power.

"Rraahh!"

Calix made a warcry and swung his weapon. Using his Azure aura was tiring and he did not use it again.

"I see..."

Instead of being afraid, Esmeralda smiled, as if she found something interesting.

She evaded the chainsaw.

"Don't think that I'm weak, I'm a DemiGod and my physical strength is above yours."

In just one sprint, she reached the man's neck, jabbed his throat, and choked him. She pushed him to the ground, Esmeralda is an expert in Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu. Her arms latched over his neck and strangled him.

Calix's face began turning red, his carteroid artery was blocked and he had a hard time breathing. His consciousness falls. He knew that his position was sensitive because Esmeralda already had her legs locked around him.

'Indeed, Esmeralda is still strong even if I prevented her from using her power.'

It was a terrifying thing.

"Gahah--!!"

He coughed as Esmeralda slowly squeezed his airway.

However, for unknown reasons, Esmeralda's hands slipped and Calix successfully escaped the guillotine.

Calix took a step back and created distance.

Esmeralda furrowed her brows.

"Strange... I don't know how my hands slipped."

Her grip was seriously locking his neck and she knew that she did not let go and continued choking him, but she still failed.

Now, the woman was looking at Calix with further interest.

'He can defeat me, in this situation. I feel like he is slowly dominating the battle.'

Calix was coughing. He thought he was going to faint.

He slowly steadied up.

"I guess I have to take things seriously."

Esmeralda's gaze changed, she looked at him as an enemy that could kill her.

'Damn it! Now she's not showing any weakness.'

The woman was manageable to defeat earlier because she was lowering her defense, but it was different now. Calix lost his chance.

"Tell me, you are the one who killed the terrorists, right?"

Esmeralda recalled the scene she witnessed in the Flying Ship. When she infiltrated the ship, she found that all of the terrorists were dead.

At first, she thought that Yuna Garcia was the one who did it, but when she examined the pink-haired woman, Esmeralda realized that Yuna Garcia was simple overall.

'She doesn't look strong, unlike this guy.'

"..."

Calix did not answer. Instead, he ordered Mento to change his form. At this distance, the best weapon was a gun.

'They say that Rail Gun is the fastest gun of all... Let's try it out.'

"Hoh, I'm intrigued by your weapon too."

The two looked at each other. They both understand that this would be the last exchange, whoever lost would suffer.

The time was slow for both of them.

Suddenly, Esmeralda sped up and Calix raised his weapon.

Calix pulled the trigger, the sound was so loud that his ears felt numb. A flash of straight lightning came forth and destroyed the hallway.

"... Impossible."

He was shocked.

"Oh, Honey you don't know what you're saying. I fought many stronger beasts than you."

Calix realized that the woman punched him in the gut. He coughed blood, it seemed that even Luck had its limit.

He lost his strength and knelt before the strongest woman in the country.

"Oh, look at the time, I guess your power can only stop my Term Attribute for a few minutes."

Esmeralda smiled when she confirmed that she could control the darkness again.

Calix lost.

They were in the dungeon where no lights could be found, this is Esmeralda's turf and it was impossible for Calix to turn this around, not anymore.

"Kuck...!"

Esmeralda stepped on him, pushing him to lower his head. Despite wearing a Battlesuit, Calix could not fend off her strength.

"You are tough, I guess your father taught you. Unfortunately, your opponent is me."

She pulled his hair and Calix grimaced.

"I'll take this."

She grabbed the Rail Gun and it returned to being an old pistol.

"Woah, this is actually heavy."

She laughed when she found that his old pistol was heavy. The darkness absorbed the weapon and it disappeared too.

"Now, since you are big trouble, I'll keep you in my mansion. Maybe we can have a proper conversation."

She called for someone to take the unconscious guards.

"Let's leave."

"Guh--"

She pulled his hair and left the place.

'This is bad... It's been two days since the last time I had sex with Yuna.'

Calix only had a few hours remaining before his backlash showed up. If his backlash returned, he knew that things would be fucked up.

'If I know that this will happen, maybe I would have agreed with that 10k bunny woman.'

It was too late to regret.

Chapter 260

Esmeralda threw him into an empty room. His back slammed against the wall and he glared at her.

"I like that look."

"What do you want?"

"Isn't it obvious, I'm interested in you, and how you can fight me and the Bakunawa."

"I will never tell a damn thing even if you hurt me!!"

He roared. But in this situation, he could not do anything. His weapon was missing and Esmeralda could subdue him even if he was wearing a Battlesuit.

"Who said that I have to hurt you? I have my way of doing things."

The black arms tore his tough Battlesuit into pieces. Now, Calix had nothing to fight her. He had nothing but his pants on.

"Ara ara, nice body."

The tendrils coiled him and restricted his movement. Now, he could not move too.

"Stay there until I return, okay?"

She winked and left the room. She locked the door just to make sure. Calix had this unique ability where good things happened to him.

A group of people showed up and salute her.

"Master!!"

"Tell me what you got."

One of them gave her the summary of their work and Esmeralda glimpsed at it.

"Master, just as you guessed, Scarlett Robinson, Kimberly Cudgel, Yuna Garcia, and Marianne Francine had a relationship with Calix. Furthermore, three of them breakthrough the 2nd Advanced while having a relationship with him."

"Good job. You may now leave."

"Yes, Master!"

They disappeared quickly in the dark.

Esmeralda touched her chin and pondered.

"So Yuna and the others are not that important..."

At first Esmeralda was interested in Yuna Garcia because she wanted to recruit her. But as time went on, she realized that she chose the wrong person. Yuna was nothing but a side character.

"I guess I have to talk to her..."

She took out her phone to contact someone. She had a devilish grin as she scrolled down her contacts.

.....

.....

...

On the other hand, Kimberly and Marianne visit someone.

"And? Why are you here again, visiting me in the middle of the night?"

Principal Rinaha Beth yawned. She just woke up and she did not like someone disturbing her sleep.

In the middle of the night, the two women went to her house and asked for help. She wanted to deny them but the identity of the two women was too powerful.

"I'm just a Principal of a school, I have connections to the military but it was already a decade ago and I'm sure my position is not that effective against these two."

She glared at Marianne and Kimberly but they did not care.

She clicked her tongue and looked at Marianne. Marianne Francine was one of her students and Rinaha Beth recommended her join the military in Port of Aoneon. In a way, Rinaha was trying her best to give her best students some headstart.

"Principal Rinaha, we need your help."

"And what is it?"

"We want to know about Vice President Esmeralda Margaret."

"... You're crazy."

Her expression became ugly.

"I thought you are going to ask me about recruiting some students to help your team, but you guys are crazy for asking me about the Vice-president? Do you want to die!? No, do you want me to die?"

It was obvious that she was infuriated.

"Rinaha we know that you worked under the Vice-president before you became a Principal, in fact that is the reason why you became a Principal--"

"Shut up nerd, I didn't talk to you. I don't even know you that much. I just know that you are Mark Cudgel's illegitimate daughter."

Rinaha scowled. Her cat ears and tail were standing straight, showing that she was furious. In fact, she was purring right now, but in an angry way.

These two women just knocked on her door and asked for something unbelievable.

She massaged her forehead, god, she was having a headache. Furthermore, the two women in front of her were not ashamed at all.

"They believed that it's natural for me to help them, just because of their fucking position!"

Kimberly was working as the COO and she was used to being heartless in front of the employees. This was not the right time to show sympathy, she had to dominate the Principal.

As for Marianne, she was naturally a prideful woman.

"... Tch, what do you want? But just to make sure, I will never answer anything that might endanger me. Maybe you don't know but the Vice-president is a vicious woman."

Principal Rinaha put importance on that.

'The Vice-president doesn't kill people directly, she used different tactics. Perhaps tomorrow I will die and people will deem it as suicide.'

She shuddered in fear.

"Principal Rinaha, we just want to know the Vice-president's usual lifestyle and the framework of her mansion. And I want to know if she has a weakness."

Kimberly fixed her glasses, she was serious right now.

"Why don't you talk to your father instead?"

"He is a big liar."

Rinaha clicked her tongue.

"... Just to be clear, I am not part of this. So, what can I get?"

Kimberly smirked.

'I know that she will never help us easily.'

"Whatever you want. I have money, connection, and weapons. As long as it's within my power, I will give it to you."

This was the perk of being wealthy.

"Then I want ten-- no, I want one hundred sets of C-series Battlesuit."

"Deal."

"I know that it will be hard because it cost so much but-- Wait, what did you say? You agreed, just like that?"

Kimberly nodded.

"Damn... I should have asked for more."

Rinaha bit her lip. The C-series could be used as a reward for the best students, it could increase the students' enthusiasm.

"I'm fine with two hundred if you want."

"Really?"

"Yes, I'm not lying."

Kimberly had the last say, even her father could not stop her because she was the inventor of the C-series. Besides, they could make at least a thousand sets of C-series per week, especially when the company acquired a Demon-God crystal heart.

'My father is actually happy these days.'

"I see, thank you. I guess. Now, I will only say this one. And just to be clear, I am not part of this plan of yours and you never saw me... And please don't kill the Vice-president."

She was worried that these two may do something.

"Principal you know that it's impossible to kill her with our strength."

'We just want to save Calix.'

Marianne promised the Principal.

"That's good to hear. Now, listen to me."

The two women were listening seriously.

"I have a blueprint of her mansion... even the Dungeon. But it was a decade ago and not updated."

"It's okay, as long as I can see it. Although I'm curious how you get the blueprint."

"It's a long story..."

It seemed that Rinaha did not have the intention to speak about it.

"She doesn't have any weakness, but she has a secret that she is hiding..."

Principal Rinaha only saw it once. Perhaps because of her age, she wanted to share this story, to reduce her stress.

"The Vice-president is not a human."

The two glanced at each other, they have to look at this thing seriously. This information, they could use it to blackmail the Vice-president.
