

Only Fuel 331

Chapter 331

The werewolf killed the Aberrants one by one. Although he had no wings, the werewolf moved without hesitation. Every move it made killed a monster.

Then Calix and Lou saw that more Vindicators appeared and their powers were strong. The Vindicators began to fire their spells and hit the Aberrants.

As for the Aberrants who were currently on the ground, their lives were much worse. They died without being able to defend themselves.

These Vindicators are under the Principal, his own army.

Still, one thing confused Calix.

'Why now? Why didn't they help earlier, did something happen that we don't know about?'

With their strength, it was easier to fight the enemies. Yet they just showed up now - where dozens of people had already died.

Calix understood that it was something he would never know. He was only a student, and his connection to Junian was thin. Except for his mother's relatives, Calix was a pure Dellian.

The werewolf let out a bloodcurdling roar.

Then another shockwave came from the werewolf and everyone flinched. The weaker ones already fainted.

Even Lou gasped before closing her eyes. She had witnessed something terrifying before she passed out.

"Ugh!"

As for Calix, he grunted and his body stiffened.

"What was that?"

He wondered. He realized that his body was shaking because he was afraid.

"Natural instinct..."

When the werewolf released a shockwave, Calix's instinct triggered his fear.

"The ability to instill fear in its prey."

A wolf hunting its prey, that was what Calix felt. It was a simple ability, but quite frightening.

Because right now, Calix's body was afraid to move. This shock wave rendered his body useless! He was so scared that he didn't want to move!

What a terrifying ability!

Now Calix understood why the Principal was known as the strongest Beastkin. Maybe even someone like Esmeralda Margaret would be afraid if she had to face Principal Lycan.

Calix gritted his teeth and slowly leaned against the wall. He was still carrying Lou and Mera was on his shoulder.

He sat down and gasped for air. He didn't want to experience that shock wave again.

Calix glanced at the sky and watched the Principal.

"..."

He was amazed as he witnessed something unbelievable. He saw the monsters fall from the sky. The monsters' faces were filled with fear, and their bodies stopped moving as well.

They were also affected by the shock wave! The werewolf tore them apart as he fell.

The werewolf howled for the last time before everything fell silent. The monsters were easily defeated.

The crisis was over. The Vindicators began to clean up the university and kill the Aberrants. Some of the Aberrants were Dragon Class, and they had Crystal Hearts. Of course, the Vindicators made sure to loot these treasures.

A few minutes passed and Calix was able to move again. He took a deep breath and carried Lou to the nearest hospital.

It took him only a few minutes to reach the hospital. He was surprised to find most of the people sleeping on the floor. They had been affected by the shock wave and had passed out. Perhaps only a few people like Calix could withstand the Principal's roar.

He was stunned and didn't know what to do because the doctors and nurses were also asleep.

In the end, Calix decided to wait.

.....

"Principal!"

The Vindicators saluted the topless man who emerged from the crater. The man was tall and had curly hair on his chest. He had a thick beard that covered most of his mouth.

He looked like a jungle man who didn't cut or shave his hair.

His name was Principal Lobo Lycan. Almost known as Principal Lycan, the strongest Beastkin.

He was from the Wolf Tribe, and he obviously inherited the traits of his ancestors. He might look like a normal human, but once he transformed, his wolf characteristics would appear.

"What's the status?"

The Principal looked at the remaining Vindicators who could move. Only 1/3 of the Vindicators were awake after his roar. That was why he didn't want to use his ability because everyone around him would be affected.

"All the Aberrants are dead."

"Take care of the rest."

"Yes, Principal!"

Principal Lycan nodded and left. He had something else to do.

He reached the ancient library. As he approached the entrance, the huge door opened and Berto appeared dragging three people. They were the unfortunate survivors from the Council of Torment. Their lives would be miserable after this. They would be tortured to get information and dying would never be easy for them.

Principal Lycan eyed the man. Berto Alb was one of the few people the Principal respected and feared.

Berto Alb was immune to his roar. His Term Attributes were powerful as well. That's why even a Demigod like the Principal took him seriously.

The two big men stared at each other.

"Principal."

"What did you find?"

From the earlier report, the Principal already knew that some people had escaped and stolen some books.

"Bishop Puti, the painter, escaped, and he has the books."

Berto shrugged.

The Principal sighed. He knew Puti. That Bishop was slippery and impossible to catch. He had already expected Puti to escape.

"We lost..."

"Even if we know that the Council will attack, we still failed to prevent them from accomplishing their missions."

Berto agreed.

They protected the university and killed all the Aberrants. However, in the eyes of the two, this battle was a defeat for them.

The Council of Torment achieved its goals and killed people in the process.

"Sometimes I'm jealous of Dellia, they successfully defeated the Council last time."

"Hey, you are the Principal of a prestigious university. You are a citizen of Junian, you should not be jealous of the other countries."

Berto rebuked him.

"Don't give me those patriotic lines, I know you don't respect the King either."

The Principal replied. Both were the same.

"Well..."

Berto looked away. He loved his country, but it was impossible to like the current King.

Chapter 332

The Vindicators immediately imprison the followers of the Council of Torment. They began torturing them and extracting information from them.

At first, the followers kept their mouths shut, even though they were in excruciating pain. However, it was obvious that they too would break.

Eventually, they began to sing what the Vindicators wanted. The Vindicators learned that another person had infiltrated the Ancient Library. This unknown man was fighting against the Council of Torment.

The Vindicators gathered enough information. But unfortunately, they did not get what they wanted to know the most.

"So you don't know how they infiltrated the Ancient Library?"

"Yes, it seemed that only Puti knew the exact way."

Principal Lycan sighed. What he wanted was to know how they infiltrated so that he could prevent it from happening again.

"Looks like we can only increase our security."

Berto Alb agreed.

"What about the unknown person? What was his motive?"

"So far we have no idea. However, we have confirmed that he stole a Chimera egg."

Unlike the Council of Torment, which focused on books and scriptures. The unknown person stole an egg instead.

"You may leave now."

Under the disappointment, the Principal's eyes glowed deeply. It was obvious that he wanted to take revenge. But the Council of Torment was always hiding in the dark, and their movements were unknown to him.

Suddenly, while the Principal was having a gloomy day, his phone rang. He frowned when he realized who was calling him.

"What is it, Pope Slavko? What? You want to talk to me? I see, I see... So the pig king is at least doing his job. Huh? And what if I say that he is a pig? He's so fat that he can't see his penis when he pisses! And why do you ask me how I know that? Isn't it obvious!"

He growled.

...

The night passed and Lou opened her eyes. The place was quite noisy and people were walking around.

She lifted her head and realized that she was in the hospital. The place was busy because a lot of people were injured.

She had no idea why she was here. Her mind was a bit confused and she felt like she had forgotten something important.

The nurses just looked at her and didn't bother to check her out. Lou wanted to ask them, but when she saw their reactions, she timidly closed her mouth.

A few minutes passed and she jumped when she remembered something.

'Calix!'

That's right, she remembered meeting Calix in the alley. Then the Aberrants started to attack and kidnap Calix, but thankfully he came back.

She tried to get up but stopped when a man approached her.

"I'm glad you're okay."

Lou looked at the man.

The man had bangs that covered his face. He didn't have anything unique facial features, but Lou clearly identified him.

She smiled and wiped the tears from her eyes. She sobbed weakly, she was happy.

Calix stroked her hair and Lou smiled. She thought it was a dream, but the truth was sweet as candy.

"I'm sorry you woke up in this place. I tried to negotiate with the doctors to let you rest in a private room, but they wouldn't agree. They said you were quite healthy and just needed to sleep."

At that time, Calix was actually angry and wanted to fight the doctors. But he understood that he was being arrogant. As a man, he wanted the best for his woman. Since he had the financial ability, he wanted to give Lou the best he could.

But when he saw Lou's tired face, he decided to steel his heart and let her rest in this crowded place than fight the doctors.

"It's okay. I'm fine now, thank you C-- I mean Lucky. Thank you, Lucky."

She blushed as she realized she almost said his real name.

They smiled at each other.

But the atmosphere became awkward. Neither of them knew what to say. Lou was too shy to ask about Calix, while Calix wanted her to take her time and rest her mind.

"So..."

"Y-yeah."

They haven't seen each other for almost two years now and they want to have a real conversation. It was already obvious that they have feelings for each other. Still, it was rather embarrassing to talk about it.

"Excuse me, this woman looks healthy and I checked her vitals. Could you please give this bed to another patient? There are people who need this bed more than she does."

The old nurse said it in a condescending tone and Calix didn't like it. He frowned and tried to talk to her, but Lou grabbed his arm instead.

"Yes, the other patient can have the bed."

She smiled at the nurse.

"Lou, you need to rest."

"I'm fine. The nurse is right, a person need this bed more than I do."

Calix had no choice but to give her what she wanted. He still glared at the nurse, but the nurse just shrugged. The nurse was just doing her job.

"Okay, fine."

"L- Lucky, what are you doing?"

Lou was confused when Calix carried her like a princess. She remembered Calix carrying her last night too. She was embarrassed last night and she was still embarrassed now.

"You're not heavy, so you don't have to be afraid."

Calix assured her, but Lou became shy instead. Her face was already red and she hid her face.

Calix carried her out of the hospital. It was quite romantic to be honest.

"Tch. Fucking normies."

The old nurse who witnessed the scene clicked her tongue in annoyance. As she began to change the sheets, she frowned when she found something embarrassing.

She looked behind her and noticed that her white uniform was stained with red blood.

"Why? My period was supposed to start in three days."

Her mood sank again. She decided to use the sheet to cover the fact that she was bleeding! Unfortunately, the other person still saw it, and her face became ugly and humiliated.

Chapter 333

It was really embarrassing to be carried out of the hospital like a princess. Especially when the singles looked at her with deep hatred and jealousy.

Lou hid her face in Calix's chest, ashamed to look at people. It didn't change the fact that she was happy to be carried like that. It made her feel special and protected.

She did not feel any unbalance, Calix carried her well and made sure she was comfortable. She smiled like a child, but no one could see it because she hid her face.

"Hehe."

Still, she could not hide her giggle. She could not help but feel her heart flutter. It feels good to be in love.

The people heard her giggling and their faces turned sour.

Jealous!

Why are we single?

We almost died last night!

No! We want a boyfriend/girlfriend.

They gritted their teeth and promised that they would have a partner after this. It was scary to die alone. Horvart University was full of students.

These students were far from their parents. They have only their friends and partners.

It could be lonely.

That's why the singles decided to make an effort to find a partner...

Anyway, Calix and Lou didn't bother to think about their surroundings.

Calix just walked seriously and made sure that Lou was okay. Right now he was not thinking about squeezing her ass. He just wanted to take Lou somewhere where she could rest.

"Um, Calix? Why do you have a kitten sleeping on your shoulder?"

Now that Lou noticed, she was confused as to why there was a small cat. However, her eyes lit up when she realized that the cat was actually cute!

Women will never hate something adorable. That kind of reaction lived in their veins. As long as it was cute, they would never hate it.

"His name is Mera. I met him last time and decided to adopt him."

Calix didn't add that Mera came from an egg and that he could talk and retract his wings.

It is a good thing he can hide his wings, otherwise it would be troublesome.

He remembered that Mera could also spread his wings. That was why Calix had landed safely, because of the cat. It seemed that Mera could extend and retract his wings on his own accord.

"I see..."

Lou became silent. She thought that Mera was an abandoned kitten. Maybe its mother was killed by the Aberrants last night and the poor cat was adopted by Calix.

Lou felt sorry for the kitten and decided to take care of it together with Calix.

'Huh? Why do I feel like we're preparing to raise a child? Lou, wake up, it's just a kitten. I- It's not like you're having a child or anything!'

"Lou? Are you okay? Your face is red."

Calix was worried when he noticed that Lou was turning red. He picked up his pace to find a hotel where she could rest. Now that he thought about it, he was angry at the nurse for throwing them out. It looked like Lou was still sick.

"N-no! I- I'm fine!"

Lou stammered as she realized she was showing something embarrassing. She blushed as the thought of parenthood crossed her mind.

She felt that starting a family with Calix was not a bad idea. She knew Calix would make a great father and husband.

'He is thoughtful, protective, strong, capable, and most of all, he has a great coc...'

She could not go on. She was becoming a bad girl.

Calix was getting worried while Lou had perverted scenes in her mind. She felt guilty and didn't know what to do.

'Maybe starting a family and having a child was not accepted nowadays. Society wanted a productive individual, not a healthy family.'

"There is a hotel next to this hospital, do you want to rest there?"

"Um... Actually," Lou looked away, her face flushed. "My apartment is just a few blocks away..."

There was a hidden message behind the hesitation, but Calix was too worried to think about it.

He just nodded. He believed that Lou wanted to rest in her own place so that she could rest calmly and comfortably.

"Yes, let's do that."

"Y-yes!"

Lou hiccuped as Calix easily agreed. She thought Calix thought what she thought. This was the many times in her life that she thought something naughty about Calix.

They took a taxi. The taxi driver glanced at them.

Calix carefully put Lou into the car after carrying her. As for Lou, she was already in heaven after experiencing great care. Her lips were curled and she could not help but be happy.

"Lou, may I have your address?"

"Y- Yes!"

Lou was startled when Calix asked for her address. She thought Calix wanted to know it because he wanted to pay her a visit so he could do something naughty to her...

"The taxi driver asked for your address."

"Y-yes!"

Unfortunately, reality hit her with the truth right away. Calix was asking for her address because the taxi driver needed it.

Then she became even more embarrassed and her face was already red as a tomato.

Misunderstanding after misunderstanding...

"I'll also order food on the way, so we'll have something to eat when we get there."

"Yes..."

Lou nodded her head like a koi fish. Well, she would definitely be an adorable koi fish if she was one.

Compared to the other girls, Lou was on the innocent side.

When they reached the building, Calix insisted on carrying her. Lou's embarrassment had already melted into dust. She protested, but Calix's strong arms easily carried her like a princess. In the end, she hid her face while being carried because it was too embarrassing.

Calix and Lou entered her room and the woman was already dying of embarrassment. She hoped that no one would recognize her. But deep inside she was experiencing affection from the opposite sex for the first time. It made her fall in love even more. It would be a lie if she didn't want to experience it again.

Chapter 334

Lou gulped as Calix carefully placed her on the sofa. She swallowed her moan as she caught his masculine scent.

Then she glanced at him and noticed that Calix was looking at his phone after putting Mera down. The kitten yawned tiredly and it seemed that he wouldn't wake up in the meantime.

"Looks like the delivery will take thirty minutes because of the traffic jam. Some roads seem to be blocked. Probably because of the monster attack last night."

"En."

She nodded instinctively, like a shy person who didn't know what to do.

She glanced at Calix, and the man was too engrossed to see her reaction. He was still thinking about what had happened last night. Especially the frightening roar of the Principal. He realized that he had to get stronger.

Lou thought that Calix would start to act, but as the minutes passed. She slowly realized that something was wrong.

She studied Calix and learned that he was thinking deeply about something. His eyes were staring ahead but not focused, as if his mind was somewhere else.

"..."

Realizing that she might be wrong, Lou felt bad and lowered her gaze.

She felt like a pervert. She thought Calix was a pervert who would take advantage of her weakness.

'I can't believe I'm thinking of something inappropriate. Even though Calix's intentions are pure.'

She bit her lip. She could not control her tears and they fell from her eyes.

"Wuwuuu..."

She sobbed and wiped away her tears. Calix had protected her last night. He made sure that she would never encounter anything bad. The Battlesuit Calix gave her kept her alive. It gave her strength and speed to escape the Aberrants. The suit was tough and the monsters could not penetrate it.

Still, Lou thought of something naughty. She was guilty. She could not deny it. So she began to sob, holding her voice.

"Lou? Why are you crying? Are you hurt? Do you want to go back to the hospital?"

"No... I'm fine."

Calix was startled when he heard Lou sobbing. He approached her with a worried look.

"I'm just sad..."

She didn't elaborate. She smiled and tried to wipe away the sadness, but her tears were still there.

"Calix, do you think I'm a bad woman?"

"No."

"Thank you for your consideration..."

Her eyes looked down and she felt pitiful. The whole city was facing a crisis and she was thinking about sex.

Calix became more and more worried and didn't know what to do. So he hugged her to make her happy. He wanted to show her that he was there for her.

"If you want to cry, you can cry on me. I will never ask."

His voice was soft and soothing.

Lou was shocked, but then her voice cracked and she started to cry.

"Waaahhh. I'm a crybaby, I'm sorry for being a crybaby."

"It's normal for a person to cry. In fact, it's better to cry to release all your frustration."

He rubbed her back and spoke nicely, encouraging Lou to feel better.

"I'm a bad girl!"

"There is no perfect person. In my opinion, there is no such thing as a good person, only a person trying to be better."

Calix listened to her cry and never asked her about her problem. He did his best to soothe her feelings.

After a few minutes, Lou stopped crying. Now that her mind was clearer, she realized that she had done something embarrassing again.

As she wiped away her tears, her face was red and flushed.

'Lou, what is wrong with you? Why are you being so dramatic?'

She wondered. She cried and showed Calix her vulnerable side, and the man made her feel better. To be honest, her heart was pounding with happiness after that.

She realized that Calix never hated her, even though she cried like a child in front of him. Still, it didn't change the fact that it was embarrassing.

Seeing that Lou was blushing, Calix put his palm on her forehead to make sure she was okay.

But this simple act of kindness entangled her. The rough palm rubbed against her skin and her breathing stopped for a second.

Then she looked at Calix with teary eyes.

"Calix..."

Her hand unconsciously tugged at Calix's clothes. She wanted to stay close to her.

Calix was surprised at first. But when he saw Lou's expression, he knew that the woman wanted him. Her gaze was inviting, her hand weakly pulling him closer.

He realized what was about to happen and swallowed hard.

"Lou, you're so beautiful."

Calix was not lying. Lou was soft and sweet. She was like an innocent flower when they first met and Calix was happy to be the first to smell her scent. In his opinion, Lou was an addictive flower.

Especially right now, Lou was releasing pheromones. Calix could not help but feel hot and thirsty.

"Mm."

Lou nodded shyly. Her face was already blushing. She asked for more as she closed her eyes. She let her body move on its own.

The two kissed. Their lips touched quickly at first, but the second time was rougher and longer. Then they began to make out until their breathing became ragged.

"Hm, Calix, let's go to my room."

Lou offered after looking at the little kitten. Mera was sleeping peacefully and Lou didn't want to disturb him.

"Okay."

The two went to the room as fast as they could.

"Nnngghh... Aannhh!"

A few minutes later, Lou was riding Calix's cock. She faced him as she slowly gyrated her pussy, her hands on Calix's hair, pulling gently.

"Mmm--! Ah! Ah! Ah! Oh, God! Please, don't stop!"

Her cries grew louder as her hips moved aggressively. She was bouncing on her thick pole and she was cumming sweetly. She could not help it, it was a natural reaction. Her pussy easily accepted Calix's cock as her only one.

That's why her pussy creamed, because she was showing her acceptance to be bred.

"Nnngghh!"

Lou moaned and closed her eyes as the tingling sensation hit her. Now she remembered how long and thick Calix was. She wondered why she had left this cock and chose Horvart University when it was so good.

Fuck college! College had brought her nothing but political agendas!

Chapter 335

The sound of slurping was weakly resounding inside the room.

Lou was currently kneeling down between Calix's legs. The two were having a good time on the bed. The woman was kneeling while the man relaxed his body.

"Glug glug glug..."

She was doing the gawk gawk 9000 on Calix. Her pouty lips glistened with the spits and precum that she sucked out of Calix's cock.

Her face looked blissful and satisfied. Despite having teary eyes, it seemed that she was happy. Her cheeks were wet from the globs of spits. There was pubic hair close to her mouth. However, she was too focused on Calix's that she didn't know it.

"Gurrghh!"

She grunted as she let herself be choked on his cock by deep-throating it. The cock convulsed in her throat and she gagged a few times, causing tears to run down from her eyes.

Calix was watching the whole show. It was something that he would never swap for anything. The fact that a beautiful woman was kneeling in front of him and sucking his cock was a victory in itself. It was something that he would never forget.

Lou's teary eyes. Her glistening lips. Her cheeks were slobbered by his fluids. The spits that were coming out of her mouth every time she pulled out. Everything was already imparted in his mind.

Lou learned sloppy topsey bottom when she had a relationship with Calix. Their time together was short but Lou became well-versed on giving "head". Furthermore, she knew that Calix liked more saliva action. Well, not that she didn't like it.

Even now, she was still drooling over his shaft. It was so thick and she thought that her jaw would dislocate.

Still, she didn't stop her head bobbing. She kept slamming her head up and down, making his rod shiny with her saliva. Sometimes she would reach the base of his cock and rest there for a few seconds. So that Calix would feel the sensation of her throat.

"Kuu--!"

Calix grunted when Lou deepthroated him again. He sighed when Lou released his cock. A thick trail of saliva escaped Lou's mouth and landed on his balls.

It was very wet and slippery. It was fucking amazing.

It could be seen that Lou was thirsty for his cock, as if it was the only source of water in the desert. She kept sucking him. Sometimes she would lick his balls and play with the tip of his penis, causing Calix to flinch and moan.

Calix was staring into her eyes. He swallowed his groan when he confirmed that Lou was enjoying the blowjob.

The enthusiasm, the fast rapid bobbing, the strong suction.

'God damn...'

He cursed deep inside him. Lou was innocent... That was a fucking lie.

Perhaps she was innocent in other ways but definitely not in bed. Calix watched the woman start from being curious and oblivious to the term sex. In fact, he was the one who was responsible for making her like this. However, he could never believe that Lou would become so erotic and hot.

'We only had weeks, yet she became a cocksucker... I wonder what will happen if we had more time.'

Calix took her first time and taught her a lot of things. Lou became a master because Calix was there to teach her.

And now, Lou was showing everything she learned.

"Guh!"

Calix grunted when Lou used her hands and stroked the shaft while sucking. With the pressure of her two hands, squeezing him, and her mouth that was sucking him, Calix almost came.

His hips twitched up and Lou gagged because his cock hit the back of her throat. Her eyes released another wave of tears, yet her gaze was asking for more. Her eyes never leave Calix while sucking his cock.

She wanted to show how good she was-- so that Calix would love her.

After two years, this was her only chance to prove herself. That's why she was doing her best blowjob. By deepthroating hard that she would almost gaggle.

Furthermore, her hands were busy too. Sometimes she would use her hands to jack his cock. While sometimes they were focused on his balls and lightly massaging them.

"... Ugh. Lou... I'm going--"

Before he could even finish his sentence, Lou was already moving her head enthusiastically. She was bobbing rapidly and sucking his shaft. She wanted to taste his sperm in her mouth. She wanted it so well that she was going to be crazy.

He could not hold it anymore and his hips trembled. He moaned loudly. Then, his cock loaded the cum into her mouth.

Lou made sure that nothing would go to waste so her lips were tightly closed around his cock. After a few seconds of pumping, the soft shaft escaped her mouth.

Calix was breathing roughly as he looked at her.

"Mmm..."

Lou's tongue was swirling the sperm. She showed it in front of Calix, the thick white semen was inside her mouth.

Then, she swallowed it hungrily.

The sensation was raw, kinky, and naughty. As if Lou was doing something illegal and should not be shown to anyone.

"Hm~~"

Lou closed her eyes and moaned. She licked her lips. Her expression was one of a kind, his cum satiated her.

.....

...

Darwin was a simple cyclist. He had traveled across Junian last month, he already completed one of his bucket lists. He was happy because he traveled the country using his feet by pedaling his bike.

However, being an adult, it was impossible for Darwin to live without expenditure. That's why he was currently doing his job right now.

Darwin was doing food delivery but this time with a motorcycle. It was exhausting to use a bike when delivering.

He reached his customer's apartment and knocked.

"Food delivery!"

A few seconds later, a sexy woman greeted him. The woman was only wearing a white T-shirt. She was sweating and her cleavage was obvious to see.

"H- here's the payment and the tip."

The woman embarrassingly paid him and tucked her hair behind her ear.

"O- okay."

Darwin was dumbfounded because he was mesmerized. However, he quickly realized that something was wrong.

It was obvious that the woman was exhausted because she was sweating. She probably did something tiring. Furthermore, Darwin smelled a unique scent.

'... She smells like she just had sex.'

The smell of love juice.

Lou quickly closed the door, leaving Darwin with a hard-on. He recalled that time when the guy next to his motel room he rented fucked five girls...

Chapter 336

"Anh! Anh! Ah~"

Their flesh slapping and making noises was quite obvious. Lou was currently moaning as her pussy stretched deeper with each thrust.

She was on all fours - hands and knees on the bed while Calix aggressively pounded her pussy. Gushing sounds could be heard as her crotch was thoroughly wet. They spent all their time fucking after they had eaten 2/3 of the delivered food.

After regaining their strength, the couple went back to fucking as if that was their only purpose.

Lou bit her lips while Calix pounded her ass. She preferred this position, doggy style, because she could hide her expression.

She was embarrassed to show her face because she knew her expression was lewd. Her gaze was unfocused and blurry. She could not help but show an ahegao face as Calix dug deeper into her womb. She was afraid that Calix would think she was a slut.

Lucky for her, Calix did not think badly of her. In fact, he would find it sexy if Lou showed her ahegao face to Calix.

"Mmm--! Ugh ugh ugh ugh ugh!!"

She moaned recklessly, her vision shaking up and down. She didn't know how many times she came. She only knew that Calix's cock had ruined her womb and painted her hole with his thick white cum.

Her fleshy walls were grinding Calix so well and the man was doing his best to hump like an animal. He kept pounding.

Lou's pink pussy was juicy and Calix would never get tired of it.

"Nngghh~"

Fucking Lou from behind made her feel submissive while Calix was in control. All she could do was follow his rhythm, but it all depended on Calix's speed and strength. In fact, her waist was already marked with handprints. Because Calix grabbed her waist all the time.

Sometimes he squeezed her ass and spanked her, which was naughty and hot. She came easily when he spanked her ass.

"Ah! Anh! Aagghhh~!"

With Calix's length, it was easy to reach the deepest part and stimulate her pleasure sensors. Lou was already losing her mind. Her body was only moving and her pussy was only sucking Calix's cock, making sure it fit snugly.

Lubricated? Her private parts were already well lubricated by her own juices.

Ecstasy? They were already in a frenzy of intense pleasure. They didn't need any drugs to feel good, even kissing was enough to make them come.

Love? They were flooded with it so much that they didn't want to stop. All they wanted was to stay close to each other, to feel each other's warmth. The feeling of their skin rubbing against each other was so nice and comfortable.

"Ngggnnhh!"

Their sweat, spit, and other bodily fluids mixed in the bed, and the smell was so strong. The two were busy with each other.

Lou's milky white ass had red bruises. Calix's strong grip left prints. Still, the woman bent over and arched her back, the shape of her ass was well endowed. Calix could see her milky ass bouncing every time it collided with his crotch.

"So good... Your cock is so good Calix~"

Lou was a smart woman, but right now her expression looked stupid like she was not thinking. Despite her pussy being fucked, Lou's brain was also being stirred. Even though the two organs were far away from each other.

"Aannhh~"

She moaned sweetly and grabbed the sheet. The puddle of cum on the bed was already big and getting bigger.

"Lou!"

Calix roared and pulled his cock out of her gaping hole. He began to stroke his shaft and came all over her ass. His cum splattered and painted her milky ass.

"Mmm..."

Lou gasped and moaned. She put her head down while her ass twitched in the air.

Calix's long pole rested over her ass, grinding between her cheeks.

The couple was tired but happy. Lou turned her head and looked at Calix, giving him the most beautiful smile she ever had. She giggled and wiggled her ass, making his cock move.

"It feels so good."

She wasn't lying. She loved being spanked, but coming on her ass was not bad either. His hot cum scalded her skin. Well, as long as Calix was with her, she preferred everything.

Exhausted, Lou closed her eyes and fell asleep. But the smile on her face never faded.

"Have a nice rest, Lou."

Calix kissed her neck and back gently. He helped her sleep in a nice position and cleaned her body so that she would feel great when she woke up.

He used a wet towel and wiped her sweaty skin. He marveled at how he had fucked this masterpiece of a body, Lou was so sexy and he felt lucky to have sex with her.

After cleaning her up and knowing she slept well, Calix took a shower. He yawned after leaving the bathroom and rested next to Lou.

Actually, Calix hadn't slept much yesterday. Last night's crisis was too frightening for him to sleep. Besides, he was worried about Lou at that time.

Now that the situation was over and he had time to rest, Calix closed his eyes and slept next to her. His arms were around Lou, spooning her.

A few seconds later, Lou snuggled closer and rested her head on his shoulder. Calix, my man, got rizz.

They slept well.

.....

.....

...

Melbed, the capital of Junian. It was a prosperous city with flying cars everywhere. Busy people walked around to reach their destinations. It was a lively place to live.

Despite hearing that Horvart University had been attacked by flying Aberrants. The people just felt bad, but they quickly moved on.

After all, monster attacks were common in their land. Junian would only take it seriously if a strong Aberrant attacked them. Just like last time during the Blood Moon.

"Principal!"

A buff man was greeted by dozens of soldiers and led to a secluded place.

The atmosphere in the room was cold. This was the reception room for VIPs, and only a few people could use it.

"I thought you weren't coming."

A lanky blonde man appeared and greeted the muscular man.

"Pope Slavko..."

"Principal Lycan..."

The two gentlemen greeted each other and smiled. Although it was obvious that they were hiding their true feelings.

Chapter 337

Pope Slavko approached him with an eerie smile and held out his hand. Principal Lycan looked at his hand, but finally shook it.

They had known each other for a long time. However, because of the faction they represented, it was impossible for them to have a friendly relationship. Besides, they had different beliefs.

Principal Lycan was a member of the Wolf Tribe, while Pope Slavko was a member of the Church of Love.

The Principal's tribe usually believed that absolute power was the answer to everything.

As for the Church of Love, they would love anyone, anything, anywhere. Their love could break through any barrier. Love could heal the broken, and their church had billions of followers around the world.

'I will not be fooled.'

Principal Lycan knew that behind the loving smile. The Church of Love was nothing but an organization that extorted money from its followers. The Church built countless temples in different countries because of these donations...

But it was only a small part of the total amount of money the Church made each year. They are rich as hell, maybe they were on par with Cudgel Tech.

Unlike Cudgel Tech, the Church didn't have to disclose the donations.

'They claim that the donations go to the poor countries and feed the needy...'

Principal Lycan would not believe it, especially when he scanned the Pope's fashion. The Pope was wearing a neat black suit with gold lining. It cost millions of dollars and the Pope only wore this suit once. The Pope would never wear the same suit. He had a new one every day.

In addition, his necklace and rings were adorned with precious jewels. Principal Lycan would never know the exact amount. But he knew that the Pope would throw them away if he used them once.

"The king should be pleased to see us."

Hearing what the Pope said, Principal Lycan could not help but scoff in disgust.

"You know the king is an arrogant bastard, he never respects us. Especially a Beastkin like me."

"..."

Pope just smiled. He didn't answer because he was in the royal family's castle. Maybe there were spy devices that could record their conversation. It was better to keep his mouth shut.

"Huh? As always, you are a coward. What if they can hear me? What are they going to do? Besides, I'm not lying. The king is a racist. He believes that a pure-blooded human is better than a Beastkin descendant."

"Come on, you don't have to be like that."

Pope Slavko furrowed his brow. This was one of the reasons why he didn't want to go to this place with Principal Lycan.

Unfortunately, this meeting was important, and as the leader of the largest Congregation. Pope Slavko had to show his face.

"What is it with you? I heard that you have a problem these days."

"About that..."

"I won't force you to talk."

"No, it's okay," The Pope sat in the chair and sighed. The modern world was poisoning the minds of young people.

"I'm just depressed about the double standards these days."

"Okay?"

Principal Lycan tilted his head in confusion.

"When two girls kiss, people say it's hot and sexy."

"Indeed."

He agreed, watching two girls make out was arousing.

"But when I kiss my homie good night, people say I'm gay! Where does this double standard come from?"

The Pope roared, venting his frustration. This issue had been bothering him all along.

"..."

"It is unfair that girls can kiss each other without being frowned upon by society. But when two men kiss each other... sigh."

A long sigh escaped his mouth. As Pope of the Church of Love, it was his duty to promote the goodness and love of the Goddess Amore.

"Our revelation is simple: You can love anyone, no matter what gender, no matter what object, no matter what hocus-pocus. Examples include pans, aliens, animals, and little children, everyone can be loved! Praise the Goddess Amore!"

This guy will never change, his faith makes him blind.

Love the animals? No problem.

But to love the animals? That's the fucking problem.

Let's not talk about children, aliens, or anything questionable. The Church of Love will respect everything as long as it's categorized as 'love'.

The muscular man shook his head. As a man, it would be disturbing if he kissed his homies...

'Well, maybe a good night kiss is not so bad. Anyway, the Church of Love has some questionable beliefs. Some of them are downright criminals.'

The two leaders had a few conversations, but they never touched on anything sensitive. Like the ongoing friction between the two countries. They already had an idea.

This meeting was important and only the Principal and the Pope would attend.

A few minutes later, the door opened and the two leaders stood up and greeted the king.

"May the glory of Junian fall before the King!"

The two said it at the same time, although the Pope was the only one who was enthusiastic about it. Lycan just said it normally.

"Hm, it is nice to know that you, lowly insects, understand your position."

"..."

Principal Lycan didn't change his expression. However, he looked at Pope Slavko with his eyes and declared: "Don't you see what I'm saying?"

Pope Slavko just smiled. He already knew that the King had been brought up with the doctrine that royalty was the highest authority. Anyone below him was a servant to be used.

"I don't want to stay here too long, because we have a stupid dog here."

The King spoke as he stared at Principal Lycan with disgust.

Veins appeared on Lycan's face, but he did his best to keep his expression. He was currently inside the castle and this place was heavily protected. He would only die if he did something.

"I have already made a decision, I want you to prepare for the upcoming war! How dare these stupid primates act like they can defy me! If it weren't for the treaty my father signed, I would have burned their homeland to the ground by now. But now that they have given me a reason, I will see to it that Dellia will never live again!"

The King was obviously mad.

As for the two leaders, they just bowed their heads. They already knew that this arrogant king would never be satisfied with peace.

Chapter 338

While Calix was piping Lou at Horvart University, a secret meeting was being held in Dellia that only a few select people were allowed to attend.

The place was well-lit, but it was quiet and reserved.

"I can't believe I'm here, I have a lot to do."

Marianne frowned as she looked around. She confirmed that some of the participants had already arrived.

After the announcement that Marianne would be the next leader of the Francine Clan, her life became very busy. If not because this meeting was important to her, she would go to her other appointments.

"Look who's talking, you're not the only one who's busy."

Scarlett rolled her eyes. She crossed her legs and leaned back in her chair. Her schedule was packed. Now that she was the matriarch of the Robinson Clan, she had more things to do. If not for her father helping her in the shadows, Scarlett's career might have been hard.

The elders respected her for her talent. But she was still young, and even the other clans snickered behind her back.

"Everyone is busy. Even Nikki, who is taking care of Patricia, is busy," Kimberly added.

"Y-yes."

Nikki agreed with what Kimberly said. Her voice was still weak as usual.

"Ah, I miss Calix. All I do every day is work here and there, and travel to dangerous places. I can only stalk him once a week, but it's still not enough. I want to see him~"

Yuna grumbled and the other women kept their mouths shut. It was obvious that they agreed with her.

They all sighed at the same time. They miss Calix even though they see him at least once a week. The barrier of long-distance relationships affected them so much.

"Hey Kimberly, when are you going to make another call?"

Scarlett looked at the woman with the glasses. She was talking about the phone that could contact Calix without being detected by the Junian network.

"The parts and components are hard to come by."

"Give me a list, I can contact my assistant to find them."

"Me too."

It seemed that Marianne and Scarlett wanted their own phones to communicate with Calix.

"Like I said, the parts and components are hard to find."

Kimberly nonchalantly adjusted her glasses and grinned at them.

"Tch!"

The two women clicked their tongues. Judging by Kimberly's annoying expression, she would never make phones for them, even if they could get the parts. It was obvious that she never wanted the others to contact Calix.

"Uuhhh..."

Yuna was grumbling, emaciated, and depressed. Her job was quite exhausting and it was taking its toll on her. She looked at Nikki, who was fidgeting in the corner, making herself small.

That giant woman is really...

Yuna could not deny it, but Nikki was the most well-behaved of them all. She was always quiet, rarely spoke, and she was modest. She was also the only mother in the group and had enough experience in raising a family.

The women were serious. They were all looking forward to having a baby, and Nikki's experience was important to them.

"Hey, how's Patricia?"

Yuna asked. She liked Patricia because she was cute and sweet. The little girl liked Yuna's cooking.

"S- she is fine. She transferred to another school and has already made friends."

Nikki was happy to see her daughter smiling and telling stories about her school life.

"If it wasn't for me being able to read your lips, I'd never understand what you're saying."

As usual, Nikki's voice was weaker than an ant.

"I'm jealous that you can retire from the army. Unlike me. The Army really needs my Term Attribute and it's impossible to quit just like that."

Yuna became even more depressed. At this sad moment, she really needs Calix's huge PP.

Nikki retreated after the Blood Moon. She didn't want to risk her life. She had a daughter to protect and being a soldier was not the best job for her.

She decided to go into business instead. Now Nikki made cakes and pastries. Her bakery was famous in the capital after a well-known food blogger reviewed her shop and gave it a perfect five stars.

Of course, it was definitely NOT because of Calix's luck... ahem.

"As soon as my mission is over, I will visit your shop and play with Patricia. I miss that little girl."

Yuna smiled.

"I want to come too, contact me when you're going."

Kimberly joined the conversation. She was also close to Patricia.

"Count me in."

Scarlett didn't want to be left alone.

"Thanks, I'll bake cookies and cakes for you."

Nikki shyly nodded her head. She was happy to see that so many people loved her daughter.

"..."

As for Marianne, she bit her lip. She also wanted to join in and see the cute little girl, but she was too proud to speak. She didn't want to lower herself.

In the end, Marianne continued to stare at Nikki. The tall woman was sweating because she thought Marianne was angry with her. Nikki lowered her head, afraid to meet Marianne's gaze.

'Why don't you look? Can't you see I want to join in? Go ahead! Go ahead and invite me!'

Marianne said with a look.

But Nikki misunderstood and thought that Marianne was staring daggers at her.

Their conversation ended when they felt a new person arrive. A woman with dark skin entered the room, she had a seductive figure and strutted in.

"Look who we have here? The matriarch of Robinson, the heir of Francine, the COO of Cudgel Tech, the teleporter of the army... and a traitor. What a nice combination!"

Esmeralda grinned beautifully and sat down in the nearest chair. She looked around and nodded.

"You picked a nice place to meet, this place is well-lit. I suppose you are afraid of me."

She shrugged. The others didn't like her attitude, but they remained calm. It was stupid to face the President in a fight.

"Good evening, everyone. Let's have a nice evening."

Esmeralda giggled.

Chapter 339

The atmosphere was cold, even though the women were having a nice dinner. It was already night outside. But the light in the room illuminated them strongly.

The women were using their utensils, cutting the food in front of them. But no one could taste the dishes, everyone was thinking of something.

"I want Calix to cancel the mission. I don't know what the mission is, but I don't want Calix to go to another country. You can use another person to do the job, but I don't want Calix to be a part of it."

Scarlett's crimson eyes glowed. She never touched the food, she stared at the President.

"I don't approve."

Esmeralda shook her head. Calix was the only one who could do it. He would find Toshi Densetsu.

"..."

Scarlett narrowed her eyes. Not just her, but all of them were staring at Esmeralda. It seemed that they all wanted Calix to stay in Dellia instead of working outside the country.

"I see. So the reason you called me here is to convince me to bring Calix back. Sorry, he has to finish his work first."

"We are not here to convince you."

Kimberly spoke this time. She pulled out tiny pieces of paper, which enlarged and became a stack of documents.

The documents landed in front of Esmeralda. She looked at them and read a few keywords.

"Fufu."

She began to giggle as she realized their intention.

"We are not here to convince you, we are here to order you to return Calix to Dellia."

Kimberly looked like a dominating CEO this time. Working in a corporation had changed her. Showing weakness was the last thing she needed to do, she had to show that she was the boss here.

Esmeralda could not help but chuckle as she watched their expressions. All of the women stared at her in earnest. They were not joking.

"So you're threatening me."

What was written on the documents was simple - it was proof that Esmeralda was not human. She was a Dark Elf.

The last time Kimberly and Marianne met with Principal Rinaha Beth, the Principal said that Esmeralda Margaret was not human.

Since then, Kimberly has been working and gathering information about the President. Some of it was false, but Kimberly could tell the real from the fake. Then she reached the point where she realized that Esmeralda Margaret is a Dark Elf. And because of her ability, she is a High Dark Elf.

It may sound simple, but the consequences after this was revealed were troublesome.

In this current era, there was no such thing as a pure-blooded demihuman. Everyone was tainted by mortals, and the strong species of demihumans had long since disappeared. Hundreds of years ago.

Esmeralda was the proof that this was just nonsense. Demihumans still exist.

"From your ability, I can deduce that you lived long before the Junian Kingdom was created."

Demihumans become stronger the longer they live, and Esmeralda was at the Demi-God rank.

"I'm sure many people will be interested in you once this information comes out."

Kimberly smiled.

"Interesting, you are interesting. You are all doing this for one man."

"Yes. It's all for Calix."

Esmeralda could see they were not joking. Then she could not control herself and laughed out loud.

"What a joke! Haha! I can't believe it!"

She touched her stomach. Tears were forming from laughing too hard.

"Let's all be honest here. We want Calix for his power, we never love him."

"Don't mock my feelings!"

Scarlett was really offended this time. She gritted her teeth so hard that her lips almost bled.

"You don't know what you're saying, I've loved Calix since I was young. I have known him longer than anyone here. Don't you dare belittle my love for him!"

She was angry, but Esmeralda just shrugged.

"Okay, but what about the others?"

The President scanned the women one by one and she could see that some of them were guilty.

"Let's say you do love Calix, but part of that is because of his power. You never really love him."

Kimberly closed her mouth. She could never answer, she needed Calix to use the Runes.

Marianne just looked down. Even now she wanted to use Calix to break through and become a 3rd Advanced.

Even Yuna was affected by the remarks. Her Sanity and Term Attribute relied heavily on Calix.

As for Nikki... She didn't need Calix, except for his dick. Perhaps she was the least to blame. Nikki loved Calix without asking for anything in return.

Still, they have strong feelings for Calix. Even if they have their reasons, it is true that they love him. And to mock their feelings for Calix was maddening as hell.

All of them stared at Esmeralda with deep coldness in their eyes. With anger and hatred, they realized that they would never forgive Esmeralda, no matter what.

"We are people who want to use others. Just like you use Calix, I'll use him."

She crossed her legs, shortening her skirt so that her dark brown legs shone under the chandelier.

"And if you want to expose my identity, you can."

Suddenly the light went out and everything went dark.

"But you must understand that your lives will be in danger."

Black tendrils crawled out of nowhere and tried to attack the women.

However, each of them was able to defend themselves against the tendrils.

Scarlett casually burns the dark vines to ashes.

Marianne froze them into statues.

Kimberly wore her battle suit and subdued them.

Nikki summoned her hammer and smashed the vines.

As for Yuna, she teleported behind Esmeralda and pointed a knife at her throat, ready to stab her to death.

"Impressive. I see none of you are mediocre."

Esmeralda nodded. She was confirming something.

'As expected, they also evolve. Calix's luck is out of this world. Someone like him can't live a peaceful life, not when he can change a person's fate.'

Esmeralda closed her eyes, then opened them again after a few seconds.

"If you have nothing else to say, I will leave."

Esmeralda stood up and nonchalantly took the knife from Yuna.

"This is not over."

They glared at her.

"I know, but if we fight now, you will all die."

Esmeralda vanished and the light returned.

Scarlett and the others gasped as they realized Esmeralda was gone. Her presence had been so strong.

"So this is the strongest Vindicator of Dellia..."

Kimberly wiped her sweat.

Each of them was shocked. Even if they fought Esmeralda together, they knew they would only die.

Chapter 340

"Nom nom nom nom. Thank you, Papa! This is so delicious!"

Mera's tail wagged happily as he munched on his food. Just as Calix had promised, he fed Mera tuna, wagyu, and premium cat food. Mera seemed to love them all.

His little mouth ate them greedily as if he hadn't eaten in a thousand years.

"If you want, we can order more. Just say so."

"En!"

The cat nodded and continued eating. His food sat on the white porcelain plate, his cute little paws painted by the grease.

"Oh, what a cute little cat!"

Lou immediately fell in love with the kitty. Although she was still confused as to how a kitten could talk, she thought it was an Aberrant.

But when she saw Calix's reaction, Lou realized that the kitten was harmless. Moreover, she could not help but smile whenever she looked at it, her heart melting.

'On top of that, the kitten is calling Calix Dad!'

'I feel like I'm watching a child... Calix's child.'

"Papa, thank you for the food. I love it so much!"

The calico cat pawed Calix's fingers to show his appreciation.

"Don't worry, I'll order again later."

"Yay!"

His fingers rubbed the cat's neck, and Mera purred happily.

"Haaamm... Papa, I want to sleep again."

After a hearty meal, Mera wanted to rest. He found a nice spot on the sofa and curled into a ball.

It had been two days since the Aberrants had attacked Horvart University. There was some chaos, but the people adapted quickly. After all, it was not the first time this had happened.

Being attacked by flying monsters was the norm. Perhaps only Dellia lived with the privilege of being safe.

"Are you hungry Lou? I can cook for you?"

He looked at the woman. Lou was wearing a thin nightgown, almost transparent. Her bottle-shaped silhouette was clearly visible. Calix hid his swallowing.

"Me? I'm fine. We ate a lot last night."

She blushed and looked away. She was still not used to Calix. She could not help but be shy around him.

Even though they shared a passionate love. Where their bodies almost melted into one, where their bodily fluids mixed, it seemed that Lou was still embarrassed. Especially when she remembered what she had done last night.

'Oh my God, I did something inappropriate and lewd! I hope Calix doesn't hate me...'

She muttered to herself. Then she noticed that her pale white skin was covered with tons of bruises. Some of them were from Calix's palm, while others were from his lips...

She blushed as she realized that her body was marked by him.

"Are you sure you don't want to eat?"

"Huh? I-I think I will eat..."

She jumped when she heard his voice. She lost her mind for a second.

"Okay. I'll cook for you."

He entered the kitchen.

First, he checked the available ingredients so he could decide what dish to make.

"Salt, check. Pepper, check. Garlic and onion... Check."

But as Calix scanned the entire kitchen, he noticed something disturbing.

He opened the refrigerator and sure enough...

"Lou?"

"Yes?"

Lou approached him after she had calmed down enough to face him.

"Don't you have anything to eat but noddles?"

His voice trembled. He looked straight into her eyes and Lou immediately realized something embarrassing.

Her entire cabinet was filled with nothing but noddles. Instant noddles, cup noddles, ramen noddles! Noddles everywhere.

No matter what people say, noddles can save a college student's allowance.

"I- It's not what you think! O- Of course I eat other food. It's just that noodles are too cheap, and they can fill my stomach... Calix? What are you doing?"

She stopped when she noticed that Calix was depressed.

He sighed. Now he realized that the woman in front of him had eaten tons of noodles every day just to get by. Life at this university was harder than he thought.

Calix pulled Lou into his arms and hugged her tightly.

"Wah!"

The woman was stunned, she tried to push him away, but Calix was strong. Her legs felt like jelly when she heard his hard spank.

"Promise me that you will never eat this unhealthy food again. If you want to eat noodles, I know a nice ramen shop. I can take you there."

His voice was soft and caring, but Lou could feel the sadness.

She closed her eyes. As if she had a choice. She could not bear to see him sad for even a second.

"I will. I promise I will never eat unhealthy food again, I will eat right."

"That's good."

He let her go and kissed her forehead. Then a teasing smile appeared on his face.

"I think I know the reason why you are gaining weight."

"!!!"

Shock.

Unbelieving.

Surprise.

Lou could not believe that Calix would say something so serious!

"W-what are you saying!? I'm not fat!"

She quickly defended herself.

"Of course I said you gained weight, I never said you were fat. Besides, your ass has gotten a lot fluffier."

"Calix!"

She pouted.

"But of course, I want to show you that I'm not lying."

"Kyah--! What are you doing?"

Calix grabbed her waist and pulled her closer.

His hands explored her back and reached her fluffy ass.

"See? I'm not lying."

"D- don't give me that cheeky smile of yours!"

She protested, but he didn't let go. Her thin nightgown was invaded and Calix's palm rightfully grabbed her ass.

"Mmm~"

Lou moaned uncontrollably.

His fingers gently caressed her slit, rubbing her thin petals. Lou arched back and placed her hands on his chest.

"C-Calix, I think you need to stop."

Anything more would drive Lou insane.

"But I want more."

He kissed her neck and Lou shivered.

"N-no. Mmm--"

She finally bit her lip as Calix's fingers caressed her cunt.

"Turn around."

"... Yes."

Lou's body moved on its own. She placed her hands on the kitchen table. She lifted her ass where Calix could see her pink labia glistening over her own fluid.
