

Only Fuel 51

Chapter 51

Seven hours already passed since they started having sex, their sweat mixed and covered the mattress. Even the smell of the room was filled with the scent of their lovemaking. Yet, they didn't stop and continued what they were doing. In fact, the more time they spent with each other, the stronger their love becomes.

However, one thing was slowly appearing. It was endurance. Last time, Calix always won because he had great endurance and achieved victory in the end. Scarlett would close her eyes because of fatigue and sleep, that's how their sex would end.

But it was different this time. Calix was the one who couldn't keep up with Scarlett's relentless stamina. No matter how much he tried to bang her, the woman won't get tired. Even right now, Scarlett was moaning and crying as her pussy get stretched yet it was obvious that she had more strength to spare compared to Calix.

Calix buckled up and his big cock erupted inside her. God knows how much he loves to cum inside her. He wanted to continue thrusting his dick but his body couldn't keep up anymore. He was tired and wanted to rest.

"Ugh!"

Calix was panting, he couldn't believe what was happening. He sat on the chair after finishing, his knees got tired but it was obvious that he wanted more.

"Say... You're not going to end it with just one night right? Fufu, this is my revenge for what you did to me this last week."

Scarlett licked her lips seductively. Now, she was in control.

She straddled and sat on his lap, she grabbed his still hard cock and put it in. Her lust was insatiable and Calix couldn't help but grunt.

To make the story short. Calix and Scarlett fuck for two days... They are both monsters, I tell you. It is fortunate that they have strong stamina. Calix's Term Attribute helped him to keep up with Scarlett. As for Scarlett, she is superhuman and can even last for four days. Overall, their sex was so intense and the bed was destroyed...

Scarlett yawned and stretched her arms, she was the first to wake up. For the whole two days, she and Calix continued fucking. They had rest between here and there, they would order food from the hotel and eat them, they didn't get out of their room and just live like NEETS. Then, after replenishing their strength, they would start fucking again, in each different position, exploring how their bodies work. Their lives revolve in that way for two days.

It was actually fun, they spent all their time knowing each other. Scarlett loved it when Calix kissed her and fuck her slowly, the sensation was different and she could feel him better. She felt like she was being cherished. But whenever Calix ravaged her as if there were no more days to come, Scarlett would squeal and her world would rotate all around.

"Fufu, such a cute guy..."

Scarlett giggled looking at Calix who was sleeping peacefully, he looked like an innocent child. Suddenly, the thought of having a child entered her mind. Imagining a small Calix calling her mama is the best. She stroked her tummy as she imagined it.

"... Sadly, it will be detrimental right now. However, I promise that I will carry your child, no matter what."

She kissed his cheek and Calix started opening his eyes, he yawned and rubbed his eyes. Then, he looked at his side and realized that Scarlett was looking at him. Calix chuckled and pulled her closer, he was tired but it was fun and romantic. In fact, he wanted to do it again. Well, they still have time since Scarlett rented this room for a week.

"Have I already told you that you're so beautiful?"

"Gosh, baby don't give me that kind of pick-up line." She giggled and weakly slapped his shoulder.

"That's not a pickup line, I'm just stating the obvious. You're so pretty."

"Geez." She kissed him, "Are you happy now?"

"No, I want more."

"You animal." She smiled and kissed him, but this time she kissed him with tongue action. "Are you satisfied now?"

"How can I get satisfied when there's a goddess next to me."

"Sheesh."

Scarlett blushed and couldn't take it anymore. Calix is too much, he said all those things without blinking, he was honest. This caused Scarlett to cover her face, she was bright red. She was embarrassed but the corners of her lips kept twitching. Butterflies fluttered in her stomach, she was happy that Calix complimented her. A lot of people said that she was pretty and elegant but Calix was the only one who could make her blush.

"Hm? Scarlett, what happened? Are you crying?"

"N-no, I'm just tired."

"Then why are you hiding your face?"

"I-It's... please don't tease me anymore."

Scarlett hid her face on his chest, she didn't want to look at him because she knew that Calix was looking at her with affection. She might die in too much sweetness if she stared at him, so she decided to hide her face. Calix tapped her head, the way he did it was comforting and made her heart at ease.

'H- He's a keeper!'

Scarlett knew Calix since they were children. And she was confident about one thing, this man had a tendency of doing everything for his loved ones. That's why Calix didn't hesitate to cut his ties because he didn't want any of his loved ones to be affected.

'I- If we married, it's obvious that he will pamper me a lot...'

She snuggled more, her body was fidgeting as she couldn't handle the imagination( prediction). Her lips touched his chest and gave him smooches, her lips instinctively moved.

As she worked her lips, she saw his scars. Calix has scars around his body, perhaps because of his Backlash. But there was one thing that feels out of place.

"Calix, these scars on your shoulder, where did you get them?"

She asked, she felt like the scars were intentionally created just to make Calix suffer.

"That's..."

Calix saw her expression and realized that he couldn't lie. Scarlett is sensitive and she could see if Calix lied. More than that, Calix didn't want to lie to her. He took a deep breath and answered honestly.
