Chapter 65

Calix opened his eyes, he didn't know why he felt fresh as if someone sucked all his negativity. He groaned and looked at his surroundings.

"Ugh."

"U- Um, so you are awake!"

Kimberly greeted him, she was mixing lemon juice and licking her lips. For a moment, Calix thought that there was milk on Kimberly's lips but it disappeared.

Not that it matters anyway. Calix held his head because it was aching, the injury he got earlier was throbbing. He touched his head and felt the lump, it was stinging. He grumbled and bowed his head because of pain.

"I- I have a lemonade for you."

Kimberly was stuttering and her face was bright red like a tomato. She was acting like she was guilty of something.

She gently gave him the lemonade and Calix slowly drank it. He felt hydrated and sighed in relief.

Calix stared at her, he tilted his head and found something. He raised his hand and pointed at her cheek.

"Miss Kimberly, is that pubic hair?"

"Ah!! No- No. It's not." Kimberly wiped her face and acted as if nothing happened. "Perhaps you're just dizzy and you need to rest."

"Perhaps, my head is aching so much ... Ugh!"

"Just lay down, you have to rest. You can stay here till you get better, you are welcome to stay here anytime you want."

Kimberly helped Calix to lay down on the bed. Calix had heavy eyelids, he was getting sleepy again.

"Thank you."

Calix closed his eyes and dozed off again. His breathing became relaxed and he succumbed to sleep.

As for Kimberly...

"Phew, I almost got caught."

She was tapping her cheeks. She couldn't believe that she did that. She even had pubic hair on her face without knowing.

"I can't help it. Sucking him made me hot and I can't think about anything!"

Despite having a deep concentration, when it comes to her feelings, Kimberly is always in disorder. She would turn into a simple girl when it comes to her feelings, she would follow her heart instead of her brain.

"He almost saw the sperm on my mouth. If I didn't lick my lips, I'm sure he will see it... Gosh, what am I doing!?"

She kicked the floor. She was in turmoil and ashamed of herself.

She was sucking his dick five minutes ago. It was a wonderful sensation, she couldn't believe that she could feel pleasure while doing a blowjob. In fact, her fingers stayed inside her underwear and kept fingering herself, she cum thrice while sucking him.

She was in bliss, she didn't even hesitate to gulp down his cum because she knew that it was going to taste good. If Calix didn't wake up, Kimberly knew to herself that she would ride on his cock. It was a mystery how a sleeping man seduced her.

'N- no, I hate to admit this but he didn't seduce me... At first, I was intrigued when I looked at his pants. Then things became hazy, I only realized that I'm doing something wrong when everything was over.'

She was justifying her actions, deep inside she knew that she remembered all of them. Her Focus Term Attribute made her remember things even when they happened two decades ago.

"... It's just that I can't control myself even though I knew that it was wrong."

She bit her lip, she was acting like a foolish woman whenever she thinks about Calix. And now that the young man was in front of her, everything burst out of her and she started doing silly things.

She was ashamed of herself and facepalm.

"I have to reset my mind, that's the only way to remain calm."

Kimberly had a way to overcome this seduction. She was actually confused why she didn't think about it when she was looking at his pants.

"I should have done this before I even touched his pants, I should have escaped from the seduction."

She regretted it and sighed.

Kimberly has a Backlash that whenever she took off her glasses, she would become clumsy and dumb. To reset her mind, she only had to take her glasses off and become dumb for three minutes. It was actually simple.

Kimberly took off her glasses and the Backlash would act up after thirty seconds of not wearing her glasses. She should have left this room before she took off her glasses.

Now, her dumb self was acting on its own.

"Fufu, this cute boy is so damn attractive! Such a cutie, I couldn't believe that I milked a hot person like him!"

She started acting like a silly flirty girl who always spread her legs for a pretty guy. Her actions were amorous and her eyes moved up and down scanning Calix with hidden intention. She was acting coy.

"I wonder if I can do it again. Maybe I can further go beyond the boundary."

She got close to him and rubbed his abs, it was tough as if she was touching a hundred-year Mahogany tree. She purred and whispered something in his ears.

"You got a big cock Sir Calix, fufu, and it tastes so goooooood~!"

Yup, she was acting dumb right now. With no rationality and just moving based on her instincts, to procreate with Calix. To be fair, her Backlash would be different if Calix wasn't here. She would only do stupid things such as eating three slices of cake or watching cringe romantic movies such as Twilight.

"Let's see if your cock is awake- Ah!"

Kimberly wanted to touch his cock but she lost her balance and stumbled upon the table. She was starting to show her clumsy side, she tried to stand up but she lost her balance and fell again.

"Sheesh!"

She was pouting and she looked cute despite being frustrated.

"Ah, I remember. Kimberly, you're such a forgetful person, tehe."

Thanks to falling, she remembered why she took off her glasses. It was to reset her mind so that she could think straight again. It was stupid to forget it even though she just instructed it two minutes ago.

Kimberly grabbed her glasses and put them on and after thirty seconds her clarity returned and she could think straight again.

"... Just like I thought, Calix has a Term Attribute. Or else I will not act like this."

She fixed her glasses and glared at Calix. She felt that she was being played. Because she could concentrate again, she immediately understood what was happening. She was not a genius without a reason.
