

Only Fuel 84

Chapter 84

Their time together was a smooth ride, just like Kimberly's healthy legs, huhu.

First of all, let's erase the part where they would fuck like rabbits and addicted to creating children. Let's disregard that. It was obvious anyway.

Every day, Kimberly and Calix would research the pistol, and when afternoon arrives Calix would help Kimberly how to further shrink the battle suit. Of course, since creating runes was a big factor of that research and Kimberly could not write it endlessly. She would ask for Calix to... You know, to refuel her ability to write runes, she had to be stuffed with semen here and there.

Kimberly did not think that it was a problem because she finds having intimate time with Calix the best period of her everyday life. She would cry in satisfaction. So it was a win-win situation for her, she could continue her research while having sex with Calix. It was the best scenario that she ever had since she started this research.

In fact, she does not have any intention of quitting. She was already addicted to Calix, his smell, his smile, his touch, Kimberly could not live without him. Now that she experienced this kind of life, she was afraid to lose him.

In a way, Kimberly became unfortunate when she met him. Because Calix could give her a hole that may never be patched on. Calix was like a drug, he brings a lot of good effects but his whole existence was a curse. Especially if Calix would remain loyal to Scarlett.

Kimberly was afraid of that moment where Calix would choose between her and Scarlett. She knew that Calix would choose Scarlett. That moment would break her, probably kill her to tears.

They knew each other since they were children, they had a deep bond that no one could severe. Kimberly was desperate to cut this bond between them, yet she knew that it would be impossible.

'Not with him being like this... I know that he's trying to act cool but he can't fool me. Every day, he will take some time and he will try to call his girlfriend... I don't know if it's lucky that he can't talk to her or not. Because Calix is starting to worry about her, this makes Calix anxious and always think about her. As expected, Scarlett is strong even if she's not around.'

Kimberly found her identity, Calix's girlfriend is Scarlett Robinson. Kimberly was really surprised when she confirmed it but when she further dug her information, she realized that Scarlett and Calix are childhood friends. This makes the situation tougher to crack, Kimberly admitted that it won't be easy to steal him.

"Kimberly, someone is calling you."

Her train of thoughts stopped when Calix talked to her. She raised her head and sweetly smiled at Calix without her knowing, she wiped the sweat on her forehead and asked.

"Hm? Who is it?"

"They say that they are employees under your father, they didn't say their names."

"I see."

Kimberly fixed her glasses, dropped the pen that she was using to create Runes, and went to them.

"You look tense, do you want me to go with you?"

Calix asked, he was worried. He took her hand and Kimberly gently smiled.

"Thank you, but I'll pass."

Kimberly shook her head, the matter about her father was still a secret. She didn't want to tell Calix about it, not for now at least. She still has problems with her father, she did not want to be a Matriarch or a CEO. She wanted to remain as a woman, who perhaps will have a family with a loving husband and children. She was picturing Calix as her husband.

'When this is over, I will tell you everything.'

Calix stared at Kimberly till she entered the room. He was not allowed inside but he could wait for her at the door, he didn't trust those two people. He sensed a hidden malignant inside them as if they were ready to kill at any moment.

Calix was not sure if it was because of his Luck but his senses towards these bad people were apparent. That was why, he would wait until Kimberly leave the door. If they tried to hurt her, Calix would not hesitate to beat their asses.

"This mansion is not prone to sinkholes, but I will find a way to defeat them."

Maybe the house would crumble and only those two people would suffer and die. Well, no matter what the outcome, as long as Calix has his Luck, he won't die. He was confident that his Term Attribute would keep him from dying.

He met a few maids in the hallway and greeted them, the maids blushed and tried to talk to him but Calix was adamant not to entertain them. It was disrespectful to do that while Kimberly was talking to those shady men, he wanted to focus all his energy on them.

After an hour, the two men came out of the room. They smiled at Calix and bowed their heads before they leave him. So far, they were hiding their fangs.

Then, Kimberly came out but her complexion was not good. She looked tired as if her energy was drained. She saw Calix and she leaned her body to him. Calix caught her and gently tapped her back.

"Yosh, is everything alright?"

"Un."

Kimberly nodded, but her voice started to crack. She held her emotions but tears gathered in her eyes. She weakly cried in his arms.

"I can't believe that father will do this to me..."

She sobbed, Calix kept pacifying her, hushing and kissing her head. He didn't ask about her problem as he knew that it was private. He was waiting for Kimberly to tell him on her own without being forced.

Kimberly held his clothes and her tears started to fall. Apparently, CEO Mark was asking her to move into the Clan. Her house was already prepared and she could return at any moment.

Of course Kimberly did not agree. She did not want to leave this place. Especially now that she found the person with who she wanted to build her family.

The two men did not urge her to move. Instead, their Boss, CEO Mark, wanted to ask Kimberly about her current research.

It was obvious that CEO Mark wanted to monopolize anything that Kimberly tried to make. Kimberly was hurt because she felt like she was being used as a tool. The hardwork that she did was going to be used and she did not have the power to reject.

She sniffed hard on his warm chest as she held her tears... After that, they have a gentle fuck.