

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 129 Kirs Is Reliable

When Mary entered the gate of the Winsor's, she looked up at this luxurious house that was like a palace.

With many years of history, the house of the Winsors had always been a landmark building in the Imperial City and it was very huge. When Mary passed by here when she was very young, she imagined that she would live in here one day when she saw the tall walls and exposed European-style roofs.

Now that she finally married Henry and she could live here, why would she divorce?

That's right, she must live here firmly and no one could let her get out of here.

She must become the mistress of this house.

Henry was not at home. Zara was shocked when the servants reported to her that Mary was here.

Zara received Mary in the living room. She looked Mary carefully. She had thought Mary was a delicate little Princess spoiled by her parents.

But this time she saw something different in Mary's eyes, and she thought that Mary would divorce after she was discharged from the hospital.

Because Mary had lost her child and was slapped on the spot. She was humiliated greatly, so the Morrises wouldn't let her marry anymore.

Zara didn't expect her to come back alone.

"It's good that you're back. I've been busy dealing with things after the wedding during the past two days, so I didn't have enough time to see you." Zara smiled slightly.

Mary knew that it was not that Zara did not have enough time, but Zara did not take her seriously. However, she was not angry.

"Mom, it doesn't matter. I'm fine. Don't worry about me."

Zara was surprised that Mary called her favorably.

"Alright, you need to have good rest after miscarriage, so you should stay at home and take good care of yourself. Take Mrs. Winsor to her home."

"Mrs. Winsor, this way please." A servant came forward.

"Mom, I'll go to rest now." Mary nodded at Zara before following the servant.

Zara smiled slightly and she seemed to underestimate this woman.

Zara had thought that Mary was useful because of being pregnant, but now it seemed that she was more useful, so Zara decided to leave Mary here.

In the Eagle Group.

After negotiating with his father, Johny pay more attention to the Eagle Group. He was also warning Jack and to make Jack understand that he had the Eagle Group as his force.

He felt good because he could work together with Ceres.

On this day, Ceres was suddenly informed to go to the third R&D room. There were many R&D rooms in the technical department, but the third R&D room had never been heard of.

Ceres and Kirs were led forward by Director Ruben. Ceres asked cautiously, "Kris, why did Hugo not come with us?"

"He participated in other projects. Only you and I attended this project."

"Okay..." Ceres nodded. It seemed that it was a mysterious project.

"He didn't tell you?" Kirs said ironically.

"What?"

"What did you just say?" Ceres had been looking around and did not hear Kirs clearly.

"Nothing." Kirs curled his lips.

Ceres looked at him and continued walking. She should talk less to him because Kirs still might like her.

However, Ceres didn't expect that the third R&D room was very mysterious because there were three doors here. After opening the three doors, it turned out to be a whole new world.

The staff was busy wearing the same uniform. There was a table in the middle. Johny was already sitting there with Olivia and a few elites of the technical department.

"Alright, everyone is here. Let's have a meeting."

Ceres and Kirs immediately sat down.

"Welcome Ceres and Kirs to join us. This project has been studying since the beginning of the Eagle Group. I hope that you two can join in and help our team to complete this project as soon as possible."

Looked at Johny, Ceres became nervous.

After listening and taking notes carefully, she discovered that this project was to develop robot!

She was excited and thought Johny was indeed extraordinary. Because once the home-based robot was came into the market, it would cause a sensation in the world!

Nowadays, many products in the market were regarded as artificial intelligence, but the robot of artificial intelligence was never able to enter the market and only a few real robots entered into the market, most of which were used in the shopping malls and hospitals.

The home-based intelligent robot would shock the world.

Then Ceres looked at the current product, and the robot could basically do all housework which was done by most electronic products. However, Johny was still dissatisfied because he thought that the robot was lack of something.

Ceres was still shocked for a long time after the meeting.

Returning to her work post, she looked at her notes and was extremely excited. She liked this profession, as if she had found her nature here.

"Come on, everyone, pay attention! The company is giving out benefits!"

The logistics department came to the technical department with a huge box in their hands, "Our company has prepared a physical checkup card for everyone this year. It includes all basic checkups and the screening of cancer and other checks. For the normal operation of the company, we don't organize everyone to check together. You should go at your spare time."

The staff of the logistics department distributed the checkup card and data to everyone.

Ceres picked up the introduction and looked at it, and found the checkup projects were complete.

In particular, there were also some female checkups for women.

When it was time to get off work, Ceres stayed for a while on the grounds of overtime. When there was no one around, she sneaked to the president's office.

They got off work and went home together. On the way, Ceres talked about the robots at the meeting without stops.

Johny knew that Ceres would like this project, so he added her in this project.

"When is this project going to on the market? It will be very shocking!"

"It will be on when it is time to come into the market. This is the first project you have participated in and you have to learn carefully."

"Yes, my Lord!" Ceres said naughtily.

Johny glanced at Ceres, "How is Kirs? This project is very important. It will be critical if I only add you. I plan to arrange for him to go to another project in a few days."

"Don't! Kirs is much better than me. The professor often praises him. Don't worry, Kirs is reliable!"