

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 130 A Dandy

Ceres did not want to mix personal life and work together. She was so excited. Kirs must feel the same.

She did not want to affect Kirs's career. She already owed him too much.

Perhaps with this project, he would shift his focus to work.

"Okay. By the way, when are you going to do the physical examination?"

"I don't want to go. I have been in the hospital for a long time and have had enough of needles! Let's talk about it later." Ceres was defeated when she heard that.

She was just discharged from the hospital. She had a resistance to the hospital.

"That won't do. This time there are many checkups specifically for women. I don't have other things tomorrow. I'll accompany you."

Ceres was about to refuse when she heard Johny say, "You don't want to have a baby anymore?"

That was Ceres's Achilles heel.

She shook her head and said, "No! Let's go!"

"Good girl." Johny patted Ceres on the head.

Ceres rolled her eyes, "You should also pay more attention to the project. I hope this can be a gift for the baby."

"A gift for the baby?" Johny's eyes lit up!

This project was jointly developed by them. If it could be made before Ceres gave birth and went public, it would really be the best gift!

All of a sudden, Ceres's fighting spirit was ignited. She wanted to give her baby a very precious gift!

"So, do your best and take good care of yourself."

"Yes! As you wish, my majesty."

The next day, Johny brought Ceres to the medical center and conducted a series of checks. Because the medical report would take a few days to come out, the two left after finishing.

Ceres's blood was drawn several times. Johny felt sorry for her and wanted her to go home to rest. Ceres could not stay idle. She went to the school since she was not allowed to go to the company.

She was about to graduate, and now she was preparing for her graduation thesis. She had no time in the company, so she took the opportunity to check some information.

She returned to the dormitory and saw Alice. Alice immediately rushed over and kissed Ceres twice!

"Ceres, aren't you too heartless? It seemed that you disappeared. You just went to the Eagle Group for your internship! You didn't even send me a WeChat message. You forgot your friend and immersed in happy time with Johny!"

Alice was full of complaints about Ceres.

"Okay, okay. I will accompany you today, okay?"

Alice, however, raised her head with a proud look, "Sorry, I don't have time today. Here comes the retribution!"

"Where do you want to go?"

"Glory Entertainment. I have to see my agent." Alice finally revealed a smile when she said this.

"That's great. You have your agent now!" Ceres said happily.

Alice was also very surprised when she received the call. Although many people signed with the entertainment company, there were still many who could not wait for an opportunity. After all, there were so many stars and their seniors already. Opportunities for newcomers were few. She did not expect that she would have an agent so quickly. Today they would talk about the script.

"Yes, I have to go now. I'll be late soon."

"Alright, alright, alright. Go ahead then."

"Do come back to see me in the future!" Alice kissed Ceres on the cheek.

"I know!"

Alice hailed a taxi and went straight to Glory Entertainment. Following the guidance of the receptionist, she arrived at an office and knocked on the door.

Then she saw her agent, Nancy. She was excited to have Nancy. Nancy was a top agent. Many stars became famous because of her.

The others were all very envious of Alice.

This was the first time she had seen Nancy, and Alice was quite nervous.

Nancy had short hair and was wearing a blue uniform, looking like a professional female elite.

Sitting in front of her, Alice was still somewhat nervous.

"Hello, Nancy. I am Alice."

"I have read your information. You are not a professional at acting, but a dancer."

"Yes, but I have been listening to our school's acting course. I am very familiar with those teachers. I also have learned some courses."

However, Nancy waved her hand, "This was not important. How many stars are professional? Those A-list actors are almost not professional. It is mainly about how you present yourself."

Nancy crossed her arms and looked at Alice from head to toe. The girl was indeed good in terms of looks, but there were plenty of beauties in the entertainment industry. Alice's appearance was really ordinary when compared to them.

"You should present yourself as a sweet girl who strives for success."

"What?" Alice did not understand.

However, Nancy ignored her. Instead, she handed her a piece of paper, "Your Weibo account has been registered. In case that someone digs out some dirt about you, this is a brand new Weibo account that has never been used before. Post some encouraging words every day with your sweet photos. Let me check before posting it."

"Okay..." Alice took the piece of paper.

"The first role is very important. I do have a lot of scripts here. I will choose something suitable for you. Go back and wait for my news."

Nancy was indeed an efficient woman. She did not even give anyone a chance to interrupt when she spoke.

"Yes."

"There are a few other things I need to clarify."

Alice looked at Nancy and suddenly became nervous.

"You shouldn't provoke Mr. Jaden."

"Mr. Jaden? You mean..." Alice thought of the man. To be honest, she did not even know his exact name. She only knew that he worked in this company as a president or something.

"Bill, the president of Glory World Entertainment. Don't tell me that you don't even know him."

Nancy looked at the innocent girl in front of her and felt that it was really ridiculous. Alice did not even know Bill!

"No, I know."

Alice had thought that he was the leader of the company, but she had not expected him to be the president!

"Mr. Jaden is a well-known dandy. He is ruthless. All the artists in the company who had anything to do with him have disappeared now. Some have been hidden, some have been terminated, and those in the other companies have basically disappeared as well."

Only then did Alice remember that someone from the acting major had mentioned that there was indeed a president born with a silver spoon who dated with many stars, internet celebrities, as well as models. He was a dandy, and he had played with countless women.

Alice felt like a bolt from the blue!
