

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 139 Why Would He Love Such a Bad Woman?

The news that the Morris Group was facing bankruptcy was being reported on various financial news. No one would have thought that the Morris Group, which had a hundred years of foundation, would face a bankruptcy crisis.

Sally had not seen Mike for a few days. She knew that Mike was plenty busy with the group.

She might not be able to continue waiting.

Sally changed into a black suit, put on a hat, and came to Eagle Group. She knew that Ceres had started her internship at Eagle Group.

Ceres hung up immediately after receiving a call from Sally. Didn't Sally say that they had already cut off their mother-daughter relationship?

Ten minutes later, the company's receptionist came to tell Ceres that her mother was here.

Ceres did not want their matter to spread to the company, so she had to go downstairs to meet Sally.

Sally was dressed very mysteriously and kept looking around. When Ceres saw her like this, she thought Sally was ridiculous and pathetic.

"What's the matter?"

Sally was about to pull Ceres into the car to talk.

"If you have something to say, just say it. I have work to do." Ceres shook Sally's hand off.

Seeing Ceres's indifferent attitude, Sally was angry. But she could not flare up because Ceres was her last lifeline. "I am your mother. Can you not speak to me like this?"

Ceres sneered. "I remember that you told me last time that you had cut off our relationship. There is nothing between us."

"Those were just angry words," Sally said in embarrassment. "Grudge between mother and daughter won't last long. It'll be fine once the matter is over. How can you be a daughter like this and even hate your mother?"

Looking at Sally's face, Ceres really didn't want to say a word.

"Let me guess why you are here for me. The Morris Group is about to go bankrupt, hence your good life is about to come to an end. So you think of me and want me to help the Morrises by asking Johnny to do a favor. Am I right?"

Sally opened her mouth, but she couldn't speak anything as if she was mute. Ceres was right!

"I won't plead for the Morrises. Just give up." After that, Ceres walked towards the company's gate.

Sally immediately chased after her, "I am your mother! You can't treat me like this, can you? Ceres, it was very hard for me to give birth to you and I have raised you up. It took me a lot of hard work. How can you have the heart to watch me suffer?"

Ceres stopped to say, "You abandoned me for your good life soon after I was born. You didn't raise me up. The first time I saw you was at the age of twelve! If it weren't for my father's accident, you would probably think that I was already dead!"

Sally saw the hatred in Ceres's eyes.

It was indeed hatred. It seemed that Ceres hated her badly.

"Ceres, I know I was wrong. I will treat you well in the future, ok? I was really helpless back then. Ceres, don't you need me anymore? Your dad is in prison, and now you only have me as a family!"

Ceres heard Sally's words and felt that every sentence she said was ironic.

She strode into the company and said to the security guards, "This woman is here to cause trouble. Stop her!"

Sally was about to catch up with Ceres when the security guards hastily blocked her way.

"Get out of the way!" Sally struggled and shouted at Ceres's back, "Ceres, I have you in my heart. If I hadn't been a humble servant in the Morris', how could you have grown up there? I did it all for you ... for you! You can't just leave me to die! I'm your mother!"

Hearing Sally's words, Ceres walked even faster.

'How can this crazy woman keep talking nonsense!' thought Ceres.

Back to her job, Ceres could not calm down for a long time, 'I was so unlucky to have such a mother. '

When she was a child, Ceres had never heard a bad word from her father about Sally. However, Ceres learned from her neighbors that Sally had despised her father for being poor, so she left after giving birth to Ceres.

Later, Ceres heard people working in cities say that they saw Sally, who was sitting in a luxury car and wearing a mink coat. It was said that Sally married a rich man.

Sally was born in a small fishing village. She was quite beautiful. Everyone there knew that there was such beauty. They all billed her as a goddess. When she was only fifteen years old, many matchmakers came to her home. However, she was ambitious and did not want to continue living in the small fishing village at all.

Later, she met Ceres's father, George. She knew that George was a city person and decided to follow him. George was very generous to her, so she thought that her fate might change because of the man. But George brought her back to the village unexpectedly because he wanted to live a life of seclusion.

Sally planned to escape, but then she found that she was already pregnant. So she could only give birth to the child, after which she escaped and never returned.

In Ceres's eyes, Sally loved nothing but money.

Ceres did not understand why a good man like her father would love such a bad woman.

At the City M Prison

Everything was so orderly, and the quiet atmosphere made people feel that the bottom of their hearts was extremely clean and pure.

This was a place where people who had made mistakes came to refresh their hearts and souls.

The reading room was extremely quiet.

Every weekend, the prisoners here had free time. George liked to come to the reading room. He had already been in prison for nine years. His performance here was very good and he got along well with the prison guards and other prisoners.

Yesterday, the prison guard told him that his sentence reduction application had been submitted. If it went smoothly, he could reduce his sentence for another two years.

He was originally sentenced to execution and put on probation for two years. In the two years of probation, his sentence was reduced to life imprisonment because of his good performance. Then, his sentence was reduced to 20-year imprisonment. It was said that if this application went smoothly, he could get another two years of penalty reduction.

'Good, I can see my dear Ceres two years ahead of time.

She should be twenty-one years old now. She must have grown up to a beautiful young lady.' George thought happily.

"George, here's the latest financial magazine." The prison guard reminded him, knowing that he liked reading financial magazines.

George stood up and smiled at the prison guard. He then took the new magazine onto his table.

He opened the magazine and read it carefully until he saw a photo!

Johnny and Ceres spent their honeymoon secretly!

He goggled in bewilderment!

Although Ceres was only twelve when he left, Sally would ask someone to send Ceres's photo every two or three years. So he was able to recognize Ceres!

'Ceres and Johnny, how is this possible?'