

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 158 I Am Here to Get You Out

Time flies. Ceres had been imprisoned in this unknown villa for more than five months.

Her belly was getting bigger and bigger with each passing day. However, her spirit was getting worse and her body was getting thinner.

Due to the heavy guard of the villa, every time she tried to escape, she was caught and sent back. After several times, she finally gave up because she didn't want to hurt the baby.

It was a nice day. Ceres sat on a lounge chair, basking in the sunshine. It had been snowing heavily for a few days, making her feel oppressed and uncomfortable.

Lilian came in and hurriedly took a blanket for Ceres, then, she pointed to the sky.

Being together for a long time, although Lilian was unable to speak, Ceres now could understand her gesture.

"It's okay, Lilian. I'm not cold." She said.

Lilian shook her head and brought up the soup.

During this period of time, Ceres and Lilian became good friends. Ceres often talked to her, so she got to know some of Lilian's stories.

The man who was in charge of guarding here was Lilian's partner. The two of them didn't hold a wedding. Since the man was good to Lilian, she, who was forced to come here, chose to be obedient.

It was a pity that Lilian lost her unborn child when she was about to run away, which also led to her infertility.

Lilian liked children and had sympathy for Ceres, so she had been taking good care of Ceres and tried to protect Ceres from being hurt by running away.

Ceres was also helpless because Lilian was the first one to discover her escape and got her caught.

Lilian sat next Ceres and began to massage her legs.

In the late stage of pregnancy, Ceres's legs began to swell. She couldn't wear her shoes, so Lilian made her comfortable cloth shoes.

"Thank you, Lilian," Ceres said as she was having the soup.

Lilian told Ceres by gesture that the baby would be a boy.

Ceres smiled and suddenly recalled that she and Johny had also guessed the gender of the baby the first time she was pregnant.

But where was he now?

Ceres had figured out who imprisoned her. The only person who would treat her well because of her pregnancy was Jack. Otherwise, her child would be killed.

"The doctor is coming. Get ready for the check-up," Griffin came and said.

Ever since Ceres was pregnant, an examination room had been set up in the room, so the doctor would come to give the blood tests and ultrasound tests here.

Lilian helped Ceres put on her shoes, and accompanied her to the examination room.

Two doctors have been already waiting for them inside. One of them first drew Ceres' blood and carefully preserved the sample.

At this time, a doctor suddenly had a stomachache. Another doctor hurriedly said, "Sorry, Madam. My colleague is not feeling well. Can he use the bathroom?"

It was a familiar voice.

Ceres only felt her entire body trembling!

"Alright, go ahead." She answered.

"Thank you!" The doctor went to the bathroom immediately.

"Madam, please lie down and let's start the examination." The other doctor said.

Ceres looked at him and nodded. Lying down obediently, she suddenly said to Lilian, "I'm a little bit hungry. Can you prepare some snacks for me?"

Lilian nodded and ran out.

Ceres then turned to the doctor in front of her.

She was sure that he was Kirs!

"Kirs..." She called his name.

"Ceres, it's me," Kirs kept doing examination and continued to say, "I'm here to get you out."

Ceres had never thought that she would be able to run away before delivery.

She knew that Jack would definitely take her child away and kill her. Thus, she was prepared to escape.

"I'm not familiar with the environment here yet, so I'll come over for the next several times. Once I find a way out, I'll get you out of here." Kirs said.

He had been facing the screen as if nothing had happened.

Ceres smiled for she saw the hope.

Kirs looked at the image of the child on the screen. Before he came, he had learned how to use the equipment. He was surprised to see the baby's image so clearly on the screen.

He stared at it with hatred in his eyes.

'This is Johny's child!'

'Ceres will give birth to Johny's child!' He cried in his mind.

At this time, the doctor with diarrhea came out and said, "Thank you so much. I don't know what's wrong with me. I am really sorry."

Kirs stood up and made room for him.

"It doesn't matter," Ceres said with a smile.

"Madam, your child is very healthy. But you have to pay attention to your diet these days. Eat healthier and do more exercise. Otherwise, it will be difficult for you to deliver the baby." He told Ceres.

"I see." She answered.

Then, the doctor left.

"Johny and Annie are engaged," Kirs whispered to Ceres before he went out.

Hearing this news, Ceres stood still in great astonishment.

Kirs then nodded to her and left with another doctor.

Lilian brought snacks and handed them to Ceres only to find that she stood there still.

She touched Ceres arm to make her come back to her senses. Ceres then gave her a smile and went back to her room with the snacks.

The dessert was so sweet.

Ceres burst into tears.

Eventually, Johny was engaged to Annie.

What did she mean to Johny?

Ceres recalled that she was afraid of being found by Johny at first. Now it seemed that she could no longer worry about it.

'I was so self-sentimental,' she thought in her mind.

From then on, she wouldn't miss him but only hate him.

Lilian felt that something was wrong with Ceres and hurriedly wiped her tears, asking why she cried in gesture.

Ceres continued to eat and said, "I'm fine, Lilian. The child is about to come and I'm going to be free."
