

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 162 Exquisite Restaurant

Ceres's heart skipped a beat.

She was a little tipsy, hugging Nyla. "I am doing it for him, but I am doing it to defeat him. I want him to go downhill."

Ceres wanted to avenge her father, but she knew that she could not make it. Her revenge on him was defeating him, which was probably the most painful for Johnny.

For him, being defeated was worse than death.

"Alright!" Nyla laughed, "Then let's make a deal. You can't snatch Johnny from me. He is mine!"

Nyla likes Johnny. All three of them knew that.

The frank and straightforward Nyla resembled Ceres. That's why they became good friends.

Nyla did not hide her interest in Johnny. She had already told them that she was attracted by Johnny the first time they met at a banquet. She was still a little girl back then, taking Johnny as her hero.

Although Nyla already had been arranged to marry someone by her family, she had always worshipped Johnny.

Alice was drinking alone. Ceres left Nyla and walked over. Nyla was lying on the table laughing and murmuring about Johnny's name.

"Alice, my superstar. What's wrong? Are you in a mood?"

Alice had been busy since she signed with Glory Entertainment and began to film TV series, endorsements, variety shows, and so on. In the past three years, Ceres and Nyla were more close to each other.

Alice was also a little drunk. "Why can't I be famous?"

Nyla, who was lying on the other side, heard her and laughed, "Of course you can't get famous. Did you offend the designer? Every time you were in the public, you wore weird dresses. I want to tear off your clothes!"

"Go to hell!" Ceres pushed Nyla's head and turned to Alice, "You played well. I have watched every of that, but you are not the heroine."

"I also want to be the heroine. Recently, all the roles I have taken are silly and sweet. It's so boring."

Alice's dejected look made Ceres very sad.

No one knew that Alice felt sad more than her career. It's also about the man in her heart.

After entering Glory World Entertainment, Alice finally knew Bill. He was indeed a womanizer. He was less unbridled in the past three years because he had caused a female celebrity pregnant and was severely punished by his family.

The three of them all had their worries and got drunk.

In the end, they went directly to the hotel not far away and fell asleep.

The next morning, Ceres's phone rang crazily for a long time before she woke up.

"Okay. I'll go right away!" Ceres was startled.

She hung up the phone and rubbed her hair. She could only leave the sleeping Alice and Nyla.

In Imperial City, she had another mission. She was to study as a graduate student at Imperial University!

Professor Steve, who Ceres had always admired, was specially hired as a professor at Imperial University. Professor Steve was a postgraduate teacher of Artificial Intelligence major. He only took two students every year, and his previous student was Kirs.

At that time, Ceres had not been able to come to school. Kirs had finished the postgraduate course in advance, but now Ceres could finally come here.

Ceres rushed to the graduate school of Imperial University to enroll. Fortunately, she completed her enrollment.

Eagle Group.

Eagle Group had a shareholder meeting. After the investment, Eagle Group was no longer owned by Johnny, Bill, and Bob only. It had a new shareholder.

However, Johnny was still the biggest shareholder, followed by Bob and Bill, and the rest were small shareholders. It was the routine shareholders meeting.

After the meeting, the three gathered in Johnny's office.

Johnny looked cold, asking Bob directly, "I heard that yesterday's robot competition was very intense. What happened?"

"Our team underestimated the No. 1 of the Cosmos Group. He was too powerful and we were nearly kicked out." Bob shook his head. He was wrong to expect that Johnny was the only genius in this world.

"The Cosmos Group's new products are all very good, and so are their robots. Let those in the technical department taking charge of the robot competition keep an eye on it. We need to win. We can release our robots to the market."

The robot competition was designed as a variety show. It had been very eye-catching. Therefore, Both the Eagle Group and the Cosmos Group valued the competition.

"Hey, can you two talk about other things? Don't always talk about work, okay?"

Bill looked a little excited. He had been timid since he was punished by his family. He was so depressed.

"Hey, to celebrate my freedom, why not we go out and have a big meal?" Bill opened his arms, looking like he was embracing his freedom.

Johnny didn't even look at him. Bob glanced at him, which made Bill a little disappointed.

"Are you two my good friends? I know that there is a new restaurant in the Imperial City called Exquisite Restaurant. It is said to be very delicious. Do you want to try it?"

Bill sniffed. "Exquisite Restaurant. It sounds like a place with beauties."

"Are you doing this for the beauties or the food?" Bob glanced at him with disdain.

"All for!" Bill sat down at the table and said, "Let's go. It's delicious. Waitresses are in special dress for the new opening. I'm about to drool. The roasted beef and potatoes are said to be the best dish!"

Johnny was stunned.
