

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 201 Mary Was Infertile

Ceres suddenly took a deep breath, picked up the paper, and burned it.

Matt looked at Ceres in shock.

Ceres smiled at Matt and said, "Mr. Matt, I only have one father. His name is George."

Hearing that, Matt felt like crying. "Great. George didn't live in vain."

The next day, Ceres wanted to send Matt off, but Matt left in the middle of the night. He left a note for Ceres which said that he didn't like parting.

Ceres agreed.

Ceres didn't intend to return to Imperial City immediately. Life in the mountains was good, making Ceres feel as if she had returned to her childhood, so she decided to stay here for a few more days.

As for the rest, she had known how to deal with it.

In the hospital, Imperial City.

In the department of gynecology.

Mary made an appointment with the best gynecologist. Her father, Mike, had yet to wake up. The shareholders of the Morris Group had already fled. She couldn't hold on and had to look after herself first.

She knew that Johnny had woken up. She also knew that Sally had been captured because of killing Johnny. Finally, she understood that she couldn't interfere with the Morrises' matters.

The most important thing now was herself!

"Doctor, have all the results of my examination come out? When can I be pregnant?"

The doctor didn't answer her question immediately, which made Mary anxious.

"Why don't you speak?"

"Mrs. Winsor, you are still young. Besides, you already have a son. There is no need to be so hasty to get pregnant!"

Mary didn't want to listen to nonsense. "This has nothing to do with you. You just need to tell me when I can get pregnant. In addition, I need to have a smart and healthy child! Tell me what preparations need to be made. I only want a boy!"

Although Brice was the eldest grandson of the Winsors, he was not smart. And Jack didn't like him. She had to have a smart child.

The doctor frowned. "Mrs. Winsor, giving birth to a boy or a girl is at random. The country also stipulated that gender identification is not allowed. Medicine doesn't guarantee that you can have a boy. The most important thing is..."

"What is it? Hurry up and tell me!" Mary slammed the table.

"It's difficult for you to get pregnant." The doctor said.

As a gynecologist, she could understand patients' feelings. The words "can't get pregnant" would cause great harm to women. She dared not say it easily.

"What? How is that possible? I am only twenty-three this year!"

Mary was in the flower of her youth. She was at her best age to give birth.

Mary didn't understand why she couldn't give birth.

She had been taking care of her body and taking medicine. she didn't believe it!

"Mrs. Winsor, it was late when you had a miscarriage for the first time. Moreover, the medicine you took was bad for you, and the interval between your second pregnancy and the first miscarriage was too short. We tried hard to save that child before."

This doctor and Mary were acquaintances and knew her body well.

Mary looked around in a panic.

"Mrs. Winsor, I have repeatedly warned you to take care of yourself these years. It's more than a matter of taking medicine. You need to relax."

The doctor didn't continue.

Mary was heartbroken.

In the past few years, Mary made great efforts to attract Henry. And she would drug Henry and herself to curry favor with Henry.

She even slept with Henry one month after her child was born. And she had to take contraceptives because Henry asked her to do that.

"Any other ways?" Mary looked at the doctor in tears.

"You are still young. If you take good care of yourself from now on, you might get better in three to five years." The doctor said.

However, to Mary, three to five years was too long to wait!

Henry must have affairs with other women within three to five years, not to mention Ceres's child.

Coming out of the doctor's office, Mary stumbled. If it were not for the servant supporting her, she would have fallen.

She didn't know why.

She thought it was unfair.

Mary sat in the car, and her eyes filled with hatred!

She wondered why Ceres was so lucky.

Johnny was willing to die for Ceres. She desperately fawned on Henry, but only in return for his smile.

Johnny had woken up. No matter how much Ceres hated Johnny, she would forgive him. When they returned home with their son, Jack would totally ignore her and her son.

She wouldn't allow such a thing to happen.

She didn't have a good time, and Ceres could only have a harder life than her.

Mary thought of a person at that time.

She smiled evilly.

Johnny had suffered those days. Nyla came over to send meals every day. He tactfully expressed that he didn't need it, but Nyla didn't care. She still came over and told jokes every day in case Johnny felt bored.

Johnny was really miserable, but he didn't dare to drive Nyla away because of Ceres.

He could only bear it and hope that Ceres would come back quickly to help him.

Johnny couldn't endure it anymore. He called Bob at lunchtime and asked him to come over.

Most businesses of the Eagle Group fell on Bob, so he was very busy. When he received a call from Johnny, he thought that Johnny had something urgent to do and immediately rushed over.

"Johnny, what's up?"

Johnny didn't speak.

Bob heard Nyla's voice, "Step aside. Today, I prepared delicious food for Johnny and all of you!"

Because she came many times, the bodyguards didn't stop her. Nyla often bought delicious food for the bodyguards, and she was very familiar with them.

Bob turned his head and saw Nyla pushing a small dining cart in.

"Why are you here?"
