

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 202 She Would Marry No One But Johnny

Nyla was surprised to see Bob.

She was engaged to Bob.

The Lim family and the Yoder family had been friends for several generations, and their relationship was extremely strong. Nyla was the only daughter of Andrew Yoder, so she naturally would marry someone from the Lim family as Andrew trusted them the most.

The marriage between the Lim family and the Yoder family was set since Nyla was young.

Nyla and Bob both knew about this engagement. They were very against it. When they were young, they knew each other and recognized the other as their future partner. They began to ignore each other as soon as they knew the engagement.

They never contacted each other and never mentioned the engagement.

But it was all settled, and both parents had already begun to discuss the details.

Nyla just flirted with Johnny so brazenly as she wanted to be caught in adultery, she was not afraid at all. It seemed that she preferred that Bob would just turn hostile and cancel this engagement.

She crossed her arms and pumped her neck, "Why can't I be here? You don't own it."

"I do own it." Bob snorted.

Nyla looked around. She forgot that this hospital was indeed owned by the Lim family.

"So what? Can't I stay here as the patient's family?" Nyla looked at Bob like a hedgehog showing all of its thorns!

"Family? What kind of family are you?" Bob glanced at Johnny.

Nyla immediately went to Johnny's bedside. She put her on the bed. Her hands were around Johnny's neck. Johnny was injured badly because of the car accident. His hands and feet could move recently but there were also many injuries on his body. He couldn't push Nyla away easily.

"Miss Nyla, please have some self-respect," Johnny said with a cold face.

Nyla whispered in Johnny's ear, "Don't talk, work with me!"

"We're doing this. What kind of family do you think I am now?" she asked arrogantly.

"You!"

Bob looked at the way Nyla hugged Johnny, he couldn't resist his anger.

He had already heard of Nyla's great achievements, changing boyfriend every day, her ex-boyfriends could fill a truck!

It was nothing if she just hanging out with some random guys, but she actually flirted with his best friend!

"Let go of him!" Bob rebuked.

"Who are you? Why should I listen to you? You want me to let him go? Guess what! I won't let him go! If you dare you can tell our families! Bob, I tell you now, I will only marry Johnny!"

Nyla's words shook the two men at the scene.

Bob really could not do anything to Nyla.

He could not say a word.

"Miss Nyla, did Ceres know what you said?" Johnny reached out and removed Nyla's hand.

"Of course, she knew! She is very supportive. I can't take care of you here every day without her support. She is my best friend. Naturally, she supports me. She hopes that we can be happy."

Johnny realized that Ceres was pushing him away!

Bob noticed the change in Johnny's expression and hurriedly explained, "Johnny, her words are not real. Don't believe her! Ceres definitely won't say such things."

When Nyla heard this, she immediately slapped her thigh and stood up, "Bob, what do you mean? You didn't fall in love with me, right?"

"Even if all the women in this world die, I won't fall for you!" Bob snorted.

"What did you say? Am I so worthless in your eyes?" Nyla rolled up her sleeves and walked towards Bob.

Johnny looked at the two, especially at Bob.

Bob was usually a calm guy, but when he met this woman, he became a totally different person!

It really was true that everything has its vanquisher.

"Stop messing around here! Get out!" Bob grabbed Nyla's wrist and pulled her out.

"Bob, what are you doing? I'm here for Johnny, not you!"

Nyla's voice was getting farther and farther away. Johnny stroked his ears. His ears finally got some rest.

In the corridor, Nyla shook off Bob's hand, "Bob, stop being the dog in the manger."

When Bob heard this, he burst out laughing, "So Miss Nyla is a manager?"

"What did you say?"

Only then did Nyla realize how inappropriate this sentence that she said without thinking was!

Bob looked at her laughing.

"I'm telling it, I won't marry you. I just said that I won't marry anyone but Johnny. You better make it clear to your father and cancel this marriage!"

"You already said that you won't marry anyone but him. Then why do you want me to go and make it clear to my father? Why don't you go and tell your father that you won't marry anyone but Johnny?"

Bob asked.

"Hey, you brat!" Nyla glared at him.

Both of them were waiting for the other to tell their families to cancel the engagement, and both of them were also clear that whoever went to say it first would be scolded.

"Then just wait! You will regret it!" Nyla left the hospital in a huff.

Bob was confused by this girl. With her personality, if she married into the Lim family, she would probably make the entire family restless. He didn't know why his father liked this girl.

Johnny was checking his phone in the ward, but there was still no message from Ceres.

The words that Nyla said could not be all taken seriously, but it is the fact that Ceres knew Nyla liked him. Maybe it was just as Nyla said that Ceres wanted to match them.

"Damn it." Johnny could not help but curse. He immediately texted Ceres, "When are you coming back? I'll pick you up."

However, Ceres did not reply.

The next morning, Johnny asked Ben to bring his computer to the ward, and he began to work again.

"Oh, darling, how did you get hurt like this?"

The perfect British accent came from the door. Johnny looked up and saw Annie with a sad face.

She was wearing a British-styled hat and a white suit. Just like that, she appeared in his ward without warning.

"Darling, I miss you so much. Why didn't you tell me something about the accident which is so important?"

Annie rushed to the bed, threw herself on Johnny, then started to cry.

"Darling, I have always been missing you. Why are we always meeting in the hospital?"

"Miss Annie, please get up. You're pressing my injuries." Johnny only felt a pain in his back.

"Oh, is that so? I'm sorry," Annie said as she got up hurriedly.

Johnny looked up and saw Ceres standing at the door.
