

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 217 How Ruthless!

When Johnny heard the words "commit suicide," he wanted to kill Kirs!

Did he not love her? Why did he treat her like this?

But it was not the time to act on impulse. Johnny forcefully suppressed the anger in his heart.

"Is there a solution?"

"There are two ways. One is not to interfere with the hypnotist and let the hypnotist slowly restore the memories of the past that were erased by hypnosis as time goes by. This may take a long time, and it may not work. Because she may never recall the erased memories."

"What about the second way?"

"The second method is to undergo another hypnosis. By hypnotizing, the erased memories will be restored."

Before Ruby could finish speaking, Johnny eagerly replied, "I choose the second option! Ruby, help me find the best hypnotist immediately!"

Ruby sighed, "Johnny, don't be anxious. Let me finish my words first. The second hypnosis can indeed restore the erased memories, but the hypnotist for the second hypnosis must be the same person as the hypnotist for the first hypnosis because only he knows what memories have been erased.

Only by knowing what memories have been erased can we know what memories should be restored. Right now, we only know that she has forgotten about you, but you are a person, not a part of her memories. There are too many things that have happened between you two. No one knows how many memories this hypnotist has erased. Even if this hypnotist personally came to do the second hypnosis, I'm afraid it won't be so simple.

Johnny hit the table with his fist.

Startled, Ruby subconsciously looked at Bob.

Bob hurriedly comforted, "Johnny, don't worry. There must be a solution. You haven't recovered from the injury from the car accident. Take care of yourself first before you can save Ceres."

"Kirs!" Johnny gritted his teeth.

No wonder Kirs was so fearless. The moment he asked, he directly confessed everything!

It turned out that this was his plan, and all the initiative was in his hands, and he concluded that there was nothing he could do!

How ruthless!

"Is there no other way?" Johnny asked.

Ruby took a breath and continued, "Actually, I can ask a top-notch hypnotist to give it a try, but the risk is quite high. I think Johnny, you probably won't agree."

"Yes, I must make it safe!"

How could he gamble with Ceres's life?

"Then I will study it later and discuss it with everyone. I will tell you if there is any news."

"Alright, then I'll leave it to you."

After Ruby left, Bob didn't leave.

Johnny seemed to have seen through Bob's thoughts. "If there is anything, just say it. Bob, I can handle it."

Bob sat on the chair and let out a long sigh. "Kirs is too vicious."

Of course, Johnny knew that with the rise of the Cosmos Group, Johnny had noticed Kirs. Originally, Johnny also respected the former chairman of the Cosmos Group, who was also Kirs's biological father. He felt that Kirs's biological father had founded the domestic artificial intelligence era, being a person worthy of respect.

Therefore, when the Cosmos Group slowly rose, Johnny had always adopted a benign competitive attitude and had not targeted them.

He didn't expect that he would raise a tiger for trouble.

"In the press conference yesterday, the intelligent robot released by Cosmos Corporation should be using the chip that was stolen four years ago from us."

Johnny's deep pupils constricted, appearing even more unfathomable.

He had long known that it might be Kirs who had stolen the chip. Some of the small robots they had produced back then had been used for the stuff they had developed before, but this kind of stuff might just be a coincidence.

At that time, Johnny was focusing on looking for Ceres, and he did not have the time to care about that.

Unexpectedly, Kirs dared to directly use the stuff in the chip!

"He probably knew that you couldn't sue him, so he dared to use it directly."

Yes, Johnny didn't dare to sue him because once he did, who knew what Kirs would do to Ceres.

Ceres's fate was in Kirs's hands!

"What are you going to do?"

"Let's wait and see." Johnny only said this.

Bob also guessed that this would be the result.

"Alright, I'll explain it to the people from the technical department. You should focus on Ceres first."

Bob left Johnny's office and saw Nyla as soon as he left!

Nyla was dressed gorgeously and was walking with light steps. Bob naturally did not want to see Nyla.

Nyla felt very unlucky to meet Bob here.

"What are you going to do?" Bob directly stood in front of Nyla.

"It's none of your business!" Nyla said and was ready to go inside. Bob once again moved to block her way.

"Don't you know about what happened to Ceres? If you still don't have a little conscience, you should go and see Ceres first instead of coming here to harass your good friend's husband!"

Bob said righteously.

Nyla was very disdainful. Her eyebrows were raised, and her neck was high.

"Ceres? Bob, let me tell you, maybe one day you will call me sister-in-law! Do you know? Do not offend me. Otherwise, you will be punished!"

As she spoke, Nyla wanted to rush inside, but Bob did not move. Nyla stuck her waist and glared at Bob. "What exactly do you want to do?"

"He is in a bad mood. I advise you not to provoke him."

"Since he is in a bad mood, he needs my comfort and company." Nyla got all the timing down.

"Johnny and I grew up together. I know him best. At this time, he hates being disturbed by others the most. If you go, he might throw you out."

Nyla bit her lips and felt that what Bob said was also reasonable. It seemed that it was not the right time to come today.

She pointed at Bob, "Alright, I'll listen to you for the sake of you today when I become your sister-in-law. I'll remember your contribution!"

After that, Nyla swaggered away.

Bob looked at her back as she left and became more disgusted.

Such a big thing happened to Ceres, and Nyla wanted to come and hook up with Johnny. She was a heartless woman.

Before Johnny could come up with a clue, he received a call from his family saying that Swedum was sick. Johnny immediately left his company matters behind and rushed home.

As a result, when he returned home, he found himself cheated.

Swedum was fine, and he was cheated.

"Daddy, this is Mommy, right? Let's go to Mommy!" Swedum pointed to Ceres on the phone screen.
