

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 219 Marry My Daddy

"Don't be afraid. I'm a good person. You can call me sister," Ceres said as she walked closer to the little kid.

Swedum looked at his mommy, calling herself a sister, and wanted to laugh.

However, his Mommy was so young, so it's normal for her to call herself a sister.

"I can't find my daddy," Swedum replied timidly.

"I can help you find him." Ceres seemed to be familiar to this kid.

It's strange!

She was 24 years old and wasn't interested in children. Girls at this age might dislike children. However, she liked this child as if they had known each other before.

"Daddy said that I can't be with a beautiful woman. A beautiful woman will lie." Swedum's words pleased Ceres.

"So, you think that I'm beautiful?"

Swedum nodded, thinking that his mother was the most beautiful woman in the world!

"Take it easy. I work in the mansion here. I'm a good person. You can tell me who your daddy is, and I will help you find him."

There were only two mansions in the parking lot here. One belonged to the Cosmos Corporation, and the other the Eagle Group. Therefore, Ceres felt that this kid might be the child of an employee of the Cosmos Corporation.

"My daddy is working in the mansion opposite. He asked me to wait for him here, but I couldn't find his car. I wanted to go back to find daddy, but I was lost." Swedum replied seriously.

The parking lot was winding, and it was easy for a child to get lost.

"I see. Then I will take you to the mansion opposite to find your daddy, okay?"

Ceres stretched out her hand towards Swedum. Swedum deliberately pretended to be vigilant and held Ceres's hand after a moment.

Ceres held Swedum's hand and directly took the elevator to the Eagle Group.

Ceres hadn't entered the Eagle Group. So, she could observe the inside of it this time.

Holding Mommy's handmade Swedum happy.

"Pretty Sister, what is your name?"

"My name is Ceres. Do you know how to write?" Ceres asked as she squatted down.

Then she wrote her name in the palm of Swedum.

"I will remember it!"

"What is your name then?"

"My name is Elian. My daddy gave me the name."

Because Johnny had told Swedum that he couldn't say anything about what happened in the past, he had to hide his name.

"Elian? What a cute name." Ceres stroked Swedum's head and continued walking forward.

"Sister, do you have a boyfriend?"

"No, I don't." Ceres found it funny that a kid asked her this question.

"Then you saved me. How about I let my daddy marry you?"

It was a child's words!

Ceres laughed loudly, thinking that Swedum was too cute.

"I will see whether your daddy is handsome or not?" Ceres treated Sedum's words as a joke and joked with him.

"My daddy is very handsome. Just look at me, and you will know!"

Ceres saw Swedum carefully. "Well, you are quite handsome, but maybe it's because your mommy is beautiful."

Swedum giggled, "Then sister will see my daddy in a while. If he is handsome, you will marry him, okay?"

Ceres chuckled and suddenly realized a problem. "You don't have a mommy?"

Swedum looked at Ceres with eager eyes. He wanted to tell her the truth.

Swedum was sad because he had lived with Ceres for three years, but Ceres forgot him.

Seeing Swedum's sad expression, Ceres realized that she had asked a bad question. Just as Ceres was about to say something to comfort Swedum, who said first, "Daddy told me that mommy went to a place far away. I don't think she will come back."

Ceres guessed that Swedum's mother should have passed away, so she smiled and stroked Swedum's head. "It doesn't matter. Even if your mommy went to a place far away, she would pay attention to you, love you, and miss you forever."

"Sister, if my daddy is handsome, can you give him a chance?" Swedum asked, staring at Ceres.

Ceres was speechless. It seemed that Swedum was serious.

"Okay, let's go. Don't make your daddy anxious."

"Deal!" As Swedum spoke, he hooked his pinky with Ceres's. "Don't break your words!"

They got out of the elevator together.

The elevator connected to the passage, so they entered the Eagle Group immediately.

Ceres looked at this strange building and felt that its design was technological. It looked more like an artificial intelligence company.

From this point of view, the Cosmos Corporation's office in the Imperial City was inferior to that of the Eagle Group.

"Sister, that is my daddy! Do you think he is handsome?"

Ceres followed Swedum's finger and looked over. She was shocked.

Wasn't that Johnny?

Why would he appear here?

"Daddy!" Swedum ran towards Johnny. Johnny picked him up, "Daddy, Elian is back!"

Swedum was worried that Johnny would get out, so he signed Daddy first.

Johnny blinked for accepting the signal and said, "Elian, I have been looking for you for a long time. Where have you been?"

Swedum pointed to Ceres. "I went to the parking lot to find you. But I forgot what your car looked like. This beautiful sister brought me back. Daddy, without her, I might have been taken away by the traffickers. To repay her for saving me, you should marry her, okay?"

Johnny thought highly of his son!

Ceres stood embarrassedly not far away.

Was she going over or leaving directly?

Ceres still remembered what had happened in the auditorium.

Johnny carried Swedum and walked over. "You saved my son?"

Ceres didn't have time to say something.

Swedum said, "Sister, is my daddy handsome? So, you have to give my father a chance. We made a deal!"
