

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 233 Propose

"What's wrong?" Johnny was puzzled.

She was staring at him, which made him feel a little incredulous.

Then Ceres sneered and said, "Nothing."

After saying that, she stuffed the bowl into Johnny's hands, took her bag, and quickly left.

"Hey! Where are you going?" Johnny shouted.

Ceres did not answer and strode out of the ward.

Johnny moved the dining table away, got out of the bed, and chased Ceres, but she was already gone.

He picked up his phone and called Ceres. The other party directly hung up and called again. Then, her phone was turned off.

Johnny sighed. Just as he was about to succeed, something happened.

Ceres walked up to her car and kicked the car tire, causing her foot to hurt. She was in a rage.

"Son of bitch!" Ceres roared, attracting the attention of many people around.

Ceres sat in the car and tried to calm her anger.

The video just now was sent to her by Kirs. It was Nyla and Johnny. Nyla wore a piece of underwear and sat on Johnny's thigh. Johnny's face was reddish, and his eyes were even a little blurred.

The video was concise, and there was no sound, but Ceres could guess what they had done through the screen.

Undoubtedly, they had sex.

Ceres felt that she had been greatly humiliated. She thought that everything he had done was true. In addition to Swedum's words, she was even more convinced that Johnny liked her. However, she didn't expect that he actually was a playboy.

She was about to fly into a great rage.

Ceres drove away from the hospital and went directly to the Cosmos Group. As soon as he entered the company, he saw that no one was working. Instead, they gathered together and seemed to be discussing something new.

"What are you doing? Why don't you have a job?" she asked.

"Miss Ceres, have you packed your things? Are you ready for a bikini?" Lara ran over to Ceres.

Everyone present burst into laughter.

"What the hell?" Ceres was confused.

"Don't you know? Mr. Kirs said that the technical department had made a great contribution this time, and the sales of the new products are also very considerable. Therefore, the bonus for us is the island travel. We will set off this afternoon. The island, ah, the island we dream of, is great!" Lara said excitedly.

Lara put her hands together and looked at the ceiling as if she had been in the blue sea and blue sky.

Ceres had forgotten all about this.

She scratched her head awkwardly, "I have something to do at home and forgot about going out for a trip."

"Ah? Then hurry up and prepare the luggage!" Lara suggested.

Kirs came out of the office at this time, "I have already prepared Miss Ceres's luggage. If there is anything else you need, we can but there."

"Wow, so thoughtful," Lara said.

"Where are we going to find such a good man?" other colleagues said.

"Mr. Kirs is so nice to Miss Ceres, isn't he?" they said.

The girls exclaimed.

This made Ceres even more embarrassed. Kirs called Ceres into the office, and with a burst of cheers, Ceres entered Kirs's office.

Kirs could tell that Ceres was still in anger. He could smell medicine on her body. She must have just come from the hospital.

"You didn't sleep last night, did you?" Kirs gave Ceres a cup of milk tea and handed it to her.

He was always so considerate, and it also warmed Ceres's heart.

"I'm fine," Ceres said.

Kirs said to her, "Ceres, in terms of artificial intelligence, you are indeed a rare talent, but in terms of love, you are a blank sheet of paper. You are too simple and easy to be deceived."

Ceres lowered his head, feeling very upset.

He continued, "Although I haven't interacted much with Johnny, I will often hear about him from others. He is a person who will do anything to get what he wants. That's why I stopped you yesterday. I hope you don't blame me."

Kirs took a deep breath and continued, "The video I sent you has no other meaning. I hope that you can see the truth."

"How did you manage to get that video?" she asked.

Kirs shrugged his shoulders, "I saw it online. I saw that it was Johnny and Nyla, so I sent it to you."

Ceres thought that Nyla liked Johnny so much that she must have secretly asked someone to take photos and then posted it online to force Johnny.

From this point of view, she could no longer tangle with Johnny.

But she could not help feeling some pain in her heart.

"Go on a vacation with everyone. Have a good rest and relax," he suggested.

"Alright." Ceres nodded.

Kirs contracted a cruise ship and brought all the technical department staff to Ceres Island. Everyone knew that this island was a private island that Kirs bought some time ago on the cruise ship.

Hearing the name of this island, everyone joked, "Mr. Kirs, why did you name the island Ceres?"

Kirs also did not avoid this question, "Because of Ceres."

At that time, Ceres stayed in her room because she was seasick, so she didn't know.

"Mr. Kirs, you have ulterior motives this time. Don't tell me you want to propose to Miss Ceres?" they asked.

Kirs only pursed his lips and smiled without answering.

However, everyone guessed that and was willing to witness this sacred moment.

The original name of Ceres Island was Youni Island. It was a holy land for tourism. The tourism industry has been very well developed in the past few years. After Kirs bought it, the tourism industry had been carried out as usual. However, this time, to reward everyone, he ordered the business to be suspended, so the entire island was for the staff of the technical department to play with.

Everyone checked in and started playing around on the island.

Ceres, however, was in no mood at all. She was still thinking about Johnny.

At night, Ceres Island specially prepared a bonfire party for everyone. Because she was seasick during the day, Ceres was not in a good state. Moreover, because of Johnny's matter, she was not in the mood to participate, so she was not prepared to participate. However, everyone asked her to join them.

At the bonfire party, everyone sang and danced, and Ceres had no choice but to join everyone.

"Let's ask Mr. Kirs to say something!" Someone shouted out.

Someone pushed Kirs out.

Kirs stood in the middle of the crowd, first sighing, then smiling, "In my life, there was a person who had a significant influence on me. When I was a child, whenever I saw her smiling face, I would forget all my worries. When I grew up, as long as I saw her smiling face, no matter how much difficulty I encountered, I would be able to persevere."

"Today, I hope to propose to her and be able to be with her," he continued.

He took out the ring from his pocket and suddenly turned to Ceres, kneeling on one knee.

"Ceres, are you willing to marry me?" he asked gently.

"Marry him! Marry him! Marry him!" Everyone shouted.
