

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 236 Johny, I Want You

As Kirs's fingers brushed across Ceres's delicate skin, he suddenly felt thirsty.

Just as Kirs's dream was about to come true, he suddenly felt his heart beat faster and faster!

Kirs got up and poured himself a glass of strong liquor. He drank and waited for his entire body to heat up, then returned to the bed.

Ceres was still asleep, and she couldn't know what kind of situation she was in.

Kirs swallowed his saliva and leaned over Ceres.

At this time, the door was knocked open heavily.

Kirs was startled. As soon as he got up, he was being punched.

This punch knocked Kirs out of bed, and he spat out a bloody tooth.

Johny's eyes were extremely fierce. Seeing Ceres was lying on the bed and her clothes were untidy, Johny's eyes suddenly widened. He once again picked up Kirs, and with a few punches, Kirs got panda's eyes.

Nyla stood to the side, covering her mouth because she was frightened!

Nyla had never seen a man fight so fiercely, and there were all fatal moves!

When Nyla got her mind back, she rushed up and said, "Stop, you will kill him!"

"I want to kill him!" Johny said and prepared to beat Kirs again.

"What about Ceres!" Nyla shouted at Johny.

Johny calmed down, loosened his tie, and went straight to the bed.

It was so noisy in the room, but Ceres still did not react. She seemed in a coma.

"Ceres! Ceres!" Johny patted Ceres's face. Ceres had no response.

Nyla leaned close to Ceres's mouth and sniffed, "Kirs drugged her. This medicine would first cause her to fall into a deep coma, and then..."

"Then what?" Johny asked eagerly.

"Turned she on," Nyla said bluntly.

Johny looked at Kirs, who was lying on the ground fiercely. Kirs had been knocked unconscious.

If it wasn't for Ceres, Johny would have killed Kirs!

"Do you have an antidote?" Johny asked.

Nyla shook her head, "I have never heard of this thing having an antidote. Let's find a place first. Ceres is dead asleep now. I can't hypnotize her."

Johny picked up Ceres, and Nyla followed him.

Nyla looked at Johny's back, and her heart was in pain.

Nyla had never seen any extra expression on Johny's face. Except when Johny was with Ceres, from the first time that Nyla met Johny, his face was like a sculpture, always the same expression.

Johny took Ceres to the speedboat.

Fortunately, Ceres Island was not too far away from the shore, and the speed of the speedboat was also fast enough for Johny to arrive in time. Otherwise, the consequences would be unimaginable.

The speedboat was speeding on the sea. The wind was sharp. Johny took off his coat and wrapped it around Ceres.

It was not until they sailed for a long time that Nyla found that they did not return to the shore but went in the opposite direction.

"Where are you going?"

"The speedboat has not enough fuel to back to the shore. My island is nearby," Johny replied.

Nyla curled her lips. Johny could plan a way out in such an emergency.

When the speedboat reached the shore, the oil was exhausted.

Johny had planned everything when they set off, so he called Bob in advance to come to this island first.

Seeing Nyla, Bob immediately looked away.

Since Nyla began to pursue Johny madly, Bob and Nyla became very embarrassed. They were supposed to marry for the family's profit, and now their relationship became awkward.

"How is it?" Bob asked.

"Ceres is fine," Johny said.

"The room is ready," Bob brought Johny to the villa on the island.

This island was Johny's private island. The climate and environment were similar to Ceres Island. However, Johny's island was not open to the public. Everything remained the same as before.

Johny carried Ceres into the bedroom, but Ceres still did not wake up.

"Ceres slept so soundly. Does she alright?" On the speedboat, Johny tested Ceres's breath several times, fearing that she would lose her breath.

Nyla crossed her arms at the side and said, "It will be fine. I know about this drug. It was like a death in the beginning. No matter what happens outside, she will not sense it. But when she wakes up, you will know how crazy she will be."

After that, Nyla patted Bob's shoulder, "What are you still standing there for? Are you going to be the third wheel here? They haven't slept in the same room for four years. It will be a long night."

Nyla yawned and walked out, "Find me a room. I'm sleepy."

Nyla's commanding posture made Bob very uncomfortable, as if he was her servant.

"This room," Bob said.

Bob took a look in the room because he did not know Nyla would come, so he didn't prepare a room for her.

"Just one night. The house here has always been cleaned. It's not dirty."

After Bob finished speaking, he heard no sound. When he turned around, he found Nyla standing silently, the tears on her face falling.

This was the second time Bob saw Nyla cry.

Nyla slowly squatted down, leaned against the wall, hugged herself, and covered her face.

"You can go out. Let me cry alone for a while."

Nyla couldn't help it.

At that moment, Bob suddenly felt that Nyla indeed liked Johny. She was never just playing.

"Do you like him that much?"

"It's been ten years. From the first time I saw him, I liked him. What do you think?" Nyla cried like a child.

For some reason, Bob felt a faint pain in his heart. It's weird cause he didn't like Nyla.

But knowing that Nyla liked a man so much, Bob still felt uncomfortable.

Bob said nothing and went straight out of the room, but Nyla chased out, "Is there any wine in this room? I want to drink some wine."

Bob looked at Nyla and took her downstairs. There was indeed wine in this house, and there was a lot.

Johny looked at Ceres uneasily and kept calling Ceres's name, but Ceres still didn't respond.

After a long time, Johny finally saw Ceres open her eyes.

"Ceres, you're awake?"

Ceres blinked a few times, and she looked at Johny with a flushed face. Suddenly, she hooked her arms around Johny's neck.

"Johny, I want you..."
