

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 238 I Want to Take Responsibility for You

"What are you doing?" Johnny said.

Johnny did not expect that Nyla would hurt Ceres!

Ceres blinked twice then fainted. Johnny held her in his arms.

"Do you think I will hurt her? If I wanted to harm her, she would be dead," Nyla looked a little impatient, "I am trying to hypnotize her! Don't you know that only I can find her memories back?"

Johnny looked at Nyla and only believed a little.

"Are you sure you can get Ceres's memories back through hypnosis?"

Johnny was still unsure.

It wasn't that Johnny didn't trust Nyla, but he didn't trust hypnosis.

"Of course, my teacher is the world's top hypnotist, the world's number one, and I am his favorite disciple! No one can do this hypnotism except me!"

Nyla said confidently.

Seeing that Johnny was still uncertain, Nyla urged, "Hey, I'm warning you, the effect of this shot is only fifteen minutes. You have to hurry up. If you don't do it, don't blame me!"

Johnny nodded.

They brought Ceres to the bedroom. When Ceres woke up, she saw Nyla holding a hexagram in her hand, shaking and muttering.

Ceres's vision gradually blurred.

"I am Ceres. Because The Morrises needs money and can't bear to part with their daughter, they married me to Johnny, who was in a vegetative state at that time..."

Nyla read out the contents of the hypnosis one by one, and Ceres's eyes had been in a semi-closed state.

Johnny and Bob were at the side. No one dared to make a sound, afraid of disturbing Nyla.

After a long time, Nyla finished reading those things, and she took a long breath.

Then, Nyla put away the hexagram and snapped her fingers.

"Alright, you can wake up now!"

Johnny and Bob looked at Ceres together.

Ceres sat on a chair, her head drooping, his eyes still half-open and half-closed.

Nyla looked at Ceres strangely and snapped her fingers again, "Wake up!"

However, there was still no movement from Ceres.

"Wake up!" Nyla stood up and patted Ceres's face hard, but Ceres was still in a state of hypnosis and seemed to have no intention of waking up.

"What happened?" Johnny grabbed Nyla's arm.

"It can't be. This is impossible! How could she not wake up!" Nyla pinched Ceres.

Johnny quickly stopped Nyla, "What exactly did you do?"

"That's impossible. I've removed her hypnosis. She should be able to wake up!"

Johnny grabbed Nyla tightly, "What did you do to her?"

Seeing that the situation was not good, Bob hurriedly stopped Johnny, "Johnny, don't be impulsive. Calm down and let Nyla see what the problem is."

Johnny let go of Nyla.

"No, she is still in a state of hypnosis and can't wake up. There must be a problem with my hypnosis. I will wake her up now," Nyla checked Ceres's eyes.

Nyla took out the hexagram again and waved it in front of Ceres.

After a while, Nyla snapped her fingers, and Ceres seemed to have lost her support, her eyes completely closed.

Johnny carried Ceres to the bed and asked, "What exactly is going on?"

Nyla was also flustered, "I don't know either. I followed all the steps and canceled the hypnosis, which made her forget about you before. But she couldn't wake up, so I temporarily canceled the hypnosis just now. So, if she wakes up, she still doesn't remember you."

Johnny glared fiercely at Nyla. He grabbed Nyla's wrist. "Ceres treated you as her best friend. You betrayed her!"

"I..." Nyla was speechless. She had indeed betrayed her best friend.

What Nyla valued the most in her life was the word "loyalty." She hated people who betrayed their loyalty the most, but for Johnny, she betrayed Ceres.

"Don't tell me you did something else again?"

Johnny has no way to believe Nyla.

"I didn't! I want to cancel her previous hypnosis, and only I can cancel it. I believe you have investigated it, but I indeed don't know what went wrong. My hypnosis has failed, and I can't wake her up."

Nyla was also very anxious. She did not know where was wrong.

"Is this your first time doing this kind of hypnosis?"

"Yes..." Nyla did not deny that it was indeed her first time doing this kind of hypnosis, "but I dare to swear that my steps are completely fine. I did not make a mistake, and I did not do anything bad!"

Johnny snorted and shook off Nyla's hand, "Scram! I don't want to see you again."

Nyla's heart was broken.

Nyla didn't know what was going on either.

"This disaster was created by me. I have to take responsibility for Ceres."

"No need!" Johnny roared irritably.

"But I need it! I need to prove my innocence and also need..." Nyla's voice was low, "Atone for my sins, I must figure out the truth. It must be Kirs, right! Kirs must have done something!"

As she spoke, Nyla was about to run out when she stopped by the door.

"Because Ceres had been hypnotized twice in a row, it consumed her a lot of energy. She couldn't wake up for a while. Even if she woke up, she would feel very tired. This is normal. Just need to rest."

After saying that, Nyla ran out, and Bob hurriedly chases her.

"Where are you going?" Bob asked.

"Send a boat to take me out of here immediately. I'm going to ask Kirs! This man must have tampered with Ceres's hypnosis behind my back. Otherwise, it would be impossible for it to be ineffective!" Nyla said resolutely.

"Kirs is tricky. You are no match for him. I will accompany you."

Bob and Nyla got on the boat and left.

Johnny stayed by Ceres's side the whole time. He called Ruby to make sure that Ceres was only tired, so she fell asleep. Only then did Johnny feel relieved.

When Ceres woke up again, it was dark outside.

As soon as Ceres opened her eyes and saw Johnny, Ceres glared at Johnny fiercely.

"Leave me alone!" Ceres said. Hearing this, Johnny knew that Ceres had still forgotten about him.

"You are my chick. How can you tell me to stay away from you?" Johnny deliberately leaned closer to Ceres.

"Shameless," Ceres shifted to the other side of the bed.

"Let's get married."

Hearing this, Ceres turned her head to look at Johnny in astonishment.

"I'm a responsible man. Although I was raped by you, I didn't suffer any losses in this, so I have to take responsibility for you."
