

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 247 Swedum's Birthday

She received a call from an unknown number as she started working in her office.

She answered the phone suspiciously.

"Hello, who is this?"

"Mom! I miss you so much." Swedum said through the phone.

Ceres was speechless for Swedum calling her mother. When she was in the hospital, she had promised Swedum to marry Johny, but now it had been this situation.

She did not know how to explain to Swedum.

"Mom, did you miss me?"

The child was innocent.

"I miss you! Of course, I miss you."

"I know that mom will miss me too. Mom, it will be August 15. Come and celebrate my birthday!"

Ceres realized that it would be August 15.

She wanted to celebrate Swedum's birthday, but she didn't want to meet Johny.

"Mom, it's a deal. I'm worried that when you and Daddy get married, you won't care about me if you have a baby, so you must celebrate my birthday carefully. I won't disturb your work anymore. Bye!"

Swedum hung up the phone after saying that.

"Hey, Elian! Elian!"

Swedum had hung up the phone. Ceres held his phone resignedly.

Ceres thought this might be a good opportunity.

After hanging up the phone, Swedum was extremely happy. He didn't care about his birthday at all. Moreover, he wasn't born on August 15. His birthday had been celebrated.

He just missed Ceres, and he wanted to create opportunities for Daddy and Mommy. They would celebrate his birthday at home.

Swedum thought that maybe he would have a little brother or sister soon.

While Ceres was worried about celebrating Swedum's birthday, Lara told her that Kirs was looking for her.

She collected all her thoughts and then came to Kirs's office.

"Mr. Kirs, are you looking for me?"

Kirs had prepared a strawberry cake and a glass of fruit juice for Ceres. Ceres smiled and sat opposite Kirs. She said, "Thank you."

"Why are you being so polite to me? You're tired from class, so you should eat to replenish your strength. Let's talk and eat."

"This is our company's new product proposal," Kirs handed a proposal to Ceres.

"New product?" Ceres looked at Kirs in disbelief.

They had released the new product not long ago, and the new product was still in the stage of conception. Why was it released so quickly?

Ceres flipped through the planning book and understood that it was to add some new elements to the robot that had just been released, which meant a new round of upgrades.

This was a trick that many manufacturers used.

However, Ceres did not like doing this.

"Mr. Kirs, I think our new product is selling well. I saw the evaluation on the Internet was good. In the field of robots, we have a good foundation, so I think we can postpone the new product. Because the new product should be more advanced than this one."

"If there isn't an advanced function, I think it will be difficult for consumers to be satisfied. That will ruin our good reputation. What do you think?" Ceres stated her thoughts.

The expression of Kirs was relaxed. "I have considered this problem. The advanced function you mentioned will be reflected in the new product. Otherwise, I wouldn't make the new product hurriedly."

"What is that function?" Ceres was concerned about it most.

"What we do is not just a robot, but more like a person, a family member. It can communicate with any family member and relieve their worries."

When she heard this, Ceres was more shocked.

"Mr. Kirs, I don't think we can do so."

Ceres knew about the abilities of the technical department. Although they were elites recruited from various places, it was too difficult to achieve what Kirs had said.

She knew it needed more time and the most advanced techniques.

"In fact, we have more research on the child smart robot of the Cosmos Group. However, because the company was on the verge of bankruptcy at that moment, we had to release the new product to fund it. So that is a half-finished product. Some functions will be completed soon."

Kirs explained carefully, "We just need to continue with that function development."

"That's the case." Ceres seemed to be deep in thought.

"Look at this plan carefully. Tomorrow is August 15. Relax and then come back to prepare for new products."

"I have something to do tomorrow," Ceres said hastily.

Kirs was a little disappointed. "What is that?"

"Tomorrow is Elian's birthday. I promised to Elian." Ceres smiled awkwardly.

"The son of Johny?"

"Although I hate Johny very much, his son is innocent. It is pitiful for a child to have no mother. I have promised to celebrate his birthday. It isn't good to break the appointment."

Kirs shrugged, "It doesn't matter. You are a kind girl."

Hearing that Ceres was going to celebrate Elian's birthday, Kirs felt more at ease.

This was Ceres's character. She was clear about grudges. She was kind and cute.

"Are you safe if you go to Johny's house? If you are afraid, I can accompany you."

"There's no need. Johny won't do anything. After all, Elian is there. I'll say that I have something to do. So, I will leave after sending my gift to Elian."

"Alright."

"Then I'll work."

Ceres returned to her office with the proposal book about the new product. She could not wait to open it to read.

Her hands were trembling.

At the airport.

Nyla was wearing sunglasses and looked downhearted.

Bob picked up a person today. Suddenly Nyla appeared. So, he rushed over to find her. At that moment, someone pushed the luggage cart. But Nyla seemed to not see it and hit it.

The man had a lot of luggage, which blocked his sight, and he did not see Nyla.

Bob rushed over and hugged Nyla to help her escape.

Nyla returned to now and looked at Bob.

"What's wrong with you? You are absent-minded!" Bob shouted angrily.

But Nyla did not have any reaction.
