

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 259 Was He Jealous?

Fuck!

His fiancée kissed another man in public. Bill was furious!

Alice was only wrapped in a bath towel. Wasn't this happening in TV series?

"What are you doing" A furious roar came from the door.

Alice was taken aback. Why was this voice so familiar?

She suddenly lost her mind.

"Stop!" The director also called out helplessly.

"Mr. Jaden, we are filming." A person in charge rushed to Bill.

Only then did Bill realize that they were filming. He felt a little embarrassed. After all, he had worked in Shiry Entertainment Group for several years. He should not have stopped their filming.

He even saw how a love scene was filmed. How did he lose control today?

"I'm fine. Just continue to film." Bill said with an embarrassed smile as he found a place to sit down.

Alice was surprised to see Bill. What was he doing here? Did he come to see her?

Somehow, Alice started to get nervous.

Why was she so nervous?

Was it because he was her fiancé, or was it because she once liked him?

Alice was so nervous that her palms were covered in sweat.

"Alice, did you remember how you acted just now? You acted perfectly. Can you keep yourself that way? OK?" The director stopped shouting and patiently comforted her.

Alice nodded and glanced at Bill. Bill was also looking at her. Their eyes met, and Alice hastily looked away.

Alice thought, 'Just treat him as a stranger. Sooner or later, we will break off the engagement. We won't get married.'

When she made up her mind, the director shouted, "start."

Bill's appearance suddenly appeared in her mind when she slowly approached Allen. Bill's handsome face was so attracted to her.

She thought about the scene when she first met him.

When Bill saw that Alice actually took the initiative to kiss Allen, he was provoked by it.

"Look, what is that?" Bill suddenly pointed to the ceiling and shouted.

Everyone was working quietly. This sudden sound shocked them. Alice also seemed to wake up from a dream and suddenly opened her eyes.

The director smashed his own head with the scripts in his hand.

"Stop!"

Bill nodded apologetically, "I'm sorry. The overhead lights are so special. I just forgot you're filming. You guys keep going."

The watching crowd was laughing and murmuring together.

"Mr. Jaden must be jealous. His fiancée has dressed in skimpy clothes, and in this film, her partner is an actor."

"I thought that Mr. Jaden wouldn't mind this."

"Mr. Jaden really cares about Alice. She is so lucky."

Bill also listened to the whispers behind him. He turned to look at the two people. "Can you speak louder? I almost heard everything!"

"Sorry, Mr. Jaden!" The two workers immediately went far away.

"Alice, if Mr. Jaden can distract you from acting, why don't you ask him to leave? Don't slow our film down." The director called Alice over.

Alice looked at Bill and bit her lips before walking towards him.

She took him to a lounge where was very simple and crude. Bill looked quite unhappy.

"Can you stop messing around?" Alice accused Bill as soon as she entered.

"What did I do?" Bill pointed to himself, feeling baffled.

"Aren't you making trouble? We are filming, OK? Mr. Jaden, we will break off our engagement sooner or later. You don't need to work, but I'm different from you. I still have to work."

Alice was reproaching him while she was imploring him to leave her.

Bill coughed lightly. Was he really jealous, like the two people said?

"But now, you are still my fiancée. I can't stand to see you dress like this and kiss another man even you're acting. How will others think of me?"

As he spoke, Bill looked Alice up and down.

Alice's face suddenly turned red, and she involuntarily pulled up her bath towel.

"I have seen your..." Bill was displeased.

When she was filming just now, he saw her bath towel slipping down a little.

But she didn't notice that. Now she...

"You..." Alice looked at Bill and was a little angry. "You leave immediately! Don't disturb me!"

"I am the investor of this film. It's up to me whether to continue." Bill was furious.

Alice stared at Bill in a daze.

Some powerful people always liked to control the fate of others. For them, a person like her was just a puppet that could be manipulated at will.

Alice's eyes suddenly turned red.

At that moment, Bill was completely flustered. "Don't, don't cry. What did I say? Any of my words hurt you?" he asked.

It was the first time he was at a loss in front of a girl with tears.

Alice suddenly felt that she was very useless. Just as her tears were about to fall, she hurriedly turned her face away, "Mr. Jaden, I'm begging you to leave. OK?"

Due to her work, she was used to being humble, so she didn't care.

Bill felt very upset because of Alice's attitude.

"Alright, alright. I'll take back what I just said. I'll leave, OK?"

"Thank you."

After Alice finished speaking, she walked out of the lounge. She put on makeup again, greeted the director, and began to film.

Bill walked out of the lounge. Then he couldn't help but look at Alice.

His feet seemed to be nailed to the ground. He was unable to move.

He didn't know what was going on. He felt so upset!

Alice leaned close to Allen affectionately.

Just as their lips were about to touch...

"Stop!"

The film was interrupted again.

Alice had a splitting headache, and Allen felt helpless.

"I just feel that there is something wrong with the plot. It is a big problem." Bill sat down and began to chat with the director, "I'm telling this for your good. The plot is unreasonable, so it's hard for the actress to get in character."

The director said helplessly, "Then how do you want to make a change?"

It was common for investors to change the scripts. As a director, he could only cooperate.
