

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 266 The Second Male Lead

Alice was delighted and a little flattered.

Although she was Ceres's best friend, she always felt that as a third-rate star, she was not worthy. Johnny was such a prestigious person. The wedding that he would hold would definitely be grand.

"Can ... I?"

"Why not? I want two bridesmaids, and one is you. Johnny has Bob and Bill. That's just right."

Ceres looked at Alice with a satisfied expression.

When Alice heard that Bill was the groomsman, the expression on her face was a bit stiff, but she could only nod and agree.

As the two of them chatted, Alice turned around and saw the strawberry print under Ceres's high collar. She burst out laughing.

"Ceres, are you so happy with sex blessing now?"

Alice deliberately dragged out the two words "sex blessing" very long. As she spoke, she pulled Ceres's collar.

Ceres immediately covered her neck with her hand. She felt embarrassed, "Don't mention it. Johnny has been ... dissatisfied every day."

"That's good," Alice laughed.

"Do you know that he is going to have four children? Four, oh my god, I feel like I'm going to become an old pig." Ceres stretched out her finger and gestured.

Alice laughed even harder. Although Ceres looked helpless, she could see that Ceres, who had lost her memories, was still very happy.

Alice was also very happy looking at her.

"Let's not talk about me. Let's talk about you, Alice. How far have you progressed with Bill? Have you ... that?" Ceres looked at Alice with a gossipy expression.

Alice did not expect that Ceres would actually talk about this topic. Her face immediately turned red. "Where? How could it be?"

"With Bill's personality, he actually doesn't have it." Ceres had a look of disbelief on her face. However, she thought that Alice would not lie to him. "But it's not good. This guy is a playboy. Who knows what will happen in the future?"

Alice pretended to laugh and pulled the corners of her lips.

She thought, "Yes, I would break off this relationship with Bill sooner or later.

"Alice, I don't mean anything else. What I mean is that we can inspect him more. He had bad behaviors before. Marriage is a matter of a lifetime. We can't be careless."

Alice naturally understood what Ceres meant. She nodded at her.

At this moment, her phone rang. She picked up the call. It was from the crew. They wanted her to go to the crew now.

Thus, Alice ended her gathering with Ceres's best friend and went to the set.

Along the way, she felt unhappy.

Everyone felt that she could not get together with Bill. Not only did they have such a huge gap in status, but Bill was also a person who was more diligent in changing girlfriends than changing clothes, so they were destined to be separated.

In fact, Alice also thought about it. She had promised Bill to pretend to be his fiancée in hopes of getting some opportunities.

But then she regretted it.

Somehow, she seemed to be expecting him.

Alice arrived at the set. As soon as she arrived at the set, she saw the familiar car, Bill's car.

As soon as she entered, she saw Bill.

He sat down on the sofa and placed a pen in the middle of his nose and lips as if he was having fun.

When the director and screenwriter saw Alice come in, they also greeted her in a hurry.

"Alice, Mr. Jaden has made some adjustments to this script. This is a new script. Look at it carefully. We will officially start filming tomorrow."

Alice took the script. She did not quite understand why Bill would change the script for no reason.

"Alice, this script was changed by Mr. Jaden. You can talk to him for a while, and we'll be going out to work." The director and screenwriter were tactful.

Alice ignored Bill and immediately picked up the script to read.

As she looked at this scene, she felt angry.

Bill had changed the script beyond recognition. He had changed a sweet drama into the old set of the overbearing president.

The heroine was teased and bullied by the overbearing president. In the end, the two of them even walked together, and the original male lead became the villain.

"What are you doing?" Alice took the script and looked at Bill.

"What do you mean? I don't think your script was that good, so I changed it when I played my super strong scriptwriter ability." Bill crossed his legs and said proudly, "Not bad, and I am still very talented in screenwriting. I am going to start my second career when my father expels me from the company."

Alice looked at Bill's face and really wanted to slap the script on his face. "Only you think this script is good. Bill, don't think too highly of yourself. What does my shooting of an online drama affect you?"

"Yes! You hugged that man in a bath towel and even kissed him. You, you, you..." Bill stuttered.

He seemed to have forgotten that the engagement between them was fake, and Alice was an actor.

"As my fiancée, it's not appropriate for you to take this kind of thing! I have to care!" Bill hurriedly explained.

Alice took a deep breath in pain.

Bill was the investor of this drama, and the directors and screenwriters were already in trouble, so they were thinking of accompanying this man for a month or two.

She had no choice. After all, she had also signed a contract. Because she had provoked Nancy in this drama, no one would help her in court.

"Alright." Alice picked up the script again and realized that there were still many intimate scenes in the revised script, even more, intimate than before.

"Bill, don't you think you are ridiculous? Your script is more intimate than the previous script. Are you kidding me? This second male lead is ugly. Now I will have all the intimate scenes with the second male lead. You think it is okay, right?"

What exactly is in this man's brain?

"Who said that the second male lead is ugly? He is handsome and elegant!"

Bill was not stingy with his praise.

Alice snorted coldly. "Do you know who the second male lead our crew hired is? Because the funds are limited, the second male lead we hired is very cheap. You should know that if it is cheap, there is no good."

"Who said that!" Bill immediately pulled a long face, "I am good! A good man that doesn't need money!"

"Alright, alright, alright. I won't argue with you. As long as you are happy!" Alice raised her hand.

"What do you mean?" she asked.

"I am the second male lead that you mentioned!"
