

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 274 The Mysterious Veil

"What did you say?"

Mike looked at his daughter in astonishment.

"Dad, you know what? Although Caleb didn't tell me, I accidentally saw his medical records. He has cancer and won't be cured. He will die soon. At that time, I will take over the Bullock Group, and we can have a good life together."

Jamie stretched out her hands to hold Mike's, which felt so rough. The smile on her face froze, and then she loosened her grip.

"Mary, anyway, it doesn't belong to you. Even if Caleb dies, won't you feel uneasy? Moreover, what if Caleb finds it one day? Or what if he's suspicious? Don't covet what's not yours, or you might pay for it one day."

Mike grabbed Jamie's shoulder and said, "Listen to me. Stop it before it's too late."

Jamie shrugged Mike's hands away and stepped back. She did not expect her father to be so stubborn and coward.

"I can't! Caleb likes me very much! If he knows that I am a fake, he won't let go of me!"

Jamie turned her head away. "Dad, everything is ready. It's up to you. I have to go."

After Jamie finished speaking, she got into her car.

Mike watched the car move away, having mixed feelings.

In the blink of an eye, the day of Johny and Ceres's wedding came.

This day, it happened to clear up after rainy days.

Since Ceres had no family, the wedding ceremony was directly held in Royal Hotel.

In the break room, everyone was busy except Ceres, the bride, who sat in front of the mirror, surrounded by the crowd.

As the bridesmaid, Alice was wearing a light green dress.

She gave Swedum and Dahlia a flower basket, each with fragrant rose petals inside.

Swedum was wearing a suit while Dahlia a white dress. The two doll-like kids stood together.

"Swedum, Dahlia, later you should stand in front of the bride and bridegroom. You'd better scatter the petals as high as you can, clear?"

"Yes, godmother!"

"Alright!"

It was the first time that Dahlia had attended such a lively ceremony, so she was very excited.

"Alright, I'll put the flower baskets here. Remember to take them then. Since there's still some time to go before the wedding, you can go play now!"

Dahlia applauded.

"I know where to get yummy food. Follow me!" Swedum hurriedly said.

He couldn't wait since Alice had spent a long time training them for it.

Then he pulled Dahlia and ran away.

Alice breathed a sigh of relief and returned to the break room, where fewer people remained. Ceres's make-up was almost done, and Nyla was leaning against the dresser, eating dessert.

"I've trained the two kids. I have to say Mary's daughter is sensible, unlike Mary. Unfortunately, she was abandoned by her mother."

Alice sighed as Alice spoke.

Nyla immediately scooped a spoonful of snacks and crammed it into Alice's mouth. "Don't mention that bitch on a red-letter day."

Alice curled her lips.

Nyla turned to look at Ceres. "Ceres, how can you have someone else design your wedding dress instead of me? I am such a famous designer. If word gets out about it, I'll be very embarrassed."

Ceres glanced at her. "Of course, I want you to design it for me, but you've been so busy, and the wedding is in haste. So, I could only have someone else do it."

"How about you marrying once again? Then I will design it for you! It doesn't matter whether you are the most beautiful bride in the world, but your wedding dress is!"

Alice shoved Nyla. "What nonsense you're talking! How could you say that on such a day?"

"Alright, I'm wrong!"

The three of them were having a good time.

Then Ceres was much less nervous after joking.

At this time, the designer of Ceres's wedding dress came. Although Ceres did not have much contact with her, Ceres liked her design at first sight. So, she invited her over this time.

"Congratulations, Miss Ceres."

"Thanks."

"Miss Ceres, after pondering, I think it will be better to add a veil to the wedding dress. Look, I've brought it."

The designer took out a veil from her bag. It was exquisite with a hollow design and the patterns of rose on it.

As she spoke, she helped Ceres put it on.

With the hollow design, it blurred Ceres's face, making her mysterious.

"I've never seen a bride wearing a veil. Isn't that weird?" Alice tilted her head and felt it somewhat inappropriate.

Ceres thought so, although she seemed to like it very much. After all, she also had never seen it.

"The groom can remove the veil in front of guests then. It's good and is getting popular abroad," the designer added.

Ceres turned to look at Nyla for some professional advice. "What do you think?"

Nyla asked Ceres to stand up. She looked at her up and down, then pursed her lips and smiled. "It's good. Some people did add the veil to the wedding dress for the wedding before, and the groom would remove it at the ceremony. Recently, some designers are doing so."

"The veil will make the bride mysterious and fascinating to the guests. But it's not suitable for some who are not that beautiful since it will upset the guests. But you're so beautiful, so you can have a try!"

Everyone laughed.

Since Nyla thought highly of it, Ceres readily consented.

"Thank you for adding a veil to the wedding dress. I will pay you for it after the wedding."

The designer quickly waved her hands. "No, you don't have to. I'm just trying to make my design better. This is my duty. Miss Nyla, do you think so?"

"What's the matter?" Nyla pointed to herself.

"I know you are an outstanding designer, so I want to talk to you about it. Are you available?"