

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 283 Say Goodbye to Your Beautiful Face

Caleb laughed and stroked Jamie's hair. Obviously, he wouldn't refuse.

He had no reason to refuse.

Therefore, Caleb quickly sent his private cruise over. They quickly boarded the ship and prepared to return to Country M.

Looking at the endless sea and the seagulls that flew over from time to time, Jamie revealed a satisfied smile.

She thought, 'Johnny, you would never have thought that we would leave on a ship, right?'

In the room of the cruise ship, Caleb's face was gloomy. On the small table was his favorite tea, but he took a sip and shook his head repeatedly.

"Roy, did you finish what I asked you to do?"

"Yes, I did. I left two people to stay in the Imperial City. They will keep investigating what happened to Miss Jamie and observe Johnny's movements. These two people are very clever and will not be noticed by others."

"Good. Well done."

Roy hesitated for a moment before continuing, "Mr. Caleb, are you suspecting Miss Jamie?"

"It's true that she is my daughter, but if what Johnny said is true that her character is so bad, I really can't give the company to her."

Roy nodded. He would support Caleb's every decision.

"But she is my daughter. I will slowly guide her to the right path," Caleb let out a long sigh, "But I don't have much time left. I don't know if I can teach her well."

"Mr. Caleb, don't say such things. Medicine is so advanced now. As long as you can receive treatment, you must have a long, long time." Roy comforted.

Of course, Caleb knew that Roy was comforting him. He looked at Roy with a very kind gaze.

"Roy, I have no children. Ever since I brought you home, I raised you."

Roy's lips slightly relaxed, "Mr. Caleb, you have saved my life and raised me. I will repay you well in my whole life."

Caleb waved his hand, "If we always talk about repaying or not, then we're treating each other as outsiders. Roy, if one day I'm no longer here, I hope that you can stay by Jamie's side and teach her well, treating her like your own sister, okay?"

"I won't let you down."

Caleb nodded. Roy was indeed the person he trusted the most.

In the dead of the night

In the room at the bottom of the cabin, a man led Jamie over. The man turned on the light. Under the cabin was the mechanical equipment of the ship. Usually, no one would come over. There was a big box inside. The man walked over and opened it.

The girl revealed her face.

She was still in a coma.

Jamie placed a bank card in the man's hand, "Good job!"

"Thank you, Miss Jamieel!" When the man saw the bank card, he immediately beamed with joy.

"Drag her out for me."

The man followed Jamie's instructions and dragged Ceres out of the big box and put her on the ground.

Jamie took out the things she had prepared. She caressed Ceres's face and said, "What a beautiful face. Ceres, oh Ceres, you can say goodbye to your beautiful face."

She took out a needle and gently poked the skin on Ceres's forehead. The red liquid slowly entered her skin.

Perhaps it was because of the pain, Ceres's fingers moved a little.

When she woke up, Jamie was sizing her up with a pair of innocent eyes, "You're awake? My dear sister?"

"Where is this?" Ceres felt a splitting headache.

"This is the big ship heading to Country M." Jamie stood up and looked down at Ceres. She looked at the huge red spot on her face.

This was her masterpiece, for which she was really satisfied.

"What do you want?" Ceres slowly recalled what had happened at the wedding.

Ceres didn't know how her wedding was going, but she guessed Johnny must have gone crazy looking for her.

"Nothing. I was just taking you out to play." Jamie admired Ceres like she was admiring a piece of art.

Ceres did not know why Jamie had such a look in her eyes. She didn't feel any kindness from Jamie.

"It's getting late. I have to go back to sleep. You should rest early too."

Jamie yawned as she returned.

Ceres stayed at the bottom of the cabin. When the lights were not turned on, there was really no light. She looked around but could not find any exit. There was only one exit that was sealed by Jamie.

No, she had to find a way to escape from here.

During the day, Jamie held Caleb's arm and enjoyed the wind on the deck.

"Dad, I'm so happy. It's the first time I've sat on such a big ship in my life. It's great! Thank you, Dad!" Jamie was happy like a child.

Caleb looked at Jamie's happy appearance and felt that he seemed to have become a few years younger.

"I'm glad that you like it. Do you have anything else to do? Dad will definitely satisfy you."

Caleb looked at this face that resembled his own. The more he looked at it, the more he liked it. He had never known that having a considerate daughter would be so pleasant.

If he had known this, he would have found her back long ago.

"Dad, I don't have anything else to do."

"You didn't?"

"No, Dad, there is really nothing left. There is only one thing I want to do. That is to accompany Dad and be a well-behaved and filial daughter."

Jamie's words made Caleb's heart feel as sweet as honey.

"Good, good. That's my good daughter. I'm a little tired. I'll go back and have a rest."

"Alright. I'll take you back."

After sending Caleb back to the room, the expression on Jamie's face immediately collapsed. What was so fun about this cruise ship? If it wasn't for the sake of avoiding Johnny, she wouldn't have chosen to take the ship!

She thought, 'It was boring!'

It was time to have some fun.'

So, she once again came to the bottom of the cabin. As soon as the light was turned on, Ceres subconsciously closed her eyes. The dazzling light hurt her eyes. After slowly adapting, she found that it was Jamie.

"I came to see you, sister."

"Don't call me sister. It's disgusting." Ceres glanced at her.

Perhaps it was because Jamie had injected her with some medicine, Ceres felt weak all over. In addition, she had not eaten much, so she had no strength at all.

"If you feel disgusted, just vomit. Is there anything in your stomach that you want to vomit?" Jamie laughed loudly, "I came here today to give you a task. We are still two days away from Country M. You haven't eaten anything for a day and a night, have you? It doesn't matter. After you serve this little brother well today, he will give you food and water."

Ceres looked warily at Jamie and the man. "You..."

The man rubbed his hands and walked over to Ceres with an obscene smile on his face.
