

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 287 Good Luck

Ceres smiled.

"But you still brought me here," she said.

The servants in the Bullock's didn't have to worry about food and housing. It was a perfect job for Ceres because she didn't have to pay the rent.

"You should know that Miss Jamie hates you. She will torture you, so..." Roy hesitated.

"I understand. I heard what you and Dylan said." Ceres grinned.

"Then I wish you good luck," Roy said.

Looking at Ceres' smile, Roy didn't know what to say.

Although the red spots on Ceres' face were ugly, her face was beaming with a smile. Her smile was warm. Roy realized that Ceres was so different.

"Wait a minute. Can I borrow your phone?" Ceres stopped Roy.

Roy gave his phone to Ceres without hesitation.

Ceres opened her E-mail and sent an email to Johnny.

It said, "Johnny, I am in a safe place. You don't have to look for me. Something happened, so I can't see you now. When it is appropriate, I will come back. I am fine. Don't worry."

Ceres sighed after she sent the email. She didn't want to worry Johnny.

She stopped smiling after she gave the phone back to Roy.

"Will you go back?" Roy asked.

He saw the email when he took over his phone.

"Sorry, it's still here," Roy explained.

Ceres was not angry. It was nothing private.

"I don't know. I have to work now. Thank you." Ceres walked away at once.

Looking at her stubborn back, Roy began to think about something.

In Country A.

Johnny was sitting in his office. He banged the table and his hand became numb from the pain. But the pain in his hand was nothing in front of the pain in his heart.

He didn't expect that Ceres would leave Country A by boat!

That day, he ordered to close the airport. As long as Caleb and Jamie left, he could stop them at once. Johnny knew that Jamie would take Ceres away with her.

However, he didn't expect that they would leave by sea.

At this time, Johnny received an email.

He clicked it. His eyes widened after he read the content.

It was from Ceres and the email was not long.

"Bob, come over!" Johnny shouted.

"Is it from Ceres?" Bob walked over quickly.

"Yes, it is from her," Johnny said.

"But we are not sure if it is really from Ceres. Someone might have hacked her account. If it was Ceres, why didn't she come back? This is weird," Bob said.

He couldn't understand it.

Johnny shook his head and said, "It is indeed from Ceres."

"Why are you so sure?" Bob asked.

"The way she uses punctuation and she writes. It is indeed from Ceres," Johnny said firmly.

"But why didn't Ceres come back? What happened to her?" Bob asked.

While Johnny was staring at the email without reply.

He didn't know why!

He didn't know why Ceres would send this email and what happened to her.

"Immediately locate the IP of this email and the equipment! I have to find her!" Johnny shouted.

Bob and Johnny began to work on their computers at once. But they couldn't locate Ceres's position because the time she used her account was too short. But Johnny could make sure that Ceres was in Country M.

Johnny was at a loss.

The only hope evaporated again.

"Johnny, since this email is from Ceres, she wouldn't lie. She must be safe. Maybe we can trust Caleb. He is trustworthy. He would let Ceres go if he found that Jamie kidnapped Ceres," Bob said.

Johnny gently rubbed his temples.

He had been wondering what made Ceres send this email.

"Okay, we will wait and see." Johnny made up his mind to wait.

In Country M.

Ceres didn't know how to face Johnny. But after she chose to stay in the Bullock's, she had a new plan.

Because of this, she realized how painful it was to forget what happened between her and Johnny. So, Ceres was determined to get the memory back.

She had no idea how Johnny fell in love with her. And she forgot what brought them together and how much she loved him.

If she couldn't remember these things, their relationship wouldn't last.

Therefore, she wanted to get back her memories. But Johnny forbade people to talk about their past. So, Ceres could only come to Jamie.

Ceres had a feeling that what happened between her and Jamie had something to do with Johnny, although she couldn't remember them both.

However, how could Jamie tell her the past as she wished? So, Ceres had to find Jamie's weakness. Then, Jamie would tell her the truth.

"What are you thinking about? Go to work now!" A servant threw the shit in the bucket on Ceres.

People around began to laugh at Ceres.

The disgusting smell made Ceres want to vomit. She turned to look at the servant.

"Look away! You are so ugly. You frightened me! Don't look up at me!" the servant snapped.

The servant was a young woman. Her cheeks were red and her skin was rough. She must come from the countryside.

"She is so ugly. I share the room with her. I might be scared when I get up at midnight and see her face," another servant mocked.

The people around started laughing again.

The garden was very big, but there were only a few servants. This was the only way for them to amuse themselves.

Ceres looked at these servants laughing at her. She dropped the shovel in her hand and walked to the servant who threw the garbage on her and said, "I need you to apologize to me."

"Apology? I will never do that to you. Ugly orc!" the servant said.

"Are you sure?" Ceres said calmly.

"Yes! What do you want? Do you want to hit me? Come on!" The servant provoked again.

Ceres grabbed her hair and the servant cried out.

People at present were stunned!

Ceres pulled the servant to the bucket with shit and pressed her head into the bucket.

It happened so soon. People were frightened by what Ceres did!
