

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 296 One Stone, Two Birds!

"Carly!" Jamie shouted inside.

No one responded.

"Carly! Don't pretend to be dead! Come out now!" Jamie roared again, but no one responded.

She also began to panic.

The servants behind began to whisper. If Ceres really died inside, Caleb would definitely blame her.

"You guys! Go and pull her out!" Jamie gave the order.

The servants looked at each other.

"Miss Jamie, Mr. Caleb said that this is the forbidden area. We dare not go!"

"Then you go!" Jamie pointed to another servant.

"I, I don't dare either. I don't want to die yet! What if I'm allergic to these roses too? What if I'm like her?"

"Yes. I'm allergic to roses. I'm definitely allergic to these."

The servants refused her, and no one dared to go in.

Jamie stomped her feet. She couldn't go in alone, right?

When she first entered the manor, Caleb had specially instructed her that there was a rose garden there. It was a forbidden area of the Bullock family. No one was allowed inside, not even if they were standing on the side and admiring the roses.

If Ceres really died inside, Jamie did not know how to do it.

She stood at the edge of the rose garden, also shivering a little. If these rose thorns were really that poisonous, then if she was stabbed, would she die of allergy?

Her current life was hard to come by. She did not want to die so quickly.

Just as Jamie was at her wit's end, a voice came from behind, "Do you not want to live anymore?"

Everyone turned and saw Roy.

Jamie was also shocked when she saw Roy. She thought that Roy had followed Caleb on a business trip. Why didn't he go?

Roy. glanced at Jamie, "Miss Jamie, this rose garden is a forbidden area. Anyone who trespasses the forbidden area will die. This is a rule set by Mr. Caleb!"

"She went in by herself. She's new and doesn't know the rules." Jamie turned her face to the side.

"Is that so?"

Roy's gaze immediately swept towards the others.

No one was willing to offend Jamie, but this family belonged to Caleb. If Jamie also let them do such a thing in the future, wouldn't they be in trouble?

"It ... It was Miss Jamie who deliberately threw her earrings inside and asked Carly to find them. That was why Carly went in."

"Yes, it was Miss Jamie who asked Carly to go in. She also asked Carly to lie on the ground and search."

The servants told the truth one by one.

"You!" Jamie glared at them fiercely.

She would never let them go!

"Miss Jamie, I think the eyes of the crowd are sharp. I will report this to Mr. Caleb when he comes back."

As he spoke, he entered the rose garden and picked Ceres up.

When Roy came out, there were several bloodstains on Ceres's face. Her pants were cut in several places, and the bloodstains inside could be vaguely found.

Roy watched helplessly as Roy walked away with Ceres in his arms.

She stomped her feet in anger!

However, she suddenly laughed when she saw Roy hugging Ceres.

It just so happened that she could have a plan of killing two birds with one stone!

Roy. carried Ceres back to his room and threw her directly onto the sofa. "Alright, stop pretending!"

Ceres immediately opened his eyes and smiled brightly at Roy. "How great you are! You can see that I am pretending!"

Roy faintly smiled.

"Fortunately, you sent me a message in time. Otherwise, your act would have become real."

Ceres's smile froze. When she pretended to faint under the rose garden, she heard the conversation of the servants. "Could it be that the rose garden really..."

"Don't ask about things you shouldn't know. The rose garden is a forbidden area. You can't go there anymore."

Roy interrupted Ceres.

Looking at Ceres's thoughtful expression, Roy added, "I hope you remember what I said. Otherwise, I won't be able to save you next time. I think you don't want to die."

Ceres looked at Roy's serious expression and patted his shoulder. "Why are you so nervous? Don't worry, I still cherish my life very much."

"This is for the best."

"But we should still study what we should do next."

"What we should do next?"

Roy was somewhat puzzled.

Ceres smiled strangely.

Jamie paced back and forth in her room. She was going to use a plan of killing two birds with one stone to catch Roy and Ceres in one fell swoop.

On this day, Caleb had informed Jamie in advance that he was about to return.

Jamie knew that her chance had come when she received the news.

It was this evening that she wanted to settle things with Roy and Ceres.

Jamie sent someone to call over Paula, who worked in the hot spring room, and then stuffed a bottle of medicine into her hand.

"Put this thing into Carly's meal when we eat."

Paula was scared out of her wits, "Miss Jamie, you..."

"Don't worry, I just want to punish her. This medicine just makes her feel uncomfortable all over. Who told her to offend me in the rose garden a few days ago?"

Paula trembled in fear, "But, but..."

"There is no but! If I remember correctly, you cherish this job. You have a seriously ill mother at home. You definitely do not want to be dismissed!"

Paula had to silently put that bottle of medicine into her pocket.

"Go. You will definitely benefit from this. I will help you adjust your post so that your salary will be higher."

"Thank you, Miss Jamie," Paula said and left.

After dinner, Ceres fell directly on the bed in the dormitory. Just as Paula was about to go out and call someone, Jamie came over with her people.

Paula hastily retreated to the side.

Jamie ordered people to take Ceres away. Then, she stripped Ceres of her clothes and placed her on Caleb's bed.

She looked at the sleeping Ceres and couldn't help but smile.

He wondered how Caleb would feel when he saw Ceres sleeping here naked.

After doing this, it was Roy's place next.

Jamie directly sent someone to call Roy. However, Roy sent someone to report that he had fallen asleep.

Jamie was anxious and did not want to miss such a good opportunity, so she put on a piece of clothing outside the pajamas and went to Roy.

Roy. opened the door and saw Jamie. "What's the matter?"

"Mr. Roy, are you still angry with me? So you won't even let me in?"

"In the middle of the night, it is not very convenient for a man and a woman to be alone. If Miss Jamie is not in a hurry, let's talk about it tomorrow."

Jamie, on the other hand, pushed Roy and walked in directly. "I just want to talk to you about the grudge between us."
