

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 305 He Insists to Claim Her to Be His Goddaughter

Sleep eluded Caleb that night.

Somehow, he was reluctant to let Ceres leave. Although Caleb and Ceres had known each other for a short while and had not spoken to each other much, he always felt a kinship with Ceres.

Caleb never took the initiative to have a godson or goddaughter. When he claimed Ceres to be his goddaughter, he couldn't believe that she refused.

Caleb sat up from the bed and murmured, "What a wicked girl! She made me embarrassed. If this gets out, I will lose my face!"

The next morning, Caleb, who had not slept well, was in a bad mood. When he was eating breakfast, he felt that everything was offending his eyes.

Roy noticed that something was wrong with Caleb, so after Caleb finished his breakfast, Roy said, "Mr. Caleb, it seems that you are not feeling well. Why don't you go to the hot spring to have a rest?"

Caleb also intended to take a bath in hot springs, but it was a little bit weird to do that in the morning. Now he could take Roy's suggestion, making his action reasonable.

"Alright, I'll go to refresh myself."

Caleb said as he walked towards the hot spring room.

When he arrived, he was surrounded by a group of servants. However, he didn't see Ceres.

"Where's the girl called Carly? Why isn't she here?" Caleb asked.

Ceres was supposed to continue working hard till the last minute. She was on duty last night, so she had to make a handover with the people in the hot spring room this morning. Besides, it was only right to say goodbye to him after working for a while.

"She has already left." The head of the hot spring room replied.

"She left? She hasn't finished her work yet. Why did she leave? What an irresponsible girl! She didn't work properly with her salary!" Caleb immediately lost his temper.

"Carly has been here for half a month, but she didn't take her salary when she left," the person in charge smiled awkwardly.

Ceres left without taking her salary. There was no ground for blame.

"Miss Carly came early in the morning. The handover work had been done." The person in charge added.

It was Caleb who came late.

Roy also felt helpless. Caleb snorted angrily and walked out of the hot spring room.

"She was supposed to say goodbye! Who cares about her?"

Caleb started to curse as soon as he left.

Roy followed behind him, holding back his laughter.

Caleb was just like a child, so Roy just played along.

"Mr. Caleb, where are we going?" Roy asked.

"Go to work! Where else can I go?" Caleb shouted.

He was supposed to go to work.

Thus, Caleb was going to the Bullock Group by car.

Roy, who sat at Caleb's side, heard him muttering a few words, "Why did she leave? Why didn't she say goodbye to me?"

Then, Caleb suddenly said, "How dare you?"

Roy turned to look at Caleb and asked, "Mr. Caleb, what's wrong?"

"I wanted to claim her to be my goddaughter, but she refused me! No way! If this gets out, I will lose face!" Caleb shouted.

"Uh..." Roy didn't know what to say.

"This is the only road outside the manor. It's hard to take a taxi on this road. We might find her if we keep going. Drive slowly and pay attention to the pedestrians on the road." Caleb commanded the driver.

"Mr. Caleb, are you really going to claim Miss Carly to be your goddaughter?" Roy asked.

"Of course!"

Caleb had always been a man of his word.

"But Mr. Caleb, shouldn't you ask Miss Jamie first? If you have a goddaughter, the company..." Roy spoke out his concern.

Because of Caleb's special status, he had to be cautious to have a goddaughter, especially at this time.

"What? Do you mean I can't even have a goddaughter? Jamie won't have any objections. She is too impatient and careless. But Carly is smart and loyal. She has her ways of doing things. She might help Jamie. It would be nice if they could get along with each other."

Caleb came up with this benefit after he had made up his mind.

Roy said nothing. He was worried that although Caleb cared about Jamie, she was ungrateful.

"Roy, do you adore Carly?" Caleb asked.

Roy was stunned. "Mr. Caleb, are you kidding?"

Caleb laughed out loud, "I knew it when I saw your face. It's a pity that she's taken. Johnny's not a man to be trifled with."

"However, it is not necessarily good for her to be with Johnny. Roy, if you do like her, I can help you." Caleb added.

"No, no, no. Mr. Caleb, you misunderstood us. Carly and I just... just get on well."

Roy was in a fluster and even stuttered a little.

"Son, you can't hide from me. You're only one year younger than Johnny. Johnny's son is already three and a half years old. But you haven't got a girlfriend yet."

Thinking about this, Caleb felt guilty.

"It's also my fault. You have so many things to do. You have to take care of the matters of both the manor and the company. I'm the one who burdened you."

"Mr. Caleb, don't say that. You saved my life. I should do anything for you." Roy said.

Caleb waved his hand. He had saved Roy, but he didn't want Roy to stay by his side for the rest of his life.

"Don't worry. I will arrange everything properly for you before I pass away. I will bear your marriage in my mind."

Roy didn't know what to say. When it came to these issues, Caleb was always very sad.

His life could not last much longer, so Roy let him do anything he wanted. Roy was willing to fulfill the wish of a dying person.

"Stop the car!" When Caleb looked out of the window, he saw Ceres walking on the road.

Ceres was walking slowly when she suddenly felt two cars braking next to her.

After the window rolled down, Ceres saw that Caleb was in the car. "Carly, get in the car! I have something to say." Caleb said.

Ceres pointed at herself confusedly. She had no idea what to say.

Since he was here, Ceres thought she should get in the car.

At this time, Ceres found that her shoelaces had loosened, so she crouched down to tie them up.

The moment she looked up, she suddenly saw that there seemed to be a light flashing under the car.

Ceres curiously got on the ground and looked under the car.

"What are you looking at? Get in the car!" Caleb said.

"Get out of the car! There's a bomb!" Ceres got up in a panic.

"What?" Caleb didn't catch her words.

"Get out of the car!" Ceres shouted.

Roy heard it clearly, so he said in a hurry, "Mr. Caleb, get out of the car. There is a bomb under the car!"
