

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 335 You Don't Want to Talk to Me

At this critical moment, Jamie had to be careful.

Mike looked at Jamie in astonishment. He didn't think too much about it. When he heard that something had happened to the Bullock family, he immediately rushed over. After hearing Jamie's words, he realized that it seemed a bit too coincidental.

"They're definitely trying to use you."

Jamie frowned and thought about it carefully, feeling that something was wrong.

"Since they know about your existence, why don't they just grab you? In that case, they can use you to threaten me."

Jamie seemed to be talking to herself, "Who are they? Ceres and Roy are already dead. Other than Ceres, who would know of your existence?"

Jamie was confused. All of these seemed too strange.

Grabbing Mike could end the problem once and for all. Why didn't they grab him?

"Did you just say that Ceres is dead?" Mike looked at Jamie in shock.

Mike didn't want to mention the things that Jamie had done before, but Ceres was Jamie's sister after all!

How could Jamie...

Only then did Jamie come back to her senses. "My mom did it. She thought that as long as Ceres was alive, my identity as Miss Jamie would be exposed. My mom didn't want to live in fear, so she had to kill Ceres."

Mike was so scared that he took a few steps back. Ceres' mother killed Ceres, her biological daughter.

His wife was so ruthless!

Seeing how shocked Mike was, Jamie could only comfort him, "Dad, what happened. If you do not help me, I have no way out. Do you want to see me die?"

Mike didn't know how to answer Jamie's question.

"Enough being said. Dad, I wanted to send you out, but now it seems that someone is still up to something. So, I think you should stay here for the time being. No one will do anything to you under my watch. If you go out and get caught, things might get tricky."

Jamie didn't wait for Mike to say anything and called for a servant to arrange a room for Mike.

Jamie repeatedly reminded Mike not to reveal his identity. Instead, he should claim himself as her relative, and he came here to stay with her temporarily.

Jamie tossed and turned that night. She couldn't think of anyone who would go against her.

However, this also gave her a wake-up call. A long delay meant trouble. She had to take the position of the president of the Bullock Group as soon as possible. In such a way, no one could do anything or stir up trouble anymore.

Since she couldn't find the will, she could only crack Caleb first.

Dylan had been by Caleb's side. Also, now and then, someone would come to pry in the name of visiting Caleb. It was difficult for Jamie to make a move.

What should she do?

In the hotel...

Ceres and Roy could only stay in the hotel for the time being, and for safety reasons, Johnny didn't let them go out.

Ceres, who was stuck in the hotel, felt like she was about to go crazy!

Johnny, however, lived comfortably in the hotel. Staying here did not affect his work at all. He even had a video conference.

Ceres sat on the sofa and glared at Johnny, who was having a video conference.

Johnny didn't seem to be in a hurry at all.

"All right, that's all for today's meeting. Everyone, go ahead and do as you are told."

Johnny's video conference finally ended.

Ceres looked away.

"Pour me a glass of water." Johnny picked up the glass and found that there was no water left, so he put the glass on the table and said.

Ceres rolled her eyes. She stood up, took the glass, and poured the water for Johnny. She put the glass on the table heavily, and the water splashed out. Only then did Johnny notice Ceres' long face.

"What's wrong?"

"Nothing!" Ceres said impatiently, sat on the sofa, and turned on the TV.

Ceres thought, 'He claimed that he would help me, but he just sat in the hotel and did nothing. Liar! My honey trap was all for nothing!'

Johnny's phone rang. "Mike didn't come out of the Bullock's?"

Hearing Mike's name, Ceres looked at Johnny. How come she forgot about Mike?

After the Morris family went bankrupt, Mike disappeared!

Johnny hung up the phone, and Ceres immediately ran over. "You were talking about Mike just now. Did I hear you right?"

"I thought you didn't want to talk to me." Johnny worked with his laptop in front of him and did not even look at Ceres.

"I changed my mind. Just tell me!"

Johnny picked up the glass and took a sip of water. "Too late."

"Why are you acting like this? You know how anxious I am! You're killing me!"

Ceres pulled Johnny's hands away and sat on his lap. "Do you have other plans?"

"I sent someone to tell Mike what happened on the sly. Sure enough, Mike went to the Bullock's. But he did not come out last night. I don't think he will come out."

Ceres patted Johnny on the head. Johnny frowned slightly. She was so bold!

"You fool! You should've captured Mike and threatened Jamie. This way, we can get a sweet deal. At the very least, we can restrain Jamie!"

Johnny shook his head. "The woman used her life as leverage to let her mother kill her sister. She had no boundaries."

Ceres opened her mouth wide and did not make a sound for a long time.

"She changed completely. She is a different person now."

"That's so awful!"

Ceres felt that her hair stood on end. Would Jamie kill her biological father for the sake of benefits?

Ceres found it hard to believe. However, she then thought of the fact that Sally wanted to kill her. Maybe nothing was impossible after all.

"Then what should we do now? We have made the wrong move when dealing with Mike."

"I thought Mike could convince her. I didn't expect her to be so crazy. But it doesn't matter. Maybe it is a good thing that Mike stays there."

Ceres thought that Johnny was implying something.

"What do you mean? Do you have other plans?"

Johnny then raised his head and looked at Ceres seriously. Ceres was sitting on his thigh and unconsciously wrapped her arms around his neck. Her chest was in line with his gaze.

Ceres met Johnny's eyes and suddenly had a bad hunch.

"I ... I'll leave you to your work." As she spoke, Ceres was about to get off Johnny's thigh. However, she found that Johnny had locked her in his arms.

"You have interrupted me already. So, as punishment..." Johnny stood up from his seat with Ceres in his arms.

Ceres was about to cry!
