

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 355 Good Idea

Ceres had not expected things to be much more difficult than she had imagined.

Caleb knew that Roy told Ceres about his illness and immediately called Roy over to scold him.

Before Ceres could find ways out, she received a call from Ben.

"Ms. Ceres, Mr. Johny, and I are in Country M right now. Where are you? I'll pick you up."

"You're here?"

Ceres was very surprised. Johny came over so quickly. She thought, 'Didn't he mind it at all?'

After giving Ben the address, Ceres decided to meet Johny first.

So she told Roy about it.

"Johny is here? Why don't you let me send you there?"

Ceres replied with hesitation, "Why don't you send someone to send me there? You need to keep Caleb company. I'll feel better if you stay with him."

If Roy appeared in front of Johny, there would be a conflict.

"Alright." Roy immediately arranged for someone to send her away.

Ceres soon arrived at the address Ben gave her and found that it was not a hotel but a villa.

"Ms. Ceres, you're here!" Ben was already waiting inside.

"Where is he?"

"He is working in the study upstairs. I will take you there."

"What a workaholic!" Ceres couldn't help but complain and followed Ben upstairs.

After entering the study, Ceres found that Johny was really working.

There was a computer in front of Johny, his slender fingers tapping on the keyboard.

Ben closed the door.

Ceres was a little proud that Johny came for her so quickly. It seemed that he still cared about her very much.

Johny tried to clear her throat, but he did not even raise his head.

Ceres cleared his throat again. Johny could not help but say, "I knew you came."

"Then why didn't you talk to me?"

"I'm busy." Johny's voice was cold and indifferent.

Ceres was so angry. Johny had already come for her. Yet, he was wearing a long face!

"Then focus on your work," Ceres said as she walked away. Johny stretched out his long arm and grabbed Ceres's wrist. He pulled her into his arms all of a sudden, making her fall on his lap. He took the opportunity to hug her.

Ceres was secretly delighted, "Don't give me that face. You came here for me. Did you miss me?"

Johny did not even look at Ceres. "The company will expand the business in Country M. I have to work here for some time."

Ceres finally realized that Johny didn't come for her. No wonder he did not stay in a hotel but in a villa. It turned out that he wanted to stay here for a long time.

"Let me tell you something serious. Caleb has cancer," she said as she pouted.

Therefore, Ceres told Johny everything about Caleb. Johny was not surprised at all. He knew that such a soft-hearted person like Ceres would definitely stay to take care of Caleb.

"I may have to stay here for a long while. But it won't take too long. After he takes examinations and treatment, I will be free. What do you think?"

"Up to you." Johny was indifferent. He could not stop her. After all, Caleb was her biological father.

Ceres said a lot of things, but Johny was still indifferent, so she was naturally a little unhappy.

"Don't you have anything to say to me?"

Ceres pursed her lips and felt unhappy. Only then did Johny stop typing and look Ceres in the eyes. They looked at each other.

Johny suddenly placed his large palm on the back of her head and pressed hard. Their lips touched.

The passionate kiss caught Ceres off guard. Johny kissed her so hard that Ceres even felt as if her lips were about to be worn out!

Johny finally stopped when her phone rang.

"This is a punishment for leaving without informing me in advance," Johny said in a low and hoarse voice.

"What? If you hadn't quarreled with me, I wouldn't have left without telling you! It's your fault."

Johny's gloomy gaze swept over Ceres' face. Ceres immediately looked at Johny flatteringly. "It's my fault. Don't be angry. Are you happy now? How about making out to cool you down?"

Ceres was joking, and her tone was teasing.

However, she didn't expect Johny to stand up with her in his arms. "Good idea!"

"Hey, hey, hey, I was joking! I still have something else to do!"

Johny didn't care about that and directly carried Ceres to the bedroom.

When it was done, it was already dark. Johny asked Ceres to have dinner here and sent her back.

Ceres first went back to the hospital and found that Caleb was discharged!

So she went back to the Bullock's.

As soon as she entered the door, she saw Roy. Roy's eyes were fixed on Ceres's neck. The hickey on her neck seemed to be Johny's warning that he left on purpose.

Ceres saw Caleb sitting on the sofa and immediately rushed over. "Caleb, who allowed you to be discharged?"

"Where have you been?" Caleb asked as he sipped his tea casually.

"Do I need to report things to you?"

"Yes, you do!"

"Johny wants to expand the business in Country M and is working here. I went to see him," Ceres said. Considering that Caleb was a patient, she dared not anger him like before.

Caleb raised his eyes. He saw the eye-catching hickey at once. His face immediately darkened. "It's improper! Improper!"

"What do you mean? I went to see my husband! We are married!"

Caleb waved his hand. "You should be a decent woman, not a horny one! He is a brat!"

He gritted his teeth. "Divorce him immediately!"

"Are you kidding? We have a son." Ceres was puzzled.

"So what if you have a son? That guy is obviously not a good man. Divorce him!"

When Caleb saw the hickey on Ceres's neck, he felt that Johny was not a good man. Although it was normal for a couple to have sex, Johny came from a distant place for her. He even left such an obvious mark on Ceres's neck. It was too obscene!

"You're crazy!" Ceres said angrily and went upstairs.

She thought, 'What a crazy man!'

Ceres rushed into the bathroom to wash her face. As a result, she also saw the hickey on her neck. It was so obvious!

"Johny, you bastard!"

No wonder Caleb was so angry! The reason was that Caleb saw the hickey!
