

Opened 3002

Chapter 3002

Ellis felt a little regretful: "Okay! I respect you. Then we will get along as friends from now on. If you think that I am not bad one day, you can start a family with me, and you can tell me as soon as possible."

Joanna: "Okay. But I suggest you get to know other women more, you will definitely find a more suitable one." Joanna said the reason, "I have a child, and my thoughts will definitely be more on my child. It is better to find a woman who has not given birth to a child."

"According to what you mean, when you look for a husband in the future, you can only look for divorced men with children?" Ellis asked, "What era is it now? Many people live together without getting married. How is this different from real couples? There is no difference at all. After living together, many people may have had abortions. To be honest, I am more accepting of giving birth to a child than abortion."

Joanna was shocked by Ellis's words. She didn't expect Ellis to be so open-minded.

"Ellis, let's not talk about this for now. Let's get along naturally!" Joanna felt that this topic made people feel heavily unconsciously.

Ellis: "Um."

.....

In a blink of an eye, it's April.

At night, it rained suddenly.

Joanna got up and checked whether the window was closed.

When she returned to the bed, she glanced at her daughter.

Gia would be half a year old soon.

In the past six months since Gia was born, she had basically been well-behaved, and Joanna's love for her daughter had grown deeper and deeper.

She reached out and touched her daughter's small face, her fingers froze suddenly.

Gia's face was so hot!

Joanna turned on the headlights and saw her daughter's face flushed!

In the past six months, Gia had never been sick. This evening when she came back from get off work, her daughter was fine, why did she suddenly have a fever?

Because her daughter has never been sick, there was no common medicine for children at home.

She panicked and planned to send her daughter to the hospital.

But it's raining heavily outside now, and it's two o'clock in the morning, so she's afraid it's hard to get a taxi outside.

She suddenly realized that if she had money, she should get her driver's license first and buy a car, otherwise it would be inconvenient to take her children anywhere.

She immediately took out her mobile phone, looking for help.

After flipping through the address book, she found Ellis's number and dialed it.

She knew that Ellis had bought a car. He called her to have a barbecue in the suburbs one weekend before, and said he would take her there by car.

She refused because she wanted to take care of the child.

Apart from the fact that Ellis had a car, it was also because Ellis rented a house nearby.

Her daughter had a high fever, and she didn't dare to delay for too long.

She dialed Ellis's number, and after a while, Ellis answered the phone.

"Ellis, my child has a fever, I want to take her to the hospital, but it's raining heavily outside, I'm afraid it's hard to take a taxi, can you come over?" Joanna asked anxiously.

Ellis got up immediately and agreed: "You wait, I'll drive there right away."

"Thank you!" Joanna finished her gratitude and immediately started packing her daughter's things: baby bottles, milk powder, thermos cups, wet wipes, diapers, etc.

Because she didn't know how long she would stay in the hospital, Joanna also brought a spare set of clothes.