

Chapter 107

Aiden

I watch as my girl and her friends torture Miller. All of the girls have blank expressions, and every time one of them steps up to him, they say, "this is for..." before unleashing a power or slicing him with his own knife.

When Frankie collapsed, Alpha Leander and I carefully picked her up and lay her on one of the sun loungers, and Olly found a blanket to cover her with.

They have been at it for over an hour now, Julie has poisoned him and cured him more times than I can count. He has been electrocuted, burnt, water filled his lungs almost to the point of death, my mate has shot icicles through both his feet and his shoulders. he is a fucking mess.

I hear a groan from behind me and turn to find Frankie waking up, I kept my distance from her, but crouched to her level, "hey girl, how are you feeling?"

She grins at me tiredly, "like I've been hit by a truck, remind me not to do that again, my head is fucking killing me." I grinned at her, and she held her hand out to me to help her up.

I hesitate and she smiles, "it's okay Aidie, I trust you." I grab her hand and pull her to her feet, "what did I miss? has anyone stamped on his dick for me yet?"

I laughed, "no I think they have been keeping him alive for you, they have been at him for over an hour, you should see him, they have fucked him up."

I help her walk to the girls, and Jess comes and takes her from me. My beautiful girl gave me a tired smile, before looking at Frankie, "We have waited for you baby-girl, how do you want him?"

I help her walk to the circle of women. Jess takes her hand. My beautiful angel gives me a tired smile, then winks at Frankie, "okay baby-girl, he is all yours. Where do you want him?"

With an evil grin on her face, Frankie contemplates the man on the floor, her head tilted to the side, "Shorts off and spread eagled, please ladies." she turns to look at the men standing with me. "Guys you may not want to see this, if you want to leave, we will not judge you."

Cam stares into her eyes, "we will stay pumpkin, it won't hurt us to know what happens to men who violate women. We support you all."

We all nod in agreement. She smiles at us and turns back to Miller, who is trying to talk, but can't get anything out around the ulster in his mouth.

Jess holds out the silver knife to Frankie, but she declines, shaking her head. Instead, she transforms her hand, Elongating Destiny's sharp claws, with one careful swipe she cuts off his balls. Blood splatters everywhere.

His screams are deafening, and all the men present cross their legs and wince. The terror and the pain in his scream make the girls laugh, Frankie leans towards him, "scream all you want my pretty, none will come to your rescue."

She turned to Stella, "Do you mind cauterizing that for me? I don't want him to bleed to death." Stella sent a white-hot flame to his nut area, and the bleeding stopped.

The screaming stopped as he had passed out, but Julie secreted adrenalin and pushed it through his skin. His eyes flashed open. "It's not time to sleep yet, MASTER, you haven't taken it all yet."

Frankie looks down at him, "this is for Hannah and Jasmin, you fucking piece of shit, she punches her transformed hand through his chest, his eyes go wide as she pulls her hand back, his heart clutched in her fist.

The girls turn their backs on his body, and walk away. I see Hayley Walk to Leander, then my eyes look at nothing but my mate walking towards me.

Her shoulders are back and her head is held high, she looks lighter, like a huge weight has been lifted from her. She wraps her arms around my waist and buries her head in my chest.

I hold her to me and stroke her hair. I feel her put her weight on me, so I pick her up and carry her away from the remains of Miller. Stella sends a fire ball and his body ignites.

I carry my girl to our friends. I looked at Lex, and then to Ace. He smiles and nods, thank the goddess, Lex will be okay. I put my girl on her feet and sat with my back against a tree and pat the ground beside me.

She surprises me by climbing into my lap, and strokes my cheeks, "Aiden, there is something I want to talk about, but I don't know how you will take it."

Cupping her cheeks, I pressed a kiss on her nose, "you can tell me anything, love."

She sighs, "I have been thinking that I need a completely new start. Hayly will, more than likely, be staying on Paxos with Leander, and I think I want to stay too."

I nodded at him, and picked my girl up and carried her to her room. I put her down and kiss her softly, "get some sleep baby, I will come and get you at dinner."

I turned to leave but she grabs my hand, "stay with me." I looked deep into her eyes, "are you sure?" She doesn't answer, just opens the door and pulls me inside.

"Will you take a bath with me darling?" Why would I ever turn down a question like that? "I would be honored. Let me go and start the water. You relax while I get it ready."

I headed to the bathroom. My mind is in turmoil, we have only ever kissed and cuddled before, and only fully clothed. I don't want to rush her, or me. She is the only woman I have ever kissed, and I definitely have never been naked with a girl before, other than when shifting.

I turned off the taps and turned to return to the bedroom, but froze when I found a very naked Jess standing in the doorway. My mouth went dry, and I forgot how to swallow.

Fuck she is perfect. I take all of her in, her full plump breasts, her flat stomach, wide hips, and then the short curlers between her legs.

She walked towards me. I can't move. Touching my face, she smiles, "there is no pressure my love, it's just a bath, nothing else needs to happen until we are both ready, okay?"

I nod and pull my shirt over my head, she helps me pull down my shorts, and we climb into the bath. She leans her back into my chest and sighs as the hot water soothes her aches.

My cock hardens, and pokes her in the back. I try to move away, "fuck, I'm sorry baby." she turns around and straddles me. "Love, we are naked and in a bathtub. If you didn't get an erection, I would be worried. I trust you to never hurt me, and I am ready to complete the mate bond, but only when you are ready."

I grasp the back of her head and crash my mouth into hers, she moans into my mouth and I slip my tongue inside. My hand travel up her rib cage and I cup her gorgeous breasts, flicking her nipples with my thumbs.

"Oh Aiden, that feels so good." she moves her hips, grinding on my hard cock, Shit, too much of that and I will cum. her hand drops down and grasps my dick, she strokes me, making me growl.

"Wait baby, I won't last" she nibbles on my neck, "let go, cum for me love." I shoot my load in her hand, screaming her name, she kisses my face and neck as I try to calm my breathing, then she giggles and gets out of the bath.

Wrapping a towel around her, she looks at me over her shoulder, "come on, it's my turn." I leap from the bath and race after her, her giggling soon turns to moans once I catch her.
