

Chapter 16

Unknown

Star flies out of bed, landing in a crouch. It startled all three alphas awake. “Baby what’s going on? Are you ok?” She doesn’t answer, her whole-body heaving, her breath coming out in gasps, the triplets jump off the bed and rush to her, but her hands go up to stop them, she lifts her head and her eyes are pure silver.

“Stop, don’t come any closer. I have held our shift longer than I should have,” her voice is raspy and deep, “Saffron? Is that you darling?” Ace moves a little closer, but stops as sparks of lightning shoot from Star’s body, “I SAID STAY BACK.”

Saffron shoots to her feet, her hair flying about her, like it’s caught in a wind that only she can feel, the balcony doors fly open, a massive crack of thunder is quickly followed by a bolt of lightning, the flash turning the room as light as day. Saffron is on her feet and leaps off of the balcony.

“STAR STOP!” The boys sprinted to the balcony and saw her land on her feet, six stories down, in the garden below. All three jumped after her, all grunting at the jolt of the landing.

Star runs towards the forest. The Alphas take off after her. Struggling to keep up, they finally catch her in a clearing about 2 miles from the pack house. She is on her knees, head thrown back, arms reaching for the sky. Bolts of lightning hit the ground all around her, she turns and looks at her mates, “PLEASE STAY BACK, I DON’T WANT YOU HURT.”

The boys return to the tree line, worry and fear rolling off them in waves. Lightning is hitting the ground like explosions on a battlefield, and the sky ‘s open with torrential rain. Stars shoot across the sky.

And then everything stops, silence falls, it's like everything in the world has held its breath. And then a crack of thunder so loud it flattened the surrounding grass, then lightning struck her chest.

All three men dropped to their knees, screams of agony ripped from their chests. Lightning was flashing everywhere, blinding the Alphas. And then it was over. They looked up to see a beautiful silver wolf. Her fur shimmers in the moonlight, making it look like steel armor. She is small, almost as small as a normal wolf, she turns towards her mates, her features are small and delicate, power radiates from her small form. As she gets closer, they see her eyes are a swirl of silver and bright yellow.

The three Alphas, still on their knees, bow their heads. She trots over and nuzzles each of them, then she tips her head to the side in challenge and takes off.

The men look at each other and smirk. They shift into their large jet-black Alpha wolves as they run after her, having to run full pelt to catch her.

She weaves in and out of the trees, her small stature perfect for making tight turns, making the larger wolves' barrel into trees trying to catch her. Their humans no longer exist. In this moment, they are pure wolves and will catch their prey. Their howls shake the forest.

Finally, they have her surrounded; their fangs drawn. As their rut takes over, Maximus is the first to pounce, pinning her neck with his teeth as he mounts her, rutting into her viciously, he drives his fangs into her neck, marking her as his. The other two wolves growl, impatient for their turn, circling their brother as he claims their mate.

As soon as Maximus disengages, Hunter pounces, pushing her to the ground as he takes her, his fangs sinking into her neck. She is howling and shuddering below him, as he dominates.

Storm shoves his brother off and pounds into her. She is almost lying flat now under the raw strength of the three Alphas. She whimpers in submission as Storm adds his mark to his brothers and pulls off of her.

She lies on the forest floor, panting, growling slightly as the three black wolves approach her. Maximus gave a low warning growl as they lay beside her licking the bloody fur at her neck. When she is clean, Hunter pushes her onto her back and cleans her abused core.

They snuggle together for a while before making their way back to the pack house. The men shift back, but Saffron seems unsure. Ace crouches beside her, and using his Alpha tone orders, "SHIFT," she shifts back, and collapses into Alexei's arms. He carries her back to their suite and into the bathroom. He holds her close as his brothers run water into their enormous jacuzzi bathtub.

"Can anyone tell me what just happened?" Ashton asks. He looked shell-shocked. "Did she cause the lighting? And the wind, rain, thunder? Fuck, that was terrifying and awesome at the same time."

"I have no clue dude, but our wolves went into full rut. Hunter is prancing around in my head like a fucking pony. I have never lost control like that."

Ace chuckles. "Did you feel her aura? Fu.ck, it took all three of our wolves to dominate her, and if I'm honest, I think she let us. If she wanted to, I think she could have had all three of our wolves on the ground with our asses in the air waiting to be fucked. She is fucking beautiful though. Have you ever seen a wolf that color?"

They get in the bath, Star on Ace's lap, leaning on his chest, Lexi and Ash massage and rub her feet and legs, and she stirs, her eyes opening as she stretches. "Mmmm, that feels so good. How long was I out?" Ash sucks one of her toes and she giggles, "about 20 minutes, how do you feel?"

She sighs and snuggles deeper into Ace's chest, "Amazing actually, like every part of me has been to a spa and had full treatment. Saffy apologies for scaring you. She said there was no time to explain. She was holding back my shift, but the power of you guys marking me caused her to lose control.”

Ace kisses her shoulder and neck, “is she okay though? Our wolves went full rut, they were really rough with her.” She smirks, “oh she is more than alright, she is rolling around in my head flashing me her pus.sy, asking for another play date,” all three men growled, eyes black as coal, their wolves fighting for control.

Once the humans are back in control, Lexi laughs, “I think they would like that baby,” Ace pushes Star forward, “let me wash your back princess,” Alexei smirks and pulls her to straddle him, as Ace pulls her hair to the side exposing her back, “Star, your scars are gone,” his hands running over her back trying to find the rough scar tissue that had covered her back, “what,” she gasped, jumping out of the bath to look in the mirror. She hears a wolf whistle and turns to find all of her men staring at her lustfully.

“Um.....baby, you look fucking sexy as fuck. I loved your perky little tits, but wow, come here, baby.”

She walks over towards them and Lexi grabs her and drags her into the bath. Straddling him, he palms her breasts, sucking a nipple into his mouth.

Ace pulls her hips towards him, lifting her ass in the air, “mmm, your hips have grown as well, Tink, and your ass, fu.ck I agree with Lex you were perfect before...

But now.....” he spreads her cheeks and tongues her hole. She moans and pushes against their mouths, Ashton fingers her pus.sy, making her scream.

Ashton grabs her and impales her on his co.ck, she rides his dick, causing them both to moan in pleasure. Lexi moves behind her, pushing his cock into her pus.sy, stretching her to the limits, as two huge cocks pound her tight pussy, she screams in pleasure as another orgasm his, Ace climbs on top, and pushes his co.ck in her ass, “fuck ohhh my goddess, I am so fucking full, fu.ck me, aahhh, don’t you dare fucking stop, aahhh, I’m coming,” She screams at the top of her lungs, the shouts of all three men join her scream as they all release inside of her.

After everyone gets their breaths back, they all dry off and snuggle into bed.
