

Chapter 38

Star

Waking up wrapped in Ashton's arms is pure bliss but, I miss my other boys, part of feels guilty for being here without Ace and Alexei, I hope I will feel better once I have had one-on-one time with the other two.

Turning my head, I study Astons face as he sleeps; he looks so peaceful. I trace my fingers down his abs, marveling at the perfection.

I follow my fingers with my mouth; goddess he tastes so good.

I nibble my way down his v-line and he sighs in his sleep.

Rolling further onto his back, the sheet covering his hips tents slightly with his morning wood.

Nibbling his hip bone, I see the tent jerk as his erection gets harder.

My mouth waters, and I give in to temptation, pulling the sheet away from his amazing cock.

Kissing my way down his thigh, he groans and spreads his thighs, allowing me to climb between his legs.

I look up at his face as he sighs again. His eyes are still closed and he has a soft smile on his face.

Smirking, I take his cock in my hand and pump him gently. His hips move with my pumping, and he whimpers and mumbles as he sleeps.

Gently I lick the slit at the tip of his shaft, causing his hips to buck and a low moan, pumping the bottom half of his cock, I take the rest into my mouth, sucking him and bobbing my head in time with the stroke of my hand.

His hips are going crazy now and the noises coming from him should be illegal.

Suddenly, I am lifted and flipped around so I am straddling his face.

He dives into my pussy, fucking me with his tongue. I sit up and ride his face, keeping my hand on his cock, using long, firm strokes on his shaft.

moving his mouth to my clit he pushes two fingers into my pussy and I go wild I let go of his cock and brace myself on his chest as I bounce on his mouth and fingers, chasing my orgasm until I hit the summit and tumble over the edge.

I am lifted and pushed down his body. "Ride me baby, sit on my cock."

I straddle him, facing the bottom of the bed, and line his cock up. I sink down slowly, moaning as I take every inch of him, not me.

"Oh my, it's so deep." I lose the ability to think.

I feel a finger push into my ass and I fly. My whole body feels light as I give into the pleasure.

Hips bucking as he finds his own release, my name ripped from his lips.

I climb off him and he yanked me to his chest, holding the back of my head as he kisses me hungrily.

When we pull apart, I rest our foreheads together.

"Good morning baby," I whisper. He smirks. "And an amazing good morning to you, sexy lady."

After we get our breath back, we have breakfast sent up, and eat snuggled in bed, talking about the future, and the plans Ash has for the pack.

He let slip his wish for a big family, rushing to add that he would never rush me but making no bones about how excited he is to see me carrying their children.

I haven't really given much thought about children, but I have to admit the thought of little munchkins running around with Ebony hair and grey eyes gives me a feeling of longing.

After we shower and dress, it's time to leave. We have an hour's drive to school.

I ask Ash if he minds if I ring the boys. This is still his date, after all. He chuckles and says it's fine and he misses them, too.

I call our suite and put my phone on hands free. Ace answers. He sounds a little grumpy until he hears my voice.

"Fuck Tink, I have missed you so much. Did you have a good time?"

"Amazing, we ate so much. Ashton was so romantic, and he thoroughly spoiled me."

"Did you miss us, fairy-girl? I thought about you all night. I'm glad our baby brother treated you right."

Ash sorted at him, "of course I treated her right dumbass. I think she has fallen even deeper in love with me now. We are going to head straight to school, so we will see you in an hour."

We snuggled the entire way back to school, our conversation was so easygoing, and when we went silent it was relaxed and calming, just us enjoying each other's company.

The limo dropped us at school, Ash kissed me before turning me to see my other mates standing next to their car.

I ran at them and jumped into their arms, trying to kiss them both at once. I heard Ash chuckling as he put our bags in the boot of the car.

Ace buried his head in my neck, inhaling my scent, while Alexei kisses me like he hasn't seen me in a month.

“Goddess, we missed you. We are going to be very needy today, baby. I may just carry you everywhere and not let you out of my sight.” I giggle at him.

“We missed you too baby, but it was so nice having alone time with Ashton.” At Lexi's frown, I grab his chin. “And I can't wait to have alone time with you and Ace too.” Cheerfully, he let me go and grabbed my hand.

when we got to my locker Max grabbed me and shooed the boys away, “she is ours till the start of class, we need gossip and girl talk so go away,” the look she gave them didn't allow for any arguments so the boys left us alone, after several kisses of course.

“Sooooooo, how was it? We need details.” I told them everything leaving out some of the more personal bits of course, which they both complained about, claiming that I should give their virgin lives some excitement, dirty bitches, Max has asked several times about the size of their manhood's, apparently, she has over heard a girl in the bathroom before talking about the monsters the boys hide in their pants.

“All I am going to say is that when I first saw them, I was scared for my poor vagina. The boys have absolutely nothing to be ashamed of. And let's leave it at that.”

All three of us giggled as we headed for class.
