

Chapter 99

Star

I wake up to the smell of bacon, my stomach rumbles, making me giggle. I roll out of bed, not bothering to cover my nakedness. I leaned over the balustrade and watched my warrior in the kitchen.

He is wearing a pair of boxers, leaving the rest of him bare before me. I lick my lips at the sight of him, he has his back to me and I watch the muscles on his back contract as he moves.

His ass is perfection, especially when he bends to the oven, the fabric of his boxers pulls tight over the rock-hard globes of his ass-I actually drawl at the sight, I wipe the saliva from my chin.

As if he can feel the weight of my gaze, he turns and looks up at me, "see something you like baby, I can smell your pussy from here." I grin at him; his eyes drop from my face to my bare tits.

Smirking at him, I cup my breasts and pull on my nipples, groaning at the sensation of my sensitive peeks, his eyes darken with lust and his dick hardens, tenting the fabric of his boxers.

"Get back to bed my naughty Luna, breakfast is nearly ready." when I don't follow his instructions straight away, he growls at me, and takes a menacing step towards the stairs. I shrieked and ran to the bed.

His laughter follows my retreat, but I just grin, the sound of cutlery and crockery being moved around is followed by footsteps on the stairs, as my lover brings me breakfast in bed.

As he lays a tray across my lap he leans in and kisses me tenderly, "good morning my love." wrapping my hand around the back of his neck, I pull his lips back to mine, "good morning my warrior, thank you for my breakfast."

He pulls back and runs back to the kitchen and returns with his own tray. Settling himself beside me, we tuck in to our food. Lex has really out done himself this time.

Sausage, crispy bacon, hashbrowns, fried bread, scrambled eggs and baked beans. finished off with a pot of earl gray tea. I finish everything on my plate.

I sigh and lean my head on the headboard, rubbing my full belly, Lex puts our trays on the floor, and lays his head on my lap. I stroked his hair, "Thank you baby, that was amazing."

Turning to face me, he pulls down the sheet I had wrapped around me, baring my stomach, he presses light kisses, "anything for the love of my life and my pups."

I felt a flutter in my tummy, and placed my hands over the feeling, "I think the pups just moved, baby, talk to them again, I think they like your voice."

His face lit up with excitement, he put his big hand on my stomach and pressed his lapis on my small bump, "hey my babies, daddy loves you."

The fluttering again, but this time it was stronger and right under his lips, the smile on his face lit up the room, "oh my goddess, they heard me."

He leaps up and kisses my lips hungrily, and hugs me tight, "just wait till I tell Ace and Ash they are going to be so jealous. I give him a stern look, "there will be lots of firsts baby, first word, first step, and you won't be there for all of them, so go easy on your brothers."

Pouting at me, he leaned back down to my belly, "don't listen to her beans, I won't miss a single thing you do, I will always be there for you."

Goddess, I love him, a tear escapes the corner of my eye, I am so fucking happy.

We cuddled for a while longer. Lex kept trying to get the pups to move but I think they must have gone to sleep. When we finally get up, Lex tells me to put on warm clothes and walking boots.

When I am dressed, I head downstairs to find Lex carrying two easels and a large bag with art supplies. "Are we going to paint?" I asked, not able to contain my excitement. I haven't painted in weeks, with no school and everything else going on around us, we haven't had time.

Grinning and nodding, I squealed and rushed to hug him, "I love you so much."

Leaving the cabin behind, he leads me around the side of the Tor, to a sheltered cave. I look at him confused, and he turns me around, "Oh my goddess, this is spectacular."

The whole pack lay before us, every house, every tree and every stream. Lex sets up our easels, and lights the fire pit just inside the mouth of the cave.

"This is my favorite place; dad and I found it about six years ago. I come here when I need to think and lose myself in my art, and now it is our place."

"I love it Lexi, our pack is so beautiful, I can't think of anything better to paint."

We lose ourselves in our painting, hours must have gone by when my stomach rumbles, I giggle and Lex checks his watch, "right on time baby." I look at him and raise my brow at him, then I hear the sound of paws running through the snow, and see Hunter and Maximus running towards us.

I rushed out of the cave and ran to meet them. They are both carrying large packs on their backs. I hug them both and scratch behind their ears, making them whine and purr.

"I have missed you both so much, have you brought us lunch?" Hunter nodded his big head and Maximus nuzzled my neck, we walked together back to the cave and Lex unlipped their packs and passed them both their clothes.

They shift and quickly get dressed. Then my mates take it in turns to pull me to them for hugs and kisses. Lex throws more wood on the fire pit, and places a cooking tripod over it.

Ace pulls me onto his lap, while Ash and Lex remove food from the bags, "I missed you Tink, did you have fun?" I kissed his jaw, "so much, we had the perfect date."

Lex grins, "I felt the pups moving this morning, it will blow your mind when you feel it, it's like butterflies are trying to escape Star's tummy."

Ace grinned at me, "are they moving already?" I nodded, Samantha said they were growing fast. Normal werewolf pregnancies are six months, but with their father's all being Alpha's and Saffy and I being powerful in our own right, she thinks we could have them in three to four months, which is scary.

"I think we need to start working on their nursery soon. We will not have long before they are here."

Soon the smell of steak and baked potatoes fills the cave, my tummy rumbles again, Ace snuggles me closer, and I turned to look at him, "I am so happy you are joining us for lunch, and that you brought lunch."

Laughing, he tickled my ribs, "We are all going to run together this afternoon. As you said, Saffy will not be able to shift for a while, so we wanted her to have some time with all of her mates."

Saffron rolls over and shows me her lady parts, "Wow you are such a lady, I really don't need to see that Saff." she shakes her ass at me, "don't act all prudish with me baby-girl, you get to fuck your mates all the time, this is my last chance for months and I am going to make the most of it, don't be surprised if you can't move tomorrow."

I laughed, causing all three of my mates to stare at me, "Saffy is planning on sucking your wolves dry on the way home, she is acting like a little slut in my head."

All three growled, their wolves coming to the surface. Ace pushes Maximus back, "she is so getting fucked now, Maximus is very excited."

We settled down to a yummy barbecued meal, our steaks cooked to perfection. After we have eaten, we gather everything and head back to the cabin.

After we have washed the dishes and tidied the cabin, we all strip and place our clothes. Ash has left a bag with fresh clothes for us in the forest by the pack house, so we head to the porch and shift before trotting together down the Tor.

As soon as we get to the bottom, we hand over complete control to our wolves.

The sun is setting when Saffy gives me back control. She yawns and curls up in a corner of my mind, fully sated. Ashton grabs a bag hidden in a tree and hands us all some clothes.

As soon as we are dressed, Lexi picks me up and I wrap my legs around his waist, we walk into the pack house just as dinner is about to be served, so we head straight for the dining room.

Everyone is there waiting for us and as we take our seats, Max is already asking for gossip about our date. I filled her, Sophia and Nat in on every detail.

Both Nat and Soph shoot daggers at their mates, and I hear Kurtis ask the boys if he can borrow the cabin sometime. Lex lets out a huge laugh.

"Dude, it's not about the location, you just don't have a romantic bone in your body."

Kurtis stands and leers at Lex, "really? Watch this."

He walks to stand in front of Sophia, he holds his hand out to her and pulls her to her feet, he drops down onto one knee, there are gasps around the room, it feels like half the pack is here tonight.

"Sophia Long, you are my everything, and I will love you for all eternity." the whole room had gone silent, as he pulled a small red velvet box from his pocket.

"I know that I am flawed, but you make me a better man, and I promise to spend every day of my life showing you how much I love you. Will you do me the honor of becoming my wife?"

Tears are streaming down her face, but she nods her head smiling, "Yes my love, I would love to be your wife." He places the ring on her finger before jumping up and lifting her into his arms, their mouths fused together.

The applause is deafening, as we all stand cheering and clapping for the newly engaged couple. I look over at Nat, expecting her to be a little sad that it wasn't her, but Jonah is kneeling before her.

"My love, as we both found the two most perfect women on the same night, we always knew we would do this together." He grinned over at Kurtis.

"I have loved you for most of my life, followed you around like a puppy all through primary school, never daring to hope that the moon goddess would allow me such a perfect mate. I don't deserve you, but I am selfish enough to never let you go. Will you make all my dreams come true, and let me spend the rest of my life by your side?"

He pulled a jade satin box from his pocket, "Natalia Holmes, will you please marry me?" she leaped into his arms, screaming "YES!!!" at the top of her lungs. The whole room goes wild.

Andrew jumped to his feet, "CONGRATULATIONS!!! I think this deserves a celebration, so head Omega Cathryn, can you please get your amazing team to bring champagne for everyone? And everyone else, let's get the bonfires lit and link all your families. We are celebrating."

As everyone rushes to help set up the impromptu celebration, I hug my friends and admire their rings, they look so happy. I look down the table and see Jessica smiling at Aiden, their hands clasped together.

My heart feels full and happy, no matter what tomorrow brings, we will get through it, together.