Chapter 1271-Seeing Catelyn coming, the nanny said respectfully, "Ms. Clark."

"Let me do it." Catelyn reached out for a dirty diaper that the nanny had just changed. She kept looking at Puffy and could not take her eyes away for a second.

The nanny suspected that she had heard something wrong. She looked at Catelyn incredulously and said, "Ms. Clark, Miss Puffy has just pooped. This diaper is very dirty. Let me change the diaper. Please watch Puffy, and don't let her grab anything."

The nanny had cared for many babies of rich families. Rich ladies disliked the baby after defecation. They didn't have much time to take care of the baby, let alone take the initiative to change the diaper.

Some ladies were afraid of sagging breasts when nursing, so they usually hired a nurse to feed their babies.

Catelyn was just Puffy's aunt, but she loved Puffy very much.

It was really rare.

"It doesn't matter. I want to change her diaper myself, but I don't know if you will give me this chance." Catelyn said jokingly.

The nanny didn't dare to refuse, so she made her way and fetched warm water to wash Puffy's buttocks.

Catelyn wiped Puffy's buttocks with a small towel, applied the talcum powder, and then put on a cotton diaper.

Puffy giggled and spat a bubble in her mouth.

Catelyn suddenly felt mixed feelings.

No wonder she felt so close to Puffy from the beginning.

The blood relationship was amazing. Although she didn't know that Puffy was her daughter, they were still very close.

In fact, Catelyn agreed with Edwin for the sake of Puffy's security, so she didn't reveal Puffy's identity. Otherwise, the fake Cedrick would discover her plan.

Before defeating the fake Cedrick, Puffy continued to stay in the manor as Edwin's illegitimate daughter.

When Old Madam Atherton learned that Edwin was leaving the manor and going back to the Shoal Villa, she was disappointed. However, she was immediately happy when she knew that the three kids would stay at the manor to accompany her.

Sharon was very happy, too, because the manor was full of people, and she couldn't be alone with Edwin.

After returning to the Shoal Villa, she would find a chance to win Edwin's heart.

Sharon had been studying the way to look attractive these days.

Although Edwin didn't allow her to take care of Puffy, her monthly allowance didn't decrease.

Sharon took the money to apply for a beauty class, which helped improve her skin firmness.

However, Edwin just used Sharon as a shield against Harry and as Puffy's titular mother. He didn't take her seriously.

In the evening, Catelyn stayed at the manor with Puffy for a long time, and then she received a phone call from Albert. He said that “Cedrick” had been discharged from the hospital and returned home, so she reluctantly left the manor. When they had dealt with the fake Cedrick, they would be able to have a real family reunion!

Catelyn rushed back to the Mason Estate. The fake Cedrick was probably afraid that Catelyn would send him back to the hospital because of the brain injury, so he behaved very gently.

“Honey, I felt so bored in the hospital. Besides, I have a lot of work to do at the company. I left the hospital without telling you. Are you angry?” The fake Cedrick stared at Catelyn affectionately.

Catelyn got goosebumps and said, “How can I be angry? I just wanted to tell you that the doctor found that your hematoma was dispersed, so you can leave the hospital.”

She would like to see what the fake Cedrick planned to do after he left the hospital.

Putting his hands behind his back, the fake Cedrick immediately grinned and walked around the Mason Estate. Then he asked, “Where are my two sons? I’ve been back home for so long, but they didn’t show up to welcome me home. I miss them very much.”

Catelyn smiled and said, “It was my cousin’s birthday a few days ago. I sent the children to Nana’s house.”

The fake Cedrick’s eyes lit up instantly. He said, “Great! We can have a very happy night tonight without the naughty children around!”

“Honey, I miss you so much.”

Chapter 1272-When Catelyn smelled the medicine on his body, she almost kicked the lower part of his body.

Before he could touch her, she slipped away from his armpit and said with a smile, “You haven’t recovered yet. What’s the rush?”

"I'm fine now! I'm strong enough to kill someone now!" Cedrick" roared.

The servants, who were cleaning up the living room and preparing dinner, were scared out of their wits with frightened expressions!

"Cedrick" seemed to have realized that something was wrong and quickly added, "I mean that I'm really fine now! Honey!"

"The doctor said that I haven't recovered since I gave birth to Jennie. I'm convalescing now. I'm sorry, honey!" she said with a sincere and guilty look.

Worried about this guy's strong sexual lust, she immediately gave Albert a sign to ask him to move out all the good wine in the cellar.

Rows upon rows of treasured bottles of good wine were placed on the table. As expected, the attention of "Cedrick" was diverted.

He had probably never seen so many good things before.

Catelyn wanted to get him drunk, so she kept filling up his glass.

"Try this bottle. You bought it from the auction house at that time, and it cost more than 300,000 dollars."

"I really know how to enjoy myself!"

"Cedrick" blurted out subconsciously and drained his glass.

Catelyn poured him another bottle of wine, deliberately mixed it with the others, and brought it to his mouth.

“Now try this.”

“Cedrick” opened his mouth and drank half of the glass.

Then, he brought the other half to Catelyn’s mouth and said, “Come on, drink with me.”

Seeing that she couldn’t refuse, she took a sip of the wine and covered her mouth, pretending to be choked. She kept coughing and said, “Oh, it’s awful! I haven’t drunk wine for a long time. I really can’t stand it...”

“Haha, you suck. You don’t even know how to enjoy the good stuff! A glass of such good wine costs tens of thousands of dollars...” “Cedrick” was pleased by her awkward reaction and picked up the glass to drink.

Catelyn was waiting for this guy to get drunk, but his tolerance towards alcohol was out of expectation!

After drinking more than 20 bottles, he finally felt a little drunk.

Catelyn thought to herself that it was really a waste of her husband’s collection...

“Cedrick” drank like a fish!

In the end, the aftereffects of the alcohol took effect at the same time. “Cedrick” was so drunk that he staggered around and tried to hug her.

Catelyn was disgusted and asked the bodyguards to take him directly to the master bedroom.

As expected, he was a complete fake!

His shoulders and even his back were neat and tidy. There were no scars at all, not to mention any lumps!

Chapter 1273-Staring at “Cedrick”, Catelyn immediately became murderous and couldn’t wait to stab him.

“Mrs. Mason, will you help Mr. Mason take a shower?” The servant’s words interrupted Catelyn’s wandering thoughts.

As the servants didn’t know that this Cedrick was a fake one, they showed great care for him. “Mr. Mason drank very much tonight, so he must feel uncomfortable.”

Catelyn just wanted him to feel sick, so she said, “Don’t bother. It’s easy to suffer from shock if he takes a shower immediately after he is drunk. Let him lie here... There is no need to cover him with a quilt. Since it’s hot, it’s better for him to cool down.”

The servants felt wordless.

Was it appropriate to let “Cedrick” lie uncovered with the air conditioner on?

Catelyn asked the servants to leave. Sure that “Cedrick” was drunk as a lord, she went to the bathroom to take a shower with her clothes.

Though “Cedrick” didn’t feel dirty, she felt unpleasant.

Perhaps because she was in the same room with a strange and nasty man, she took a quick shower without washing her hair, so as not to waste time.

Dressed in thick pajamas, she deliberately turned down the temperature of the air conditioner by a few degrees Celsius. After giving “Cedrick” a stern glare, she went to sleep on the sofa.

The foldable sofa was big enough for her to slumber on after she unfolded it.

Let the fake “Cedrick” be alone in the bed.

In the second half of the night, it seemed to thunder dully in the sky. The ensuing drizzle outside the window blurred everything, which gradually turned into a downpour.

Feeling cold, Catelyn wrapped the quilt around herself tighter.

However, in a trance, she suddenly felt a muscular man crawl on her, who brought a strong smell of wine.

Catelyn in her sleep instinctively thought the man was Cedrick, so she rolled over and encircled the man’s neck subconsciously.

But hearing the man’s voice, she was so scared out of her wits that she woke up at once.

“You... you drank too much wine. I was afraid that I would squeeze you, so I especially slept on the sofa! Honey, I have a headache. I don’t know if I have a cold. Could you fetch me some pills?”

‘Damn it! Didn’t this man drink so much wine?’

‘How can he wake up in the middle of the night?’

‘I should have put some sleeping pills in the wine...’ “Cedrick” caressed her face suggestively. His drunken voice indicated that he was going to do something to her. “I have a cold, too...”

“No...” Catelyn pushed his chest with all her strength, her hands under the quilt.

“Go away. Don’t touch me!”

Chapter 1274-When the stubble on “Cedrick’s” jaw prickled Catelyn’s smooth instep, she felt extremely disgusted and had gooseflesh all over. She pummeled him furiously.

“Get away! Get away! Don’t touch me! It’s marital rape...”

“Cedrick” was so excited that he looked more thuggish...

Catelyn felt desperate. She fumbled on the coffee table and touched an ashtray.

Without hesitation, she took a swipe at his head with the ashtray!

The ashtray hit his head with a loud sound...

He cried out in pain.

Blood flowed down his forehead, and the faint smell of blood filled the air...

She seized the chance to push him away and run out.

When she almost arrived at the door, her scalp hurt!

“Cedrick” chased after her and violently pulled her hair from behind. Her scalp hurt as if it was torn apart. She tilted her head back in pain. Then she was roughly thrown to the carpet.

“Bitch! How dare you hit me?” “Cedrick” covered his bleeding wound with one hand and got close to Catelyn step by step.

She felt dizzy. She supported herself with two hands against the floor and moved back in panic...

“Don’t come here! Stay away from me...”

She shrank back against the floor-to-ceiling windows and had nowhere to hide.

When he went for her ferociously, the strengthened and thickened glass shattered with a loud sound and was broken into pieces suddenly. Countless glass fragments crashed down on him...

The sharp fragments slid down his naked body.

Soon, under the powerful impact, the fragments left nasty scratches all over his body.

He howled in the bedroom.

She hurried to cover her head to avoid the fragments. A few seconds later, the bedroom became quiet again. She didn’t have the time to check “Cedrick’s” condition. She picked herself up and asked for help from others...

Albert walked in with servants. When they saw the fragments all over the floor and “Cedrick”, who was covered with wounds, collapsing on the floor and howling, all of them were dumbfounded.

‘And the fragments hit Mr. Mason?

'What a coincidence!' "Mr. Mason? Oh, my God! Are you all right?" Albert worriedly helped the naked "Cedrick" up from the fragments. Then Albert looked at Catelyn whose long hair was messy and whose eyes were red. The atmosphere was quite strange!

'Did Mr. Mason bully Mrs. Mason?

'It's impossible. Mistress Catelyn is always the apple of Mr. Mason's eye...

'It must be because Mr. Mason is drunk!' Albert asked a servant to get pick-me-up immediately.

"Cedrick" felt dizzy again because of alcohol. He wasn't as thuggish as just now.

The wounds on his body brought him out in a cold sweat.

He looked at Catelyn awkwardly and tried to find an excuse to explain what had happened.

"Honey, did I hurt you? I'm sorry. I drank too much and felt dizzy..." "I'm fine. It's you who has got hurt." Catelyn smoothed her clothes. Her scalp still hurt. She sneered, "Albert, please get the medicine kit for me. I will dress Mr. Mason's wounds."

Chapter 1275-"Yes, Mr. Mason."

Looking at her unusually gentle smile, "Cedrick" suddenly had an ominous premonition...

He said, "Don't bother. I can apply the medicine myself. Go to bed."

"Honey, you were injured because of me. I must take care of you." In fact, Catelyn was cursing him to herself, grinding her teeth with hatred.

"I..."

"Mrs. Mason, here is the medicine kit."

When "Cedrick" was about to say something, Albert had come with the kit.

Catelyn gave an order to the bodyguards. "Cedrick drank too much wine. Clamp his arms. Don't let him move. I'll treat his wounds."

Although feeling strange, the bodyguards took "Cedrick's" hands, disallowing him to move.

"Cedrick" could only allow Catelyn to treat his wounds.

Catelyn took out a bottle of saline, a bottle of povidone iodine, gauze, tweezers, scissors and so on.

After cleaning the wounds with saline, she stared nonchalantly at his back, which had been injured most seriously. There were several deep scratches on his back, which looked scary. She poured the povidone iodine on the cotton swab and approached a cut.

Catelyn put on a malicious expression behind "Cedrick".

Frightened at the sight of her expression, Albert gave a cold shiver. When he looked at Catelyn again, she had returned to her usual sweetness. Albert doubted whether he had had a hallucination.

When Catelyn pointed the cotton swab at the cut, "Cedrick" took several gasps in pain and screamed, "Ouch..."

Catelyn gave a faint smile. Then she pretended to be guilty and blamed herself.

"I'm sorry, honey. I'm so worried about you that I've rubbed the scratch a little hard. I'll be lighter..."

When no one was noticing her, she directly tore the cotton off the cotton swab and poked the remaining stick hard into his cut.

Blood gushed out from the cut at once...

Though having been prepared, Cedrick couldn't endure the sharp pain and would have jumped up if not being clamped. He yelled, "Lighter! Lighter!"

The two bodyguards, very dutiful, clamped his arms to prevent him from moving.

After Catelyn tortured him several times, "Cedrick" was sweating profusely. He uttered, "Baby, when I was injured in the past, I always treated my wounds myself. Let me do it now..."

"No. Even doctors can't treat themselves. Your wounds are all on your back. Let me apply the medicine to them. Don't move. I don't want these scratches to become scars..."

"Cedrick" was suddenly enraged and glared at her.

He was sure that she was hurting him on purpose!

'Has she discovered something wrong?

'No, it's impossible. The most excellent plastic surgeon did the cosmetic surgery for me, and my face was the same as Cedrick's. She couldn't find anything wrong.

'She must revenge herself on me.

'I didn't expect Cedrick's wife to be so vengeful!

'That damn glass window...

"If the glass window hadn't been broken and injured me, I wouldn't be tortured by her," "Cedrick" thought bitterly to himself.

When Catelyn got tired of poking his scratches, she casually cut a few pieces of gauze and wrapped them around his body. "I've finished, honey. Did I treat your cuts well?"

"Cedrick" managed a few words. "Yes... Very good!"

"That's great. I'm very sleepy now. I'm going to sleep in the guest room. Good night." She yawned lazily. Before going to bed, she asked Albert to find two bodyguards to dispose of the glass shards in the master bedroom and at the same time watch the fake Cedrick all night long

Chapter 1276-'I will never let this disgusting man approach me again!

'But strangely, that glass window... shattered all of a sudden.

'Did Cedrick break it?' At the thought of this, Catelyn ran downstairs in surprise and walked around the villa a few times, wanting to find Cedrick.

When two maids noticed Catelyn looking for something, they stepped toward her curiously.

"Mrs. Mason, did you lose something? Shall we help you search for it?"

Catelyn shook her head. "Don't bother. I just came out to get some fresh air."

"But it's raining now. It's better to go into the villa and have an early night." One of the maids reminded her kindly.

Catelyn nodded. When she was about to return to the villa, she suddenly saw a footprint under a cluster of flowers near the landscape lighting!

Judging from the footprint, the shoe size should be 11 or so, and the footprint pointed to the master bedroom.

Since it was raining, there was water in the footprint, and Catelyn could easily judge that the footprint was newly shaped. Her eyes lit up.

'I know that Cedrick won't allow that damn imposter to harm me...

'But why didn't he show up and tell me his plan?

'Did something wrong happen to him?' Though feeling happy, Catelyn got uneasy. She deliberately stepped on the footprint to erase it and then went back to the guest bedroom to sleep. Probably because she knew that Cedrick was hiding, she slept soundly even if many disturbing things had happened tonight.

Early the next morning, "Cedrick" pretended to go to Mason Group.

Catelyn didn't accompany him with the excuse that she felt unwell.

She asked Eason to send her a message or call her if "Cedrick" did anything weird.

Sure enough, Eason called her to go to Benjamin's law firm right away as the situation was extraordinarily urgent.

Catelyn agreed unhurriedly, but she didn't start off until one hour later.

When she reached the law firm, the atmosphere was very tense. All the lawyers stared at her with strange and incredible expressions on their faces.

"Cedrick" must have done something unbelievable.

As Catelyn called Benjamin in advance, a receptionist led her to his office. The moment the door opened, she could smell blood...

She frowned subconsciously and felt nauseated at the thought of the scene last night.

Looking up, she saw that "Cedrick" sat in the boss chair arrogantly while Benjamin sat on the opposite sofa with his legs together. Benjamin's nose was bloody and his face was swollen with fist marks. He looked angry.

Silent, "Cedrick" and Benjamin were in a stalemate.

Obviously, "Cedrick" had beaten Benjamin.

'Huh! This fake Cedrick was indeed a troublemaker...

'After causing trouble in my home, he begins to bully" Cedrick's" friend,' Catelyn thought.

"Mrs. Mason, you are finally here! If you come later, I'll probably be beaten to death by your husband!" Seeing Catelyn, Benjamin greeted her at once in a slightly mocking tone.

Catelyn smiled apologetically.

"Why did you come here?" "Cedrick" asked Catelyn.

"Cedrick" stood up in a huff. Pointing at her, he uttered, "Piss off now. Benjamin and I are talking about business. Why do you disturb us?"

"Mr. Mason, I asked Mrs. Mason to come. Here is my law firm. If you want to transfer property, you must gain her permission!" Benjamin walked to stand in front of Catelyn.

Catelyn muttered in bewilderment, "...transfer property?"

"It is my property. I can use it in my own way. Why do I have to get her permission?" "Cedrick" snarled at them.

Benjamin was astounded by "Cedrick". "... Don't you know what you've done?"

Chapter 1277-"What have I done?" "Cedrick" was still roaring in anger with a murderous expression on his face, as if he would kill Benjamin provided Benjamin dared to go against his will.

When feeling that they were about to quarrel again, Catelyn started to ease the tense atmosphere. "Benjamin, Ceddy had an accident some time ago, and his brain was injured. Please don't argue with him."

"His brain was injured?" Benjamin cast a glare at "Cedrick". "No wonder he forgets that he has transferred all his property to you. Now he forces me to realize the assets and to sell the stocks. Isn't this very funny?"

'Realize all the assets to undermine Mason Group?

'Is it the reason why Mr. Denham asked the man to substitute for Cedrick?

'If Mr. Denham can't defeat Cedrick above board, he required the man to ruin Mason Group in the name of Cedrick.

'Bah! Mr. Denham has conceived an excellent plot.

'However, the fake Cedrick will definitely ruin the plot.' At the thought of it, Catelyn felt amused somehow.

"Nonsense!" When "Cedrick" heard that the property belonged to Catelyn, his eyes widened in disbelief. "How could I transfer all the property to her? I'm not a fool!"

Catelyn, did you want to snatch my property? I don't believe that I have no property. Realize my assets and sell the stocks right away..."

Putting on a hurt expression, Catelyn covered her chest, and her eyes turned red, "Ceddy, how can you defame me this way? You said that giving me your property is proof of your love for me..."

'Since "Cedrick" is acting, I must cooperate with him.

'I won't allow this fake "Cedrick" to succeed,' Catelyn thought.

"Bullshit!" "Cedrick" was so enraged that he reached out to press her throat. "It's impossible that I gave you all my property. Bitch, you must be cheating me!"

As "Cedrick" dived at "Catelyn", she hid behind Benjamin, crying aggrievedly...

"Ceddy, you've changed! You never treated me this way in the past."

Benjamin believed that "Cedrick's" brain had really been injured, and he, though angry, stood firmly by Catelyn's side.

"Stop! Mr. Mason, you might have forgotten what you did. But the documents are cast in stone, and they are real. So, I can't realize the assets and sell the stocks as you wish.

Since you were injured, I won't mind what you've done to me.

"Cedrick" probably knew that he couldn't force Benjamin to realize the assets and sell the stocks, so his eyes fell on Catelyn.

"I urgently need these assets and stocks. Can you transfer them back to me?"

“Why do you need them?” Sobbing, Catelyn was wiping away her nonexistent tears. “We are legally married. The assets and stocks are our marital property.

You don’t want a divorce. Why do you plan to sell them for money?”

“You won’t return the assets and stocks to me, will you?” “Cedrick” questioned Catelyn.

“No. I must guarantee that I can support our children,” she answered.

“Well, great. You leave me no choice!” “Cedrick” suddenly gave a sneer. He looked impersonal with the weird sneer, like a ferocious beast that was watching its prey and was about to tear the prey apart.

“Cedrick” couldn’t endure the deadlock and stormed out of the office.

Catelyn breathed a sigh of relief, but she could not forget “Cedrick’s” expression when he left.

It was malicious and vicious, giving her a murderous feeling...

“Mr. Mason’s brain was hurt seriously. It’s the first time that I’ve seen him behave so wildly.” Thinking about what “Cedrick” had done, Benjamin scoffed.

Catelyn queried worriedly, “If I don’t transfer the property back to him, what can he do to get it back?”

“There is a way, but it should not be realistic,” Benjamin replied.

“What’s it?” Catelyn asked.

“As you are husband and wife, the property will naturally belong to him if you die without a will,” Benjamin explained.

Catelyn's heart skipped a beat.

'Will the fake Cedrick really intend to kill me?' a

Chapter 1278-'The fake Cedrick is living with me now. If he wants to attack me, I might not be able to watch out for him...

'If he puts excessive sleeping pills into something I drink, I might die!

'Cedrick, where are you?

'What should I do?

'Should I unmask the "Cedrick" as the fake one or continue to turn a blind eye to his identity?' Catelyn couldn't make up her mind.

When stepping out of the law firm, she found that "Cedrick" had asked all her bodyguards to leave. It was terrible.

She immediately called Eason to dispatch another group of bodyguards to protect her.

Without bodyguards, she wouldn't go anywhere...

She was about to return to the law firm when hearing a woman's voice.

"Tsk, it's you, Catelyn. Why did you come to the law firm? I saw your husband leave angrily just now. Well, does he want to divorce you?"

Catelyn looked back and saw Tracy.

Several burly men were behind Tracy with scary tattoos on their shoulders.

These men should be the bodyguards arranged by Trevor for her.

Enemies are bound to meet on a narrow road!

Catelyn didn't want to quarrel with Tracy at all. After taking a glance at her casually, she was about to step into the law firm.

"Stop!" But Tracy disallowed Catelyn to leave and rushed to block her way. "I'm talking to you. How rude you will be if you leave without even greeting me!"

"I have nothing to say to you. Get out of the way," Catelyn uttered coldly.

Tracy smiled evilly with her mouth covered. "I hear that your husband's brain has been hurt. He is quarreling with you now. Do you still regard yourself as a rich woman? To be honest, I have been waiting for a long time for the day when you are dumped by Cedrick!"

Hearing this, Catelyn shot a cold glare at her.

Catelyn knew that Tracy loathed having been forced to marry Trevor, so she said deliberately, "That's better than you. At least Ceddy and I loved each other genuinely once. Has Trevor fallen in love with you?"

"You, damn bitch! It's all your fault!" Tracy became angry and reached out to slap Catelyn.

But she suddenly remembered that she had been slapped by Catelyn without her bodyguards around, so she ordered her bodyguards to clamp Catelyn, preventing Catelyn from moving.

She must revenge herself on Catelyn this time!

As the burly bodyguards were approaching her step by step, Catelyn instinctively asked the security guards at the entrance of the office building for help. Those security guards were hired by Benjamin, so they knew Catelyn and ran to protect her.

However, they couldn't defeat Tracy's bodyguards and were soon beaten onto the ground, dying.

At the sight of it, Catelyn gave Benjamin a call for help at once. Before she got through to him, her phone had been snatched and thrown onto the ground...

Passers-by were so frightened that they didn't dare to help Catelyn because Tracy's extremely terrifying bodyguards seemed to be gang members.

Seeing her phone be broken, Catelyn turned on her heel, but was caught and clamped.

Remembering the slap a few days ago, Tracy showed a wicked expression. She raised her hand and slapped Catelyn's cheek so hard that Catelyn felt dizzy, lost her balance and fell onto the ground...

"Bitch, aren't you always arrogant because you've got Cedrick? Didn't you slap me last time? Let me tell you. Things have changed. My husband is going to be very powerful. You are only qualified to be my dog."

Then Tracy lifted her foot and purposely stepped on Catelyn's face with her high heel...

"Let her go!" At this moment, a cold male voice was suddenly heard.

Catelyn was seriously injured. Feeling faint, she barely raised her head and saw a pair of shiny black leather shoes.

Looking up from the trousers, she beheld a strong and shapely man in a well-tailored suit...

Chapter 1279-Catelyn gradually held her breath.

Although the man lowered his voice, his innate nobility and dignity were very akin to Cedrick's in her memory. However, the moment she saw the man's face, she was bitterly disappointed.

The man was expressionless. A huge black birthmark stretched from his right eye to his jaw. Wearing blackrimmed glasses, he looked old, staid and strange.

Catelyn took a gasp secretly. She was about to call him honey but resisted the urge in the end.

'How come I feel this man resembles Cedrick? I must be crazy.

'Though his voice is pleasant, he is ugly.' "Where did you come from? Do you know who I am? How dare you stop me?"

Tracy queried haughtily.

"I'm Catelyn's cousin. Who are you?" Looking at Tracy up and down, the man said in a hoarse and disdainful voice, "You're just a mad dog. Is there any need to know who you are?"

'The man said he was my cousin? He comes from the Hensley family?' Catelyn was casting her mind back carefully. She had met her relatives of the Hensley family, but she couldn't remember having seen this man.

'Could it be that Dad arranged for him to protect me?' "I'm a mad dog? What are you talking about? How dare you?" Tracy felt furious.

But the next second, she stared at the man and Catelyn with a disgusted expression, snickering with her mouth covered. "Well, Cedrick's brain has been injured, and he is going to abandon Catelyn. You're not her cousin. You must be her adulterer. I've never heard that Catelyn has a cousin..."

"You're asking for it." The moment Tracy finished speaking, the man got wrathful. He rushed toward Tracy, giving others a murderous feeling and vibe.

Shocked by him, Tracy hid behind the bodyguards, her face turning pale.

“Since you’ve fornicated, why can’t I say it? The two of you are a bitch couple.”

“Beat the woman and the man,” Tracy ordered.

“Yes, Madam.” The bodyguards ran toward the man, and the atmosphere was heating up.

The two injured security guards seized the opportunity to help Catelyn stand up.

Catelyn watched the man fighting with Tracy’s bodyguards. Although she didn’t know how to fight, she could see that her so-called cousin didn’t plunge into a disadvantageous position.

He quickly defeated most of Tracy’s bodyguards.

Catelyn rested easy...

Anyway, he wouldn’t be defeated.

“Ms. Clark, your cousin is an excellent fighter,” One of the security guards praised.

Catelyn nodded and became doubted again.

‘This cousin of mine resembles Cedrick a lot, no matter in terms of his fighting skills, back and vibe.

‘Why is there so big a black birthmark on his face?’ At this time, Eason arrived, leading a group of bodyguards. When he saw Tracy and her tattooed bodyguards, he guessed that Tracy must have bullied Catelyn.

“Mrs. Mason, are you okay? Why did Mr. Mason leave you alone?” Eason said angrily.

Shaking her head, Catelyn pointed at the man. "I'm fine. Go and help that man."

Looking at the man besieged by the tattooed bodyguards, Eason felt weird.

"Who is he? Why does his back look like Mr. Mason so much?"

Catelyn felt surprised. "Do you also feel that he resembles Cedrick?"

Chapter 1280-"Yes..." While speaking, Eason saw the man's ugly face and added with his brows furrowed, "But he is terribly ugly and can't compare with Mr. Mason at all. By the way, Mrs.

Mason, do you feel that Mr. Mason's illness gets worse after he was discharged from the hospital? He went to the company and scolded many executives this morning!"

Hearing these words, Catelyn got angry. "Don't mention him now. Go help my cousin. Tracy brought her bodyguards to beat me just now, but luckily, he saved me..."

"What?" Eason's face hardened. "How dare those people bully you? I'll get even with them right away!"

Eason and his men immediately rushed to help Catelyn's cousin. Originally, Tracy's bodyguards couldn't defeat Catelyn's cousin. As Eason and his men helped Catelyn's cousin, Tracy's bodyguards plunged into a disadvantageous position at once. They were knocked to the ground and writhed in pain, screaming.

At the sight of it, Tracy became panicky and immediately called someone for help...

However, as soon as she took out her phone, Catelyn's cousin grabbed her wrist, snatched her phone and slammed it down.

The phone broke and the resulting debris scratched her ankle, her tears rolling down.

But Catelyn's cousin didn't take pity on her, turning a blind eye to her tears. He dragged her toward Catelyn, as if he had been dragging a dog.

"Teach her a lesson! Since she gave you a slap, slap her back," Catelyn's cousin uttered.

When Catelyn met her cousin's eyes and saw his expression, her heart skipped a beat, and she got overjoyed because she was very familiar with the expression. 'This man must be Cedrick!' She held back her ecstasy. Though having been slapped by Tracy, it was worth it, as Cedrick appeared.

"Catelyn, what do you want to do?" Tracy shouted. Being clamped, she sobbed and showed a frightened and panicked expression. "Aren't you ashamed that so many of you bully a weak woman like me?" Tracy questioned Catelyn.

"Weren't you very haughty and fearless when you brought people to beat me?"

As Catelyn argued back, she slowly raised her foot...

Though unwilling to slap Tracy, Catelyn didn't intend to let her go easily and must teach her a lesson.

Thinking that Tracy was so cruel that she had poked her with the high heel, Catelyn meant to give her a kick.

"What do you want to do? Stay away from me..." When seeing that Catelyn was about to kick her, Tracy subconsciously reached out to parry Catelyn. Catelyn happened to miss her footing and stepped into Tracy's hands. Being pushed, she fell backward instantly.

Noticing Catelyn tilt back, Eason went to support her straightaway.

But Catelyn's cousin made a quicker reaction.

He ran faster than Eason and pulled Catelyn into his arms promptly.

Clutching his clothes with both hands, Catelyn met his eyes under his black-rimmed glasses. With the atmosphere turning romantic, she gave a playful smile. "Thank you, my cousin."

She stressed "my cousin" intentionally, and he looked away awkwardly. After helping her stand up straight, he answered in a low voice, "My pleasure."

The next second, he glared at Tracy.

Tracy felt as if she was being targeted by a ferocious beast, and her first instinct was to run.

But before she rose, Catelyn's cousin had grasped her two arms and twisted them hard. With a crack, her arms were dislocated.

She howled in agony, but he totally ignored it. "You can go on stepping on her."

Hearing Tracy's howl, Catelyn didn't feel sympathetic to her in the slightest.
