

Our Billion 1301

Chapter 1301-“Look! The female partners around Mr. Mason are all new young stars in showbiz. There has been no position for Catelyn already!”

With her hand being held by Edwin, Catelyn calmly came up to “Cedrick” under stunned or sarcastic gazes.

“Cedrick” held an unknown young model, Julie, in his arms. Julie had fair skin and looked beautiful. She had big breasts and a V-shaped face. Obviously, she had taken plastic surgeries.

“Cedrick” asked unfriendly, “Why do you come here?”

Catelyn replied unhurriedly, “It’s the banquet of Mason Group tonight. I’m Mrs.

Mason, your wife. If I didn’t come here, we would give others a chance to attack us. Besides, as long as we’re in a good relationship, the Board of Directors won’t find fault with us. Do you want them to say that you’re not even able to deal with your private relationship?”

Edwin echoed Catelyn, but his focus was on Julie. “Ced, you have bad taste.

This kind of plastic face is out of date already. Do you prefer leftover?”

“Cedrick’s” face turned green and then white in embarrassment.

Julie coquetted in “Cedrick’s” arms and said, “Mr. Atherton, you’re annoying.

Different people have different tastes. You have gone too far.”

Edwin said slightly, “Shut up. Who do you think you are? My cousin is here, and Ced hasn’t divorced. How can you come here? Doesn’t Ced feel shameful?”

Julie was stuck for words, and her pretty face turned red.

Julie was beautiful and had a nice body shape. Besides, she was honey-tongued and was a good partner. Thus, "Cedrick" chose her.

However, after being mocked by Edwin, "Cedrick" couldn't help but look around.

The female partners of other guests were noble and graceful indeed. Even the female stars were like those ladies who had been immersed in the social circle for many years.

'Julie is frumpy indeed...' "Cedrick" let go of Julie's hands, picked up a glass of champagne and took a sip to defuse embarrassment." Edwin, please take care of my wife. I'm going to make a speech on the stage."

"She's my cousin. Of course, I will take care of her. If one makes things difficult for her, they're my enemies."

"Cedrick" chuckled to hide his embarrassment and walked onstage.

Catelyn tugged at the hem of Edwin's clothes. "There is no need for you to fall out with him. According to my observation, he's narrow-minded. If he uses the resource of Mason Group to make things difficult for you, it will be troublesome."

Edwin said sportively, "Are you worried about me?"

Catelyn was reluctant to admit it. "I'm afraid that you will ruin the fortune of the Atherton family and that Nana will be angry."

He reached out his hand to pinch her chubby face. "Don't worry. No matter how I ruin it, I won't ruin yours that Granny gave you."

Her cheek hurt. She glared at him and suddenly felt that someone was looking at her coldly. She looked in that direction and saw Terrence silently staring at her in a black suit among the opposite crowd.

She picked up her glass and greeted him.

He left, poker-faced.

Edwin smiled evilly, "He even feels jealous because of me?"

Catelyn was stuck for words.

"Cedrick" stood on the stage and talked about the development and achievement of the company in the past year. His speech was filled with bombast and conceit. He ignored the speech that the public relations department had prepared in advance.

"Cedrick" became the center of attention on the stage. The offstage guests were cooperative and broke into loud applause.

Surrounded by applause, "Cedrick" felt proud and grinned from ear to ear.

As his wife, Catelyn was also the center of attention.

"Bitch!" Tracy couldn't help but say to Trevor in a low voice offstage. "Isn't she going to divorce Mr. Mason? Why does she come here?"

Chapter 1302-Tracy's arms were dislocated by Terrence that day. She went to see a doctor and recuperated for a period.

When she saw Catelyn, she hated Catelyn's guts.

As usual, Trevor wore all-black clothes. His eyes were filled with anger. It was mostly because of "Cedrick" who was on the stage.

"Cedrick" has gotten the shares of Mason Group without effort. Mr. Denham thinks more highly of him than me.

'At the banquet of Mason Group, he's even able to receive the congratulation on the stage as the real Cedrick.

'His speech was nonsense, but people had to applaud for him...' "It's because she has a cousin from the Atherton family." Talking about that, Trevor suddenly smiled and said to Tracy, "Edwin is also your cousin. It's rare for you to meet him. You can go to talk with him. If you get his appreciation, there will be no position for Catelyn in Sapphire City."

Tracy thought that Trevor was right. 'After all, I'm Edwin's cousin too!

'Even though Edwin was aloof toward me, it's the fact that I'm his cousin by blood...

'I have made a name for myself in the circle of ladies since I married Trevor.

Maybe Edwin will change his attitude toward me.' She turned to look at Edwin and suddenly felt that all the other men were overshadowed by him.

Soon, "Cedrick" finished his speech on the stage.

He announced that the opening dance began.

Tracy came up to Edwin. She wore a pure white short dress. Her beautiful black hair hung slightly. Her round and big eyes were delicate and attractive.

She said to Edwin directly, "Edwin, haven't seen you for a long time. You have become more handsome. May I have the first dance with you tonight?"

Hearing that, the surrounding guests all looked at them curiously.

After Tracy married Trevor, her identity as the granddaughter of the Atherton family became known gradually.

In the past, she was just an illegitimate child of the Atherton family and was raised outside, so no one paid attention to her at all...

She said so while Catelyn was standing beside Edwin. Obviously, she wanted to steal Catelyn's thunder!

Edwin glanced at Tracy. "My legs hurt. You'd better invite others."

His cold attitude toward her was totally different from his intimate attitude toward Catelyn.

Seeing the scene, the guests couldn't help but guess in their hearts. 'The rumor is true. The Atherton family dislikes Tracy...' Tracy was dumbfounded. 'Edwin refuses me so frankly!

'Isn't he gentlemanlike toward women?

'It must be because Catelyn has sowed discord!' Tracy suppressed her hatred for Catelyn. "Now that your legs hurt, I can't force you to dance with me. There are chairs over there. Why don't you go to have a seat and take a rest?"

'He can't dance with me. Of course, he can't dance with Catelyn either!' Unexpectedly, in the next second, Edwin bent slightly to Catelyn and made a gesture to invite her to dance.

"Beautiful lady, can you dance with me?"

Tracy widened her eyes in surprise!

Catelyn arched her eyebrows and glanced at Tracy. 'I need Tracy to hate me more.' Thinking of that, Catelyn reached out her hand to Edwin decisively. "Now that you would like to dance, I will accompany you, but I haven't danced for a long time and thus is not as good as Tracy. Please don't mind."

"In my eyes, you're the best dancer." Edwin ogled Catelyn.

Catelyn didn't expect him to do that and avoided his gaze immediately.

'He's so charming!'

Chapter 1303-Tracy's face turned green in anger. She could do nothing but watch Edwin holding Catelyn's hand and walking into the dance floor.

The guests in the hall walked aside to make room for the dance floor. The surrounding people whistled. No matter how Catelyn argued with Cedrick, she was Edwin's cousin!

They were not able to reach her position at all...

Tracy even heard jeers from surrounding people...

Her face turned white.

Catelyn and Edwin stood on the dance floor and were lit by bright spotlights.

They started to dance and attracted many people's attention, who all turned to look at them. Catelyn felt delighted that she overshadowed Tracy.

Tracy felt ashamed and saw Trevor's gaze that was filled with disgust.

She felt more humiliated...

When she wanted to run away, “Cedrick”, who was also reluctant to see Catelyn being happy, came over and reached out his right hand to her gently. “Beautiful lady, may I dance with you?”

She held back her tears and stared at him blankly.

‘When Trevor drugged me, pulled me into his car and raped me, I mistook him as Cedrick and even called Cedrick’s name nonstop...

Cedrick is better than Trevor.

Cedrick is Mr. Mcdreamy, but he has never had scandals and is aloof to other women. Thus, I haven’t gotten any chance to get close to him. Unexpectedly, he invites me to dance with him now!

‘What’s more important, he shows up just after Catelyn humiliated me!

‘What does it mean? It means that the rumor is true. Cedrick and Catelyn have a relationship crisis indeed!’ Tracy immediately put her hand into “Cedrick’s” hand and said excitedly, “My pleasure!”

Thus, “Cedrick” held Tracy’s hand and walked into the dance floor. They started to compete with Catelyn and Edwin.

For an instant, it aroused heated discussion in the hall!

Like Tracy’s guess, the rumor that “Cedrick” and Catelyn were going to divorce was blazed.

On the dance floor, “Cedrick”, Catelyn, Tracy and Edwin hadn’t been influenced.

Catelyn hadn’t danced ballroom dancing for a long time. Although she practiced hastily before she came here tonight, she was uncertain that she would be able to cooperate with Edwin well after her partner was changed to him because he was so good at dancing.

When she was in the Atherton family, she rarely saw Edwin dancing, but he was born to be good at dancing. Each of his steps kept up with the rhythm, and each of his moves was noble and graceful.

“Stay focused.” Edwin suddenly got close to Catelyn’s ear.

She was shocked and stepped on his foot by accident. His foot hurt. “Kitty, haven’t you forgiven me? If you want to take revenge on me, please choose a suitable occasion. Who will dance with you if you hurt my foot seriously?”

No matter how cheeky she was, she felt embarrassed by his words. “I didn’t mean to do that.”

“Then you’re not angry with me?”

“I have business to do and don’t have time to joke with you.” Her eyes were liquid and bright. Under the shining lights, her cheeks were red. She rolled her eyes at him and then looked at the other focal pair on the dance floor.

It seemed that Tracy and “Cedrick” wanted to compete with Catelyn and Edwin, so Tracy and “Cedrick” danced hard.

Tracy even showed her best standard over the years to cooperate with “Cedrick’s” dance steps perfectly. “Cedrick” loosely took her in his arms. She was docile, lovable, noble and elegant.

Catelyn pretended to be sad and said to “Cedrick” in a low voice, “Honey, why do you dance with Tracy?”

“Cedrick” was anxious to take revenge on Catelyn’s tease.

Seeing that she felt sad, he sneered and indecently moved his hands from Tracy’s shoulders to Tracy’s lower back.

Then he pulled Tracy hard, and she clung to his chest... "Who do you think you are? It's none of your business."

Chapter 1304-With her cheek buried against "Cedrick's" chest and her waist encircled by him, Tracy could hear his heart beating stably...

Some romantic ideas started to emerge in her mind.

"Cat, you are dancing with Edwin. Why do you mind Cedrick dancing with me?"

Why do you always pick on me? What have I done?" Tracy complained and then bit her lower lip aggrievedly.

Pretending to be furious and jealous, Catelyn queried, "He is my husband! But what are you doing?" "We're just having a dance. You're overthinking it." Tracy added, "What's more, you didn't invite Mr. Mason to the first dance either."

After a pause, thinking of something, she uttered in shock, "I saw you stay with a man a few days ago. Does Mr. Mason want to divorce you because you have cuckolded him?"

No man couldn't stand being cuckolded, let alone being revealed by others.

"Cedrick's" face hardened straightaway.

Getting wrathful, Catelyn stopped dancing at once. She trotted over and gave Tracy a hard slap, behaving as viciously as a shrew.

"Bitch, what nonsense are you talking about? How dare you hope that Cedrick and I will divorce?"

"Ouch..." Slapped by Catelyn, Tracy took the opportunity to stagger backward and fall into "Cedrick's" arms, crying with her face covered. "Cat, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have said those words. But I didn't say them purposely. Don't beat me..."

Tracy especially put her breasts against “Cedrick”. Feeling her soft and fragrant body, “Cedrick” had a strong desire to protect her. He held Tracy tighter and glared at Catelyn in disgust.

“What are you doing?”

“Honey, she defames me and sows disagreements between us. She deserves the slap!” While arousing Cedrick’s care, Catelyn reprimanded Tracy, not minding making things worse.

A noble man loathed it the most when his wife was being shrewish, which was humiliating.

Now Catelyn was being shrewish.

Several journalists aimed their cameras at the dance floor and began shooting.

“Cedrick” grabbed Catelyn’s wrist with a dark face. “She is telling the truth. Why are you causing trouble? Tonight is the company’s celebration banquet, but I didn’t invite you. I haven’t blamed you for coming here. How dare you make a scene?”

“Cedrick’s” words intrigued others, who started gossiping about Catelyn and Cedrick excitedly.

“Cedrick” admitted personally that there was something wrong between him and Catelyn, as he hadn’t sent an invitation to Catelyn. It was unexpected.

“I just hate Tracy!” Instead of falling silent, she snarled, “Tracy, why do you stay in my husband’s arms? Are you trying to seduce him? Don’t forget that you are a married woman.”

The moment Catelyn finished speaking, Trevor forced his way to the front.

He saw Tracy and “Cedrick” gluing each other at a glance and then said to Tracy coldly, “Come here!”

Frightened at the sight of Trevor's glare, Tracy gave a shiver, stood up straight, and was about to walk toward him...

"Cedrick" narrowed his eyes and looked at Trevor.

Complacent, "Cedrick" thought that he was more powerful than Trevor at present. Why couldn't he play with Trevor's wife?

Wearing an aggressive smile, "Cedrick" tightened his hold on Tracy and caressed her waist suggestively and provocatively. "There are wrinkles on her dress. Let me smooth them."

Others took a gasp in shock.

Obviously, no wrinkles were on Tracy's dress, and "Cedrick" was provoking Trevor.

Chapter 1305-Catelyn and Edwin exchanged a glance, both of whom showed disgust toward "Cedrick".

'This fake Cedrick has ruined my honey's image,' Catelyn thought angrily.

Looking around, Catelyn didn't see "Terrence".

'Fortunately, Terrence isn't here, and he needn't watch the fake Cedrick causing trouble.' Relieved, Catelyn heard Trevor utter through gritted teeth, "Mr. Mason, please mind your behavior next time!"

After saying the threatening words, Trevor grabbed Tracy's arm and took her away.

Staring at Tracy's slender figure interestedly, "Cedrick" rubbed his chin with the other arm across his chest, thinking about how to get her.

"Cedrick" and Trevor had felt hostile to each other. One more thing would get them to quarrel and fight.

Catelyn didn't intend to let Tracy leave easily.

After Catelyn whispered a few words to Edwin, Edwin smirked and replied, "Okay. I'll help you with it."

"Thank you," Catelyn said.

Edwin answered, "Not at all."

Catelyn just gave a smile as a response.

When she slapped Tracy just now, her dress wrinkled.

As the most interesting event hadn't unfolded, Catelyn went to the bathroom to smooth her dress. When she walked through the corridor, she saw a familiar man standing straight in his suit at the end of the corridor with one hand in his pocket. The man was none other than "Terrence".

'No wonder I didn't see him in the hall. He turns out to be here.' Smiling, Catelyn ran toward him. "Hello, Terrence?"

Hearing her voice, the man turned around slowly, revealing part of his big dark birthmark. In order not to scare the guests in the hall, he especially wore a silver mask, which could exactly hide most of the birthmark. His exposed jaw looked manful and cool.

"Have you finished dancing?" Staring at her expressionlessly, "Terrence" asked in a toneless voice.

Chuckling, Catelyn stretched out her slim arm. "Are you feeling jealous? Let me give you an opportunity. I'm free now. Do you want to dance with me?"

"Mr. Hensley..." At this moment, a young lady in her twenties stepped out of the washroom.

The lady greeted 'Terrence' very sweetly, as if she hadn't noticed Catelyn. If Catelyn hadn't been here, she would have hooked her arm through "Terrence's".

"Sorry to let you wait for me."

"It doesn't matter." Though Terrence's hoarse voice was tinged with alienation, the lady didn't mind it.

The lady looked around and advised, pointing to an empty balcony, "Didn't you say you wanted to have a talk with me? How about chatting on that balcony? No one will bother us there, and it will be convenient for me to record our conversation."

"No problem." 'Terrence' nodded.

Only then did the lady seem to discover Catelyn and say in surprise, "Hello, Mrs.

Mason?"

Catelyn felt the lady looked familiar, but she couldn't recall when she had met her.

"Hello." Catelyn reached out to shake hands with her and asked with a half-smile, "Do you still need to work while you are at a party? You're very diligent."

'Terrence' is my cousin. Although he is ugly and quick-tempered, he is a very righteous man."

Chapter 1306-Terrence's face hardened, and he shot a glare at Catelyn.

Catelyn pretended not to see his glare.

'Huh! How dare he meet this lady in private?' Catelyn thought.

“Well, since you are busy, I won’t bother you. Goodbye,” Catelyn said.

She was about to leave when the lady said, “Mrs. Mason, please wait a moment!”

“What’s the matter?” Catelyn asked.

“Er...” The lady gave a smile, took a peek at Terrence and continued, “I just want to tell you that Mr. Hensley saved my life. I think he is a kind man and not quick-tempered as you said. As for appearance... handsome is as handsome does, right?”

Then she hooked her arm through Terrence’s on purpose, and the latter didn’t push her away. The two of them walked toward the balcony.

Catelyn was so furious that her eyes turned red.

She took a photo of them arm in arm and sent it to Charles.

“Do you know the lady in the photo?”

With a sinking feeling, Charles tried to prevaricate, ignoring the message.

But after a while, Catelyn shot another message. “Who is this lady?”

Charles had no choice but to bite the bullet and reply, “She is Brisa Sherwood, the daughter of the chief inspector of the inspection team in Sapphire City.”

‘She turns out to be the chief inspector’s daughter...’ Catelyn couldn’t help chuckling. ‘Cedrick is probably investigating Mr. Denham through her.’ At the thought of her words just now, a wave of embarrassment came over Catelyn. ‘Well, let me continue getting even with Tracy and the fake Cedrick.’ After walking out of the bathroom, Catelyn stood behind a large potted plant in the corridor. Shrouded in the shadow, she looked at the hall, where “Cedrick” was enjoying being flattered and focused on by others.

She deliberately avoided the camera, found the waiter who she had bribed in advance, and gave the waiter an order.

The waiter nodded and went to implement her order immediately.

The waiter walked to “Cedrick” and whispered a few words to him.

At the words, “Cedrick” showed a suggestive expression. After saying a few words to the guests with a smile, he moved to a room on the second floor.

Seeing “Cedrick” leave, Catelyn sent a text message to ask Edwin. “Has everything been arranged?”

“Certainly. Trust me,” Edwin answered.

“Thanks! But keep Trevor in the hall for another several minutes.”

“No problem.”

Staring at Edwin’s text messages on the screen, Catelyn breathed a sigh of relief. While standing in the corner for another while, she saw Tracy stepping coquettishly to the elevator opposite and gave a satisfied smile.

“‘Cedrick’ must love this gift very much, right?’ After ten minutes or so, Catelyn left the corner and walked to the hall.

Pretending to be anxious, she looked around for “Cedrick” while asking each guest for his whereabouts.

The guests answered her kindly.

“Mr. Mason was here just now.”

“I seemed to see Mr. Mason walk toward the second floor...”

“Perhaps he left temporarily to deal with something, or he went to the bathroom...”

Catelyn asked guests one by one, and in the end, she queried a person near Trevor. Trevor was talking with Edwin about a new energy project at this moment. Hearing Catelyn ask where “Cedrick” was, Trevor uttered sarcastically,

Didn’t you keep your eye on your husband?”

Chapter 1307-Trevor was mocking Catelyn, as she didn’t keep an eye on her husband, who took advantage of his wife.

At it, Catelyn flushed crimson, acutely embarrassed.

The next second, she looked around, appeared to discover something and said, “You don’t keep an eye on your wife either... Well, why are both Tracy and my husband absent now?”

Her words were like a stone thrown into a quiet lake, making ripples.

The ripples continuously moved toward the edge of the lake, messing the whole lake...

“Yes. Mrs. Jones and Mr. Mason seem to disappear at the same time.”

“I saw just now that Mrs. Jones also walked toward the elevator! God, should the two of them do that kind of thing?”

“How can it be possible? Mr. Mason knows more clearly than anyone else that today is an important day. And he is not the kind of person who will cheat on his wife.”

“Don’t bet on it. Mr. Mason even flirted with Mrs. Jones just now. After all, mistresses are more charming than wives, and Mrs. Jones is Mrs. Mason’s cousin. It’s very thrilling just to think about it...”

The guests began gossiping to each other about it...

Though they lowered their voices, many people were talking about it, and the hall became noisier.

Turning a blind ear to the gossip, Catelyn continued questioning Trevor.

“Where’s your wife? Where the hell did your wife go? I’ve always thought that bitch is born flirtatious. She hooked up with you at my grandma’s birthday party.

If... If she dares to seduce my husband, I won’t let her live in peace.”

Clenching his fists tightly, Trevor was enraged, but tried his best to look calm.

“Mrs. Mason, don’t spread rumors. You have no evidence!”

“Kitty, I’ve found it...” At this moment, Edwin handed a phone to her. “Ced went to a room on the second floor 20 minutes ago...”

Catelyn snatched the phone and watched the video.

Then she cried, her eyes turning red...

“Edwin, look! That bitch also went to the second floor...”

While saying that, she deliberately shot a glare at Trevor, turned around and ran upstairs.

The phone dropped to the ground.

As Catelyn and Trevor were close to each other just now, the phone fell near Trevor's feet.

He looked down, and the video was still playing.

In the video, Tracy was biting her plump lower lip and heading toward the second floor blushing. Her eyes were glittering with guilt and anticipation.

With a crash, the goblet in Trevor's hand was broken by him.

Glass shards were pierced into his palm, and the blood gushed out of it.

The waiter said in shock, "Oh, my god. Mr. Jones, your hands are bleeding!"

"Go away!" Trevor didn't care about his bleeding palm at all, pushed the waiter away with the other hand, and stormed toward the second floor. He was in a towering rage.

The reporters present, like beasts smelling blood, swarmed to follow Trevor.

Edwin winked at the security guards.

A succession of them immediately went to block the stairs, keeping others out of the second floor.

If the reporters took photos of "Cedrick", Cedrick's image would be ruined.

The lights in the room were off.

The room was dark, but a romantic scent of jasmine permeated the air.

Something seemed to have been added to the perfume, and the pleasant scent aroused one's primitive desire easily.

"Honey?" Tracy pushed open the door and uttered tentatively. "Honey, are you here? Why don't you turn on the lights..."

She received a text message from Trevor just now, who asked her to come to this room as he prepared a surprise for her.

Chapter 1308-She was looking forward to the surprise but felt guilty because Trevor was a possessive man.

Would he be kind enough to give her a gift?

She came upstairs obediently, unable to resist her curiosity.

It was dark in the bedroom. Tracy subconsciously reached out to touch the light switch on the wall, but she touched a strong chest.

"Ah!" she exclaimed and backed away hastily.

At the next moment, a man who was smiling ferociously pulled her wrist and made her turn around.

"Young lady, you are so anxious to find your husband. Is it that the bastard Trevor did not satisfy you?"

M W Tracy got shocked and asked incredulously, "Cedrick?"

"Humph." "Cedrick" liked the thrill of cheating and said, "I didn't expect you to be much better than that bitch Catelyn."

Tracy had never given birth to a child and usually paid great attention to body management. She was definitely in good shape.

She originally wanted to push "Cedrick" away, but after hearing that she was better than Catelyn, she changed her mind and put her arms around his neck. Tracy said coyly, "Who do you think is better, Catelyn or me?"

"Are you kidding me? Of course, it's you!" "Cedrick" lowered his head and wanted to kiss Tracy.

Before Tracy completely lost her mind, she turned her head to avoid his kiss and said, "No, not now. My husband is still downstairs. If he sees us, I will be dead."

"I'm here. Why are you afraid of Trevor?" "Cedrick" pinched her waist anxiously and said arrogantly, "You can divorce him and I will marry you!"

Tracy widened her eyes in surprise and asked, "What do you say?"

"Catelyn and I will divorce. When I get divorced, I will marry you if you want."

"Cedrick" showed a sinister smile in the dark.

"Really?" Tracy pretended to believe what "Cedrick" said, "Cedrick, I have actually loved you for a long time. From the moment I first saw you, I dreamed of marrying you one day. But Catelyn is your wife, and I'm not valued in the Atherton family, so I have been suppressing my feelings! If you don't hate me for marrying Trevor and still want to marry me, I will be with you forever!"

"Cedrick" said, "Since you like me, why did you marry Trevor?" "It's all Catelyn's fault! She set me up to sleep with Trevor. I had to marry him."

“Cedrick” said with an evil grin, “You have no feelings for Trevor, right?”

“He doesn’t know how to care about me at all. I will have feelings for him only when I am crazy! Cedrick, you can’t disappoint me because I’m yours from now on.” Tracy said tenderly.

Just as “Cedrick” was to say “no problem,” the door burst open.

The hanging lamp on the wall came on with a snap.

Chapter 1309-They separated from each other hastily.

Tracy screamed.

“Cedrick” took his time pulling up his pants and narrowed his eyes. He was annoyed to see Trevor, Catelyn and several people rushing in. If he was scared into impotence, he wouldn’t spare them.

“You...” Catelyn stumbled and shouted. Her eyes were like a sharp scalpel stabbing at them, whose clothes were in disarray, “How can you do this to me?”

“No... It’s not what you think...” Tracy panicked, but she still tried to hide it.

She was weak in her knees and had to hold on to the wall to stand still.

Feeling Trevor’s dark gaze, her emotions were a mixture of shock, embarrassment, fear and elation...

“Cedrick” gracefully took Tracy in his arms to provoke Catelyn and Trevor.

“Tracy, stop explaining. Now that they caught us being together, then there’s just not much to say. You don’t like Trevor, and I don’t like Catelyn, so it’s a natural thing for us to be together...”

Catelyn looked as if he was provoked and pointed fingers at Trevor, "Trevor, this is your good wife. Why don't you keep a closer eye on her?"

Blue veins stood out on Trevor's forehead. Anger flared in his face, but he still held it back.

It made his whole face look like it was twisted together, which made his face look especially scary.

He said to Tracy, "Tracy, get your ass in here."

"I..." Tracy became case-hardened and nestled against Cedrick's chest, "Trevor, you heard what Cedrick said, right? I don't love you at all. I love Cedrick. Let's get a divorce. When I was with you, I didn't experience any happiness.

Cedrick gives me the joy of rebirth."

Trevor was very angry. He picked up the crystal ashtray on the coffee table and threw it at Tracy.

"Damn, Tracy, stop being bitchy. Do you think he really loves you? He's just trying to use you to strike me. Do you do me justice by doing this? Am I not nice enough to you? Will you die without a man? Why do you choose him?"

Looking at the approaching ashtray, Tracy crept into Cedrick's arms quickly.

"Cedrick, I am so scared..."

"Tracy, don't be scared."

"Cedrick" held Tracy close with one arm and shielded her from the ashtray with the other.

The ashtray was knocked against the wall and slid on the floor. It clashed and then broke into pieces...

“Cedrick” sneered and patted Tracy’s shoulder. He handsomely took out a cigarette, lit it and said proudly, “What kind of question is that? I can give her something you can’t. I also can do things that you can’t. Your wife abandons you. Trevor, I’d advise you to back out as soon as possible. Don’t compete with me. Can you win me?”

The last few sentences said by “Cedrick” were clearly sarcastic remarks about Trevor’s declining status with Mr. Denham, and Trevor became furious immediately...

Looking at Cedrick and Tracy snuggle together, Trevor suddenly stood up angrily. He picked up the nearest chair and tried to throw it at them.

Chapter 1310-Catelyn cried as she pulled Trevor. “Trevor, what the hell are you doing? You have to stop this! Otherwise, you might kill them. Anyway, it was Tracy who abetted my husband. Calm down...”

Catelyn kept talking about Tracy.

Upon hearing her words, Trevor found it ironic.

Catelyn was reminding him that his wife had cuckolded him!

“Fuck off!” Trevor pushed Catelyn away from him. Then, he swung the chair as he pounced at Tracy and Cedrick, who were hugging each other.

Tracy had never seen Trevor so aggressive.

Tracy’s face turned pale with fear. Then, she screamed as she hid behind “Cedrick”.

“Cedrick” did not back down. Then, he and Trevor wrestled with each other. He cursed angrily, “How dare you beat me! Come on! I’m telling you that it was your wife who came to me. And she begged me to love her. She kept calling me honey. And she said she was forced to marry you! You’re such a loser! No woman wants to be with you unless you force her.”

Trevor punched “Cedrick” in the face. Then, he got punched too.

Trevor reached up and wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth as he cursed hysterically, “Did you say that on purpose? You know she is my wife. You just want to embarrass me! You just want to cuckold me! Ralph Mason, go to hell! I’m going to kill you!”

No rival to Trevor, “Cedrick” just kept yelling those brutal words.

Trevor was furious. Once a mercenary, he was able to overpower “Cedrick” in a few moves.

Trevor grabbed “Cedrick” by the hair and dragged “Cedrick” toward the wall.

Then, he smashed “Cedrick” against the wall with force.

“Thud! Thud! Thud!”

Soon, “Cedrick”’s forehead was bleeding. The blood kept streaming down the white wall, which looked like a blooming crimson flower.

At first, “Cedrick” was arrogant...

“Trevor, you son of a bitch! H-how dare you beat me! If you harm me in any way, that man will not spare you! If I die, you die...”

After his head was smashed and bleeding, “Cedrick” got cold feet. Then, he screamed and begged Trevor for mercy in a feeble voice.

Seeing that “Cedrick” was dying, Tracy quickly lunged toward Trevor and pleaded with him.

She grabbed Trevor's clothes and yelled anxiously, "Trevor, you're killing him! I beg you to let him go. If you kill him, you'll go to jail. It was an accident..."

"Are you still worried about him?" When Trevor heard Tracy begging him for "Cedrick", he slapped Tracy and kicked her in the chest. "He fucked you, so you're obsessed with him? Don't you know what the occasion is today? How dare you cheat on me with him behind my back! Shame on both of you! I'll send you to hell to be with him after I kill him!"

Tracy put her hand over her chest and rolled on the ground.

When Tracy heard his threatening words, her eyes widened, and she suddenly felt panic. Trevor was known for being brutal. Besides, Tracy only wanted to be with "Cedrick" so that she could live a better life. And she didn't want to die yet.

Trevor punched and kicked "Cedrick" fiercely.

He never thought Tracy would dare to cuckold him!

He was so furious that his palm was slightly tingling. His scarlet eyes seemed to have blood and tears in them.

However, he did not notice Catelyn and Edwin, standing in the doorway, exchanging glances with each other.

Trevor had just referred to "Cedrick" as Ralph Mason in a fit of rage.

Was his last name also Mason?

"Cedrick" would probably die if Trevor continued to hit him.

At this moment, Catelyn and Edwin went to stop Trevor from beating "Cedrick".

Trevor was exhausted from the fight. Once he stopped fighting, he sat down on the couch in dismay. He felt empty inside.

In addition to being angry, Trevor was not only disappointed in Tracy but also disgusted with Ralph.

Then, Edwin hypocritically tried to comfort Trevor.