

Our Billion 1321

Chapter 1321-When Edwin saw that Cedrick's body obviously became stiffer and tenser, Edwin cheered and laughed in his heart.

'I want to shoot it by phone...

'If I shoot it, every time I see the video, it will make me happy, and the happiness will last for a long time.

'However, if I have the guts to shoot it, Cedrick will break my phone.' "Bite and swallow it." Miles quickly fed Cedrick the cake as if he didn't see Cedrick frowning tightly.

Catelyn felt that Cedrick and Miles were strange. She said," Miles, I also would like to eat the cake. Would you like to feed me?"

Miles changed his attitude immediately and refused seriously. "No!"

Ollie knew Miles' trick. Ollie smiled, held a freshly baked egg tart in cupped hands from the dinner table and handed it to Catelyn. "Mummy, I would like to feed you."

Of course, Catelyn couldn't refuse Ollie.

She bit Ollie's egg tart. It was sweet, tender and juicy.

She enjoyed it very much. Her expression was totally different from Cedrick's grimace.

Ollie smiled happily, and his black eyes were filled with expectation. He asked Catelyn, "Is it delicious?"

"My sweetheart feeds it to me. Of course, it's delicious." She stroked Ollie's head.

Miles imitated Ollie. Miles tilted his head, and his eyes were as bright as shining gemstones. "Uncle Terrence, is my cake delicious?"

Cedrick glanced at Miles coldly and almost lost his taste.

"You will know it after you taste it. Need I feed you?"

Miles was stuck for words. 'It's strange. Why is the aura of this taciturn uncle like Big Demon's?

'It's impossible.

'Big Demon won't be so ugly.

Mummy said that I was the mini copy of Big Demon.

'If I grow up and am as ugly as Uncle Terrence, I won't be able to get a wife!' Thus, Miles grinned, exposed his eight white teeth and continued to feed Cedrick the cake.

The cake was small. Soon, Cedrick almost ate it up.

Then Miles brought a cup of fragrant black tea. "Here you are. The cake is too dry, so I have poured a cup of black tea for you."

Chapter 1322-Naturally, Catelyn noticed that Miles played tricks on Cedrick.

She frowned and asked seriously, "Miles, what did you add to the cake and the black tea?"

Miles nestled against her with an innocent expression. Then he hugged her legs to climb up, wriggled to act cute and changed the topic. "Mummy, don't abandon Ollie and me. We're still babies and can't live alone. We will live a miserable life if we have a stepfather!"

Hearing that, Catelyn almost forgot to educate Miles and Ollie.

But the sound of water in the kitchen reminded her of the tricks they played on Cedrick!

She carried them up and pulled a wry face. "I have told you that you will only have one father and won't have a stepfather. Uncle Terrence is my cousin, and we're related by blood. I can't marry him."

Edwin added in a low voice, "In TV series, it's possible."

Catelyn was stuck for words. 'How can the plots of period TV series compare to modern life?' She still remembered to educate Miles and Ollie. She cupped their cute faces in her hands and said seriously, "Are you reluctant to tell me what you added to the cake and the black tea until I get angry?"

Miles curled his lips. "Mustard, salt, white vinegar and chili sauce."

Catelyn was surprised. 'Oh, my God. Even so, Cedrick still ate the cake up and drank the black tea off.

'He hadn't seen Miles and Ollie for a long time. Besides, he had been moved by them because they only accepted Big Demon to be their father. So he ate the cake up and drank the black tea off?' Suddenly, she had the impulse to laugh.

'He deserves it. He shouldn't have worn the mask to disguise himself as "Terrence"...

'He asks for trouble.' At that time, Cedrick groaned in the kitchen. Then he roared emotionally and angrily, "Alvis, come here!"

Catelyn felt confused. 'What has happened this time?' She immediately put down Miles and Ollie and went to the kitchen.

She saw that the tall Cedrick was leaning against the sink and that something was wriggling on the fingertip of his right hand...

'It's... a crab?' Catelyn was shocked!

"Miles, is it you who did it?" She widened her eyes in surprise.

There was an aquaculture center in Atherton Manor.

Its scale wasn't large. They usually bred some kinds of small seafood, and crab was one of them.

Miles stood behind Edwin, popped his head and said innocently, "I felt bored and scooped it out to have fun. I didn't expect him to be so stupid."

'I'm stupid?' Cedrick felt that his endurance had been challenged again and again today and that he almost couldn't control his temper.

'The cake, the chili sauce in the black tea... Then I went to the kitchen to rinse my mouth.

'Miles must have guessed my moves.

'I was moved by Miles and Ollie, so I drank it even though I knew Miles added something to it!

'But Miles had gone too far. He teased me again and again.

'I must teach him a lesson!' "Come here. I promise that I won't let the crab catch you." Cedrick glared at Miles horribly and became more emotional. He was so resentful that he even pulled his tie impatiently.

Catelyn was in a dilemma. Although it was Miles' fault, she still defended him subconsciously.

“It’s not all Miles’ fault. He just put the crab in the sink and didn’t expect your finger to be caught by it! Besides, he’s only four years old and still a baby...”

Edwin said, “Catelyn is right. He’s just a baby. His skin is tender. If his finger is caught by the crab, his finger will be broken. Your skin is thick. It’s just a crab.

Kill it! How can you be angry with a baby?”

Cedrick showed the crab on his index finger to Catelyn, and his handsome face clouded over.

Chapter 1323-Cedrick said, “How can you still defend Miles?!”

‘I have given in again and again!

‘But he doesn’t buy it at all.’ Catelyn saw that Cedrick’s finger had been cut by the crab’s claw and was bleeding.

Usually, the more violently one struggled, the more tightly crabs caught them.

Seeing that Cedrick would lose his temper in the next second, she immediately winked at Edwin and Miles.

Edwin carried Miles up with one hand, put Miles under his arm and left quickly.

In a concealed corner, Edwin avoided Catelyn and Cedrick to give a thumbs-up sign to Miles.

‘I scooped out the crab, and Miles added the chili sauce...

'To my surprise, Cedrick fell into all the traps.' Miles turned around and saw Catelyn confronting Cedrick. Suddenly, Miles felt that something was strange.

He compressed his lips tightly...

'It seems that the outline of "Terrence's" ugly face has changed.

'The more I look at him, the more he looks like Big Demon?' Catelyn took the medical box out of the cabinet. She was worried about Cedrick very much.

Miles and Edwin have left. Don't move. What if the crab hurt your bones?"

Hearing her words, Cedrick became more irritated. He threw the crab on the cutting board with a loud sound. The crab didn't move for a long time. They didn't know if it was dead or not, but it caught Cedrick's finger more tightly by its claw.

She became more anxious and comforted him. "Alright, it's all Miles' fault. I will criticize him later. Your finger is bleeding!"

Cedrick sneered, "I only saw you gang up with them and tease me together!"

She thought of how to comfort him anxiously and tried to explain, "It's the business of our family. We'd better solve it by ourselves. Edwin was here just now, so I wanted to roll with the punches."

He tightly compressed his lips with a look in his eyes that said, "Continue to make it up!"

Then she adopted some common ways, but the crab still didn't let go. Finally, she grabbed his hand, put it into the water again and pressed it to stop him from moving casually.

When the crab felt that it was safe, it would loosen its claw.

But the aura of Cedrick was too intimidating...

Let alone the crab, even her hair stood on end because of him.

She pressed his right hand with both hands so that she was almost in his arms.

They were close to each other. To comfort him, who had gotten hurt, she decided to take advantage of her beauty!

She tiptoed, kissed his chin and slightly rubbed against his chest with her cheeks. Obviously, she was pleasing him...

"Just take it as our sons' little revenge?"

He pinched her cheek with his left hand and said, "Tell me. Who will you choose between our sons and me?"

'He changes the topic so quickly!' Her expression became stilted slightly. "You all are the people that I care about the most."

"You will choose Miles and Ollie, right?" His gaze became cold. "Like what happened just now, before I did something to Miles, you defended him subconsciously! What about me? He added so many things to the cake and even added chili sauce to the black tea. Do you know what it tastes like in my mouth now?"

'Cedrick has gotten hurt, but they all are the people I love.

'Besides, Cedrick has disguised himself as "Terrence" ...

'If Cedrick didn't do that, Miles wouldn't play tricks on him.' No matter how she thought, she couldn't add fuel to the fire. Finally, she could only say, "If you feel angry, just be angry with me. I haven't taught Miles and Ollie well and haven't eased conflicts between you and them. I can't be divided into two parts to accompany you and them separately..."

Chapter 1324-Cedrick narrowed his eyes angrily.

"Are you mocking me that I can't teach my sons well?"

Catelyn was stuck for words. 'I have never said so.'

"The crab has loosened its claw..." She saw the crab slowly loosen its claw in the sink and changed the topic.

When she took his right hand out of the water, his skin was broken and bleeding.

She took the disinfectant and gauze out of the medicine box. When she was about to bandage his wound, he withdrew his hand from hers angrily and coldly.

"You only need to care about your sons. There is no need for you to care about me."

Of course, she knew that it was all Miles' fault. She made up her mind and said, "Alright, your finger has been cut by the crab. You think that I don't care about you. Will you cool down if I suffer the pain like you?"

She rolled up her sleeve and put her right hand into the sink to let the crab pinch her...

"What are you doing?" His gaze became sharp.

Suddenly, she felt a sharp pain in her wrist. He grabbed her wrist tightly.

"Have I asked you to hurt yourself?"

She said, "You're hurting me by not allowing me to bandage your wound."

He had been angry for the whole morning. When he heard her words, he cooled down somehow. Meeting her sincere and gentle gaze, he clenched his fists. 'I must have been out of mind. Why do I get angry with Miles? He is only four years old.' Seeing that, she breathed a sigh of relief secretly and took the disinfectant to clean his wound...

Cedrick and Miles were against each other during the breakfast.

When Catelyn and Cedrick returned to the dining hall, Miles saw that Cedrick's finger was bandaged with thick gauze.

Miles felt guilty. He sat there quietly and ate listlessly.

'If one's hand is caught by a crab and the one doesn't struggle or pull the crab violently, the wound won't be too serious...

Does the ugly uncle lack common knowledge?

'Why is his wound so serious?

'Is he playing the victim?' After the breakfast, Edwin found an excuse and left in advance.

Miles would like to leave with him but failed.

He followed Catelyn to go to the bower in the back garden.

When there were no others, she didn't need to care about his high self-esteem.

Thus, she criticized him strictly.

“Miles, although I defended you just now, it doesn’t mean that you have done nothing wrong.

“Why did you play tricks on Uncle Terrence? Did he offend you?

“If you continue to be like that, you will be a naughty kid who has no bottom line and principles. If so, no one will like you! Outsiders will say that I haven’t taught you well. Do you want me to be mocked by others with you?”

Miles lowered his head and kept silent.

Seeing that he didn’t reply, she pulled him into her arms and lifted his chin with her slender finger...

‘The fearless Miles’ eyes turn red?’ “You shed tears just because I criticize you?” She didn’t soften and said toughly, “You have to admit your mistake. You’re not an ignorant three-year-old baby.

You have a younger sister and need to be sensible...”

‘When he gets older, he will begin the first grade in the primary school with Ollie.

‘The Mason family is different from other rich and powerful families...

‘If Miles degenerates, he will cause countless trouble!’ When he heard her words, he burst into tears, and his tears wet his eyelashes.

He raised his hands childishly and wiped tears rudely... His shoulders shook as he sobbed.

Chapter 1325-Catelyn also kept silent and looked at Miles. They confronted each other quietly.

After a while, Miles asked in return, "No matter how sensible I'm, I will lose my home. Is it useful for me to be sensible?!" His tone was as domineering as Cedrick's.

As soon as she heard that, she softened. She reached out her hands to wipe the tears at the corners of his eyes and said in a gentle voice, "How can it be?

Where I am, where your home is."

He looked away awkwardly, bit his lower lip and didn't say anything.

"Soon, you will be five years old and be a little adult. Stop crying. Otherwise, I will also feel sad." She stared at his big red eyes and softened her voice more.

Finally, he looked up to meet her gaze as he sobbed.

"I'm having dreams these days."

She asked, "Nightmares?"

His eyelashes were wet with tears, and his eyes were as red as a rabbit's. "I dreamed that you and Big Demon didn't come to see Ollie and me and that you abandoned us..."

She frowned and sighed gently. "What happens in the dream is always the opposite of that in the real life..."

"But you have taken the ugly uncle back! Uncle Edwin said that you would abandon us after you remarry!" He tugged at the hem of her clothes and emphasized sadly and audaciously.

Her heart did a flip-flop. When did Edwin say so?' "You played tricks on Uncle Terrence because of Uncle Edwin?"

'At that time, Miles went to the kitchen first. Then Edwin followed him to the kitchen.

'After Miles returned to the dining hall, he started to play tricks on Cedrick.' Miles nodded nonstop. "Uncle Edwin said that the ugly uncle wouldn't refuse to eat the cake in front of you even though I added something to it. Besides, it was Uncle Edwin who scooped the crab out. I just put it in the sink."

Only then did Catelyn know the whole story. 'No wonder Miles suddenly played tricks on Cedrick like that!

'It turns out that it's all because Edwin sowed discord!

'So he left quickly just now?' Miles hemmed and hawed. "Mummy, don't abandon me, Ollie and Big Demon..."

He hugged her legs and started to act cute. "I'm afraid that you will divorce Big Demon."

She stroked his black hair. "I admit that I haven't paid much attention to you recently, but it isn't because I will divorce Ceddy..."

"But Uncle Edwin..."

"He sowed discord deliberately. I will go to have it out with him! He scared you, and you even shed tears."

He moved his lips and looked away coolly and shyly. "I haven't shed tears."

She smiled and showed the glistening tear on her fingertip to him. "Then what is it?"

He was stuck for words.

“Terrence is a good guy. He saved me before...” She told Miles how Tracy humiliated her not long ago simply. Then she carried Miles up and put him on her lap. “But you played tricks on him today. He’s angry about that. I’m in a dilemma now.”

Miles paused and cheered up immediately. Then he pretended to be unwilling and said, “I will apologize to him and let him forgive me!”

Catelyn’s eyes lit up. She reached out her little finger to him. “It’s a deal?”

“OK.” He also reached out his short little finger and made a pinky promise with her. His eyes were shining. ‘As long as Mummy won’t abandon me, I will be happy.’ Cedrick didn’t expect Miles to apologize to him.

After all, when he was Miles’ father, Miles had never been obedient or pleased him. Now he was just an uncle who was even threatening in Miles’ eyes.

However, after Miles talked with Catelyn and returned, he was bashful for a while and then changed his attitude thoroughly...

Miles talked with Ollie for a while first.

After that, they all changed their attitude toward Cedrick.

But Ollie was unsuitable to please others. He went to pour a cup of fresh green tea quietly, held it with both hands and brought it to Cedrick...

Chapter 1326-“Uncle, have some tea,” Ollie said.

Cedrick pressed his lips tight and raised his eyebrows coldly. Sitting beside the stroller, he looked at Miles and Ollie.

“Are you trying to please me?”

Ollie stared at Cedrick without blinking. "We are not brats. Since we've done wrong things, we should apologize and be punished."

Raising his bloody finger, which had been pinched by the crab, Cedrick smiled coldly. "What have you added to the green tea? Mustard?"

Ollie pressed his lips.

He realized that what he had done was very absurd and rude. He looked up and uttered seriously, with light on his face. "We want to apologize to you sincerely. If you don't believe me, I can taste it."

Cedrick didn't reply.

Ollie took a sip of the green tea. The tea was fresh. One would feel himself staying in nature after drinking it.

Ollie handed the tea to Cedrick again and asked, "Would you like to drink it now?"

Cedrick twitched his mouth and queried sarcastically, "Your saliva is in the tea.

Do you think I will drink it?"

'Uncle is sooo annoying. But I must keep smiling,' Ollie thought.

"Uncle, you are so burly, and your muscles are very strong." As he didn't drink the tea, Miles got anxious. 'I've promised Mom to cool Uncle down.' Cedrick shot a glance at him. "Have you touched them?"

"There is no need to touch them. I see at a glance that they are strong." Miles ran toward Cedrick and flattered him. "Every time I think of my mighty uncle, a sense of security comes over me."

Cedrick, "..."

"Uncle, can you teach me how to exercise? I admire you very much."

"... Go away!" As Miles stood in front of Cedrick, Cedrick couldn't see his daughter.

Not discouraged, Miles reached out to rub his shoulders." You must be tired, right? Let me give you a massage! Not everyone is qualified to let me massage him. I only massage the one who has made great contributions to our family!"

Cedrick was speechless.

Miles rubbed him from his shoulders to his waist cheekily." Mommy told me that you had saved her and Daddy and guaranteed their happiness and safety. You are a very good person! I know I shouldn't have teased you in the morning. I'm sorry..."

'When did I save Catelyn and "Cedrick"?

'Miles is flattering me.

'He is hinting that I can't destroy the happiness of their family, is he?' At the thought of it, Cedrick sneered. "Since you want to please me, let me give you the opportunity."

Cedrick lay flat on his stomach on the sofa and pointed at his back. "Come on!

Massage my back."

Miles immediately took off his shoes, climbed onto the sofa and rubbed his back excitedly...

“Do you feel comfortable?”

“... Didn’t you eat a lot at breakfast? Harder.”

With his mouth pouted, Miles rubbed him harder with his hands. “How do you feel now?”

“Just so so.”

Curling his lip, Miles sat on Cedrick’s legs and thumped him as hard as he could. But he was a child after all, not as strong as Cedrick. After a while, his arms became sore.

The moment he hit Cedrick slower and less hard, Cedrick said in a picky voice, “Go away if you feel tired. Ask your brother to substitute for you.”

Miles was provoked.

Not wanting to be underestimated by Cedrick, Miles stood up and beat Cedrick’s back with his feet.

“It was me who had teased you. Let me massage you.”

Miles stood steadily with the help of the sofa and stepped on him hard.

When Cedrick turned his head and saw Miles stomping on his back, his face hardened. “Have you washed your feet? Why are you massaging my back with your feet? Your smelly feet dirty my clothes.”

Miles argued sullenly, “What are you talking about? My feet are fragrant.”

Chapter 1327-“Ollie, do you smell a stench?” Cedrick cast his eyes at Ollie.

When Ollie heard the ugly man call his name suddenly, he gawked at him because even though the ugly man deliberately lowered his somewhat rough voice, his expression and tone were exactly the same as Cedrick's.

Cedrick furrowed his brows. "Miles, I'm talking to you!"

"No," Miles answered quickly.

Miles gave a snort.

"Go away. If you are so weak, don't massage me."

Cedrick was about to sit up.

But Miles was still on his back. As Cedrick sat up, Miles fell backward.

Luckily, Cedrick made a prompt reaction and grabbed Miles's collar with one hand and his small arm with the other.

Miles was so nervous that he encircled Cedrick with his arms and legs like an octopus.

Cedrick almost couldn't breathe.

As Cedrick had grasped Miles, Catelyn breathed a sigh of relief.

Then she took a photo of Cedrick and Miles.

The photo was amusing, in which Miles hugged Cedrick very tight and Cedrick wore a dark face...

Hearing the click, Cedrick cast a cold look at Catelyn. "How dare you take an unflattering photo of me? Delete it!"

She quickly uploaded the photo to the cloud drive. "No. I'll keep it." Cedrick gritted his teeth. "You should keep photos in which I look handsome."

Catelyn immediately set a password for her phone's photo album and said seriously, "You always look handsome, and I see too much of it. Your ugly photo will leave a deep impression on me."

At Catelyn's words, Cedrick fell speechless.

The four of them hadn't been so happy for long. Puffy stared at them in the stroller.

Though she couldn't understand what they were talking about, it seemed to be very funny...

She grinned, exposing her teeth...

The grin curved her eyes...

At the sight of Puffy's grin, Catelyn couldn't help taking some photos of her and posting them on Facebook.

She didn't type any words, just sending Puffy's photos.

She created the Facebook account while she was pregnant in Fidelysia.

She shared delicious food and her thoughts on the account sometimes.

There were not many followers, about 1000.

After she sent Puffy's photo, some followers made comments right away...

"Such a cute baby!"

"Is the baby your daughter? You said you were pregnant. But now, it turns out that you have delivered your baby.

Congratulations! It is a very lovely baby!" "Have you noticed the dog next to the stroller rolling its eyes?"

Catelyn read those comments and replied one by one. She was smiling with joy.

With his jaw on his hand, Ollie was in deep thought. 'I suddenly feel... Mommy and Uncle get along so well. Mommy treats Uncle as my dad. So does Miles.' At the thought of it, Ollie had mixed emotions...

They stayed at Atherton Manor.

When Catelyn woke up near three o'clock in the afternoon, she answered a call from "Cedrick"

Chapter 1328-As soon as Catelyn answered his call, he questioned why she didn't go to the hospital to look after him.

Catelyn prevaricated by saying that she had to take care of their children and grandpa at home. Hearing it, "Cedrick" fell wordless and resigned himself to staying in the hospital alone.

Catelyn thought "Cedrick" would be in the hospital obediently, but she didn't expect him to cause trouble again.

The setting sun was on the horizon at dusk. The sky was shrouded in the fiery afterglow, magnificent and resplendent.

Edwin, who had been away for half a day, came back with a piece of news.

“Kitty, that guy is in the news!” Edwin handed the tablet to Catelyn.

She tapped it and watched a one-minute video. The video should have been recorded secretly by a reporter with a phone, which was not very clear.

The reporter, disguised as a doctor, asked “Cedrick” a few questions...

How was he injured? Why didn’t Catelyn show up after yesterday?

Last night, photos of “Cedrick” being seriously injured and rushed to a hospital were posted on the Internet. The public relations department was doing its best in vain to repair Cedrick’s image, as the video confirmed the negative news.

“Cedrick” said arrogantly in the video that he had just played with a woman and that it was not a big deal.

His words triggered a wave of heated discussion. People on social media started guessing what had happened at Mason Group’s celebration party and why “Cedrick” had been seriously beaten at the party.

Within just half an hour, countless so-called insiders emerged...

They gave various versions of the story on the Internet!

As many people at the celebration party knew that Tracy and “Cedrick” disappeared at the same time, hashtags emerged such as “Cedrick Cheating on His Wife” and “Cedrick Grabbed Trevor’s Wife”. It even caused the stock price of Mason Group to drop.

Watching the video and reading the news, Catelyn got shocked and angry.

“Didn’t I arrange for bodyguards and a caretaker to guard that guy? How did the reporters get in?” she queried.

“Someone must have planned it,” Edwin guessed. “I thought it was you trying to teach him a lesson.”

Catelyn became furious. “My husband’s image has been ruined by him. How could I allow him to meet reporters and say those silly words?”

Edwin cast his eyes at Cedrick.

“Not me.” Cedrick denied it at once, but his dark eyes shone with shrewdness.

“But I probably know who has planned it.”

After a brief silence, Catelyn and Edwin spoke at the same time, “...Trevor?”

“The news on the Internet is half-truth and half-false. So, there must be an insider behind the scenes. After all, the fake man has stolen Trevor’s wife.

Trevor is a ruthless man and won’t let him live in peace,” Cedrick analyzed.

“What the fake man has done is exposed. First, his image is destroyed, and Mr.

Denham must be annoyed with him. Second, Trevor can arouse others’ sympathy, whitewash himself and promote his company. He kills two birds with one stone. If I were him, I would do the same thing.”

Both Catelyn and Edwin agreed with Cedrick’s analysis.

Though the public relations department of Mason Group had been attempting to block the news, it spread in the end.

No one dared to affront “Cedrick” at this time except Trevor.

Catelyn felt sorry for Cedrick. “Honey, are you angry with me? I shouldn’t have let the fake man and Tracy be together. Now people are criticizing you...”

“The moment Ralph substituted for me, my image was ruined. My image is not important. We should target Mr. Denham.” Cedrick didn’t care about his image at all.

But hearing his words, Catelyn still felt distressed.

Chapter 1329-Cedrick, who used to be the noblest, richest, gentlest, and most eligible man in Sapphire City, now became a rude and violent adulterer.

However, the video was just a trigger. When the discussion became increasingly heated, Trevor showed up.

He appeared in a press conference where he implied that the news on the Internet was false. He and his wife led a happy life, and Cedrick didn’t cheat on Catelyn.

However, some of the reporters must have been bought off, as they kept asking questions about Tracy...

They asked why Trevor didn’t bring Tracy to clarify the truth and whether Trevor had been threatened by Cedrick as he looked pale.

Anyway, several reporters defamed Cedrick by asking questions.

As the questions became very sensitive, the press conference had to be ended.

After the press conference, instead of distancing “Cedrick” from the adultery, more and more people believed that he had been unfaithful to Catelyn and began rebuking him.

The caretaker at the hospital secretly told Catelyn on the phone that “Cedrick” went crazy!

He flung everything in the ward! He also said that he would kill Trevor. Now he was like a bomb, which was going to explode at any moment. The bodyguards who tried cooling him down were also beaten, and one of the bodyguard’s front teeth fell out!

Catelyn turned on the speaker so that both Cedrick and Edwin could hear her words.

Edwin howled with laughter. “...Where did Mr. Denham find such an idiot? The idiot is too funny.”

Although Cedrick didn’t care about his image, he felt annoyed when Edwin ridiculed his substitute. “Shut up!”

Catelyn uttered promptly, “Shall we continue with our original plan? In fact, it’s good for Trevor to expose the idiot’s dirt. When the two of them burst into a catfight madly, we don’t have to sow divisions between them.”

Cedrick nodded, with a murderous look flashing across his hardened face. He said coldly to Edwin, “Arrange some people to disguise as reporters and Trevor’s subordinates to teach that fake a lesson.”

Catelyn added, “Don’t show mercy to him. Teach him an unforgettable lesson...”

Edwin agreed and queried, “How are you going to explain it to Miles and Ollie?”

It was not that Catelyn had an affair with an ugly man, but that “Cedrick” was intimate with Trevor’s wife.

And his scandal was known to all...

Catelyn and Cedrick exchanged glances, feeling helpless.

Catelyn suddenly saw out of the corner of her eye a little shaking shadow at the door of the study.

“Who’s there?” She looked at the door subconsciously and asked.

Edwin ordered that servants mustn’t approach the study when he had a talk with others.

Edwin and Cedrick also cast their eyes at the door.

Edwin walked to open the door, only to find no one outside...

“I saw a shadow through the crack under the door! Really...” Catelyn uttered.

Edwin looked around, and there seemed to be a faint scent of milk in the air.

When he walked to the railing on the second floor, Kelly was asking a maid to clean the handrails.

“Kelly, who was at the door of the study just now? Didn’t I say that no one was allowed to approach the study?” Edwin yelled grimly.

Kelly was frightened by his yell. Pointing at the door of the living room, she answered with terror, “Just now... Master Ollie came up with some desserts. He said that you must be hungry after talking for the whole afternoon...”

❓ ❓

Chapter 1330-Catelyn was stunned.

'Ollie came just now.

'Did he hear our talk?' "Where is he now?" Catelyn asked.

Kelly answered, "Master Ollie stood at the door for a while and then ran downstairs suddenly. He should be in the garden now."

'Ollie has gone to the garden?

'He must have heard our conversation.

'While talking, we made it clear that the man in the hospital was not the real Cedrick.

'Ollie probably got angry when he heard it...' Catelyn analyzed.

The garden in Atherton Manor was very large.

Apart from the flowers and grass, there was a fountain surrounded by flower beds.

The swan statue stood in the fountain, spouting water. The fragrance of flowers permeated the air. Ollie and Miles were sitting face to face very seriously.

After Ollie said what he had heard, both of them fell silent.

It was extraordinarily quiet in the garden.

After quite a while, Miles broke the silence.

"So, Mommy and Uncle Atherton lied to us. The Big Demon who was reported to have cheated on Mommy is fake, and the ugly uncle is the real Big Demon, right?"

Ollie's eyelashes fluttered, and his eyes were big. Hearing Miles's words, he nodded. "I'm afraid so."

"...No wonder I find the ugly uncle so familiar!" With hindsight, Miles uttered.

Ollie felt upset and guilty.

He also thought that the ugly uncle talked and behaved in a way very similar to his dad's, especially when he was with Catelyn and Miles.

"Will Dad punish us later? We teased him in the morning anyway."

Although Cedrick doted on them, Miles and Ollie got frightened when he flew into a temper.

Miles's eyes were glistening with annoyance. "It's all Uncle Atherton's fault! He knew that the ugly uncle was Big Demon, but he deliberately incited us to fool him..."

Ollie pressed his lips and then suggested, "How about we pretend not to know the truth and still treat the ugly uncle as Mommy's cousin?"

Miles flicked the suspenders of his jeans and then nodded.

He was about to say something when a noise of a cracked stick sounded in the garden.

Ollie and Miles looked at each other and then walked to the path.

A man stood straight against the light, with one hand in his pocket.

A silver mask was on his face, hiding the horrific birthmark.

He gave a dignified and noble vibe.

“Come here,” Cedrick ordered in a low voice.

Remembering what he had done in the morning, Miles turned on his heel and took Ollie to run away.

At the sight of it, Cedrick felt wordless.

Well, there was no need to sound them out.

Since they ran away, it was obvious that they had known the truth and realized that the ugly uncle was their dad.

Miles and Ollie were still staying in their bedroom even when it was time for dinner.
