

Our Billion 1391

Chapter 1391-Puffy's skin was too tender to withstand this.

It was itchy and painful. She immediately cupped Cedrick's handsome face with her soft little hands. Like an angry rabbit, she pouted in a childish voice, "Yes, but you're so bad. You pricked me with your beard. Quickly blow my pain away..."

Cedrick was amused by Puffy and laughed out loud.

He didn't even care about the cleanliness and other things, puffed out his cheeks, and blew in her pink little face.

Puffy instantly smiled and grabbed peanuts from the plate with her small hands for Cedrick to eat.

Cedrick wanted to refuse, but...

He opened his mouth with a joyful face.

Puffy smiled even more happily and kissed his face a few times.

Cedrick's face became very dirty. He sat down at the table and put Puffy on his lap.

He picked up a clean napkin with his long fingers and wiped his cheeks gracefully while asking Puffy, "Did you listen to Mummy, Miles, and Ollie today?"

"Were you well-behaved?"

"Yes, yes, yes!" Puffy puffed out her chest proudly. "Miles and Ollie even took me out to walk Bailey..."

“Aaaaa.” Bailey heard his little master call him, jumped out of the kennel, and wagged its tail happily. He ran to Cedrick’s feet, trying to rub his head against his pants.

Cedrick lowered his eyes and glanced coldly at Bailey with disgust.

Bailey felt a chill down his spine. He shivered and ran to Edwin’s side.

Sure enough, Cedrick was not gentle at all.

Bailey was bought back by Edwin. Apart from Puffy and her brothers, Bailey was the closest to Edwin. Edwin pulled Bailey’s leash and casually threw him a bone.

Bailey opened his mouth wide and caught it accurately.

Kelly came and took Bailey outside. Bailey wailed and looked reluctantly at Puffy, but Puffy was looking forward to Cedrick feeding her chicken wings, so she didn’t pay attention to Bailey’s watery, pitiful eyes...

Cedrick used a clean knife to cut the chicken wings into small pieces and then fed them to Puffy.

Puffy’s cheeks were puffed out as she ate and said repeatedly, “Daddy, you’re the best.”

At the dinner table, there were few normal conversations. Most were Puffy and Cedrick’s childish conversations.

Edwin didn’t want to admit he was jealous.

“Puffy, come to me...”

Puffy looked at Edwin's charming face and then at her daddy, grabbed Cedrick's collar, and said firmly, "I want Daddy to feed me. Uncle Edwin, you can eat by yourself."

Edwin pretended to be sad and covered his heart. "Puffy, do you not love me anymore?"

"Yes!" Puffy said sweetly. "I love Uncle Edwin, Mummy, Miles, Ollie, Grandma, and Grandpa, but I love Daddy the most!"

Edwin was speechless.

He thought, 'You might as well not have said that last sentence.

'All of us are not as important as Cedrick to you.

'It's heartbreaking.' Seeing this, Old Madam Atherton smiled with amusement.

The next moment, she thought of something and frowned worriedly.

"Eddy, Cat is younger than you, but she already has children. When will you get married and let me hug your children before I die?"

Without waiting for Edwin to say anything, Sharon, who thought Old Madam Atherton was suggesting that she and Edwin should have children soon, immediately said shyly," Grandma, don't worry. Edwin and I will definitely work hard to fulfill your wish as soon as possible."

Chapter 1392-When Harry heard Sharon's mawkish words, a touch of disgust flashed across his face.

In recent years, Edwin often took Sharon with him, and Harry felt disgusted again and again!

He could bear her before, but today was different.

Harry was a little angry and thought, 'Tonight we all come back for a reunion dinner, but I still have to see this disgusting woman. Mom was not talking to her but to Edwin! If she does give birth to a child someday... No, she is not even as good as Joanne!' All of a sudden he lost the desire to eat.

Then he wondered, 'If I had agreed Joanne stayed with Eddy, would things have been so bad?' Soon Harry shook his head decisively to shake off this question. Now that he had let Joanne leave Eddy, he would not regret it.

He still thought that Joanne was not worthy of Eddy and that Sharon was even more unworthy!

On the other side, Joanne decided to stay in Sapphire City for a while.

Jack booked a hotel for her. When he was about to go back to his villa in Sapphire City, he heard Joanne's plan and laughed.

"What did you say? You are going to audition for the third leading female role in Story in Rosch? Did I hear that right?"

Joanne habitually wore a mask, which covered the annoyance on her face, "Is that funny?"

"Of course it's funny! Your face is disfigured, and you still want to act. It's really hard for a makeup artist to do your makeup!" Jack raised his eyebrows, folded his arms, and smiled playfully.

Joanne stared at his disdainful look and got a little angry, "At least I'm an actress who graduated from a professional college. Don't look down on me."

Jack snorted coldly, "You should know your face is disfigured, and an actress needs a pretty face. Do you have it?"

"If I fail the audition, I'll pack up and get out of here at once," Joanne raised her chin at him, trying to put on a confident look, and a trace of cunning flashed in her eyes, "but what if I get this role?"

"If you get this role, I'll call you Dad!" Jack was convinced that the director would not agree Joanne played that role as long as he was not blind.

He had heard that the director of Story in Rosch was Director Freddie. Director Freddie had always only hired people who were suitable for the roles.

At present, the official casting announcement of Story in Rosch had just been released and had attracted many actors, actresses, models, and newcomers to audition.

This third leading female role had a pleasant personality and a complete story, and it was very demanding and challenging for an actress.

It is said that there were many age-appropriate and famous actresses competing for this role because they all thought this role would make them more popular.

Just now, Joanne accidentally read the script in his car and decided to audition for this role. She had no advantage at all, and it was strange if she passed the audition.

"Deal. If I succeed, don't take back your words!" After saying that, Joanne asked Jack to leave. Then she continued to read the script to know this role well.

After reading the whole script, Joanne sat on the balcony quietly.

She touched her face that had been grafted skin countless times.

She said to herself, 'No one can see my original face, so I can forget the past and move on with this face. Anyway, Edwin is married, and there is no reason for the Atherton family to hunt me down now. Cat also comes back. I don't want to leave her and my hometown again and go to Mourpa. I'm not willing to leave like this.' ☹

Chapter 1393-Joanne had done nothing wrong, but she had to live in hiding while the people who wanted to kill her were living a happy life!

Joanne felt so indignant that she wouldn't leave Sapphire City...

As long as Tail was safe in Mourpa, she had nothing to fear.

Jack drove Joanne to the audition for Story in Rosch.

Seeing that Joanne was wearing a translucent veil instead of the mask, he teased, "You finally realized that wearing a mask wasn't a good choice!"

Joanne was focusing on the script. She responded, "It doesn't matter. I'm a good actress anyway."

"I can see you're a stubborn woman! But since you're Patrick's friend, I won't mock you too much if you don't pass the audition."

Joanne rolled her eyes at him. She didn't argue with him.

Although Jack was the boss of an entertainment company, when he was reported in the news, he never allowed the media to expose his face, so people wouldn't recognize him. When he appeared on the audition site, people thought he was also here to audition.

A lot of people were lining up outside the audition hall. Most of them were actresses who came to cast for the third leading female role. And some of them were popular actresses.

Joanne was number 28. While the other actresses were auditioning, she studied the script. Usually, auditioners didn't get the script. They only got the part of the script they were auditioning for. But Joanne got the script because of Jack.

It was a legendary story.

Shirly, the third leading female character, was both evil and kind in nature.

She was the daughter of the Lord of Ice Land, but she had a miserable childhood.

When she was young, she took pleasure in torturing the prisoners. Although she seemed vicious, she was good at heart. Sometimes she would let the prisoners go. She did everything as she pleased. She never followed the rules.

Later, the hero, Jaden, accidentally got into Ice Land's prison.

He looked like a brutal man. Shirly kept torturing him at first. Eventually, when the enemies invaded Ice Land, the hero saved her life.

The two spent the night together in a cold cave, and Shirly fell in love with him ever since.

When Shirly's father led his army to find the two, Shirly was taking care of Jaden and she told her father she wanted to marry Jaden.

This was a major turning point in Shirly's changing feelings for Jaden, and it tested the actress' acting skills.

Joanne imagined the scene in her mind and practiced her part. It was now no.

22 to start the audition and Joanne went to the bathroom.

On her way back to the audition hall, she saw the assistant director walking Sharon out and there was a polite smile on the director's face.

"Director, I'm definitely going to get the part of Shirly, right? Director Freddie won't have a problem with that, will he?" Sharon asked the assistant director arrogantly.

The assistant director was a slightly chubby middle-aged man. He nodded repeatedly and smiled. "I think you'll get the part. Director Freddie isn't interested in any of the actresses who auditioned today, except you. Ms. Collins, don't worry."

"OK. I'll be waiting to hear from you!" Sharon said excitedly.

Sharon had wanted to play the female lead in the show, but Edwin turned her down.

'Edwin wouldn't let me be the female lead, but I can still take the third leading female part, right?' Story in Rosch used to be a popular novel, and the members of the cast were all excellent. Sharon believed the show would be a hit.

If she got the part of the third leading female, she intended to get several writers on board and have them write more parts for her. Then she would be equal to the female lead.

When the show was in publicity, she wouldn't be ashamed of being the third lead.

Just then, Sharon saw Joanne walking towards her. Even though Joanne was wearing a veil, Sharon recognized her!

'That's the strange woman who talked to Puffy the other day! She's the reason I lost the leading role!'

Chapter 1394-Why is she here? This place is only for auditions today. Is she also here for the audition?' When the idea occurred to Sharon, she immediately called out to Joanne.

"Stop there!"

Joanne was surprised that she could run into Sharon here. 'Why do I keep running into her?

'The assistant director just said that the third leading female role will definitely belong to Sharon, didn't he? But there are still a few people waiting for the audition.

'Are they cheating?' "What's up?" Joanne looked at Sharon indifferently.

Sharon was not happy with the indifferent look on Joanne's face.

"I remember you. You're the woman who talked to Puffy the other day. Don't tell me you're here for the audition! Look at you! You don't look like an actress at all!

Director, why did you allow such an ugly woman to audition?"

Joanne hadn't auditioned, so the assistant director didn't know her yet.

But he noticed Joanne's veil was exquisite.

In the novel, Shirley had a miserable childhood. She had a scar on her face, and she had a solitary weird temper... She wore a mask all the time.

It was obvious that Joanne had come to audition for the role of Shirley.

'This girl is a good choice for the role of Shirley, but Sharon wants it, too. Sharon has Mr. Atherton behind her back!' "Story in Rosch is our dedicated work. We wouldn't allow any lamb actress in the show. Don't worry, the role of Shirley is definitely yours. No one else has a chance!" The assistant director hurriedly explained to Sharon with a smile.

"If it has been decided, why are they still here auditioning? Send them away!"

Sharon hissed.

The assistant director frowned in embarrassment. "But we need to finish the process to convince Director Freddie..."

“What process? Do you still want to work in this industry? If you don’t want to, I’ll talk to my husband. Then you can go home!”

“Ms. Collins, don’t be mad. I’ll send them right away.” The assistant director hurriedly said, his face pale.

‘Although Mr. Atherton doesn’t get involved in show business a lot, the Atherton family is a powerful family. If I offend Sharon and Mr. Atherton... I guess my career will be finished...’ “Miss, the audition is over. You can go home now.” The assistant director said coldly to Joanne.

Joanne had learned the whole story, and she was angry.

‘Edwin is so stupid that he brought such a woman home!’ “Director Freddie didn’t announce that the audition was over. How can you kick me out? Ms. Collins, what are you afraid of?”

Sharon sneered, “Are you kidding me? My husband is Edwin Atherton. Why am I afraid of you?”

“You’re just afraid of me. If I get that part, you will be humiliated.”

Sharon glanced at Joanne with a fierce stare.

She noticed a shallow scar on Joanne’s wrist. She guessed Joanne must have had an accident.

She burst out laughing.

“You’re funny. What makes you think you’ll get the part?”

“Why shouldn’t I? You’re no better than me.” Joanne retorted calmly.

Sharon was enraged. She gasped in exasperation...

The assistant director couldn't help but laugh. Immediately, Sharon exploded with rage...

Chapter 1395-She let me lose the chance to be the heroine. How dare she humiliate me?' "Bitch, do you have a death wish?"

Sharon stamped her foot in anger and was about to make a dive for Joanne...

"Stop! What are you doing?"

Suddenly, Sharon heard a deep and low male voice from behind.

Sharon turned around and saw that it was the director, Eli. She changed her expression immediately.

She wasn't as arrogant as just now. She became meek, walked towards Eli, pointed at Joanne and distorted facts.

"Director Freddie, I'm sorry. I failed to suppress my anger. The woman's face was disfigured, but she still came here to take part in your audition. Obviously, she didn't take your new TV series seriously, so I criticized her for you.

Unexpectedly, she humiliated me in a fit of rage..."

Eli was one of the youngest and most talented directors in Sapphire City. He won the best director award with his first TV series. Also, he was an outstanding young man of the Freddie family. Thus, he was popular in Sapphire City's showbiz.

He had chosen an actress to be the heroine of the new TV series, but Sharon interfered in it and wanted to be the heroine.

For the sake of the Atherton family, he could only let her be the heroine resignedly.

Luckily, she suddenly said that she quit!

When he heard that she would like to be the third leading actress, he respected her will very much and invited her to the audition warmly. Her acting skill was notorious in showbiz. If it weren't for the sake of the Atherton family, he wouldn't give her any chance to join his TV series.

But now she secretly chased away the actress who came here to have the audition...

She was burning his bridges!

"Ms. Collins, I don't know that you're so concerned about me. Do you always like to have a finger in every pie?"

Sharon didn't hear his last words clearly and thought that he had praised her.

She said happily, "After all, I'm the third leading actress. Of course, I need to think more for the TV series."

He was stuck for words.

Did he praise her? He said so to mock her officiousness!

"You're the third leading actress? Why don't I know it?"

Joanne said with a smile, "Director Freddie, I heard it clearly. The assistant director said that you were unsatisfied with all the actresses who had the audition, so you chose Ms. Collins in private."

Eli pulled a long face. Although he was just thirty years old, his expression was as solemn as a fifty-year-old man's.

"I haven't auditioned all actresses yet. Why have you decided on the third leading actress?"

Sharon was reluctant to give up and rolled her eyes at Joanne. "Director Freddie, I have seen the rest actresses.

They're all newcomers. They won't be more suitable than me. If "Not necessarily." He snorted and glanced at Joanne. Then he was attracted by Joanne's veil. His eyes lit up. He pointed at her and said, "At least, she's more diligent than you. She even has prepared the prop."

'How can he compare me with the ugly woman who even doesn't have the guts to show her face?' Sharon was furious and wanted to scold Joanne again, but Eli asked Joanne, "Lady, do you come here to have the audition for the role of Shirley?"

"Yes, but the assistant director said that the audition was over..."

Eli's face clouded over. He became angry.

The assistant director panicked. He forced a smile and said slightly, "It's all my fault. Director Freddie, I'm sorry that I misunderstood your meaning. I thought that the third leading actress would be Ms. Collins. Now that she isn't the third leading actress, need we restart the audition?"

Eli said with an ashen face, "Then why do you still stand here? Why don't you invite this lady to the audition hall?"

The assistant director had cooperated with him since his last TV series, so he was very tolerant towards the assistant director.

However, his tolerance became connivance.

The assistant director felt wronged.

He was in a dilemma between Sharon and Eli.

The assistant director made up his mind, ignored Sharon's malicious gaze and politely invited Joanne to the audition hall...

Jack had waited for Joanne to return from the restroom for a while, but she didn't show up. He felt curious and went to look for her...

When Jack arrived, he saw Eli and the assistant director walking into the audition hall with Joanne.

Jack stood beside the door casually...

In the next second, Eli said to Joanne tonelessly, "Let's start.

Chapter 1396-n the audition hall, there were many props and an actor lying on the floor as part of the performance, so that Jack could find the perfect Shirley.

In the story, Shirley had scars on her face, so she always wore a veil. Only her eyes could reveal her inner feelings.

Joanne imagined Shirley falling off a cliff with the man she loved. She took a deep breath. When she opened her eyes, her eyes became grim.

She performed the act of cupping some water in her hands and carefully walked over to Jaden.

Jaden was lying on the ground, in a coma.

She slowly loosed her hand and water dripped from her fingers and onto Jaden's lips.

Soon, Jaden woke up.

Seeing Jaden awake, Shirley tensed up, with surprise, amazement, a touch of relief, and a rare touch of tenderness in her amber eyes.

It was as if a million pasts had flashed through her eyes. Then she spoke...

Her voice was cold and trembling...

"Why did you save me?"

Jaden sat up from the ground, his face indifferent, "It's just a favor."

Shirly narrowed her eyes. She suddenly reached out her slender finger and lifted Jaden's jaw.

"I owe you my life. How about you marrying me? I'll take care of you for the rest of your life!"

Her tone was firm and condescending. There was a hint of playfulness in her tone, as if she was joking, but she also sounded serious. Even though Jaden couldn't see her face at the moment, he could imagine her lips curling up with a wicked smile.

Jaden stared straight into her tempting eyes. Raging emotions in their eyes...

The scene was nerve-wracking...

In the next instant, Jaden jumped up quickly. He pushed Shirley's wrist away, but he accidentally hit his wound, so instead of pushing Shirley away, he accidentally ripped off Shirley's veil.

The studio was instantly silent.

Both the assistant director and Eli were stunned.

Jack stumbled and hit his head on the door.

What? Isn't Joanne disfigured? Who is this beautiful woman? I Joanne had no scars on her face, and there were few actresses as beautiful as she was.

To go along with Jaden's acting, Shirley leaned over and silently locked her eyes with him while her veil slipped off.

The wicked smile at the corner of her mouth was extremely charming...

Before Shirley's next line, Eli exclaimed with excitement, "Shirly, you're the Shirley I'm looking for! Miss, what's your name, please?"

Joanne wrapped up her performance and replied, "My name is Joanna Walters."

"I've never heard of you before. Did you just graduate from college?"

Joanne touched her own face. She wondered if her face had recovered so profoundly.

Eli finally found Joanne's file in the pile of papers. He saw her age on the file, and then he glanced at her. His mouth dropped open in shock. He couldn't believe Joanne was 26 years old.

She looked so young. He would have believed it if she had told him she was in her sophomore year.

"Your age is fine. You're Shirley! Read the story. Shirley's a good fighter. We'll let you know in advance when your episode starts shooting. We will arrange a fighting coach for you." Eli said excitedly.

Compared to the previous auditions of the actresses, Joanne's performance was terrific!

She was so much better than Sharon...

Chapter 1397-f he didn't choose her, he must be out of his mind.

Joanne nodded.

'Thank you, Eli. I'll read it carefully.'

From the first time she read the script, she was impressed by Shirley.

Shirley met a tragic ending because she killed the second female lead by mistake. In the end, she was stabbed to death by the hero.

But for Shirley, she had wasted her life and used to insensitive, so it was her best destiny to die in the hands of her beloved.

Before the audition, Joanne was worried about not being emotional enough...

But fortunately, she played well and passed the audition!

Not until Joanne and Eli shook hands and confirmed the cooperation did Sharon realize that the ugly woman she had been humiliating was an unrivaled beauty!

Not only was she pretty, but she also looked very young...

If Joanne really played the third leading female role, how could there be a place for her in the entertainment industry?

Before that happened, she must cut off Joanne's acting life!

“Wait a moment, Eli. Did you just give such a newcomer the role of Shirley?” Eli found his desired actress and was in a good mood, so he was still polite to Sharon, “Although she is a newcomer, her acting skills are precise. And she is beautiful, intelligent, and young, which is very consistent with the original setting of Shirley. She also graduated from a cinema college. I believe she is qualified to fill that role.”

Sharon glared at Joanne viciously, as if she wanted to cut her to pieces.

“No way! You can’t give the role to this woman!”

Eli looked a little angry.

“Can’t I decide my TV series? Don’t go too far, Ms. Collins.”

Sharon still went too far and threatened, “Eli, think about my identity. I’ve said that you can’t give this role to her. If you want to keep this TV series, then just listen to me! Or we’ll split up! That’s all. Think about it carefully.” After saying that, Sharon left arrogantly with her assistant.

Jack hadn’t even had time to speak.

He heard that Edwin married Sharon a few years ago, and then gradually withdrew from the public eye...

He even thought she was so noble that she could bring the playboy’s mind back.

However, it turned out to be such a shrew!

It seemed that the outside world had overrated Edwin.

He must have been blind to marry Sharon.

Jack felt insulted to be compared with him by the media!

“Eli, Ms. Collins said that the TV series will be aborted...”

Eli was exasperated by Sharon. He comforted Joanne, “It’s me that has the right to make decisions about my TV series. She will spoil my TV series if she plays the third leading female role. It’s even better to be aborted than to get a bad reputation after the release! But don’t worry, that’s the worst arrangement.

Sharon is indeed wealthy and powerful, so what? I’m also not someone to be messed with! You just go back and wait for my word.”

Joanne didn’t know much about the power behind Eli. But hearing Eli say so, she didn’t say anything anymore.

Eli and the assistant director stared at Joanne’s back in an angry mood!

Sharon simply pushed them too far!

“Are you really going to keep going against Ms. Collins, Eli?” The assistant director was worried.

Eli replied with a snort, “So what? Don’t I have the courage?” “No, no, no.” The assistant director immediately shook his head, “I mean that Ms. Collins is notoriously domineering and vengeful. Although you offended her today, you come from the Freddie family. So it’s not a big deal. But things will be different for Ms. Walters. She is just a newcomer and a nobody. If she was retaliated against by Ms. Collins... Don’t forget that two days ago, an actress offended Ms. Collins, then she was disfigured by Ms. Collins throwing acid.”

Chapter 1398-Eli’s eyelids suddenly twitched.

“I had a hard time finding the perfect Shirley. I can’t let her ruin this role!”

The assistant director gave Eli advice, "How about you visit Mr. Atherton? No matter how insolent Ms. Collins is, the person she relies on is Mr. Atherton."

Eli lowered his eyes and thought quietly.

A few seconds later, Eli edited the footage from today's audition and hurried to the Atherton Group.

It was not the first time that Edwin had been bored with Sharon's matters, but it was definitely the first time that someone came to his office because of Sharon.

Eli gave Edwin a flash drive containing the audition videos of Sharon and Joanna.

"Mr. Atherton, I know you love your wife very much and you have the power to let your wife play any role, but Ms. Collins is really not suitable for this role. You can watch Joanna's performance. She can bring people into the play in a second. She looks obedient and sensible. She is very suitable for this role...

"Besides, the Atherton Group has invested in Story in Rosch. If we use a newcomer, with low pay and easy training, the profits will definitely double in the future.

"Mr. Atherton, please do me a favor. Please let Ms. Collins act in other plays."

Edwin looked lazy, but when he heard the word "Joanna," his calm face slowly had some emotions.

"Joanna?" He uttered this name playfully and thought, 'Joanna... Joanne...

Joanne...' "Yes! You can see from the audition videos that an actress and a star are really different."

Edwin originally intended to ask Lucas to deal with this matter, but he inexplicably took over the flash drive.

He saw a video named “Joanna’s audition for Shirly” and clicked the play button.

The warm setting sun shone in from the floor-to-ceiling window behind him, and the huge office was very quiet except for the sound of Joanna’s audition video...

At the moment of seeing Joanna’s veil fall, Edwin sat upright.

Joanna’s face was strange to him, but it made him have a wonderful feeling.

His heart, which had been normal for a long time, suddenly beat violently.

He covered his chest with one hand and gazed at Joanna on the screen deeply.

“Give me her information!” When Edwin looked up at Eli again, his eyes were red.

Eli was startled and took a step back.

For the first time, he saw Edwin, who had always been calm, showed such an anxious expression.

On the other side, Jack took Joanne’s hand and went straight to the parking lot.

He kept glimpsing at Joanne out of the corner of his eye.

He couldn’t help thinking, ‘She is so beautiful now. Patrick didn’t tell me the truth!’ For a long time, Jack knew that Joanne’s face was disfigured and that she was doing skin grafting and repair surgery. Every time he saw Joanne, her face was covered by a mask. He thought that her face was so ruined that it would scare people.

He didn’t expect that her face under the mask would be so beautiful!

If Patrick wasn't his sister's boyfriend, he would suspect that Patrick wanted to pursue Joanne

No data found.

Chapter 1400-At her words, Edwin sneered. "What do you want to do?" "Ask the crew to punish Joanna. Drive her out of the showbiz and require her to apologize to me.

Then I won't mind what she has done..."

Bang!

Before Sharon finished speaking, there was a sudden explosion over the phone, immediately followed by a piercing electric sound...

The sound was so sharp that Sharon felt as if her eardrum had been pierced.

With a shake of her hand, the phone fell onto the ground, and she lost contact with Edwin.

After Jack drove Joanne to the hotel, he was distracted in thought. When he turned around his car, he bumped into Edwin's car!

The airbag deployed, and the window glass was broken. The shards scratched Jack's head, and his face was covered with blood.

The security guard at the entrance of the hotel became flustered when he saw this scene.

"Mr. Brown? Are you okay? Don't scare me..."

'If Mr. Brown is seriously injured, our hotel will get into big trouble,' the security guard thought.

At this moment, Edwin got out of the car.

When the cars crashed, Edwin hit the windshield, but luckily, only his forehead got slightly bruised.

When he left the car, he saw the security guard pulling Jack out, whose face was bloody.

Perhaps the door lock was stuck as the car was damaged in the crash. The security guard failed to take Jack out of the car after a long and laborious try...

The moment the security guard found Edwin was the other person involved in the car accident, his legs suddenly turned into jelly. 'Why are these big shots involved in the car accident today?' "Mr. Atherton, please help me..." the security guard implored Edwin. "Mr. Brown is seriously injured. If we don't take him to a hospital as soon as possible, he might die!"

Edwin remembered that Jack bumped into his car when he turned around after driving Joanna to the hotel.

It was said that Jack was Edwin's second self because Jack was also young and playful, who hooked up with beautiful female stars and models like Edwin before.

The faint dark circles under Jack's eye sockets seemed to indicate that he had too much sex.

nothing,' Edwin thought.

"Well, prepare a car for me. I'll take him to the hospital." Edwin said to the security guard.

The security guard was very grateful and hurried to the road ahead to stop a taxi.

Edwin smashed the car window, unlocked the car from the inside, and dragged Jack out of the driver's seat.

As Edwin pulled Jack hard, Jack's head hit the door...

But Edwin didn't care about it. After he carried Jack onto his shoulder, he turned around and moved toward the taxi.

Since Jack's stomach was against Edwin's shoulder and his head had been hit several times, his stomach churned, and he felt nauseous. When Edwin threw him into the taxi, he almost vomited and subconsciously covered his mouth.

The security guard was very worried, so he pleaded with Edwin to go with him.

As Edwin also needed to go to the hospital for treatment, he agreed.

When the taxi started, Edwin took out Jack's phone and opened it.

Then he saw five missed calls pop up in one go...

Judging by the names, all the calls were from women.

Edwin became more disdainful of Jack.

'Jack is a real playboy. How can he compare with me?

'When he turned around, he could even hit himself and got himself seriously injured. Maybe he has been weak from playing with women.' Edwin told Jack's assistant about his injury. When Edwin was about to lock the phone screen, he suddenly saw a name, Joanna, in the address book, and then he rubbed his chin thoughtfully.
