

Our Billion 1481

Chapter 1481-Edwin opened his eyes and saw Joanne shedding tears and glaring at him in his arms.

He felt that they had become an unhappy couple.

Suddenly, he felt disappointed. His anger and passion all disappeared.

“You can leave now.” He let go of her.

She got out of the car and ran away without a backward glance as if he was a beast.

He bore his disappointment and clenched his fists tightly. However, when he saw her hobbling, his scarlet eyes welled up with worries.

‘Her foot hasn’t recovered yet. Why does she go out?’ In the car, Lucas rolled down the partition, cleared his throat, and turned to look at Edwin. “Mr. Atherton, is it OK to let Mrs. Atherton leave alone?”

“Follow her.” Edwin was worried about Joanne.

Lucas didn’t know Edwin’s thoughts. Lucas got the car started and followed Joanne at a distance.

Joanne called Patrick’s driver.

Joanne secretly at a distance.

Edwin didn’t withdraw his gaze until Joanne walked into the villa.

“Mr. Atherton, if you still have feelings for Mrs. Atherton, shall I withdraw the article that is directed at Patrick and the kid influencer?”

Edwin said coldly, “Now that Patrick chooses to let his daughter be an influencer at such a tender age to earn money, his daughter deserves to suffer from the tumult of public opinions.” Then Edwin thought of Joanne’s attitude and said to Lucas, “Please call the lawyer to see me.”

her bedroom on the second floor and felt annoyed by the rumors and verbal battles about Tail online.

Joanne’s eyes were red. It seemed that she had cried.

Besides, a car was following her at a distance.

anger!

‘The damn Edwin! Why does he follow Joanne?’ Joanne shook her head.

dare he follow you to come back after he bullied Tail and you? I will ask the doorkeeper to turn him away with the besom!”

Joanne felt confused. “Follow me?”

know that?”

Joanne was at a loss. She wasn’t as confident as she used to be. She said in a timid voice, “I... I slapped his face. Does he come here to get even with me? I’m screwed. I haven’t dealt with the matter of Tail yet. I should have suppressed my sign. “I didn’t know that you were so brave!”

Chapter 1482-Joanne became more terrified. She rushed in to avoid Edwin in case he got irritated if he saw her.

However, after a while, Edwin didn't come in.

Besides, before Edwin left in the morning, he told Mrs. Brown what had happened and that he would move to the hotel.

but she had no time to think about it. More importantly, she needed to stop the verbal battle online that was directed at Patrick and Tail to minimize the influence on Tail.

any reports on Tail.

However, it wasn't enough because Edwin kept releasing news.

The longer the verbal battle lasted, the worse Tail's reputation would be.

Joanne was burning with anxiety, so she called Catelyn and Miles, who were in Sapphire City.

Joanne was afraid that those kids might misunderstand again and thus didn't tell and Patrick.

Because of the time difference, Sapphire City was at dawn.

Miles went to bed after he taught Tail how to write the post last night, so he didn't know that the "child trafficker" who was mocked online was his uncle, Edwin.

When Miles got to know it, Catelyn pulled him by the ear and made him stand in the corner of the room.

"Originally, I was reluctant to bother you, but now Edwin thinks that it was Patrick who incited Tail to do so. As you know, Edwin has had grudges against Patrick. They will turn Mourpa's journalism upside down. Cat, I have no other choice but to ask for help from you."

Catelyn glared at Miles who stood upright and felt extremely embarrassed.

"I didn't expect the naughty Miles to have made such big trouble. It's my responsibility."

'Kids are all the apples of their parents' eyes. Now there are so many negative comments about Tail online. Tail's parents must be worried. If it were Puffy who had been incited by someone, I would even have the impulse to kill the person.' "It's not all Miles' fault. It's sweet that he wants to help Tail."

"There is no need for you to find an excuse for Miles. Ced and I have paid more attention to Puffy these years. We thought that Miles and Ollie had grown up and neglected to teach them. Thus, they make trouble from time to time.

Don't worry. I will persuade Edwin to withdraw the charge."

The more Catelyn said, the angrier she became. However, she was extremely gentle to Joanne.

Miles trembled involuntarily.

Joanne stammered, "I will wait for the good news from you."

After Catelyn hung up, she threw the phone on the couch and stared at Miles with a cold gaze.

"Do you feel guilty now and don't have the guts to look at my eyes? Raise your head!"

Catelyn hadn't said to Miles with such a cold voice for a long time. Miles raised and smiled brightly to please her," Mummy, I didn't know that the 'child trafficker' was Uncle Edwin. After I posted, I asked Tail to attach a photo of the 'child trafficker' ..."

Catelyn sneered horribly and gave Miles the shivers.

Not far away, Ollie was playing LEGO with Puffy. Many blocks were scattered on the ground.

Catelyn said to Kelly, "Kelly, please take Ollie and Puffy somewhere else."

Kelly nodded and took them away.

Puffy grabbed Ollie's hand tightly and glanced worriedly at Catelyn and Miles.

Chapter 1483-"It seems that Miles has angered Mummy. Mummy even has prepared the feather duster." Ollie turned Puffy's head around in case she was terrified when she saw Miles being criticized and beaten by Catelyn.

"Miles needs to be responsible for his mistake. Let's go to the garden. Daddy recently planted some precious flowers for Mummy. The colors are beautiful.

You will like them..."

"Great!" Puffy nodded excitedly, but she was still worried about Miles. "What if Mummy spans Miles?"

Ollie glanced at Miles who wore an ingratiating smile. Then Ollie arched his eyebrows. "We can prepare decongestants for Miles."

"You're right."

Puffy was the kindest and would be much likely to intercede with Catelyn for Miles, but she was taken away by Ollie.

Miles winked at Ollie and Puffy for help, but they walked away immediately.

Miles gritted his teeth in anger. "They're traitors!"

Catelyn casually threw a cushion in front of Miles and picked up a feather duster.

“Face down.”

Instantly, Miles keeled on the cushion. He covered his ears with both hands and became an obedient and cute little kid immediately. He imitated Puffy’s gaze and looked at Joanne with watery and miserable eyes.

“Mummy, I’m wrong! I shouldn’t have pursued Tail and incited her to post to slander Uncle Edwin. I won’t do that again.”

Catelyn had three kids and set up a construction company, so she had a lot of things to deal with at home and at the company. Although she didn’t feel up to educating the kids, she became stricter. On the contrary, Cedrick, who had been strict with Miles and Ollie all the time, became tolerant towards them and paid all his attention to Puffy.

Catelyn picked up the feather duster and hit the coffee table hard.

“You admit your mistake fast. Tail is only three years old. How dare you ask her to be your girlfriend?”

‘I thought that it was inappropriate for kids to have puppy love when they were in primary school, but...

Miles has coaxed a three-year-old girl to be his girlfriend!

Miles must inherit it from Ced!’ Miles lowered his head and glanced at Catelyn secretly. He compressed his lips and said domineeringly, “I started to like her when I saw her doing the live stream for the first time. No matter how old she is, I would like to play with her.

Also, Nana likes her very much. The content of our chatting in private is pure...”

“Do you mean that you did nothing wrong when you misled a three-year-old girl?” Catelyn was furious and hit Miles’ bottom with the feather duster.

He didn’t think that he was wrong to have puppy love with a three-year-old girl at all!

For an instant, Miles stood up and ran around the house.

“Mummy, I’m eight years old! If you hit my bottom and it’s swollen, how can I face my classmates tomorrow? I will feel embarrassed. Let’s talk first...”

Miles deftly jumped up and down to avoid Catelyn. Finally, he jumped to the TV console and pressed himself flat against the wall.

“Get down!” Catelyn pointed at Miles, put one hand on her hip, and breathed heavily. “Because of you, Edwin insists on getting even with Tail and her parents. If you don’t deal with it perfectly, I will beat you up!”

She paused and added. “Hand in your Daddy’s credit card tomorrow. I will stop giving you pocket money. Besides, all your property will be expropriated. I won’t return them to you until the little girl’s parents forgive you...”

When Miles heard that his pocket money would be expropriated, he lost his cool and frowned.

Chapter 1484-Miles could accept any punishment, including losing face if he had to, except for giving his dad’s credit card back.

He had promised Tail that he would give her birthday gifts...

Catelyn chased after Miles for a while and became exhausted. Only then did it become quiet in the hall gradually.

Catelyn had run out of her strength. She sat on the couch and panted.

A servant served them a large glass of fruit juice and a small one.

Noticing that Catelyn wasn't as angry as before, Miles jumped down the TV console and walked in front of Catelyn to apologize sincerely.

"Mummy, I will persuade Uncle Edwin to let go of Tail and her parents. Please don't withhold my pocket money."

"If I go out without money, others will mock that our family has gone bankrupt..."

"Mummy, Mummy..."

Miles tugged at Catelyn's clothes. However, no matter how he acted cute, Catelyn wasn't swayed by him. She put down the glass seriously.

"You will grow up. I won't be able to take care of you forever. I know that you're kind, though you look naughty on the surface. This time, you have gotten Tail and her parents into trouble. What's worse, she has been scolded by people online at such a tender age because of you. If you don't take the punishment for her, you're irresponsible. Do you understand?"

Miles knew that he had no other choice but to call Edwin to beg forgiveness.

After Edwin heard the whole story, he didn't believe it at all. He thought that Joanne played tricks and let Miles be the scapegoat.

Then Miles showed his tip records and call records to Edwin.

Edwin was stuck for words.

'Are the kids so precocious now?

'No wonder Miles says that he lacks money every day. His tips for the little influencer are tens of millions of dollars!' In the video call, Miles shed tears.

“Uncle Edwin, as long as you’re willing to forgive me, I can do anything for you.”

Lucas stood aside and couldn’t help laughing. At the same time, he felt sorry for Tail. “It turns out that it’s a misunderstanding indeed...”

Edwin stared at Miles in a meaningful gaze and warned, “If you have the guts to lie to me...”

Miles looked at Edwin with watery eyes and said in a pitiful voice, “If I lie to you, I’m a pig. Tail knows nothing about that. It’s all my fault. Uncle Edwin, please forgive me. After you return from Mourpa, I will give you a massage...”

Hearing that Miles acted cute, Edwin trembled. “Don’t be like that!”

“Then will you forgive me?”

Edwin said coldly, “I need some time to think about it. Little brat, you even have the guts to play tricks on me!”

When Edwin fell silent, Catelyn showed up on the phone screen.

She took Miles’ phone and waved at Edwin.

“Edwin, Joanne has had a hard life over the past four years. Patrick and the Brown family have helped her a lot. Now you know the truth. It isn’t their fault.

Do you have the heart to see a three-year-old girl’s reputation being ruined?

When she grows up, what will people say about her?”

Edwin said with a poker face, “Has Joanne asked for help from you?”

Catelyn said in disagreement, "It's Miles' fault. You have blamed Tail unjustly, so you can't say that Joanne asks for help from me."

"Alright, I will think about it." Edwin hung up with a long face. Then he asked Lucas, "Do I look fierce and evil?"

'You're a friendly-looking villain!' Lucas thought so in his heart but said, "Mr. Atherton, you look handsome and gentle."

Edwin said angrily, "Then why does the little influencer call me 'child trafficker' all the time?"

Lucas swallowed saliva, plucked up the courage, and said, "Mr. Atherton, I have new findings." "What is it?"

Chapter 1485-remained chaste all the time. The little influencer is three years old. At that time, didn't have any parturition records that year."

Lucas was afraid that he didn't explain it clearly and added." Thus, Tail isn't Edwin kept silent for three seconds. Suddenly, he stood up from the couch.

"Why didn't you tell me about it earlier?"

"I... I have just gotten the news and reported it to you immediately." Lucas' face turned red.

Edwin clenched his fists tightly and looked at Lucas as if Lucas was a dead man.

Edwin's gaze made Lucas' hair stand on end. Lucas explained anxiously, "When we lived in the Brown family's villa, I seized the chance and squared a servant.

"The servant said that Mrs. Brown saved Mrs. Atherton in the sea four years ago. At that time, Mrs. Atherton was covered in bumps and bruises. Tail was also born at that time.

“As for Patrick, he went to Mourpa several months later after Mrs. Brown saved Mrs. Atherton. No one knew why Mrs. Atherton fell into the sea. The inside information is confidential. The servant has worked in the Brown family for many years, but he didn’t know much about the incident.”

Lucas concluded. “Mrs. Atherton, that little influencer is Mrs. Atherton’s daughter.”

‘Joanne’s daughter?!’ Edwin clenched his fists tightly, and his eyes turned scarlet immediately.

No wonder Joanne protects Tail so desperately that Joanne even gives up her bottom line.’ Edwin asked in a tense and trembling voice, “Who is the little girl’s father?”

Lucas shook his head. “When Mrs. Atherton was saved by Ms. Brown and lived in the Brown family’s villa, Mrs.

Atherton had been pregnant. I haven’t found out who the little girl’s father is yet.”

Suddenly, Edwin felt overjoyed but frustrated.

“Had Joanne been pregnant before she left four years ago?

‘If Tail is my daughter...

‘I even have released news to slander her!’ Edwin ordered in a deep voice, “Stop releasing news!”

Lucas said, “Got it.”

Edwin picked up the car key and walked out tremblingly. His mind went blank suddenly.

Lucas wanted to ask Edwin if he needed to rehabilitate Tail's reputation. Seeing Edwin walking out, Lucas asked, "Mr. Atherton, where are you going?"

"Go to see Joanne for the truth."

In the Brown family's villa, they got into trouble again.

bad news again. Not long ago, Patrick took part in an auction on behalf of the company and bid for a piece of land at a high price. However, the land was detected that there was non-biodegradable chemical refuse underground.

What was worse, the chemical refuse was harmful.

The chemical refuse made it hard to develop the land basically, let alone build villas and underground casinos there.

The original owner kept the land for more than ten years. Only then did he have the guts to auction it.

Patrick bid for the land with a premium of one billion. If the news that there was chemical refuse underground was leaked, the position of Patrick in the Brown family would be devastated.

Has she heard the news?"

The assistant panicked and shook her head. "As soon as I got the test report, I gave it to you and didn't tell anyone else the news."

Chapter 1486-"Suppress the news first, and it must not be brought up to the for things may not be as bad as your assistant said. Let's arrange for another team to explore it again. Perhaps those wastes aren't completely unmanageable..."

said, "It's all my fault! I strongly advocated taking that piece of land at that time.

Patrick has reminded me to carefully survey it, but I ignored his advice...”

In fact, Patrick was like a matrilocal son-in-law of the Brown family.

After all, he left his hometown and broke off contact with the Atherton family in Sapphire City.

Therefore, he had been looked down upon by the elders of the Brown family.

Even Mrs. Brown, who seemed satisfied with him on the surface, was actually testing his abilities.

fought against a cousin of the Brown family and snatched the casino project away. Then she handed the project to Patrick and started fighting for that piece of land.

As long as they successfully acquired the land and completed the perfect construction of the underground casino and above-ground villa leisure area, it would undoubtedly become the second tourist mecca.

problem with the land survey report.

But at that time, she was urgently trying to secure Patrick’s foothold in the Brown family’s Board of Directors, so she ignored these details.

She once believed that the reason why the previous owner had withheld the land for over a decade was to wait for nearby land values to rise.

It was beyond her expectation that there would be such a big problem!

It was under this situation that Edwin came to her place.

Driving a Maybach, he came to the Brown family with great fanfare.

He quickly got out of the car. With his thin lips tightly pressed and an eager expression on his face, he exuded a chilling aura.

When he walked down the garden path of the Brown family's front hall, he saw If Patrick made a mistake, their marriage would probably be rejected by Mrs.

Brown!

"Miss Brown, Mr. Edwin is here again..." the servant urgently reminded them by knocking on the door.

come again next time, just send him out!"

"But Mr. Edwin said..."

Joanne said quickly, "What if he wants to discuss dropping the lawsuit? I'll go see him. You can try to find the previous owner first. His land survey report is problematic, yet he still put the land up for auction, which is tantamount to fraud.

If we can recover the losses, we can think of other ways to remedy the situation.

In that case, the project won't be ruined..."

When Edwin entered the hall, he saw Joanne had just come down from upstairs with a look of panic.

Without saying a word, Edwin grabbed Joanne's hand and walked outside.

Joanne couldn't shake off his grasp and was forced to follow him all the way.

When they arrived at a place near the backyard where no one was present, Edwin finally let go of her and asked, "Who is Tail's mother?"

Joanne's face changed slightly, but she pretended to be calm. "Didn't you already know?"

"I'll give you one last chance. Who is her mother?"

Judging from his determined face, Joanne knew that he might have already known the truth.

It seemed that she had failed to deceive him after all.

Chapter 1487-From the moment he started chasing after her in Mourpa, it was probably difficult to keep it a secret.

After all, when she was living in Mourpa with Tail, she never thought about hiding their relationship. Instead of letting Edwin continue to dig deeper, it was better to tell him the truth now.

to deceive you."

Edwin's heart tightened and he asked with great expectations, "Her father..."

"I don't know who he is," Joanne said calmly.

Edwin's brows furrowed. "What do you mean?"

"Don't you remember why we got divorced four years ago?" Joanne asked back.

Edwin immediately thought of her and Patrick being caught in adultery at the hotel. The gynecological examination also proved that she and Patrick might have had a sexual relationship. His face suddenly turned grim, as if a dark cloud had descended upon him.

“You have never done a paternity test in these years? Patrick is right beside you, and it’s easy to find opportunities to do the test.” test results show that Tail is his daughter, how can I face my savior?”

Edwin cut her off abruptly.

“Joanne, you coward! If it weren’t for me chasing after you in Mourpa, how long did you plan to hide it from me? Tail may also be my daughter!”

“It’s only a 50% chance.” Joanne tried to control her emotions. However, tears were already overflowing down her face.

When Edwin saw her tears, his doubts immediately grew like a towering tree.

“Can you tell me how did you fall into the sea four years ago and get saved by the Brown family?”

Joanne couldn’t guess whether he was testing her or not, so she quickly thought of an excuse. “I encountered a car accident on the way out of the city, and the car fell off a cliff. It Edwin couldn’t distinguish which sentence of hers was true or false.

“If you don’t want to investigate Tail’s identity, I’ll do it for you!”

“Wait.” Joanne immediately stopped him from leaving.” About Tail’s rumors about you on the internet...”

Edwin said irritably, “If you had told me earlier that she might be my daughter, I wouldn’t have sued her. Joanne, because of your selfishness, I almost hurt Tail!”

Joanne didn’t say a word.

Edwin continued, “Go inform the reporters now that we’ll hold a press conference tomorrow to clarify this matter.”

“If she turns out to be Patrick’s daughter, won’t you regret it?”

“If she really is Patrick’s daughter, I’ll kill her and then kill you! ” The veins on Edwin’s forehead bulged, clearly revealing his attitude towards this possibility.

As soon as the thought emerged that his ex-wife had given birth to an adorable daughter for his cousin, Edwin felt a strong surge of fury within him.

The press conference was held as scheduled the next day.

Both sides calmly explained the questions from the reporters and attributed everything to a misunderstanding. Edwin also withdrew his lawsuit on the spot, and the press conference ended successfully.

Tail accidentally cut her hand backstage, and Edwin gave Lucas a signal.

Lucas immediately took a cotton swab to treat Little Tail’s wound.

The cotton swab with Tail’s blood was then secretly sent to the identification center.

There were many media workers at the press conference, and Joanne didn’t want Tail to be questioned too much, so she quickly left with her.

Seeing this, Edwin walked a few steps behind them with a sullen face...

Chapter 1488-Tail was not used to the scene that had just happened.

Joanne was holding Tail in her arms, and the latter leaned on her lap, looking very obedient.

As they were about to get into the car, they heard Edwin's cold voice.

"Wait."

Tail lifted her head from Joanne's arms and saw Edwin. Her pupils shrank, and she exclaimed, "Mommy, he's the child trafficker..."

Edwin's handsome face, which had almost softened under his great efforts, immediately sank.

He glanced at Joanne and then turned to Tail with a gentle smile. "Tail, do I look like a child trafficker?" he asked.

Tail sneaked a glance at Joanne's expression and squared her shoulders.

"Mommy said that you cannot judge a book by its cover. Some people have human faces but beastly hearts."

Lucas wanted to give Tail a thumbs up. No wonder she was Joanne's daughter.

At such a young age, she could already use proverbs.

Edwin became even unhappier. What was Joanne teaching her daughter every day?

But his smile became gentler.

He took out a thick wad of notes from his wallet and handed them to Tail.

"I am a kind-hearted and sincere person. I already have a lot of money, and I don't bother with abducting children."

Moreover, I am a friend of your mom, so please do not call me a child trafficker in the future. You should call me...”

Joanne’s eyes twitched, and she quickly interrupted him.” Mr. Atherton, if you suddenly give her money like this, she will be scared.”

Tail grabbed the thick stack of money, looking bewildered. She had only received gifts while livestreaming before and didn’t have a clear concept of money. She raised her hand and handed the notes back to Edwin.

“Sir, if you are a friend of Mommy, then I will apologize to you, but I cannot accept your money.”

Edwin was surprised. After all, Joanne had not reminded her to return the money.

“Don’t you like money?”

“I like it.” Tail felt that Edwin was not so scary anymore, and her courage gradually grew. “Mommy works hard to make a living, and when I earn money, I can help her with the cost of living so that she doesn’t need to work so hard.”

Edwin continued to ask, “Then why don’t you want the money I gave you?”

“Why should I accept your money for no reason? If you want to give me gifts, you can watch my live stream. I can sing, dance, draw, and even make you a finger heart...” Tail enticed him skillfully.

Upon hearing this, Lucas asked, “Miss, what is the difference between the two?”

Tail pulled a serious face and explained, “Of course, there is a difference. On the live stream, if I sing and dance, I earn money through my own efforts. But if you give me money directly, then I owe you something.”

Lucas suddenly felt jealous of Joanne. Tail was really a considerate girl.

Edwin was also melted by her cuteness. His anger at Joanne for hiding his daughter from him was extinguished by half. He said to Joanne, "I take back what I said before. You taught your daughter very well."

Joanne rolled her eyes at him. "Aren't you afraid you misunderstood something?"

Edwin knew that she was reminding him not to be self-righteous.

But Edwin firmly believed that Tail was his daughter.

He sneered, "How can Patrick have such a cute and caring daughter?"

Moreover, in the past four years, even if you didn't want to figure out who is her biological father, I think Patrick must have done an investigation." Tail had nothing to do with Patrick.

After all, no woman could tolerate her husband bringing his mistress and illegitimate daughter around under her nose every day.

Edwin wasn't fond of Tail before, but now he thought she was becoming more and more cute.

'She must be my daughter!' he thought.

Chapter 1489-"You are really narcissistic," Joanne said and then followed Edwin stared at the retreating car, with a playful smile emerging on his face.

He immediately asked Lucas, "How many days will it take for the test result to come out?"

"I have instructed the laboratory to speed up the progress, and the report can come out within two days at the latest," Lucas immediately added.

Edwin was extremely dissatisfied. "Too slow!"

"Mr. Atherton, we are in Mourpa after all. It's not like Sapphire City where there is Yael's laboratory. Two days is already the fastest speed," Lucas defended himself.

Edwin seemed to have thought of something and ordered, "This time, you need to oversee the test yourself and ensure that there are no mishaps."

"Yes, sir."

Joanne was sitting in another car heading to the Brown family's villa. She had been confident in front of Edwin one second ago, but now she was like a deflated balloon in front of her friends, full of unease and worries.

"I saw him collecting blood samples for doing a paternity test. He shouldn't be able to find out the truth, right?"

"Don't worry. He just collected Tail's blood samples, and no matter how he when seeing her anxious look.

Patrick was driving in the front seat, and he couldn't help but interject, "I will also have someone keep an eye on the laboratory arranged by Edwin at all times.

Once there is any news, I will notify you immediately."

Hearing this, Joanne finally breathed a sigh of relief.

Gazing at Tail sleeping in her arms, she lowered her head and kissed Tail's delicate cheek. Her daughter was exquisitely like a small doll, and she couldn't bear the thought of Edwin taking her away.

After arriving at the Brown family's villa, Patrick took Tail to the bedroom to rest.

for Edwin to mistake Tail for Patrick's daughter.

relationship in the past.

Otherwise, Patrick wouldn't have come all the way to Mourpa just to find Joanne.

"Well, you don't need to explain to me. Since I have chosen to be with Patrick, I will believe and support him unconditionally. Furthermore, when I pursued him "To be honest, when I first started dating Patrick, I was quite annoyed with your existence. But as time went on, I realized that you devote your whole heart and Actually, despite her outward indifference to the relationship between the two, Joanne's way of treating Patrick was normal, but on the contrary, Patrick still seemed to be so concerned about her...

whole life. "I will return to Sapphire City in two days. After you two get married, I will come back and toast to your wedding."

"This sounds like I am afraid that you will steal my man and therefore hurry you Joanne smiled, "I'm afraid that if I stay here longer, I'll have to see you two flaunting your affection every day. I just can't handle it"

Standing behind the door, Patrick had been overhearing their conversation. He looked up at the blue sky, lost in thought...

Chapter 1490-He admitted that he had a special feeling towards Joanne when he first saw her on set four years ago.

As a well-known celebrity, he had been in the entertainment industry for many years, and countless actresses wanted to become his girlfriend so as to use his fame and resources to gain benefits.

However, Joanne seemed to be a simple girl who was completely unaware of this shortcut.

Later, when they were rumored to be in a romantic relationship, he not only did not oppose it but deliberately fueled the flames.

He had wanted the rumors to appear more believable so that they could act together in a TV series and maybe even develop a real romantic relationship.

He had earned enough money in the previous twenty years and had the full support of the Atherton family. Therefore, he did not need to ally with another powerful family, and even if he made Joanne his wife, no one would stop him.

However, due to an elaborately designed conspiracy, he spent a night with Joanne, which made him know the truth...

Joanne turned out to be Edwin's wife!

She was his cousin-in-law!

This determined that they would not have a chance to be together. Later, when Joanne disappeared inexplicably, he found out that someone had impersonated him to buy a ticket to go abroad and even planned to harm him.

He immediately guessed that Joanne might be in trouble, and he followed all the way to Mourpa, where he finally found her.

But by then, Joanne had already changed her name to Joanna.

She bundled up, with her body covered in wounds, and she was barely alive.

Countless doctors advised her to abort the baby and accept timely treatment, but she loved Tail too much and chose conservative treatment to allow the baby to be born safely.

She refused to take any medicine that was harmful to the fetus, which left her in pain all night long.

He felt sorry for her, but he also admired her great courage. At that time, he even had the fantasy that when Joanne recovered, they might have a chance to rekindle their relationship. But when Joanne realized his feelings towards her, she refused him without hesitation.

At least, she was a sincere girl without any falsehood.

Perhaps it was time to let go of Joanne...

Patrick walked out of the door as if nothing had happened.

rare for her. "What are you talking about? It's still daytime!"

Patrick said with a clear conscience, "We've already had our engagement ceremony. After the wedding, we are going to have a baby. What are you still shy about? Jo won't laugh at you."

hasn't been resolved yet! If it gets to the board of directors, my mother will definitely not let us get married..."

Patrick immediately promised, "For the sake of our wedding, I will find a solution as soon as possible. You can just relax and wait to be my most beautiful bride."

Joanne felt she could no longer put up with their lovey- dovey behavior.

Two days later.
