

Out of Prison 121

Chapter 121 The Fight

This old man was named Frank. He ranked among the top one hundred assassins in the world. Since joining the illegal market in Heavenly Punishment, he led a small team to perform various missions and had never missed a single shot.

But today, all the team members were killed except him. It had never happened before. Originally, Frank thought that it might be tricky only when dealing with Veronica.

After all, she was the Commander of the Sherland Guardians and enjoyed the reputation of War Goddess in the military. Her strength was outstanding and should not be underestimated.

But Frank thought that he could rely on his rich experience to seize the right chance to kill Veronica.

However, Frank didn't expect that Kenton was also a hard bone.

"There are very few people who can make me use this dagger..."

Frank took out his dagger slowly.

The length was one foot and three inches. It was like an ice piton.

Frank caressed the dagger blade gently as if touching his lover with caution.

Because for killers, daggers were their religion.

"I originally prepared this move for Veronica!

"Let's try it with you first!"

To deal with Veronica, Frank even imitated a set of assassination techniques to ensure things went well.

For a mighty warrior like Veronica, if she weren't defeated by one blow, she would take the chance to fight back like a tsunami. Even the top killer might not be able to bear it.

Before he finished speaking, Frank took action suddenly.

In a split second, he had already arrived behind Leones.

At the same time, Leones also moved.

Since Frank wanted to use the assassination secret technique to fight against him, Leones didn't hesitate any longer. He also waved the dagger in his hand to fight back.

In an instant, the two of them seemed to be crossing positions. In a flash, they exchanged places. However, no one could see that the moment the two changed their places, they had already fought more than ten moves.

Every move was lethal.

Leones's dagger cut Frank's throat, lower abdomen, and heart.

Frank's dagger also hit Leones' heart and two ribs.

"So fast!"

When Frank landed on the floor, he couldn't help but marvel that Leones moved so fast. He was even faster than Frank.

Frank's clothes, especially the part of his lower abdomen and heart, were all scratched.

If it were a normal sparring, Frank would have already lost.

But...

"Your assassination ability is already world-class. But what a pity... You met me today!"

Frank turned around slowly. Although the clothes on his body were torn apart by the dagger...

The exposed skin showed no trace of scars.

Frank grinned and showed a joking expression. "I am a grandmaster of armor training!"

Frank's armor training was well-practiced. He could apply it masterly. No weapons could hurt him!

Ordinary weapons couldn't hurt him at all.

That was Frank's biggest trump card.

Even if the assassination failed, he could still escape intact!

"Haha, how about it? Do you regret it now?" Frank looked at Leones, thinking the latter was dying soon,

After all, his heart and ribs took three hits. Those injuries were fatal.

"Leones..." Ariella's heart sank to the bottom when she saw Frank was sound and well.

“Shit! Did Leones lose?”

At that moment, Ariella made up her mind. If Kenton died trying to save her, she would also kill herself.

But the next second, Leones also slowly turned around.

Not to mention injuries, even the clothes he was wearing were intact.

“What?”

“How come?”

“Impossible!”

Frank stared at Leones as if he had seen a ghost and then glanced at the dagger in his hand.

Just now, Frank obviously hit Leones.

How come the other party was unscathed?

Even his clothes were intact?!

Frank rubbed his eyes vigorously again with a look of horror on his face.

“It turned out to be the grandmaster of armor training!”

Leones initially thought that the move just now would kill the opponent.

Unexpectedly, Frank was capable of armor training. Ordinary weapons couldn't hurt him.

Even Aaron's dagger couldn't hurt him.

It seemed that Frank was shrewd and deep.

"Could it be that you are also a grandmaster of armor training!?" Frank exclaimed.

Frank felt he was so unlucky. Not only did he meet his peers, but they even had the same trump card.

In that case, they couldn't hurt each other.

"Armor training? Haha..." Leones transformed the energy into a ray of golden light. It covered his whole body. He was as solid as gold, which was invulnerable.

12:34

Chucker 121 The Fight

Even if the opponent had magical skill, he could escape unscathed, let alone an ordinary dagger. "Since none of us can hurt the other," Frank took the initiative to bow and say, "We might as well give up and make peace. Anyway, you and I are both capable of armor training. No matter how brilliant the secret assassination technique is, it won't work."

As he spoke, Frank sneakily retreated, preparing to leave here first.

He felt that the young man in front of him was too unpredictable. Maybe his trump card was not just armor training.

“Who said I couldn’t hurt you?” Leones withdrew the dagger. He squinted at the Ocean Bead on his wrist.

That magic weapon could easily break through the physical body, even if the opponent were a grandmaster of armor training.

Leones planned to use that magic weapon to try the effect.

“Shit!”

Frank seemed to have a premonition of the coming crisis.

The fear he had never felt filled his body. He seemed to smell the death.

“I must be going”

Before Frank finished speaking, his body had already floated three hundred miles away.

In addition to his armor training skills, Frank’s fleeting speed was impressive.

“Haha. Do you want to run away

Leones flicked his finger and shot out a bead from his wrist.

In an instant, the bead flew through the air. Like a sharp bullet, it hit Frank’s back directly.

The next moment, there was a loud sound. “Boom!”

Frank let out a scream and exclaimed.

“How can this be?”

“My body...”

The smoke and dust dispersed. People looked at Frank, who tried to run away, and found half his body had been blown away.

Even if he were capable of armor training and invulnerable, so what?

A top magic weapon could easily tear his proud defense to pieces.

“Oh Missed...”

Leones had never used the Ocean Bead before. Besides, Frank was too far, and his footstep was too unpredictable...

Therefore, Leones' blow missed by an inch and only hit half of Frank's body.

“Let me go...” Frank fell to the ground and begged. “Please let me go...”

Before he could finish his begging for mercy, another rumble came from the ground.

It made people feel an earthquake was happening.

Frank was horrified again.

“What’s going on? Is there an earthquake?”

In the next second!

“Roar!”

An angry shout!

A giant python rose from the ground where Frank fell. Frank flew out.

The python flew into the air and swallowed Frank directly into his mouth.

Chapter 122 A Kind Reminder

Leones failed to kill Frank with one strike. He wanted to shoot another bead to kill him completely.

Unexpectedly, a giant python emerged from the ground and swallowed Frank in one bite.

Leones knew the python was doing him a favor, so he said nothing.

Then, that giant python plunged into the ground again. Like a bulldozer, it moved directly toward Leones speedily.

When it appeared again, it lifted the corpses of the black-clothed assassins killed by Leones into the air.

In the same way, it jumped up and swallowed them into its stomach.

Ariella saw this giant python at such a close distance. It swallowed bodies one after another. She was stunned.

When the giant python appeared earlier, Ariella thought it was a hallucination from more than three hundred feet away.

But when the giant python flashed like lightning and broke out again from less than 40 inches in front of her eyes, she knew it was true. The python was like a volcano erupting instantly, shocking everything present.

After devouring the corpses, the giant python stood still, looking down to the ground for its next target.

Finally, its blood-red eyes met Ariella's eyes.

Ariella raised her head and looked at the giant python. It was only exposed with half of its body, which was as high as three or four floors. After being glanced at by the python, Ariella was so frightened that her heart skipped a beat. The blood in her whole body seemed to be flowing backward.

Even just now, when she met the group of assassins, Ariella had never been so nervous and scared.

After all, assassins were only human and within the scope of her cognition.

The monster in front of her was completely beyond her knowledge. It was unimaginable.

“Ahh!”

Upon the sharp fright, Ariella screamed and fainted from shock.

“She is a friend. Leave her alone!” Leones quickly stopped the giant python from making any further moves.

The giant python's huge and thin head gently sniffed Ariella's body as if trying to remember her smell.

Then, it turned around and was about to flee away.

But at this moment, a melodious flute sound came from a distance.

The giant python followed the prestige to look yearningly. It stood on the spot, motionless.

"What?" Leones also heard this weird flute sound. It was very piercing and sharp. The sound was similar to the obscure snake language.

It sounded like the flute sound but was more like communicating with the python.

The sound of the flute approached.

The flute player soon appeared.

Leones looked over and saw a girl of about twenty years old. She was dressed in plain clothes with a bare face and a ponytail. She was different from the fashion ladies but had a kind of innocence and natural beauty.

"Fairy!" The girl put down her flute, stood at the foot of the mountain, and called out to the giant python.

The giant python hesitated for a moment, then ducked and appeared in front of the girl in the next second.

"Fairy! Are you really going to leave the Roberts family?" The girl looked up at Fairy and negotiated with it in snake language.

The python replied in the affirmative.

The girl didn't say anything more. She paused and then asked, "Where's grandma? Did you swallow grandma, too?"

Fairy once again gave an affirmative answer.

This time, the girl's expression was slightly startled.

She didn't expect the giant python her family enshrined to attack them one day!

"I see..." The girl did not continue to argue with the giant python. After all, her family could not interfere with or change Snake Fairy's behavior or decision.

"Roar!" The giant python let out a sharp roar and said its final farewell to the girl.

Then, it leaned over again and fled to the ground.

The girl hesitated on the spot for a moment. Then, she raised her head and looked at Leones.

"Are you from the Roberts family?" Leones asked curiously.

"Yes." The girl nodded and then asked, "Are you Kenton Bloom?"

"I am!" Leones also nodded.

Both sides recognized each other's identity at a glance.

“Are you here to take revenge on me?” Leones asked again.

After all, Amber died because of him.

Since the girl was from the Roberts family, Amber was probably her grandmother.

“No!” Unexpectedly, the girl shook her head. She said firmly, “You killed that bastard of the Johnson family. I want to thank you. How can I seek revenge from you?”

“Besides, you have Fairy by your side. I can’t beat you.”

Afterward, the girl introduced herself as Marie Roberts. The snake lady whom Leones killed was indeed her grandmother.

Marie had a marriage contract with Victor Johnson since childhood.

The Johnson family in Fatuma cooperated with the five mysterious families: the Peggy family, the Back family, the Wilson family, the Roberts family, and the Polly family. Actually, the five families were the Johnson family’s servants.

To strengthen the control over those Five Major Families, when the direct descendants of the

Johnson family grew up, they could choose young and beautiful women from those Five Major Families to marry as concubines.

You heard right. Those women were not legal wives but concubines. The Johnson family controlled them by the side. They were more like hostages.

Marie was a natural-born beauty. Victor admired her at first glance. She couldn't escape the fate of being a concubine.

What was more, Victor was notorious in Fatuma. He bullied people and did all kinds of evil.

Marie was very opposed to the marriage but could do nothing.

The Roberts family was greedy for the power of the Johnson family. Amber urged Marie to be Victor's concubine. In her opinion, it was a good deal to make her granddaughter a concubine in the Johnson family.

Originally, Marie would be taken to the Johnson family in the second half of the year. From then on, he would become the prisoner around Victor.

But just at this very point, Victor came to Sherland and died there.

Marie, who got the news, was thrilled. How could she come to Leones for revenge?

"But I also killed your grandma," Leones said frankly.

"Although she was my grandma, she abused me since I was a child." Marie smiled wryly. "Grandma's death is not even as striking as Fairy's departure. It makes me sadder."

Marie was born into a weird and mysterious family. She had practiced the family secrets since she was a child. She hardly went to school, let alone live a normal life. Therefore, she had no friends.

Since childhood, Snake Fairy was her playmate, even though it was hundreds of years old. The Roberts family worshiped it for three generations.

But in Marie's eyes, it was her only friend.

"I came here not only to say goodbye to Fairy but also to thank you for helping me get rid of Victor."

Leones smiled wryly when he heard the words. He didn't expect to win Marie's gratitude by killing her fiancé.

"To express my gratitude, I have one more important thing to tell you."

As she spoke, Marie lowered her voice and said seriously, "The Johnson family in Fatuma is eager to avenge the murder of their son. They have dispatched all the masters from the four major families except our family to hunt you down!"

"They should be here soon. You must be careful."

Chapter 123 New Clues

"They want to deal with me?"

Hearing this, Leones didn't take it seriously.

Because during this period, it wasn't only Fatuma's family that he had offended.

They wanted to die. Leones would just wait for them.

"Okay, I see." Leones nodded calmly, not taking this seriously at all.

Seeing Leones being so calm, Marie said nothing more.

“Fairy was by your side to help you. And I heard that you are powerful. It should be fine, but you still have to be careful.”

The Johnson family used all the power of the four major families simultaneously. If the Roberts family hadn't made a mistake, Fatuma would have even sent out the Five Major Families: the Peggy family, the Back family, the Wilson family, the Roberts family, and the Polly family.

This battle was something Marie had never seen before.

It could be seen that the opponent was so strong that even the Johnson family was afraid of it.

“I have one last question.” Marie blinked her curious eyes and asked, “How did you subdue Fairy and let it stay by your side?”

Even with the efforts of three generations of the Roberts family, this giant snake that had been around for hundreds of years could not be completely subdued, and it was enshrined as a fairy.

But in the end, the snake still killed the master and left.

Not only Marie but the entire Roberts family were very puzzled by this.

Was there anyone in the world who understood snakes better than the Roberts family?

“I promised it I could help it turn into a dragon!” Leones saw Marie as being honest, so he thought hiding it from her was unnecessary.

“Turn into a dragon?” Marie was shocked after hearing this.

This was a reason she had never thought of.

But for the snake, it was an absolute temptation and could not even be refused.

However, Marie looked worried and said calmly, "If you deceive Fairy, the consequences will be unimaginable."

In Marie's view, the so-called dragon transformation was too illusory, as if it was a gimmick, and it was like trying to deceive Fairy, and the secret would be revealed one day.

And then what would he tell the snake?

"Haha..." Leones laughed, saying, "You don't need to worry about that."

"Since I said it, I will do it!"

"If there's nothing else, please come back. Thank you for letting me know."

Leones thanked Marie, turned around, picked up the unconscious Ariella, and walked away slowly.

Looking at Leones going away, Marie blinked with great curiosity.

"Is he sure he can do it?"

"I'm also looking forward to the day when Fairy can transform into a dragon!"

Send the unconscious Ariella back to the villa at the foot of the mountain.

After settling her down, Leones returned home and continued to concentrate on refining the elixir.

Soon, Veronica came late.

“Ariella!”

As soon as Veronica entered the room, seeing her friend lying on the sofa, she immediately breathed a sigh of relief.

Fortunately, Veronica came in time, and nothing happened to Ariella.

However, as soon as Veronica entered the room, she was keenly aware that there were signs of outsiders breaking in.

Immediately afterward, Veronica watched the surveillance video at home and saw the assassins in black breaking in.

Veronica was shocked when she saw this.

“Ariella! Are you okay!”

Veronica suddenly became nervous again, worried that Ariella lying on the sofa might have been killed.

“Fortunately... She just passes out...”

Veronica hurriedly came to the sofa, checked Ariella out, and finally felt relieved.

“It’s strange. Those assassins actually let Ariella go?”

Veronica rechecked the surveillance video and found that when the assassins broke in, Ariella had already escaped in advance.

Then, there was a scene of the assassins chasing her out one after another. And then there was no clue.

What happened next?

Veronica had no way of knowing.

But Veronica saw Ariella was obviously saved. Then, the one escaped.

“Who is the one?”

Veronica looked out the window, and the first one she thought of was naturally her neighbor on the mountain.

“Could it be Kenton?”

At this moment, Ariella, who was in a coma, screamed, suddenly woke up, and shouted, “Kenton! Run. There is a big snake!”

Ariella sat up in shock. Her heart was still beating wildly. She was unable to recover from the horrific scene.

“Ariella, don’t be afraid! It’s okay. I’m back!” Veronica quickly held Ariella’s hand and comforted her.

“Snake! Snake!” Ariella was still distracted and kept saying there was a snake. The giant python seemed to have left a profound imprint on her heart.

“There are no snakes. I’m here. Don’t be afraid!” Veronica hurriedly hugged Ariella, who was trembling with fear, and stroked her back. “This is home. There are no snakes.”

Gradually, Ariella recovered from her panic.

When Ariella saw Veronica had returned, she lay on Veronica’s shoulder and cried for a while, completely venting the fear in her heart.

Then, when Ariella calmed down completely, she told what happened just now.

“You mean... There is a giant python on the mountain!” Veronica was also suddenly startled.

It was because Veronica suddenly remembered the strange scream she had heard in the middle of the night a few days ago and the terrifying shadow shaped like a mountain.

Was there really a giant python near Mountain Gloriland?

“That snake swallowed those people alive!” Recalling this, Ariella still couldn’t stop trembling. “Verone, Kenton... Will Kenton also be...”

Ariella worried that the snake would swallow all the living creatures indiscriminately.

“Probably not.” Veronica quickly comforted Ariella, “If Kenton is also swallowed, why are you okay? It can’t be the snake that sent you back to the villa, right?”

Moreover, Veronica suspected that the giant python might have something to do with Kenton. Veronica once again became suspicious. Who was this mysterious neighbor she had never met before?

Although Veronica’s analysis was reasonable, Ariella was still uneasy and even insisted on going to the villa on the mountain to visit.

But as soon as Ariella got off the sofa, she fell to the ground. It turned out that her legs were weak from fear.

In the end, Veronica assured Ariella that Veronica would go to the villa on the mountain for Ariella later to see if Kenton was safe.

“Why don’t you get some more sleep?” Veronica put Ariella on the bed. “Leave the rest to me.” After coming out of Ariella’s room, Veronica was just going to investigate the mountain to see if there were any signs of a giant python coming in and out.

At this time, the adjutant, Lois, called Veronica.

“What’s the matter?” Veronica answered the phone.

“Your Excellency, although the clues on the Lewis Club have been broken, another case has made new progress.”

Lois hurriedly reported to Veronica.

“About the two pink diamonds you asked to investigate last time, we finally found the source of the buyer.

“The owner of the pink diamonds used to be Ashley, the daughter-in-law in the Bloom family and Leones’ stepmother!

“Furthermore, after investigation, the identities of the seven deceased are also closely related to Ashley. They seem to be thugs working for her!”

“Ashley?” Veronica was shocked when she heard this. “Could the car accident five years ago have something to do with her?”

Chapter 124 The Bloom Family’s Background

When Veronica tracked down the car accident that year, there was a new clue.

At this time, Benjamin had already left for a secret stronghold.

This was the center of Sherland’s power and the core area of the entire city.

The people who could live here were all nobles with great power.

This was also a place where ordinary people were banned.

Even if the Bloom family, one of the top ten wealthy families in Sherland, wanted to enter this place, they must notify the regulator in advance.

Benjamin smiled at any guard here, trying to please them for fear of being turned away.

Someone said that when a man got to the top, all his friends and relations got there with him. It was nothing more than this.

After a moment, after receiving permission, Benjamin entered a unique courtyard.

“Our master is receiving a visitor. Please wait here.” A middle-aged man who looked like a butler said these words and walked away.

The middle-aged man even didn't give any explanation.

“Yes, thank you.” Benjamin stood up to thank the man, not daring to neglect.

After that, no one came to talk to Benjamin again.

No one even brought Benjamin coffee.

It could be seen that they treat their guests with arrogance and disregard.

However, Benjamin did not complain at all but waited patiently.

Benjamin's wait lasted a whole afternoon.

In the evening, it was time for dinner.

Benjamin started to fidget, wondering if he should continue to wait or leave.

"My master invites you to come in for dinner!"

At this time, the butler appeared again and said indifferently.

When Benjamin heard that he could have dinner with that big shot, he immediately felt flattered and quickly got up to follow.

Soon, the two passed through a pavilion and entered the back hall.

A luxurious restaurant had a small square table in the center, with servants waiting on both sides.

There were no other guests at the table, only an old man in a suit, slowly drinking soup with a peaceful expression, enjoying the food.

Seeing this, Benjamin hurriedly stepped forward and bowed.

Then, the old man in a suit put down the soup slowly, nodded, and said, "Have you eaten yet? Why don't you join me?"

Benjamin knew that this person was determined, and Benjamin shouldn't refuse.

This big shot told Benjamin to sit down and eat dinner. Benjamin just did it obediently. Immediately, Benjamin said yes and hurried forward to take a seat.

Benjamin was excited and nervous, and at the same time, was incredibly humble in front of the big shot. Benjamin only dared to sit on the edge of the chair cautiously.

Emily's Background

"I'm aware of the troubles the Bloom family encountered." The old man in a suit personally brought coffee for Benjamin.

Surprised, Benjamin hurriedly got up to express his appreciation.

The old man in a suit nodded and motioned Benjamin to sit down first.

Benjamin sat down again and hurriedly drank the coffee the old man rewarded. Benjamin didn't have time to taste the coffee but felt honored.

"The Soler family was suppressed back then, and now they will make a comeback? There is indeed something strange about this! I will send someone to investigate."

As he said, the old man in a suit took another sip of soup and murmured, "Don't worry, with me here, the Soler family can't merger the Bloom family!"

Hearing the big shot's words, Benjamin was wholly and finally relieved.

Benjamin came here today for these words.

The old man in a suit continued, "The Soler family has just started. How can they get so much money to buy up the shares of your family?"

"Tomorrow, I will ask the Insurance Regulatory Commission and the Banking Regulatory Commission to investigate the source of their funds! Whether their funds are legal, I will let them spit out your stocks obediently!"

The old man's words were an understatement, but Benjamin knew very well that only a few people in Vericano could do this.

Benjamin hurriedly got up again to express his appreciation with cap in hand.

"But..." Finding the right moment, Benjamin carefully reminded him, "The Baker family has been investigating the tax issues of our company. I don't know when I offended Mr. Baker..."

Speaking of Orlando of the Baker family, a stern look finally flashed across the calm face of the old man in a suit.

"Is Orlando the Affluent?"

"Haha. He has already retreated. How dare he meddle so much?"

"People who don't know will think he's still in charge of the Ministry of Finance."

The old man in a suit suddenly stood up and said proudly, "I will let the Baker family know who was in charge of the current Ministry of Finance!"

The old man's face was full of arrogance and contempt for ordinary people. It was the authoritarian arrogance of a powerful minister. There could be no doubt about what he said. Benjamin, who was sitting by in shock, quickly stood up and echoed.

When he left the small courtyard, Benjamin found his back was already drenched in cold sweat. For Benjamin, just being with that big shot to eat dinner was both an honor and a tormenting process. It was like going to the execution ground, and he finally survived.

However, with the big shot's promise, Benjamin came home in a good mood.

"I don't care who is dealing with our family in secret, whether you are the Baker or Soler family. This time I will let you know the background and capabilities of our family cannot be shaken!"

Chapter 125 The Four Families

That night.

The four mysterious families consisting of the Polly, Wilson, Back and Peggy families had been ordered to come to Sherland.

In a deserted wilderness, the patriarchs of the four major families took the lead in meeting each other.

"I've never seen Max blow up like this! He got everyone from the four families involved. Talk about rallying the troops!"

A frail elderly man, adorned in exquisite attire, sported a petite goatee on his chin. His eyes squinted as a faint smile played on his lips.

This person was the patriarch of the Peggy family, known as Lucas Peggy.

The Peggy family worshiped foxes.

"Hehe! If your son died, you would probably be crazier than him!"

On the side, another old man with a sallow complexion sneered.

This

person was the patriarch of the Back family, known as David Back. The Back family worshiped the weasel.

“I don’t have that chance anymore...” Lucas shook his head and smiled wryly. “My two sons have already been killed by me. My next step is to kill another grandson and live a few more years.” “It’s a pity. Victor was swallowed by the big green python raised by the Roberts family, leaving no bones left. Otherwise, even if he was seriously injured and brought back, I might be able to save him!”

On the other side, an old woman dressed in white and with silver hair shook her head regretfully. This person was the head of the Soler family, known as Janice Soler, and was good at witch doctor skills.

The Soler family worshiped hedgehogs.

“That big green python seems to have been subdued by Leones. It’s ridiculous that the Roberts family can’t even manage their own animals. They’re really useless.”

In the gloom, an old man with short stature, a gray robe, and a sharp mouth smiled sinisterly.

This person was the patriarch of the Polly family, known as James Polly.

The Polly family worshiped mice.

In addition, the Roberts family, who did not come, worshiped snakes.

The five enigmatic families of Fatuma – the Peggy family, the Back family, the Soler family, the Roberts family, and the Polly family stood for the fox, ferret, hedgehog, snake, and rat, respectively.

Every major mysterious family was good at a secret technique.

For example, the Roberts family was good at domesticating snakes with spirituality and morality.

And the Back family had the ability to summon David, drawing upon his strength. "That man subdued Snake Fairy of the Roberts family. It would be very difficult if he used it against us instead." Janice said with some concern, "Just in case, we should collaborate with the

Four Families

Roberts family."

"Then let's work together to slaughter that animal and make soup!" James salivated. "It's been a long time since I tasted snake soup."

"And it's a hundred-year-old python." David also began to drool. "It's sure to be a great tonic!"

The five families discussed for a while and decided to rest for one night. They believed it would not be too late to start again tomorrow.

Then, they dispersed.

However, James walked not far and saw that the other three people had disappeared, so he whistled.

In an instant, there were rustling sounds and numerous figures around.

A dozen men, women, and children in gray robes quickly gathered around James.

They were all experts from the clan brought by the Polly family during this trip.

“This time, the Johnson family sent the four of us to deal with Leones. It is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. After this is done, the Johnson family will definitely not treat us badly.”

“So I decided, tonight, our family will act in advance to monopolize this great achievement!” When the tribesmen heard this, they were shocked.

“Mr. Polly! Isn’t this too risky?”

“Yes, the Roberts family has fallen into Leones’ hands!”

“It’s better to act together with the other three families to avoid another accident.”

When James heard this, he showed a disdainful expression and scolded with a sneer, “Although the Polly family worships rats, we don’t want all of you to be as timid as rats!”

“What’s there to be afraid of!?”

“The Roberts family is in trouble because only one person from the Roberts family came. And with so many people here this time, can’t we still defeat Leones alone?”

“Besides, this time we are in the dark, and Leones is in the light! Tonight, we will make a surprise attack and get rid of him in his sleep!”

After hearing this, the tribesmen were still a little hesitant and seemed unwilling to take risks.

“Wealth can be found in danger!” James continued to encourage, “We have all the credit, and we only get a quarter of it. The difference is not even a tiny bit!”

“Besides, once we start working together tomorrow, maybe we won’t be able to intervene!”

“However, if we make a unique achievement this time, it is very likely that we will replace the Roberts family who fell out of favor and become the fourth of the five families, and we will no longer be at the bottom of the list.”

“Don’t tell me that you want to be ridden by the other four families for the rest of your life.”

These words instantly ignited the passion and spirit of the clansmen.

Of these five prominent families, the Polly family was always at the bottom in terms of seniority. They were often ridiculed by the other four major families. Even the Johnson family held disdain for the Polly family, referring to them as “rats” both openly and behind their backs.

James felt that if the Polly family could take this opportunity to make great contributions and climb up a step, they could indeed take the risk.

Even a mouse had to fight for it!

“We will all listen to you, Mr. Polly!”

Seeing everyone’s agreement, James showed a satisfied smile.

“Okay, this time, let’s show the true strength of the Polly family!”

“All of you, follow me!”

As he spoke, James swayed, landed on all fours, and quickly merged into the darkness.

Other tribesmen also followed James and lurked in the darkness.

They went straight to Gloriland Manor.

At this time, at the foot of Mountain Gloriland.

Veronica was at the scene, conducting on-the-spot investigation.

“It should be here!”

Veronica took out criminal investigation methods and carefully inspected the scene. She found that there were indeed people here, with traces of fighting, and even residual blood stains.

However, Veronica did not find any sign of a large monster.

Because according to what Ariella said, the giant python swallowed all the assassins alive, but how could such a big beast leave no trace?

At least the nearby lawns, as well as the mountains and forests, should leave traces of the giant python running over it.

Besides, according to Ariella’s own words, the giant python came out of the ground.

But for such a big snake to burrow out of the ground, it would have to leave at least a deep pit.

Veronica searched the mountain for a week but found nothing.

Nothing was found.

It was as if the monster appeared out of thin air and did not touch the ground.

Hence, Veronica was about to give up and go up the mountain to find Kenton for questioning.

But then, a swish came!

There was jitteriness all around.

In the darkness, there were afterimages passing by.

Seeing this, Veronica immediately held her breath and concentrated, thinking, "Is that giant python going to haunt again?"

Thinking of this, Veronica didn't dare to neglect and slowly took off a bow on her back.

In order to deal with the giant python, Veronica specially brought out the tiger bow used in the army during this trip.

Bow drawn, string taut.

This bow could unleash the force equivalent to hundreds of pounds, truly formidable.

Veronica aimed the bow and arrow at the depths of the darkness.

"Who is it? Playing tricks!"

"Get out!"

Veronica shouted and shot an arrow into the darkness.

Chapter 126 Let Us Bounce

A whoosh came!

It was a cloud-piercing arrow!

The arrow instantly shot into the darkness.

Several hundred yards away.

Immediately, a scream came back.

“Ah!”

“Damn it! Who is sneaking sniper?”

“Are you all right?”

The

group of sneaky figures finally stopped after one of them was hit by an arrow.

“Get out!”

Veronica’s arrow aimed at the leader’s head this time.

The arrow just now was just a warning.

Otherwise, it wouldn’t just hit the shoulder.

“Could it be the guy named Leones?”

“Charge! Let’s kill her first! Don’t let her go and alert her gangs!”

With an order, this group of people first targeted Veronica.

Yes, the group of night walkers Veronica met at the foot of the mountain were the Polly family members who wanted to assassinate Leones while the night was dark and windy.

James and others also highly doubted that Veronica, who was ambushing at the foot of the mountain, was Kenton's subordinate.

Otherwise, who'd be up in the dead of night, toting a bow and arrow, hunting in the middle of nowhere?

In the blink of an eye!

As Veronica's arrow shot out, it seemed as if a barrel of explosives had been detonated instantly, and the conflict between the two sides was about to break out!

James' words had not yet finished.

He then saw a black shadow in the distance. It was invisible!

"What?"

When Veronica saw this, she couldn't help being suddenly startled. The group of people in front of her all disappeared out of thin air!

Their figure or their breath had all disappeared!

She wondered what happened.

Veronica was confused and felt as if she had seen a ghost.

But in the blink of an eye, she did not have time to react.

Then, she felt the ground beneath her feet seemed to be moving!

A boom sounded!

The next second, with Veronica as the center, a dozen figures sprang out one after another from the ground around, like bombs being detonated.

Each of them was dressed in gray, as if they had completely blended into the darkness around them. Although they were short in stature, they moved very quickly.

As soon as they appeared, they immediately showed the sharp claws in their hands and rushed toward Veronica!

Veronica was utterly stunned.

She did not even have enough time to react.

And she didn't expect this group of people to be able to escape from the ground.

At this moment, Veronica seemed to have figured out something.

Could it be that the giant python, like these people, used some secret technique that she did not know to escape from the ground?

Veronica thought again that when she was practicing martial arts with her adoptive father, she heard him casually mentioning some unorthodox sects in the martial arts world in his spare time—such as soul-stirring, flying sand escape, and many more.

But her adoptive father did not really believe all these.

He believed these were just side tricks, not worthy of the spotlight, and certainly not the mainstream.

At least, as a qualified soldier, it was absolutely impossible for Veronica's adoptive father to learn the art of escaping from the ground.

Otherwise, on the battlefield, when they found themselves at a disadvantage, their immediate reaction had been to think of escape. Wasn't that a recipe for disaster?

As for the entire Sherland Guardians, there were only soldiers who died in battle and no cowards who escaped.

Sherland Guardians were the guardian of the entire city and the last steel Great Wall.

Anyone could escape from the battlefield, but Sherland Guardians would never.

"How dare you dare to be so presumptuous in front of me!"

Veronica shouted loudly and took out the sword from her waist.

However, this group from the Polly family caught Veronica off guard just now.

Still, Veronica could command the entire Sherland Guardians, and she was by no means an ordinary person.

The knife in her hand circulated rapidly like a goddess scattering flowers.

The Polly family came quickly.

However, the knife in Veronica's hand was faster.

The two sides had directly confronted each other.

The person who was only a few feet away from Veronica had not yet touched Veronica with his sharp claws.

Then Veronica stabbed him with her backhand, knocking him to the ground.

Immediately, Veronica stood upright, showing her domineering attitude.

She even made the grass and leaves around her move with the wind.

Everyone in the Polly family was immediately shocked by Veronica's move and did not dare to step forward.

They were afraid that they would be the next victim.

"Hiss!" Upon seeing this, James couldn't help but gasp.

As they said, an expert's move revealed their skill.

Veronica's sword was extremely powerful and full of oppression.

It made her enemies feel like they were on the battlefield for a moment, with lingering fear in their hearts.

James instantly discerned that it was the classic wide swinging saber technique used in the military.

Not to mention that more than a dozen of them joined forces to besiege. Even if they had thousands of troops, they would be swept away!

So, James knew it was useless for him and his troops to continue the attack.

Thinking of this, James suddenly broke into a cold sweat.

He never dreamed that this trip would encounter such a difficult incident.

How could Leones have such a powerful master who cooperated with him?

"Who are you?" James asked in surprise, "Why do you use military saber techniques?"

"I'm one of the Sherland Guardians, Veronica Quinn!" Veronica said coldly. She then asked, "Who are you? Who ordered you? Tell me!"

Now, Veronica highly doubted that these people were here for her.

It might have something to do with the assassins who assassinated the owner of Lewis Club.

"What?"

“Sherland Guardians?”

Hearing Sherland Guardians’s title, everyone in the Polly family was immediately frightened. They never expected that on the way to carry out the assassination, they would unexpectedly encounter Sherland Guardians.

And Veronica was also the highest–level Commander of Sherland Guardians.

“Y–You are the War Goddess rumored by the outside world?”

James’ eyes widened, revealing a frightened look, staring closely at Veronica’s side profile. Through the dim moonlight, one could barely make out that she looked exactly like the stunning and fierce new Commander of the Sherland Guardians that James had seen on TV!

Although she was a woman in a male–dominated world, Veronica stood out among millions of soldiers, overshadowing her male counterparts and took charge of the Sherland Guardians. Within the military, she was often hailed as the War Goddess.

“It’s really her?”

James couldn’t stop trembling all over.

Thinking that just now, he could not believe that he actually commanded his tribe to attack a Sherland Guardians Commander jointly.

If such ridiculous things were told, people would definitely call him crazy.

But now, it happened to him.

Veronica was the Commander of the Sherland Guardians. Not to mention the Polly family, even if the five clans joined forces, they might not be Veronica’s opponent!

James intended to search online. If he attacked the Sherland Guardians Commander, how many years would he be sentenced to if he was caught?

“Things are getting heated!”

“Let’s bounce!”

James didn’t have time to think and immediately ordered to retreat.

He no longer intended to assassinate Kenton.

He thought that he would just talk about it again if he could get away with the current situation!

In an instant, before James could finish speaking, he himself had already taken the lead and fled into the ground.

With all his strength, he ran for his life.

The other clansmen also reacted one after another, turned around, and fled underground in all directions in the blink of an eye.

“Want to run?”

Veronica looked ruthless.

She once again drew the tiger bow in his hand.

“Did I let you go?”

This time, Veronica did not hold back.

The arrow in her hand was released without hesitation!

Chapter 127 The One Who'll Kill You

The arrows in Veronica's hand instantly shot out like rain, scattering and blooming in all directions.

Although everyone in the Polly family fled into the ground, the following arrows also shot into the ground till only the feather fletchings could be seen.

Every arrow was accompanied by a scream and a fountain of blood.

Listening to the endless screams of the tribesmen, James Polly was horrified. His face was ashen, and he subconsciously ran even quicker.

However, he was the leader of the Polly family, after all, and he could not just watch his family members die tragically underground one after another while only caring about himself.

More importantly, the group of people who came with him this time were the strongest bunch in the family.

If they all died here, the Polly family would be severely damaged and would never be able to make a comeback.

James' original goal of this trip was to lead his family members to achieve something extraordinary and change their destiny.

However, contrary to what he had wished, he suffered a tragic defeat, and he was devastated.

The sense of responsibility to the family eventually forced him to slow down his escape and jump back to above the ground.

He begged for mercy loudly, "Ms. Quinn, we were blind to greatness and offended you! Please give us a chance and spare us!

"We came here to deal with a man named Kenton Bloom! We will never dare to be your enemy, Ms. Quinn!

"I shouldn't have offended greatness. Please forgive me!"

Facing the War Goddess of Sherland Guardians, James did not dare to hide anything and told the whole story.

When Veronica heard this, she was shocked. These people were here for Kenton?

Although it had nothing to do with her, it did not completely.

After all, Kenton had rescued her friend Ariella twice, and even her godfather told her to befriend

Kenton.

Veronica came out tonight and originally also planned to go up the mountain to thank Kenton on behalf of her friend Ariella.

Since this group of people came for Kenton, it was impossible for Veronica to sit idly by.

Moreover, as the Commander of the Sherland Guardians, it was even more impossible for her to ignore such a mysterious assassin.

"Then that only makes you leaving more impossible!"

Then, Veronica took aim at James' arrow and shot out violently.

"Kenton's enemy is my enemy!

"You dare to cause trouble in Sherland. How can I let you go?"

What?

Hearing these words, James was in despair.

If they had known that Kenton was related to the Sherland Guardians, they would have never dared to take this mission, no matter what!

Being the enemy of Kenton meant being the enemy of the Commander of Sherland Guardians? If this were the case, Fatuma's Johnson family would have to carefully reconsider if they would still dare to avenge their son's murder!

"Hiss!"

Facing the arrows flying towards him like bullets, James almost closed his eyes in despair and waited for death.

However, the strong desire to survive in his heart still made him subconsciously make a series of reactions.

He turned around, unfolded the gray robe behind him, and wrapped it around his whole body. Keep running!

The arrow came in the blink of an eye and immediately hit James' back.

“Ah!”

James grunted and staggered but managed to hold on and did not fall to the ground. “Caught it...”

When James saw this, he was grateful for a while.

The gray robe on his body saved his life!

Clearly, the gray robe worn by James was also extraordinary.

It was a treasured garment passed down from generation to generation of the Polly family. It contained special gold threads that could withstand all injuries and was invulnerable to ordinary blades and swords.

However, Veronica’s arrow, which weighed as much as one thousand pounds, still broke through the gray robe, but it did not cause fatal injuries to him after most of its power was negated. James was lucky enough to survive, so he did not dare to relax and continued to escape again. “Huh? Not dead?” When Veronica saw this, she was also very surprised. Why did her arrow not penetrate James?

However, Veronica did not think too much and continued to draw the bow and set the arrow, preparing to shoot another time.

But at this moment, a loud bang sounded!

James was too busy running away and did not notice that there was a person standing right in front of him.

He slammed his head into the person’s chest, feeling as if he had hit a wall, and he was dizzy from the shock.

“Who is it?”

James scurried away, stomping his feet anxiously.

When he raised his head again, he saw a tall young man with sword-like brows, bright eyes, and an extraordinary appearance. This man was so intimidating that James felt as if he was facing a mountain.

“You... You are!” James’s face froze, and he felt that the person in front of him was similar to Kenton, whom he was supposed to deal with on this trip but slightly different.

After all, Kenton’s appearance was disguised.

The person blocking the road in front of James was none other than Leones.

“I heard that you are here to find me?” Leones asked calmly, “Since you have already arrived at my door, why are you leaving again?”

“Yo—You are really Kenton?” James was shocked.

“Don’t you know me? Oh!” Leones immediately understood and stretched out his hand to touch his face. “What about now? Do you know me?”

Kenton’s face appeared again, exactly the same as the photos James and the others had seen.

“You... You... Who are you!?”

James turned pale in shock. He was appalled that Kenton’s face was able to change at will.

This meant that Kenton was most likely a pseudonym!

Who was his true identity?

Leones stretched out his hand, like lifting a chicken, clamped James' throat, and lifted him "I'm the one who'll kill you!"

up.

Chapter 128 Familiarity

It was like the reaper was clutching his throat tightly.

James's face turned pale with shock, and the fleeting hope that had just arisen sank to the bottom.

"No...Please don't kill me..."

"Please...Spare my life..."

"I promise...I won't dare to come to Sherland again...I won't bother you anymore..."

James pleaded desperately to Leones.

However, Leones remained calm and glanced around before asking, "Weren't you supposed to come with the four major mysterious families of Fatuma? How come it's just your family?"

Initially, Leones had noticed the movements of the Polly family and had come down the mountain to capture them all.

But as soon as he descended the mountain, he found that most of the people had already been tackled by Veronica.

And instead of the joint action of the four major mysterious families, there was only this old man standing before him.

Leones couldn't help feeling disappointed.

"They...didn't come..."

"I...I can take you...to find them..."

In order to save his own life, James even betrayed others.

Moreover, the Polly family had suffered heavy losses this time, and if the other three families were not involved, there would be no place for the Polly family in the future.

"No need!"

Leones didn't have to personally deal with this group of nonentities.

"You can leave for now, but pass on a message. If they come again, come together. Don't come one by one!"

Saying that, Leones let go and formed a symbol in his fingers.

He slapped James's back with his palm.

The old man stumbled, but his breathing suddenly became smooth, and he couldn't help but feel extremely grateful.

"Thank you, Mr. Bloom...I won't forget your great kindness...Goodbye..."

Without even turning around, while expressing gratitude, James fled as if his life depended on it.

"You're letting him go like that?" Veronica approached, puzzled.

“There’s no need to bother with someone who’s about to die!” Leones turned around slowly, facing Veronica in front of him.

This was the second time Leones had seen her since his release from prison.

In the moonlight, Veronica’s beauty was reflected, exuding a gentle charm.

Compared to the anger she was immersed in the first time they met, Veronica, at this moment, had a calm expression with a little more tenderness and elegance.

Of course, this was because Leones was currently disguised and using the identity of Kenton.

Veronica did not recognize him, otherwise, she would not be so calm and even have a curious gaze at Leones.

However, there was also a hint of surprise in Veronica’s heart.

Because this was the first time she had seen Kenton, but for some reason, even though he was a stranger, she felt a familiar sensation.

She thought, “Is it really my first time seeing him?”

Why does it feel like we have known each other for a long time?

Where does this familiarity come from?”

“Thank you...” Leones spoke first, breaking the silence.

Originally, these people had come for Leones, but they were tackled by Veronica.

“Huh?” Veronica came back to her senses, then suddenly realized and smiled. “Protecting the safety of the people is my duty.”

Leones saw Veronica smile for the first time, not expecting that she, who was usually cold as ice, could also smile so beautifully and enchantingly.

However, if Veronica knew that the person before her was the “murderer of her mother” in her heart, Leones, she would probably never smile again, right?

But Leones wasn’t foolish enough to voluntarily reveal his identity and cause unnecessary trouble and misunderstandings.

On the contrary, the current situation was quite good.

For the time being, Leones decided to temporarily use this identity until the truth about the incident five years ago was revealed.

“It’s me who should thank you...” Veronica continued, “Last time at the Lewis Club, did you heal my severed hand?”

“And you also healed Ariella’s leg. She said you are a very powerful doctor.”

Veronica remembered all of this and attributed it all to Kenton.

“It was just a small effort.” Leones calmly replied, “You don’t have to take it to heart.”

Although he said so, Veronica was a person who repaid kindness. “Can I treat you to a meal someday as a way to thank you?”

"I live in the villa down the mountain, and we are neighbors. If you'd like, you can also come to our house as a guest."

"We'll see," Leones replied.

Saying that, Leones waved his hand and turned to walk up the mountain.

Because of his disguise, Leones couldn't stay with this face for too long.

Moreover, the batch of elixirs he had just refined at home was almost ready, and he was eager to go back and check the situation. He had used a medicinal mushroom as the catalyst, and the loss would be significant if it failed.

"It's getting late, Ms. Quinn, you should go back and rest," Leones said.

Watching Kenton's figure in the distance, Veronica once again felt a sense of familiarity.

"This Kenton...from the back...why does he look so similar to that bastard?"

It was as if they were carved from the same mold.

Suddenly, a bold speculation emerged in Veronica's mind, but she quickly shook her head and denied it, thinking it was impossible.

"That bastard Leones can't compare to this Mr. Bloom! It's like the difference between a worm and a dragon!"

The thought of Leones sparked a flicker of disgust in Veronica's eyes.

In her heart, Leones was worthless, but she felt grateful and had a good impression of Kenton, who had saved her.

At this moment, James escaped alone and quickly arrived at the temporary location of the Wilson family.

“Zora, please...save me...”

Hearing his voice, the Wilson family members immediately became alert.

But when they saw a disheveled James covered in injuries, they were shocked and surprised.

“It’s the patriarch of the Polly family!”

“What happened?”

“He’s severely injured...”

Zora Wilson also came out and hurriedly went forward to support James. “What happened to you? How did you get injured like this?”

Although he managed to avoid the fatal arrow shot from Veronica with his grey robe, the arrow still tore through his back, dangerously close to his heart.

And on top of that, he was hit by Leones’s palm, leaving him feeling strange and extremely uncomfortable.

“I...” James paused for a moment, lying, “On our way back, we encountered an ambush from Kenton. All of my people were killed by him, and I was the only one who managed to escape!” Upon hearing this, the people of the Wilson family were shocked.

“How could this happen?”

“Did Kenton attack first?”

“Who leaked our whereabouts?”

Zora asked again, “What else did Kenton say?”

“He said...he wants to wipe out all five families next time!”

Just as he said this, James suddenly turned pale and tightly grasped his chest in agony, then fell to the ground.

It didn't take long for him to pass away.

The crowd was in an uproar once again.

“It's a talisman technique!”

Zora tore open James's shirt and was shocked to find a gradually disappearing pattern on his back.

“So, he was sent back to deliver the message!”

“It's a warning to our five families as well!”

“This Kenton is not ordinary!”

Chapter 129 The Secret Can't Be Revealed

Leones returned to the villa.

Coincidentally, Mia had also finished her work at the company and returned home from work.

“Kenton, I’m planning to officially start the company’s operations tomorrow.

“And I’m preparing a small opening ceremony, inviting some of our previous business partners to attend.”

With today’s collaboration between the Soler Group and the companies of the other Five Major Families, they stirred up the stock market and aggressively acquired shares of the Bloom family. This had attracted a lot of attention and caused a sensation both online and offline.

This also means that Soler Group was officially setting sail, making a comeback as a king.

“Sounds good,” Leones said, “I’ll also come to support you tomorrow.”

“But...” Mia expressed some concerns. “The only thing we need to worry about now is the Pope family.

“This afternoon, the CEO of the Pope family, Eugen Pope, called and made threats. He said they will continue to target us! And he has invited the renowned Feng Shui master Dalton Weber, who has a great reputation in Sherland.”

Upon hearing this, Leones reassured her, “Don’t worry, with me here, nothing will happen. You don’t need to worry about the Pope family.”

After settling the old accounts of the Bloom family, they can deal with the Pope family later.

“Okay,” Mia trusted Leones, which was why she dared to start the company’s operations so early. “By the way, what about the Ensnaring Dragon Formation you mentioned? When will it be completely resolved? Will it affect our opening ceremony tomorrow?”

After witnessing the power of the Feng Shui formation today, Mia had been concerned about it.

“I said within three days, the Ensnaring Dragon Formation will resolve itself,” Leones said confidently, “if everything goes smoothly, the formation might be broken during the opening ceremony tomorrow.”

“How will it be broken?” Mia curiously asked.

“Heaven’s secrets must not be divulged!” Leones smiled mysteriously.

It was not that Leones was teasing her, but there were many things that could not be accurately deduced. Moreover, once they were spoken, they will definitely not happen.

So, it was better to wait and see.

“By the way, there’s one more thing,” Mia suddenly remembered something. “I just heard that the Bloom family’s stocks have been suspended!”

“Yes,” Leones nodded. “As expected, they applied for a trading halt.”

But even so, today, Leones, together with the Five Major Families, quickly purchased the Bloom family’s stocks, and now they hold more than thirty percent of the shares.

It depended on how the Bloom family would respond next.

The night passed without any incidents.

Soon, it was the next day.

Leones accompanied Mia to the Soler Group building, preparing for the opening ceremony.

However, from a distance, they saw a crowd gathered near the building.

“Huh? Why are there so many people here?” Mia was startled. She didn’t invite so many people.

The surrounding traffic was even restricted and affected.

Mia found a place to park her car and walked to the company building.

To her astonishment, the nearby building belonging to the Pope family was completely blackened from top to bottom, as if it had been covered in a layer of black paint.

The air was filled with a pungent smell.

Nearby pedestrians curiously observed and whispered to each other.

“I heard that the Pope family’s building caught fire last night and burned all night long!”

“Why would it suddenly catch fire?”

“Shh! I heard that it was Harvey, the young master of the Pope family, who intentionally started the fire in the building. People say he was burned to a crisp.”

“Yes, this morning I saw someone being carried out of the building. Rumor has it that it was the young master of the Pope family!”

Upon hearing this, Mia turned pale with shock.

She looked at the burnt building and heard the murmurs of the people around her.

Mia felt a chill in her heart, and fear enveloped her.

She thought, "Could all of this be related to yesterday's fight?"

"How could Harvey, who was perfectly fine, suddenly commit arson and burn down his own family's building?"

"Look," Leones, who was beside her, pointed at the building and smiled. "The building has been burned with a large gap. The Ensnaring Dragon Formation has been broken!"

"I said within three days, this formation would naturally resolve itself. I just didn't expect it to happen so soon!"

Upon hearing this, Mia was shocked once again. She asked in a low voice, "Did you do all of this?"

"Well, you can't say it like that," Leones hurriedly covered up. "He brought it upon himself by acting unjustly!"

"Yesterday, he encountered the Ghosts Omen Formation, and his fate was destined for death by fire. I deduced that he would face such a calamity, so there was no need for me to intervene. The Ensnaring Dragon Formation was created by them, and it has now been completely resolved by them."

After listening to Leones's explanation, Mia still felt frightened, finding it all too terrifying.

"You don't have to feel sorry for him," Leones said, "Think about it, the Pope family used this Ensnaring Dragon Formation to bring about the downfall of your family. This can be considered their deserved retribution!"

Hearing this, Mia thought of her imprisoned brother and the suffering she endured over the years. She felt a sense of relief.

"Mia Soler!"

Just as they arrived at the entrance of the Soler Group building, a formidable middle-aged man walked out from the opposite side, accompanied by bodyguards.

“Mr. Eugen Pope?” Mia exclaimed in shock.

This man was Eugen, the father of Harvey.

Now, grieving over the loss of his son, Eugen blamed everything on the Soler family.

“You killed my son!

“You’re now the Pope family’s mortal enemy!”

Chapter 130 He Deserved It

Eugen led the crowd, blocked outside the Soler Villa, clamoring to avenge his son.

The crowd around the crowd started to discuss it.

“Didn’t Harvey ask for all of this? Why is this matter related to the Soler family again?”

“Maybe something is going on that we don’t know about, which will be fun.”

“The Soler family’s career has just improved. They might go bankrupt again if they dared to provoke the Pope family!”

The other party was up to no good, so Mia replied with an indifferent tone, “Mr. Pope, what do I have to do with your building burning down?”

“While your son set fire to the building, I had already fallen asleep at home!

“Don’t spit on anyone!”

Mia said it confidently because she did not know about this matter and was telling the truth.

“You!” Eugen was speechless. Because under normal circumstances, they would only suffer the loss.

Although Eugen knew it was related to them, there was no evidence at all.

Even the authorities concluded that his son Harvey was primarily responsible for the accident. He lit the fire in the building, and even the surveillance footage clearly captured it.

However, Eugen knew it was not his son.

Since his son came back yesterday, he had been acting weird.

The Soler family was behind all of this.

“Harvey was poisoned by Ghosts Omen Formation! His life was consumed by fire!”

At this time, a highly respected old man next to Eugen suddenly said, “It’s a pity that I came too late and couldn’t save Harvey’s fate!”

“And the Ghosts Omen Formation was the one you inflicted on Harvey yesterday!”

As soon as he spoke, the surrounding crowd expressed their opinions again.

“What is Ghosts Omen Formation? I feel like the truth behind this fire is getting murky.”

“Hey, isn’t this Mr. Weber? Mr. Weber ranks first in Sherland’s field of Feng Shui.”

“Since it is Mr. Weber, what he said was also credible.”

“I didn’t expect this fire to be related to Feng Shui!”

At the scene, the adverse public opinion suddenly turned to the Soler family with Mr. Weber’s words.

“I didn’t expect the girl from the Soler family to be so ruthless. She secretly set up a formation and killed Harvey from the Pope family.”

“No wonder Mr. Pope lost his temper. His son was murdered, which was irritating and lamentable.”

For a while, Mia became the target of public criticism, and she was beyond dispute.

Even if Mia said the Pope family used Ensnaring Dragon Formation and caused the Soler family to be destroyed, no one would believe it.

“Your disciple made Ghosts Omen Formation himself!”

At this time, Leones stood up and said calmly, “As a master, you don’t teach your disciple to behave honorably, but instead. pass the buck to others.

“However, your disciple also inherited your treachery! When you set up Ensnaring Dragon Formation here many years ago, you should have thought about how today ended!

“It’s said that everything in the world has a cause and effect, and God will punish all guilty people.”

When Leones finished speaking, the scene fell silent.

Everyone looked at Leones in disbelief, unbelievable that he dared to speak to Dalton in such a tone.

Dalton and Eugen were also both shocked and furious.

This young man actually knew Ensnaring Dragon Formation. Obviously, he had a special identity!

“Who... who the hell are you?”

Dalton was shocked, then became furious. “I got it! My disciple was poisoned by Six Fiend Formation! He was killed by you, right?”

The disciple Dalton mentioned was Caleb, who followed Harvey to visit him yesterday.

However, he failed to grasp the essence of martial arts and was defeated by Leones and lost his life.

“Your disciple made the Six Fiend Formation.” Leones said indifferently, “It’s just that he failed to harm others. Instead, he was hurt by it and died instantly!”

“Can you blame me?”

With Leones’s words, Dalton was even more determined that the person before him killed his disciple.

Immediately, Dalton lost his beloved disciple, and Eugen lost his beloved son!

The two people’s hatred for the loss was all due to Leones.

“You brat!” Dalton said in shock and anger, “You killed my disciple first and then Harvey!”

“I’m going to go over it with you today!”

And Eugen commanded his thugs and bodyguards to avenge his son immediately.

“Come on, everybody!

“Catch him!

“Burn down the building of the Soler family now!

“If you dare to harm my son, I will let you die with him!”

Eugen couldn’t help but want to take revenge on the spot.

Before he finished speaking, the bodyguards rushed forward.

The surrounding crowd suddenly became interested, as if a wonderful show was about to begin. “Which one of you would dare to do it?”

At this moment, someone suddenly shouted outside the crowd, separated from it, and led a group
