Chapter 131 Setback of the Pope Family

Conflict continued to brew between the Soler and Pope families.

Suddenly, a commanding voice cut through the crowd. Someone stepped forward to intervene and separated the crowd.

“Who dares to meddle in the Pope family’s affairs? You have quite the audacity!”

“Hush! Keep your voice down! Do you know who he is? He’s the son of the Governor from the Sherland Government!”

“Wow! So, he’s Darius, one of the Sherland’s renowned and respected men, also known as Mr. Timon!”

The onlookers fell silent upon learning of his identity.

Yes, the newcomer was none other than Darius.

Darius confidently walked forward as if he owned the place. The crowd made way for him.

“So, it’s Mr. Timon. Please forgive our rudeness earlier,” Eugen said.

He quickly shedded his arrogant manner and approached Darius with a respectful bow. Darius replied, “I was here to investigate the fire last night thoroughly. No one is allowed to act rashly until the case is resolved!”

Darius wasn’t bluffing. He had a legitimate reason for being there. He received an order to conduct an investigation but was caught off guard by Leones’ involvement in the case.

Eugen's demeanor shifted from arrogance to bitterness. He pointed accusingly at Leones and their group. "Mr. Timon, please see through their deception! The Sherland Government must ensure justice for the Pope family!

"They used Feng Shui magic to cloud my son's mind, leading to the tragic fire!

"We demand severe punishment for the culprits!"

Darius responded with a mocking tone, "Eugen, you can't use superstitions to manipulate others! There's no place for sorcery in the vast world.

"It's interesting that you have a Feng Shui expert right by your side. How can you accuse others of using Feng Shui against you instead?"

Dalton stepped forward and said, "I'm a Feng Shui specialist. I can confirm that Mr. Harvey Pope fell victim to the evil energy of the Ghosts Omen Formation within a Feng Shui formation, which led to his tragic death.

"The real culprits are among the people standing over there."

Darius looked suspiciously at Leones and suspected he might be involved in this case.

"You're saying the culprits are right over there?" Darius countered, "You seem like an expert in this field. I could just as well accuse you of being the culprits!"

"You!" Dalton was speechless. He was unable to respond to Darius's strong counterargument.

"Mr. Timon!" Eugen spoke earnestly, "What do you mean by this? Why are you defending them? Are you suggesting that my son was burnt to death out of the blue?"

Eugen wasn't a fool. He could see Darius siding with Leones, seemingly against his interests.

Eugen couldn't comprehend why Darius was fervently defending the Soler family's interests, especially when the Soler family was only beginning to ascend.

"We won't let your son's death go unpunished," Darius replied with equal seriousness, "But we won't falsely accuse others either.

"In any case, the Pope family should refrain from causing trouble. Anyone who dares to stir up trouble will be apprehended!"

Darius had clarified his position, firmly aligning himself with the Soler family.

Eugen held back his anger. He dared not to make any rash moves.

Even if he ordered his men to continue vandalizing the Soler Group, he doubted. dare to obey.

Eugen wasn't scared of Darius but deeply respected Darius's father.

He was the Governor of the Sherland Government, who held a high-ranking position. Even a formidable group like the Pope family wouldn't risk opposing the government. "Very well!" Eugen swallowed his pride and said, "I'll let them off the hook for now. But, Mr. Timon, I insist you thoroughly investigate this incident and ensure justice prevails for the Pope family.

"If you fail to deliver justice," Eugen added threateningly, "Then I will..."

Suddenly, Eugen restrained himself from saying the harsh words he had in mind in front of Darius. Nevertheless, the intensity of his anger was difficult to conceal in his eyes.

Darius didn't seem to care. He replied, "We will investigate this matter thoroughly. You can leave now."

Eugen nodded curtly, then glared at Leones and his group before storming off, seething angrily. "Mr. Eugen Pope, what's going on here?" Dalton couldn't help but feel puzzled. "Why does it seem like Mr. Timon is protecting the other side? Did the Pope family offend the Timon family?"

"How is that possible?" The Pope family had established a strong foothold in Sherland. Their connections and influence extended to all levels.

While Eugen didn't have a close friendship with Darius's father, they maintained a cordial relationship over the years.

They often made occasional visits during festivals and special occasions.

Eugen believed there was no reason for the Sherland Government to be at odds with his family unless the Soler family had somehow managed to secure favor with the government.

"This is troublesome," Eugen muttered.

He watched as Leones and his group chatted amiably with Darius. His suspicions grew stronger. He would resort to the shadows if there were no other ways.

Despite the Sherland Government's support for the Soler family, Dalton, a Feng Shui master, could work behind the scenes.

"Mr. Weber, I need you to seek revenge for the Pope family," Eugen told Dalton earnestly.

"Mr. Eugen Pope, you can count on me," Dalton replied firmly, "This isn't just a matter concerning your family. My disciple suffered a tragic fate because of that young man. I'll act independently even without your orders!"

"What's the use of temporarily breaking the Ensnaing Dragon Formation?"

“Don’t forget, the Pope family still owns three buildings around the Soler Group.”

Dalton squinted and looked at the surrounding structures. He was already devising a plan in his mind.

“I will set up another formation, the Gathering Energy Formation. It will turn the Soler Group into a deadly formation.”

While the Ensnaring Dragon Formation only caused the Soler family’s downfall, the Gathering Energy Formation would ensure the destruction of the Soler family.

However, crafting such a malicious Feng Shui formation would also deplete the spellcaster’s moral integrity and life force.

But Dalton, driven by his thirst for revenge, did not heed these consequences.

Meanwhile, the Soler Group across the street had started setting off fireworks.

The fireworks signaled that the Soler family was on the rise again.

“Hmph! Go ahead, have your celebration!” Eugen sneered disdainfully. “I’d like to see how long your company can sustain. Let’s see who dares to come and cheer for you today!”

Little did they know, Eugen had long ago delivered warnings to prominent companies. Anyone who dared to work with Soler Group or attended Soler Group’s event today would become the Pope family’s enemy, and Eugen would end all business ties with them.

When choosing between the recently revitalized Soler family and the well-established Pope family, most people would opt for the latter to safeguard their interests.

After all, who would risk financial repercussions in the business world?

Who would dare to offend Sherland's top ten prestigious families?

As expected, no guests arrived under the influence of the Pope family's manipulation. Mia and her colleagues stood at the company's entrance and waited for half a day.

"It's strange..." Mia murmured. She glanced at the time. It was nearly noon, and the banquet upstairs was almost ready. But no one had arrived.

Mia had already finalized everything last night. The companies eager to partner with the Soler Group had assured her of their attendance.

But now, they were conspicuously absent!

Mia couldn't help but look suspiciously across the street. Could the Pope family be orchestrating something behind the scenes?

Chapter 132 No One Came

The lack of audience outside the building made the surrounding pedestrians whisper and gloat.

"Ah, the Soler Group used to be one of the top ten companies in the world. Now that it's reopened, there isn't even a single person coming to show support or send flowers. After the richest man is gone, things have turned around."

"Yeah, people are just so realistic. The Soler family is no longer the same as before. Didn't you see it earlier? Even the Pope family dared to come to their door to cause trouble. This kind of thing has never happened before. As far as I remember, Eugen was servile in front of the richest man five years ago."

"I think this is it for the Soler Group. At most, it can only be considered a second-rate company. It's impossible to become a first-class conglomerate!"

Unable to bear it anymore, Darius said, "Should I ask the officers from Sherland Government to buy some flowers and roll the logs for you?"

Mia shook her head and said, "It's alright. Someone will come."

She didn't believe that all the 30 or 40 bosses she contacted yesterday would stand her up.

As soon as she finished speaking, her phone rang.

"See? I told you!"

Mia answered the call and immediately asked, "Mr. Hale, have you arrived? I'm at the entrance. You can come over."

The

person on the other end of the phone hesitated, faltering, "Ms. Soler, I'm sorry. There is an emergency, and I'm afraid I can't make it."

Mia's heart sank. She had thought that the man had arrived, but it turned out he couldn't come.

She would rather not receive the call.

Mia had mixed feelings.

"Alright, I see. Mr. Hale, you can go ahead with your business."

She hung up the phone, and disappointment was evident on her face.

Just then, another call came in.

“Mr. Filler, have you arrived?” Mia’s spirits lifted again.

But when she heard the apology from the other end, her heart sank once more.

“Ms. Soler, congratulations on the grand opening. But I’m sorry. My father suddenly fell ill today, and I need to go to the hospital, so...”

“Could it be so coincidental?” Mia thought.

It was the opening day of her company today, but her partners were held up by an emergency or a sick family member.

Then, the third call came.

“Mr. Lowe, are you...” Mia asked, as if she had anticipated it.

“Ms. Soler, I’m sorry. My wife goes crazy and suddenly wants a divorce, so I have to go to the City Hall. It’s our turn now. Talk to you later.”

Mia was devastated.

After the initial sorrow, she began to understand.

There must be a reason behind these unusual occurrences.

Just then, another call came, and the excuse was equally lame.

“Mr. Frazier, tell me the truth,” Mia demanded, “Is it because of the Pope family that you dare not come?"

The caller went silent.

Then, with a sigh, the caller said, "Ms. Soler, since you've already known, please don't make things difficult for me. We're just small companies who don't dare to offend big shots like you. Moreover, thirty percent of our cooperative projects are related to companies under the Pope family. Please understand our difficulties."

"Alright, I understand." Mia hung up the phone and looked across the street.

Sure enough, Eugen was looking back at her provocatively.

He seemed to say, "Dare to fight with me? Let's see who dares to come and support you!"

"Is it the Pope family causing this?" Leones asked, "So, no one is coming?"

"Yes." Mia nodded. "If they come, they will lose business contracts with the Pope family. Our company has just been established, and the future is uncertain, so no one dares to take the risk."

No one dared to stand with the Soler family in this situation.

Leones smiled, unconcerned. "This is easy. Let's invite some people who don't care about the Pope family."

People who didn't care about the Pope family?

Mia shook her head and smiled bitterly.

The Pope family was one of the top ten clans in Sherland. Even if they had no business connection with the Pope family, the people still had to worry about their suppression and revenge.

Those who could ignore the Pope family were numbered in the entire business circle. Unless... Mia thought of something.

Before she could ask, she saw Leones making a phone call.

After a while, the crowd prepared to disperse, thinking that no one would come.

“Look at that!”

“A Rolls–Royce Phantom has arrived!”

“Somebody came! Who is it?”

The luxury car stopped at the entrance of the building, and the car door opened.

Josh then got out of the car.

“Ms. Soler, why didn’t you inform me of the opening of your company?”

“Mr. Bloom, I’m sorry I’m late.”

After receiving Leones’s notification, Josh rushed over immediately in his most expensive car. There was an uproar in the crowd.

“It’s the Shelton family!”

“One of the top ten clans.”

“I heard that the Shelton family rose to power with the help of the Soler family back then. Now that the Soler family is in decline, the Shelton family came to support them and repay the favor.”

The presence of the Shelton family and Darius somewhat graced the opening, although it was not grand enough.

Everyone thought that Mia could invite the Shelton family and that was it for the opening.

“Look! A Bugatti Veyron has arrived!”

“Who could it be this time?”

Chapter 133 Many People Come

At the same time, Eugen was feeling proud, standing in the opposite building.

He thought he was still influential.

His one phone call scared the entire Sherland business district, and no one dared to come to support the Soler family.

“Humph! Everything today is just the beginning!”

From Eugen’s point of view, today’s silence was nothing more than a warning to show his

“From today, I will let the Soler family not get a single business!

“In less than a week, I will let the Soler family be destroyed again!”

power.

He admired it for a while and was about to leave after seeing the embarrassment of the opening of the Soler Group.

However, a Rolls–Royce Phantom broke the balance of the scene.

In an instant, the car helped the Soler family win a round.

“What happened?”

“Who dares to come at this time!”

Eugen felt as if he had been slapped in the face. He was extremely unhappy and stared angrily at the car, wanting to see who was so bold and dared to disobey the Pope family.

“Josh!?” Eugen couldn’t help frowning when he saw the person getting out of the car.

Although the Shelton family’s background was a bit inferior to that of the Pope family, they could still be considered among the top ten wealthy families and should not be underestimated.

Eugen couldn’t do anything if the Shelton family didn’t show respect to the Pope family.

“It’s strange. I remember the five newly promoted wealthy families completely broke up with the Soler family, didn’t they? Why are they now in contact with each other again?”

“What is the Shelton family looking for from them?”

Just when Eugen was puzzled, another Bugatti Veyron arrived, completely turning the situation around.

“It’s the young master of the Peterson family!”

On the other side, there was another exclamation.

“Archie Peterson?” Eugen stared at that person. His brows tightened. “Why did the Peterson family even come?”

“Could it be that those five families have reconciled with the Soler family again?”

God seemed to answer him.

Immediately afterward, luxury cars arrived one after another.

The Sullivan family, the Davis family, and the Martinez family also sent people to support the opening of the Soler Group.

All of a sudden, Five Major Families gathered together and instantly broke the Pope family’s suppression.

Compared with those not-so-important companies and families that Mia had contacted before, the Five Major Families being able to send people here was even more critical.

“The Soler family really came prepared!”

Seeing this, Eugen gritted his teeth with hatred. He never expected that the Soler family would suddenly gather the former Five Major Families.

Once they unite, not even the Pope family could shake this alliance.

“Mr. Pope, don’t worry,” At this time, Dalton said calmly, “I don’t understand things in the business, but no matter how many people come to support the Soler family today, it won’t help.”

“When the Gathering Energy Formation is completed, no one can restore the decline of the Soler family!” He continued.

“That’s good!” Eugen’s face softened a little after hearing Dalton’s words.

But at this moment, another low-key BMW drove slowly.

“Is there anyone else coming!?”

Eugen frowned again, wondering in his heart. “Now that all the Five Major Families are here, who else will come?”

“It’s the Baker family!”

“Wow! So beautiful!”

“It’s Gloria Baker, the daughter of the Baker family, one of the four beauties in Sherland!”

“The reopening of the Soler family’s company is so impressive! Six of the ten major wealthy families have come!”

“As expected of the Soler family! From the situation, it can be concluded that their influence is still there!”

Another burst of exclamations came from the other side.

Eugen took a closer look and couldn’t help being shocked. He thought, “Gloria? Why did she come?”

It was weird that the Baker family also came to support the Soler family.

“Miss Soler, Mr. Bloom! I hope I don’t come late. Good luck with your opening!” Gloria said with a smile and congratulations.

“Welcome, thank you for coming!” Mia also quickly greeted her with a smile.

With the appearance of the Five Major Families and the Baker family, the unfavorable situation.

was completely reversed, and Mia secretly breathed a sigh of relief.

Of course, Mia also knew very well that these people came here for Leones’s sake.

“I have prepared the banquet. Please come upstairs with me!”

Mia said with a smile.

With that said, she said to the crowd watching outside, “Everyone can come in together and attend the opening banquet of the Soler Group! It’s all free.”

When everyone heard this, although they wanted to participate, they feared offending the Pope family on the other side, so they hesitated.

But at this time.

“Look!”

“Someone is here again!”

“It’s still an official vehicle!”

When everyone saw the special license plate, it turned out to be a car owned by the six ministries.

“Eh!?” Darius and Gloria were slightly surprised when they saw them. “People from the six ministries are here too?”

When Leones saw this, he was equally surprised. The people he notified had already arrived, but he did not invite any officials.

Immediately afterward, four men in uniforms got out of the black commercial vehicle.

After revealing their identity, one of them said in a serious tone, “We are the secretary of the Ministry of Finance.

“Who is the person in charge of the Soler Group?”

When Mia heard this, she was shocked and quickly stepped forward. “I am.”

One of the men continued, “Yesterday, the Soler Group purchased the shares of the Bloom Group in a big way, and then someone suspected your source of funds was coming illegally and reported this to the Insurance Regulatory Commission and the Banking Regulatory Commission!

“So we are here to investigate this matter thoroughly. Please cooperate with our investigation!”

Investigating funding sources?

Hearing this remark, Mia's expression changed drastically.

Since buying 5% of the shares of the Bloom Group yesterday, the only thing she worried about was the source of funds being investigated.

After all, the Soler Group officially opened for business today, and its financial situation was completely blank. Where did it get the huge funds to acquire stocks of other companies?

As long as it was investigated, she would not be able to defend herself.

As for the reporter, no need to think too much, it must be the Bloom family.

At this time, Josh took the initiative to stand up and explain, "The funds of the Soler Group are supported by the Five Major Families."

"That's right!" The Peterson family and others also agreed one after another.

They thought that with so many prominent families speaking out, these unimportant secretaries before them would just show up to go through the motions.

After all, the secretary was just a minor official of the Ministry of Finance, so they had to show respect to them.

But unexpectedly, the chief secretary sneered and said, "You gave it?

"In what name? Through what channels? Is it legal and compliant? Have you paid taxes?"

The secretary asked questions like cannonballs, and suddenly, Josh and others were stunned.

They couldn't say that the two billion dollars each family gave were all taken by Leones through extortion.

If they did, the nature of the thing would change.

"What? You can't even tell?" The secretary snorted coldly. "Then you are raising funds illegally?" Hearing this, everyone was startled again, looking at each other at a loss for words.

They didn't expect this secretary to label them illegal fundraising as soon as he came up.

Now, everyone could see that this group of secretaries, with such an uncompromising attitude, obviously came prepared, and they feared it was not easy to fool them.

"Hey, you should know who I am? Do you know who my father is?"

At this time, Darius stood up and tried to smooth things over with a smile.

“We are friends. Those who come are guests. It just so happens that the Soler family has prepared a grand opening banquet today. Let’s have a drink together.”

Seeing this, Mia quickly greeted them with a smile.

“Don’t act like this!”

However, the group of secretary officers remained cold-faced and uninoved.

“We’re here to do research. We’re not here to attend your opening banquet!”

As he said that, the chief secretary looked at Darius calmly and said, “We naturally know your father. But the Sherland Government has no right to intervene in the investigation of the Ministry of Finance!

“Mr. Timon, it’s not that we don’t give you face. Even if your father is here, we will continue

Chapter 134 No Mercy

investigating and never be biased!”

When Darius heard this, he was immediately angry and annoyed.

Because there was nothing wrong with what the secretary said, the Sherland Government really had no control over the Ministry of Finance.

But this group of little secretaries dared not respect him and even threatened that they would do this even if his father were here.

This made Darius very unhappy.

“What if it’s the Baker family!”

Seeing that them was so unreasonable, Gloria couldn't help but stand up.

"To be honest, the Baker family also has an investment in the Soler Group's finance! And the Baker family is willing to guarantee it!

"You are from the Ministry of Finance, so you should know my grandfather, Orlando Baker, right!?"

The secretary still said seriously, "Ms. Baker, we are also following orders. Please don't embarrass us! Sir Baker used to be our senior, so we naturally respect him. But it has nothing to do with our investigation!"

"Who orders you to investigate this matter?" Gloria said, taking out her mobile phone. "I'll call Uncle Edward and ask!"

The Uncle Edward she was talking about was naturally Edward Merrick, the Deputy Minister of Finance, whom her grandfather promoted in person.

When they heard that she would call Edward, the secretaries did not dare to speak too much, and their expressions softened again.

"Uncle Edward, my friend's company just opened today, and several secretaries from the Ministry of Finance came to investigate the funds." Gloria briefly described the situation here.

After hearing that this matter was not only about the Baker family but Leones was also involved, Edward naturally would not be an onlooker.

Since the last time, knowing that John had been defeated by this young man, Edward's view of Leones also underwent a total change.

"Okay, give the phone to those secretaries, and I'll talk to them," Edward said on the other end of the phone.

“Okay!” Gloria handed the phone to the chief secretary again. “Uncle Edward asked you to answer the phone.”

The secretary took the phone and called out respectfully, “Mr. Merrick!”

After all, Edward, as the deputy minister, was one of the top three influential figures in the Ministry of Finance. And they were just a group of grassroots secretaries.

After repeatedly nodding in agreement, the secretary finally added, “We are here to investigate this matter at the order of Mr. Connor!”

“What? Mr. Connor?” Hearing this title, Gloria and Darius couldn’t help but look at each other, feeling bad.

If it was that Mr. Connor, they feared that...

“Ms. Baker, Mr. Merrick asked you to answer the phone.” The secretary returned the phone to Gloria.

“Hello...” Gloria replied weakly.

“Gloria, it’s not that I didn’t help you with this. It’s really...” Edward also began to feel embarrassed on the other end of the phone. “They are ordered by Mr. Connor, and I don’t dare to help you!”

Mr. Connor was Yule Connor, Chief Executive of the Ministry of Finance.

This was the position where Gloria’s grandfather once was.

Now, Yule, the head of the Ministry of Finance, had orders. As the deputy minister, who was junior to him, Edward naturally dared not help Gloria anymore.

This was the official rank's power.

"I understand..." Gloria silently hung up the phone.

Then she glanced at Leones apologetically. That helpless look seemed to say that she had tried her best.

"It turns out that these people were sent by Mr. Connor. No wonder they are so arrogant..."

Darius whispered.

If he ranked Yule and his father, Yule outranked his father.

Now, even Darius couldn't get involved in this matter.

He didn't dare to cause such big trouble for his father.

At this time, the secretary continued to say to Mia and the others, "We highly suspect that there are huge problems with your company's funds, and you may be illegally fundraising!"

"Please cooperate with our investigation!"

Mia looked anxiously at Leones. She didn't expect the money raised by Leones would suddenly become a hot potato, and she couldn't explain it clearly.

"Who said we were raising funds illegally?"

Leones walked out unhurriedly, speaking calmly.

“The Five Major Families’ companies invested in us because they ordered a batch of elixirs from the Soler Group. We have normal business dealings.

“If you don’t believe me, there is a contract to prove it!”

With that said, Leones asked Mia to take out the original contract.

When the secretary looked at the contract, he sneered and asked, “What kind of elixir is worth more than two billion dollars per family? Is it a magic elixir?”

“Absolutely.” Leones casually took out an elixir he refined last night. “One elixir costs twenty million dollars!”

It turned out that in the previous contract signed with the Five Major Families, it was not a simple transfer of money but a condition of cooperation between the two parties that the Five Major Families invested in elixirs.

But at that time, everyone in the Five Major Families was stupefied by Leones's terrifying strength. How could they dare to read the contract carefully?

Even if it was a contract of sale, they had to bite the bullet and sign it.

Last night, Leones casually refined more than a dozen life-prolonging elixirs.

Each one was worth a fortune.

One elixir was worth twenty million dollars. This price was not a joke.

However, the group of secretaries did not believe it.

They thought this contract was just a cover for illegal fund-raising.

"If you don't believe me, then I can do nothing," Leones said frankly, "But what I can tell you is that the main business of the Soler Group in the future will be the pharmaceutical industry.

"The current investments of the Five Major Families are all planning for the future."

The chief secretary still sneered. "Just for this elixir, you can sell twenty million dollars for one pill? Are you cheating a fool? But no one who can afford this is stupid."

"That's because you don't know what Mr. Bloom is capable of!" Darius couldn't help but say, "Mr. Bloom is a real master! He has the ability to bring the dead back to life! The elixir he refines will definitely be in short supply in the future!"

“Hmph, although we know nothing about it, there are people who can understand.” The secretary said, “Didn’t you say your elixir is priceless? Dare you to let us take it back and hand it over to the imperial doctors of the Imperial Hospital to check it out?”

Imperial Hospital was the highest medical management institution in the country. Most of the imperial doctors there were famous.

For example, Philip William, whom Leones met before, was the registered imperial doctor of Imperial Hospital.

“Why am I scared?” Leones said, “However, after the inspection, if the elixir is damaged and cannot be returned to me, you will have to pay ten times the compensation!”

After hearing this, the secretary thought that Leones was speaking too loudly and he was too proud of himself.

Many people dreamed that they could be approved by the imperial doctor of the Imperial Hospital.

But this so-called Mr. Bloom actually dared to blackmail them for this?

“How can we not destroy the elixir when we take it for inspection?” Another secretary couldn’t help but say, “I think you are just making excuses!”

“At that time, if we find your elixir is worthless, will you have another excuse, saying that we damage the surface of the elixir, which makes us not discover the effect?”

Hearing this, Leones smiled calmly. “Even if this elixir of mine is divided into countless pieces, each piece has a corresponding effect. But put it together, it can still prolong people’s life by ten years.”

“If it’s as amazing as you say, we really have to take it back for an examination!”

The chief secretary put away the elixir.

He added another, “Until the examination of the elixir comes out, your company must suspend operations. The stocks you bought before will also be voided!”

As soon as these words came out, everyone was shocked.

Especially Leones, his brows tightened.

It was barely acceptable for the company to suspend business. Anyway, in the initial stage, everything was still zero.

However, if the purchased stocks were invalidated, then everything Leones had carefully planned during this period would be all in vain.

“A good trick is to treat the person’s body in his own way!”

Leones couldn’t help but sigh that the Bloom family was stronger than he thought.

He used the Bloom family’s connections to check the Bloom family’s company’s accounts. Unexpectedly, the Bloom family used the same method to deal with him!

Moreover, they could find the Chief Executive to help them!

“Then when will you get the results?” Mia asked.

“Perhaps three to five days or one or two weeks.” The secretary smiled slyly. “For such a powerful miracle medicine, it might need a year and a half to have the result.”

Hearing this, everyone was shocked and angry.

Obviously, they had no intention of really finding out anything but relied on this reason to drag their company to death.

Mia felt gloomy. She didn’t expect she would be struck again as soon as she started.

Sure enough, it was exactly as she had imagined. Their failure was because they had no backing! Now, a small secretary of the Ministry of Finance dared to be bossy in their company.

Most importantly, they couldn’t do anything to the secretaries.

“Okay, just take it back for inspection!” At this time, Leones suddenly said again, “But I want to go back with you.”

It seemed that it was time to make use of Webster’s sources.

“Leones, what are you doing there?” Mia asked worriedly.

“Mr. Bloom, please don’t worry. I will ask my grandfather for help, and it will be resolved soon,” Gloria said.

“Well, I’ll tell my dad when I get back and ask him to help,” Darius also promised.

Leones smiled and said, “Don’t they suspect that there is a problem with our funds? I will go back with them and cooperate to conduct a more comprehensive inspection. I will try to solve the problem completely today.”

Today?

Solve it completely?

After hearing this, the secretaries felt funny and thought Leones was overestimating his own abilities.

12:17

However, they would allow him to follow them since this was his willing.

By the way, they thought locking him up for a few days would help him realize the reality.

Seeing Leones was determined to go, Gloria stopped trying to persuade him and finally said, "Mr. Bloom, take care. Call me anytime!"

As long as Leones was in trouble, the Baker family would go to the Ministry of Finance to help him out as soon as possible.

Immediately, along with the secretaries, Leones got into the official merchant's car and returned to the Ministry of Finance to report to their boss.

After they left, the crowd who had been looking on started a heated discussion again.

But they didn't gloat over the Soler family like before. This time, everyone even felt a little sympathetic to them.

"On the first day of business, they were under intense scrutiny from the Ministry of Finance and had to close down for rectification. This Soler Group is really unlucky!"

“Firstly, they offended the Pope family, and then they became the enemy of the Ministry of Finance? It seems a tough job for the Soler family to make a comeback!”

At this moment, the entire Soler Group seemed shrouded in haze, with no joyful atmosphere at all.

No one knew whether the Soler family could survive this disaster.

“Could it be that... we will end when everything just starts?” Mia bit her red lips, feeling unwilling.

“Leones...” Now, Mia’s last hope could only be pinned on Leones.

She hoped his trip would go smoothly.

The Soler family was seized by the Ministry of Finance, and even the company had to suspend its business.

This breaking news spread like wildfire.

Some people were happy, and some were sad.

The Pope family on the opposite side got the great news quickly.

After witnessing everything, they were excited.

“Retribution! It’s their retribution! God helps me!”

The depression that accumulated in Eugen was instantly swept away.

Eugen was shocked when he saw the official vehicles entering the venue.

He mistakenly thought that the Soler family had found a big backer in the officialdom.

If that were the case, it would be a great disadvantage to the Pope family.

Even the retaliation against the Soler family needed to be reconsidered.

He never expected that the official vehicles were not to attend the opening ceremony but to seize the company!

After hearing the news, Eugen almost fainted from laughter.

“I haven’t done anything, but the Soler family is doomed!”

“Now that you have offended the Ministry of Finance, no one dares to associate with you!”

The Pope family was even more unscrupulous when they retaliated against the Soler family and avenged Eugen’s dead son.

Dalton also nodded secretly and said, “It seems that Ensnaring Dragon Formation still works!”

“OK, I’ll take this opportunity to set up Gathering Energy Formation in the remaining three buildings so that the Soler family will be completely dead!”

Hearing this, Eugen hurriedly thanked. “Thanks to Mr. Weber! If you have anything to prepare, just ask. The Pope family will do our best to help!”

At this time, the Bloom family.

“Dad, tell you good news!”

“Soler Group just opened today, and it was seized by the Ministry of Finance!”

“Because their source of funds is unknown, all the stocks of our company that were bought at the bottom before are also voided!”

As soon as these words came out, the whole Bloom family cheered.

The haze that had shrouded the Bloom family before also dissipated.

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief as the most difficult day was finally over.

“Good!”

In contrast, Benjamin seemed calmer.

Last night, after visiting a boss and getting some promises, Benjamin was less worried.

And everything that happened today was just natural and unexpected.

Chapter 136 A Letter

Immediately, Benjamin stood up and bowed to the north. “Thank you, Mr. Connor!”

Yule indeed kept his word.

“Oh, it’s a pity that only the shares bought by the Soler family were withdrawn.” Jason said with some regret, “It would be even better if all the shares of the other five companies could be withdrawn.”

Hearing that his son was so insatiable, Benjamin quickly reprimanded him, “You are greedy!”

“This five percent is enough to save the Bloom family. At least Soler Group was the largest shareholder! Those five families together are not important!”

“What’s more, thanks to their crazy buying of our stocks, when the market opens next time, it can be predicted that Bloom Group’s stocks will skyrocket!”

In short, every loss must be followed by a gain.

Benjamin was also very open about this and taught his sons not to be too greedy, which was a reminder for businessmen.

“Dad, what should we do next?”

After the incident, the Bloom family united again, ready to fight a big battle.

“Of course, it is to stabilize the morale!” Benjamin stood up and said, “Many people thought that our family was going to be ruined.”

“Henry, arrange a grand dinner tomorrow night and invite bigwigs from all walks of life in Sherland.”

“We must send a clear signal to others. Not only will our family not be ruined, but it will be even better.”

At the same time.

Leones had followed the administrative staff to the Ministry of Finance.

“You take this elixir to the Imperial Hospital for an examination to see if it is a real medicine.”

The chief staff handed the elixir to a clerk and asked him to the Imperial Hospital.

“Oh, by the way, what is the name of your elixir, and what is its effect?”

Leones said, “Life Renewal Pill!”

“It has the effect of prolonging life!”

Hearing it, everyone around was shocked.

The staff, as if they were already familiar with the strangeness, quietly watched him bragging.

“Okay, let’s call it this name. I hope the doctor thinks so.”

Then, the staff brought Leones to an interrogation room.

But it was actually a quiet reception room.

Someone would come here to take notes later.

“Wait a minute.” Leones said, “I want to meet Mr. Connor.”

The staff was startled and then sneered. “There are too many people who want to see Mr. Connor, and it’s hard for us to even meet him. Do you want to complain face to face?”

“I advise you to cooperate with the investigation honestly and think carefully.”

1 12:17

The staff didn't embarrass him as what he said was the truth.

Yule was the head of the Ministry of Finance, so not everyone could see him.

“Okay.” As he said, Leones took out a handwritten letter again. “Then please hand this letter to Mr. Connor. He will see me after reading this letter.”

The secretary was skeptical and thought, “What could have such a great magical power that Mr. Connor could condescend to come to see him?”

However, when the staff received the letter and took a closer look, he was shocked.

With a shake of his hand, the letter almost fell to the ground.

“This... this is...”

The staff was horrified.

The staff, holding the letter in both hands, trotted to the top floor of the office building of the Ministry of Finance.

Wherever he passed, everyone who saw this handwriting allowed him to go.

Finally, he came to the only office space on the top floor.

A grey-headed man was burying his head in a sea of books, reviewing various documents.

If Benjamin were here, he would recognize this man at a glance as the boss he visited over the weekend. He was the Chief Executive of the Ministry of Finance, Yule Connor.

“Your Excellency!”

The staff bowed respectfully.

The man raised his head, slightly surprised.

Under normal circumstances, when grassroots personnel had something to report, they submitted it to each level, and few people could report it in person.

Since he was allowed to come up all the way, there was something important to report. “What’s the matter?”

Yule stopped working and treated his subordinates equally.

“Your Excellency, someone wants to deliver this letter to you.”

The staff handed over the handwritten letter.

Yule was taken aback, thinking, “Why do I need to care about such trivial matters?”

However, Yule took a closer look at the signature.

Suddenly, his whole body seemed to be electrocuted. He jumped up from his seat with a horrified look on his face.

He grabbed the letter and glanced at it from beginning to end.

Then the second time, he read every word carefully.

After confirming three or four times, Yule regained his composure and trembled uncontrollably.

“It’s the former prime minister’s handwriting!”

In addition to being excited, Yule’s eyes turned slightly red.

Then, he looked at the staff again and asked excitedly, “Who is the person who delivered the letter? Where is he?”

Seeing this, the staff was startled immediately.

He had never seen Yule lose his composure like this before.

However, when he saw the signature of the letter just now, he was also frightened.

Although that was already a taboo name, he was once the prime minister in charge of six departments!

“He’s...”

The staff told the whole story in detail.

“What?”

Yule was shocked when he heard this.

“The

person who sent the letter turned out to be a member of the Bloom family? This...” For a while, Yule couldn’t figure it out.

Yesterday, the head of the Bloom family met him and asked him to help the Bloom family tide over the difficulties.

In the end, he didn’t expect that the person who drove the Bloom family to desperation was a member of the Bloom family.

“Quick! Take me to meet him!”

Yule immediately wanted to see him first.

At this time.

Interrogation room.

Leones was sitting bored.

He didn’t know whether Webster’s letter would work or not.

After all, Webster was no longer the prime minister.

Suddenly, the door was pushed open.

A middle-aged man walked in with a cold face.

“You are Leones?” He was not kind, as if meeting an enemy, and said viciously, “Do you know who I am?”

When Leones saw this, he couldn't help but be startled.

He thought, “Is he from the Ministry of Finance? He is so young?”

Moreover, this person was full of hatred towards me. Is the letter self-defeating?”

“My son Brian was killed by you!” The man said with a ferocious expression, “I am his father, Leonard Jackson!”

Hearing this, Leones suddenly realized.

No wonder this person hated him so much. He was indeed an enemy.

Leonard used to be a Police Chief in the government.

Because Brian had a grudge against Leones, Leonard stood up for his son. As a result, the two lost everything.

Brian lost his job, and Leonard was also suspended for investigation.

However, Leonard was social and had some influential friends, so he found a job in the Ministry of Finance.

However, everything was unpredictable.

Leonard's son, Brian, still harbored grievances and even kidnapped Susan as a form of revenge.

Leones rushed to stop the atrocities in time.

Under Susan's persuasion, Leones did not kill Brian on the spot but crippled him.

Unfortunately, there was no one in the abandoned factory. When someone found Brian a few days later, he had already bled to death.

Chapter 137 Bereavement

Evil was regarded with evil.

However, Leonard resented Leones and wanted to kill Leones all the time.

"You finally offended a more powerful person and were caught in the Ministry of Finance!"

When Leonard came, he asked the reason why Leones was arrested.

It was Yule who personally ordered the person to arrest him.

"Let's see if you can escape the law this time?"

Leonard had made up his mind that once Leones was imprisoned. Even if he lost everything, he would torture Leones to death.

"Your son did such a vicious thing. Don't you, as a father, have any remorse and shame?" Leones said coldly, "His death was deserved!"

“But the crime is not worthy of death!” Leonard roared angrily, “If you kill him, no matter what big mistake he makes, it will still be your fault! I just want you to pay for my son’s life!”

“If I were you, I would leave now.” Leones warned, “Otherwise, you will lose not only your son but everything!”

Hearing this, Leonard couldn’t help but become furious. “At this time, you still dare to threaten me! You don’t know death! I want to see how long you can be arrogant!”

When the two were arguing, the door was open suddenly.

At this time, an old man who was the leader stepped in with the momentum and majesty of a superior person all over his body.

When Leonard saw him, he was so frightened that he fell silent, bowed his head, and retreated to the side.

The person who came was none other than Yule, the Chief Executive of the Ministry of Finance.

“You... you are Leones!?” Yule looked at the young man in front of him, full of questions, and wanted to ask clearly.

The biggest question was what was the relationship between this person and the former prime minister.

Before Leones could answer,

Leonard boldly stepped forward and said, “Your Excellency, this person is Leones!”

“I still want to report that he killed innocent people! My son died tragically at the hands of this person! He can get away with it by relying on his friendship with the son of Shuntian Prefecture Governor!”

“Your Excellency, please help me and my son!”

Chapter 138 Senior

To avenge his dead son, Leonard seized this once-in-a-lifetime moment and recounted Leones’s various crimes beside Yule.

Although there was a suspicion of exaggeration, he bet Leones couldn’t defend himself.

However, Yule hardly listened to what he said.

Staring at Leones closely, Yule was waiting for his answer.

“Yes, I am Leones.” Leones stood up and nodded.

“Where did you get this letter?” Yule asked nervously.

“This is written by my master, and he delivered it to me.” Leones told the truth, “He said that if I encounter any troubles that cannot be solved, send this letter to the six departments, and everything will be solved.”

“The prime minister... is your master?” Yule was even more shocked when he heard this. “That’s right!” Leones nodded. “The former prime minister is my master!”

Yule was stunned again, still a little unbelievable, and continued to ask, “What is the proof?” “You should be able to recognize the letter, right? And this...” Leones took out an emerald as he spoke.

“This is... the prime minister’s emerald!” Yule was shocked again. “He... gave you this precious emerald?”

Leones put away the emerald and said, "Webster asked me to deliver this emerald to his descendants."

Yule nodded. He was sure of Leones's identity.

After pondering for a moment, Yule said with some embarrassment, "In that case, we can be considered as classmates!"

Yule was once the favorite student of Webster.

Now that he saw Webster's last disciple in his later years, he was Leones' senior.

"Then I should call you senior." Leones also laughed.

The age

difference between the two was huge, but they became friends.

This amazed everyone around.

The friendship was something that many people couldn't even imagine.

Leonard, in particular, looked confused.

Leones had a relationship with Yule?

For Leonard, this was like the end of the world.

Yule coughed lightly, came to his senses, looked at Leonard, and asked calmly, "Leonard, why did you say just now?"

Hearing Yule's question, Leonard felt like a thunderbolt in the clear sky and stood stunned on the spot.

He thought, "This situation was wrong!

Leones was arrested and brought to the Ministry of Finance for interrogation.

Why now do I seem to be the subject of interrogation?

12:17

And it was Mr. Connor who personally asked."

Leonard was even more frightened and broke into a cold sweat.

"Mr. Connor!"

"Don't listen to his nonsense!"

"He is not your junior at all, and he is deceiving you!"

Leonard seized the last chance to expose Leones and make Yule change his mind.

However, Yule was full of anger.

"Bastard!" Yule yelled and reprimanded, "I'm not stupid. I know who is telling the truth and who is telling lies. You don't need to remind me."

“I know

you.

You were corrupt and broke the law, so you were suspended by the government. Why did you work in the Ministry of Finance? You are quite capable!”

“And your son, relying on you, caused trouble outside. Although he died tragically in the wild, there must be something else hidden!”

As he said that, Yule looked at Leones as if he also wanted to hear his other side of the story. “Mr. Connor, the thing is like this...”

Leones recounted the grievances between himself and Brian in detail.

“Well...” Yule nodded and said, “Brian’s death was indeed his fault. Your actions are a bit too extreme, but it is understandable. You are young and energetic, but you should reflect on it when you go back.”

Yule claimed that Brian’s death was his fault.

When Leonard heard this, his heart sank completely.

“Mr. Connor!”

“This person is the murderer who indirectly killed my son. How can you “Your Excellency, please help my son!”

let him

go like this?”

Hearing this, Yule was also slightly angry. “I hate evil. I only make decisions for good people and never support bad people!”

“Your son has done such shameful things. As a father, not only do you not want to repent, but you want to punish him?”

“As expected, like father, like son! If the son is like this, the farther will probably be even worse!” Having said this, Yule ordered, “Take Leonard down and hand him over to the Supreme Ministry of Justice for interrogation!”

Then, four or five men swarmed up and captured Leonard.

Seeing this, Leonard completely panicked.

He originally imagined that Leones would not be able to escape prison today.

In the end, he never expected that the one who would be sent to prison would be him.

And he was sent to the highest-level.

This was to skip the Ministry of Justice directly and condemn him to death!

“Your Excellency, please forgive me... please forgive me!”

“I won’t sue... My son has died. I just want to let me go this time...”

12:17

“Leones... please help me. Forgive me.”

Amidst bursts of wailing, Leonard was dragged down.

“Ungrateful!” Yule shook his head helplessly.

“Forget it. Don’t worry about these villains.” Leones completely ignored these villains and would not be disturbed.

Then, Yule brought Leones to his office to chat.

“Leones! There is something unclear...”

After chatting for a while, Yule expressed the question in his heart.

“Aren’t you from the Bloom family? Why are you going against your family?”

Chapter 139 Magic Medicine

“I have some connections with your family!”

In a sense, Yule was the Bloom family’s biggest supporter.

“And I went to seize the Soler family’s company because your grandfather came to see me personally!”

As he spoke, Yule smiled shyly.

Familiar people went against each other.

The grandfather was against the grandson, and Yule was also against Leones.

“I’m telling you the truth!”

Leones also sighed and recounted his experiences over the years in detail.

After Yule heard this, he was also shocked and said angrily, “Such an evil woman is so unreasonable! No wonder, you want to take back the Bloom family. It seems that the Bloom family is responsible for all this!”

“On the contrary, it’s me who is helping the evildoer!”

Leones added, “When I came here, I heard that the Ministry of Finance ordered Soler Group to go out of business and to take back those stocks.”

“I hope you to be wise and take back the order. I can guarantee that there is no problem with the funds of Soler Group. In the future, Soler Group will also enter the pharmaceutical industry and will surely rise rapidly.”

Yule smiled and said, “Leones, don’t worry. Since it is a misunderstanding, I will take back my order and no longer embarrass the Soler family.”

“By the way, you were wrongly accused. I would also tell the Ministry of Justice to clear your name!”

“Thank you.” Leones saw that there was still a large pile of documents on Yule’s desk. Yule must be very busy today on Monday, so he stood up and said, “If there is nothing else, I will leave first.” Yule stood up to see him off. “I’m a bit busy. When I’m free some other day, we’ll have another drink and introduce you to some other disciples of the prime minister.”

“Most of the six departments in the cabinet are his students. So no matter what troubles you encounter in the future, you can come to us.”

As he said that, Yule returned the letter to Leones.

“Oh!” Before leaving, Leones suddenly remembered something and took out an elixir refined last night. “If you believe in me, you can take this elixir to prolong your life and get rid of all diseases.”

“Oh? Is it so miraculous?” Yule took the pill, hesitated for a moment, and swallowed it in one gulp.

Immediately, he felt a warm current rushing all over his body.

When Leones went downstairs and left, the effect of the medicine was fully revealed, and his fatigue was swept away.

Not only was Yule full of energy, but his work efficiency was also greatly improved. He felt as if he was ten years younger all of a sudden.

“Magic medicine! It is the magic medicine!”

“Leones is really extraordinary!”

“The prime minister’s vision for recruiting disciples is still so sharp!”

At this time, Leones went downstairs and came to the downstairs hall.

“Mr. Bloom, I offended you just now. Please forgive me!”

The staff who had just investigated and sealed up Soler Group came to Leones in fear and apologized.

At this time, the news had already spread throughout the Ministry of Finance. Leones' and Yule's teacher was the same.

Their relationship was so close that Leones couldn't be offended by those administrative staff at the grassroots level.

Thinking of their arrogance before, they were terrified.

"It's OK."

Leones didn't bother to argue with them about this trivial matter.

"Thank

you, Mr. Bloom!"

Those staff were overjoyed, as if they were receiving a general amnesty.

"Mr. Bloom, let's drive you back!"

For them, being able to send Leones back was the only thing that could make up for their mistakes.

On the way back.

The elixir that was sent for examination had also been sent to Imperial Hospital.

At this time, Imperial Hospital was in chaos.

All the imperial doctors were summoned to treat the wife of a great man as if they were queuing up.

As a result, the condition was complicated, and the genius doctors at Imperial Hospital were all helpless.

“Idiot! Trash! What a bunch of useless people!”

“Do

you have the nerve to call yourself an imperial doctor? I think you are all quack doctors!” “If something happens to my wife, I will make all of you die!”

At this time, there were bursts of roars in a luxurious ward.

A group of imperial doctors headed by the chief manager were scolded, but they didn’t dare to speak back.

The imperial doctors waiting outside were even more frightened and trembling. Even if they were sure to treat the disease, they were scared by the violent family members inside and didn’t know how to treat it.

“Who is the patient in there?”

“I heard that the wife of the war god in Alryne has a strange disease and is now critically ill. She came to Sherland to seek medical treatment.”

“The war god’s wife! This is a big trouble! If she dies here, the war god is angry. Wouldn’t he want to drag some people to be buried with her?”

At this time, the chief manager came out sadly and briefly explained the condition.

12-17

He asked, "Which of you is sure of healing? Come in with me!"

When all the imperial doctors heard this, they looked at each other, but no one dared to respond. At this moment, a staff member from the Ministry of Finance delivered the elixir, but no one could be found to take it.

So he came here and said loudly, "There is an order from the Ministry of Finance. Please ask an imperial doctor of the Imperial Hospital to help test an elixir."

"This elixir is said to be able to prolong life and cure all diseases. Please process it urgently to see if it has a miraculous effect."

Chapter 140 War God of Alryne

Hearing these words, the imperial doctors present suddenly became strange and complicated.

Longevity?

Cure all diseases?

What a liar this was!

What was this place?

This was Imperial Hospital.

The most famous doctors in the country gathered there.

So many imperial doctors dared not say that they could refine a magic medicine that could cure all diseases.

Someone from the Ministry of Finance came to Imperial Hospital to promote their miracle medicine.

Isn't this boasting?

How about hanging the plaque of Imperial Hospital to the Ministry of Finance?

Besides, now was a special occasion.

A group of imperial doctors were helpless in front of the patient in the ward.

People from the Ministry of Finance wanted to test the medicine and said that the medicine cured all diseases.

Isn't this humiliating Imperial Hospital?

"The Ministry of Finance should manage the accounts properly. Why do you come to Imperial Hospital to cause trouble?"

Mark Scott, the chief manager of Imperial Hospital, couldn't help but scold.

The rest of the imperial doctors also complained loudly,

"Isn't it humiliating Imperial Hospital?"

“If there is a magic medicine that can cure all diseases, why would Imperial Hospital be needed?” The staff member of the Ministry of Finance became the target of public criticism because of his unintentional actions.

Seeing that the imperial doctors misunderstood, the staff hurriedly wanted to explain.

But before he could open his mouth, the door was suddenly pushed open.

A strong man came out and shouted angrily,

“What are you mumbling about outside?”

“Hurry up and come in to treat my wife!”

“If you dare to push back and forth again, I won’t show mercy to you!”

As he said that, the man waved his fist and broke a thick beam beside him with a loud sound.

Suddenly, the whole house was shaking slightly.

The imperial doctors were so frightened that their faces turned pale, and they became even more frightened.

They had treated people with illnesses all their lives, but they had never seen such domineering family members of patients.

12:17

If everyone's family members were so unreasonable, then there would probably be no doctors left in the world.

However, all the imperial doctors dared not speak out in anger.

As a war god, he held great power, so he could easily overwhelm their small Imperial Hospital.

This

person was Felix Wellington, the war god of Alryne, one of the Nine Continents of Vericano. "Your Excellency, please calm down."

Mark, the chief manager of Imperial Hospital, was so panicked that he quickly explained, "Just now, someone from the Ministry of Finance sent an elixir for us to help test. It is said to prolong life and cure all diseases!"

"What?"

When Felix heard this, he was surprised.

"Since there is such a magical medicine, why are you still hiding it?"

"Why don't you give it to my wife quickly to save her life?"

When everyone heard it, they were also shocked.

How dare they give this medicine of unknown origin to the wife of the war god?

If this disease worsened, they all might be killed.

“Well...” Mark rolled his eyes and thought, “The elixir was sent from the Ministry of Finance anyway. Even if something goes wrong, it will be the Ministry of Finance’s responsibility.”

At the moment, Felix’s wife was very ill, and they were worried about their responsibility.

Since the Ministry of Finance has taken the initiative to share the blame, Mark decided to push this difficult problem to the Ministry of Finance.

So, Mark said seriously, “It is the panacea sent by the Ministry of Finance. Maybe they heard that Mr. Wellington’s wife is seriously ill, so they specially sent someone to bring it. We can try it!”

Hearing the chief manager’s words, the other imperial doctors also realized that he was trying to drag the Ministry of Finance into trouble.

In this way, it was a bit irresponsible to the patient.

But looking at Felix’s ferocious state of killing someone at any moment, everyone felt relieved.

And the staff member of the Ministry of Finance was immediately confused.

Who was the war god’s wife?

The Ministry of Finance didn’t send the medicine specially.

After coming back to his senses, the staff member was trying to explain, “Mr. Scott, you misunderstood. We...”

There was no time to finish the explanation.

Felix hurriedly urged, “Then hurry up and bring the elixir in!”

“Yes!” Mark personally held the elixir in his hand and walked into the ward.

The staff of the Ministry of Finance were stopped outside the door. “You guys also persuade him. This medicine has not been tested yet, so don’t use it indiscriminately.”

The imperial doctors outside the door smiled bitterly and said, “Look at that war god. He looks like he wants to kill people. How dare we!”

The staff of the Ministry of Finance sighed and said, “Oh, if this is not done well, people will die.”

He didn’t dare to take this responsibility, so he hurriedly called to report.

At this time, in the ward.

A slim young woman was standing in front of the hospital bed, taking care of her mother. She was Felix’s daughter, Lily Wellington.

Unlike her father’s roughness, Lily perfectly inherited her mother’s elegance and beauty.

But Lily had a masculine temperament because of her years of experience in the military.

“The people from the Ministry of Finance have sent a magic medicine that can cure all diseases. Your mother is saved!”

Felix walked in happily and quickly gave medicine to his seriously ill wife.

“Dad!” Lily hurriedly stopped him. She also vaguely heard some of the commotion outside just now.

“How can you take this kind of medicine of unknown origin? What if...”

Hearing this, Felix smiled wryly. “Your mother has no such case anymore.”

Felix was not stupid, and he would not be so if it was not a last resort.

But right now, none of the imperial doctors in Imperial Hospital were useful.

And his wife was critically ill and could no longer go to other places for medical treatment.

It happened that at this time, the Ministry of Finance sent an elixir that claimed to be able to cure all diseases.

Whether this medicine worked or not,

Felix felt that maybe this was God’s will.

Maybe, a miracle could really happen.

Besides, they had no choice.

They could only have a try.

Lily understood what her father meant, so she stepped aside and prayed silently in her heart, hoping for a miracle to happen.

Soon, his wife successfully took the elixir and fell asleep.

The father and daughter stood nervously in front of the hospital bed, anxiously waiting for the result.

At the same time, the staff member from the Ministry of Finance reported back the situation here.

When the Ministry of Finance learned about this kid, they were immediately in chaos.

This was the wife of Alryne's war god!

How could the elixir sent by the Ministry of Finance for testing be used casually to treat illnesses?

Imperial Hospital was trying to trick the Ministry of Finance to death!

So it was reported to Yule.

Everyone was waiting for Yule's decision.

"What elixir?"

"Is it Leones' elixir?"

After Yule heard this, he laughed. "The war god is lucky, and his wife will be saved! Now, the war god owes the Ministry of Finance a huge favor!"

After hearing this, everyone was confused.

Only Yule, who had personally taken the elixir, felt confident.

"I bet you that the war god will come to the Ministry of Finance to thank us in person later!"
