Chapter 15 Use You to Pay Off the Debts

Seeing this, Leones finally understood everything.

No wonder this place was a mess and looked like it had been ransacked, and many things were broken.

Apparently, there were bandit-like people robbing this place literally.

“Who are they?”

Seeing that group of people rummaging through boxes and cabinets everywhere, Leones frowned slightly.

“The creditor.”

Mia turned a blind eye to everything before her as if she had already gotten used to this situation. “They invested a lot of money in my brother’s company.

“Then the company went bankrupt, its assets were confiscated, and nothing remained.

“They couldn’t find my brother, so they came here to find things to pay off the debt in the end.”

Leones said angrily, “Then why didn’t you call the police? Can no one do something about this?” “It doesn’t matter...” Mia remained indifferent. “My brother owes them money, so it’s only natural to pay back. His debts are my debts. Since they want to take things away, let them take whatever they want.”

Seeing this, Leones felt it was not appropriate for him to act. Thus, he had no choice but to watch coldly.

As the middle-aged man had already looted this place many times prior, they could not find anything of value anymore despite having brought so many people. Thus, he was a little irritated.

“Fuck! Why is the house of the former richest man in the world so poor? Is there not even a single thing of value here?”

“Little girl! Did you hide some of the valuable things?”

“Where did you hide them? Talk!”

Mia replied calmly, “You can take whatever you like. All my things are here.”

The middle-aged man stood in the darkness, staring at Mia like a ferocious beast staring at its prey.

“Hehe... I didn’t realize Gellert’s younger sister is quite pretty! If you dress up nicely, you’ll definitely be stunning.”

“Little girl, are you really Gellert’s younger sister? Or are you actually his illegitimate daughter?”

Mia ignored these words and repeated,

“Can take whatever you want. Don’t bother me.”

The middle-aged man grinned, “Then what if I want to use you to pay off the debts?”

Hearing this, Mia was startled suddenly. Her body trembled involuntarily.

“Your brother owes us, the Peterson family, so much money. How can taking some lousy furniture from this place make up for it?”

“Since you have grown up and have quite a pretty face, why don’t I sell you to a brothel to make money and pay off your debts slowly?”

As the middle-aged man spoke, he waved his hand and ordered the others.

“Take that little girl away!”

“I will train her tonight and try to sell her for a good price! Hehe...”

After the middle-aged man finished speaking, his subordinates immediately rushed up and walked toward Mia.

“What are you trying to do?” Mia completely panicked. “I can give you whatever you want, but don’t touch me!”

The middle-aged man sneered and said, “But you have nothing now. I only want you today!” “Your asshole!” Mia said angrily, “My brother used to treat you well. Although the Peterson family lost the money it invested in us, you people have earned so much more over the years from us too!”

“Not only are you ungrateful, but you even want to take me away? If my brother comes out in the future, he will not forgive you!”

Hearing this, the middle-aged man laughed even louder. “Little girl, stop dreaming. Your brother won’t come out! He’ll never come out!”

“Just obediently go back with me, and you will be my woman from now on!”

While speaking, the group of Peterson family servants had half surrounded Mia and stretched out their evil hands, trying to catch her.

“Ah!” Mia screamed in horror, stepping back in fright.

Just when the pair of filthy hands at the forefront were about to touch Mia’s cheek, Leones moved.

Crack!

Leones struck like lightning and clamped the man’s wrist.

Then, with a firm grip, there was the sound of bones breaking and tendons snapping.

“Ah!” The servant held his broken wrist, screamed, and fainted from the pain.

Leones stood in front of Mia.

“Huh!? What are you doing, punk?” The middle-aged man glared at Leones when he saw this. How could he have expected someone to come out of nowhere and ruin his plan?

Leones said coldly, “I don’t care who you are, and I don’t care what you have done before.”

“But starting today, I am the new owner of this Cloud Nine villa.”

“Whoever dares to touch everything here, including Mia, shall die!”
