

Out of Prison 16

Chapter 16 Do You Think You Can Leave?

Leones restrained the servant with one move and let out bold words.

Everyone present was stunned.

Immediately, the middle-aged man felt so insulted he actually laughed.

“You? You’ve got some guts!”

“Even I don’t dare to say I’m the owner of the Cloud Nine, yet you dare to make this place yours right after you got here?”

“Let’s see if you are capable of doing that!”

As the middle-aged man said that, he snorted coldly and waved his hand to signal the rest of his men.

“What are you still doing in a daze? Do it! Teach this kid a lesson! Make him suffer!”

Knowing that they outnumbered Leones, the about eight servants surrounded and dashed toward him.

They thought it was going to be a one-sided fight.

However...

“Bang!” Leones only made one punch!

In the darkness, no one could even see the punch clearly.

In the next second, the servants around Leones all fell on their backs and stopped moving.

Silence.

In the dark hall, there was nothing but dead silence.

Leones walked toward the middle-aged man step by step.

In the eyes of the middle-aged man, it was as if a demon was approaching.

“Who... Who the hell are you?”

The middle-aged man was so appalled that he became suspicious. Was this man in front of him. even a human being?

How was he able to knock out around eight people with just one punch?

Such horrifying strength was even comparable to the Guardian his family hired.

“Have you remembered what I said just now?” Leones asked instead of answering the q

“Yes... I remember...” The middle-aged man nodded dully.

“If you do, go back and bring the things you took from this place back here intact!” Leones said, “If you miss one thing, I’ll use your life to make up for it!”

“Okay... Okay...”

Then, the middle-aged man fled the villa in a scrambling manner.

He sprinted all the way to the foot of the mountain. Seeing that Leones did not follow, he finally supported the wall to catch his breath for a while.

“Punk, do you think you can fight? What use does that have?”

“If ten people can’t beat you, I’ll find a hundred, a thousand! No way you can beat them all!” “You want me to return the things? Return your ass! You wait!”

11:47

The Peterson Villa was nearby.

Therefore, the middle-aged man immediately went home and gathered more thugs.

On the other side, inside the Cloud Nine.

Mia gradually recovered from the shock just now.

Only then did she realize that Leones was indeed capable, at least in terms of fighting. After all, he came out of prison.

However, no matter how good at fighting he was, what could he change?

A tree cannot make a forest. He was alone, after all.

“Thanks.”

Mia first thanked Leones for his rescue.

Then, she said, “Quickly leave. I don’t want to drag you down.”

“Huh?”

Leones was taken aback. Even after he showed his capabilities, Mia still did not fully trust in his strength?

“Why should I leave? Was that person very powerful?”

Leones not only did not leave but sat back on the sofa.

“His name is Archie Peterson.” Mia introduced. “The Peterson family used to be a second-rate family in Sherland and only became a wealthy family later with the help of my brother. However, when my brother was caught, they also abandoned him.”

According to Mia, there used to be only five wealthy families in Sherland. However, as Gellert rose, he helped to create five more wealthy families, and the Peterson family was one of them. “The Peterson Villa is nearby.” Mia said, “If you don’t leave now, it will be too late once they come back later.”

“Then let them come.” Leones said calmly, “I’ll wait!”

About 15 minutes later.

A continuous roar of vehicles came from outside.

“They’re here!”

Mia stood by the window and took a look outside, only to see that there were tons of people outside, which almost surrounded the entire villa.

“Where was that kid just now?”

“He better not have escaped. I wonder what can he do now?”

Archie, who was just scared away just now, was proud and smug again at this time. He led a group of thugs and broke into the villa.

Archie was a little surprised when he saw Leones still sitting there.

He thought Leones should have escaped long ago if he was sensible.

But... Archie smiled coldly.

“Even better that you didn’t leave!”

“Looks like you really aren’t afraid of death!”

“Then I’ll make you experience it today!”

During the conversation, more and more people gathered in the villa.

Looking around, there were more than one hundred thugs.

Everyone was holding an iron rod in their hands, and they looked fierce.

“Aren’t you good at fighting?”

Archie said provocatively.

“Come on! Let me see how good you are!”

“I brought a hundred brothers. Is that enough? If not, I’ll bring more! There are a hundred more out there!”

There were more than two hundred thugs inside and outside the house.

Archie seemed to be sure of winning. He felt that since they outnumbered that kid so much, there was no way they would lose.

At this time, Mia was also frightened by the scene in front of her and stepped back, leaning against the wall.

“I told you to leave quickly just now... Now it’s too late...”

Leones got up slowly and comforted her, “Don’t be afraid. I’ll send them away immediately.”

As soon as these words came out, the surrounding thugs all could not help laughing out loud.

When they came, they thought that their opponent would be a big and buffed man. However, to their surprise, it was just a thin and skinny kid.

we will go a little easier on you later!”

“Kid, if you kneel down and kowtow to us now

Facing the provocations of those thugs, Leones walked over step by step without any fear.

When the distance between the two sides was only about 30 feet, the thugs raised their iron bars and were ready to fight. }

At this time, Leones finally got serious.

Immediately, Leones blended into the darkness and dashed into the crowd like a bolt of lightning.

In the blink of an eye, like an invincible God of war, all the people Leones passed by collapsed to the ground.

When he stopped again, there were only people lying on the ground behind him. It was a mess.

The thugs on both sides were dumbfounded. They had never seen someone able to fight against a hundred people like this.

They all backed away one after another, trying their best to avoid Leones.

Archie’s eyes widened in horror. Looking at Leones, who was walking toward him again like the grim reaper, he forgot to breathe.

Leones arrived before him and asked, “What about the things I asked you to return? Why did you only bring people here but not the things?”

“I—I—I...” Archie was trembling with fright, then pointed outside and said, “I forgot... I—I’ll go back and prepare...”

As he spoke, Archie turned around mechanically, trying to escape.

“You think you can leave?” Leones’ indifferent voice, like the grim reaper, sounded from behind. “I gave you a chance, but you came back empty-handed!”
