Chapter 161 Don't Drink

“Witch medicine?”

Leones sniffed it.

He immediately knew that the so-called Killing Potion was made by witchcraft.

It turned out that the Soler family was a family of witch doctors.

In Fatuma, they were also called magic doctors..

“Kid, you are quite knowledgeable!”

Janice was a little surprised when Leones revealed her background as a witch doctor.

“Do you also know witchcraft?”

Janice suddenly thought that Leones, who was good at medicine and martial arts skills, was also known as a Divine Doctor. She thought, “Could it be that he is also good at witchcraft?”

“Witchcraft?”

Leones chuckled.

His twenty-ninth master was a great wizard who was once famous in the southwest.

If Leones mentioned the name of his master, Janice might know it.

“What are you laughing at?” Janice was irritated by Leones’ laugh.

If others knew that they would fight with a witch doctor, they would be afraid.

However, Leones laughed.

“I laugh at your childishness.

“Are you trying to control me with such a childish thing?”

Leones shook the Killing Potion in his hand. He sneered.

“Humph!” Janice snorted coldly. “How dare you say that?”

“Do you dare to drink it?”

At this time, David also sneered and said, “If you don’t drink it, that little girl will die.” “Why don’t I dare?” Leones’s current body was immune to all poisons.

It wouldn’t hurt him.

As he spoke, Leones raised his head and drank it.

When David and others saw this, they immediately became excited.

It was as if Leones was already a dead man.

“Don’t drink!”

At this time, a familiar voice came from a distance.

It turned out to be Marie from the Roberts family.

She did not leave Sherland but hid in the dark. She secretly observed the movements of these families, hoping to help Leones a little.

Seeing that they had kidnapped Susan, she sneaked into the cabin and successfully rescued

Susan.

However, now, Marie looked worried.

She thought that she was late to stop Leones.

Leones drank the poison.

Marie knew that the various drugs made by the Soler family could not only save people but also kill people.

Most of those drugs could control people's minds, making them crazy.

"Marie?"

David and the others were all surprised when they saw Marie.

Besides, Marie rescued the hostage they had tied up.

They became furious.

“Why are you here?”

“What are you doing? That’s someone we captured

“Don’t forget. This person killed your grandma! We are helping you take revenge!”

Marie ignored their words.

Instead, he looked at Leones worriedly, and kindly reminded him, “Spit it out quickly! You can’t drink Killing Potion! Once you drink it, only one of you will survive.”

After listening to Marie’s words, Susan immediately understood how powerful the potion was. “Leones, it’s all my fault...”

Susan’s eyes were wet with tears. She thought that it was her fault to put Leones in danger.

And the thought that Leones would risk his life and take poison to save himself, moved Susan even more.

Susan made up her mind.

She made up her mind that she would be Leones’s woman.

Susan thought, “If he becomes disabled because of this, I will take care of him for the rest of his life.

If he dies because of this, I will die for him. I will never live alone.”

“Hmph, even if you save that little girl, it’s useless.

Janice sneered and said, “Both of them have taken Killing Potion. Only one of them can survive!” “Then let me die!” Susan said without hesitation.

However, Janice stared at Leones. She wanted to hear his choice.

After all, in her opinion, Susan was just a tool to force Leones to appear. She didn’t care about her at all.

She just wanted to use her to blackmail and control Leones.

“Leones, if you want to live, kneel and beg me!

“Perhaps I will be kind enough to spare your life and let you be a slave of the Soler family!”

David also sneered and said, “You can capture him alive! Take him back to Fatuma and the Johnson family will punish him!”

Lucas still stared at Leones cautiously, fearing that something accidental might happen again. However, Leones remained as calm as ever, as if nothing was wrong.

“Don’t you think that you can kill me with that, do you?”

Janice frowned and said, "How dare you be so arrogant when you are about to die? "Alright, wait to die!

"I can also fulfill my task by taking your corpse back!"

Speaking of this, Janice began to pinch her fingers and chant mantras. She behaved like a crazy woman.

Suddenly, the atmosphere became weird..

Seeing this, Marie felt that no one could save them.

She thought that Leones might be dead.

"No!" Susan yelled, wanting to stop Janice.

However, Marie held her tightly.

"It's useless for you to go over! Leones has already sacrificed himself, so don't make unnecessary sacrifices anymore!"

Susan said with tears, "No! Let me die for him! Don't kill him!"

Susan cried.

However, Janice seemed to have made up her mind to kill Leones with Killing Potion. David was completely relieved. He didn't expect that things would go so smoothly.

He thought, "It was a pity that the Polly family was destroyed in vain. But, it was they who disobeyed the plan!"

“Will it go so smoothly?” Lucas was the only person who stared closely at Leones and was suspicious about that.

After a while.

Janice looked scary. Her voice was getting louder and louder.

Finally, she reached out towards Leones and let out a harsh scream.

Susan was so frightened that she closed her eyes tightly. She covered her ears and did not dare to look at the scene anymore.

“It’s over...” Marie felt that things wouldn’t be changed.

She had seen that people from the Soler family showed their power and used witchcraft to torture people.

It happened at a young age. She was frightened.

Everyone thought that Leones was bound to die.

But, after a while.

Leones still stood with his hands behind his back. He looked calm.

“How can this be?”

Janice was shocked.

She thought, “Why did Killing Potion fail to take effect?”

This is impossible!

This situation has never happened before.”

Immediately afterward, Janice pointed at Leones again.

She cast more vicious curses.

However, it still had no effect.

When everyone saw this, they were also shocked.

“I told you that you couldn’t control me with such a pediatric thing

“Childish!”

As he spoke, Leones pointed at Janice and said, “Let me show you real witchcraft!”

Chapter 162 The Great Sorcerer

Instantly.

The weird atmosphere around him became even stronger.

Everyone felt as if they were in another world. They were frightened. Leones pointed at Janice.

Immediately, Janice spit out a mouthful of blood and stepped back.

“This is...”

Janice was shocked.

“I have already cursed you with the Seal of Life and Death.”

Leones said coldly, “Now, I can kill you within one second!”

What?

Hearing this, Janice was stunned.

She guessed it.

But hearing this, she was still shocked.

“How can it be?”

“This is impossible!”

Originally, Janice thought that she would cast a spell on Leones to control his life and death. In the end, she didn't expect that the person who was cursed would be her.

Janice failed and she was in a dangerous situation.

As a magic doctor, she knew better than anyone that the Seal of Life and Death was powerful.

The moment she was cursed, her heart had already sensed it. She just couldn't believe it.

At this moment, the others all looked horrified.

Everyone around was stunned.

No one thought that the final result would be like this.

It was changed completely.

“I knew that it wouldn’t go so smoothly...” Lucas sighed and he wanted to escape from here. In fact, from the moment the Polly family was destroyed, he had the idea of retreating. However, he was stopped by the Back family and the Soler family.

With the wrong step, he kept making wrong choices.

The current situation was a total loss for them!

“How is this possible!?! Didn’t he drink Killing Potion?”

Up to this moment, David still didn’t realize how powerful Leones was.

He was not even as clever as Marie. “Could it be that Mr. Bloom is also good at witchcraft?” Otherwise, he couldn’t control Janice!

“Are you

all right?” Susan opened her eyes. Seeing that Leones was fine, she felt at ease for a while. Seeing everyone react abnormally, she quickly asked Marie who was beside her a low voice.

Marie nodded and said, “Mr. Bloom’s strength far exceeds our imagination!” Marie felt that she didn’t have to worry about Leones just now.

At the same time, she felt that it was fortunate for her to save Susan.

Otherwise, wouldn't the current situation be in danger for everyone?

"Who are you?"

Janice looked at Leones in fear.

"Why are you also good at witchcraft?"

Judging from the spellcasting, Janice knew that Leones was better than her in terms of witchcraft.

After all, when Janice casts a spell on others, she has to go through a medium first. For example, just now, she had to let Leones drink the Killing Potion so that the inside and outside should be combined before she could cast it.

However, Leones directly cursed Janice within one second.

This was no longer a level that ordinary wizards could reach.

It was a level that only the Great Sorcerer could reach.

"Who are you?"

Janice looked at Leones as being so young and wondered if he was a rejuvenated monster.

She thought, "Otherwise, how could he be so powerful?"

"I..." Leones paused, and said, "Tell me the name of my master, you should know."

"Master?" Janice was stunned. She thought that Leones must be a disciple of a great witch. "Who is your master?"

"Damion Strait!" Leones said the name of his twenty-ninth master.

Of course, it was not his real name. But, this name was very famous.

"Damion Strait?" Janice trembled with fright when she heard this, "The Great Sorcerer?"

"My master said that there are only a handful of surviving Great Sorcerers in the world."

"Is he still alive? He is your master?" Janice shook her head. She couldn't believe it.

This news shocked her even more than when Leones cursed her with the Seal of Life and Death.

"Who is Damion Strait?" David knew very little about witch doctors. He thought that the Soler family was already very powerful.

He had never seen that Janice had such abnormal behavior.

Then, an even more abnormal and shocking scene appeared.

Janice knelt and said respectfully, "I am sorry for offending you, the student of Mr. Strait. Please forgive me!"

Chapter 163 Do You Want to Die?

Outsiders might not know Damion.

But in the circle of witch doctors, Damion was very famous.

He could even be regarded as one of the top three Great Sorcerers in the world.

As for the Soler family, they were not qualified to be compared with the Great Sorcerer in terms of witchcraft.

Leones was the Great Sorcerer's student, and he cursed Janice.

Janice had to kneel and apologize.

She knew what it meant to offend the Great Sorcerer.

The Soler family couldn't afford it!

Leones could curse her with the Seal of Life and Death easily.

Of course, the Soler family could be destroyed easily by the Great Sorcerer.

"Janice, you?"

David was shocked when he saw this.

Unexpectedly, the Soler family gave up so soon.

David didn't know what to do.

First, Amber of the Roberts family was killed, and then the Polly family was destroyed. Now, even the Soler family surrendered.

Leones defeat them all alone!

David couldn't believe it!

Lucas also shook his head and sighed, thinking that they were doomed.

Now it was hard to change the situation just by relying on the Peggy family and the Back family alone.

"The Great Sorcerer?" Marie looked at Leones in shock.

She didn't expect that he would have such an identity.

She didn't expect that he would be the student of the Great Sorcerer.

Although Marie didn't know much about witch doctors, seeing Janice acting like this, she knew that Leones' master was very powerful.

Susan was also shocked.

She couldn't believe it if she hadn't seen it with her own eyes.

She felt like she was in a movie clip. She felt that everything in front of her was incredible.

Leones spent five years in prison after graduation.

Susan thought, "Why did he become the apprentice of some Great Sorcerer?"

What has Leones experienced in the past five years in prison?"

It was a bit unbelievable. But Susan thought that her grandma was saved by Leones.

Because of that, it was not difficult for Susan to believe that Leones was the apprentice of a Great Sorcerer.

"I deserve to die. I deserve to die. I didn't know that Sorcerer..."

Janice begged repeatedly and was so frightened that she broke into a cold sweat.

"Do you want to die or live?" Leones asked coldly.

"Of course, I want to live... I want to live!" Janice continued to beg.

"If you want to live, the Soler family must obey my orders from now on!" Leones ordered, "Who asked you to deal with me this time? When you go back, you must use the same method to return.

it!

"Do you understand!?"

Hearing this, Janice trembled all over again.

She thought, "Use the same method to return it?"

Doesn't that mean that the Soler family will become enemies with the Johnson family, the richest family in Fatuma?

If we offend the Johnson family, the consequences would probably be no less than offending a Great Sorcerer's disciple."

For a while, it was difficult for Janice to make a decision.

"What? You don't agree?" Seeing Janice thinking silently, Leones said sharply, "If you don't obey, I will kill you now!"

"I agree! I agree!" Janice came back to her senses, and said, "I will listen to you but..."

Speaking of this, Janice said awkwardly, "The one who wants to take revenge on you is the Johnson family, the richest family in Fatuma.

"The Johnson family is powerful in Fatuma. They have hired many powerful people. We, the Soler family, in Fatuma, have to rely on the Johnson family.

"If the Soler family and the Johnson family are enemies, we will suffer a lot!"

Leones didn't listen to her explanation.

He said, "But if you are my enemy, you will never survive!"

"You don't need to make excuses. If the thing is simple, why should I leave it to you?"

"I'll give you a week. After a week, I will go to Fatuma. If the Johnson family still exists at that time, I will destroy the Johnson family first, and then kill you!”

Hearing this, Janice was so frightened that she couldn’t speak.

Seeing that Leones wanted to use the Soler family and the Johnson family to kill each other, Marie felt Leones was very clever.

Moreover, Janice was cursed, and she had no choice but to obey.

The Johnson family not only lost a son but there might be even greater losses in the future.

As for the Roberts family, if they could take the opportunity to leave the control of the Johnson family, it would be a chance.

“Janice!”

At this time, David screamed and asked angrily, “How could you surrender to that kid and want to be an enemy of the Johnson family?”

“Are you crazy?”

Janice had no choice but to remain silent.

“Okay, the Roberts family is the first to secretly help him. Now, even the Soler family has turned against us!”

David sneered and said, “When I return to Fatuma, I will report this and see how the Johnson family deals with you!”

Then, David turned around, glanced at Lucas, who had been silent and said, “Lucas, let’s join forces and fight with him!”

“I don’t believe it. How capable is this guy? How could he bully us by himself?”

David said.

However, Lucas kept silent and didn’t move.

“Um?”

David was startled and said angrily, “Lucas, what? Why didn’t you say anything?” With that said, David reached out to touch Lucas.

He had nothing in his hand.

With a strong pull, a huge fox fur was torn off, which was filled with grass clippings. This was a dummy!

“Oh shit!”

David was shocked and cursed in anger.

“How could he do it?”

“When did he run away without making a sound?”

Chapter 164 Deity

David felt extremely frustrated.

When they had gathered together, the four prominent families were full of confidence and high spirits.

Who would have thought that now, some were dead, some had surrendered, and some had escaped, leaving only him alone?

How desolate it was.

“Oh shit!

“Every single one of you, enjoying the benefits but not reliable when it matters!

“I trusted you all so much, thinking that the five families were united!”

Janice sighed, “David, circumstances change. There’s nothing I can do...”

After all, facing the disciples of the Great Sorcerer, the Soler family didn’t dare to become their enemies again.

At this time, Leones turned to look at David, and noticed the movements of the masters of the Back family nearby.

“Will you surrender?”

Léones asked calmly.

“To hell with you.”

David did have quite a backbone. Even in his current isolated and difficult situation, he still stood his ground.

“The Johnson family has treated me well. How can I repay their kindness with betrayal? I won’t betray my main family!

“You scoundrel! Today, I, David Back, will fight you!

Seeing David’s determination, Leones agreed.

“Then, prepare to die!”

As Leones was about to make a move, David immediately stepped back, his expression turning fierce.

“Wanna kill me?”

“It’s not that easy!

“Let me show my strength to you!”

As he spoke, David began to form hand seals with both hands and chanted incantations under his breath, and his entire body emitted a strange aura “Heavenly emperor, earthly emperor, my family has a yellow weasel. Generations have worshipped it as a deity. Please, divine presence, don’t be alarmed!”

Before the words had even finished, David’s face transformed, with yellow hair sprouting from his skin.

Even the shape of the face became weird and distorted.

It was not like a human face.

On the contrary, it seemed to have been replaced by an animal one.

The figure became stooped.

In the end, even the exposed hands were covered with hair and transformed into a pair of sharp claws.

“David has been possessed by a ghost!”

Seeing this scene, Marie was shocked.

It was another childhood nightmare.

It was even more terrifying than the Soler family’s ancient witchcraft, which frightened her even more.

Unlike the Soler family’s mysterious and unpredictable witchcraft or the Snake Fairy the Roberts family had worshipped for generations, the deity the Back family worshipped was David and was invisible to the naked eye.

When it appeared, it was like an invisible ghost, manifesting by taking over someone’s body. The possessed person not only had a dramatic change in temperament but also a complete transformation in appearance.

power gained.

In short, the greater the change and resemblance to David, the stronger the David now looked just like a reincarnation of the Deity, with no trace of his previous human appearance.

In the blink of an eye, David had completely transformed into the Deity he worships. The two of them are identical, like peas in a pod.

“Hehehe...”

At this time, David gave a strange and sinister smile

Although the voice came from David’s mouth, at the same time, there was an eerie animal. language mixed in with the voice.

It was as if one person and one beast were speaking at the same time.

“Master, I will leave this kid to you to deal with!”

“Don’t worry, David! I will tear him apart with my own hands!”

David seemed to be playing two roles, talking to himself, which was even more weird.

“Mr. Bloom, be careful!” Janice shivered when she saw this transformation. “David has completely been possessed by the Deity, and the possession this time is extremely high in completeness. It’s going to be very tricky.”

This was the first time Janice saw David completely transformed into Deity, with almost no trace of his human form retained.

This was also a very dangerous move.

Because of the complete atavism, it was very likely that he would never be able to change back. It could be seen that in order to deal with Leones, David sacrificed himself completely without any reservation.

Leones glanced at the drastically changed David and couldn't help but be slightly startled.

After all, it was his first time witnessing this ability of possession and atavism.

He wondered about David's level of mastery.

In an instant, David's figure flickered like a ghostly specter vanicki

When he reappeared, it was as if he had burst forth like a lone wolf from the shadows. From the back, he quickly rushed toward Leones.

His face was contorted and born sharp fangs.

The five fingers spread out were like sharp steel knives, able to tear everything apart.

As David reappeared, Leones felt a momentary daze.

His opponent had employed a form of illusion to bewilder his senses.

Simultaneously, the beguiling voice of Deity echoed in his mind.

"Kid! Do you see me as a human or a deity?"

For anyone else, facing this question would have led to a mental disturbance, even an attack.

They would likely have fallen into an illusion, standing motionless like a wooden puppet, allowin David to attack.

But Leones was not so easily beguiled by this mere illusion.

“I see you neither as a human nor a deity. You’re just a yellow weasel!”

“You wretched creature! How dare you play tricks in front of me?”

“Why don’t you reveal your true form already?”

Leones narrowed his eyes slightly, and immediately broke free from David’s mind control.

Then he shouted loudly.

As David lunged towards him, Leones extended his hand and reached forward.

Crack!

David’s slender neck was precisely grasped in Leones’s palm.

It was as though death himself had throttled his throat, rendering him immobile.

In an instant, cold sweat poured down David’s back.

He didn’t even see clearly how Leones made the move.

He had already been completely controlled by Leones.

His illusions had failed utterly.

This kid... How can he be this strong?

Even if David was so powerful, confronting Leones, he seemed powerless to fight back.

“Great deity... Have mercy... I won’t meddle in this matter again... It has nothing to do with me... Please, don’t kill me... Don’t harm my spiritual path... Let me go...” Deity pleaded, realizing he had encountered someone formidable.

Chapter 165 Soft vs. Hard

Unlike the stubborn David from earlier, the Deity who had possessed someone seemed to cherish his own spiritual path and life more.

When he saw the situation was turning against him, he immediately begged for mercy.

At this time, David, who was still conscious, immediately asked, “Great Deity, what is the meaning of this?”

“David, the opponent is too strong. I can’t defeat him.”

“Well, you didn’t have to surrender to him either!”

“Otherwise? I’ve finally achieved enlightenment. Should I sacrifice it today for your Back family?”

It’s not worth it!”

“Great Deity. You!?”

David was about to explode in anger.

He couldn't believe that the Great Deity they had worshipped for years turned out to be such a cowardly and timid creature.

Despite having treated the deity like a brother and being extremely loyal in the Seeing this, Leones threw David heavily to the ground.

past...

Immediately, David fell so badly that he almost fainted on the spot.

And that Deity was also thrown out of his original shape by this blow.

A golden-haired weasel was actually separated from the body of David.

It was actually as tall as an adult, who crouched on the ground, trembling with fear. “Hiss!”

This was the first time the mysterious Deity had shown its true form.

Janice, Marie, and the others were wide-eyed, taking in a sharp breath.

“Is this... the Deity your family worships?”

“I’ve never seen such a big yellow creature before!”

David saw that he had revealed his true form and wanted to take the opportunity to escape.

Seeing this, Leones stepped forward and firmly pressed down on the yellow-skinned creature with his foot.

“Did I let you go!?” Leones said coldly.

“Master, what are your orders?” The yellow-skinned creature spoke in a submissive tone, far from the arrogance it displayed earlier.

“You, the yellow-skinned one, now that you’ve fallen into my hands, you must acknowledge me as your master!” Leones said, increasing the pressure as he pressed down even harder. “Do you accept?”

The creature howled in pain as it felt its spine almost about to snap.

It had no choice but to plead, “I accept... I accept... I’m willing to acknowledge you as my master and obey your commands!”

In most cases, the word of the yellow-skinned creature was considered absolutely reliable.

It had a reputation for always avenging any wrongs committed against it.

15:56

If it were to harm people, it would ensure that its enemies would never know generations.

If it pledged loyalty, it would follow through without fail.

peace for

However, Leones was still concerned that the creature might harbor resentment or seek revenge in the future, even if it agreed verbally.

Therefore, he chanted an incantation and imprinted the Seal of Life and Death on the creature's heart.

"I've placed the Seal of Life and Death on your heart. Your life and death are now at my whim!" Leones declared, "If you ever dare to have a change of heart, I'll make sure you die without a burial place!"

With that, Leones released his grip.

Suddenly, the yellow-skinned creature felt like something was tightly grasping its heart, causing its whole body to tremble, and its blood to flow backward.

It immediately realized that this was the power of the Seal of Life and Death!

Its heart, its very life, was held in the hands of this human.

"My Lord, please forgive me!

"I am absolutely loyal, never wavering!

“I shall serve you and your people for all eternity!”

“Well.”

Leones then let go of his hand and moved away.

The yellow-skinned creature got up, bowed respectfully towards Leones, and then knelt before him, appearing weak, helpless, and pitiful.

“Damn it!”

On the side, David watched, seething with anger.

This was the Great Deity his Back family had worshipped for generations, well-fed and cared for all these years.

Yet, it had been so easily subjugated by this outsider.

Others might not understand this feeling, but Marie, who had experienced a similar loss with their Snake Immortal, knew it well.

The Snake Fairy served by the Roberts family was also abducted by Leones.

At that moment, among the Five Great Families of Fatuma, two of their revered creatures, worshipped for generations, were both taken away by Leones.

Everyone was angry, thinking that Leones was simply a disaster for their five families. “David!

“Are you ready to submit now!?”

Finally, Leones's eyes fell on David again.

David, who had just been thrown so hard by Leones, fell to the ground. One of his legs was broken, and he could not stand for a long time.

"David! Don't be so stubborn! Hur

At this time, the yellow-skinned creature, who was lying on the ground, took the initiative to persuade David to surrender.

"You, this freeloader who eats and lives of others! Shut your mouth!

"I must have been blind to raise you for so many years!"

The yellow-skinned creature sneered, "Those who recognize the situation are the real clever ones. "Being obstinate is a major taboo for survival.

"I've survived and thrived by having no shame!"

Pff!

David was about to die of anger.

For the first time, he heard someone speak so shamelessly with such dignity.

But thinking about it, an animal was still an animal

Talking about dignity with it was like casting pearls before swine.

"Well!"

At this point, David sighed heavily.

“My Back family... is defeated!

“Young man, whether you want to kill or maim, I leave it to you!

“I only ask you to spare my clansmen! Let them return to Fatuma! My Back family swears never to oppose you or cause trouble for you again.”

Hearing this, Leones snorted coldly. “Do you even have the qualifications to oppose me again?”

“This...” David was suddenly speechless, his heart filled with regret.

Where would their Back family dare to oppose this young man again, or seek trouble from him? They wouldn't even have a chance to escape.

“My territory here is not a place where you can come and go, as you please!

“Furthermore, you even dared to kidnap my people! I'm even less likely to spare you!”

Speaking of this, Leones said sharply, “I'll say it again. Those who are willing to surrender today will keep their lives!

“Those who dare not submit shouldn't blame me for showing no mercy!”

Hearing this, Janice immediately summoned the members of the Soler family, who were ambushing nearby, willing to surrender to Leones

“We, the Roberts family, are also willing to obey Mr. Bloom!” Marie quickly expressed.

Having witnessed Leones easily vanquish both the Soler family and the Back family, they found themselves unable to resist.

Even the formidable Roberts family had no choice but to submit.

But David still hesitated, not knowing what to do.

He could stand firm and refuse to surrender, but he didn’t want to see his dozens of clan members perish here.

At that moment, the yellow–skinned creature surreptitiously possessed David once again.

With a single command, the hidden Back family members in the vicinity also emerged

“From now on, our Back family will also obey Mr. Bloom.

“We will leave the Johnson family of Fatuma and turn to Mr. Bloom’s command!”

Seeing David like this, all members of the Back family also knelt down on the ground and expressed their willingness to pledge their allegiance.

“What the hell! Who let you possess me and give orders?”

At this moment, David said these reluctantly sincere words, only to realize that the Deity had unexpectedly attached itself to him, acting as if it had the upper hand. This led to his clan members also submitting, making it impossible to turn back.

“David! I’m doing this for your own good, for the sake of saving your Back family.

“You couldn’t bring yourself to say these words, so I said them for you. No need to thank me!”

Chapter 166 Three Families Bowing

“Damn it!

“What the hell!

“My lifelong reputation has been ruined by you!”

David had been stubborn all his life, but in the end, he had submitted to a young man.

What was more, he was controlled by the Great Deity he had been worshiping, and he did something so absurd.

David felt like he had lost all face.

“David...

“What the hell is going on!?”

As David muttered to himself, the members of the Back family were utterly confused.

Did he surrender, or didn’t he?

“Alas!”

Seeing this, David sighed helplessly.

“I, David Back, always keep my word.”

Even though he had been tricked by the Great Deity’s scheme just now and forced into submission, the words had indeed come out of his own mouth.

Then David had no choice but to admit it.

“My Back family surrenders.”

At this point, among the five mysterious families of Fatuma, except for the escaped Peggy family and the nearly exterminated Polly family, the Back, Wilson, and Roberts families all submitted to Leones.

The Johnson family in Fatuma probably never imagined that their emissaries had already obeyed Leones’s command. It was like handing a knife to someone and getting hurt in return.

“The Johnson family in Fatuma has repeatedly been my enemy. How can I tolerate him?”

“You go back first and use your own methods to deal with the Johnson family.”

Leones once again ordered the three families to join forces and go back to fight against the Johnson family.

This request was quite challenging for them.

“The Johnson family is not an ordinary family.” David snorted coldly, “We can act as intermediaries and help mediate a peace agreement with them.”

“Continuing to be hostile may be too much for you to handle!”

They had investigated Leones as well.

Although the Bloom family had some influence in Sherland and could even be counted among the top ten distinguished families, Leones had been expelled from the family and was now a lone individual.

With what could he compete against the wealthiest family in Fatuma, the Johnson family?

Janice also nodded thoughtfully, thinking that David’s words were sensible.

“David, what you said is absolutely true.

15:56

“Mr. Bloom, please think twice. It’s unwise to be enemies with the Johnson family!” But Marie did not dare to say anything.

She saw Leones’s expression change and felt fortunate that she hadn’t spoken up.

“I’m not discussing with you, but ordering you!

“What qualifications do you have to bargain with me and teach me how to do things!?”

Before they could react, an overwhelming pressure descended on David and Janice.

Instantly, they were pressed down, kneeling on the ground, and even breathing became difficult.

“Do you think I spared your lives for no reason?”

“If you don’t dare, what’s the use of you?”

“Perhaps I should execute you right here!”

As soon as he said this, they were scared, and cold sweat poured down their foreheads.

The Great Deity, who had possessed David, also quickly expressed, “Mr. Bloom, please rest assured. When I return to Fatuma, I will definitely stir up trouble for the Johnson family, and they won’t have a peaceful day.”

Janice, after catching her breath for a moment, also muttered, “I will follow Mr. Bloom’s arrangements in everything.”

“You can go and do your part. Regardless of success or failure, I will come to Fatuma in a week,” Leones said.

Of course, Leones didn’t expect these three families to wipe out the Johnson family. He just gave them a little warning first.

After dealing with things here, he would personally visit Fatuma to settle the score with the Johnson family.

“Okay, you all go back!”

Leones waved his hand.

As if granted amnesty, they immediately disappeared without a trace.

In the blink of an eye, silence reigned in the surroundings, and everyone had vanished.

At the scene, only Leones and Susan who was in a daze were left..

At this time, Susan looked at Leones. Her eyes were full of confusion and incomprehension. She was full of questions, but she didn't know where to start.

Was this still the Leones she knew?

"Have you seen it all?" Leones said calmly. "I am no longer the Leones I used to be."

"I see..." Susan nodded. She also realized the huge changes in Leones.

"So, let's not meet again in the future," Leones said thoughtfully.

"Why?" Susan was taken aback.

"Because by my side, there are dangers and troubles." Leones said, "With me, you will become unlucky."

When Leones didn't have enough strength and power, he would be in constant trouble for a long time to come.

Susan was the only good memory in Leones's heart, and he didn't want her to be in danger.

Hearing this, Susan bit her lips, and after thinking it over, she said stubbornly, "I'm not afraid!"

Chapter 167 Bar Encounter

Seeing Susan's stubborn expression, Leones smiled helplessly.

Nowadays, he carried too much on his shoulders.

With more than a hundred masters, he also bore over a hundred grudges and favors.

Today, he could suppress the Soler family of Fatuma with the skills and reputation of his twenty-ninth master.

Then tomorrow, perhaps the enemies of his twenty-ninth master would come knocking at his door.

The world was dangerous, and people's hearts were unpredictable.

Since things had started to involve those close to him, Leones regretted having acknowledged them and silently guarding them from behind.

"Let's

go. I'll take you back first..."

Leones sent Susan back home safely.

Immediately afterward, Leones received another call from Darius.

Regarding the matter of the Martial Alliance in Sherland, he had already handled everything properly.

"We've taken down all five bases of the Martial Alliance, big and small, in Sherland."

“Additionally, our Sherland Government has issued a statement indefinitely prohibiting the Martial Alliance worldwide from opening martial arts schools in Sherland.”

Since Leones accepted himself as a disciple, Darius was very concerned about this matter.

Due to Leones’s demands, there would no longer be an organization like the Martial Alliance in Sherland.

“Well, thank you for your hard work.” Leones nodded with satisfaction.

“It’s not hard work. It’s my honor to work for you, Master!” Darius said with gratitude.

Afterward, the two chatted for a while.

Darius continued to invite. “Master, are you free now? Would you like to come out and sit down? “I haven’t toasted you formally since you took me as your disciple. I’ve partnered with a friend to open a bar. If you’re free now, I can pick you up, and we can have a drink together. What do you say?”

“Okay.” Leones agreed.

Since the bar was nearby, Leones didn’t ask Darius to pick him up and went directly.

Blue Ocean Bar.

This bar was co-owned by Darius and some playboys in Sherland. It had gradually become a -gathering place for their circle. As it catered to top-tier playboys who spared no expense, the business was exceptionally brisk.

It had gradually become a gathering place for their circle.

As it catered to top-tier playboys who spared no expense, the business was exceptionally brisk. Leones stepped forward and walked in.

He glanced at the lively scene, but did not see Darius's figure.

It seemed he was on his way.

Leones casually found a quiet place to sit down, and then ordered a glass of wine.

Just as his drink arrived, he heard a surprised but familiar voice behind him.

"Leones?"

"How come you're here!?"

Leones didn't need to turn around to know that the person behind him was his half-brother, Timothy Bloom!

Simultaneously, Leones wondered the same. How come he ran into Timothy here?

It seemed that Timothy had also entered this circle.

"It's really you!?"

At this time, Timothy walked up to him and took a closer look. Sure enough, he saw Leones holding a wine glass and looking calm and relaxed.

Recalling the unpleasant incident during their last encounter, where Leones dared to hit him and even attacked his mother, he couldn't ignore the fact that Leones seemed to have killed his Uncle Lenny and Lenny's men who had been protecting him.

Fresh grievances mixed with old grudges, Timothy's face gradually became furious and fierce. "Why are you here!?" Timothy asked angrily again.

"Why can't I be here?" Leones was too lazy to answer him, but Timothy kept asking, so he calmly replied, "You run this bar?"

"You!?" One sentence left Timothy speechless.

Did he even have the qualifications to own such a bar? Most of the patrons here were top-tier playboys in Yanjing, and over time, ordinary people realized that they couldn't fit in, so they didn't dare to come.

At this moment, Timothy's entourage, who followed him, couldn't help but ask with curiosity, "Mr. Bloom, who is this guy? Did you just call him 'Timothy'? Am I hearing it right?"

"Hmph!" Timothy snorted disdainfully, "He is the one I told you about, my brother who killed someone with his car and was imprisoned! He was just released last week!"

"Oh!" When these young men heard this, they all suddenly realized, "It turns out it's him!" Immediately, the eyes of everyone looking at Leones began to become unkind, even full of contempt as Timothy had often spoken ill of his half-brother in their presence. Influenced by his words, his friends naturally didn't regard Leones with any respect.

Moreover, according to Timothy, this half-brother of his was a disgrace to the family, kicked out of the family as soon as he was released from prison, and was stripped of everything.

He was nothing more than a former convict who had spent five years behind bars, then cast out of the family like a stray dog.

Everyone despised Leones even more.

“This bar is where the cream of the crop in Sherland often gathers,” one of the onlookers remarked, “Does he really think he’s still the young master of the Bloom family? How dare he come to a place like this?”

“He’s completely overestimating himself!”

Everyone jeered one after another, their words full of exclusion and ridicule.

Timothy also said coldly to Leones, “You have no qualifications to come to a place like this!”

Although this bar was open to the public, its regular clientele consisted mostly of elite heirs, and as time went by, ordinary folks gradually realized they couldn’t fit in and, as a result, didn’t dare to patronize the place.

Even Timothy himself, despite getting to know one of the bar’s investors, a top-tier figure in feat. Sherland, only managed to mingle here in recent years, and it wasn’t an easy

But today, seeing Leones calmly and audaciously appearing here, Timothy felt a mix of anger and amusement.

“Why don’t you take a look at your own reflection first?” he taunted. “What qualifications do you have to sit here?”

“You lost dog!”

As Timothy began to confront Leones, more people gathered around, curious about the unfolding situation.

After all, this was an established circle where people were highly prominent, and conflicts rarely occurred amongst them.

Upon hearing that the person seated there was a hit-and-run convict, the patrons' expressions toward Leones grew increasingly hostile. Some even started to demand that he be thrown out of there.

For a while, Leones became the target of public criticism.

Timothy gradually became proud and arrogant.

It seemed that his plan to humiliate Leones had worked perfectly.

He had expected Leones to leave in embarrassment.

However, to his surprise, Leones remained composed, as though the rumors and insults were directed at someone else entirely.

"You!?" Timothy was angry but helpless.

"Is that all?" Leones coldly retorted.

"Hmm?" Timothy hesitated for a moment, then smirked. "Considering you're my half-brother, I've already shown you some respect. Aren't you going to leave yet?"

"The one who should leave is you!" Without waiting for a response, Leones emptied the contents of his glass onto Timothy's face, his voice cold. "Get lost!"

Chapter 168 Consider the Owner Before Taking Action

This sudden turn of events sent shockwaves through the scene, plunging it into an eerie silence. Nobody expected that Leones, the fallen young master with a temper, would dare to splash wine onto his younger brother Timothy's face without any hesitation.

Now, everyone's interest was piqued, eager to see how Timothy would handle this situation.

If he couldn't deal with his exiled half-brother, Timothy could kiss his reputation in this circle goodbye. He would be a laughingstock.

"Damn! How dare you spill wine on my face!?"

Timothy recovered from the shock just now, wiped the drink off his face, and realized that this was true, which made him even more angry.

"If you keep blabbering, do you believe I'll still beat you?" Leones retorted coldly.

Immediately, Timothy was so frightened that he didn't dare to make a sound.

After all, once burnt, twice cautious.

Remembering the scene from a few days ago when Leones slapped him and sent him flying gave Timothy a lingering sense of dread.

It seemed that his half-brother had become much more formidable during his five-year prison stint.

Given his years of extravagant living, Timothy knew he was no match for Leones.

"You... you..."

Timothy took a few steps back, afraid that Leones might attack him.

He was about to turn and call the security.

But at that moment, a voice interrupted.

“What’s wrong?”

“Why is it so lively over there?”

“What happened?”

At the door of the bar, a young man in fancy clothes walked in, escorted by a group of bodyguards.

Upon seeing this, the surrounding staff and bar guests stood up

“Mr. Clare!”

“Mr. Clare! Good evening!”

When Timothy heard this, he turned around and was overjoyed.

to say hello.

The person who had arrived was none other than his newly sworn boss, the one who had allowed Timothy to integrate into this circle so seamlessly.

In other words, Timothy was under Danny's protection.

"Mr. Clare! Someone is making trouble here!"

At this moment, someone took the liberty to summarize the situation to him.

Danny heard the words, and smiled nonchalantly. "Who's this audacious? Daring to cause trouble in my establishment?"

This bar also had his investment. Danny and Darius were known as Sherland's four top playboys.

His father held the position of the Deputy Inspector of the Department of Inspection, on the same rank as Darius's father, both holding a third-rank official title.

Therefore, Danny came from a prominent family. No matter where he went, he was surrounded by admirers, acting arrogantly to the extreme, with no one daring to provoke him.

"Mr. Clare!" Timothy squeezed in front of Danny, bowing respectfully.

"Oh, it's Leones!" Danny nodded casually.

Rich second-generation people like Timothy did their best to please him. In Danny's eyes, they were no different from pugs.

They were kept around for amusement.

He didn't lack such followers.

And most people wanted to be his followers, but they didn't have the qualifications for that.

“Danny, I want to apologize to you first,” Timothy bowed again. “The one causing trouble here is my half–brother.”

What!?

When Danny heard this, his expression changed slightly.

He thought the Bloom family had quite the audacity, daring to cause trouble in his territory. “But he is no longer my half–brother. He was expelled from the family after he was released from prison.”

Timothy continued to explain.

“I saw him drinking alone here earlier, and I was afraid he would tarnish your bar’s reputation. A person like him has no qualifications to stay here.

“So I wanted to kick him out. But that guy not only refused to leave but also splashed wine on my face!

“There are witnesses around. Everything I said is true.”

As he heard this, Danny’s expression softened slightly.

He initially thought it was Timothy, this kid relying on him, who allowed his family to create a scene here.

However, he didn’t expect that it was his half–brother causing the disturbance.

“Hmm... Leones, right? I’ve heard of this person!”

After all, Danny’s father was from the Department of Inspection.

The Department of Inspection, the Ministry of Justice, and the Supreme Ministry of Justice were collectively called the Legal Authorities.

During the incident involving Leones's reckless driving and fatal accident, his father had participated in the investigation.

Therefore, Danny still had a little impression of Leones.

"You're right. Someone like your half-brother, who has a criminal record from serving time in prison, has no business being in a place like this!

"Let alone his prison time. Even if he hadn't been to jail he wouldak b

Danny's eyes darkened. He followed the direction of Timothy's finger, and he saw Leones, who was drinking alone.

When Timothy heard this, he was overjoyed.

With Danny backing him up, Leones must suffer tonight.

While he was talking, Danny had already led the crowd to come to Leones.

In an instant, the atmosphere in the venue became tense

With Leones's location at the center, it became the focus of everyone's attention.

The surrounding onlookers were a mix of those who took pleasure in the situation and those who felt concerned for Leones.

After all, offending the young master of the Clare family might lead to dire consequences.

It wouldn't be surprising if Leones ended up badly beaten tonight.

"You are Leones!?"

Danny stared at Leones coldly, and said, "Although Timothy is your younger brother, he's under my protection now. Even when dealing with a dog, you must consider its owner. You dared to po wine on his face, which is a blatant disrespect to me!"

With that said, Danny waved his hand.

The bartenders around understood and immediately put out ten bottles of beer.

Danny pointed at the beer, and continued, "Now, kneel down, smash all these bottles with your head, and then lick the spilled beer from the ground clean. I might spare you if you do that. Otherwise, I guarantee you won't walk out of this door tonight!"

Chapter 169 Administering Family Law

As soon as these words were spoken, the scene erupted in commotion once more.

Those in the know started to cheer, saying, "They're going to administer family law!"

This so-called "family law" was nothing more than a brutal method employed within their circle to punish outsiders.

Originally, when some troublemakers without any sense dared to cause a scene here, they were forced to use their heads to smash beer bottles until they fainted.

Over time, this method of punishing people was jokingly called the family law.

However, with these top-tier playboys present, after family law had been administered once or twice, no one dared to cause trouble here again.

Now, when Danny employed family law once more, it pushed the atmosphere at the scene to its extreme.

Most people had looks of anticipation, their faces displaying a malicious delight.

Some even started betting on how many beer bottles it would take to knock Leones unconscious. Seeing this, Timothy couldn't help being ecstatic.

Finally, not only could he take revenge for today's humiliation, but he could also settle the old score from last week when Leones had dared to attack him and his mother.

Timothy thought to himself, "Tonight, I'll make sure you pay!"

If it weren't for Danny's intimidation, Timothy would have taken the initiative to hit Leones on the head with a wine bottle.

However, compared to letting others do it, Danny appreciated it more, letting them do it themselves.

"Leones!

"For your half-brother's sake, I'll prepare ten wine bottles for you, and I won't make things difficult for you!"

Upon hearing this, Timothy hastily interjected, "No need to give me face. Give him..."

Before Timothy could finish speaking, Danny glanced at him with a faint look, instantly silencing Timothy, who dared not say another word.

The unspoken message in that gaze seemed to convey, "You have no right to speak here."

Danny's decision was like a royal decree, and someone like Timothy, a mere nobody, couldn't casually suggest or change anything.

Seeing that Leones remained seated and unmoved, Danny sneered once more. "If you don't take matters into your own hands, don't blame me for being less than hospitable.

"I promise you, if my men have to do it for you, it'll be ten times or a hundred times worse!" Before he finished speaking, a group of burly men around Danny stepped forward one after another, eager to try.

Among them were the bodyguards around Danny and the thugs hired by the bar.

They were eager to prove themselves in front of Danny and earn a reward.

None of them intended to show mercy once they took action.

As Danny had warned, their actions would be far from gentle, and smashing ten beer bottles on 15-5%

Leones's head wouldn't be the extent of it.

Doing it on his own?

Or let the people around Danny do it?

The choice seemed like a multiple-choice question, but there was practically no real choice to make.

Anyone with an intact brain knew what to choose.

Everyone around looked at Leones, waiting for him to make his final choice.

“Ah, this guy really brings trouble upon himself. If only he had listened to his little brother and left earlier, none of this would have happened.”

“Well, it’s his misfortune to fall into Mr. Clare’s hands.”

“Looks like there’s going to be some blood spilled tonight, or Danny won’t be satisfied.”

“Yeah, enduring ten beer bottles is doable with some grit!”

Under everyone’s expectant eyes, Leones really slowly stretched out his hand and grabbed an unopened wine bottle.

Suddenly, the crowd burst into cheers.

It seemed like a good show was about to take place.

“Haha!” Seeing this, Timothy couldn’t help laughing gloatingly.

“You were so arrogant when you got out of prison. Let’s see if you dare to be arrogant tonight.” He thought.

Seeing Leones take such a beating, Timothy couldn’t help but feel an indescribable sense of satisfaction in his heart.

He had already taken out his mobile phone, preparing to take a picture of the next scene and send it to his mother, so that she would be happy to see it.

“Do you have the surname of Clare? Is your father an official in the Department of Inspection?” Leones remembered that surname.

With such a prominent status, there were only a handful of people in Sherland who could provoke him.

Danny believed that upon learning his identity, Leones would obediently comply and choose to smash the beer bottle himself.

However, Leones took a different action.

Leones picked up the beer bottle, stood up, and coldly uttered, “Your Clare family also played a part in the injustice I suffered back then.”

Without waiting for Danny to react or comprehend the situation, Leones swung the beer bottle in a perfect arc, smashing it directly onto Danny’s head.

Crash!

The sound of glass breaking resounded throughout the audience.

Beer mixed with blood flowed down Danny’s head, creating a gruesome scene. Danny stood there in shock, completely dazed and unable to regain his senses.

The entire scene fell into an eerie silence.

Everyone stared at Leones with a mix of disbelief and shock as if he was a madman.

No one could have imagined that Leones's final choice would be to smash a beer bottle on Dann head.

"Oh my god! Has this guy gone insane? He actually dared to smash Danny's head!"

"It looks like there's going to be bloodshed tonight. This guy is in deep trouble!"

Chapter 170 Including You

Leones waved his hand and the bottle fell.

There was an uproar.

"What the hell are you..."

Next to Leones, Timothy was totally shocked. His heartbeat and breath both stopped at this second.

He originally wanted to see Leones defeated, but he never expected that Leones would dare to beat Danny! Leones must be crazy!

Leones beat Timothy and Timothy's mother at home. Then he also beat Danny.

And he smashed a blunt weapon like a beer bottle directly on Danny's head!

At this time, Timothy didn't even dare to look at Danny's face.

He didn't dare to think how angry Danny would become later.

Maybe, even their entire Bloom family would be implicated and suppressed.

After all, Danny's father was the Deputy Inspector in the Department of Inspection! He was a third-grade official.

Leones hit the son of a Deputy Inspector. They wouldn't let this go easily.

Damn it! It was over!

Timothy was extremely anxious, not knowing what to do.

Maybe this time, the entire Bloom family would be destroyed!

Damn bastard Leones!

Leones must be crazy!

Timothy glared at Leones viciously as if Leones were the greatest enemy of his lifetime.

If Timothy could kill someone with his gaze, he would definitely kill Leones right away to calm Danny down.

"Danny.... Listen to my explanation... This guy... He has been kicked out of our family! He has nothing to do with our family..."

“Danny...”

Timothy stood aside in a panic. He lowered his head and tried his best to explain to Danny. He tried his best to distance himself from Leones.

“Get the fuck out of here!”

Danny was so angry that he wasn't in the mood to take care of anything else.

He slapped Timothy in the slap and made Timothy fall to the ground.

Timothy was beaten hard. He covered his face and squatted on the ground. He was still apologizing. Deep in his heart, he was extremely afraid.

At this time, Danny suddenly recovered from the pain.

With a scream, he covered his forehead. Blood was still flowing out.

He had been pampered by his family since childhood. He had never been hit so hard like this!

This made him both scared and angry.

“Danny, are you alright?”

“Quick! Is there a doctor!”

“Someone! Stop Danny from bleeding!”

Immediately, the people around were all in a hurry to help Danny stop the bleeding and heal his wounds.

It seemed to be a cut on the surface, but Danny still felt a little dizzy. Did he have a cerebral concussion?

They simply dealt with Danny's wounds.

Only then did Danny completely recover from the confusion, shock, and anger just now.

"You... You dare to hit me?"

Danny stared at Leones in disbelief.

He planned to teach Leones a lesson just now. However, Leones took a beer bottle and smashed his head with it.

Was Leones crazy?

"Yes, so what?"

Leones looked nonchalant.

"Your family made me stay in prison for five years.

"I only hit you once. Yet you can't stand it?"

Back then, Leones was unjustly accused and imprisoned. The Department of Inspection was responsible for ruling his case.

Leones didn't believe that they couldn't find out about the truth at all.

They didn't want to find out about the truth?

Or they already found out about the truth but chose to ignore the truth?

Anyway, the Clare family was definitely related to the case.

"This is just the beginning!

"Your family made me stay in prison for five years.

"Then I'll smash five beer bottles on your head first!"

As he spoke, Leones stretched out his hand and grabbed another beer bottle.

In an instant, the place was in an uproar again.

Leones hit Danny to vent his anger for what had happened five years ago. Nobody had expected that.

"He is really crazy!"

"Back then, he killed someone with his car. He still thinks that he's innocent?"

"How dare he seek personal revenge against Danny after being released from prison? He's simply lawless!"

When Danny heard this, he was stunned.

His father had handled countless cases in his lifetime. No prisoner dared to be arrogant like Leones. Leones dared to seek revenge after being released from prison!

“You are courting death!”

Danny was shocked and angry.

“I’m going to beat you hard first. Then you will be put on death row. Do leave prison for the rest of your fucking life?”

you think you can still

As Danny said this, he waved his hand. The bodyguards and thugs by his side immediately took their weapons and went forward to launch an attack.

Being attacked by such a group of strong men, Leones was still relaxed. He took the beer bottle just now and threw it to the front.

Whoosh!

The beer bottle passed through the group of strong men easily and hit Danny’s head precisely.

Snap!

Suddenly, the bottle shattered!

Danny’s head had just been bandaged to stop the bleeding. But this time, blood flowed out again. He felt dizzy. His head was buzzing.

All the people present were shocked again. Their jaws dropped.

They all had expressions of disbelief on their faces.

“Crazy!”

“Leones is really crazy!”

He was about to be killed, yet he still dared to hit Danny with a beer bottle.

He was simply too bold.

“Ah!”

Danny covered his head and screamed.

Then he roared angrily, “Kill him! Kill him!”

At this time, Timothy also got up from the ground and swarmed up with the bodyguards and thugs.

He appeared that he wanted to be the hero and stood firmly on Danny’s side.

“Stop!”

At this moment, a loud voice suddenly came from outside.

Immediately afterward, there was a rush of footsteps, separating the crowd of the onlookers.

A tall young man stood up and stopped the fight.

“Mr. Timon!”

“Mr. Timon, it’s you.”

Seeing the young man, they all retreated to the side and greeted him.

That was right. The one who came was Darius.

He was also one of the investors in this bar.

Seeing that Darius was also present, everyone thought to themselves, “Well, Leones is totally over this time.”

Darius was from the Sherland Government.

Also, Darius and Danny were close to each other. Darius definitely wouldn’t let Leones off easily. “Darius, you are also here?”

Seeing Darius, Danny hurriedly went forward as if seeing a helper, “Hurry up! Call your people from the Sherland Government!”

“I want you to beat this guy hard first, and then imprison him in the prison of the Sherland Government!”

Darius glanced at Danny's bleeding head and shook his head helplessly. Then he said seriously, "Danny, I'm sorry. I can't arrest this man."
