

Out of Prison 261

Chapter 261 Collaboration

“Army of Alryne and Lily will fight against the bandits!”

“Army of Yingville and Ares will fight against the bandits!”

While they were talking, the generals under the war gods of Alryne and Yingville divided their troops into two groups and surrounded the entire hall.

The two leaders of the team were the descendants of the two War Gods.

One was heroic, and the other was a woman who was also powerful.

Among them, there was actually a familiar face to Leones. It was Lily, the daughter of Felix Wellington, the war god of Alryne!

Why was she here?

Leones was startled.

However, Alryne bordered Yingville. So, if they collaborated to rush to Fatuma to suppress the bandits, it was normal.

The several groups of people outside that Leones just sensed were the people from these two war zones gathering.

“Vulture, you have committed heinous crimes, including harming countless people and resulting in disasters. Today, Yingville and Alryne will suppress you and your bandits together to return peace to Fatuma!

“Surrender quickly!”

Ares, the son of the War God of Yingville, shouted sharply and ordered Vulture to surrender. This momentary change also shocked the entire audience.

“What... what is going on? Armies of the War Gods of Yingville and Alryne are actually involved in the affairs here?”

“Collaborate to suppress bandits? It seems that they are serious about it! The War God of Yingville- even sent his son! It’s definitely true!”

“It is a spectacular scene that the forces of Yingville and Alryne collaborate! I’m afraid that Vulture is anxious now!”

Everyone at present secretly marveled when they saw this scene. They all agreed that only Vulture, the most powerful person in Fatuma, could deserve such great attention.

“Have all the soldiers from the two War God camps been there?” Darius was shocked when he saw this. “Even Ms. Wellington is here?”

Darius wondered whether his father had brought the reinforcements because of the phone call he just made.

But it was impossible because they hardly came here so quickly.

It seemed there was something else hidden.

“Two... two little War Gods! Why do you come here?”

When Max saw this scene, he suddenly panicked.

Even if Max was the wealthiest man in the city, he was still afraid of soldiers.

Facing the descendants of the two War Gods, Max did not dare to neglect them and hurriedly greeted them.

10:23

201 Collaboration

At the same time, Max wondered who could actually bring in descendants of the two War Gods to come to the rescue.

Who could be so powerful?

Was it the boy named Leones?

How could it be possible?

“Mr. Johnson, Yingville and Alryne are working together to suppress the bandits. I also ask you, the Johnson family, to step aside and not interfere!” Ares said loudly.

“Of course, I don’t dare to interfere...” Max stepped back after hearing what Ares said.

It was a fight between the strong. How could Max interfere? Even if Max had enough courage, he wouldn’t dare to interfere.

“Mr. Bloom, I didn’t expect us to meet again so soon!” After Lily saw Leones, she also smiled and greeted Leones. “You agreed to come to Alryne Camp to find me. Why did you come to Fatuma of Yingville first?”

“Hello, Miss Wellington.” Leones greeted with a smile. “I’m here because I have some personal matters to deal with.”

“Is it about a grudge against Vulture?” Lily said seriously, “That’s just right. We share the same hatred. Let’s work together to defeat the enemy!”

Seeing Leones chatting with Felix’s daughter, everyone around them was shocked again. They doubted whether Leones brought the reinforcements from Alryne here.

No wonder Leones dared to break into the Johnson family alone and was not afraid of facing Vulture.

It turned out that he had such a trump card!

Vulture, the most powerful man in Fatuma, was the ruler of the underground world here.

But when facing the War Gods of Alryne and Yingville, Vulture was not qualified enough to fight with such a regular army.

However, Vulture quickly assessed the current situation and temporarily relaxed.

Vulture was assured because there were only two descendants of the War Gods. The real War Gods had not appeared.

Vulture considered the most terrifying opponents were the War Gods. As for their descendants, they were still too young to defeat Vulture.

“Vulture, you have been rampant in Fatuma for decades. Do you really think that no one can control you?”

Although Lily was far away in Alryne, she had heard about the evil deeds of Vulture in Fatuma. Today, she was eager and excited to take part in the suppression of the bandits in person.

“Give in quickly!”

Hearing this, Vulture smiled coldly. “You two little babies want to surrender me? It’s too ridiculous!

“If your fathers are here, I can still be more serious,”

“What if we join them?”

At this moment, another group of people rushed in.

Similarly, a young man led the group.

Everyone present was familiar with this person and exclaimed in surprise.

“Is he the son of the president of Fatuma Police Station?”

“Myron Barlow!”

“Oh my god. Even Fatuma Police Station is involved!”

Myron led the crowd and walked in. “Fatuma Police Station comes to fight against your thieves!”

Chapter 262 The Home Was Destroyed

Myron received an order from his father that he should help the winner.

Originally, Myron didn't show up immediately because it was hard to tell the winner when Leones fought against Vulture.

At this moment, people from Yingville and Alryne had also shown up, which changed the situation.

Once these people worked together, Vulture might be the loser, even if Vulture was strong. At the same time, Darius made a call in time.

Sherland Government also asked for help from Fatuma Police Station.

Immediately, Myron received a call from his father, Noah Barlow.

Noah was cooperating with people from Yingville and Alryne to go to Goldendrake to destroy the home base of Vulture.

"This time, we are serious about it!" Noah, the president of Fatuma Police Station, said solemnly. Noah also ordered his son, Myron, to cooperate fully to encircle and suppress Vulture without making any mistakes!

Therefore, Myron also led his team to show up in time and made his position clear.

Yingville, Alryne, and Fatuma Police Station, the three major imperial forces, worked together to suppress the bandits at the same time!

Such a huge momentum once again shocked everyone present.

"Oh my god. Fatuma Police Station has also entered the venue! It seems that they are really going to take action this time!"

"Is Vulture, who has been rampant in Fatuma for so long, really going to die today?"

“Yingville, Alryne, and Fatuma Police Station work together to suppress the bandits. In this case, they can destroy even ten men like Vulture!”

After a heated discussion, everyone agreed Vulture was in danger.

At the same time, they felt that Leones was so lucky to have so many helpers at once.

However, Leones didn't take it seriously when he saw this scene.

Leones wondered what they had been doing.

Those people ran out when Leones defeated Vulture. Did they want to grab the victory in a flash?
“Vulture, you are so evil that Fatuma Police Station has long wanted to take you down!”

“The law is so comprehensive that no criminals have been missed! This time, I am fortunate enough to work with Yingville and Alryne to suppress you. I will eradicate you completely from Fatuma!”

Myron also said sharply.

“Damn it!” Vulture saw this and gritted his teeth.

The three parties were encircling and suppressing himself at the same time.

“What a huge formation!”

Vulture never thought that he would be treated like this.

“However, it's not easy for you and your small forces to catch me!”

Even if Vulture couldn't fight against these forces, he could still escape with his strength.

“Where else can you escape?” Myron snorted coldly and said, “To be honest, my father has also cooperated with the main forces of Yingville and Alryne to attack Goldendrake. If nothing else, they have destroyed your home base!

“Vulture, you have no helpers now! Even if you escape, you are like a lost dog. There is no place for you in Fatuma!”

What?

Hearing this, Vulture was shocked and angry.

Destroy his home base?

Was his home destroyed?

How could he bear it?

Vulture didn't care about anything else. He even casually killed the Three Great Warriors under his command without mercy.

However, he spared no effort to build his home base.

Without the Three Great Warriors, Vulture could continue to train ten or eight great warriors.

However, he would be a complete loser once his home base was destroyed.

At the same time, it also meant that his reputation would be completely discredited.

There would be no place for him in Fatuma, even in Vericano.

Even more seriously, Vulture would lose the Chamber Mountain.

“No way!

“Don’t try to make alarmist remarks to mess with my mind!”

Vulture naturally didn’t believe it.

Vulture immediately took out his mobile phone and dialed several numbers. But no one answered!

“This...”

As more and more calls went unanswered, Vulture turned his face more gloomy and livid.

In the past, no one would dare not answer his phone call in time!

“Mr. Vulture...”

Finally, someone answered his call when Vulture dialed the tenth phone number.

“How are you doing over there? What happened?” Before the other party could answer, Vulture heard the noise on the other side through the phone. Vulture’s heart sank, and he already had a vague answer in his heart.

It was very chaotic over there. Obviously, his home base was facing a powerful enemy.

“Mr. Vulture...”

“A lot of people came...

“People from Fatuma Police Station... and the War God camp...”

“Mr. Vulture, please don’t come... here. Ah!”

The man seemed to run. Intermittently, the call ended with a scream before he finished his words.

10-23

Bang! Vulture crushed the phone!

Unfortunately, he and the Three Great Warriors were all stuck here and were unable to return.

In this case, these people took advantage of him.

If Vulture were in his home base, or a Great Warrior was in charge of the base, he wouldn’t have suffered such a complete defeat.

“Asshole!

“You really want to destroy me!

“Damn it! If you have the guts, just confront me head-on! You coward! How dare you carry out a sneak attack while I’m not around!”

Vulture was furious and completely exploded. He ran rampant like a fierce beast.

“You dare to destroy my home and slaughter my subordinates!

“Then I’ll kill you all bastards for revenge on my subordinates!”

Chapter 263 The Moment

Vulture, who had almost lost everything, also gave up completely.

“If you are unkind, don’t blame me for doing this!”

Vulture looked at Lily, Ares, and Myron, the son of the president of Fatuma Police Station, with ferocious eyes.

He wanted to kill the children of those big shots and make them pay the price.

If it were the past, Vulture would not want to be an enemy of these three parties, but now, his own home had been wiped out by them, so why should he care about this?

Not to mention their children, even if their fathers, the War Gods, were here, Vulture would fight them desperately.

“Hmph! Do you juniors come here to use me as your military exploits?”

“Don’t think that I will give up. I will make you pay a heavy price!”

With an angry roar, Vulture showed his Aix Galericulata Axe and flew toward the crowd, swooping down and stabbing at an angle.

When Lily saw this, she didn’t panic and immediately took out the Seedling Sword she was carrying behind her.

The Seedling Sword, also known as the Royal Saber, was about 5.3 feet long, and the handle alone was 1.6 feet.

Because the blade was long and slender, similar to a grain seedling, it was named Seedling Sword.

The predecessor of the Seedling Sword was an ancient sword. It was later improved by a War God from the Jones family. It took into account the characteristics of both swords and spears. The knife could be held in one hand or with both hands. It was a commonly used weapon in the military, full of power.

Even though Lily was a woman, she skillfully danced her slender Seedling Sword. The knife's light was like a snare, covering the sky and the earth.

If anyone else had fallen under this blade, they would have been chopped into pieces long ago.

"Lily, good job!" Ares praised her and pulled out his saber, "Let me help you!"

The weapon used by Ares was the Ring-Pommel Sword.

Because the hilt of the sword could be firmly embedded in the sheath, it was convenient for riding and would not easily fall off, and it was also called the Hidden Hilt Ring-Pommel Sword.

This sword was known as the ancestor of the war sword. It was once the most lethal melee cold weapon.

According to legend, the sword of a War God was the Hidden Hilt Ring-Pommel Sword, which killed countless invading enemies and made them frightened.

Lily and Ares used their swords at the same time to fight against Vulture's twin axes.

Myron also drew his saber, but he took a few steps back instead of stepping forward.

He was still self-aware. It was okay to let him fight some gangsters, but he couldn't get involved in a battle of this level.

So, Myron waved his saber and commanded the plainclothes guards of Fatuma Police Station, saying, "Quick. Surround this place! No one is allowed to leave!"

| 10:23

Buzz!

The swords and axes collided in an instant, making a dull impact.

They thought that with the combined efforts of the two of them, they could at least be on an equal footing with Vulture.

But...

Accompanied by a shattering sound, whether the Seedling Sword in Lily's hand or the Ring-Pommel Sword in Ares' hand, they were broken into two pieces, unable to withstand the sharpness of Vulture's axes!

"What? How could this happen?"

Ares was shocked.

The weapons they used were all used by the military. They were sharp weapons for killing enemies in battle. They were naturally forged with the best materials and master-level techniques.

They were not magical weapons, but they were very sharp.

How could they be so easily broken into two pieces by one blow?

“Is it a magic weapon?” Lily was also shocked when she saw this.

To break the weapons they brought from the army so easily, only high-precision special magic weapons could do it.

“Haha, that’s right!

“This Aix Galericulata Axe is exactly a magic weapon!

“Your ordinary weapons are like broken copper and iron, vulnerable to a single blow!”

Vulture easily shattered their weapons, and his morale immediately increased, and he laughed wildly.

They had no weapons to compete with him, and they were like lambs waiting to be slaughtered, left to his devices!

“Who should I start with?”

Vulture’s fierce gaze immediately fell on Lily, and he had a cruel look.

“I wonder how Mr. Felix Wellington would react if he knows that his beloved daughter died tragically in my hands!

“It’s really exciting!

“Then let’s start with you!”

The moment Vulture shattered their weapons, the two axes in his hands flew up and down, and in one go, they came towards Lily.

This happened in less than half a second, leaving people with no time to think, let alone dodge!

“Ah!”

Lily couldn't resist such a close blow, screamed in fright, and kept retreating.

But, Vulture was powerful. Originally, his strength was above the two of them.

Now, relying on the power of weapons, he was pursuing the victory without giving their opponents any chance to breathe.

“Lily, be careful!” Ares on the side saw this and shouted loudly.

10.23

He wanted to help, but it was difficult for him to defeat the magic weapon, so he could only make a feint to the east but attack in the west. He ducked behind Vulture and launched a surprise attack to give Lily a chance to survive.

However, at this time, Vulture was in a desperate posture, not caring about everything around him.

He would only leave him with a slight injury at most, so it didn't matter.

In an instant, Ares' fists hit the back of Vulture directly.

Vulture did not dodge but only grunted. He was thick-skinned and armor-trained, and he suffered no internal injuries.

The backlash made Ares numb, and he retreated continuously. His arms became heavy and difficult to lift.

“As expected of Vulture! The strongest man in Fatuma!” This blow made Ares realize the gap between them. The confidence and high-spiritedness he felt when he arrived were all gone at this moment.

“Shit!”

Ares thought that the two of them came here under orders this time and would make a great contribution, but now it seemed they might not be able to escape unscathed.

In Ares’ opinion, Vulture had such terrifying strength that only his father or Felix could it!

But now, even if everyone joined forces to besiege Vulture, it would be useless.

At the same time, Vulture had already forced Lily into a desperate situation with just one move. The two axes in his hands moved up and down, piercing Lily's throat and heart at the same time.

"It's over!"

When Lily saw this, her eyes widened, and her breathing stagnated. She was desperate as if her death was imminent.

At this critical moment, an unexpected giant sword blocked in front of Lily's face.

Crack!

In an instant, the axes of Vulture were blocked!

"What?"

"Who is it?"

Vulture thought he was sure of success and was about to kill her, but he didn't expect someone to come out halfway and save her.

Who was it that had such ability?

Vulture turned his head, took a closer look, and saw that the man holding the sword was none other than Leones.

“Vulture, your opponent is here!” Leones slowly placed the giant sword in front of him and said calmly, “It’s me!”

10:23

“It’s you again?”

Vulture was furious when he saw Leones.

He had sucked so much of his essence and blood just now. And he hadn’t even had time to seek revenge from Leones.

But now, his success had been ruined again.

The old and new grudges made Vulture so angry that he wanted to kill him.

“Since you are deliberately seeking death, I will kill you first!”

Vulture once again locked his target on Leones, and the two axes came straight towards Leones.

At this time, Leones blocked Lily behind him and said, “Get out of the way first and let me deal with him.”

“Okay!” Lily knew she was no match for Vulture, so she gave up. “Mr. Bloom, be careful! The magic weapon in his hand is very powerful!

“It can restrain the giant sword in your hand.”

Leones smiled calmly. "Restraint happens when the situation is evenly matched.

"Let him use all kinds of weapons and transform in all kinds of ways, and I will kill him with one sword!"

For a moment, Leones' heroic spirit soared into the sky, and Lily couldn't help but stand in awe. "Wish you a triumphant victory, sir!"

Lily was shocked and admired and stepped back.

"Lily, are you okay?"

Immediately afterward, Ares also came to Lily's side and cared about her.

"Did that bastard hurt you just now?"

"I attacked him from behind and hit him. I wanted to distract him and give you a chance to escape, but the guy didn't even dodge.

"Oh, it knocked me back. It felt like the punch hit the mountain, as solid as a rock!"

Ares rubbed his wrists and spoke with lingering fear.

"I'm fine," Lily replied lightly.

She looked at Leones intently without blinking. There was a hint of admiration in her gaze tone.

When Ares saw this, he suddenly became jealous.

and

The two were of the same age, with similar family backgrounds, and were in the same training camp of the Ministry of War, so they were close.

In the army, which men dominated, Lily was like a goddess, fascinating countless people. Ares had long been secretly attracted to Lily. He was even prepared to ask his father to propose marriage on his behalf.

But today, it was the first time that Ares saw Lily showing such admiration for a man.

He also looked at Leones and couldn't help but frown.

"Hmph, is the sword in that guy's hand also a magic weapon? It can actually withstand Vulture's two axes?"

1 10 77

"Oh, it's a pity I didn't bring the War God Blade from my father's camp. A War God Blade can withstand a magic weapon!"

Ares felt that if he had brought the War God Blade, even if he was no match for Vulture, he could have saved Lily from Vulture just now. And he wouldn't give Leones a chance to intervene.

But now, Leones had successfully rescued Lily, and it seemed he also attracted Lily.

This made Ares regard Leones as his love rival.

“You’re lucky!”

“However, even if you have a magic weapon, you may not be able to stop Vulture from a few of his moves!”

At this time, not only Ares had this idea, but everyone around him couldn’t help but be nervous for Leones when they saw Leones and Vulture fighting.

After all, just now, Vulture easily defeated the children of the two War Gods with just one move. It even broke their weapons and almost killed them.

With such terrifying strength, Vulture again reversed the unfavorable situation with his power. Even if the two War Gods joined forces and destroyed Vulture’s home, so what?

Except for successfully irritating Vulture, making him go crazy and want to kill them, it couldn’t weaken the terrifying strength he possessed.

With the lessons learned from the two of them,

Leones once again faced off against Vulture in a one-on-one duel. What chance did he have of winning?

“Even the children of the two War Gods are no match for Vulture. I think that young man named Leones may be unable to take a few moves!”

“Yes, I originally thought that the two War Gods and Fatuma Police Station encircled and suppressed Vulture, we would win. But I didn’t expect that Vulture would suddenly overturn the situation!”

“He is indeed the strongest person in Fatuma, so terrifying! No one can be his opponent unless the two War Gods themselves!”

Everyone was shocked by the terrifying aura of Vulture. While discussing, they were not very optimistic about Leones.

“Mr. Bloom, be careful!”

Darius clenched his fists and was worried for Leones.

At the same time, he asked for help from Myron, who came to support, “Mr. Barlow, please quickly ask your people from Fatuma Police Station to go forward and help!”

“Mr. Timon, are you kidding!?” Myron asked in shock, “Are you asking my people to go up and die?”

“Then what are you here for?” Darius was anxious.

“Originally, I wanted to help.” Myron coughed lightly and said, “But now it seems I cannot help.” Darius was speechless.

Now, it seemed that no one around could be counted on except his master himself.

At the same time, Vulture’s axes were already approaching Leones.

“You brat, if you dare to be my enemy, I will kill you.

“I’ll kill you first to establish my authority. Let’s see who dares to stop me!”

Vulture was already ready to kill again.

The first one was Leones.

“Die, Leones!”

The sharp axes were like a life-threatening sickle, piercing Leones’ throat.

Chapter 265 Killed With One Sword

In the twinkling of an eye, Vulture turned to attack Leones, and it only took the time to take out a breath.

It was so vigorous and resolute that others had no time to react, let alone the target locked by Vulture.

Faced with such a swift and violent attack, most people could only close their eyes and wait for death.

At this time, Leones, looking from a distance, seemed to be frightened and was motionless.

Vulture’s two axes were almost touching Leones’ throat.

In the next second, they could even kill him!

“Mr. Bloom!” At this moment, even Darius could react and hurriedly shouted as a reminder.

“Dragon King, be careful!” Chad also yelled and couldn’t help but take a step forward, wanting to go up to get him.

If the Dragon King was seriously injured, he would risk his life to escort him out.

“Mr. Bloom, get out of the way!” Lily was so anxious that her face turned pale, and she subconsciously used various resisting moves with her hands as if she were personally in the situation.

“Hurry up and block with y sword!”

However, Leones neither evaded nor moved his sword. He remained motionless as if he had been cast on a body-holding spell.

“Alas...” Ares sighed softly, shook his head, and said, “It seems that he is shocked by the terrifying power of Vulture and has been frightened to dumb and cannot move.”

It was no wonder that at their age, facing top masters who were several levels superior to themselves, they would definitely be completely crushed in terms of momentum. It was normal to feel fear and be stunned.

“Oh no!”

In front of everyone’s eyes, Leones’ throat was hit by two sharp axes and was stabbed deep.

Everyone’s heart sank after seeing this scene.

And in their hearts, they silently mourned for Leones for a few seconds.

“No!” Lily couldn’t help it anymore, covering her eyes with her hands, unable to bear to watch the tragic scene of Leones being beheaded to the public in the following second.

Ares, on the other hand, was staring closely at the giant sword in Leones' hand, preparing to find an opportunity to take over the sword in his hand in the next second. He might also be able to resist the crazy Vulture so as not to be slaughtered empty-handed.

"Haha! What an easy way to get what I've been looking for a long time!"

Vulture did not expect that it would go so smoothly.

Just now, Leones was so boastful, but when he actually started to take action, he was frightened by his own aura.

Standing motionless, Leones was struck by his fatal blow.

"Later, I'm going to use your head as a ball to kick!"

After Vulture succeeded with one blow, he was ready to go all out and take the lives of Lily and Ares to prevent the two little bastards from running away.

But the next second, Vulture stabbed out with his axe, which should have decapitated Leones and removed his head.

However, the axe in his hand suddenly disappeared as if it had sliced through the air.

"Um?"

Then he looked at Leones in front of him, who still looked blank and motionless.

But his head did not fall off.

“Did my attack... fail?”

Vulture felt something was wrong, extremely wrong!

He hadn't realized what was going on.

However, Leones in front of him began to become unreal and gradually blurred, as if he was about to disappear out of thin air.

“This... Is this an afterimage?”

Vulture was shocked.

No wonder the blow he just struck clearly hit his opponent, but in the end, it seemed like he missed the target.

It turned out that his fatal blow only hit an afterimage of the opponent!

“Hiss!!”

Immediately, Vulture turned pale with shock and couldn't help but take a breath!

When the afterimage of Leones in front of him completely blurred his vision, he also felt horrified.

How could this kid have an afterimage appear under his nose?

How fast must he be?

What frightened Vulture even more was that, at this time, he was unable to find Leones' real location accurately.

Vulture prayed silently in his heart, hoping that Leones would retreat when he saw the difficulties and use his superb body skills to run away.

If it was not the case, he was afraid that today, he would have to face an opponent he had never seen in his life.

But at this moment, Vulture only felt the strong wind behind him and the sound of hunting. Before his eyes, the afterimage of Leones completely disappeared, and everyone around them exclaimed one after another, "He's gone! How come he's gone?"

Surrounded by dangers, Leones was unconscious and suddenly appeared behind Vulture.

"Look!"

"He is actually behind Vulture!"

"What on earth is going on? Who is that figure that disappeared just now?"

Everyone was puzzled and caused bursts of exclamations.

At this time, Vulture was extremely disturbed, and his clothes were soaked with cold sweat.

A figure suddenly appeared behind him, like the god of death, as if he was about to pronounce his death sentence.

At this moment, Leones raised the giant sword in his hand high and said coldly,

"Whose head do you want to use as a ball? Is it your own?"

Leones raised his sword and struck it directly on the back of Vulture's neck. Blood spattered on the spot!

Chapter 266 Victory Without Justice

Along with the scene, there was a burst of exclamation.

Leones' giant sword had already reached the back of Vulture's neck.

Everyone thought that Vulture was about to be beheaded.

But Vulture was not an easy one. He actually used his backhand to hold the pair of Aix Galericulata Axe behind him, holding the blade of the giant sword and managed to avoid this fatal blow.

However, even so, there was still a sword mark about an inch deep on the shoulder of Vulture, and blood flowed from the wound.

"Hiss!"

Vulture grimaced in pain and couldn't help but suck in a breath of cold air.

He couldn't imagine that if he had been half a beat slower just now, his head would have been cut off.

At the same time, everyone at the scene looked dumbfounded when they saw this incredible scene, and even their jaws almost dropped.

"It's... it's really that kid named Leones? Where did he come from? Could he clone his shadow? It's incredible!"

"Am I dazzled? Why did the man who was hit by Vulture just suddenly disappear?"

“Vulture is injured! The most powerful person in Fatuma is actually injured? Is the one in charge of Fatuma really going to change?”

Vulture was so strong, but he was seriously injured by Leones' counter move, which really shocked everyone present.

“This kid... how is it possible!?” Max was also dumbfounded. “How can he be so strong!?”

He thought that with Vulture here, he could become his backbone or at least help the Johnson family solve a big problem by killing Leones.

However, he never expected that not even Vulture could be a match for that kid!

There must be a mistake somewhere!

“Mr. Bloom... is actually going to win?”

Darius couldn't help being surprised and happy when he saw Leones suppressing Vulture with his giant sword.

He knew his master was very strong, but he didn't expect him to be so strong.

On the other hand, he was worried for nothing.

“No wonder Mr. Bloom... has always been calm and unhurried. It turns out that his confidence comes from his own strength, not from any pretense!”

Chad, on the side, was also shocked. “The new Dragon King is so strong! Even Vulture, who dominates one side of the world, can be severely damaged with one sword? He is worthy of being the successor of the old Dragon King. He is really better than his predecessor!”

In Chad's mind, his admiration and awe for Leones had maxed.

"Mr. Bloom... is too strong!"

Lily actually wanted to turn away, unable to bear to watch Leones being beheaded, but she never expected that in an instant, the side of attack and defense switched, and it was Vulture, whom Leones almost beheaded with one sword.

"He... His speed is too fast! What happened to that afterimage just now?"

Ares was also shocked.

He thought Leones just relied on the weapon in his hand and couldn't catch Vulture's moves. However, the reality gave him a big slap in the face.

Not to mention how many moves he took from Vulture. He just used one move and beat Vulture into a state of embarrassment with blood flowing like a river.

"How can this guy... be so powerful?"

Ares could not imagine someone of his generation could have such terrifying strength.

Being able to suppress Vulture with one move, didn't this mean he had power comparable to War God?

Then he saw Lily standing aside, looking at Leones with admiration. The cold and charming female warrior in the past had suddenly turned into a nymphomaniac girl.

Ares felt jealousy in his heart, with mixed feelings.

But helplessly, the other party had such terrifying strength and completely crushed him. What could he do to compete with him?

“Brat!

“What kind of magic did you use? How did you suddenly run behind me?”

“What happened to the figure in front of me just now?”

“Did you use some despicable means to trick me?”

Vulture was very dissatisfied.

After all, he couldn't even react to what was going on behind him before he was caught off guard and almost died.

How could he be convinced by this?

“Tell me, what kind of magic are you using? Where did you learn it?”

If Vulture didn't understand all this, even if he died, he wouldn't be able to rest in peace.”

“Haha...” Leones smiled lightly. “It doesn't matter if I tell you! I will let you die with what you want to know!

“What I used was the most advanced body skills in the killer world, the divine changing

This was the body skills taught to Leones by his ninth master, the former top king in the killer world.

This was the first time Leones had used it since he was released from prison.

After all, facing a strong person like Vulture, he had to come up with something that was the ace card.

Just now, the two of them were very close, and the opponent's speed was extremely fast. With ordinary body skills, he could only wait to be killed and couldn't dodge at all.

Therefore, Leones used the divine changing to draw an afterimage on the spot and appeared behind Vulture without anyone noticing.

But Vulture was also very powerful. Although he was wounded by the sword, he still managed to resolve the fatal threat of the sword.

10:23

Now, the two were wrestling with each other, and Leones still had the upper hand.

Vulture turned his back to Leones, with his arms around his back to handle the attack, and it was even more difficult to exert his full power.

Coupled with the fact that part of the essence and blood had been sucked away just now, as well as the sword wounds and blood flow, he was even more vulnerable overall.

In a short time, Vulture was pressed down by Leones, and he knelt down on one knee, struggling hard.

At this time, he was complaining in his heart.

“Kid, you... Are you from the killer world?”

Vulture was also shocked after hearing Leones’ simple explanation.

He had never heard of the divine changing. But there were still some legends about the killer world.

That was a truly frightening existence that was popular all over the world.

In comparison, the fact that Vulture dominated Fatuma was really nothing.

“No, I’m not a killer!” Leones told him, “But I just happen to have a killer master.”

Hearing this, Vulture secretly breathed a sigh of relief. Fortunately, he was not from the killer world. Otherwise, it would be difficult for him to attack.

Just imagine, who dared to provoke an organization like the Killer? Even if they succeed for a moment, they may not be able to live in peace for the rest of their life.

“Kid, I admit that your body skills are indeed powerful.” Vulture half–turned his head and said, “But this kind of unexpected body skill is unjust to use!

“Do

dare to let go of me and face me head–on, with one move determining the outcome?”

Chapter 267 Cat and Mouse

Vulture did not dare to continue dragging on because he knew that he would definitely be defeated if they continued.

So he decided to use psychological tactics and negotiate with Leones. "Even if you win against me, I won't accept it. Even if I have to become a ghost, I will come back to seek revenge on you!"

"If you have the guts, release me, and let's have a fair face-to-face fight. Even if it ends in a draw, consider it as my loss! How about that?"

"If I lose, there's no need for you to make a move. I will surrender myself!"

When the surrounding people heard what Vulture said, they were shocked.

It seemed that Vulture was truly cornered. Otherwise, he wouldn't say such self-deprecating words.

Obviously he was a bad loser.

"Mr. Bloom, don't listen to his nonsense! Don't let him go!" Lily immediately warned, "He's reaching his limit. Let him exhaust his strength, and then we can subdue him together!"

Darius also said, "That's right. Regardless of whether he accepts it or not, he has already lost. The loser has no right to negotiate!"

"Don't bother talking about fairness or unfairness with this kind of evil person," Chad added, "Just cut him down with one strike! Eliminate any potential future troubles!"

However, Ares said, "We can't kill him. We should try to capture him alive!"

“As Mr. Bloom defeated the man, how to deal with him should be up to Mr. Bloom’s decision!” David finally stood on Leones’ side and flattered. “Mr. Bloom, you decide!”

Although everyone tried to persuade Leones, they also knew that as long as Leones didn’t lose his mind, he wouldn’t easily let go.

It was like taming a tiger. Who would dare to casually loosen the rope and set free the hard-captured tiger unless they were out of their mind?

“Leones, you really are incapable!” Vulture sneered and provoked, “You don’t dare to let me go because you know that you have no chance of winning if we fight head-on!”

“You coward! I, Vulture, have been well-known throughout my life, but I was defeated by a coward like you! Even if I become a ghost, I won’t let you go!”

Ignoring Vulture’s insults and the persuasion of the people around him, Leones responded coldly, “Don’t think that your provocation will work on me. It doesn’t affect me at all!”

“And besides, I can defeat you once, and I can defeat you a second time, a third time! Even in a head-on confrontation, you are no match for me!”

Vulture angrily demanded, “If you dare, release me, and let’s have a fight!”

But before he finished speaking, Vulture suddenly felt the force behind him abruptly release.

He stumbled forward, almost falling to the ground.

After a little while, Vulture realized that he was suddenly free.

His expression changed from shock to ecstasy.

“So you really don’t accept your loss?” Leones said calmly, “Come, let’s fight face–to–face! I will make you candidly admit your defeat!”

The sight of Leones actually releasing Vulture shocked everyone. There was an uproar in the room. They were all astonished.

They all thought that it was breeding calamity for the future.

“Mr. Bloom, you fell into his trap!” Lily stomped her foot in frustration.

She realized that it would be difficult to subdue Vulture if they let Vulture go.

“Ah, is he a fool?” Ares was also frustrated and said, “How could he listen to Vulture’s nonsense and actually release him?”

Contrary to their incomprehension of Leones’ behavior, David firmly stood on Leones’ side, continuing, “You don’t understand! Mr. Bloom just said that if he can defeat him once, he can defeat him a second time, a third time, and countless times!

“Just watch and see. Why waste so many words?”

At this moment, Vulture slowly turned around, staring at Leones, observing Leones for a long time.

It was as if he wanted to imprint Leones’ face firmly in his heart. Vulture swore to collect this blood debt.

“Make your move!” Leones urged.

“Buster, I remember your face. Even if you become ashes, I will still recognize you!” Vulture said viciously but suddenly changed the subject, “Do you know why I am nicknamed the Vulture?” Naturally, Leones had no idea.

“It’s because in Fatuma, in the Chamber Mountain, I come and go freely like an eagle.”

As he spoke, Vulture suddenly spread his arms.

In the next second, he was floating thirty feet away.

With a triumphant laugh, Vulture exclaimed, “Did you think that you were the only one with top-notch body skills? I, Vulture, have three unrivaled skills, and one of them is extraordinary footwork!

“Today, let me show you my speed. Bye!”

Before he finished, Vulture’s figure had already disappeared at the entrance of the hall.

“Ah!” Lily and the others sighed heavily as if it was expected.

Vulture really managed to escape!

“Oh my, you’ll incur a lot of trouble by releasing him! You’ll also be responsible!” Ares was equally frustrated and quickly led a group of people to chase after Vulture.

Seeing this, Leones was not surprised.

At this moment, Leones and Vulture were like a cat and a mouse.

Releasing the mouse wasn't because the cat was afraid of it or made a careless mistake, but because the cat hadn't had enough fun yet.

After Vulture was released, there were only two paths for Vulture to choose from.

Either he'd take a desperate gamble, or he'd choose to run.

Obviously, Vulture had a strong desire to survive and would not hesitate to swallow his pride and escape on the spot.

But unfortunately, what he didn't know was that no matter which path he chose, it was a dead end!

"Do you think you can escape?"

With swift movements, Leones' figure disappeared from the hall as well.

"Wow! Both of them are gone!"

"They are so fast!"

“No wonder they are skilled. Even in a chase, it’s so thrilling.”

“I wonder if Leones can catch up with Vulture!”

“Let’s go, let’s follow them and see what’s happening.”

In a moment, everyone in the hall became eager to join the action.

In a hurry, they all ran out.

“Follow me!” Myron immediately commanded his plainclothes subordinates, “Capture Vulture with all our strength. Once we find his trace, report it immediately. Don’t let him escape!” Darius, Chad, and others also quickly followed, ready to go out and support Leones.

Max saw the situation and felt relieved. He thought, “Haha! This buster actually dares to let Vulture go. It’s really fortunate for me!”

As long as Vulture was not captured, he could be worry-free, and taking advantage of the chaos, he could also escape and avoid trouble.

At this time, David, who was about to watch the excitement, suddenly thought of something when he walked out of the hall.

David thought, “The people of the Roberts and Wilson families are still under house arrest. It’s a good opportunity to rescue them and show my contribution in front of Mr. Bloom. It’s a chance to make up for my mistakes!”

Thinking of this, David no longer pursued outside but quietly went to the backyard, easily subdued the guards, and freed the people of the Roberts and Wilson families.

Upon hearing that Leones had actually come and was chasing after Vulture, the crowd from the Roberts and Wilson families were also astonished.

“Quick, let’s go and help Mr. Bloom with our strength!”

The members of the Roberts and Wilson families immediately set off to join Leones.

It happened quickly.

From Vulture’s escape to Leones’ pursuit, it took less than ten minutes.

Both of them left Johnson Manor and started a fierce confrontation inside Fatuma.

One of them ran at an astonishing speed as if risking his life.

The other followed closely, hands crossed behind his back, appearing to be at ease.

In just a short moment, Leones had closed in on Vulture, who was running away, to less than thirty feet.

Vulture thought, “I should have completely left that buster behind, right?”

Vulture, just as he was catching his breath and slowing down his steps, turned his head and glanced behind him.

Instantly, he was shocked and dumbfounded, as if he had seen a ghost.

“You... How did you catch up with me?”

Vulture believed that his speed was as fast as a rocket, and he should have lost Leones completely.

He didn't expect Leones would easily catch up with him in the blink of an eye.

"I have been following you the whole time." Leones calmly said, "I just wanted to see for myself the three ultimate skills you are so proud of.

"What's wrong? You can't run anymore when I haven't even started?"

After hearing this, Vulture suddenly felt a tingling sensation, thinking, "What the hell? How can he be so strong!"

"If you can't run anymore, then surrender!"

With each word uttered by Leones, the distance between the two continued to shorten.

Before he finished, Leones had already caught up, and the distance between him and Vulture was within three feet.

Leones moved like a ghost!

Vulture's face turned pale as he saw this.

"Don't come any closer!"

Vulture screamed as if he had been driven mad by Leones, desperately trying to escape.

But the distance between them was getting closer and closer.

Who would have thought that a powerful figure like Vulture would be forced to this extent, appearing almost insane.

At this moment, Vulture could even feel the deathly aura of Leones, already within reach.

There was no escape!

Vulture's heart sank, knowing that his plan to escape had failed.

No matter how hard he tried, he couldn't shake off Leones behind him.

Immediately, Vulture made up his mind and had no choice but to face Leones head-on.

A pair of Aix Galericulata Axe appeared silently in his palms.

Vulture was preparing to launch a sneak attack on Leones,

Before the two axes could swing, he felt a cold gust of wind behind him.

There came three muffled sounds of piercing flesh.

Vulture's shoulders and one thigh were instantly hit.

It turned out that Leones had shot three Firefly Swords that pierced through Vulture's body.

In an instant, Vulture fell to the ground as if he had been tripped by a snare.

Before he could stand up, the Giant Sharp Sword met him, pressing against Vulture's throat. Leones held the sharp sword and coldly questioned, "This time, do you surrender?"

"Surrender... I surrender..."

When death approached, anyone would feel fear and awe.

Vulture was no exception, immediately begging for mercy.

“If you spare me, my life belongs to you, Leones! I’m willing to be your subordinate! Everything I have will belong to you from now on!”

Leones couldn’t be bothered to listen to his babbling and said coldly, “Since you surrender, then go to hell!”

Leones had said that he would make Vulture admit defeat.

As he spoke, Leones suddenly exerted force on the sword, directly piercing Vulture’s throat.

Chapter 269 His Final Hand

“No! You can’t kill me!”

Vulture felt the impending grip of death.

He let out a mighty roar in his final breath and revealed his final hand.

He never imagined that the situation would turn out like this and put himself in danger.

He kept his last option a secret, which was crucial for Vulture’s survival.

“I am an outer disciple of Chamber Mountain from the ancient families! If you dare to kill me, it’s a blatant disrespect to the ancient warrior of Chamber Mountain! Even the most loyal dogs know their masters. I’m an integral part of Chamber Mountain, so taking my life is not an option!”

The ancient warriors of Chamber Mountain were part of the Chamber Mountain lineage, one of the Three Mountains, Five Sects, and Seven Families.

People widely believed that among these prestigious lineages, the Chamber Mountain's ancient warriors occupied the highest echelon in the ancient warrior world.

The ancient warriors of Chamber Mountain traveled the world. No one dared to provoke them. Vulture uncovered a crucial connection that he thought could make Leones back off and never try to strike again.

After all, no one could afford to provoke the ancient families of Chamber Mountain!

In the secular world, they were considered god-like beings.

“Lower your weapon, now!”

Vulture demanded firmly.

With his true identity laid bare, Vulture's confidence surged.

No longer did he resort to pleading. Instead, he adopted an assertive stance.

Chamber Mountain had provided him with crucial support in moments of peril.

Had it not been for this critical moment of danger, he would have concealed his mysterious identity.

It wasn't a matter of modesty but a fear of unveiling his shady past.

After all, his roots were far from noble, and his deeds were anything but honorable.

In the eyes of the world, the ancient warriors of Chamber Mountain were god-like figures, distant from worldly matters.

However, who could have imagined that they secretly employed people like Vulture and created chaos in their name?

Vulture understood that sullyng Chamber Mountain's reputation was out of the question. If he dared to create havoc in their name, the ancient warriors of Chamber Mountain would not forgive him.

However, he had faithfully served Chamber Mountain over the years, undertaking numerous covert assignments. Now, at this critical juncture, unveiling his true identity was a move the ancient warriors of Chamber Mountain couldn't afford to ignore.

"A Chamber Mountain outer disciple?" Leones asked with a cold tone, "How many of your kind are there?"

"Um... At least seven or eight?" Vulture replied, his certainty waning.

10:24

He was, after all, only an outer disciple, and probing into Chamber Mountain's personal matters was beyond his scope.

Vulture's hope flickered as Leones hesitated, but at that moment, Leones thrust his sword through Vulture's throat.

"You?" Vulture caught his breath. His expression was a mix of shock and fear. "How dare you attack me? I'm part of Chamber Mountain! You think you can take my life?"

Leones scoffed, displaying no mercy, “Not just a lowly outer disciple like you. I wouldn’t spare even the ancient warriors of Chamber Mountain here!

“Vulture, you’ve committed numerous sins. Today, you’ll face the consequences! Even Jesus himself couldn’t save you now!

“Hear me!”

Vulture, filled with terror, tried to say something.

But his throat, grievously wounded by the sword, gushed blood with every word he attempted.

He believed he was on the verge of death.

Simultaneously, the group from the Johnson family, including Darius, arrived subsequently. They were astonished to see Leones with his sword pointed at Vulture’s throat. They couldn’t believe Vulture had been cornered again and barely alive.

“Never would’ve thought that Vulture, who once ruled over Fatuma, would meet such a devastating downfall today”

“If Leones defeats Vulture, he’ll become famous throughout the land. It proves that heroes can come from the younger generation.”

“Haha! All hail to master!”

“Your Majesty commands great respect and fear.”

With relief, Lily watched as the chaos settled down silently.

Amid the critical moment, Leones became aware of a chilling sensation slowly spreading up his arm from the side.

Had Leones not summoned his inner strength to endure the biting cold, he could have been frozen in his tracks.

The bitter cold was unbearable.

Leones then turned his gaze back to Vulture. Astonishingly, the man on the brink of death, with blood gushing from his throat, found his bleeding abruptly frozen.

The next moment, someone seized Leones' wrist.

Suddenly, a mysterious figure appeared by his side, accompanied by a chilling gust of wind.

"Young one, that's enough! Show some mercy!"

Chapter 270 His Life Ends Here

Leones suddenly turned around and noticed a middle-aged man standing beside him at a distance. The man was dressed in white attire and exuded a cold demeanor.

The man had one hand casually draped behind his back while using the other to clamp down on Leones' wrist.

He disarmed Leones' impending threat with a gentle squeeze, rescuing Vulture just in the nick of time.

"Are you... The Ambassadorial Master?"

Still in shock, Vulture spoke with difficulty, blood spewing from his mouth.

“Yes, I am Lucius Foster, the Ambassadorial Master responsible for Chamber Mountain’s external affairs,” replied the man.

“Vulture, given your position as a member of Chamber Mountain’s outer sect, you found yourself in a dire situation today, and I’ve arrived to offer assistance.”

With that, Lucius elegantly disarmed Leones by flicking his sword aside and lightly tapping Vulture’s throat.

Vulture’s body felt a sudden chill that caused him to shiver involuntarily. Surprisingly, this also had the effect of freezing his life-threatening wound.

A thin layer of icy crystals formed around Vulture’s neck, saving him and enabling him to breathe normally. These crystals resembled a scab forming over a wound.

“Mr. Foster! The Ambassadorial Master!” Vulture quickly expressed his gratitude. “Thank you, Mr. Foster, for lending a helping hand!”

Vulture couldn’t contain his overwhelming joy. He was saved!

Ever since he fled Johnson Manor earlier, he resembled a wild stallion racing without a clear direction. However, he had a specific reason as he raced in this direction.

He knew that Chamber Mountain’s ancient families stationed their Ambassadorial Masters here as intermediaries between them and the secular world.

Meeting an Ambassadorial Master meant salvation.

What?

Ambassadorial Master of Chamber Mountain?

Lucius was a member of Chamber Mountain's legendary ancient warrior!

The sudden appearance of Lucius left everyone present stunned.

Simultaneously, the sudden drop in temperature made everyone realize the dread associated with the ancient warrior. His mere presence had the power to affect the surrounding climate.

Indeed, he was an ancient warrior, and his power was undeniable!

Even Lily, Ares, and Myron couldn't fathom that this anti-bandit operation had unexpectedly entangled the ancient warriors of Chamber Mountain!

"Vulture has Chamber Mountain as a mighty support! It seems the rumors were accurate. His exceptional strength is undoubtedly a result of his training from Chamber Mountain!" Myron was shocked and awed.

The elite intelligence agency within the Fatuma Police Station had long been aware of Vulture's ties to Chamber Mountain. Nonetheless, the precise details of this connection remained veiled in secrecy.

His Life Ends Here

Today's meeting served as a confirmation of the intel. Vulture was, without a doubt, an outer disciple of Chamber Mountain.

"The intervention of an ancient warrior in this matter doesn't spell good fortune." Ares furrowed his brow. Given the present circumstances, their only recourse was to observe as Chamber Mountain's ancient families spirited Vulture away.

After all, one must not underestimate the might of ancient families!

Furthermore, they were ancient warriors of Chamber Mountain, one of the top three in the ancient warrior world, making them untouchable.

Their words carried the weight of commands, and no one dared to question them.

“Almost had him,” Darius sighed.

Lucius’ timely intervention to rescue Vulture seemed deliberate to some.

With the entry of ancient warriors, the situation took an unexpected turn.

Everyone watched in silence as Lucius rescued Vulture.

Lily and her team could not confront a member of an ancient family, even though they were dealing with criminals. They had no choice but to yield.

The ancient families were so highly respected that not even their seniors, the two War Gods, and the president of Fatuma Police Station would dare to be disrespectful toward them.

“Vulture, step back,” Lucius ordered, gesturing for him to retreat. His sharp eyes studied Leones curiously.

He hadn’t expected to find someone in the secular world who could corner Vulture to such an extent.

“Young man, Vulture belongs to our Chamber Mountain. I will escort him back, and he shall face the consequences,” Lucius declared, giving a respectful nod with clasped fists, “Extend Chamber Mountain this courtesy and consider this incident resolved.”

“Hehe...” Vulture couldn’t help but sneer while looking at Leones.

He felt unbeatable with the support of an ancient warrior from Chamber Mountain. He wouldn’t be afraid even if there were ten or eight people like Leones.

Once he fully recovered from his injuries, he planned to return and settle the score with Leones.

Just as Lucius was about to take Vulture away, a fiery determination surged through Leones.

“Stop!”

Leones’ wrist suddenly shook, breaking free from the frigid grip that had held his arm in place.

His sword sliced through the air, stirring up a whirlwind and a surge of heat.

In an instant, the temperature around them soared as if summer had arrived in the blink of an eye, and a wave of scorching heat washed over them.

Lucius furrowed his brow, feeling challenged. His expression darkened slightly.

“Young man, what do you want?” Lucius asked coldly.

“I have a question,” Leones continued, “How do you plan to deal with Vulture after you take him back?”

“The higher-ups at Chamber Mountain will decide,” Lucius replied, “He will be punished severely.”

Leones smirked. “I’m afraid your idea of a severe punishment would be nothing but a show. Afterward, you’ll slap him on the wrist and let him blend back into society with a fresh identity, carrying on with his wrongdoings.”

Lucius' expression changed once more as Leones had struck a nerve and angered him even further.

Lucius sneered, "You don't need to concern yourself with that! Vulture is a disciple of Chamber Mountain, and deciding how to deal with him is up to us!"

Leones pressed on. "Since he's a member of Chamber Mountain, would the ancient families in Chamber Mountain also be willing to share the responsibility for his numerous crimes in Fatuma? It just so happens that the representatives of Fatuma Police Station are here today. Can we bring forth Vulture's crimes from these years and expose them to the public? Let Chamber Mountain's ancient warriors hear about the deeds of their people in the outside world!"

Myron couldn't hide his astonishment at Leones' statement. He hadn't expected Leones to involve Fatuma Police Station in the situation inadvertently.

It might have been acceptable if it were someone else, but this was an ancient warrior they were dealing with.

Even if his father were present, they must maintain their reputation and avoid confrontation. Leones noticed Myron's hesitation and let out a cold laugh. He continued, "When Vulture was committing his atrocities outside, Chamber Mountain turned a blind eye. When Vulture took lives, Chamber Mountain still turned a blind eye.

"Now that I'm about to end Vulture's life, Chamber Mountain suddenly remembers that he's one of yours and wants to take him away? Such hypocrisy!"

Lucius' expression grew even grimmer at Leones' statements.

He retorted, "You need not concern yourself with that. Vulture is ours, and we'll decide how to deal with him!"

Leones' sword swayed abruptly in his grip. "You can take him with you," he declared, "But his life ends here!"
