

Out of Prison 51

Chapter 51 Punishment Is Inevitable

“No!”

Just when Leones was about to make a move, Susan suddenly stepped forward and grabbed his wrist.

“Don’t get your hands dirty for this kind of person!”

Susan persuaded him worriedly.

“You have just been released from prison. If you commit a murder, your life will be ruined.”

Leones was startled. He looked at Susan and suddenly thought when Veronica wanted to seek revenge on him on the day he was released from prison, the deputy beside her also persuaded her in the same way.

“It’s not worth it for a bastard like him!”

“I have always believed that you were wronged!”

Susan continued.

“Don’t kill! Don’t leave a stain on your life!”

Susan was pure and kind. In her mind, Leones had always been her crush.

It was also why Leones had always been restrained in front of her.

He didn't want to destroy the image of himself in her mind.

He didn't want to let her down.

"Okay!"

Now that Susan persuaded him, he would naturally agree to her.

"However... Capital crime can be forgiven, but punishment is inevitable!

"I have to confiscate his crime tools to prevent him from harming other women in the future!"

What?!

Susan heard this but didn't react for a while.

She thought it was something from the scene. She didn't think it was necessary to confiscate.

"Susan, your parents are here."

Leones pointed in one direction and diverted Susan's sight away.

When Susan turned her head to look, he immediately moved.

He disabled Brian's penis and then nailed his limbs to the ground.

Accompanied by bursts of screams, Susan was terrified all over.

That miserable scream seemed to come from hell, which made people shudder.

“Don’t look back!”

The scene behind her was terrible.

Leones held Susan’s shoulders and went out through the window.

After landing firmly, Susan still had lingering fears.

“What did you do to him?”

She asked anxiously.

“Give him a lesson and make him remember.

“Let’s go!”

Leones took Susan and left the abandoned factory building.

Only one road away was the busy street.

No one could have imagined the evil thing breeding in this dark place.

Leones walked with Susan on the street for a while. She was still in shock as if she hadn’t recovered from the fright.

However, Leones saw the fierceness on Susan’s head had disappeared. It meant that Susan had passed the calamity smoothly. He was finally relieved.

“Susan!”

Soon, Susan’s parents came.

“Susan, are you okay?”

“Who the hell is that bold and dares to kidnap you? I won’t let him go!”

A family of three finally reunited.

Although Leones saved Susan, Aria still held great hostility and prejudice against him.

“Did you provoke someone outside? The enemies could not find you but kidnapped my daughter?”

“I told you not to get close to my daughter!”

Leones didn’t bother to explain to Susan’s parents. After sending Susan to the car, he turned and left.

“Mom, you’ve gone too far!” After recovering from the panic, Susan complained to her mother again.

“Thanks to Leones today. Otherwise, I would lose my virginity! How could you say that about him?!”

“Humph! It’s all because of him!” Aria was still unconvinced. “Don’t think I will be grateful to him because he saved you.”

“Mom, do you know who kidnapped me?” Susan didn’t want to mention this person.

But her parents misunderstood Leones. She had to mention it again.

“Who?”

“Brian!”

“What!?” Thurman Bones, Susan’s father, was shocked. He was driving and almost rear-ended the car in front. “Brian... Why did he kidnap you?”

Susan briefly explained why Brian hated her.

Only then did her parents fall silent. They never expected a gentle and polite man like Brian to do such a shameless thing.

However, Aria still insisted on arguing. “If this is the case, Leones has something to do with this matter.

“He could arrange any position for you. Why did he let you replace Brian’s position? Isn’t this making you enemies for no reason?”

“Mom!” Susan heard Aria’s argument and was speechless.

At this time, Thurman, who was driving, also persuaded Susan, “Your mother is worried about you. If you ignore the words of the elders at your peril, you will suffer losses.

“Besides, Leones just made connections with the Baker family. He is nothing. You’d better cut off contact with him. He will bring bad effects on you.”

Susan couldn’t help but explain, “He is not like you said. Dad, you may not believe what I said. But I have to tell you that even Josh has to be respectful to Leones.”

Her parents burst out laughing when they heard her words. They thought Susan was joking.

“Josh? How could that be?”

Josh is the second most potent person in the Shelton family. He is also the promising person to compete for the position of the head of the Shelton family.

Would he be respectful to a criminal who just got out of prison?

It is ridiculous!”

At this moment, Thurman’s mobile phone rang. It was a call from an unknown number.

After he answered it and heard the voice, he was startled and hurriedly parked the car on the side of the road.

“Thurman, it’s me, Josh.” Josh took the initiative to call Thurman.

Thurman was flattered. “Josh, what’s the matter?”

“It’s okay. I haven’t contacted you for a long time, so I call you now,” Josh chuckled, “Did I bother you?”

“No, no, no...” Thurman hurriedly shook his head and was confused.

He thought, “What does it mean to have no contact for a long time?! Josh and I have never been in contact at all!”

Josh’s phone number was an unfamiliar number to Thurman.

“Thurman, do you have time recently? I’m going to treat your family to dinner.” Josh invited.

“Okay, any time is fine. I’m free. Hum... Okay.” Thurman accepted the invitation. After hanging up he was still confused.

“Why did Josh, a member of the Shelton family, suddenly invite me, a member of the side branch, to have dinner together?”

It’s the first time!”

Only Susan was clear about it. Josh invited her family to have dinner for the sake of Leones. “Susan has become a department manager in the Baker family’s head office!” Aria analyzed, “If there is any business relationship between the Shelton family and the Baker family in the future, maybe Susan can be the intermediary. So Josh invited us to dinner and wanted to build a good relationship!”

Chapter 52 Crawl Through

Meanwhile, on the other side...

Leones was strolling down the street.

He was just about to hail a taxi to go back to his villa.

Suddenly, he paused as he looked across the street at a flower shop.

A young and beautiful girl in a wheelchair was seeing a customer off.

“It’s her... Her legs are actually...”

Leones’ gaze dimmed for a moment.

That accident from years ago caused one person's death and seven injuries.

Aside from Veronica's mother, who died on the spot, there were seven severely injured individuals.

The young girl in the wheelchair at the flower shop across the street was also one of the victims from back then.

Leones sighed.

Though he wasn't the true cause of the accident, many innocent people were still affected due to the conspiracy.

Leones remembered that the girl's name was Ariella, roughly his age.

Back then, her legs suffered severe injuries, and he hadn't expected her to end up disabled because of it.

Leones was just about to walk over and help treat the girl's leg injury.

With Leones' medical skills nowadays, treating disabilities was a simple task.

However, halfway there, Leones suddenly stopped in his tracks.

"She probably doesn't want to see me, right?"

Like Veronica, Leones was an unforgivable culprit in the eyes of the victims from that time.

Even if Leones genuinely wanted to treat her leg, she probably wouldn't appreciate it.

"Well, forget it." Leones shook his head with a wry smile. "I'll come to treat her after the truth comes out in a few days."

Just as Leones was about to leave....

Across the street, Ariella was also getting ready to close her shop for the day.

Over the years, due to her disability, finding a job had been challenging. With the help of friends, family, and kind-hearted people, she managed to open this flower shop and barely make a living, but she managed fairly well.

Suddenly, Ariella felt her wheelchair uncontrollably, starting to move backward.

Ariella exclaimed and held onto the wheelchair, nearly falling to the ground.

An ear-piercing laughter came from the side.

Ariella stopped the wheelchair and turned around, only to see a group of slightly tipsy guys playing pranks on her.

It was them who had pulled her wheelchair, causing it to be uncontrollable.

“So, beauty, you’re this flower shop’s owner?” Radley looked at Ariella with ill intentions, a mixture of surprise and mockery in his eyes. “Indeed, a stunning beauty! It’s a pity you’re a cripple!”

1/3

“As long as she’s good-looking, has a nice figure, who cares if she’s crippled or not...” A few others chimed in jest.

Ariella was infuriated, ignoring these young troublemakers, and tried to slide her wheelchair to get back to her shop.

“Hey, beauty, don’t go.” Radley suddenly grabbed her wheelchair again, forcibly stopping her. “Do you have any time to join us for a drink?”

Ariella angrily retorted, “If you keep this up, I’ll call someone! Let go of my wheelchair!”

“Go ahead and call.” Radley shrugged indifferently. “We’re not really bothering you. We just want to have a drink with you. Is that against the law?”

“Help, someone!” Ariella shouted loudly for help.

Upon hearing her shouts, the shop owners rushed out to see what was happening.

“What are you looking at!?” Radley yelled aggressively, smashing the bottle in his hand on the ground. “Mind your own business, got it?”

The arrogant demeanor immediately frightened the surrounding business owners away.

Everyone was doing small businesses, minding their own business, honestly. Who dared to meddle?

“You really don’t know what’s good for you!” Radley regained his composure and glared at Ariella with menace, threatening, “Are you going to come with us for a drink or not?”

“I won’t go!” Ariella gritted her teeth stubbornly. “I’d rather die than go!”

“Fine! Looks like you don’t know how to appreciate a favor!”

As Radley spoke, he overturned Ariella’s wheelchair, causing her to fall to the ground.

Then he stepped forward, blocking the shop entrance, legs apart, and pointed to his crotch.

“You have to crawl through here, and we’ll leave immediately.

Otherwise, you can forget about getting up!”

Other young men joined in the teasing, saying, “Crawl through. Crawl through.”

They even intentionally pulled her wheelchair farther away, making her getting up difficult.

Ariella was on the ground, her legs weak, struggling to prop herself up with her hands.

She was humiliated by them. Tears of frustration welled up in her eyes.

“You jerks... My friend will be here soon... She’ll teach you a lesson...”

Radley, undaunted, responded, “Then hurry up and let your friend come! We’ll be waiting!

I’d like to see who can teach me a lesson.”

Just as Radley stood arrogantly with his hands on his hips, looking down on Ariella, bullying and taunting her...

Suddenly, there was a swift sound!

A small stone shot forward like a bullet, hitting Radley right in the crotch.

With a cry of agony, Radley clutched his crotch, legs tightly crossed, his face turning pale, collapsing little by little.

Seeing this, Ariella couldn't help but feel both surprised and relieved. The skillful and decisive move made her think her friend had arrived.

56

2/3

She was saved.

But when she turned her head to look, a stranger with a cold demeanor was slowly approaching.

That person gave her a feeling of both familiarity and unfamiliarity.

However, Ariella couldn't recall who it was...

Chapter 53 Just You Wait

"Radley!?"

The hooligans rushed towards Radley and helped him up.

What they found was that his crotch was soaked in blood profusely.

They pulled open his pants and looked inside, feeling a shiver down their spines at the horrifying scene, causing them to turn away.

“What the heck! Radley? How did you get hurt so badly down there?”

“Damn! Who did this to you!?”

“Radley, how do you feel?”

Radley was covered in cold sweat, nearly fainting from the pain.

He couldn't feel anything below his waist. It was as if he had been castrated.

“You punk, was it you who did this?”

Seeing Leones approaching calmly, Radley and the others were both shocked and enraged.

They were a group, yet they had no idea when and how he managed to do this.

But there was no time to think. They needed to get Radley to the hospital as soon as possible.

If they delayed, Radley's situation would worsen irreversibly.

“Kid, you wait! We have seen your face!”

“Dare to attack us! We won't let you off the hook!”

Saying this, the group of hooligans lifted the heavily injured Radley and left as if fleeing.

Leones pushed a wheelchair to Ariella's side.

Then he bent down to pick her up.

Ariella's body was as light as a feather, exuding a faint floral scent.

Ariella exclaimed, experiencing such close contact with a stranger for the first time in her life.

Before she could struggle or think too much, Ariella found herself back in the wheelchair.

Leones pushed her back to the flower shop.

Inside the shop was clean, neat, and fragrant, just like its owner.

"Thank you..."

Ariella regained her senses from her earlier distress and despair, glancing at Leones gratefully. The more she looked at Leones, the more she felt like she had seen him somewhere before. Before she could ask, Leones took a step forward and said, "What's your name?" Ariella truthfully told him her name.

"How did you injure your leg?" Leones asked again.

1

"Five years ago, I was in a car accident..." Ariella lightly pursed her lips, not eager to recall.

"I see," Leones confirmed her identity. He hadn't mistaken her for someone else. Then, Leones bent down again, reaching for Ariella's thigh.

Ariella exclaimed, not understanding Leones' intentions, "What... What are you doing?"

Leones didn't reply. Instead, he began kneading and pressing from top to bottom, reshaping and activating the leg's bones.

However, in Ariella's eyes, Leones' unusual actions seemed more like he was being a rogue molesting her, making her feel nauseated.

"What are you doing? Let go of me!" Ariella shouted, struggling. The gratitude she felt towards Leones from earlier vanished.

In her heart, she felt miserable. "Why am I so unlucky? Just when I chased away a bunch of hoodlums, I encountered another freak.

He's actually touching and pinching my injured leg?"

Ariella was about to shout for help....

Suddenly, her body jolted as if she had been shocked.

She could clearly feel the increasing pressure on her legs as they were massaged.

At first, Ariella felt embarrassed and angry.

But soon, her embarrassment turned into surprise, followed by a trembling sensation like being struck by lightning.

"My legs... I can actually feel them..."

Could this be a hallucination?

Just as Ariella was perplexed, Leones finished his treatment.

Finally, he gently tapped her knees with a concentrated stream of vital energy at his fingertips. An incredible scene unfolded.

Ariella's calf muscles actually displayed a knee-jerk reflex.

Her calves lifted, and she even felt a slight tingling pain.

"Try standing up."

Leones handed her an umbrella.

"Alright!"

Using the umbrella for support, Ariella struggled to stand up.

Her legs were trembling intensely, but she was overjoyed.

She hadn't experienced this feeling for five years.

With a mix of shock and delight, Ariella managed to take a few steps, albeit with difficulty.

Success!

Ariella couldn't believe her eyes.

Not only did her legs have sensation, but she could also take steps.

Although she found it a bit challenging and unsteady, every small step she took was an unparalleled new experience for her.

Suddenly, Ariella stumbled, losing her balance.

Fortunately, Leones was right there in front of her, catching her steadily.

Lying against his firm chest, Ariella blushed.

Leones supported her again, helping her back into the wheelchair.

“You haven’t walked for a long time, so it’ll take some time to readjust.”

11:56

From observing her earlier walking, he noticed that her legs still lacked some strength and needed gradual rehabilitation.

After all, her legs had been disabled for five years. They wouldn’t recover immediately.

“I’ll prescribe another regimen for you. Both oral and topical treatments, and you need to follow them every day.

In about a month, you should be fully recovered.”

Leones picked up a pen and paper from the table and wrote a prescription.

Excited, Ariella looked at Leones, realizing that she had misunderstood him earlier.

He wasn't harassing her. He was treating her legs.

All the hospitals had declared her legs irreparable for five years.

But today, a stranger had miraculously healed her.

"Is this a dream?"

Ariella touched her legs, still finding it hard to believe.

Just then...

Shouting and cursing suddenly echoed from outside the shop.

Ariella turned her head and saw several motorcycles blocking the shop entrance.

The hooligans who had bothered her earlier had come back.

"Great! The shop hasn't closed yet!"

"Is that punk still here?"

"Come out already!"

The surrounding shopkeepers were scared and shut their doors as the hooligans brought more people.

Seeing this, Ariella turned pale with fear, urging Leones to ignore her and find a way to escape.

"Wait inside the shop," Leones turned and left, saying, "I'll handle this."

Standing at the shop entrance, Leones glanced outside.

Dozens of hooligans seemed insignificant in his eyes.

“Alex! That’s him!”

“Yes! He somehow made Radley’s crotch bleed profusely!”

The hooligans who had fled before pointed at Leones while huddling around their leader and shouted.

As soon as the man named Alex saw Leones, he was visibly startled.

Could this be... Dragon King!?

With a jolt, Alex hurried forward and bowed, greeting. “Mr. Bloom!”

Chapter 54 Title Kenton

Alex was hired by none other than Ted Olsen today at the Dragon Plaza to cause trouble to Leones.

However, instead of beating Leones up, he was taught a lesson by Leones.

At this time, Alex had just completed Leones’s order, went to cause trouble at the Olsen family’s place, beat Ted half to death, and threw him into the river.

Then, he heard that his subordinate, Radley, was beaten up at the flower shop again.

Hence, Alex brought his men and came here in a hurry, trying to get revenge.

However, to his absolute surprise, he met Leones again at the door of the flower shop.

At this moment, Alex was completely appalled.

His subordinate could have offended anyone, but why did it have to be this man?

Alex's heart sunk to the bottom. He bit the bullet and went forward to say hello but also resigned himself to his fate, waiting to be punished.

Looking at his severed palm, he thought that his other hand might not be safe either.

Seeing this scene, the subordinates behind Alex also opened their mouths wide with shock. Especially Radley's subordinates. They were so frightened that their faces were ashen.

They would never have imagined in their dreams that their boss, who was supposed to stand up for them, would act so humbly in front of this man.

It was still uncertain who would be taught a lesson.

"The thing I asked you to do. How was it?" Leones did not pursue what happened just now but asked about the progress.

"Everything is done." Alex hurriedly said, "They broke Ted's limbs and threw him into the moat in the suburban area and sent someone to keep an eye on him. At least he won't be able to go ashore tonight!"

"Alright." Leones nodded in satisfaction.

Then, his tone changed, and he asked, "That blonde and the others just now, are they your subordinates?"

"Ye—Yes..." Alex's heart, which had just relaxed, suddenly became anxious again. He said in fear, "They don't know you, Mr. Bloom. I will break their legs when I go back to make sure they'll remember."

"Yeah, you should do that." Leones said coldly, "But it's not because they don't know me, but because they are causing a mess outside!"

"From now on, control your people. Next time, I will break your legs!"

Alex broke out in a cold sweat, saying yes again and again.

"Get lost!" Leones turned around and went back to the flower shop.

Alex felt relieved and retreated step by step.

When he turned around, his face turned dark, and he stared at Radley's subordinates, gnashing his teeth with hatred.

"What are you doing standing there? Catch these bastards and break their legs! Who asked them to cause trouble for me outside!"

Radley's men were all frightened.

"Alex... Have mercy... Alex..."

But no matter how much they plead, how could Alex forgive him lightly?

At this moment, they were just as miserable as they were arrogant when they bullied Ariella earlier.

After bursts of howling and screaming of pain.

Alex's subordinates dragged those people on the locomotive and fled the scene quickly.

At this time, inside the flower shop.

Ariella watched what happened outside and was so shocked that she could not close her wide-open mouth.

At first, she was worried that Leones would be beaten up if he went out.

Unexpectedly, when those gangsters saw Leones, they were like rats that had seen a mouse.

Especially the one in the lead. He was so frightened he did not even dare to speak.

Contrary to what she had expected, Leones taught those little hooligans who bullied her just now a severe lesson.

This could be regarded as indirectly helping Ariella to vent her anger.

"Don't worry, they won't dare to come again in the future."

Leones did not expect to meet an "acquaintance" so coincidentally.

After the beating just now, those people would definitely hide when they pass through this street in the future.

"You should also get ready to go off work and go early." Leones saw that there was nothing to do here, so he said goodbye and left.

“Mr. Bloom!” Ariella saw those people just now addressed Leones respectfully as Mr. Bloom, so she also did the same and chased after him in a wheelchair. “Thank you for helping me so much... I.... I really don’t know how to thank you...”

“Don’t need to thank me.” Leones said, “Live a good life in the future.”

“Mr. Bloom...” Ariella looked at Leones’s back and called again, “At least tell me your name.”

“My name is...” Leones paused, then said, “Kenton Bloom!”

Then, Leones walked away without looking back.

At the same time, he reached out and wiped his face, and his appearance was restored.

Yes, the reason why Ariella did not recognize Leones just now was because he had temporarily changed his face.

Leones’s twentieth master was a mysterious killer known to have a thousand faces.

From him, Leones not only learned the top assassination ability but also the unpredictable art of disguise.

He could change his appearance anytime, anywhere.

In desperation just now, Leones was eager to help, but at the same time, he did not want to arouse Ariella’s disgust and make unnecessary explanations.

Therefore, Leones disguised himself and deceived Ariella.

And when Alex came to the door, Leones took off his disguise again and dismissed them.

At the same time, Leones's name, "Kenton," was not a random one.

In fact, he had inherited the title "Kenton" from his fourth master, Clayton. He had promised to carry forward the title of "Kenton".

This was because Clayton was once the war god of Yonker State, titled Kenton.

Among the war gods of the Nine Continents, so far, there were only three people who had achieved the great honor and supreme glory of having a title.

The name of the Kenton Warlord once resounded all over the world but was now forgotten. "Kenton Bloom..." Ariella looked at Leones's back and kept this name in her heart forever. Afterward, Ariella returned to the store and began to try to get up and walk again.

Although faltering, she enjoyed it.

Not long after, a patrol car suddenly stopped outside the store.

"I'm sorry, Ella, I worked overtime today, so I'm a little late."

At this moment, in plain clothes, looking neat and fresh, Veronica walked into the flower shop. When she saw that her friend was walking with an umbrella, she froze at the door for a moment. A gleam of joy gradually appeared on her shocked face.

"Ella! You can stand up?"

Chapter 55 His Surname Is Also Bloom

Veronica and Ariella knew each other because of that car accident five years ago.

Among the two, one lost the mother she relied on and became an orphan, while the other lost her legs and became disabled.

The two people shared the same suffering and helped each other over the years, and gradually formed a deep friendship like sisters.

Ariella was able to open this flower shop thanks to the help of Veronica.

Moreover, Veronica would stop by to pick up Ariella, who was handicapped, after getting off work every day and take her home.

“Verone, you are here! Look!” Ariella slowly let go of the umbrella in her hand, stood up straight, and shared her achievements and joy with her friend.

“This is great!” The two girls hugged each other, weeping with joy. “Your legs... They are finally healed! Great, great!”

After a burst of joy, Veronica gradually calmed down and asked what was going on.

After all, when Ariella was sent to the store this morning, there was no sign of recovery.

How could Ariella’s legs recover inexplicably in less than a day?

Something must have happened!

“I’ll tell you!”

Ariella excitedly recounted everything that happened just now.

Especially about what Kenton had done, she unabashedly praised and expressed her admiration for him.

For example, he repelled the gangsters with a few words and made her able to feel her legs again in just a few minutes.

In Ariella's description, Kenton was like an angel sent by heaven to save her, omnipotent. "There really is such a powerful miracle doctor?" Veronica could not help being amazed after hearing this. "Kenton Bloom? His surname is also Bloom?"

For some reason, Leones's face appeared uncontrollably in Veronica's mind at this moment.. "Hmph..." Veronica's face turned cold, and she thought with disdain, "They have the same surname. One is a criminal despised by everyone, and the other is a respected miracle doctor. How can the difference be so vast?"

"Yes... He has the same surname as that person." Seeing Veronica's face change slightly, Ariella immediately understood that her friend had thought of that man.

So she quickly changed the subject and said, "By the way, Mr. Bloom left a prescription for me to ingest and apply externally. After a month of medication, my legs will be completely healed. "Verone, tomorrow is the weekend. Accompany me to the clinic to get the medicine!"

Veronica came back to her senses, picked up the prescription on the table, and exclaimed again, "What a beautiful handwriting!"

The prescription written by Leones was written in italics. The strokes were powerful, round, and thick, and the momentum was majestic. He covered up his original handwriting to avoid revealing his identity.

11:57

1/3

Leones's thirty-fifth Máster was a master of imitating antiques and counterfeiting. Whether it was copying famous paintings or celebrity fonts, he could forge them easily, and most people would not be able to tell the difference.

Therefore, the handwriting left by Leones was like a work of art with extremely high attainments. "Wow! Really!" Ariella took a closer look, only to find out that the prescription left by Leones was written with a ballpoint pen, but the effect of writing was like calligraphy, which was incredible. It could easily be mistaken as the work of a calligraphy master.

"Not only is his medical skills so superb, but his handwriting is so beautiful too!"

Veronica could not help being curious about Kenton.

"Who is this, Mr. Kenton Bloom?"

"Alas, it's a pity that I came a step late, and I didn't have the chance to see him."

Ariella said, "I believe that we will definitely meet again if we are meant to."

"Hmm." Veronica also said, "It's a pity that my godfather passed away, and there is no way for this miracle doctor, Mr. Bloom, to cure his hidden illness."

"Grandpa Waltson passed away?" Ariella was also surprised. She could only open this flower shop because of Carlos' funding.

"Yeah, he just passed away today." Veronica said, "And he also left his big villa to me to look after. "By the way, I plan to take you there to live with me. I'm not used to living in such a big house by myself."

Ariella immediately agreed. "Okay, I'll accompany you!"

Afterward, Veronica helped clean up and then closed the shop.

After helping Ariella into the car, Veronica stepped on the gas and drove towards Gloriland Manor.

Along the way, Ariella seemed very happy and talkative.

She chattered on and on, and she did not even realize that she just could not stop talking about Kenton.

Veronica reminded with a smile, "All you talk about is Dr. Bloom, Mr. Bloom, I almost have calluses in my ears.

"Ella, do you have a crush on Mr. Bloom?"

Facing her friend's teasing, Ariella blushed slightly and hurriedly said, "No way! I am only grateful for and admire Mr. Bloom... He saved me and did not even ask for medical fees. I really don't know how to thank him."

Veronica continued to joke. "Why don't you thank him by giving yourself to him?"

Ariella shook her head, a little ashamed, and said, "I'm just a flower girl in a flower shop. How can I be worthy of someone as outstanding as Mr. Bloom?"

"Not worthy? What are you talking about?" Veronica comforted, "You are so beautiful. When your legs are cured, there will be many people who want to marry you."

Ariella smiled wryly and shook her head, not having any inappropriate ideas.

"Verone, I think you and Mr. Bloom are a good match."

Veronica was startled when she heard the words and pretended to be angry and said, "Hey, you can like Mr. Bloom all you want, why drag me into it?"

11:57

2/3

"I'm serious." Ariella said seriously, "I used to think, for a strong woman like you, what kind of man can be worthy of you? It's not like you'd be interested in ordinary pretty boys, right?"

"But Mr. Kenton Bloom today is really different, and even his temperament is very similar to yours. I think you should be the same kind of people, and you really match well!"

"Nonsense!" Veronica changed the subject.

But at the same time, she was also a little curious, wondering if Kenton, as her friends said, was really that outstanding.

Soon, the car drove into the villa area.

Looking at the villas inside, Ariella was amazed, and her eyes were full of envy.

The two walked into the villa and chose the rooms.

"The house is big, so you can recover slowly."

Veronica brought Ariella to the backyard and accompanied her to practice walking.

"Huh?" While walking, Ariella suddenly noticed that there was a familiar figure on the villa behind, halfway up the mountain.

"What's the matter?" Veronica also looked at the villa and could not help but think of the instructions from her godfather before he left.

“That person...” Ariella pointed at the mountain. “He looks a bit like Mr. Kenton Bloom!” “No way. Is it really so coincidental?” Veronica was surprised when she heard this. “Well, although I can’t see his face clearly, his back... really looks like...” Ariella nodded affirmatively.

Veronica hesitated for a moment and then said, “Ella, let’s go! Let’s pay a visit!”

Chapter 56 Cyclone Group

Since They had become “neighbors”, Leones returned home almost the same time as Veronica and Ariella.

Just when Leones entered the door, he happened to be discovered by Ariella from the foot of the mountain.

Although Leones changed his face at that time, and he was far away, Ariella’s memory of his back was still fresh.

At this time, Leones returned to the Cloud Nine.

After a day of repairs, the villa had a new look inside and out.

In the hall, the lights were bright, and the furniture and electrical appliances were complete. Even the butler and servants were fully ready.

Compared with the barrenness everywhere when he came yesterday, it was a completely different place.

“Hmm.” Leones nodded in satisfaction. It looked like the Peterson family had spent efforts on this.

However, Leones still called the butler and told them, “Don’t need to come again after today.” “Understood.” The butler agreed without daring to ask any more questions and then went on to work.

They were all sent by the Peterson family, and they were told to obey Leones and Mia in everything.

Now that Leones asked them to go back, they could only obey and dare not say more. “What, are you not satisfied with their service?” Mia walked over and asked curiously.

“They did a good job.” Leones said, “But I don’t need outsiders by my side.”

Hearing this, Mia immediately understood Leones’s concerns.

The butler and servants were all sent by the Peterson family. In essence, they were still members of the Peterson family.

How could one tolerate strangers on the side of the bed?

Even if the Peterson family did not order them to, these servants would secretly tell them everything that was happening here.

“Okay. Then let them all go back tomorrow.” Mia also agreed.

Fortunately, the two of them had long been accustomed to this simple life. Even if there were no servants around them, it did not make a difference.

“How are things on your side?” Leones asked Mia about the Soler family’s company.

“Everything is going well!” Mia smiled. “Fortunately, with the help and accommodation of the Baker family, the company has gone through all the procedures and can open for business at any time.”

In just one day, Mia had completed the restart of the company.

Even Leones was impressed by such efficiency.

“You’ve worked hard, good job,” Leones said.

“These are not worth mentioning.” Mia said softly, “The real hard work is yet to come.”

11:57

Although everything was difficult at the beginning, in contrast, the future funds and operations of the new company were the real problems.

Of course, if their company just wanted to be rich and secure, then it could be easily operated and self-sufficient.

However, both Leones and Mia had the heart to reproduce the former glory of the Baker family.

In that case, they must rise again and again, and difficulties and troubles would be like flowing in like water.

“You are only responsible for the normal operation of the company.” Leones told her not to worry. “Leave the other troubles to me.

“How’s the progress on me wanting to meet with the Five Major Families?”

Mia said, “I was going to tell you about this.”

“Shelton, Peterson, Sullivan, Davis, and Martinez. The Five Major Families who were once attached to us have all been notified.

“They agreed and arranged to meet with us tomorrow at the Sullivan family’s Grandeur Tower.”

Leones nodded. “Then let’s go meet them!”

Among the five families, only the Peterson family and the Shelton family were on his side for the time being.

“It’s not going to be a friendly meeting,” Mia said, “Do you want to change the meeting place? Let us arrange it?”

Mia could not find a suitable place, so after returning, she planned to discuss with Leones whether to change the meeting place.

After all, the Grandeur Tower was the Sullivan family’s territory.

Mia was worried that they set up an ambush there.

“Haha, don’t bother.” Leones did not care about it. “Even if it’s a wolf’s den, I’m going to test it.

“Otherwise, how could they really be convinced to follow me?”

Compared to a tug-of-war, Leones preferred quick battles.

It would be best for the Five Major Families to take out all their trump cards tomorrow, and Leones would crack them one by one to make them surrender completely.

If this statement came from someone else, Mia would definitely think it was too overconfident. The Five Major Families were developing well now, and their power should not be underestimated.

However, last night, after seeing Leones’s strength, Mia was not so worried anymore.

“By the way, our company hasn’t been officially named yet.” Mia suggested again, “From now on, you will be the real power behind our Baker family. You should name the company.”

The former Baker Group had been canceled and even became a taboo that was rarely mentioned. Mia also did not want to use the name of her previous company.

“At the heart of the cyclone tearing the sky and flinging the cloud and the towers by is a place of central calm.” Leones thought for a while and said, “Let’s call it the Cyclone Group!”

His second master hoped that after he was released from prison, he could become as free and fierce as a cyclone.

11:57

Now, Leones wanted to become a cyclone to support the Baker family.

And in the future, this cyclone would surely sweep the world!

Leones and Mia were discussing matters of the company.

Suddenly, the butler came to report that there were two young female neighbors outside asking to see him.

Leones got up to look and found that the people standing outside were Veronica and Ariella. “Strange... Why are they here at my door?” He thought.

Leones did not know the purpose of the two of them coming here, so he directly told the butler to refuse them.

At this time, outside the villa.

Veronica and Ariella were shut out.

Ariella still did not give up and continued to ask the butler, "Excuse me, is the new owner of this villa named Kenton Bloom?"

"No." The butler shook his head. Although Leones was also surnamed Bloom, he had never heard of Kenton Bloom.

"Alas..." Ariella sighed regretfully. "It seems that I have mistaken."

"Hmm." Veronica also nodded and said, "According to what my godfather said, the new owner here is extremely powerful, even comparable to him.

"If the Mr. Bloom you have seen is the new owner here, then he is too scary!

"It would mean that not only is his martial arts strength comparable to my godfather, but his medical skills are so powerful, too.

"This kind of perfect genius who is unparalleled in both medicine and martial arts probably only exists in novels or movies!"

Ariella could only accept the reality and be disappointed.

"Let's go back first." Veronica helped Ariella and went down the mountain step by step.

At the same time, Veronica could not help but feel a little regretful. Her godfather told her to get to know this young and powerful man if she had the chance. However, to her surprise, she was rejected on her first visit.

Veronica turned back and glanced at the villa halfway up the mountain, not feeling discouraged. Anyway, living so close, there would be opportunities to meet in the future.

"I must see who is the mysterious neighbor who can live here!"

Chapter 57 Response From All Parties

That night, all forces in Sherland were brewing a storm.

It was the calm before the storm.

Behind the calmness, there was a force that was the first to suffer and encounter big

The news of the Bloom family's tax evasion spread like wildfire, and there was an uproar among the people.

It quickly became a hot search on the Internet and was reviled by countless people.

How did this happen?"

That night, the Bloom family held an emergency meeting to discuss countermeasures.

"We have no grievances with the Baker family. Why did they report us? They didn't even hesitate. How could they use the relationship with the Ministry of Finance to investigate us thoroughly!"

At the meeting, Benjamin was so furious that he felt like he had been stabbed in the back.

And the whole Bloom family was also puzzled. None of them had offended the Baker family. Why did they suddenly turn against them?

Benjamin personally called Orlando but was hung up on.

Benjamin was confused. Who the hell was secretly attacking the Bloom family? Who could make even the powerful Baker family willing to be a pawn and take the lead in attacking us?

'Dad, given the current situation, it's useless to investigate the cause now.' Jason said, 'The most urgent thing now is how to minimize the impact of this incident on our family!'

'Jason is right!' Henry Bloom also agreed. 'Now the news of our family's tax evasion has hit the headlines, and we have been scolded miserably on the Internet. How to restore the image and reduce losses is the most important thing right now.'

Jason said, 'Online matters are easy to handle. Just let the public relations company handle them directly. Anyway, netizens are just going with the flow. They will stop after a few days.'

'However, since our company is involved in such a scandal, next week's stock market, our stock price may bottom out!'

Benjamin said sadly, 'Yes, the sharp drop in the stock market, coupled with fines and a series of other effects. The loss of our family must be at least tens of billions!'

'Who the hell! Why are they targeting our family?'

The invisible enemy was the most terrifying.

And for some reason, Benjamin had an ominous premonition.

That all this was just the beginning!

Next week, they might encounter even greater changes!

On the other side, in the Olsen Manor.

When Ted was sent to the hospital, it was almost dawn.

His limbs were broken, and he was thrown into the river, where he soaked for a whole night.

“Ted! Ted!!”

Ashley’s face was covered with tears, not understanding why this happened.

11:57

1/3

Did Ted not say Leones, today?

that he had already found the men needed, and they would destroy that kid,

Why was it Ted who was beaten half to death and thrown into the river to feed the fish?

“Le... Leones...” Ted spoke out weakly, forcing out the name angrily, “Avenge... Me...”

After saying this, Ted passed out again.

“Ted!” Ashley could only watch helplessly as Ted was pushed into the operating room.

Soon, a dignified old man came to the outside of the operating room.

“Dad! You’re finally here!” Ashley threw herself into her father’s arms, seeking comfort.

However, Chance Olsen pushed her away. “You two have been talking on the phone recently, sneaking around. Who did you offend?”

After Chance learned of his son's accident, he had already sent people to investigate. He learned that his son and daughter had been dealing with someone secretly recently.

Although they did not use the power inside the Olsen family, there were no less than ten thugs. They had hired outside.

Despite that, Ted still got beat up!

Chance was always cautious in his actions, so he knew that this time, his sons and daughters must be in some serious trouble.

Under his father's persecution, Ashley told him about Leones' release from prison and how she dealt with him.

"What? That little bastard?" Chance was very surprised when he heard this, "Impossible!"

In Chance's impression, Leones was still the good-for-nothing brat five years ago, an ant that the Olsen family could crush at will.

"You mean, your brother ended up like that because of that bastard Leones?"

"How is this possible? Wasn't that little bastard already kicked out by the Bloom family? Who would support him?"

Ashley was also at a loss and said with some fear, "I don't know either. But the person I sent fell off a cliff mysteriously on the day that little bastard was released from prison. Then, things ended up like this again despite the fact that Ted had sworn he had already arranged everything properly. "Is there someone helping him secretly?"

Chance nodded and said, "If no one is helping him, you two would have killed that little bastard long ago!"

“However, this kid’s really lucky to survive five years in prison! It seems we have to send someone tough to kill him!”

While the father and daughter were talking, the operation was over.

“Doctor, how is my brother?” Ashley asked nervously.

The doctor shook his head and said, “The patient’s tendons and hamstrings have been damaged, and his limbs are also comminuted. Although his life is not in danger, his legs and feet will inevitably be disabled in the future. I hope you can be mentally prepared.”

Disabled?

Although the doctor’s words were very tactful, the father and daughter of the Olsen family could still hear the meaning behind the words.

2/3

Ted was already a useless person!

“Ted...” Ashley cried bitterly, “It’s all because of me... This is all my fault...”

“Little bastard, how dare he turn my son into a cripple!” Chance was also furious. “I don’t care who is protecting him. This time, I will definitely kill him!”

“Dad!” Ashley said, “Do you want to send our family’s Guardian to kill that brat?”

She already held no hope for the people outside.

“Hmph, how can you kill a chicken with a sledgehammer? And that little bastard is still surnamed Bloom, after all. It can’t be done by someone from the Olsen family.”

Chance said confidently, “It just so happens that I know a powerful man in the underground world. He is the famous Blancnau! I heard that he is coming to Alryne recently!

“As long as this Blancnau is willing to help, even if the little beast has a grandmaster behind him, he will die miserably!”

At this time, at the Dragon Building.

Blackdrake hesitated again and again but still made a call.

“Blancnau! Have you received the Dragon’s Order? I hope you can take it seriously this time. This is not a joke!

“This man is really the Dragon King! The descendant of the old Dragon King! Not only does he hold the Dragon’s Order, but he also has the inheritance of the old Dragon King. His strength is so terrifying that it is difficult to describe in words.

“Although you and I have turned against each other because of the position of the Dragon King, for the sake of the fact that we were once sworn brothers, I’m kindly reminding you. You must come to meet the Dragon King in three days, or the consequences are unimaginable and unbearable for you!

“That’s all for now. Suit yourself!”

Chapter 58 Bets From All Parties

The next morning.

Leones and Mia drove to Grandeur Tower.

Prepare for a formal meeting with the Five Major Families.

At this time, the Five Major Families had different views and attitudes.

Firstly, the Peterson family was the first to submit to Leones's dominance.

Rather than saying they were convinced, it would be better to say they were beaten into submission.

However, after witnessing Leones's terrifying strength, the Peterson family decided to go along and take a gamble.

If the Soler family could rely on him to make a comeback, then the Peterson family could also hitch a ride and soar to a new height.

Therefore, like a gambler, the Peterson family placed their bets on Leones.

In today's meeting, no matter what the other families choose, the Peterson family would firmly follow Mia and Leones.

As for the Shelton family, the situation was slightly special.

Although Josh had also seen Leones's power with his own eyes, he believed Leones had extraordinary, terrifying strength and a limitless future.

However, based on Josh's one-sided statement, it was still difficult for the Shelton family to place a bet.

After all, the foundations of the Five Major Families were solid. Even if the Soler family wanted to regroup, it would not happen overnight.

How could the Shelton family be willing to take orders from the Soler family again?

Moreover, once the Five Major Families form a tacit agreement to suppress the Soler family jointly, then the rise of the Soler family would be nothing more than nonsense.

“Dad! Brother!” Josh argued vigorously, “Mr. Bloom is the Soler family’s backer, and at the same time, his power has also extended to the underground world. Once he has complete control over the power of Undrago, he will definitely be a force that cannot be reckoned with by our Shelton family!”

“I can assure you that this cooperation with the Soler family will not harm our Shelton family! If anything goes wrong, I will take responsibility for it and resign from my current position!” When the eldest brother, Jacob Shelton, heard that his biggest competitor was willing to gamble his future for this matter, he could not help but feel excited.

“Josh, you better consider it properly. You are now the vice director of the company, the second in charge in the family. Are you really giving up all this for an unknown origin kid?”

Josh smiled and said, “Brother, I haven’t finished talking yet.”

“But if the Soler family can really rise again, and our Shelton family can benefit from it, then I want 5% of the shares in your hand. Would you dare to accept the bet?”

Jacob’s expression changed immediately upon hearing the betting.

11:57

1/3

If he lost 5% of the shares in his hand, he would have to withdraw from the fight of the family heirs completely.

As for Josh, once he combined the shares, he would become the largest shareholder of the family group and secure the position of becoming the future patriarch.

“So here’s the catch, huh?” Jacob snorted coldly.

“Jacob, just tell me if you dare to bet!” Josh provoked.

Just when the two brothers were confronting each other.

“Enough!” In the end, Kale makes the final decision, “I’m not dead yet! It’s not up to the two of you to call the shots.”

“Our Shelton family never fights uncertain battles. Josh, you’ve boasted that kid into the hype. We have to see it with our own eyes before deciding.”

“Later on, at the party in the Grandeur Tower, other families will try to make it difficult for the kid. By then, we’ll see the kid’s true strength.”

“If that kid can’t even escape this trap, then there is no need to say more.”

In the end, the Shelton family decided to wait for the opportunity.

In addition, the Sullivan, Davis, and Martinez families had already allied, and they would inflict a blow on Leones and the Soler family at this meeting!

“The Soler family still wants to start over?”

“Tsk, what an overly confident decision!”

“The times have already changed! Even if Gellert gets out of prison, he can never hope to make a comeback! Let alone that little girl?”

“Don’t you think that you can make a comeback with more powerful experts around you? So naive!”

“Mr. Cage, we are relying on you later. Let that kid see how powerful you are!”

At this time, inside a conference room in the Grandeur Tower.

An elderly man in a tattered Taoist robe smiled lightly and said, “I heard the news from the Shelton family that the kid is just like me, who also knows magic skills and even a Seventh–rank Grandmaster isn’t a match for him?”

“Hehe, it’s been a long time since I’ve met a match. Today, I have set up a formation to give him a taste of my power!”

“The fun will begin as soon as they exit the elevator and enter my formation!”

On a large monitor in the meeting room, the image transmitted on screen was none other than the building’s surveillance, facing the elevator.

When the time came to half past nine in the morning.

Leones and Mia had already arrived at Grandeur Tower and took the elevator to the 18th floor.

The elevator door opened.

Suddenly, the surroundings were instantly darkened.

“What is this?” Mia rubbed her eyes and started hallucinating.

The scene outside the elevator changed rapidly.

11:57

The gloomy

appeared.

ghostly flames, mutilated limbs, and scene of a mountain of corpses and blood

It was as if this elevator had directly led to the hell!

“Illusion!?”

“Formation!?”

Leones took a step forward, felt it for himself, and understood the situation.

“It’s just a mere trick, but how dare they show it off in front of me!”

“Mia, wait in the elevator. Don’t come out!”

“Give me ten seconds to clean up some mess first!”

Chapter 59 Breaking the Formation in One Step

They saw the elevator door open, and Leones walked out from inside through the screen.

In the venue, the members of the Five Major Families all turned their attention to the young man on the screen.

Except for the Peterson family and the Shelton family, who had seen Leones before, the members of the other three families were seeing him for the first time.

“Is this the powerhouse that the Soler Villa invited? So young!” Itai from the Sullivan family said in disbelief.

He had initially thought that the young powerhouse would be at least in his thirties or forties, but he hadn’t expected him to be in his twenties.

“Charles, both you and your son were defeated by this young man. Could it be true?”

The head of the Davis family asked with some schadenfreude and was even excited to discover the weakness of the Peterson family. He even entertained the idea that after this, the four major families might be able to share the spoils of the weakened Peterson family.

“Hmph!” Charles snorted coldly, “How do you understand with your shallow understanding?” Charles didn’t bother explaining because he himself couldn’t fully comprehend how powerful Leones truly was.

In any case, he believed in Leones and was willing to take the gamble.

“Didn’t you say that the formation has been set up outside the elevator? Why didn’t the kid respond when he stepped out of the elevator?”

The head of the Martinez family asked curiously.

At this moment, the old man in ragged robes smoothed his beard and said with a smile, “No need to panic, everyone.

“The effect of the formation set up by me can only be seen on the spot. How could the camera and other equipment capture it?”

“Look, that kid has stopped because the scene outside the elevator is changing like hell!”

“In less than three seconds, that kid will be scared witless and flee in panic!”

Hearing this, everyone stared at the screen with great interest, looking forward to a good show. And the members of the Shelton family couldn't help but look at each other, wondering if Leones could overcome this challenge smoothly.

At this time, Leones stepped out of the elevator.

Immediately, he felt a chilling wind and an illusory ghostly figure charging towards him. Such eerie and sinister surroundings might have frightened an ordinary person half to death. However, Leones's cultivation was profound, and he had already been able to discern some illusions.

Not to mention this kind of phantasmagoria, even if there were real monsters and devils, Leones cut them down with a sword. It was a piece of cake.

Facing the multiple ghostly figures before him, Leones simply smiled.

“Golden radiance, shield me!”

1-57

As Leones spoke the incantation while pinching his fingers, a brilliant golden light enveloped him.

With a wave of his hand, the phantom of hell in front of him was dispelled like a gust of wind, dispersing clouds.

Of course, the golden radiance surrounding Leones couldn't be transmitted through the cameras to the conference venue.

Hence, from the perspective of those at the venue, it appeared as if Leones was driving away something by waving his hands continuously.

Seeing this, they couldn't help laughing out loud and praised, "Indeed, as Mr. Brown said, that kid should be quite frightened! Haha..."

"Mr. Brown, you really are like a god!"

"Huh?!" But only Donald himself seemed to have sensed something, and his heart filled with doubt. He thought, "Could it be that the kid really had some skills?"

Others might not understand, but Donald was able to sense what was happening within the formation he had set up. He couldn't be certain, but he could perceive that something had changed inside.

"Fine! Since the illusion failed to frighten you, let me show you the true Abyssal Purgatory!" Donald cast a spellcasting from a distance and activated another layer of the formation's profound technique, the Appearance of the Ghost Generals!

Instantly.

In an instant, the illusory scene outside the elevator changed again.

From the depths of an abyss, a monstrous creature rose up, resembling a ghostly deity, standing tall on the road.

Standing at over nine feet tall and reaching the dome, the figure wore black armor that was ablaze with emerald flames. It wielded a giant axe as it swung it with the wind and flames.

“Huh?!” Seeing this, Leones was slightly taken aback.

Different from the phantom in front of him just now, although the ghost general in front of him was also a phantom, his offensive was real.

This was also the ghost general that Master Pang had worked so hard to raise over the which spent a lot of effort.

Boom!

The ghost general moved forward and took a step.

Immediately, the ground beneath its feet trembled violently, leaving cracks in its wake.

years,

Such formidable power could be a challenge even for a grandmaster with a well-trained physique.

Whoosh!

Immediately afterwards.

The ghost general raised the huge axe in its hand high and swung it down towards Leones with tremendous force.

Leones said, “Heh... I didn’t expect that the person who set up the formation would have such a hidden card.

11:57

“Unfortunately, the little devil he raised will disappear completely today!”

No sooner said than done.

The giant axe slashed head-on as if the sky and the earth were falling, overwhelming all directions.

Facing this terrifying blow, Leones slowly raised his hand.

He wanted to use his own body to resist the attack of this giant axe!

“What an ignorant little brat!”

At this time, seeing Leones’s action through the screen in the venue, even Donald couldn’t help being shocked.

He didn’t expect that Leones dared not to dodge or evade but instead used his own arm to directly confront the axe.

“Then cut off his arm first, let him know how powerful it is!”

Donald’s lips curled into a cold smile.

In an instant, the sharp edge of the axe fell onto Leones’s palm.

Looking at Leones’s palm again, instead of being split open, Leones’s palm was surrounded by faint arcs of lightning.

Further, lightning took shape and wove into a massive web, unexpectedly binding the head of the giant axe and entwining it.

Originally, the giant axe hadn't touched Leones's palm at all. Instead, it was as if it had fallen into a net, instantly ensnaring it and hoisting it up high in the air.

"How is this possible?"

This scene left Donald in shock.

Due to not being on-site and only observing through the screen, Donald couldn't grasp what secret Leones's palm held.

However, the fact that the axe had missed and was now suspended unsettled him deeply like he was facing a formidable adversary.

Donald couldn't sit still anymore. He immediately stood up, intending to go outside and assess the situation.

If the situation was not good, he had to quickly take the ghost general back.

But how could Leones give him that opportunity?

Just after, Leones clamped down on the giant ax with the force of a lightning net,

Immediately afterward, with the other hand, he struck the ghost general's chest with a stroke of palm thunder.

"Thunderbolt!"

All of a sudden, in the venue, the lightning flashed, thunder crashed, and the sky was plunging into darkness.

Looking at the giant ghost general again, it seemed as if it had been struck by thunderbolts, a deafening roar resounding as it shattered into countless pieces, instantly dissipating!

In the end, Leones took another step, stomped out, and broke the formation in one step!

“Break!”

With Leones’s furious shout, numerous bolts of lightning swept through the air, creating a gust of wind that swept through the entire scene.

The illusions created by the surrounding formations shattered like glass into fragments.

“Ah!”

At this moment, as Donald was just getting up, he suddenly let out a miserable cry, clutching his chest and spitting out blood, his face filled with astonishment.

“You little brat, how dare you break my formation and ruin. my foundation?!”

Chapter 60 An Eye for an Eye

Leones dispelled the illusion, hacked the ghost general, and broke the formation.

The whole process was done in one go with just a few seconds.

“Huh? Has it become normal?”

Mia, hiding in the elevator, saw that everything outside had returned to normal, so she stepped out.

At the same time, she sighed in her heart, “Fortunately, Leones was here. Otherwise, I would not even have the chance to meet the Five Major Families.”

They just stepped off an elevator and were thrown into a great formation.

“The Five Major Families really have no good intentions, and they gave us a head-on blow at the first encounter!”

“If we knew it earlier, we should arrange the meeting place!”

Mia was a little angry. As expected, there was no feast with good intentions.

They didn’t know how many ambushes were waiting for the two of them at the meeting place.

“It’s all small tricks that won’t scare me.”

Leones’s expression was very calm.

Because compared with his master, who was really apt at raising ghosts, the ghost general just released didn’t even have the qualifications to lift shoes for him!

“Since they want to scare us so much, I’ll show them what a great terror is!”

While speaking, Leones raised his hand, gathering the illusion that had just been dispelled in his palms again.

In an instant, the universe in the palms of his hand was unpredictable!

“Go!”

After that, Leones threw the vast and terrifying illusion wrapped in the remnant to the center of the venue.

It was impolite not to make a return for what they received.

He would also let those waiting to see the excellent show in the venue feel it.

Meanwhile, in the venue.

The members of the Five Major Families couldn't help being startled when they saw Donald vomit blood suddenly for some reason.

“Mr. Brown, what's the matter with you?” Itai hurriedly got up and asked about Donald's situation.

Donald was a Guardian of the Sullivan family, and he was treated as a guest of honor and as a reliance.

Now, Donald vomited blood inexplicably. As the patriarch of the Sullivan family, Itai couldn't help being a little panicky—could some big enemy be approaching?

“Mr. Itai Sullivan, I'm ashamed of myself. I have failed your commission!” Donald shook his head and said, “That guy outside... I can't beat him!”

What?!

When those words came out, a heated discussion suddenly broke out at the scene.

11:57

Why did Donald, who was so confident just now, suddenly become cowardly?

Besides, the two of them didn't even see each other. However, Donald was beaten to vomit blood across the air!

How strong was... that guy?

"Look!" At that moment, the patriarch of the Martinez family pointed to the screen and said, "That guy is coming! They are here!"

On the screen, it showed that Leones and Mia were already unblocked.

That also meant that someone had easily broken the formation Donald set with great effort just now!

"Haha..." At that time, only the Peterson family's father and son showed the expression they had expected. Meanwhile, they were secretly happy. This time, they bet on the right person! "Donald, how powerful is... that guy?" Itai asked a little unwillingly.

Donald shook his head.

In the eyes of the opponent, Donald's formation was like a child's game.

The opponent's power was so terrifying that Donald couldn't even imagine it.

Suddenly, a strange wind blew out of nowhere in the venue.

“Huh? What’s going on? Where is the wind coming from?”

“There are no windows open here!”

“What’s going on? It’s a little cold!”

Just when everyone was wondering.

In an instant, everything around them began to distort and change.

In the blink of an eye, everything that was familiar became highly terrifying.

The leather seat had become a monster that swallowed humans.

The circular conference table also became a giant frying pan, tumbling with heat waves, and struggling evil ghosts screamed harshly inside.

On the ground, there were rivers of blood and mountains of bones. Everywhere was filled with scorching flames, making people afraid to stay for a long time.

Even in the air, ghost figures were floating everywhere, fierce and frightening.

“Fuck! What is this? Where am I? Hell?”

“Ah! Ghost! Help!”

The terrifying vision descended on the conference site.

The scene suddenly became chaotic. Everyone was so frightened that their faces turned pale, and they ran around with their heads in their arms.

“Mr. Brown... this... Did you do this?” Itai’s eyes were also full of fear, and he grabbed Donald as if grabbing a life-saving straw. “Hurry up. Change it back!”

Donald was in it, and he also felt inexplicably horrified. “No... It’s not me... It should be that outside... He did it!”

guy

“Dad!” At that moment, people in the Davis family shouted, “Dad! What’s wrong with you? Wake up!”

11:57

It turned out that the patriarch of the Davis family was old and had a heart disease. He fainted from fright after a few glances in such a horrible environment.

Although everyone knew it was fake, they were still inexplicably terrified when they were in it because the illusion was too realistic. Especially the older ones couldn’t bear that level of fright. Looking at the evil ghosts floating in front of him, Itai was also frightened that his heart was beating wildly, and he felt like he was about to have a heart attack.

“Mr. Brown! Hurry up... Think of a way! Save us!” Itai tightly grasped Donald’s arm, so he was about to cry.

Just now, they wanted to appreciate Leones’s frightened appearance.

anxious that

Unexpectedly, a terrifying scene descended on them in the blink of an eye.

Everyone was like flies without heads, lost there, and couldn't even find the door.

"Here!" Donald concentrated his attention, identified the position according to the sound, and finally found the exit.

The crowd followed Donald and quickly gathered towards the gate.

But when Donald stretched out his hand and opened the meeting room door, he couldn't help being shocked again.

He saw Leones standing quietly outside the door, and the corners of Leones's mouth slightly raised.

"I just arrived. Why are you leaving?"

You might also like

18

BEST FRIEND

In Love With My Contract Husband

Hooked Up With My Boyfriend's Best Friend

My Revenge Game: My Cheating Boyfriend, i

Loved Your Enemy

11:57

Now, they saw Leones again.

Everyone in the Five Major Families no longer dared to be slightly negligent and was full of fear.

After all, even Donald, who was a Guardian of the Sullivan family, was beaten by Leones until he vomited blood.

In addition, the horrific scene right now was all done by Leones alone.

How dare Ordinary people from the Five Major Families show any disrespect to Leones? Every time Leones took a step forward, everyone on the opposite side took a step back in fear. Although everyone wanted to escape from the site, the only entrance was blocked by Leones. No matter how brave they were, they did not dare to step half a step past Leones.

“Oh! How did this place become like this?”

Mia also came in and was so frightened that she became short of breath.

“Wait!” Leones turned around and lightly wiped Mia’s eyes.

Immediately, Mia’s eyes lit up, and everything around her returned to its original state.

However, everyone from the Five Major Families still acted as if they’d seen the ghosts and were nearly frightened to death. Presumably, they were still deeply trapped in it and unable to get out.

“Mr. Bloom... Mr. Bloom!”

At that time, everyone in the Peterson family saw that Leones had a way to dispel the illusion before them and hurried forward to ask for help.

“We’re on the same side!”

“The Sullivan family arranged all of this, and it has nothing to do with our Peterson family.”

“Mr. Bloom, please be especially merciful for us and help us erase those horrible illusions!”

Leones stretched out his hand and erased this illusion layer for the Peterson family members.

“Oh...” Everyone in the Peterson family felt relieved. “It’s finally normal.”

“Mr. Bloom!”

Then, Josh brought several people to Leones and bowed respectfully to greet him.

“This is my father and elder brother.”

“Our Shelton family is also willing to cooperate with Mr. Bloom without disloyalty.”

“Mr. Bloom, please be merciful. My father has heart disease...”

Leones nodded and restored the normal sight of everyone in the Shelton family.

The father and son in the Shelton family were very grateful. Even the previous thought of being a fence-sitter was immediately dismissed.

Kale also immediately decided in his heart that for the sake of the future development of the Shelton family, it seemed he should abandon the firstborn and support the younger one and let Josh, the youngest son, be the successor of the Shelton family.

“So do we...”

The Sullivan, Davis, and Martinez families also rushed forward to beg for mercy, hoping to return to normal.